JUDICIAL COMMISSION OF INQUIRY INTO ALLEGATIONS OF STATE CAPTURE, CORRUPTION AND FRAUD IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR INCLUDING ORGANS OF STATE

IN RE*: APPLICATION OF GLADSTONE SELLO MAEMA ("THE APPLICANT"), FOR CONDONING THE LATE FILING OF THE AFFIDAVIT AND THE APPLICATION FOR LEAVE TO CROSS-EXAMINE GENERAL JOHAN BOOYSEN ("BOOYSEN"), ROBERT McBRIDE ("McBRIDE"), HELEN ELIZABETH VAN JAARSVELD ("VAN JAARSVELD"), KAREN HELEN VAN RENSBURG ("VAN RENSBURG"), CYRIL SIMPHIWE MLOTSHWA ("MLOTSHWA"), MATTHEWS SESOKO ("SESOKO"), MXOLISI SANDILE OLIVER NXASANA ("NXASANA") AND INNOCENT HUMBULANI KHUBA ("KHUBA") IN TERMS OF RULE 11.2 READ WITH RULE 3.3.6 OF THE RULES GOVERNING PROCEEDINGS OF THE JUDICIAL COMMISSION OF INQUIRY INTO ALLEGATIONS OF STATE CAPTURE, CORRUPTION AND FRAUD IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR INCLUDING ORGANS OF STATE ("THE RULES OF THE COMMISSION")

WITNESS STATEMENT IN TERMS OF RULE 3.4

I, the undersigned,

GLADSTONE SELLO MAEMA

do hereby declare under oath and state that: -

1. I am an adult male State Advocate employed at the National Prosecuting Authority ("NPA") as a Deputy Director of Public Prosecutions ("DDPP") and attached to the office of the Director of Public Prosecutions, North West Division, Mmabatho, situated at Mega City Complex, East Gallery, 3139 Sekame Road, Mahikeng.

2. The facts contained in this affidavit are within my personal knowledge, save where otherwise stated, or where the contrary appears from the context, and are to the best of my knowledge and belief both true and correct.

3. Where I rely on facts and/or statements made by third parties, I do so on the belief that same is true and correct and I annex to this affidavit the explanatory affidavit of Nolusindiso Gejengane ("Gejengane"), which marked as annexure "GSM1", the explanatory affidavit of Marco Voller ("Voller"), marked as annexure "GSM2.1", and the explanatory affidavit of Luyanda Kopman ("Kopman"), marked as annexure "GSM2.2" and the confirmatory affidavit of Adv Raymond Mathenwa ("Mathenjwa"), marked as annexure "GSM2.3". The annexures that solely pertain to me, are marked as "GSM". The annexures relating to the Cato Manor matter, as they pertain to Mathenjwa and I will be marked as "CM".

GSM

4. Where I make submissions of a legal nature, I do so on the advice of my legal representatives on record, which advice I accept to be in accordance with the prevailing legal position.

5. The Chairperson is requested to read the contents of all the annexures referred to herein as if specifically incorporated into this affidavit, to avoid prolixity.

A. SHORT RESUMé AND CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

6. I matriculated at Thulare High School in 1981 at Lebotlwane in the Moretele District in the North West Province. I obtained my B Proc, LLB degree at the University of Fort Hare in 1989 and 1991, respectively.

7. I served my articles of Clerkship at Botha Du Plessis & Kruger Attorneys in Johannesburg in November 1991 and joined the Department of Justice on 1 March1993 where I worked as a prosecutor stationed at Fort Beaufort in the Eastern Cape. I worked at the district court and regional court in Fort Beaufort, Port Elizabeth, Grahamstown and King Williams Town.

8. I was admitted as an Advocate of the High Court on the 3rd May 1995 in the Southern Gauteng Division of the High Court. I joined the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions ("DPP") in Grahamstown as a State Advocate and Senior State Advocate, whereafter I worked in the Office of the DPP in Johannesburg in 3 March 1995 until 1 November 1998 when I joined the National Director Public Prosecutions ("NDPP"), Mr Bulelane Ngcuka and established the Human Rights Investigative Unit, the predecessor to the Priority Crimes Litigation Unit ("PCLU") at the NPA Head office.

9. I joined the Office of the DPP, Mmabatho on 1 May 1999 as a Deputy Director of Public Prosecutions ("DDPP") where I am currently based. I acted as a DPP, North West in 2005 for almost seven (7) months when the former DPP, Adv Smit ("Smith") was sick.

10. I acted as DPP in South Gauteng from 1 December 2009 to 31 May 2010 when the incumbent, Charin de Beer was sick. I have also acted as Acting Head of the PCLU in 2016 when Adv Pretorius was out of the country.

11. I have done a number of well-known cases including the Skierlik case (S v Nel CCT 24/02 and CC 81/08) where the accused was sentenced to a four (4) life imprisonment for a number of racially motivated murders. I have represented the State in a number of cases at the Supreme Court of Appeals.

12. As DDPP, I have been entrusted with Special Prosecutions, Governance and presently Organised Crime. I have been in charge of Organised Crime since 2008 and have handled five racketeering prosecutions in person. My unit has, to date, dealt with seven racketeering prosecutions.

13. One of the prosecutions in which I was the lead prosecutor, S v Ndleleni and others (CC 48/2010) ("the Ndleleni matter") commenced in 2010 and was finalised in 2012. In this matter, an individual person was convicted as an enterprise and sentenced for an effective 15 years. There were five accused in the matter and all accused were convicted.

14. I wish to draw the Commission's attention to the fact that the Ndleleni matter commenced and was finalised before my involvement in the Cato Manor matter. I attach hereto the charge sheet in the Ndleleni matter marked as annexure "GSM3". It is because of the Ndleleni matter, in my view, that I was approached and appointed as the lead prosecutor in the Cato Manor matter by the Acting NDPP, Advocate Nomgcobo Jiba ("Jiba").

15. The other six prosecutions are still pending, and I am managing all of them. Five prosecutions are being prosecuted in the High Court, and one is being prosecuted in the Regional Court.

B. OVERVIEW

16. The evidence of Booysen and McBride which has already been presented at the Commission in the early part of 2019, implicates me, inter alia, of being a core group of advocates at the NPA who are captured for either political or corrupt reasons, and who were instrumental in the collapse of the criminal justice system. It is alleged that the implicated colleagues and I allowed ourselves to be used and/or voluntarily pursued what has been termed "corruption busters" by persecuting them and others with unmerited prosecutions on trumped up charges. I am accused of violating my oath of office, the constitutional and legislative prescripts that govern the NPA and thus violating the principle of legality which is the cornerstone of the rule of law.

17. In addition to the evidence of Booysen and McBride, the Commission has also received the affidavits of Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg who are DDPPs in the office of the DPP: North Gauteng. Their evidence appears to have been obtained with a view to corroborate the evidence of McBride which has already been led to demonstrate that I pursued charges against Sesoko and Khuba and/or interfered with the investigations into the former Acting Commissioner of the South African Police Services ("SAPS"), General Phahlane ("Phahlane") in order to undermine the independence of the Independent Police Investigative Directorate ("IPID") and thus, preventing it from fulfilling its oversight mandate over the SAPS.

18. All the allegations levelled against me are without merit. In fact, with particular reference to the evidence of Booysen, I will demonstrate that when the prosecution was initiated against Booysen and his co-accused, there was, and still is prima facie evidence that compels the NPA to proceed with not only the racketeering charges as envisaged in the Prevention of Organised Crime Act No 121 of 1998 ("POCA"), but also with regard to his co-accused in the matter to proceed with the predicate offences. In this affidavit, at the relevant section, I set out in full detail the evidence that was and is still in existence in this respect.

19. Instead of fulfilling its constitutional and statutory mandate of prosecuting without fear, favour, and prejudice, the NPA has withdrawn not only the POCA authorisations, but also the predicate offences against Booysen and all his co-accused, notwithstanding the continued existence of the prima facie evidence against them. The predicate offences are dealt with in this affidavit under the section that deals with the Cato Manor matter.

20. In this affidavit, I demonstrate that the conduct of the incumbent NDPP of withdrawing such charges and the manner in which the charges were withdrawn is unlawful and contrary to the judicial authorities, in that the decision to withdraw the authorisations and predicate offences was irrational and contrary to the principle of legality and thus, subverting the rule of law. I shall demonstrate that as required by the law, the Cato Manor prosecuting team was not consulted and their input was not sought prior to the withdrawal of the charges. It also appears that the affected families of the deceased, the DCPI and IPID investigators were not consulted.

21. In the judgment of Zuma vs Democratic Alliance (836/2013) [2014] ZASCA 101 (28 August 2014), the Supreme Court of Appeal ("SCA") endorsed the trite principle below:

> "The NPA, as an organ of state, has a duty to prosecute without fear, favour or prejudice by upholding the rule of law and the principle of legality. It is also a constitutional body with a public interest duty. It behoves its officials to operate with transparency and accountability. It has a duty to explain to the citizenry why and how it arrives at the decision to quash the criminal charges against the accused persons, particularly where the matter involves very senior state officials. In pursuance of its constitutional obligations it is incumbent upon the NPA to pass the rationality test and inform the public why it quashed the charges. In my view, the converse would make the public lose confidence in the office of the NDPP."

22. In the judgment of Zuma vs Democratic Alliance and Others 2018 (1) SA 200 (SCA), the SCA also stated:

> "[89] The exclusion of the prosecution team from the process leading up to the decision to prosecute, especially the final deliberations that took place on 1 April 2019, was in itself irrational. The compelling conclusion is that this exclusion was deliberate... They were senior litigators steeped in the case, acquainted with the legal issues and had a critically important contribution to make regarding the ultimate decision to terminate the prosecution…"

23. The admonition of the SCA above was blindly ignored by the incumbent NDPP when she reconsidered the decision of Abrahams and Jiba whether to prosecute Booysen. The NDPP decided to withdraw the charges against Booysen and his co-accused. I will demonstrate under the relevant section how that decision is a subversion of the rule of law under the topic dealing with the Cato Manor matter where the State has strong evidence, inter alia, ballistic crime scene reconstruction evidence, as opposed to the mere allegations made by Booysen. It is also interesting to note that some of the persons whom Booysen makes reference to in his affidavit and oral evidence before the Commission and alleging that they were persecuted, have not corroborated Booysen's version. I will further demonstrate the facts and context within which a decision to charge Booysen and the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section was taken and the evidence supporting the charges despite the incumbent NDPP's decision to withdraw the prosecution. I will further demonstrate the facts and context within which such a decision was taken and its rationality despite the NDPP's decision to withdraw the prosecution at a later stage.

24. With regard to the decision to institute prosecution against Booysen, McBride, Sesoko, and Khuba, I took into account the responsibility of the NPA as set out in the above admonition, the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 ("the Constitution"), the National Prosecution Authorities Act 32 of 1998 ("NPA Act"), and Prosecution Policy Directives ("the NPA Directives"). All the above prescripts point to the duty that where there is prima facie evidence of the commission of crime, irrespective of the identity and rank of the suspect, as a prosecutor I have a duty to act without fear, favour or prejudice in instituting prosecution.

25. In respect of the affidavits of my colleagues, Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg, I categorically deny the allegations levelled against me. Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg did not furnish any evidence implicating me. I deny that I had anything to do with the investigation of the Kameelsdrift matter involving Phahlane. I deny that I sent any police officer to Van Jaarsveld or Van Rensburg or that I was guiding the Kameelsdrift investigation behind the scene. The Phahlane matter is being dealt with in the Pretoria office and at that time I was seconded to the PCLU. In this regard, I refer to the confirmatory affidavit of Molatlhwa Michael Mashuga ("Mashuga"), attached hereto marked as annexure "GSM4".

26. At the time of the Kameelsdrift investigation, I was burdened with the heavy load of dealing with the SARS Rogue Unit matter and had no time to devote to matters that were not assigned to me. In any event, the prosecutor who dealt with the prosecution of O'Sullivan and Trent is Mashuga, who has also filed an extensive affidavit with the Commission to demonstrate the evidence that was before him when the decision to prosecute was taken. If my colleagues, van Jaarsveld and van Rensburg had information which shows that I was unduly influencing them as alleged, they should have brought such conduct to the attention of Adv Torie Pretorius, the Acting Head of PCLU who was known to them.

27. Not only does Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg impute unprofessional conduct on my part, but they also impute criminal conduct on my part, namely defeating the ends of justice. It is surprising that two high ranking prosecutors did not press any criminal charges in this regard. No disciplinary steps were initiated against me with regard to this alleged conduct.

28. The fact that my name has been mentioned by the said police officers, which I deny, is not proof that I sent them to Van Jaarsveld and/or Van Rensburg.

C. PURPOSE OF AFFIDAVIT

29. Bearing in mind what the courts have stated pertaining to prosecution decisions and the withdrawal thereof, the purpose of this affidavit is to demonstrate that:

29.1. the prosecution of Booysen and of members of the Cato Manor Serious Violent Crimes Section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit ("the Cato Manor SVC Section") was and is still justified;

29.2. it was justifiable to recommend to the office of the Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions ("the ANDPP") that the racketeering certificates be issued in respect of Booysen and others in view of the overwhelming evidence in support thereof;

29.3. the withdrawal of the charges against Booysen and others by the NDPP is unlawful;

29.4. the prosecution of McBride, Sesoko and Khuba was justified when such decision was taken;

29.5. the utterances of Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg, insofar as they relate to me, are unfounded and untrue;

29.6. support my application for leave to give evidence before the Commission and the cross-examination of Booysen, McBride, Van Jaarsveld, Van Rensburg, Sesoko, Nxasana and Khuba;

29.7. there is no merit whatsoever in the allegations that I am captured for either political or corrupt reasons, with the result that I did not, or I currently do not carry out my legal obligations and duties; and

29.8. respond to the allegations made against me by Booysen, McBride, Sesoko, Khuba, Van Jaarsveld, Nxasana and Van Rensburg as provided for in Rule 3.4 of the Rules, the various affidavits, and the evidence before the Commission;

29.9. there is no evidence from Pravin Gordhan ("Gordhan"), Ivan Pillay ("Pillay"), Johan van Loggerenberg ("Van Loggerenberg"), and Vlok Symington ("Symington"), supporting the allegations made against me by Booysen and McBride;

29.10. the process that was followed in arriving at the conclusion of the report that was compiled by Adv Rodney de Kock ("De Kock"), Adv Ivy Thenga ("Thenga"), Adv S Riley ("Riley") and Adv E Mamabolo ("Mamabolo") (hereinafter referred to as the "De Kock report") was irregular and consequently, unlawful. The Commission is urged to not place any weight on the De Kock report; and 29.11. all prosecutorial decisions and the prosecutions I were involved in which form the subject of investigation in this inquiry, were properly and lawfully done.

30. Prior to responding to the unfounded and malicious allegations expressly or by implication levelled against me, I have been advised that I should first set out the legal and regulatory prescripts applicable to the functions of the NPA prosecutorial functionaries to put my version before the Commission in a proper context.

D. MANDATE OF THE NATIONAL PROSECUTING AUTHORITY ("NPA")

31. Before dealing with the various allegations that McBride, Sesoko, Nxasana and Booysen expressly or by implication made against me. It is important that I clarify the purpose, functioning, and mandate of the NPA to demonstrate that the averments made against me are unsubstantiated and unfounded.

(a) Legislation

32. The NPA obtains its mandate in terms of Section 179 of the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 ("the Constitution"). Section 179(1) establishes the NPA as a single prosecuting authority in the Republic of South Africa and structured in terms of an Act of Parliament. The Act of Parliament referred to is the National Prosecuting Authority Act, 1998 (Act 32 of 1998) ("NPA Act").

33. In terms of Section 179(2) of the Constitution, the NPA has the power to institute criminal proceedings on behalf of the State and to carry out any necessary functions incidental to instituting criminal proceedings.

34. The preamble to the NPA Act and Section 32(1)(a) of the NPA Act, in line with Section 179(4) of the Constitution, provides for the NPA to exercise its functions without fear, favour or prejudice.

35. The NDPP is the Head of the NPA and is appointed by the President. In such capacity, the NDPP shall have the authority over the exercising of all the powers and the performance of all the duties and functions conferred, imposed or assigned to any member of the NPA by the Constitution, the NPA Act, or any other law.

36. In terms of Section 32(1)(a) of the NPA Act, a member of the NPA shall serve impartially and exercise, carry out or perform his or her powers, duties and functions in good faith, without fear, favour or prejudice and subject only to the Constitution and the law. The NPA has, as its core values, independence, accountability, credibility, professionalism, and service excellence.

37. Section 32(1)(b) provides that:

> "Subject to the Constitution and this Act, no organ of state and no member or employee of an organ of state nor any other person shall improperly interfere with, hinder or obstruct the prosecuting authority or any member thereof in the exercise, carrying out or performance of its, her or his powers, duties and functions."

38. Section 41 provides that:

> "41. Offences and penalties
> (1) Any person who contravenes the provisions of Section 32(1)(b) shall be guilty of an offence and liable on conviction to a fine or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding 10 years or to both such fine and imprisonment."

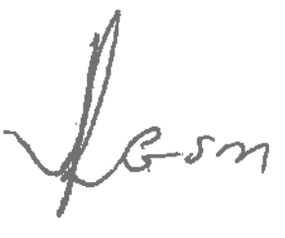
39. Section 42 provides that:



"42. No person shall be liable in respect of anything done in good faith under this Act."

(b) Other regulatory prescripts

40. In deciding whether or not to institute a prosecution, a prosecutor is guided, among others, by the Code of Conduct of Members of the National Prosecuting Authority ("the NPA Code of Conduct") published in the Government Gazette No 33907 dated 29 December 2010. The pertinent sections thereof are set out below:

40.1. Article C provides:

"Prosecutors should perform their duties without fear, favour or prejudice. In particular, they should –

(c) take into consideration the public interest as distinct from media or partisan interests or concerns, however vociferously these may be presented;

(f) act with objectivity and pay due attention to the constitutional right to equality;

(i) assist the court to arrive at a just verdict and, in the event of a conviction, an appropriate sentence based on the evidence presented."

40.2. Article D provides:

"1. Prosecutors should perform their duties fairly, consistently and expeditiously and –

(d) in the institution of criminal proceedings, proceed when a case is well-founded upon evidence reasonably believed to be reliable and admissible, and not continue a prosecution in the absence of such evidence."

"2. Prosecutors should, furthermore –

(a) preserve professional confidentiality."

41. In terms of the NPA Directives, a prosecution can only be instituted where there are reasonable prospects of a successful prosecution.

42. It follows from the above that the NPA has the sole preserve in instituting criminal proceedings against any person suspected of having committed an offence. Therefore, any person, regardless of his or her profile or social standing, should be prosecuted if there is a reasonable prospect of successful prosecution.

43. As I have already indicated, McBride, Sesoko, Khuba and Booysen have presented before the Commission unsubstantiated averments which seek to project me as an officer of the Court who abuses his position and authority regarding prosecutions, to advance purposes that are ulterior to the mandate, functioning and purpose of the NPA. What is quite disturbing is that the averments are not only unsubstantiated, but they also have been made without giving regard to the constitutional imperatives that define how the NPA is to be structured and operated. Also, these averments are made without having due regard to the legal and regulatory imperatives that govern the NPA prosecutorial functionaries.

44. It is important that one should guard against the NPA being hamstrung by popular sentiment canvassed, especially in the media, from executing on its constitutional mandate. Whilst McBride and Booysen complained, among others, that part of the strategy for state capture is that the targeted persons are paraded in the media as bad and corrupt persons, or that their institutions are inefficient, they are the ones who went to the media and came to this Commission, making serious allegations against me without any substantiation whatsoever. Nothing in their submissions tells this Commission exactly in which respect my prosecutorial recommendations and prosecutions under attack, deviated from the legal and constitutional mandate of the NPA.

45. It should be borne in mind that both Booysen and McBride are accused persons in the matters in which they were involved. It is critical to indicate that none of the implicated members of the Cato Manor SVC Section have either deposed to affidavits or came before the Commission, in support of the unfounded and malicious allegations made by Booysen against me.

46. Having regard to the past and present working environment of the witnesses that implicated me, as well as their experience, they should have a clear understanding of the operation of the law and the circumstances in which a decision to prosecute is taken and the process that leads to the prosecutorial decision.

47. In both the Cato Manor prosecution as well as the prosecution of Booysen on the one hand and the prosecution of Jamnadas Pravin Gordhan ("Gordhan"), Ivan Pillay ("Pillay"), Oupa Magashule ("Magashule"), Johann van Loggerenberg ("Van Loggerenberg") and Andries Petrus Janse van Rensburg ("Skollie") on the other, the fact that there were reasonable prospects of successful prosecution justifying the institution of criminal proceedings against the accused cannot be gainsaid, as I shall demonstrate below.

48. I am a career prosecutor and have made it my duty in my career, as I am enjoined, not to institute or allow institution of any prosecution that is not in line with the Constitution, the NPA Act, the NPA Directives and the NPA Code of Conduct or based on irrelevant considerations.

E. CONDONATION

49. At the outset I must point out that contrary to the Rules of the Commission, I was never served with the Rule 3.3 notices of Booysen, Sesoko, Nxasana and Khuba, even after their evidence was led. With regard to the evidence of McBride, I was only served with the Rule 3.3 notice after his evidence had long been led. I say this because on 22 January 2020, my legal representatives held a meeting with the evidence leaders and brought it to their attention that I have never received the aforesaid Rule 3.3 notices. The evidence leaders indicated that the notices were sent to me by email and the email address to which the statement was sent is pat.maema@gmail.com. The evidence leaders further pointed out that they received a response from the said email address where the addressee requested further documents. I do not know who the email belongs to or where the evidence leaders got the email address from. It is certainly not my email address.

50. It is apposite that I bring it to the attention of the Commission that my email addresses are gsmaema@gmail.com and gsmaema@npa.gov.za. It is therefore apparent that the email address to which the Rule 3.3 notice of Booysen was sent to the wrong recipient. I thus never received same.

51. After the meeting that was attended by my legal representatives and the evidence leaders, the State Attorney acting on behalf of the implicated NPA officials addressed a letter to the Commission recording the issues and matters that were discussed at the meeting. My legal representatives advise me that the evidence leaders indicated that the Secretary of the Commission will send the Rule 3.3 Notice to the correct email address. Based on this undertaking, I agreed to be named as part of the NPA officials who wished to cross examine Booysen, McBride, Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg as set out in the letter, dated 23 January 2020, from the office of the State Attorney to the Secretary of the Commission. I annex hereto a copy of the letter sent by the State Attorney to the Commission, dated 23 January 2020, marked "GSM5". However, the relevant rule 3.3 Notice was never served on me.

52. My legal representatives advised that on 09 September 2020 they held a meeting with Advocate Garth Hulley SC ("Hulley"), one of the evidence leaders, at which meeting Hulley indicated that due to the short lifespan of the Commission even where one has not received the Rule 3.3 notice, but is implicated, one must nevertheless respond to the allegations.

53. Based on the undertaking made at the meeting of 22 January 2020 which the evidence leader undertook to serve me with the Rule 3.3 Notice, and the discussions that took place on 09 September 2020 between my legal representatives and Hulley, I was prepared to respond to the allegations levelled against me by Booysen (April and May 2019) and McBride (April 2019).

54. On 12 January 2021, the Secretary of the Commission sent me an email at 4:32 attaching the Rule 3.3 notice of Van Jaarsveld. I annex a copy of the Rule 3.3 notice and the email to which the notice was attached and mark same "GSM6.1" and "GSM6.2", respectively.

55. The Rule 3.3 notice pertaining to the evidence of McBride, was sent to me by the Secretary of the Commission on 5 February 2021 when he sent me an email at 03:33. I annex a copy of the Rule 3.3 notice and the email to which the notice was attached and mark same "GSM7.1" and "GSM7.2", respectively.

56. It is apposite to mention that I received above the Rule 3.3 notice after the evidence of McBride had long been led on 11, 12, 15 and 16 April 2019 a period of approximately ten (10) months after the evidence was led. This is contrary to the Rules of the Commission which state that I have a right to attend the hearing when the evidence is led, as evident from paragraph from paragraph 5 of the Rule 3.3 notice. It boggles the mind how I am expected to attend the hearing when the evidence has already been long heard.

57. On the same day, 5 February 2021, at 03:37, the Secretary of the Commission sent me a second email attaching the Rule 3.3 notice of Van Rensburg. I annex a copy of the Rule 3.3 notice and the email to which the notice was attached and mark same "GSM8.1" and "GSM8.2", respectively.

58. I must reiterate that to date hereof, I have never been served with the Rule 3.3 notice pertaining to the evidence of Booysen, Nxasana, Sesoko and Khuba.

59. I was further informed, through the Rule 3.3 notices, in what respect the evidence of McBride, Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg will implicate me. The notices further informed me that I may attend the proceedings and that in so doing, I may be assisted by a legal representative when McBride Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg give evidence.

GSM

60. I was further notified, that in terms of Rules 3.3.6.1 to 3.3.6.3 should I wish, I may give evidence or call any witness to give evidence in support of my case, or even cross-examine McBride Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg.

61. Furthermore, in the event I choose to invoke the provisions of Rules 3.3.6.1 to 3.3.6.3 above, I should bring an application within 14 calendar days in writing to the Commission for leave to do so. In terms of Rule 3.4, an application in terms of Rule 3.3.6 must be accompanied by a statement from me in response to the allegations made by McBride Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg against me.

62. It is my submission that, in terms of the Rules of the Commission, the date for the submission of my statement should be determined from the dates on which the Rule 3.3. notices were received. I shall demonstrate that, taking into account that the notices were served on me in January and February 2021 respectively, the date on which my statement is submitted to the Commission was not done after the lapse of an unreasonable time period.

63. During November 2020, whilst the legal team was drafting and settling the statement of Mosing, an arrangement was made with the legal team to consult with myself and Mathenjwa on 12 December 2020. I, together with Mathenjwa, attended to the Chambers of Mathibedi where the consultation was to be held.

GSM

64. After waiting for two hours and having made numerous telephone calls to Mathibedi's cell phone which were not answered, Mathenjwa and I decided to leave. It later transpired that Mathibedi had been admitted to hospital due to complications related to Covid-19. I am advised that Gejengane and other members of the legal team were also not aware that, at that stage, Mathibedi had been admitted to hospital.

65. Gejengane and Adv Ramaimela also attended at Mathibedi's chambers on the same day, also unaware of the fact that Mathibedi had been admitted to hospital.

66. The arrangement was that my statement was going to be attended to after the finalisation of Chauke's affidavit. I only learnt of the fact that Mathibedi was admitted to hospital after his discharge on the 16th of December 2020, on which occasion Mathibedi indicated that once he has recovered and after the finalisation of Chauke's statement, the legal team will commence with the necessary consultation, drafting, settling and finalisation of my statement and that of Mathenjwa.

67. I am advised that Chauke's statement was finalised on the 12th of February 2021.

68. An initial consultation between Mathenjwa, myself, Gejengane, Ramaimela and Mathibedi occurred on 20 February 2021, during which consultation Mathenjwa and myself were advised of the approach that was to be adopted in our statements.

GSM

69. The next consultations with the legal team were held on numerous days during February, March, April and May 2021.

70. During the reading and analysis of the documents that had been provided to the legal team, certain further documents were required from myself and Mathenjwa, on an ongoing basis. Many of the documents had already been archived and some had to be obtained from some of our colleagues.

71. The legal team also had to peruse, analyse and familiarise themselves with:

71.1. Voluminous case dockets that related to the Cato Manor matter;

71.2. Various Prosecution Memoranda, Power Point presentations, a comprehensive and extensive indictment, a response to the request for further particulars which were in excess of 1000 pages in the Cato Manor matter;

71.3. Numerous Court applications that were instituted reviewing the POCA authorisations;

71.4. Documents relating to the Rogue Unit and the Pillay Early Retirement matter;

71.5. Documents relating to the matter of defeating the ends of justice for McBride, Khuba and Sesoko;

71.6. The statements of our colleagues already filed with the Commission, as there were overlaps;

71.7. Various judicial authorities pertaining to the issues that arise in this affidavit;

71.8. Transcribed records of the evidence of Booysen, McBride, Khuba, Vlok Symington, Mlotshwa, Nxasana, Sesoko, Nihleko, Gordhan, Mabula.

72. The following documents only pertained to Mathenjwa, but had to be read and analysed with the abovenamed documents:

72.1. Documents relating to the Breytenbach matter;

72.2. Memoranda relating to the Reference group;

72.3. Affidavits of McBride, Khuba, Nxasana and Booysen.

73. During the consultations and perusal of documents which had been provided to the legal team, a request was made for providing the legal team with the necessary documentation where applicable.

74. During the period that these consultations and perusal and analysis of the documents were taking place, members of the legal team had professional, personal and family commitments which they could not extract themselves from. Similarly, I had a part heard criminal matter involving a minor in the Klerksdorp Circuit Court (S v Kgotso Moeletsi and seven others (CC 27/2020)) which was set down for two to three weeks. This matter could not be postponed because the Child Justice Act, 2008 requires that this kind of matter be finalised within certain period of time. Besides this matter, I had other part heard matters and other matters that had long since been set down for hearing. All the accused in these matters are in custody and it would not be in the interest of justice for the matters to be postponed. I also had various administrative responsibilities which I could not extract myself from.

75. I have also been advised to deal with the time period from the holding of the consultation on 20 November 2019. I attended a consultation with the legal team where Counsel was appointed to represent the NPA officials implicated. At this meeting I informed the legal team that I was not served with a Rule 3.3 notice, although I was implicated by some witnesses. I requested the legal team to take up the matter of the non-service of the Rule 3.3 notices with the evidence leaders, despite the fact that I was implicated.

76. I am advised that the legal team attended a meeting with the evidence leaders on 22 January 2020. At that meeting, the evidence leaders were advised that I was not served with the necessary Rule 3.3 notices. The evidence leaders indicated that service was effected. As set out elsewhere in this statement, the notice was not served on me.

77. Despite the meeting referred to above, as at July 2020, I had not received the necessary and required Rule 3.3 notices from the evidence leaders.

G-S M

As at July 2020, when I was requested by the legal team to submit my summary of the response to the allegations levelled against me, I have not received the Rule 3.3. notices.

78. I am advised that a further meeting was held between my legal team and Adv Garth Hulley ("Hulley") on 9 September 2020, where the legal team again advised Hulley that I have not received the Rule 3.3. notices. Hulley advised my legal team that his view was that all the implicated persons should file their affidavits despite the fact that they have not been served with a Rule 3.3. notice.

79. It was after this meeting that I perused and analysed the evidence presented to the Commission and the documents related thereto in preparation for the summary of my response to the allegations levelled against me, as requested by the legal team.

80. It bears noticing that during this time, I was on Circuit Court at Klerksdorp and Mogwase, and I did not have access to my NPA records relating the matters I am implicated in.

81. I compiled a summary of my response to the allegations levelled against me and furnished same to our legal team during November 2020.

82. During November 2020, I was advised by Mathibedi that, at that stage, the legal team was busy with consultations, drafting, settling and finalisation of Mosing's statement, which would be followed by the consultations, drafting, settling and finalisation of Chauke's statement. A consultation was arranged for 12 December 2020, at which stage it was hoped that the legal team would have finalised Chauke's statement.

83. I once again must bring it to the attention of the Commission that as at the date of deposing to this affidavit, I have not received a Rule 3.3. notice in respect of Booysen, Nxasana, Sesoko and Khuba.

84. From the aforesaid, I respectfully submit that I have made out a good case for the relief prayed for in the Notice of Motion to which this affidavit is attached.

85. The voluminous papers together with annexures thereto were ultimately finalised on the 17th of May 2021. The filing of my papers at this stage is not as a result of any conduct on the part of myself or our legal team with the view to undermine the authority and process of the Commission.

F. RULE 3.4 STATEMENT

86. To demonstrate that the allegations levelled against me have no merit, it is necessary that I deal with the evidence as set out in the affidavits of Booysen, McBride, Van Jaarsveld and Van Rensburg and, to the extent necessary, their oral evidence before the Commission. To the extent I do not deal with each averment contained in the affidavits or oral testimony, such failure should not be construed as an admission thereof.

G. CATO MANOR INVESTIGATION AND PROSECUTION INCLUDING PROSECUTION OF BOOYSEN AND MEMBERS OF THE CATO MANOR SECTION

(a) Background

87. Sometime in February 2012, Adv J J Smit SC ("Smit") the DPP of Gauteng Local Division asked me to be one of the prosecutors who were to form a team which was to guide IPID and DPCI investigators in the investigation relating to various murder dockets where members of the public were killed by police officers based at the Cato Manor SVC Section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit, as well as to conduct prosecutions, should it be necessary ("the prosecution team").

88. As advised by Smit, the reason for forming a team of prosecutors from outside KZN was, as the then Acting DPP of KwaZulu-Natal, Adv Simphiwe Mlotshwa ("Mlotshwa") had indicated to Adv Jiba that the implicated police members had close working relationship with the prosecutors based in KwaZulu-Natal.

89. The prosecution team consisted of:

89.1. Myself, DDPP North West Division (team leader);

89.2. Adv K R Mathenjwa, DDPP South Gauteng Division (co-team leader);

89.3. Adv M Ntlakaza, Senior State Advocate based at South Gauteng Division ("Ntlakaza");

89.4. Adv J J Mlotshwa, Senior State Advocate based at South Gauteng Division ("Mlotshwa");

89.5. Adv P Futshane, Senior State Advocate based at South Gauteng Division ("Futshane") and 89.6. Adv P Moleko, Senior State Advocate, based at South Gauteng Division ("Moleko").

90. After its formation, a briefing session was held on 9 March 2012 where Chauke introduced the prosecution team to Adv N Jiba, the Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions ("ANDPP"/"Jiba"). In the briefing session we were informed that there were several murder dockets emanating from KwaZulu-Natal in which the suspects were police officers. The prosecution team was also informed that the cases were investigated by a team made up of members of both the Directorate for Priority Crime Investigation ("DPCI") and the Independent Police Investigative Directorate ("IPID") (collectively "the investigation team").

91. ANDPP and Chauke neither mentioned any corruption cases which were investigated by the suspects, nor did they exhibit any ulterior motive for assigning us to look at the murder dockets.

92. I attended the first meeting with the investigating team in Durban, the investigation team gave the prosecutors more than fifty (50) dockets for perusal, guidance and decision. From the dockets, the prosecution team identified twenty-three (23) murder dockets with twenty-eight (28) deceased, in which the police officers' killings were unjustified.

93. The prosecution team directed the investigation team to obtain further evidence, trace the witnesses and call for ballistic crime scene reconstruction reports.

94. It was established that the offences were committed by members of the Cato Manor SVC Section. According to the organogram of the KZN Provincial Organised Crime Unit, the Durban Organised Crime Unit was under the command of Senior Superintendent Aiyer ("Aiyer"). A copy of the organogram of the KZN Provincial Organised Crime Unit is attached as annexure "CM1".

95. However, when approached by the investigation team to make a statement, Aiyer made a statement and explained that the Provincial Commander, Booysen side-lined him in the management of the Cato Manor SVC Section and liaised directly with the section commander. Aiyer contended that he was not involved in the operations of the Cato Manor SVC Section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit. A copy of Aiyer's statement dated 4 August 2012 is attached as annexure "CM2".

96. The prosecution team also held a consultation with Aiyer and he gave us additional information, effectively confirming his exclusion in the activities of the Cato Manor SVC Section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit, which additional information was later given in a form of a statement. A copy of this statement dated 31 August 2012 is also attached as annexure "CM3".

97. The investigation revealed that there was a feud between the Stanger Taxi Association ("STA") and the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association ("KTA"), which feud was investigated by Superintendent Chonco ("Chonco"), a member of the Taxi Violence Task Team. Chonco was killed in an ambush on 27 August 2008.

98. Thereafter, members of the Cato Manor SVC Section began to kill those who they suspected of Chonco's murder and killed six (6) people from 3 September to 18 October 2008. Five of the deceased were members of KTA and one was a bodyguard.

99. Although Chauke was the coordinator of the prosecution team, Mathenjwa met with Mlotshwa, the KwaZulu-Natal Acting Director of Public Prosecutions on the first visit and apprised him of the purpose and nature of our assignment in KwaZulu-Natal.

100. Throughout the period we were engaged in the assignment referred to above, we were regularly briefing Chauke on progress in our task, and he in turn would brief the ANDPP. At times, Chauke would arrange briefing sessions with the ANDPP where we would do the briefing to the ANDPP directly.

GSM

101. Having considered all the evidence that was uncovered during the investigation, we formed a view that the suspects committed the offences, and had done so in a planned, ongoing and repeating similar pattern. We thus recommended to the KwaZulu-Natal ADPP that the suspects, being members of the Cato Manor SVC Section and Booysen, ought to be prosecuted for committing offences in terms section 2(1)(e) and 2(1)(f) of POCA. Accordingly, the KZN ADPP, who at the time was Adv M Noko ("Noko"), made an application to the ANDPP, for authorization of racketeering charges against the suspects.

(b) Overview

102. On 11 December 2011 there were media reports, Inter alia in the Sunday Times, about the killings that were alleged to have been perpetrated by members of the Cato Manor SVC Section. These media reports were severely criticised by those implicated and later on their supporters and various Non-Governmental Organisations ("NGO") to the extent that the media house that published the stories later on retracted same.

103. When all those media reports and criticism dominated the public discourse members of the prosecution team and I, in accordance with our ethics, code of conduct and the NPA Act could not make our inputs to set the record straight and inform the public what the correct position was at least in so far as the prosecution team was concerned.

104. In this affidavit I will demonstrate what the prosecution of Cato Manor SVC Section was all about. In a nutshell it is about the following:

GSM

104.1. After the killing of Choncho, the Cato Manor SVC Section went on a killing spree of both suspects in Choncho's killing and suspects in other criminal activity such as ATM bombings. Most disturbingly, in this killing spree innocent persons, including a teenager, was killed;

104.2. When the killings were reported in the Sunday Times, members of IPID and the DPCI were tasked to investigate the allegations that members of the Cato Manor SVC Section were unlawfully killing suspects and or innocent persons;

104.3. Due to the complexity of the matter, such as the need to procure ballistic crime scene reconstruction, and the high-ranking officials implicated, the IPID sought the NPA's assistance to guide the investigation;

104.4. A prosecution team was appointed to peruse more than fifty (50) murder dockets to determine whether any of the killings were justifiable;

104.5. The prosecution team identified approximately twenty-three (23) dockets where approximately twenty-eight (28) deceased, in which the killings executed by members of the Cato Manor SVC Section were unjustified and contrary to the provisions of section 49(2) of the Criminal Procedure Act, 51 of 1977 (CPA) and the relevant portions of the Standing Order (General) 251 Part III Police Duties, Duties of the Relief and Use of Arms;

104.6. The killings were unjustified because the ballistic crime scene reconstruction found that in some cases the deceased were shot in supine positions or in instances where they did not pose danger to the police officers and or an instance where a fire-arm alleged to have been in possession of the deceased could not discharge;

104.7. In some dockets, witnesses gave statements to the effect that the deceased were unarmed and did not pose any danger to the police officers when they were killed.

105. Section 49(2)(a) and (b) of the CPA provides as follows:

> "(2) If any arrestor attempts to arrest a suspect and the suspect resists the attempt, or flees, or resists the attempt and flees, when it is clear that an attempt to arrest him or her is being made, and the suspect cannot be arrested without the use of force, the arrestor may, in order to effect the arrest, use such force as may be reasonably necessary and proportional in the circumstances to overcome the resistance or to prevent the suspect from fleeing, but, in addition to the requirement that the force must be reasonably necessary and proportional in the circumstances, the arrestor may use deadly force only if-
> (a) the suspect poses a threat of serious violence to the arrestor or any other person*; or*

GSM

(b) the suspect is suspected on reasonable grounds of having committed a crime involving the infliction or threatened infliction of serious bodily harm and there are no other reasonable means of effecting the arrest, whether at that time or later." (my emphasis)

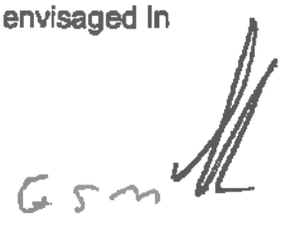
105.1. It was, and it still is, the view of the prosecution team that, based on the objective evidence, the conduct of members of Cato Manor SVC Section was not justified as such conduct did not fall within the parameters of Section 49(2)(a) and (b) of the CPA.

105.2. All the deceased were shot either on the chest or the head. Some of the deceased sustained bullet injuries on the hands which is an indication that they were trying to ward off the bullets;

105.3. Having identified the killings as unjustified, the evidence further pointed to a peculiar repeated pattern of killing, namely shooting the victims and thereafter placing a fire-arm next to the deceased, which the prosecution team considered to be the modus operandi of the Cato Manor SVC Section;

105.4. The prosecution team considered this modus operandi and was satisfied that the requirements of racketeering, as envisaged in the POCA, were met;



105.5. As a result of the evidence procured through the prosecution guided investigation conducted by IPID and the DPCI, the prosecution team was duty bound, after preparing the indictment, to seek a POCA authorisation from the then ANDPP in order to enable them to prosecute not only the "foot soldiers" but also those responsible for the management and control of the enterprise;

105.6. The indictment and POCA authorisations were vociferously opposed in a review applications and other legal stratagem, which culminated in the judgment of Gorven J;

105.7. These legal battles to resist the commencement of the criminal trial bore fruit when the incumbent NDPP irrationally withdrew the POCA authorisations issued by Abrahams and Jiba, her predecessors, without consulting and soliciting the views of the prosecution team, as well as the withdrawal of the predicate offences by the KwaZulu-Natal DPP. I am unaware whether Abrahams and Jiba were consulted before such withdrawal. I am aware of instances where previous NDPPs were invited to comment on their decisions whilst they were in office, by the NPA, after they left office.

106. To further demonstrate that all the killings were unjustified, the Commission is referred to the relevant section set out below, which clearly, and in detail, analyse the modus operandi of the suspects.

.G S

107. Standing Order (General) 251 provides:

> "251.4. As a member is often required to act on his own initiative, it is essential that all members have a thorough knowledge of the circumstances under which fire-arms may legally be used.
> 251.5. Members may be justified in using their fire-arms under the following circumstances:
> 251.5.3. to defend themselves or any other person or persons from death or serious injury if attacked,;

> *251.5.4. when other means are ineffectual, to effect the arrest or to prevent the escape of a prisoner convicted of a serious crime or of a person who has committed or is suspected of having committed an offence included in Schedule 1 to Act No 51 of 1977. GSM to use fire-arms with the greatest care, prudence and competence."

108. I attach hereto a copy of the Standing Order 251, marked as annexure "CM4.1".

109. The prosecution team's view was that a reasonable commander in the position of Booysen would have investigated the circumstances under which the killings occurred, if regard is to be had to:

109.1. the number of killings that took place from 2008 to 2011;

109.2. the manner in which the killings were committed, namely some of the victims were shot at close range in the upper body, the victims were either seated or in a supine position when shot, and many of the victims had gunshot wounds to the hands, indicating that they were trying to ward off the bullets; and

109.3. the circumstances in which the killings were committed, namely that all victims were alleged to have been in possession of firearms and/or attempted to shoot at police and/or posed danger to the police, whereas there was not a single incident where a member of the Cato Manor SVC Section was killed and/or injured nor was there an incident where police property such as motor vehicles, were shot at or damaged.

110. Booysen ought to have suspected that something was amiss and ought to have directed that an investigation be conducted into the killings. It is on this basis, as well as Booysen's active command of the Cato Manor SVC Section, that the prosecution team was and still is of the view that Booysen managed, participated, knew or ought to have known of the commissions of the crimes as envisaged in Section 2(1)(e) and (f) of POCA.

113. I wish to indicate that I am neither appealing nor criticising the Gorven judgment. However, it is critical to state that from a careful reading and analysis of the judgment, some important annexures are not addressed in the judgment, namely, Annexures "NJ1" and "NJ6" to the Answering Affidavit deposed to by Jiba in the review application that was launched by Booysen. Annexure "NJ1" dated 14 October 2008, is attached hereto, marked as annexure "CM4.2". Annexure NJ6 is attached hereto, marked as annexure "CM5".

114. Annexure "CM4.2" is the motivation for the awards, including the monetary and non-monetary awards. In the summary of events, the following is set out:

"Summary of events

On Monday 2008/09/15, Dir Booysen, the Provincial Commander, contacted Insp Mostert and informed Insp Mostert that he had information pertaining to the suspect that had organised the hit on Supt Chonco. He was hiding in Virginia in the Orange Free State and was on route to Pietermaritzburg to collect some cash in Pietermaritzburg. During this time the informer remained in contact with Dir Booysen who continued to relay the information over to the investigation team.

On Tuesday 2008/09/16 at 06H20, Dir Booysen contacted Insp Mostert again re the movement of the suspect who was near the Pietermaritzburg area in a Hyundai Tuscon 4X4 with registration NRB3904 and that he was armed and dangerous. The investigation team consisting of the above members immediately departed to Pietermaritzburg.

The same day at 08H30, the investigation team still consisting of the above same members who were in the Pietermaritzburg area, continued to receive further information from Dir Booysen and at 10H10 Information was received that the above vehicle was en route on the N3 towards the Orange Free State. The vehicle was spotted near the Cedara turn off by the investigation team, the occupants being two person, a driver and a passenger seated on the back seat of the vehicle. The investigation team, which at this stage consisted of Insp Mostert, Nel and Makhanya in one vehicle while Capt Van Tonder, Lockem and Eva who followed in a separate vehicle. Insp Mostert managed to catch up to the vehicle and in an attempt to get the suspects to pull over, the official blue light and siren was used. A shootout then took place between the passenger of the suspects' vehicle and the investigation team resulting in the driver of the vehicle being injured in the process which resulted in the vehicle stopping. The passenger in the suspects' vehicle, during the shootout, made an attempt to flee from the moving vehicle which resulted in him being flung out of the moving vehicle. Both the suspects were fatally injured in the shootout. The driver was positively identified as Timson Magojela Ndimande and was the main brain behind the assassination of Supt Chonco, the other suspect was his bodyguard. The following firearm were found in the vehicle; one AK47 Rifle with loaded magazine, one Ruger Mini 14 Automatic Rifle and two magazines as well as two 9mm Norinco Pistols, both with loaded magazines.

The following cases were opened:

The above members returned to the office and continued to gather further information."

115. In relation to Howick CAS 106/08/2008, which was investigated by Mr Mosiapoa, a member of IPID, Booysen and Olivier arrived at the scene in a helicopter and congratulated the members for work well done. Booysen played a key role in tracking and tracing Magojela which tracing led to his murder by the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section along N3 towards Howick. Booysen managed to track Magojela through an informer. This evidence is also confirmed in the motivation for awards, amongst others, in favour of Booysen and members of Cato Manor SVC Section.

116. Annexure "CM5" is an affidavit deposed to by Booysen in the matter of Bongani Elphas Mkhize v Minister of Safety and Security: South Africa and Others[1]. From a careful perusal, consideration and analysis of the content of the annexure, the only plausible inference is that Booysen was, or should have been aware of the unlawful conduct of members of the police, also taking into account that he was the Provincial Commander of Organised Crime for the Province of KwaZulu-Natal.

117. It is clear that, in the opposing affidavit, it is not Booysen's case that the entire content of the information as set out in the affidavit was gained from other members of the Cato Manor Police unit. It is also clear that the facts which Booysen relies on in the affidavit, are within his personal knowledge and belief, alternatively have been obtained by him from files and documents under or in the control of the South African Police Service.

118. In the Mkhize matter, despite opposition, the police were interdicted from unlawfully killing Mkhize. However, Mkhize was murdered by the very same Cato Manor SVC Section under the command of Booysen. It is my submission that the two annexures referred to above, clearly demonstrate that Booysen was aware or ought to reasonably have been aware, of the unlawful and criminal conduct that was perpetrated by members of the Cato Manor SVC Section.

[1] Case Number 13759/2008, High Court of South Africa, Durban & Coast Local Division, Durban

119. In addition to the above, the following evidence, which was in the dockets, was relied on when the decision to prosecute Booysen and the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section was taken:

119.1. Statements of Mr Bhekinkosi Mthiyane "Dlondlo" ("Mthiyane") and Aiyer respectively dated 31 July 2012 and 4 August 2012. Copies of the above statements are attached as annexures "CM6" and "CM2" respectively. Mthiyane's evidence is that there was an arrangement between members of the Cato Manor SVC Section and the STA in terms of which the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section would kill members of the KTA and get paid for it by STA. On the other hand, Aiyer in his statement confirms that the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section acted under the command of Booysen all the time at the relevant time.

119.2. Statement of Mr Bongani Mandla Mkhize dated 1 August 2012 whose evidence corroborates that of Mthiyane. The gist of his evidence is that there was an arrangement between members of the Cato Manor SVC Section and the STA in terms of which the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section would kill members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association and get paid for it by STA. A copy of the statement of Mr Bongani Mandla Mkhize is attached as annexure "CM7".

119.3. Statement of Mr Nkosinathi Shozi ("Shozi"). He is an attorney who represented KTA since 2003. In 2007 to 2008 he was approached by Bongani Mkhize (Chairman) and Bhengu (Treasurer) to assist KTA to communicate with the South African Police Service (SAPS) with a view to prevent the ongoing killings after the death of Lindelani Buthelezi ("Buthelezi") on 3 September 2008. His instructions were to tell the police that if there was any member of the association being sought for any criminal matter, including the investigation of Chonco they were prepared to hand the member over so that the law could take its course. He was never told by the police or Booysen when his clients, being members of KTA were sought. A copy of the statement of Shozi is attached as annexure "CM8".

119.4. When analysing modus operandi of the suspects the following was established:

119.4.1.1. On 3 September 2008, the deceased was found with gunshot wounds in the bedroom at the house that he was renting.

119.4.1.2. The deceased was a member of KTA and suspected of being involved in the killing of Choncho.

119.4.1.3. The police came to the house during the early hours of the morning and broke open the door. They found the deceased in the bedroom with his girlfriend, Thandeka Sokhulu.

119.4.1.4. According to Thandeka, as the police entered the bedroom, the deceased raised his hands in the air as a sign of surrender, and he was not armed.

119.4.1.5. The police took the deceased into another room.

119.4.1.6. Thandeka alleged that she was assaulted with open hands and kicked, and they covered her head with a blanket. She then heard gunshots from the room the deceased was taken into.

G Sm

119.4.1.7. The police had the deceased under their control from the moment the police entered the bedroom and the deceased raised his hands in surrender. The allegation that the deceased posed a threat to the police is improbable.

119.4.1.8. The deceased was shot in the head and in the chest. A firearm was placed next to the body on the floor.

119.4.1.9. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispel the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.1.10. I attach hereto photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM9.1" to "CM9.7".

119.4.2. Counts 8 to 12: Howick CAS 106/09/2008 Magojela Timson Ndimande and Sibusiso Thokozani Tembe

119.4.2.1. On 16 September 2008, the deceased were found in a Hyundai Tucson vehicle on the N3 Highway in the direction of Howick from Pietermaritzburg. Ndimande was found seated in the driver's seat, slumped over onto the passenger seat with a gunshot wound to the head and several gunshot wounds to the chest. Tembe was found on the road surface on the left side of the vehicle with a gunshot wound to the head and severe scrape marks on his arm and hands.

119.4.2.2. Ndimande was the Vice-Chairperson of the KTA and Tembe was his bodyguard, in the employment of a security company, Taxi Violence VIP Protection Unit. Tembe was issued with a 9mm Parabellum Pistol and a Ruger 14 rifle by his employer.

119.4.2.3. Several weeks before the shooting, Mostert approached the owner of Taxi Violence VIP Protection Unit, Warren Julie, and told him to remove his employees that were rendering protection services to the executive of KTA or risk that his employees will be killed by the police. He refused and continued to render protection services to the executive of KTA.

119.4.2.4. Two weeks before the day of the shooting incident, the deceased were arrested by SAPS, Mthunzini and taken to Cato Manor SVC Section's premises, as they were suspects in the killing of Chonco. The Cato Manor SVC Section indicated to SAPS, Mthunzini that the deceased were not suspects and that they should be released, which they were.

119.4.2.5. On that day, the deceased pleaded with SAPS, Mthunzini to take them back to where they were arrested as they feared that Cato Manor SVC Section will murder them.

119.4.2.6. On 16 September 2008, the deceased were on their way to the Free State where they were hiding out from the Cato Manor SVC Section after collecting the monthly taxi takings in KwaZulu Natal. They have just left Pietermaritzburg and were travelling on the N3 Highway.

119.4.2.7. Mostert (Accused 4), Eva (Accused 6), Makhaya (Accused 8), Lockem (Accused 15) and Van Tonder (Accused 16) followed the deceased after receiving information from Booysen that the deceased were travelling in the Hyundai Tucson. They were travelling in two vehicles. It is clear from the motivation for the monetary award ("CM4" hereto) that Booysen actively managed and directed the operation that led to the murder of the deceased, even though he was not present at the time of the shooting.

119.4.2.8. The two vehicles pulled up next to the Hyundai Tucson. The police opened fire on the deceased's vehicle and shot the deceased. The deceased's vehicle veered off the highway and came to a standstill at the side of the road. Whilst the deceased's vehicle was moving, Tembe fell out of the vehicle, his foot got stuck in the vehicle and he was dragged for approximately 20 meters. From the scrape marks on Tembe's body, it is clear that Tembe was already shot before he was dragged by the vehicle.

119.4.2.9. The police alleged that Tembe leaned out of the left rear passenger door of the vehicle and shot at them with an AK47.

119.4.2.10. When the vehicles came to a standstill, Mostert approached the Tucson, opened the driver's door and fired further shots at Ndimande, who slumped over onto the front passenger seat.

119.4.2.11. Apart from the 9mm Parabellum Pistol and the Ruger 14 rifle that was issued to Tembe by his employer, a Norinco pistol and an AK47 assault rifle were placed on the scene.

119.4.2.12. The Norinco pistol was found on the front passenger seat behind Ndimande's head. The AK47 rifle was found on the back seat. The Ruger 14 rifle was found in the boot of the vehicle and the 9mm Parabellum pistol was found next to Tembe's body.

119.4.2.13. Herman Thiart, an employee of Taxi Violence VIP Protection Unit, Tembe's employer, attended at the scene and viewed Tembe's body. He also inspected the deceased's vehicle and noticed that all the bullet holes were from shots fired from outside the vehicle and there were no shots fired from inside the vehicle. He further noticed that there were no bullet holes on any of the police vehicles.

119.4.2.14. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispel the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated Norinco pistal and AK47 rifle were planted.

119.4.2.15. Booysen (Accused 1) and Olivier (Accused 9) arrived at the scene by helicopter and congratulated Mostert and the other members.

119.4.2.16. I attach hereto photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM10.1" to "CM10.5".

119.4.2.17. I attach hereto a statement from Warren Julie, marked as annexure "CM11.1" and a statement from Herman Thiart marked as annexure "CM11.2".

119.4.2.18. Counts 13 to 18: Mandini CAS 76/09/2009 Nzameni Ntuli (Kopolota) and Nkosinathi Mthembu

119.4.2.19. On 18 September 2008, the deceased were found lying in a house at Mandini after being shot at by the accused;

GSM

119.4.2.20. It is alleged that Stoltz (Accused 3) and Mostert (Accused 4) discharged their firearms in self-defence against the purported attack with firearms, launched by the deceased;

119.4.2.21. The ballistic reconstruction indicates that they were shot whilst lying down, the firearms that were found placed close to their bodies could not match the cartridges on the scene;

119.4.2.22. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispel the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearms were planted.

119.4.2.23. The two deceased were members of KTA.

119.4.2.24. I attach the forensic statement of Jacobus Steyl ("Steyl"), marked as annexure "CM12".

119.4.3. Count 19: Umkomaas CAS 235/10/2008 Mduduzi Mkhize

GSM

119.4.3.1. On 18 October 2008, the deceased was found slumped with his body halfway out of the vehicle in the backseat of a Mazda Etude vehicle on the N2 freeway in the direction of KwaMakhutha and the deceased was handcuffed.

119.4.3.2. The deceased was arrested in Pietermaritzburg on the day of the shooting on suspicion of involvement in the killing of Choncho. The deceased was being transported by Nkabane (Accused 17) and Crouse (Accused 18) to Scottburgh where the deceased indicated his willingness to point out another suspect, Nathi Khumalo.

119.4.3.4. When the vehicle left, Crouse was driving, Nkabane was seated in the front passenger seat and the deceased was seated in the back seat.

119.4.3.5. The police alleged that, whilst on route, the deceased attempted to strangle Crouse with the handcuffs by putting the handcuffs over Crouse's head from the back and pulling him against the seat with the cuffs on his throat and that the deceased tried to disarm Crouse. Nkabane then shot the deceased in the face from the side. The photos depict that he was shot whilst handcuffed.

119.4.3.6. The deceased was a member of KTA.

119.4.3.7. I attach hereto photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM13.1" to "CM13.3".

119.4.4. Counts 20 to 24: Durban Central CAS 185/02/2009 Bongani Mkhize

119.4.4.2. Photo 1 shows:

- The position of the deceased with his hands folded;
- Glass shards which indicated that the windows of the car were closed at the time he was shot at and that the shot came from the right hand side of the car from outside;

119.4.4.3. Photo 2 shows:

- Amongst others, a firearm on the front left hand side;
- Spent cartridges;
- Glass shards on the seat and on the floor;
- According to ballistic crime scene reconstruction report, the spent cartridges were not fired from the firearm found in the vehicle as stated above;

- The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated fiream was planted;

119.4.4.4. Photos 3 and 5 shows that some shots were fired from the back of the vehicle through the back window into the neck of the deceased.

119.4.4.5. Photos 4 and 5 shows that both right hand side windows of the vehicle were closed at the time it was struck.

119.4.4.6. He was a member and the Chairperson of KTA.

119.4.4.7. According to Sergeant Tilakharee, the ballistic expert, all shots were fired from outside to the inside of the vehicle. The accused Dlamuka, Mfene, Padayachee, Rakesh Maharaj and Stoltz state that the deceased fired shots in their direction and they returned fire wounding the deceased. Sergeant Tilakharee's ballistic finding that all cartridge cases collected from the scene, including the two found inside the vehicle of the deceased, were not linked to the firearm found in the vehicle of the deceased. It is thus clear that this firearm depicted on photos 14 and 15 of Captain Mangena's statement was placed in the vehicle after the shooting to create the impression that Mkhize used it and tried to place the police's life in danger. Copies of statements of Sergeant Tilakharee and that of Captain Mangena are attached as annexures "CM14" and "CM15" respectively.

119.4.4.8. This deceased obtained an interdict against the Police from murdering him, as more fully dealt with elsewhere in this statement. Furthermore, the deceased was the target on whose head STA was to pay R1 million as per Ndlondlo's statement.

119.4.4.9. I attach hereto the photos, marked as annexures "CM16.1" to "CM16.5".

119.4.5. Counts 25 – 30: Pinetown CAS 1000/05/2009 Sibongiseni Badumile Ndimande

119.4.5.1. On 23 May 2009, the deceased was found in his house in the bedroom slumped against the bed, on the right-hand side of the bed, with gunshot wounds to his face and body.

119.4.5.2. The police were searching for suspects who were allegedly involved in the killing of Nkosi Zondi. The police came to the deceased's house at New Germany. The deceased, whilst sleeping in the bedroom with his wife, was woken up by noises caused by the police's attempts to open the main door of the house.

119.4.5.3. According to the deceased's wife, Nokuphiwa Zanele Madaba, she handed their baby that was in the bed with her and the deceased, to the deceased and proceeded towards the main door of the house. As she opened the door, the police burst into the house. At that time, the deceased approached the door from the direction of the bedroom, holding the baby against his bare chest.

119.4.5.4. The police instructed the deceased to hand the baby to Nokuphiwa and Olivier (Accused 9) shoved Nokuphiwa and the baby through the main door outside, whilst the other police officers took the deceased into the bedroom. As Nokuphiwa was in the doorway, she heard gunshots from the bedroom.

119.4.5.5. The police alleged that the deceased was reaching for a firearm and they opened fire on the deceased. Padiyachee (Accused 2) fired two shots with an R5 rifle, Stoltz (Accused 3) fired shots with a Z88 pistol and Van Tonder (Accused 16) fired shots with a 9 mm Baretta pistol.

119.4.5.6. The gunshot wounds on the deceased's arms indicate that the deceased raised his arms in a defensive manner in an attempt to block the bullets.

119.4.5.7. A firearm was placed on the foot of the bed. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.5.8. The deceased was a family member of Magojela Ndimande, the deceased in counts 8 to 12.

119.4.5.9. I attach hereto photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM17.1" to "CM17.3".

119.4.5.10. I attach the statement of Nokuphiwa, marked as annexures "CM18.".

119.4.6.1. On 20 September 2009, the deceased was found in his house in the lounge with a gunshot wound next to his right eye.

119.4.6.2. The police suspected the deceased to be involved in the killing of Nkosi Zondi. The deceased was sleeping in the house where he was hiding from the Cato Manor SVC Section for fear of them murdering him.

119.4.6.3. The police took up various positions around the house. Padayachee (Accused 2) and Mostert (Accused 4) broke open the kitchen door, entered the premises and proceeded to the bedroom. On entering the bedroom, the police opened fire on the deceased, and alleged that the deceased pointed a firearm at them.

119.4.6.4. A firearm was found on the scene. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispel the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.6.5. The deceased was a family member of Magojela Ndimande, the deceased in counts 8 to 12.

119.4.6.6. I attach hereto photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM19.1" to "CM19.7".

119.4.7. Counts 35 to 38: Berea CAS 288/05/2008 Thabo Sunshine Msimango

119.4.7.1. On 24 May 2008, the deceased was found on the ground in the parking area of the block of flats where he resided. The deceased was shot several times.

119.4.7.2. The police came to the deceased's flat as he was the subject of an investigation. The police broke down the flat's door and entered the deceased's flat. The police alleges that the deceased turned and ran towards the window and shots were fired at him. The deceased then jumped out of the window of his flat on the fourth floor to the parking area below.

119.4.7.3. The police fired several shots at the deceased from the flat whilst the deceased was lying on the ground in the parking area. Further shots were fired at the deceased at closer range.

119.4.7.4. A firearm was placed next to the deceased's body on the ground. It is a physical impossibility for the firearm to be that close to the deceased's body if the firearm was in the deceased's hand when he impacted the ground, as he jumped from the fourth floor of the block of flats.

119.4.7.5. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispel the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.7.6. I attach hereto photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM20.1" to "CM20.4".

119.4.8. Counts 39 to 52: Melmoth CAS 142/11/2008 Bongani Velaphi Biyela ("Bongani") and Khayisani Biyela ("Khayisani")

119.4.8.1. On 23 November 2008, the deceased were found shot at their homestead in Melmoth. Bongani's naked body was found outside laying on top of a stone retaining wall with gunshot wounds. Khayisani's body was found lying on the floor of one of the rondavels with gunshot wounds.

119.4.8.2. Bongani was an accused in a matter in the Durban Magistrate's Court where he failed to appear in Court and a warrant of arrest was authorised but stayed against him. Before the return date of the warrant, a group of police proceeded to his homestead in Melmoth and attacked the homestead during the night.

119.4.8.3. Bongani, who was sleeping with his wife, Bongokuhle Biyela, woke up and attempted to run away. He was naked. He was shot outside the rondavel and a firearm was placed next to his body. Bongokuhle stated that Bongani was naked, as depicted from the photo album and had no firearm in his possession.

119.4.8.4. Khayisani was shot inside the rondavel where he was sleeping. The police alleges that Khayisani shot at them through the rondavel window and one police officer returned fire whilst another kicked the door open and fired shots at Khayisani. A firearm was placed next to Khayisani's body.

119.4.8.5. The police also assaulted Bongokuhle and Richard Biyela, an older brother of Bongani.

119.4.8.6. Photo 1 depicts Bongani lying naked on top of the stone retaining wall with a firearm close to his left hand on the ground next to his body.

119.4.8.10. Photo 5 depicts Khayisani's body on the floor of the rondavel with a firearm next to his body. The photo clearly shows that this firearm was placed on top of the dried blood.

119.4.8.11. Photo 6 depicts the gunshot wounds to Khayisani's body and the firearm which was placed on top of the dried blood. On the supposition that Khayisani was in possession of the firearm, the blood would have been on the firearm and/or the blood would have settled and/or circled around the firearm, being a heavy object.

119.4.8.12. Photo 7 depicts the gunshot wound to Khayisani's body.

119.4.8.13. Photos 8, 9 and 10 depicts how insensitive the police were after having killed Bongani and Khayisani. They are shown to be celebrating their heinous conduct the morning after the killing in the presence of Bongokuhle, who was grieving for Bongani and Khayisani, and who was forced to sit with the police.

119.4.8.14. Photo 9 depicts Mostert drinking a beer.

119.4.8.15. Photo 10 depicts Bongokuhle grieving whilst Accused 4 and 6 throws their hands up in the air in celebration, with Accused 7 looking on with a smile.

119.4.8.16. I attach hereto photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM21.1" to "CM21.10".

119.4.8.17. These photos are the photos which were published in the Sunday Times on the 11th of December 2011, copies of which articles are attached hereto and marked as annexure "CM22.1", "CM22.2" and "CM22.3" respectively.

119.4.8.18. It is the publication of these photos that triggered the investigation against the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section.

119.4.8.19. I attach hereto the statement of Bongokuhle, marked as annexure "CM23".

119.4.8.20. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.9. Counts 53 to 57: Kwa-Mashu CAS 629/4/2009 Gladwell Thokazani Njapha

119.4.9.1. On 27 April 2009 the deceased was found on the bed in his house. The deceased was shot in his bedroom.

119.4.9.2. The police violently knocked at the door and, after breaking down the door, stormed into the deceased's house. By then, all the family members in the house were up to see what was going on.

119.4.9.3. The deceased went to picked up his three year old son from the child's bedroom and held his son against his chest. The police then instructed the deceased to hand the child to the deceased's elder son, Njabulo Njapha, who was 15 years old at the time. On the deceased handing over the child to his elder son, the police shoved the children out of the bedroom. Mostert (Accused 4) pulled the deceased's wife, Portia Njapha ("Portia"), from the bedroom.

119.4.9.4. If the intention of the police was to arrest the deceased, they should have done so as they had ample opportunity arrest him, as they had restrained him. This clearly demonstrates that there was premeditated intention to murder the deceased.

119.4.9.5. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.9.6. Thereafter the deceased was shot. Explosives were found in the room and a firearm was found next to the right hand of the deceased. According to Portia, the deceased was left handed and had no firearm in his possession.

119.4.9.7. I attach hereto photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM24.1" to "CM24.3".

119.4.9.8. I attach hereto the statements of Portia and Njabulo, marked as annexures "CM25" and "CM26" respectively.

GSmk

SEQ 29/2021-086

119.4.10.1. On 10 August 2009, the deceased was found shot dead in a Honda Ballade vehicle on Malandela Road in Phoenix.

119.4.10.2. The police were looking for the deceased in connection with armed robberies of which he was a suspect. The deceased was allegedly followed by the police and allegedly failed to heed several orders to stop the vehicle. The police fired shots at the deceased and killed him.

119.4.10.3. A silver BMW vehicle which was driven by the police, where Mostert (Accused 4) was present, is depicted on the photos. It must be noted that in the taxi violence money collections, a silver BMW vehicle driven by Mostert, was mentioned.

119.4.10.4. A firearm was placed next to the deceased's body.

119.4.10.5. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.10.6. I attach hereto photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM27.1" to "CM27.5".

119.4.11. Counts 62 to 65: Kwa-Mashu CAS 698/11/2009 Prince Sakhile Thabede (Mtako)

119.4.11.1. On 26 November 2009 the deceased was found lying on the bed in his house in the company of his girlfriend.

119.4.11.2. The police first secured two suspects who directed them to the deceased's house. The police were driving a Combi. On the identification of the house, the police alighted and went into the house, and these suspects heard gunshots.

119.4.11.3. One police officer, Mostert (Accused 4), came back to the Combi to fetch his "Mbombay" (firearm). He reached under the driver's seat and took out one firearm from a bag of firearms and ran back into the house.

119.4.11.4. Adriaan Stoltz (Accused 3) said in his warning statement that the suspect drew a firearm and fired shots. Padayachee (Accused 2) says the suspect produced a firearm and pointed at them, that is when he decided to fire at the suspect. Sergeant Behari of the ballistic unit of the Forensic Science Laboratory found that the revolver was defective. Jacobus Steyl, a ballistic reconstructionist, states that the deceased was in a lying position with his head on the pillow when he was shot at. Copies of the statements of Sergeant Behari and that of Jacobus Steyl are attached as annexures "CM28" and "CM29" respectively.

119.4.11.5. I attach hereto a statement by Nqaba Mdluli, a witness to the incident, marked as annexure "CM30".

G.S.M.

SEQ 29/2021-089

119.4.11.6. The deceased's girlfriend, Denise Hurley ("Hurley"), who is a nurse, attempt to assist the deceased, but was prevented from doing so by the Accused. As she was pulled out of the room by the Accused, she saw a firearm being thrown onto the bed on the right side of the deceased's body. I attach hereto copies of Hurley's statement dated 3 December 2009, marked as annexure "CM31.1" and statement dated 22 March 2012, marked as "CM31.2".

119.4.11.7. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report on the firearm found on the scene, established that the said firearm was defective and could not discharge ammunition.

119.4.11.8. There are two materially contradictory versions from police members who were on the scene. Padayachee (Accused 2), in his statement, attached hereto marked as annexure "CM32", Inter alia, states that the deceased pointed a fire arm at them, whilst Stoltz (Accused 3), in his statement, attached hereto marked as annexure "CM33" alleged that there was an exchange of firearm with the deceased, and consequently the deceased was fatally wounded. Both these versions cannot be true. It is not for the presiding officer to accept one of the versions above the other. These materially contradictory versions supports Hurley's version that the deceased did not have a firearm.

119.4.11.9. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.11.10. I attach hereto photos of the scene hereto, marked as annexures "CM34.1" to "CM34.9".

119.4.12. Counts 66 – 69: Esikhawini CAS 3/4/2010 Kwazi Ndlovu 16 year old boy

119.4.12.1. On 1 April 2010 at about 02:00 the deceased, a 16-year-old student, who had likely fallen asleep whilst watching television, was shot at whilst in a lying position on a couch with an R5 rifle, a 9mm Norinco Star pistol was placed under his left arm.

119.4.12.2. After the shooting incident, Mostert instructed the deceased's father, Sibusisu Wiseman Ndlovu ("Wiseman") to go and point out other suspects. On the way to where the pointing was supposed to be made, Mostert enquired from Wiseman as to who the person is that was sleeping in the tv room, referring to the deceased. Wiseman responded and said "that is my son" to which Mostert exclaimed and responded "Was it your son?". I attach hereto a copy of Wiseman's statement, marked as annexure "CM35".

119.4.12.3. All cartridges on the scene are 5.56mm compatible with an R5 assault rifle that was used by Padayachee (Accused 2). The 9mm Norinco Star pistol cannot be linked with any cartridges found on the scene.

119.4.12.4. The ballistic crime reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.12.5. Captain Mangena reconstructed the scene and confirmed after studying the post-mortem report, damages on the wall, the couch on which the deceased was lying and the wounds sustained, that the deceased was lying when shot at and posed no danger to the police. This firearm was clearly placed on the scene after the shooting.

119.4.12.6. This house belonged to Tilili's family, but at the time of this killing, it was rented by the deceased's family.

119.4.12.7. They murdered a wrong person as the police were looking for a prison escapee called Tilili, and were taken to this house by the informer. A copy of Captain Mangena's statement is attached as annexure "CM36".

GSM

119.4.12.8. I attach hereto photos of the deceased, marked as annexures "CM37.1" to "CM37.3".

119.4.13. Counts 70 to 79: Bhekithemba CAS 44/05/2010 Musawenkosi Aubrey Ngcobo, Xolisani Allen Ngcobo and Simphiwe Sydney Shozi

119.4.13.1. On 10 May 2010, the deceased were found dead at their homestead in their room on their beds with gunshots wounds. Firearms were found next to each body.

119.4.13.2. The police came to the deceased's homestead, looking for suspects likely involved in the killing of Capt Reddy during a hi-jacking incident. On enquiry by the police as to the whereabouts of the deceased, one of the family members pointed out the deceased's room.

GSM

119.4.13.3. According to the witness, Sibongiseni Ngcobo, the police broke down the door of the deceased's room, and immediately started firing on the deceased who were asleep on their beds.

119.4.13.4. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearms were planted.

119.4.13.5. I attach hereto photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM38.1" to "CM38.4".

119.4.13.6. I attach hereto a statement of Sibongiseni, marked as annexure "CM39".

119.4.14.1. On 4 July 2011, the deceased was found with gunshots to the head next to a Golf GTi motor vehicle on the corner of Yspsilantr and AnnArbor Streets.

119.4.14.2. The police were following the deceased's vehicle as they allege that it fitted the description of the get away vehicle involved in a robbery of a doctor in Mount Edgecombe.

119.4.14.3. When the deceased saw the police, he stopped the vehicle and alighted from the vehicle. The police allege that the deceased brandished a firearm, which prompted Mostert (Accused 4) to fire shots at the deceased. After the deceased fell to the ground, Mostert fired further shots at the deceased. Mostert remained on the scene until the paramedics arrived.

119.4.14.4. A firearm was placed on the ground near the body. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.14.5. According to the police, the crime scene in Counts 80, 81 and 82 was one moving crime scene, as they were pursuing the deceased under all three counts for the alleged robbery committed in Mount Edgecombe. The State evidence is that Mbonambi was in his house the whole day with his sons. Therefore, he could not have been on the said crime scene as alleged by the police.

119.4.14.6. Mgobhozi was called to Mbonambi's house where they had a discussion and, on Mgobhozi's departure, the police murdered Mgobhozi.

119.4.14.7. In this regard, Mbonambi, Mgobhozi and the deceased could not have been at the same crime scene at Mount Edgecombe, as alleged by the police.

119.4.14.8. I attach hereto the photos, marked as annexures "CM40.1" to "CM40.2".

119.4.15.1. On 4 July 2011, the deceased was found in the garage of Mbonambi, the deceased in Count 82.

119.4.15.2. The deceased visited Mbonambi and as he exited Mbonambi's house through the garage, the police stormed through the garage door that was opening and shot the deceased.

119.4.15.3. The ballistic reconstruction indicates that the deceased was shot whilst standing and again shot whilst lying on the ground.

119.4.15.4. One of Mbonambi's sons, Tshepiso Mbonambi, witnessed the shooting of the deceased and he alleges that, at the time the deceased was shot, he was speaking on his cell phone and he had no firearm in his possession. Tshepiso was narrowly missed by the gun shots aimed at the deceased.

119.4.15.5. A firearm was placed next to the deceased's body.

119.4.15.6. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearms were planted.

119.4.15.7. I attach hereto the photos, marked as annexures "CM41.1" to "CM41.2".

119.4.15.8. I attach hereto the statement of Tshepiso, marked as annexure "CM42".

119.4.16.1. On 4 July 2011 the deceased was found seated and shot dead in a closed dustbin.

119.4.16.2. Mgobhozi, the deceased in Count 81, visited the deceased. On Mgobhozi's departure, the police stormed into the deceased's garage and shot Mgobhozi. On hearing the gunshots, the deceased ran out of the house away from the police and hid in a dustbin. The deceased opened and closed the dustbin's lid, which was seen by a witness, Goodness Sosibo ("Sosibo"), who drew the attention of the police to the deceased's hiding place.

119.4.16.3. The police shot at the deceased whilst the deceased was hiding in the dustbin. The police alleged that the deceased opened the lid of the dustbin and pointed a firearm at them, at which stage the police spontaneously reacted with an R5 rifle.

119.4.16.4. The photo album shows a firearm under the deceased's body in the dustbin. Having regard to the seated position the deceased was found in the dustbin, compared to the police's version that the deceased pointed the firearm at them, the firearm would not have been under the deceased's body.

119.4.16.5. The photo album indicated that at the time of the shooting, the dustbin lid was closed, demonstrating that the shooting must have occurred through the closed lid of the dustbin.

119.4.16.6. The witness who pointed out the deceased's hiding place, saw the deceased climbing over the wall, dressed in shorts and a t-shirt and he had nothing in his possession.

119.4.16.7. The deceased's sons, Wandile and Tshepiso Mbonambi, aged 12 and 17 respectively, saw the deceased running from the house and he had nothing in his possession.

119.4.16.8. A firearm was placed underneath the deceased in the dustbin.

119.4.16.9. The above evidence of Wandile and Tshepiso dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.16.10. I attach hereto the photos, marked as annexures "CM43.1" to "CM43.2".

119.4.16.11. I attach hereto a statement of Sosibo, marked as annexure "CM44", a statement of Wandile dated 28 October 2011, marked as annexure "CM45.1" and a statement dated 7 January 2012, marked as annexure "CM45.2" and a statement of Tshepiso, marked as annexure "CM42".

119.4.17. Counts 94 to 97: Esikhawini CAS 50/09/2011 Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala

119.4.17.1. On 4 September 2011, the deceased was found in his house with gunshot wounds to his hand and his head.

119.4.17.2. The police went to the Mabuyeni Community Hall at Esikhaweni where they took the deceased away to his home, under the impression that he was Philani Ndlovu (Bha), despite the deceased and members of the community telling the police that the deceased was not Bha. The police refused to accept his identity.

119.4.17.3. The police took the deceased to his homestead and the deceased younger brother, Sandile Qaphalani Gwala ("Sandile"), followed him.

119.4.17.4. According to Sandile, when the deceased and the police arrived at the homestead, the deceased's hands were tied with cable ties. The deceased was taken into his house and Sandile was shoved into another house, where he was forced to lie down and his head was cover with a washing basin. Sandile heard gunshots from the deceased's house.

119.4.17.5. From the photo album no cable ties are seen, and the police allege that the deceased asked to be untied. The police further allege that the deceased reached for a firearm in the cupboard, as they were searching his room.

119.4.17.6. The allegation that the police was under attack from the deceased is improbable. According to the ballistic crime scene reconstruction report, the deceased was most probably in a seated position when these wounds were inflicted. The shooter could have stood in front of the deceased. The deceased, from a seated position, just fell back, as found.

119.4.17.7. The position of the deceased's body and the entry wound on his head indicates that that the deceased was facing the gunman and not facing the cupboard. According to the ballistic expert, the bullet first hit the deceased's palm of his hand and went through his hand into his head.

119.4.17.8. A firearm was placed on the ground next to the cupboard, near the deceased's body.

119.4.17.9. The ballistic crime scene reconstruction report dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

G Sm

119.4.17.10. The police had control over the deceased since they took control of him at the Mabuyeni Community Hall.

119.4.17.11. I attach hereto the ballistic crime scene reconstruction report by Mangena, which includes photos, marked as annexure "CM46".

119.4.17.12. I attach hereto the statement of Sandile, marked as annexure "CM47".

119.4.17.13. It is clear that the deceased was in the custody of the police after being arrested at the Community Hall. There were more than four police officers present who could easily have subdued the deceased, if necessary. In fact, the deceased was already tied up with cable tie restraints when they entered the house.

119.4.17.14. Taking into account the findings of Mangena that, at the time that the deceased was shot, he was seated, facing the shooter, the version put by the police that the deceased was reaching for a firearm and resisting, is improbable.

119.4.17.15. The cable tie restraints were removed before the deceased were shot.

119.4.18.1. On 31 July 2008, the deceased was found inside the yard of his home between his car and the boundary wall of his property, with his head resting against the rear tyre of his car. He was shot in the chest and below the ear.

119.4.18.2. The police found the deceased sitting in his car with his girlfriend, Thandeka Pearl Mazibuko ("Mazibuko"), at his house in the yard and ordered them to get out of the car. The police separated the deceased from Mazibuko and pushed him towards the boundary wall of the property and shot and murdered him.

GSM

119.4.18.3. The deceased was not armed and had his arms raised when the police pushed him towards the wall. At the time that the deceased was shot, he was under the control of the police.

119.4.18.4. A firearm was placed next to the deceased's body.

119.4.18.5. I attach hereto the photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM48.1" to "CM48.18".

119.4.18.6. I attach hereto the statement of Mazibuko, marked as annexure "CM49".

119.4.18.7. Mazibuko's version dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted and that the deceased was posing a danger to the police.

119.4.18.8. The police's version that the deceased was in possession of a firearm is also dispelled by the version of Mazibuko.

119.4.19.1. On 6 August 2008, the deceased was found shot twice in the chest in the public restroom at Midway Caltex Garage in Estcourt.

119.4.19.2. The police were looking for the deceased and Mpendulo Mngomezulu as suspected escapees from Westville Prison.

119.4.19.3. The police arrested the deceased and Mngomezulu at Glencoe and transported them towards Durban. There were two separate cars with two policemen and a suspect in each car travelling in the convoy. They stopped at Midway Caltex Garage in Estcourt for refuelling. The deceased asked to use the toilet and Naidoo (Accused 13) and Nel (Accused 5) took him to the toilet, where Naidoo uncuffed the handcuffs on one hand to enable him to use the facilities. The deceased was shot in the toilet.

119.4.19.4. Naidoo alleges that the deceased tried to grab his gun and he was forced to shoot the deceased.

119.4.19.5. After the deceased was murdered, Mostert (Accused 4) and Panday (Accused 30) brought Mngomezulu into the toilet to show him the deceased's body. After having sight of the body, Mngomezulu made a confession.

119.4.19.6. Naidoo's firearm was placed next to the deceased's body.

119.4.19.7. I attach hereto the statement of Mngomezulu, marked as annexure "CM50".

119.4.19.8. I attach hereto the photos of the scene, marked as annexures "CM51.1" to "CM51.8".

119.4.19.9. There is no independent evidence, such as fingerprints, to corroborate

GSM

Naidoo's version. No reasons were advanced as to why fingerprints were not lifted from the firearm, which would either have supported or disproved the police's version.

119.4.19.10. Magistrate Geldenhuys, who presided in the inquest of Majola, found that Nel (Accused 5) was criminally responsible for the death of the deceased. It is clear that the De Kock panellists did not take into consideration such finding in their recommendation in the De Kock report and neither did the NDPP when the charges were withdrawn. I attach hereto the J56 form, marked as annexure "CM52".

119.4.20.1. On 12 November 2008, the deceased was found shot in the back, lying on his side with his legs off the bed, in his bedroom.

Gsm

119.4.20.2. The police entered the deceased's house, and took control of the deceased. The police took the deceased to his bedroom and closed the bedroom door.

119.4.20.3. The deceased's mother, Jabulisiwe Gladys Masondo, pleaded with the police to enter into the bedroom with her son, but she was refused entry by the police. Jabulisiwe then heard gunshots and the deceased was shot.

119.4.20.4. A firearm was placed next to the deceased's body on the bed. The deceased was shot in the back.

119.4.20.5. Jabulisiwe's version dispels the notion or version that the prosecution team was wrong to conclude that the aforestated firearm was planted.

119.4.21.1. On 6 March 2010, the deceased was found shot at close range, seated in his car on Noordberg Road in Tongaat.

119.4.21.2. The deceased was driving on Noordberg Road in Tongaat on route to buy groceries at his friend's shop. He was accompanied by Skhumbuzo Zakhele and Mandla Mavundla.

119.4.21.3. He was stopped by the police. The deceased and his passengers were ordered to get out of the car and to lie down next to the car. Zakhele and Mavundla immediately got out of the car and laid down next to the car. The deceased was a paraplegic and could not instantly comply with the police's instruction. Accused 5 approached the deceased at the driver's side of the car and shot the deceased, despite the fact that the deceased was crying and begging for his life.

119.4.21.4. The deceased was shot with a contact shot by Accused 5. A firearm was placed in the vehicle. This firearm matched the cartridges that were found at the scene.

119.4.21.5. It is established in the post mortem report that the deceased died as a result of a contact shot to the head whilst seated in the car. The burn marks around the entry wound and bullet shrapnel in the wound is evidence of the close contact. I attach hereto the post mortem report by Dr G Perumal, marked as annexure "CM55".

GSM

120. Our recommendations supporting the issuing of the section 2(4) authorisations, in respect of Booysen and members of the Cato Manor SVC Section, as already demonstrated, were based on sufficient and reasonable evidence, justifying such recommendations.

121. I submit that, if regard is had to all the above, the criticism to the effect that the recommendation for and subsequent issuing of the racketeering certificates against Booysen and others, were not based on objective evidence and/or were politically motivated, is unfounded. Further, prosecution of Booysen and the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section was far from being malicious.

(e) The evidence Before the Prosecution Team

122. In addition to the statements of the eye-witnesses, victims, ballistic crime scene reconstruction evidence, ballistic crime scene evidence, and post-mortem reports, the prosecution team had the following evidence:

122.1. The Provincial structure;

122.2. Statements and information to prove the management of the Cato Manor SVC Section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit;

122.3. The motive which drove the murdering of the members of KTA;

122.4. The similar pattern through which the murders were perpetrated; and

GSM

122.5. The modus operandi;

I. Statements and information to prove the management of the Cato Manor SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit

123. The prosecution team obtained two sets of racketeering authorisations. The first one was issued by Jiba on 17 August 2012 and the second one was issued by Abrahams on 13 February 2016.

124. The authorisations were based on the contents of the docket and the following statements to show that there was a police management structure and under whose command responsibility the murder offences were committed:

124.1. The KZN provincial structure;

124.2. Statements from Durban Organised Crime Unit Commander, Alyer;

124.3. Statements from the KZN Provincial Head of Detectives, Assistant Commissioner Brown ("Brown"); 124.4. The urgent application papers under case number 13759/2008 instituted by Bongani Mkhize ("Mkhize") wherein he successfully interdicted the Cato Manor SVC unit from unlawfully killing him.

G S M

124.5. Draft statements of Danikas, a former police reservist at the Cato Manor SVC;

124.6. Motivation for monetary and non-monetary awards which demonstrate that Booysen and members under his command, excluding Alyer, received monetary and non-monetary awards for the alleged successful arrest of people who were suspected in the killing of Superintendent Choncho;

124.7. Statement of Mathonsi which explains how the plan to eliminate members of the KTA was hatched and orchestrated;

124.8. Statement of Ndlondlo (Mthiyane) which explained the role of STA in the killing of KTA members by the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section; and 124.9. Statement of Mkhize which singles out the incident of the killing of Kopolota Ntuli and Nathi Mthembu who were members of the KTA.

125. The aforesaid is individually discussed below.

ii The KZN provincial structure

126. The provincial structure indicates Booysen as the Provincial Commander of the Organised Crime Unit. The Unit had four (4) branches, namely 1) the Durban Organised Crime Unit; 2) Pietermaritzburg Organised Crime Unit; 3) Port Shepstone Organised Crime Unit; and 4) the Richards Bay Organised Crime Unit.

GSM

127. Each Unit had a Commander with subsections, for example, Serious Violent Crimes; Fraud and Commercial Crimes; Narcotics; Vehicle Theft section, et cetera.

128. The case at hand related Serious and Violent Crimes section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit based at Cato Manor Offices under the command of Aiyer. It was noticeable that Booysen was predominately involved in the operations of the Cato Manor SVC Section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit.

iii. Statements of Aiyer

129. The criminal offences which were investigated by both the IPID and DPCI were committed by the Cato Manor SVC Section, which according to the provincial structure was under the command of Aiyer. The investigation led to Aiyer deposing to three (3) statements, dated the 4th of August 2012 ("CM2"), 31st of August 2012 ("CM3"), and 31st of March 2013. I attach hereto the statement of Aiyer dated 31 March 2013, marked as annexure "CM61".

130. The essence of Aiyer's statements is that he was a token Commander of the Cato Manor SVC Section. Booysen, as the provincial head excluded him in the operations and management of the Cato Manor SVC Section. Booysen was the de facto Commander of the Cato Manor SVC Section.

GSM

131. Aiyer stated that he wanted the Cato Manor SVC Section to relocate from Cato Manor offices to the offices in town where he was based as their commander.

132. The members resisted this command and sourced support from Booysen who supported and thwarted his directives. As a result, the members did not move as directed.

133. The statements of Brown corroborate within reasons that Aiyer was excluded in the management and operations of the Cato Manor SVC Section.

iv Statements from the KZN Provincial Head of Detectives, Assistant Commissioner Brown

134. The prosecution team had a statement from Brown, who was the Head of Detectives in the province and a member of the KZN SAPS Provincial Management. The prosecution team consulted with the witness over and above the statement. During the consultation, Brown confirmed that Booysen was more operationally involved in the activities of the Cato Manor SVC Section.

135. As evident from the statement of Brown, it appeared to the prosecution team that Booysen had to manage and coordinate the operations of the Cato Manor SVC Section because Aiyer and the members therein were not getting along. This was premised on Brown's statement on paragraph 8 which, amongst others, states that:

"...A poor relationship developed between [Aiyer] and members of SVC based on [Aiyer's] management style and perceived lack of knowledge in respect of investigation of violent crimes. This led to strained relationship between [Aiyer] and Major Genl Booysen as the Provincial Commander of Organised Crime...".

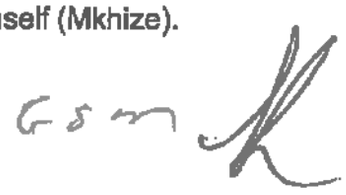
136. Brown also states that the conflict between the Aiyer and the members culminated to a conflict between Aiyer and Booysen. He tried to mediate and the parties would agree to work together, but the conflict would persist. This conflict led to Booysen active involvement in the operations of the Cato Manor SVC Section.

137. It is the prosecution team's view that Booysen was directed to depose to an opposing affidavit in the Mkhize Interdict due to his intimate knowledge of the incident.

138. I attach hereto a statement of Brown dated 8 May 2013, marked as annexure "CM62.1" and a supplementary statement of Brown dated 9 May 2013, marked as annexure "CM62.2".

v. Urgent Application of Case Number 13759/2008

139. Bongani Mkhize ("Mkhize") was the Chairperson of KTA. He had information from Moses Dlamini ("Dlamini"), a member of KTA, that the Cato Manor SVC Section has a list of people who were suspected of murdering Superintendent Choncho. On this list were, amongst others, Mthembu, Kopolota, Magojela, Buthelezi and himself (Mkhize).



140. According to the affidavit of Mkhize, Diamini told Mkhize that the Cato Manor SVC Section members were bragging that they were going to kill Diamini and the people on the list. Subsequently, Mthembu, Kopolota, Magojela and Buthelezi were killed by the members of the SVC Section, and Mkhize feared that he was next to be killed, as those that were on the list with him, were already killed. Hence the application before Court. The contents of the relevant paragraphs are set out below:

"28. THE KILLINGS

MAGOJELA NDIMANDE AND TEMBE

On Friday the 29th August 2008 Magojela Ndimande, who was a member of my Association and whose name appeared on the list mentioned by Moses Diamini, was arrested in Mtunzini area together with his body guard, Tembe, and taken to the Mtunzini police station where they were severely assaulted. They were subsequently released on the same day and Magojela returned to his homestead in or around the KwaMthethwa area in Empangeni. Several days after his release Magojela, who goes by the surname of Ndimande, was waylaid by police in the Merrivale area. He was shot and killed. Tembe, who had also been arrested with him on the 29th August 2008 was also killed. Tembe was a security guard employed by Taxi Violence Protection Unit and was the personal body guard of Magojela. I annex hereto marked "C" a copy of the communique issued by police after the death of Magojela and Tembe.

I also wish to annex hereto marked "M" an article front page of the Daily Sun relating to the death of Magojela Ndimande.

29. It is widely believed that the deaths of Magojela and Tembe had been in keeping with the information I had received about the elimination of prominent members of my Association under the guise of them being sought for the murder of Superintendent Chonco. We have engaged the services of various entities in order to investigate these shootings. It is also questionable to say the least that these two individuals who were sought by the Police (See Annexure "C") had been arrested by them and released shortly thereafter and within a few days of their release they are shot and killed on a quite back-road and allegedly to be "dangerous criminals" in possession of dangerous weapons.

30. LINDELANI BUTHELEZI

I must hasten to add that before the death of Magojela and Tembe, Lindelani Buthelezi whose name had also been on the list in question had already been killed by police under spurious circumstances. Lindelani Buthelezi was known as a prominent member of my Association.

GSM

31, On the 3rd of September 2008 Lindelani Buthelezi was confronted in his rented house at Stanger by a large group of policemen. He was killed by them during such "arrest". I annex hereto marked "D" a copy of an affidavit by Lindelani Buthelezi's common law wife who was present when he was killed in which she relates the disturbing circumstances under which he was killed. It is my belief that his death is consistent with the information I had received about the existence of a list of names and the elimination of the people mentioned herein.

32. KOPOLOTA NTULI AND NKOSINATHI MTHEMBU'S

Kopolota Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu, whose names were also on that list, were killed by members of the SAPS at Mandeni whilst at Kopolota's fiance's homestead, also under questionable circumstances. Prior to the killing of Kopolota and Mthembu, the attorney representing the Association had offered to surrender any member of the Association suspected of the murder of Superintendent Chonco should they be sought. I annex hereto marked "E" a letter dated 5th September 2008 and refer this Honourable Court specifically to paragraphs 18 and 19. Despite this offer, the SAPS proceeded to shoot and kill the two individuals once again in circumstances that lead me to believe the correctness of the information referred to above. Once again the police version is that they acted in self-defence.

33. MDU MKHIZE

On Saturday the 18th October 2008 Mdu Mkhize who was a member of my Association was arrested at a funeral service at KwaMaphumulo by members of the South African Police Services. He was handcuffed and led away and we later heard that he was killed. I annex hereto marked "F" a copy of the Daily Sun newspaper article wherein is death is being mentioned. Whilst Mdu Mkhize's name was not on the list mentioned by Moses Dlamini, I have been privy to information that he was also being sought for elimination by police."

141. In response to what Mkhize alleged about the killing of his members and the threat to his life, Booysen responded as follows:

"31. AD PARAGRAPH 28

NDIMANDE and TEMBE were arrested and questioned. They were released. On 16 September 2008 information was received which necessitated NDIMANDE and TEMBE to be questioned again. Information was also received that the two individuals were in the process of fleeing the Province of KwaZulu-Natal, making their way to the Free State. On the busy N3 freeway between Pietermaritzburg and Merrivale an attempt was made to apprehend them. Police vehicles employing their sirens and appropriate flashing lights attempted to stop them. They resisted and shot at the Police. The Police returned fire and they were killed. Two hand guns, a Lugar assault rifle and an AK47 assault rifle were recovered by the Police. To the extent that the information contained in paragraph 28 is at odds with what I say here, I deny same. I also deny the contents of the press report from the Daily Sun to the extent that it is at odds with what I say. TEMBE was an employee of the security company referred to by the applicant in paragraphs 18 and 19 of the founding affidavit. As a consequence of this incident, and when he was discovered in possession of assault weapons, and because he was involved in an incident where he was party to the Police being fired upon, the forensic investigation into the firearms referred to in paragraph 19 of the founding affidavit was commenced.

32. AD PARAGRAPH 29

There is simply no basis for what the Applicant contends is "widely believed". I have no knowledge of what services the Applicant has engaged and who or what the "various entities" are. I have already explained that NDIMANDE and TEMBE were again sought as a result of new information received. There is nothing untoward about that. In any event, why the Applicant refers to the N3 highway as a "quite (sic) back-road" excapes me unless it is nothing more than a thinly veiled attempt to colour the information (whether true or not) placed before this Court.

33. AD PARAGRAPHS 30 AND 31

I have already said that there was no list in existence. On 3 September 2008 an attempt was made to arrest BUTHELEZI. He resisted arrest and attempted to shoot at the members of the South African Police Services who returned fire in self-defence. BUTHELEZI was killed in that exchange of fire. His firearm, a CZ 7.65 automatic was recovered at the scene. Whether or not BUTHELEZI was a prominent member of the Applicant's association is unknown to me. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 30 and 31 to the extent that theirs are at odds with what I say here. The Affidavit put up from SOKHULU is hearsay and must be struck out. It was not obtained or put up for the purposes of this application and she has not confirmed those facts for the purposes of this application. In any event I deny the allegations contained in that Affidavit to the extent that they are at odds with what I say herein. BUTHELEZI was killed while he resisted arrest and shot at the Police.

34. AD PARAGRAPH 32

Information was received that implicated NTULI and MTHEMBU in taxi violence related incidents. On 18 September 2008, as a result of that information, members of the South African Police Service attempted to arrest NTULI and MTHEMBU. The Police were fired upon and had to return fire. As a result both NTULI and MTEMBU were killed. Their firearms, a Z88 and a CZ75 were recovered from the scene. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 32 to the extent that it differs from what I say herein.

35. AD PARAGRAPH 33

MKHIZE was arrested on 18 October 2008 in Pietermaritzburg. He was attending a funeral at the time. He was transported to Scottburgh for questioning. After questioning, during which he had agreed to effect a pointing-out, he was again transported for that purpose. This was in self-defence. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 33 where they are at odds with what I say herein."

142. The contents of the paragraphs quoted above from Booysen's affidavit, detail the minute details which Booysen was aware of, relating to the activities of the Cato Manor SVC Section.

143. I attach hereto Mkhize's affidavit, marked as annexure "CM63" and Booysen's affidavit, marked as annexure "CM64".

144. The Court granted an Order on 14 November 2008, which reads as follows:

"IT IS ORDERED [BY CONSENT]

GSM

1. That the respondents are interdicted from unlawfully killing, injuring, threatening, harassing or in any way unlawfully intimidating the applicant.

2. That the rule nisi is in all other respects discharged.

3. That each party to pay its costs."

145. I attach hereto the Court Order, marked as annexure "CM65".

146. The Court Order was granted on 14 November 2008 and, despite the Order, Mkhize was killed on 3 February 2009 by the very same Cato Manor SVC Section who had previously killed his colleagues in KTA.

147. In the papers received by the prosecution team, there is nowhere where it is indicated that Booysen made an attempt to restrain the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section against the killing of Mkhize, and if he did, Booysen is invited to produce proof thereof.

148. What the prosecution had, was that there was a plan to kill members of KTA and that plan came to its full realisation by the killing of Mkhize, who was the Chairperson of KTA.

149. It is a reasonable view of the prosecution team that the only reason why Booysen deposed to the opposing affidavit is that he had intimate knowledge of the facts and circumstances that led to launching of the urgent application. Booysen neither annexed a confirmatory affidavit to the opposing affidavit, nor does he allege that other members of the Cato

Manor SVC Section are the source of the information as set out in the opposing affidavit.

vi Draft statements of Danikas

150. The prosecution team had a draft statement of Danikas who was a police reservist. The essence of this draft statement was that Booysen was aware that the members of the SVC Section were, in fact, killing suspects instead of arresting them.

151. This method of operation did not only start in 2008, but it has been a standard operation as far back as in 2001.

152. I attach hereto the draft statement of Danikas, marked as annexure "CM66".

153. The draft statement of Danikas was intended to show similar facts as it is admissible in POCA prosecution in terms of Section 2.2 and, as much as there were no charges preferred on those crimes, but evidence relating to those murders would have become relevant in the main trial to support Danikas' version.

vii Monetary and non-monetary award

154. The awards related to the alleged cracking on the murder of Superintendent Chonco. Chonco was murdered on 27 August 2008.

GSM

From 3 September 2008 to 18 September 2008, the Booysen and the members under his command, were able to trace six suspects, and those suspects were all killed on the crime scenes. None of the suspects was ever arrested and brought to Court. They were all murdered under the pretext of self-defence.

155. The monetary awards must be read together with Mkhize's urgent application where he was fearing for his life that his fellow members of KTA are being killed by members of the Cato Manor SVC Section and he was next in line. Mkhize himself was consequently killed despite a Court Order.

156. In these awards, Booysen was a beneficiary for his own role in the operations that lead to those who were suspected of killing Chonco. I attach hereto a copy of the monetary awards dated 14 October 2014, marked as annexure "CM67".

157. The monetary awards, inter alia, reads as follows:

> *"3. Apprehension of two more suspects
> On Monday 2008/09/15, Dir Booysen, the Provincial Commander, contacted Insp Mostert and informed Insp Mostert that he hade information pertaining to the suspect that had organized the hit on Supt Chonco. He was hiding in Virginia in the Orange Free State and was on route to Pietermaritzburg to collect some cash in Pietermaritzburg. During this time the informer remained in contact with Dir Booysen who continued to relay the information over to the investigation team.

On Tuesday 2008/09/16 at 06H20, Dir Booysen contacted Insp Mostert again re the movement of the suspect who was near the Pietermaritzburg area in a Hyundai Tuscon 4X4 with registration NRB3904 and that he was armed and dangerous. The investigation team consisting of the above members immediately departed to Pietermaritzburg.

The same day at 08H30, the investigation team still consisting the above same members who were in the Pietermaritzburg area, continued to receive further information from Dir Booysen and at 10H10 information was received that the above vehicle was en route by the N3 towards the Orange Free State. The vehicle was spotted near the Cedara turn off by the investigation team, the occupants being two persons, a driver and a passenger seated on the back seat of the vehicle. The investigation team, which at this stage consisted in Insp Mostert, Nel and Makhanya in one vehicle while Capt Van Tonder, Lockem and Eva whom followed in a separate vehicle. Insp Mostert managed to catch up to the vehicle and in an attempt to get the suspects to pull over, the official blue light and siren was used. A shootout then took place between the passenger of the suspects' vehicle and the investigation team resulting in the driver of the vehicle being injured in the process which resulted in the vehicle stopping. The passenger in the suspects' vehicle, during the shootout, made an attempt to flee from the moving vehicle which resulted in him being flung out of the moving vehicle. Both the suspects were fatally injured in the shootout. The driver was positively identified as Timson Magojela Ndimande and was the main brain behind the assassination of Supt Chonco, the other suspect was his body guard. This following firearms found in the vehicle; one AK47 Rifle with loaded magazine, one ruger Mini 14 Automatic Rifle and two magazines as well as two 9m Norinco Pistols, both with loaded magazines."

158. The monetary awards are not the only information which the prosecution team had on this incident. There was also a statement of a pilot crew which confirmed that Booysen procured the services of a helicopter to pursue the deceased, and Booysen was on board of the helicopter. However, the deceased were killed before his arrival. I attach hereto a statement of Andrew Carsen Patrick Cochrane, marked as annexure "CM68". Cochrane is employed as an Airborne Law Enforcement Officer at Flyme Hanger No 8, Virginia Airport, Durban.

viii Statement of Mothonsi

GSM

159. The prosecution team also had the statement of Mathonsi, dated 9 May 2013, wherein Mathonsi, as the then body guard in STA, stated under oath.

160. I attach hereto a copy of a manuscript signed statement under oath of Mathonsi, marked as annexure "CM69.1" and a copy of the typed version of the statement, marked as annexure "CM69.2".

161. The essence of Mathonsi's statement is that the murdering of the members of KTA as detailed by Mkhize and Mkhize himself, was planned between STA, Booysen and Mostert, as members of the Cato Manor SVC Section.

162. According to Mathonsi, Mkhize was the last to be killed and there were payments made to the Cato Manor SVC Section for the killing of Mkhize. This allegation, under oath by Mkhize, is also corroborated by the statement of Bhekhinkosi Mthiyani Dlondlo (Dlondlo).

ix Statement of Dlondlo

163. Dlondlo stated under oath that he was a chairperson of the disciplinary department within the STA and he had close working relations with Exco Members of STA. According to Dlondlo, the STA paid members of the Cato Manor SVC Section for the killing of members of the KTA and mentions those who were killed as Lindelani Buthelezi, Kopolota Ntuli, Nathi Mthembu, Mdu Mkhize, Ndimande and Bongani Mkhize.

164. The most expensive hits were for Ndimande, valued at R750 000.00 and Mkhize, valued at R1 000 000.00. According to Diondlo, Mostert and Booysen, as members of the Organised Crime Unit, were involved in the money exchange through Bongiswe Mhlongo and Sanele Zondi. I attach hereto a statement of Diondlo, marked as annexure "CM70".

165. Mathonsi, and Diondlo's allegations, about the exchange of money and the planning to kill members of the STA, were further corroborated by Bongani Mandla Mkhize. It must be noted that Diondlo alleges that he was an informer of Mostert and Sanele Zondi was an informer of Booysen.

x Statement by Bongani Mandla Mkhize

166. Bongani Mkhize, the body guard of STA Executive, stated under oath that when Kopolota, Ntuli and Bongani Mthembu were killed, Bongiswe Mhlongo was sent pictures, allegedly by Mostert, of the deceased. As the body guard, he accompanied Mhlongo to meet with Mostert and another white man at Tongaat Toll Plaza, where Mhlongo handed plastic with money to Mostert and the other white man in the car.

167. I attach hereto a statement of Bongani Mandla Mkhize, marked as annexure "CM71".

xi Evidential analysis

GSM

168. The prosecution team took cognisance that Chonco was killed in the line of duty. However, those who were alleged to be involved in his murder, were killed instead of being arrested and brought to Court. The prosecution team had evidence that Buthelezi was arrested by the police. At the time of his arrest, he was unarmed.

169. The arrest took place in the presence of his girlfriend who survived him and who gave a statement on what transpired at the time of Buthelezi's murder by members of the Cato Manor SVC Section. She also stated that he was unarmed.

170. Mostert was present at this crime scene and the evidence was that the deceased was unarmed and not a threat to the police. When he was shot, the police had already secured him.

171. The prosecution team had a photo album which indicated Mdu Mkhize having been shot and killed while in handcuffs and in custody of the police in their vehicle.

172. The prosecution team had evidence that Ndimande and Tembe were arrested on 29 August 2008 by the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section for the questioning of the alleged murder of Chonco but they were released on the same day. On 16 September 2008, a hot pursuit by the very same members of the Cato Manor SVC Section of Ndimande and Tembe ensued and they were murdered.

GSM

173. On 18 September 2008, the Cato Manor SVC Section also murdered Ntuli and Mthembu.

174. On 3 February 2009, the Cato Manor SVC Section murdered Mkhize.

175. It is noticeable on the photo albums and the post mortem reports that the police aimed at the upper body of each victim, whereas if the intention was to incapacitate the suspect with a view of arresting them, it is expected of them to aim at the lower part of the body.

176. Bongani Mkhize, the Chairperson of the KTA, was shot whilst inside his vehicle and being chased by members of the Cato Manor SVC Section. The photo albums indicate that the bullets were all from outside of the vehicle and he was shot whilst the windows of the vehicle were closed.

177. Taking into account:

177.1. the objective evidence in the dockets which comprised, amongst others, the ballistic crime scene reconstruction reports and eyewitness statement:

177.2. the statements of persons linked to the STA who stated that there was a plan to murder members of the KTA and that rewards were paid after each murder,

177.3. the prosecution team considered the totality of the aforementioned evidence, as an indication that the killings were deliberate which occurred under the control and management of Booysen.

178. The prosecution team elected not to charge Alyer as a manager of the Cato Manor SVC Section because he features nowhere in any of the evidence, being the monetary awards, statements from the STA linked persons and crime scenes, which corroborated his version that he was excluded in the operations of the Cato Manor SVC Section. There was no evidence to suggest that Alyer knew or that he ought to have known how the criminal activities of Cato Manor SVC Section were committed. Booysen was directly involved in the operations of the Cato Manor SVC Section. Therefore he knew, or ought to have known that the members were killing people/persons other than arresting them.

179. It was noted that Cato Manor SVC Section acted in cahoots with the STA. However, it was the prosecution team's long term strategy to secure more members of the STA to become witnesses, more so because the funds to pay for the killings was from the STA.

180. The prosecution team had identified further persons within the STA which the investigation team was to approach with the view of calling them as State witnesses. At this juncture it is not in the interest of justice to divulge the whole plan and the names of the identified persons.

181. The modus operandi that was adopted by the Cato Manor SVC Section in the taxi violence incidents was carried over to the ATM bombings were the suspects were also killed instead of being arrested and brought before Court.

182. It is critical to bring it to the attention of the Commission that, to the best of my knowledge, since the arrest and prosecution of the members of the Cato Manor SVC Section, the trend of murdering suspects instead of arresting them, has subsided considerably.

183. The trend of component driven and centralised killing of suspects has subsided. To the extent that extracts from the dockets have been attached to my affidavit to support my averments, electronic copies of the dockets are made available for the Commission's benefit on the ScanDisk Cruzer Blade 16GB memory stick affixed to the front page of this affidavit.

(f) Discussion of the Racketeering Principles

i The enterprise

184. Cato Manor SVC Section is the enterprise as defined in the Act. The Organised Crime structures became part of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which was under the commandership of General Booysen as the Provincial Head: DPCI since 2010. Accused 9 was the section commander of the Cato Manor SVC Section and was at all times in charge of all the activities of the Cato Manor SVC Section. The South SAPS is a legal entity established by legislation in terms of the South African Police Act 68 of 1995. It is comprised of a national office and provincial structures for each province. The Cato Manor SVC Section as part of the Durban Organised Crime was supposed to report to Colonel Aiyer as the Commander of Durban Organised Crime Unit but did not do so as a result of differences they had with Colonel Aiyer, they instead bypassed him and worked under the direct control and direction of General Booysen.

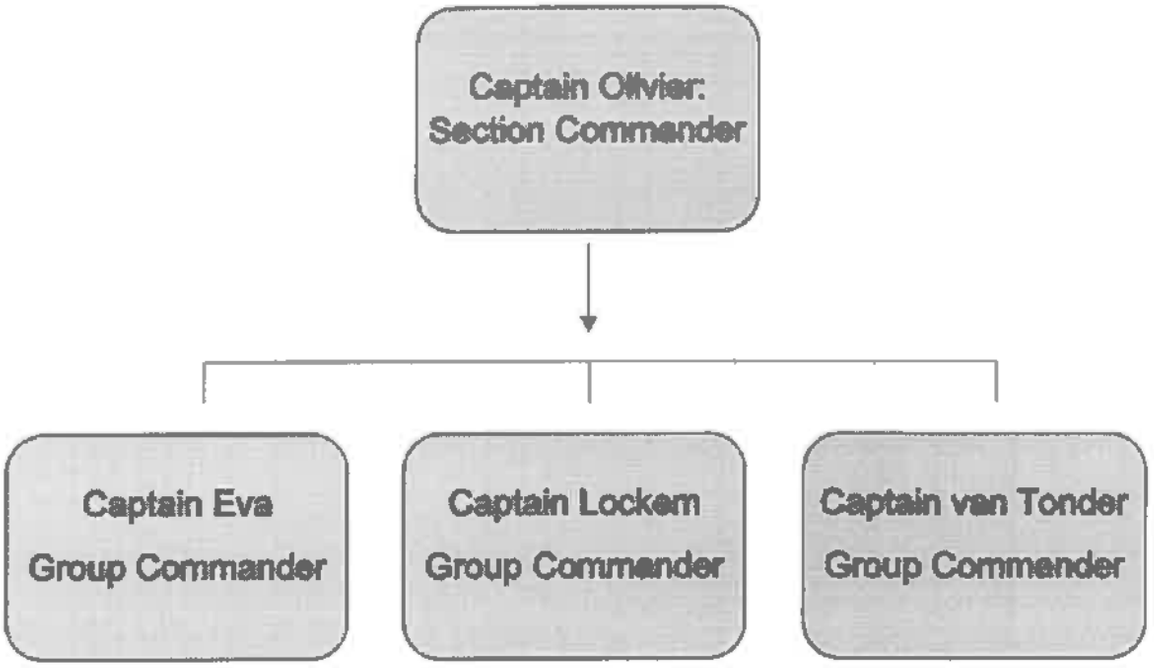
185. In Jwara and Others v the State 2015 (2) SACR 525 (SCA), the full bench in the SCA upheld the principle of having a section of the SAPS regarded as an enterprise in terms of POCA. In this matter, members of the Organised Crime Unit in the West Rand participated in a number of offences relating to drugs that were confiscated as exhibits at the OR Tambo Airport, Johannesburg.

186. Below, we set out a table that demonstrates the hierarchy in the Cato Manor SVC Section in terms of which Booysen was depicted as the de facto commander.

GSm



187. Mathenjwa and I compiled the reply to the request for further particulars and duly filed same. I attended to the answers relating to the racketeering charges. I attach hereto a copy of the relevant part of the reply to the request for further particulars marked as annexure "CM75". Mathenjwa attended to the larger part of the response on the predicated offences. However, since he did not type the response to the further particulars, he is unable to obtain same in order to attach it to his affidavit. I refer to Mathenjwa's affidavit with regard hereto.

188. The response to the request for further particulars, demonstrates:

188.1. The role of each member in the enterprise on more than one occasion;

188.2. The modus operandi;

GSM

188.3. The association of each member in a pattern of racketeering activities; and 188.4. How the conduct of each member accelerated or advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

189. It is not necessary for the manager of the enterprise to be present and participate in the commission of the crime. The preamble of POCA states as follows:

> "...It is usually very difficult to prove the direct involvement of organised crime leaders in particular cases, because they do not perform the actual criminal activities themselves, it is necessary to criminalise the management of, and related conduct in connect with the enterprises which are involved in a pattern of racketeering activities".

190. The fact that the objective facts demonstrate that Booysen participated in commission of the crime by giving members information on the whereabouts of Magojela and Tembe, counts 8 to 12 in the indictment and attended to the scene immediately after the murder of Magojela and Tembe, is an added factor to prove the requirements as set out in section 2(1)(e) of POCA.

(g) Pattern of Racketeering Activities

GSM

191. The objective evidence, as set out above in the portion dealing with the counts constitutes the pattern of racketeering that took place from 03 September 2008 to 04 September 2011.

192. In order not to burden this lengthy affidavit, I refer the Chairperson to the relevant paragraphs as set out in my response to the request for further particulars in the criminal matter CCD11/2013D in the KwaZulu-Natal High Court, Durban which demonstrates the following:

192.1. The pattern is set out from paragraph 3.2 to 3.4 at pages 6 to 24;

192.2. The participation of each Manager in the activities of the enterprise is illustrated in paragraph 4 to 5 at page 24 to 33;

192.3. The knowledge and/or presumed knowledge of each Manager of the activities of the enterprise is illustrated in paragraph 7 to 8 at page 34 to 35;

192.4. Pertaining to the offence set out in section 2(1)(f) of POCA:

192.5. Paragraph 1 on page 36 sets out the management of the operations or activities of the enterprise by each manager;

192.6. Paragraph 6 sets out how each manager is associated with the activities of the enterprise;

GSM

192.7. Paragraph 8 sets out how each manager knew or ought to have known of the activities of the enterprise.

192.8. Pertaining to the offence set out in section 2(1)(a) of POCA:

192.8.1. Paragraph 1 outlines the enterprise.

192.8.2. The organisational structure or hierarchal structure detailing all persons in actual positions of management and authority which has been outlined on pages 3 to 5 of this submission and continues to be the same in both Count 1 and Count 2. The activities of the managers, the various incidents in which the members of the enterprise took part, the various dates and places of the activities and the specific members who took part in various activities, have been outlined in detail in the various incidents above.

(h) The judgment of General Council of the Bar of South Africa vs Jiba and Others 2017 (2) SA 122 (GP) as well as the judgment of Jiba and Another vs GCB and Another 2019 (1) SA 130 (SCA) and the findings thereto pertaining to the issuing of POCA authorisations on against Booysen on 17 August 2012

193. I am advised that the Chairperson has repeatedly stated that where the issues canvassed at the Commission have been previously ventilated before a court of law, such judgments should be brought to his attention by the evidence leaders. I am advised that the chairperson specifically expressed this sentiment in the evidence of Booysen. The Chairperson's remarks are as follows:

> "The second thing I want to say is this. Major General Booysen from the evidence that he has given has indicated that there are a number of court applications that he had to do. He had to bring to court to deal with various matters. In some of them there are judgments. I would like the legal team to secure not only the judgments in regard to those matters but I would like the full set of papers in each application so that we can have a full picture of exactly what happened in regard to each matter and how people against whom certain allegations were made how they responded in affidavits that were placed before the courts. I would also like to see the findings that were made by those courts in regard to each matter and in this regard I would like the legal team to prepare for me for later use a list of all findings that have been made by the courts in the various applications where there is no appeal pending. Maybe they can make them even if there is an appeal pending but a note can be made that in regard to that one specific ones there is an appeal pending."[2]

194. Before this Commission, Booysen is complaining about me as a prosecutor who was part of the prosecution team that made recommendations, and he stated that we acted corruptly and the recommendations we made were unjustified. I wish to bring to attention of Commission that the complaint pertaining to the prosecutors acting mala fide and/or with ulterior motive was a subject of complaint against Jiba in the judgment of the General Council of the Bar of South Africa vs Jiba and Others 2017 (2) SA 122 (GP) ("the Legodi J judgment"). I attach hereto a copy of the Legodi J judgment marked as "CM72". In this matter, the GCB sought to rely on the findings of Gorven J that Jiba was mendacious and could not have considered the statements referred to in her affidavit and sought to rely on those findings in order to justify a case that she was not a fit and proper person to serve as an Advocate of the High Court of South Africa, and thus ought to be struck off the roll of Advocates. The court a quo dismissed the GCB's reliance on the adverse findings of Gorven J against Jiba as the basis upon which she should be struck off the roll of Advocates.

195. When Jiba appealed the finding of the court a quo to strike her off the roll on another basis other than the Booysen matter, the SCA, in its judgment of Jiba and Another vs GCB and Another 2019 (1) SA 130 (SCA) ("the Jiba SCA judgment") also considered the finding of her having acted with ulterior motive and/or mala fide in the Booysen matter and shared the sentiments expressed by the court a quo. I attach hereto a copy of Jiba SCA judgement which is marked as "CM73".

196. I can do no better than quote the pertinent paragraphs where the court a quo extensively considered the Gorven J judgment, the explanation of Jiba pertaining to the findings of Gorven J and its analysis thereof, as well as its finding in respect of same.

197. Legodi J considered the findings by Gorven J that Jiba was, "mendacious when she asserts in paragraph 21 of the answering affidavit that she considered the statements together with the other information in the docket before making the impugned decisions. She could not have considered the statements referred to in her answering affidavit. She is invited to explain how she could have taken into account information on oath that objectively did not exist at the time of taking the decision".

198. In paragraph [49] of Legodi J's judgment, he states that:

> "Before dealing with information placed before Jiba for written authorisation in terms of s 2(1) of POCA, it is important to reflect whether the invitation by Booysen and the adverse remarks by Gorven J were based on a correct evaluation and understanding of Jiba's answering affidavit".

199. After reflecting as aforesaid, Legodi J states that:

> "[51] Having regard to what is quoted above, it does not seem the statement: 'Jiba says that they are all statements made under oath', is correct. Nowhere in Jiba's answering affidavit did she make such a statement, neither did she say any of annexures NJ2, NJ3, NJ4, and NJ5 were under oath. 'Under oath' statements or information was made only in paras 16 and 16.6

G Sm

of the answering affidavit, without suggesting that all of the annexures referred to in para 17 of the answering affidavit in the Booysen matter were made under oath. Therefore the statement —

'(t)he document referred to as a statement by Mr Danikas, annexure NJ3, is not a sworn statement' — as stated in para 31 of Gorven J's judgment, has to be seen in context insofar as it was understood that Jiba averred that NJ3 was a sworn statement. The truth is, she never said NJ3 was a sworn statement and it could not reasonably have been so inferred, particularly reading in the context of para 16.7 of her answering affidavit in the Booysen case quoted in [50] above".

200. In considering the fact that Jiba did not file a supplementary affidavit responding to the allegations of mendacity, Legodi J states as follows:

"[52] The fact that Jiba did not avail herself of the invitation to deal with the allegation of being 'mendacious', meaning 'not telling the truth', should also be seen in context. The allegation was made in the replying affidavit. This, too, Gorven J was mindful of. For the purpose of these proceedings, the criticism by Gorven J should be seen in the context of what Jiba now has to say in these proceedings.

GSM

[53] When it was discovered that Booysen had raised certain issues in his replying affidavit, the prosecution team felt that it needed to respond thereto. On 14 August 2013 a meeting of the prosecution team was held. Subsequent to the meeting, a memorandum was prepared and forwarded to the defence team led by Hodes SC, in terms of which it was expected that a supplementary affidavit would be filed to explain the criticism against Jiba with regard to the annexures. On 19 August 2013 an email by Adv Mosing of the NPA was sent to Adv Chauke, Director of Public Prosecutions, Johannesburg, enquiring what progress had been made with regard to the filing of a further affidavit to deal with Booysen's allegations. Subsequently, Jiba was advised by Adv Mosing that counsel had indicated that no further actions were necessary.

[54] Based on the explanation above, it is clear that Jiba did not ignore the serious allegations of 'mendacious' made by Booysen. By seeking to file a further affidavit to explain the annexures after the replying affidavit was filed is a clear indication that she was mindful of the need 'to explain and correct any inaccuracies' created by Booysen in his replying affidavit. Therefore the statement —

> '(d)espite this, the invitation by Mr Booysen was not taken up by the NDPP by way of a request, or application, to deliver a further affidavit. In response to Mr Booysen's assertion of mendacity on her part, there is a deafening silence' — made by Gorven J in para 34 of his judgment, ought to be seen in the context of what is explained in [53] above.

201. Having considered Jiba's attempts to place her version before the court in the review application that served before Gorven J, Legodi J goes on to consider the information that was before Jiba when she took the decision to issue the POCA authorisation on 17 August 2012, and states, amongst others, that:

> "[56] On 17 August 2012 Jiba approved the application for authorisation in terms of s 2(4) of POCA for contraventions by Booysen of s 2(1)(e) and (f) of POCA... The information and advice that were placed before Jiba for the purpose of granting or refusing authorisation were prepared and compiled by Adv Raymond K Mathenjwa and Adv Gladstone Sello Maema, both Deputy Directors of Public Prosecutions, and Adv Anthony Mosing, a Senior Deputy Director of Public Prosecutions and the head of the Special Projects Division, who acted as the liaison between Jiba and the prosecuting team.
> [57] At the time Jiba deposed to the answering affidavit in Booysen's matter, the facts and the evidence against Booysen had been presented to her on many occasions and she was acquainted with the case against Booysen. In her affidavit during proceedings before Govern J she referred to annexure NJ5, being the statement of Mr Ndlodlo, and annexure NJ6, being the statement of Booysen. These annexures apparently did not form part of the papers before Govern J

and Jiba was not aware why that was not done. I revert to the essence of annexures NJ5 and NJ6 later when dealing with whether Jiba had information implicating Booysen when she issued the authorisation on 17 August 2012. NJ3 was the statement of Ari Danikas, which was obtained round about 18 April 2012 by General Mabula who led the Hawks investigation team against Booysen. The drafted statement of Danikas was handed over to the prosecution team during June 2012 and formed part of the information she considered in authorising the prosecution of Booysen. Danikas was a police reservist in the Durban Organised Crime Unit based in Cato Manor, and was at that time in Greece. He had security concerns and was unwilling to come on his own to South Africa. On or before 11 July 2012 Adv Maema asked General Mabula to leave the statement unsigned so that the information process outlined in the mutual-legal-assistance legislation, that is, s 2 and 3 of the International Co-operation in Criminal Matters Act 75 of 1996, be followed to formalise the statement, although the witness was willing to have it signed at the South African embassy. The prosecution was confident that the statement would ultimately be signed through the process outlined as contemplated in Act 75 of 1996, but it formed the basis of the briefings to be considered by her in issuing the authorisation. However, the process of signing the statement could not be finalised since the incumbent (Mr Mxolise Ntasana(sic)), at the time of deposing to the answering affidavit in the present proceedings, had instructed to halt the process.

[58] Whilst the statement in question did not relate to the specific incident covered in the indictment, it was, however, intended to corroborate the evidence in possession of the prosecution team, that Booysen was involved in the various activities giving rise to the charges against him, of similar-fact evidence which is admissible in racketeering prosecutions.

[59] An explanation stated above is offered in these proceedings to set the record straight. Therefore the statement that —

> '(t)he document referred to as a statement by Mr Danikas, annexure NJ3 . . . is not a sworn statement. It is not dated. Even if it could be attributed to the named person and even if it were a sworn statement as claimed by the NDPP, the contents do not cover the period clearly [within] the indictment, except for one event which does not relate to Mr Booysen' — by Gorven J, ought to be seen in the context of the explanation given by Jiba in these proceedings, and the fact that Jiba never said annexure NJ3 was a sworn statement, as stated earlier in this judgment. I need to caution. I should not be understood as seeking to review or upset Gorven J's judgment. At the time, he did not have Jiba's responses, as this court now has.

[60] Regarding the question how Jiba could have taken into account information on oath that objectively did not exist at the time the authorisation was made, the explanation by Jiba in these proceedings is as follows:

"217. There were also two statements by Colonel Aiger (reference to as annexure NJ2 and NJ4). One was taken on 3 August 2012 setting out Booysen's managerial responsibilities, participation and interferences in the activities of a section of Durban & Organised Crime Unit. The statement was obtained before 17 August 2012, being the date on which the authorities were granted by me. A second statement of Colonel Aiger was taken on 31 August 2012 following a consultation with the prosecution team during early July 2012. However the content of the statement was information already relayed to the prosecution team by Colonel Aiger at the consultation.'

(t)he second of these in addition to not implicating him in any of the offences in question, was deposed to on 31 April (August) 2012, some two weeks after the first impugned decision was taken' — in para 31 of Govern J's judgment, inasmuch as the GCB seeks to rely on it for the complaint levelled against Jiba, should be considered in the light of the explanation quoted in [60] above. I am unable to find any conduct on the part of Jiba that justifies an application contemplated in s 7 of the Admission of Advocates Act.

GSM

202. Based on the aforementioned analysis of the information that served before Jiba when she issued the POCA authorisations together with the explanation that was not placed before Gorven J, as the NPA's counsel had decided not to file a supplementary affidavit despite the prosecution team's request to do so after considering the issues raised in Booysen's replying affidavit in the review application, Legodi J goes on to find that:

> "[62] As far as the allegation of lack of information implicating Booysen is concerned, an understanding of the applicable legislative framework, what was placed before Jiba and the core function of the prosecuting authority, is necessary. The court may hear evidence, including evidence with regard to hearsay, similar facts or previous convictions relating to offences contemplated in ss (2) of s 2 of the NPA Act, notwithstanding that such evidence might otherwise be inadmissible, provided that such evidence would not render a trial unfair. This should be seen in the context of the preamble under POCA which inter alia reads:
> > 'AND WHEREAS the South African common law and statutory law fail to deal effectively with organised crime . . . criminal gang activities, and also fail to keep pace with international measures aimed at dealing effectively with organised crime . . . and criminal gang activities.

'AND BEARING IN MIND that it is usually very difficult to prove the direct involvement of organised crime leaders in particular cases, because they do not perform the actual criminal activities themselves, it is necessary to criminalise the management of, and related conduct in connection with enterprises which are involved in the pattern of racketeering activity;

'AND WHEREAS the pervasive presence of criminal gangs in many communities is harmful to the well-being of those communities, it is necessary to criminalise participation in or promotion of criminal gang activities; . . . .' [Emphasis added.]

[63] In my view the provisions of s 2(1)(e) and (f) referred to in [44] of this judgment are meant for the criminalisation of such activities. The point I am making is this: courts, for the purpose of an exercise of its discretion in terms of s 2(2) referred to in [62] of this judgment, may rely on hearsay evidence, and information and/or documentation collected by the police and presented to it by the prosecution. If that is so, and courts are entitled to have regard to hearsay evidence during trial, so too should the National Director of Public Prosecutions (Jiba in Booysen's case) be entitled to rely on hearsay and similar-fact evidence for the purpose of authorisation as contemplated in ss (4) of s 2 of POCA. Otherwise, pervasive presence of criminal gangs will continue to rule with impunity and fear in many of our communities, and resultantly pose harm to the wellbeing of many communities.*

[64] As I said, one needs to be careful not to be understood as upsetting Govern J's judgment for having reviewed Jiba's decision to prosecute Booysen. That is not an issue before this court. The issue, however, is whether in granting authorisation in terms of s 2(4), Jiba was mala fide or had ulterior motive, in which event the requirement of 'fit and proper person' to remain on the roll of advocates becomes relevent. For this purpose, further provisions of POCA are necessary to be considered, also taking into account offences under s 2(1)(e) and (f).

> 'the planned, ongoing, continuous or repeated participation or involvement in any offence referred to in Schedule 1 and includes at least two offences referred to in Schedule 1 . . .'

On the other hand, 'enterprise' —

> 'includes any individual partnership, corporation, association or other juristic person or legal entity, and any union or group of individuals associated in fact'.

GSM

[66] The essence of the information before Jiba can be summed up as follows: in addition to what is stated in [56] – [57] and [60] of this judgment, Booysen was the head of the Cato Manor Organised Crime Unit in the South African Police Services. Members of the police in his unit and under his command had allegedly committed crimes of a serious nature, including murders against suspects who were sometimes framed in the commission of offences. Booysen knew, approved and/or ought to have known of the commission of these offences. As reward for the members' unlawful activities, Booysen motivated for an incentive of R10 000 for each of the 26 members of the Cato Manor Crime Unit, including Booysen himself. Booysen was also commended for outstanding services rendered, in that he —

> 'was part of a team, who through their commitment and dedication, arrested several crime and dangerous suspects for the murder of a police officer'.

[67] I cannot find any mala fides and/or ulterior motive in the authorisation by Jiba as contemplated in POCA. POCA is like a cry out loud for a declaration of war against serious, continuous and organised crimes. That needs specialised investigation and prosecution. Most importantly, POCA requires the freedom and space to be given to the members of the prosecuting authority, in the exercise of their legislative power, to investigate, through members of their investigating directorate and under the watchful eye of a Special Director so appointed, and to prosecute without fear, favour and prejudice those implicated in the commission of serious crimes. Anything short of this, or anything which tends to impede this constitutional and legislative imperative, for example, hauling Jiba to the proceedings in terms of s 7 of the Admission of Advocates Act, ought to be based on very cogent, serious and exceptional circumstances.

[68] One does not want members of the prosecution authority to unduly watch their backs for fear of being dismissed or removed from the roll of advocates every time when they make mistakes in prosecuting and presenting cases in court, or every time when an application for authorisation is made in terms of s 2(4) of POCA. An overriding factor for them to consider should be adherence to the rule of law and the Constitution. It suffices for now to conclude on the Booysen matter by stating that no case has been made for removal or suspension from the roll of advocates. I now turn to deal with the other matter and basis of complaints thereto against Jiba."

203. The finding made by Legodi J, with Hughes J concurring, to the effect that he cannot find "any mala fides and/or ulterior motive in the authorisation by Jiba as contemplated in POCA" was supported by the majority of the court when the matter was taken on appeal to the Supreme Court of Appeal, where the court states as follows:

"[10] The first complaint dealt with by the court a quo was in connection with Booysen's case. In that case Jiba, in her capacity as Acting NDPP, issued two authorisation letters charging Major-General Johan

GSM

Wessel Booysen with the contravention of s 2(1)(e) and (f) of the Prevention of Organised Crime Act 121 of 1998 (POCA). In a nutshell Booysen alleged that Jiba was 'mendacious' when she asserted that she considered statements together with other information in the docket before she took the decision to charge him. This allegation was further exacerbated by the negative remarks of Gorven J who presided in the Booysen matter when he drew an inference that none of the information upon which Jiba relied linked Booysen to the offence in question. The court a quo found that '(i)t suffices for now to conclude on [the] Booysen matter by stating that no case has been made for removal or suspension from the roll of advocates'. I do not find it necessary to deal with the detail of the complaint in view of the finding of the court a quo. I share the sentiment expressed. Before us counsel for the GCB dealt with some of the complaints but, in my considered view did not take the matter any further. The court a quo could not find 'any mala fides and/or ulterior motive in the authorisation by Jiba as contemplated in POCA'.

204. As a prosecutor who was part of the team that made recommendations to Jiba, who has been found by courts of law not to have acted with mala fide and/or ulterior motive in issuing the POCA authorisations against Booysen, I am also of the respectful view that this Commission should disregard Booysen's contention that in making the recommendation for the issuing of the racketeering authorisations to Jiba, I acted with mala fide and/or ulterior motive.

GSM

205. The Legodi judgment was delivered on the 15th of September 2016 and the SCA judgment on this matter was delivered on the 10th of July 2018. Booysen's affidavit to the Commission is dated 2nd of April 2019. In this regard, Booysen, McBride and Sesoko ought to have known that the court found that there was no mala fides and/or ulterior motive in issuing the POCA authorisation and consequently the prosecution against Booysen.

(I) Closing remarks

206. The Supreme Court of Appeal, in its judgment of Zuma v DA (836/2013) [2014] ZASCA 101 (28 August 2014), endorsed the finding of the High Court, Gauteng Division which held that:

> "The first respondent (the NPA), as an organ of state, has a duty to prosecute without fear, favour or prejudice by upholding the rule of law and the principle of legality. It is also a constitutional body with a public interest duty. It behoves its officials to operate with transparency and accountability. It has a duty to explain to the citizenry why and how it arrives at the decision to quash the criminal charges against the accused persons, particularly where the matter involves very senior state officials. In pursuance of its constitutional obligations it is incumbent upon the NPA to pass the rationality test and inform the public why it quashed the charges. In my view, the converse would make the public lose confidence in the office of the NDPP."

207. I request the Commission to keep in mind this sound warning when it considers my submission pertaining to my role as part of the prosecution team in the Cato Manor case. I categorically state that our guidance of the investigation and the decision to draw the indictment and therefore charge, the accused therein, as well as the respective applications to the ANDPP and NDPP to request the issuing of a POCA authorisations were driven by our duty to prosecute without fear, favour or prejudice taking into account only the Constitution, the NPA Act and policies as well as the relevant criminal law.

(j) Booysen's stratagem

208. The charges against Booysen have been withdrawn, which the prosecution team view as irrational. Withdrawn charges has the potential of being reinstated, more particularly since murder charges do not prescribe. Booysen has adopted the strategy of attacking the prosecution before the Commission instead of clearing his name before a criminal court, a process which he has resisted through applications.

209. The charges were withdrawn after the accused were served with the indictment, the content of the docket disclosed, further particulars furnished and application to have the criminal case struck of the roll refused by the criminal court and the prosecution was ready to put the charges and lead evidence to prove the criminal case against Booysen. The accused were saved by the withdrawal of the charges by the current NDPP without the NDPP consulting the prosecution team, who was seized with the matter for years.

GSM

210. I want to bring to the attention of the Commission that it is not uncommon for those who are facing serious criminal charges to attack the prosecution instead of confronting the charges as set out in the indictment.

211. In the matter of National Director of Public Prosecutions v King[3] Harms DP held as follows:

> "[5] ... Courts should further be aware that persons facing serious charges – and especially minimum sentences – have little inclination to co-operate in a process that may lead to their conviction and 'any new procedure can offer opportunities capable of exploitation to obstruct and delay.'[4] One can add the tendency of such accused, instead of confronting the charge, of attacking the prosecution."

212. I was not briefed on any case which Booysen was investigating and which could be disturbed by his prosecution. In any event, provincial commanders by practice do not carry dockets but their subordinates within respective ranks and units carry dockets and conduct investigations. To the extent that Booysen says that there was an ulterior motive for his prosecution, I, as a prosecutor, acting in good faith, decided on the dockets that were placed before me together with the other members of the prosecution team and came to the conclusion that

Booysen has a criminal case to answer. Motive, if it at all existed, is irrelevant in criminal prosecutions and only a judicial officer can pronounce on whether or not an improper motive existed after having heard evidence and accumulatively assessing same.

213. In the matter of National Director of Public Prosecutions v Zuma[5] Harms DP held:

> "[37] ... A prosecution is not wrongful merely because it is brought for an improper purpose. It will only be wrongful if, in addition, reasonable and probable grounds for prosecuting are absent ...[6]

214. It is very concerning that only Mathenjwa and myself are being crucified in the Cato Manor SVC Section matter by Booysen, McBride and Sesoko, for the recommendation and subsequent prosecution of Booysen, when the decision was a collective team effort in the execution of our constitutional and statutory mandate.

215. To the best of my knowledge, Mlotshwa, Futshane, Ntlakaza and Moleko have not been served with Notices indicating that they will be implicated by Booysen, McBride and Sesoko, and were requested to file their affidavits.

H DE KOCK REPORT

Overview

216. The De Kock report dated the 27th of June 2019, has, as subject heading "RECONSIDERATION OF AUTHORISATIONS IN TERMS OF SECTION 2(1)(e) and (f) OF THE PREVENTION OF ORGANISED ACT, 121 OF 1998". This report does not state what prompted the constitution of the panel. However, ordinarily there will be representations made by the Accused or Complainant or any other person or party whom the National Director considers to be relevant, in terms of Section 179(5)(d) of the Constitution. In this report there is no reference to any representations which were made nor is there any reference to a consultation between the National Director and the Director of Public Prosecutions, as required by the said section of the Constitution.

217. The reconsideration will most probably be based on Section 179(2) of the Constitution where the NPA has the power to institute criminal proceedings on behalf of the State and to carry out necessary functions incidental to instituting criminal proceedings. If the reconsideration is based on this subsection of the Constitution, the panel should have:

217.1. invited the prosecution team to make presentations and clarify the processes which were followed leading to the issuing of the racketeering certificate;

217.2. invited further input from the prosecution team;

G.S.M

217.3. canvassed any identified shortcomings in the prosecution memo, the indictment and the docket, if any;

217.4. familiarise themselves with the stratagem of the prosecution team;

217.5. appraised themselves with all the processes that have thus far unfolded before the criminal court, including:

217.5.1. disclosure of the content of the docket;

217.5.2. request for further particulars;

217.5.3. State's response to the request for further particulars;

217.5.4. The unsuccessful application by the Accused to have the matter struck off the roll in terms of section 342A of the Criminal Procedure Act, Act 51 of 1977 ("CPA");

217.5.5. The stages at which the motion applications instituted by the Accused were at.

218. The De Kock report was compiled without the panel appraising itself with any of the issues as raised directly above and consequently opted to advise the NDPP on an incomplete set of facts. In the light of the above shortcomings to the compiling of this report, the NDPP's decision is irrational and unlawful.

219. The De Kock report does not make reference to any representations made to the NDPP in terms of Section 179(5)(d) nor does it make any reference to any objective facts in terms of Section 179(2) which were before the NDPP which prompted her to constitute a panel. The De Kock report also does not make reference at whose instance and on what basis the NDPP had to reconsider the decision to issue the authorisations. In the absence of the above references, it can only be assumed that she acted in vacuum which would render her decision to constitute a panel and to make a decision based on the recommendation of a panel, irrational.

220. In this regard, the De Kock report and the decision by the NDPP does not spell out on which Section of Section 179 of the Constitution the decision and the panel's recommendation are premised on. Consequently, this borders on offending the principle of legality.

221. Although the NDPP said the De Kock report was intended for the reconsideration of the racketeering authorisations, we are informed that even the predicate offences have been withdrawn. I am of the view that the withdrawal of the predicate offences is also as a result of the De Kock Report. The prosecution team, which was long seized with the matter, was further not consulted by the DPP KZN on the withdrawal of the predicate offences. I am aware that neither the investigating officers nor the families of the deceased were invited in the decision making process for the withdrawal of the predicate offences. I informed Mathenjwa that I have been inundated with calls from family members of the deceased, enquiring about the progress of the prosecution, after the withdrawal of the matters. I further informed Mathenjwa that investigators from IPID and DCPI, Mosiapoa and Kolomote, contacted me and enquired from me about the progress on the matter. Mosiapoa later advised me that they had been instructed to advise the families of the deceased that the matters were withdrawn. Mosiapoa indicated to me that they were uncomfortable with these instructions as they were not aware of the reasons for the withdrawal of the matters.

Failure to consult prosecution team

222. I have been part of the prosecution team allocated to guide the investigation and decide whether to institute prosecution on the Cato Manor SVC matter since March 2012 and my delegation to that effect has not been withdrawn. What I know is that the NDPP has withdrawn the racketeering authorisation issued by Adv Jiba on the 17th of August 2012 and a subsequent authorisation issued by Adv Abrahams on the 13th of February 2016.

223. On the 12th of April 2019 I, as the team leader, was instructed by McAdam, the Acting Special Director at the PCLU, to hand over to him all the Cato Manor dockets. During this time there was a pending High Court application where the accused had sought to challenge the aforesaid racketeering authorisation. This process had halted the commencement of the trial.

224. On the 8th of July 2019, the NDPP, Batohi, convened a meeting where she invited the prosecution team and advised us that she had constituted a panel to look into the Cato Manor prosecutions. A report has been received from the panel which was led by Adv De Kock and the recommendation to which she is in agreement with, was that all the racketeering authorisations should be withdrawn.

225. The prosecution team took an issue as to how could the panel make such a recommendation without consulting with us as prosecutors who have been long seized with the matter. The response from the NDPP was that the recommendation is not about the work of the prosecution team, nor the decision of the prosecution team, but it was about the decision of both Jiba and Abrahams.

226. The said report was not given to the prosecution team, as the NDPP specifically mentioned that the report was meant for her as the NDPP. She, however, made summaries of some of the issues which the panel had said in the report, eg. That the case was based on hearsay evidence, credibility of witnesses, specifically Alyer and that the decisions were blurred by public perceptions and proper procedures were not followed. Ultimately there were insufficient evidence to justify the authorisations, and therefore she was convinced that both the authorisations of Jiba and Abrahams were wrong.

GSM

227. In the meeting, Chauke who was the initial coordinator of the prosecution team, commented that since when is the issue of credibility decided outside Court. Noko refused to comment on the matter and said that she had no comment as the NDPP already took a decision.

228. The prosecution team specifically informed the NDPP that it was not in agreement with the panel's recommendation and consequently the NDPP's decision. The NDPP's response was that she was not reviewing the decision of the prosecution team but that of Jiba and Abrahams.

229. I must state that the De Kock report has to date not been furnished to the prosecution team by the NPA. I received a call from a media house, Daily Maverick, who wanted my comment on the De Kock report. I responded that I cannot comment on a report which I have not seen. The reporter then furnished me with a copy which I distributed to the rest of the prosecution team and Chauke.

230. I did not comment on the De Kock report in the media and advised the reporter that I will comment on the report at the appropriate time when the NPA requires his comment thereon. My approach was in accordance with the provisions of Section 41(6) of the NPA Act.

Analysis of the De Kock report

GSM

231. The De Kock report was compiled by De Kock, Thenga, Riley and Mamabolo. However, it was only signed by De Kock and Mamabolo. It is not spelled out in the De Kock report as to why Thenga and Riley did not sign the report.

232. I am of the view that Thenga should have recused herself from the panel, for the reasons as set out below. Equally so, I am advised that Mamabolo should have recused himself from the panel for the reasons set out below.

233. Thenga should have recused herself from the panel, because, on the 13th of August 2015, she compiled a legal opinion in the matter of State v Jiba, Silverton CAS 622/10/2014 to Abrahams where she had to comment on the prosecution of Booysen and processes followed therein. I attach hereto the said legal opinion marked as annexure "CM76".

234. In paragraph A.3 of her opinion, Thenga correctly make reference to Section 2.2 of POCA which provides as follows:

> "The court may hear evidence including evidence with regard to hearsay, similar facts or previous convictions, relating to offences contemplated in subsection (1), notwithstanding that such evidence might otherwise be inadmissible, provided that such evidence would not render a trial unfair."

235. This section provides that hearsay evidence is admissable in racketeering prosecutions. Yet, the De Kock report which she took part in compiling, criticises the State's case on the fact that the case is based on hearsay.

GSM

236. In paragraph E of her opinion, Thenga states that there were various consultations and briefings made by the prosecution team and investigating team to the NDPP. She further states that all the necessary consultations with the NDPP led to the written authorisation of the racketeering certificate by the NDPP, Jiba. Yet, the De Kock report states that proper processes leading to the authorisation of the issuing of the racketeering certificate by Jiba were not followed.

237. In paragraph G of her opinion, Thenga correctly stated that the Court in the Gorven J judgment had incomplete information. The information was unfortunately sitting with the legal representative and was not properly filed as it was supposed to be and therefore was not before Court. She further stated that the NPA prevented Jiba from appealing the Gorven judgment. She, in fact, had to remove papers already filed for the purpose of an appeal because the then NDPP instructed her that the matter must never be appealed. Yet, the De Kock report put more emphasis on the Gorven judgment and does not mention that this was an appealable matter.

238. To compound matters, there is no indication in the De Kock report that Thenga disclosed the existence of her legal opinion to the other panellists.

239. It is my considered view that it would have been professional from Thenga to disclose the above and recuse herself from the panel. Her serving on the panel as a panellist, makes the report irregular, unfair and prejudicial against the prosecution team.

GSM

240. I have been advised by my legal team that, based on what is set out in Mosing's affidavit, Mamabolo should also not have been part of the panel because of the close working relationship he had with Booysen in the past. This working relationship had previously caused Mosing to exclude Mamabolo from the decision-making process in the Cato Manor matter.

241. In the De Kock report there is no indication that Mamabolo disclosed the fact that he was previously excluded by Mosing or that he had a previous working relationship with Booysen. To the best of my knowledge, there is no indication that Mamabolo deposed to an affidavit dealing with his involvement as a panellist.

242. At the time of consulting with my legal team and settling these papers, I had not been provided with affidavits, if any, deposed to by De Kock, Mamabolo, Riley and Thenga, setting out the process that unfolded, which lead to the compilation of the report.

243. The failure of the panellists to consult with the prosecution team deprived itself of the opportunity or advantage to know the extent of the consultative processes and briefings between the prosecution team, the NDPP and the ANDPP, prior to the issuing of the authorisations. The prosecution team had briefings with the ANDPP on the Cato Manor matter on 15 May 2012, 23 May 2012, 12 June 2012, 9 July 2012 and 6 August 2012.

244. The briefings on 15 May, 23 May, 12 June and 9 July 2012 resulted in the prosecution team finalising a prosecution memorandum dated 10 July 2012. I attach hereto a copy of the prosecution memorandum, marked as annexure "CM77", which application was in the name of Chauke.

GSM

245. This memorandum was queried and the prosecution team was directed that the application must not be in the name of Chauke but it must be in the name of Noko, the DPP of KwaZulu-Natal. The prosecution team had to draft the application now in the name of Noko, which was then delivered by me to Mosing on the 16th of August 2012 and was signed on the 17th of August 2012.

246. It was not for the first time for the prosecution memorandum to be before Mosing and Jiba when it was delivered on the 16th of August 2012. The panel would have been made aware of this sequence of events had they consulted with the prosecution team. Instead, the De Kock report reflects that there was no consultation prior to the authorisation dated the 17th of August 2012.

247. In compiling the report, the panellists:

247.1. did not take into account the Judgment delivered by Legodi J in the matter involving the striking of Jiba from the roll of Advocates, which was launched by the GCB, where Jiba's conduct in deciding the Booysen matter was also one of the reasons for which the applicant sought her striking off the roll. In that matter, the Court found that, on the information that was placed before Jiba, which the Court considered, she properly exercised her prosecutorial discretion, and consequently found no fault against Jiba. The panellists' conduct as described above, clearly demonstrate lack of objectivity in that they put emphasis on the Govern judgment which was not favouring the issuing of the authorisation of the racketeering certificates, and ignored the Legodi judgment which was favouring the issuing of the certificates;

247.2. did not indicate in the De Kock report whether they considered evidence as contained in the docket such as the ballistic crime reconstruction reports, photo albums, post-mortem reports, expert reports and statements of all witnesses who were present at various crime scenes. In this regard, the panellists did not objectively assess the evidential material as to whether or not there was a pattern and similar modus operandi by the Cato Manor SVC Section as a group of SAPS members associated in fact in killing their alleged suspects;

247.3. did not only conclude incorrectly that there are contradictions in the statements of Hurley, but also did not set out the alleged contradictions in the De Kock report. A careful perusal and analysis of the statements of Hurley demonstrates that:

247.3.1. Hurley saw Stoltz throw a firearm on the pillow at the side of the bed.

247.3.2. Stoltz further, after taking Hurley out of the room, asked Hurley where the deceased got the firearm from.

247.3.3. Hurley responded that the deceased had no gun and she saw Stoltz throw the gun on the pillow. Hurley stated in her statement ("CM31.1") "I swear he didn't have a gun.";

247.3.4. In Hurley's second statement ("CM31.2"), she stated: "Sakhile did not have any dangerous weapon or a firearm in his possession ... He was not having anything on him.". She further in the second statement stated: "I saw the firearm being placed next to the deceased by the white guy."

247.4. further pointed out to a contradiction between Hurley, on the one hand, and Nqaba Mdluli and Nkanyiso Ntenza, on the other hand, in respect of the presence of the firearm. The panellists are incorrect in that conclusion as Mdluli and Ntenza were outside the car when Hurley saw the police man throwing the firearm on the pillow next to the deceased;

247.5. did not indicate whether the panellists did consult with IPID and DPCI investigators in the process of analysing the evidential material and consequently finalising the said report;

247.6. did not indicate that they conducted inspections in loco and consulted with witnesses vis a vis what the prosecution team did;

247.7. did not indicate that they consulted with various ballistic experts, in particular, Mangena and pathologists;

248. The panel criticised the State's case that it is based on hearsay evidence which is, according to them, not admissible. In this regard, the panel overlooked the fact that there is a difference insofar as hearsay is concerned in respect of the racketeering charges and in respect of the predicate offences. There is nowhere in the report where the panel has indicated that Section 2.2 of POCA has been considered. This section provides as follows:

> "(2) The court may hear evidence, including evidence with regard to hearsay, similar facts or previous convictions, relating to offences contemplated in subsection (1), notwithstanding that such evidence might otherwise be inadmissible, provided that such evidence would not render a trial unfair."

249. Furthermore, the panel overlooked the Constitutional Court decision on this aspect as pronounced in the matter of Savoi and others v National Director of Public Prosecutions and others[7] where the Court found that, regarding the potential unfairness of the admissibility of hearsay evidence to an accused person, the Court drew attention to the filter in the form of the proviso appended in Section 2(2) of POCA, namely that the admissibility of such hearsay evidence should not render the trial unfair. The Court further held that the section serves a twin purpose. Firstly, it effectively does away with the hearsay rule on the charges under Section 2(2) of POCA and, indeed, other exclusionary rules. In this respect, this section differs from Section 3(1) of the Law of Evidence Amendment Act, 45 of 1988 ("LEA Act") which retains the exclusionary rule but permits the admission of hearsay evidence only under circumstances as set out in Section 3(1)(a) to (c) of the LEA Act, which provides as follows:

[7] 2014 (5) SA 317 (CC)

"(1) Subject to the provisions of any other law, hearsay evidence shall not be admitted as evidence at criminal or civil proceedings, unless –

(a) Each party against whom the evidence is to be adduced agrees to the admission thereof as evidence at such proceedings;

(b) The person upon whose credibility the probative value of such evidence depends, himself testifies at such proceedings; or

(c) The court, having regard to –

(i) the nature of the proceedings;

(ii) the nature of the evidence;

(iii) the purpose for which the evidence is tendered;

(iv) the probative value of the evidence;

(v) the reason why the evidence is not given by the person upon whose credibility the probative value of such evidence depends;

(vi) any prejudice to a party which the admission of such evidence might entail; and

(vii) any other factor which should in the opinion of the court be taken into account, is of the opinion that such evidence should be admitted in the interests of justice."

250. The panel failed to differentiate between the admissibility of hearsay evidence on racketeering charges, and predicated offences in the indictment which support the existence of a pattern of racketeering.

251. Section 3(1)(c) of the LEA Act is applicable only in predicated offences, and not on the racketeering charges. In this regard, the Commission is referred to the matter of S v De Vries and others[8]. The panel usurped the judicial powers of a court to pronounce on whether or not the admissibility of hearsay evidence will render the trial on the racketeering charges unfair, a pronouncement which could only be made by a court, having considered the accumulative effect of all the available evidence.

[8] 2012 (1) SACR 186 (SCA)

252. The panel relied on what they say is evidence of Nxasana to the Commission to the effect that he informed the prosecution team that there was no case against Booysen. I dispute that Nxasana ever informed the prosecution team that there was no case against Booysen. In fact, in a briefing which was held on the 7th of April 2014, Nxasana requested the prosecution team to bring a prosecution memorandum on Booysen by the end of May 2014. The prosecution team prepared a memorandum signed by me and the application was forwarded by Noko to Nxasana on the 4th of June 2014. As per protocol, such applications go through the Organised Crime desk which was Mosing, at the time.

253. On the 26th of June 2014, Mosing drafted an internal memorandum to Nxasana, confirming that he has received the application for the issuing of the racketeering certificates, but there are shortcomings which he has discussed with the team leader and consequently he returned the documents to be amended and for additional substance to the memorandum.

254. The prosecution team became pre-occupied with the voluminous request for further particulars which had been received on the 26th of May 2014, and furthermore team members were involved in other operational responsibilities and did not get to submit the amended memorandum before Nxasana vacated office. Nxasana did not get to decide on the application by the prosecution team due to the reasons as set out above and elsewhere in this affidavit.

255. Consequently it is incorrect that Nxasana advised the prosecution team that there was no case against Booysen, as stated in the De Kock report. There would have been no rational basis for the prosecution team to have submitted an application to Nxasana for his consideration and decision if he had informed the prosecution team that there was no case against Booysen, because he was, at the time, the repository of power to authorise racketeering certificates.

256. This further explains the shortcomings in the De Kock report caused by the lack of consultation with the prosecution team because had the panellists confronted the prosecution team with the evidence of Nxasana, the explanation as set out above would have been placed before them, before compiling the report.

257. With regard to Danikas' statement, I state as follows:

257.1. On the 19th and 20th of January 2016 I met and consulted with Danikas who was accompanied by his Greek lawyer, Spiros Spirobulous and an English barrister, Olive Powell. I was accompanied by the Head of Witness Protection, McAdam. I requested Danikas to ensure that the contents of our consultation forms part of the statement that he will furnish to me through diplomatic channels.

GSM

257.2. The Greek version of Danikas's statement was received through diplomatic channels which are in existence between the Republic of Greece and the Republic of South Africa in 2018. I received a copy of the Greek statement from Luckson Mgiba ("Mgiba") of the Extradition desk in the office of the NDPP. Knowing that Danikas is fully conversant in English, I was surprised that the statement was in Greek. On realising this fact, I requested Mgiba to have the statement translated to English. He informed me that the Department of Justice will be dealing with the translation by going out on tender to secure the translators who will then deal with the translation of the statement into English.

257.3. After approximately six weeks I received a statement from Mgiba which was the translated version in English. The statement was translated by one Marilena E M Piperides on the 12th of October 2018. I attach a copy of the English translation, with the Greek version of the statement attached to it, marked as annexure "CM74".

257.4. I contacted Danikas' Greek lawyer in writing. I furnished the lawyer with both the Greek statement and the English translation and informed him that, in terms of South African law, the statement has to be discovered and made available to the defence team, and that I will forthwith do so.

GSM

257.5. Danikas contacted me through Whatsapp and pointed out certain translation mistakes in the English translation. I requested Danikas to address me in a formal way through his attorneys to bring his concerns to my attention.

257.6. Some weeks later, Danikas, through his attorney, brought to my attention a number of translation mistakes in the English translation. I then, in writing, informed Mgiba of the translation mistakes, and asked him to bring such mistakes to the attention of the translator.

257.7. A few days later, Thabisile Ngidi ("Ngidi"), a PA to Mgiba, contacted me and enquired whether a new translator should be appointed or whether the translation mistakes should be referred back to the existing translator. I told Ngidi that it is the Department of Justice's decision what to do but that I would suggest that the existing translator be used.

258. The prosecution team was removed from the matter. Ngidi contacted me after my removal from the matter and enquired about the translation with him. I informed Ngidi that I have been removed from the matter and that she must enquire from the prosecutors appointed to the matter.

259. Had the panellists contacted me, I would have given them the explanation set out above. There are also no reasons furnished as to why Danikas and the translator of the statement, whose details are clearly displayed on the translation certificate, were not contacted.

Asogram Pillay (Accused 29) ("A Pillay")

260. At paragraph 158 of the De Kock report, the panellists critised the prosecution team for charging A Pillay without mentioning specifically the offences in which he participated.

261. A Pillay participated in counts 35 to 39 and he is depicted on the photos published in the Sunday Times on the 11 December 2011, relating the crime scene photos in the Melmoth docket. These photos from the docket, depicting A Pillay at the crime scene, are attached hereto as annexures "CM21.8", "CM21.9" and "CM21.10". A Pillay was also identified by Col Mngwengwe.

262. Had the panellist consulted with the prosecution team, A Pillay's involvement would have been explained and the panellists would have had clarity of A Pillay's involvement.

263. Many of the issues raised and criticism against the prosecution team and the State's case, could have been resolved by the panelists consulting with the prosecution team, witnesses and the investigation team.

264. It is trite law that a witness is not expected to state all events at the time of deposing to the affidavit at the Police Station, but other crucial issues may surface at trial.

GSM

265. It is my respectful submission that the Commission should disregard the De Kock report based on the abovementioned procedural and substantive failures.

H. AFFIDAVIT OF BOOYSEN DATED 2 APRIL 2019

266. In this portion of my affidavit, I shall demonstrate that there is no factual and legal basis, justifying the allegations that I was manipulated and/or coerced and/or unduly pressured to prosecute any persons or perform my duties in any specific way. It shall further be demonstrated that I am not captured for any political or corrupt reasons.

267. In this affidavit, at the relevant portions, I have extensively dealt with some of the allegations that have been raised in the affidavit deposed to by Booysen on the 2nd of April 2019, as a result of which I do not deem it necessary to repeat my response. I will further not deal with any matters that I have not been involved in.

268. Ad paragraphs 12 and 13

268.1. It is critical to state that Booysen, in all the affidavits placed before Court, in his evidence before the Commission, did not disclose the political persons whose interests were served by the NPA, as alleged by Booysen.

268.2. I specifically deny the contents therein contained and that I was party to a meeting with Nathi Mthethwa ("Mthethwa") at which meeting he was alleged to have pressured the NPA officials to affect arrests in the Cato Manor matter. I was also not involved in the matter that involved Panday, as already demonstrated above.

268.3. I specifically deny that Mthethwa put any pressure on me to prosecute any one or to perform my duties in any specific way.

269. Ad paragraphs 75 and 76

269.1. In this affidavit, in the section that relates to Cato Manor, a plethora of evidence is set out, justifying the prosecution of Booysen and members of the Cato Manor Section.

270. Ad paragraph 80

270.1. In this regard, I refer the Commission to the version of Mosing which I embrace, the relevant paragraph reads as follows:

> "80. On the 8th of March 2012, three members of the IPID (then known as the ICD) came to the NPA Head Office and I was assigned to meet with them by the acting NDPP. They were Mr I Kgamanyane ("Kgamanyane"), Mr Glen Angus ("Angus") and Khuba. The following transpired during that meeting:
> 80.1. They made a request through me to the NPA for the appointment of prosecutors to be assigned to the investigation they were busy with, which related to the so-called "Cato Manor Death Squad";

80.2. They explained to me the background of the investigations as well as the number of dockets involved, which were 51 dockets, of which they indicated that all of these matters ended up on inquests. In 12 of the cases they were convinced that there was wrongdoing on the part of the Cato Manor Police.

80.3. They advised me that 6 dockets were ready for decision making. In fact, they had the 6 dockets with them during that meeting and they insisted on having a decision on those dockets the following day. They handed the dockets to me for consideration.

80.4. They further advised me that there were 12 suspects from the Cato Manor Unit. They mentioned Booysen being the Provincial Commander for Organised Crime as one of the suspects. The evidence of photographs of the crimes were with General Mabula's ("Mabula") team, and they needed to get such photographs.

80.5. They also explained that they had a meeting with the former Minister of Police, Mr Nathi Mthethwa ("Mthethwa") and the then Acting National Commissioner, Gen Vilakazi ("Mkhwanazi") approximately a week before. They, as the ICD, together with a team from the DPCI, commanded by Mabula, were present at such meeting. They told me that the Minister was unhappy with the progress of the investigations which was pending since December 2011, and that the Minister told the two teams that he wanted arrests by that following week. The Minister also instructed the two teams to merge and to work together. As a result of such instruction, they worked throughout the weekend.

80.6. They told me that the challenge they were experiencing, was to involve prosecutors, and that Mabula met with Mlotshwa, the then Acting DPP of KwaZulu-Natal, who promised them that they would have two advocates, but that the prosecutors would only be able to join them the following week. This was not acceptable to the aforesaid IPID members, as they were of the view that the matter required urgent attention.

80.7. At the conclusion of the meeting, I told them that I would discuss their requests with the NDPP and, if successful, prosecutors would then join the team by the following week at the ICD offices in Durban."

270.2. From the aforesaid, it is clear that Booysen is not even perturbed by making wild and unsubstantiated allegations.

270.3. Booysen's claims not to have knowledge that it is legally permissible for prosecutors from one division to prosecute in another division, is perplexing.

270.4. Section 20(4)(a) and (b) reads as follows:

"(4) Subject to the provisions of this Act, any Deputy Director shall, subject to the control and directions of the Director concerned, exercise the powers referred to in subsection (1) in respect of-

GSM

(a) the area of jurisdiction for which he or she has been appointed; and

(b) such offences and in such courts, as he or she has been authorised in writing by the National Director or a person designated by the National Director."

270.5. The lead prosecutor in the much publicised criminal matters that involve Shabir Shaik and currently the former State President, Mr Zuma, is Billy Downer SC who is attached to the Western Cape Division. The prosecution of Shabir Sheik occurred in KwaZulu-Natal, and similarly the matter involving the former State President is taking place in the same division. Initially Mathenjwa, who is from the South Gauteng Division, was part of the prosecution team.

270.6. The prosecutions arising from the recommendation that was made by Farlam J which is taking place in the North West Division, is being prosecuted by prosecutors stationed in the North and South Gauteng Divisions.

270.7. An inquest which arises from the killing of Nokuthula Simelane is being dealt with by Mathenjwa, despite the fact that the incident happened in the North Gauteng province.

GSM

270.8. I refer to my opinion, attached hereto, marked as annexure "GSM9" and the opinion of Torie, attached hereto, marked as annexure "GSM10", which deal with this aspect. Adv Chris McAdam ("McAdam") compiled an opinion on this aspect which materially differs from myself and Torie's opinions. I attach hereto, marked as annexure "GSM11.1" a copy of the opinion.

270.9. It is my considered view that McAdam is wrong in his conclusion that prosecutors from one division cannot prosecute in another division. In this regard, I further refer to the engagement that the Chairperson of the Commission had with Simphiwe Mlotswa ("Simphiwe"). I attach hereto a copy of the relevant transcribed record, marked as annexure "GSM11.2". Simphiwe had a similar view as McAdam and Booysen and, ultimately, was proved wrong and conceded that it was legal permissible for a prosecutor in one division to prosecute in another division.

> "149. In his oral evidence in the Zondo Commission, he contradicted himself regarding the existence or non-existence of legal prescripts that permits a prosecutor from one province prosecuting a matter in another province. The contradictions are more fully set out below:

GSM

149.1 The record states:

> "CHAIRPERSON: I am asking about the general practice or a policy whether when you were Acting DPP in KZN you were aware of what policies exit within the NPA or what prescripts – legal prescripts exited that dealt with or governed the situation where a prosecutor will be taken from one province to go and prosecute in another province.
> ADV MLOTSHWA: None that I know of.
> CHAIRPERSON: Yes.
> ADV MLOTSHWA: Yes.
> CHAIRPERSON: Do you have any recollection whether the National Prosecuting Authority Act says anything about such things?

GSM

ADV MLOTSHWA: As far as I remember there was nothing in the Act. Except that because of the nature of budget if a prosecutor from – if the DPP requests assistance. We request assistance from the NDDPP and then the NDPP will get assistance from a specific DPP who has to dispatch the prosecutor to go and assist. It is then that the issue of budget will be discussed.

Travelling arrangements and so on and so forth as to which office will have to pick up the tab – to pay the bill. So in this one I was not involved even with the arrangements, accommodation, travelling. I do not know what was – what happened.

CHAIRPERSON: But is your answer that as far as you know or rather that you are not aware of any provision in the National Prosecuting Authority Act that specifically deals with getting a prosecutor from one province to go and prosecute in another province?

ADV MLOTSHWA: That is affirmative Chair.

CHAIRPERSON: And you are not aware that there were any written policies on this?

ADV MLOTSHWA: None that I recall.

CHAIRPERSON: Are you aware of – were you aware of any practice that may have been followed over the years?

ADV MLOTSHWA: As I have indicated Chair … (Intervenes).

CHAIRPERSON: H'mm

ADV MLOTSHWA: That it will be the DPP because of some certain considerations feeling that look another division must send a prosecutor, but that require – request will have to go via – the NDPP will make a determination from which division a request can be made to get a prosecutor to go and prosecute in that division.

CHAIRPERSON: So your understanding is that indeed the5re was a practice?

ADV MLOTSHWA: Yes. Yes."

271. Ad paragraphs 83 and 84

271.1. I have already demonstrated in this affidavit, at the relevant sections, the justification of the prosecution of Gordhan, McBride and the Cato Manor Detectives, Van Loggerenberg and Pillay.

271.2. All the decisions to prosecute or the prosecutions that I was involved in, occurred within the confines of all the applicable legal prescripts.

271.3. Save as aforesaid, the remainder of the allegations therein contained, are specifically denied and Booysen is put to the proof thereof.

272. Ad paragraph 85

GSM

272.1. The manner in which the mandate of the PCLU is set out in this paragraph is not complete. It includes any other priority crimes as determined by the NDPP as set out in the Proclamation itself. In this regard, I embrace the contents of paragraph 14.2.4 of Torie's affidavit in respect of the Omnibus Clause, which reads as follows:

> "14.2.4. in terms of the Omnibus Clause Regarding "such other priority crimes" referred to in the 2003 proclamation, the discretion granted to the National Director is intended to be used for purposes of referrals regarding matters that require specialised skills or where the implicated persons are very high ranking officials or the matters are very sensitive, such that they may touch on the security of the state or the independence or integrity of state institutions. Such referrals are or were made."

272.2. Booysen is aware that this list of matters that can be referred to PCLU, is not exhaustive, as he used the abbreviation "etc". From this, he should have been aware that his criticism of the PCLU is not justified in this regard.

273. Ad paragraph 86

GSM

273.1. Booysen, on his own version, testified that the prosecution of Gordhan had serious and "catastrophic" financial consequence for the economy of the country and, yet, seeks to trivialise the prosecution of Gordhan.

273.2. It is clear that the conduct that let to the prosecution of Pillay and Gordhan, has an impact on the fiscus of the country, because SARS paid a penalty to facilitate the early retirement of Pillay.

273.3. Gordhan testified before the Commission and, to the contrary, he was not supportive of the allegations made by both McBride and Booysen. It is critical to indicate that I was not given a Rule 3.3 Notice indicating that Gordhan, Pillay and Van Loggerenberg will implicate me in any wrongdoing whatsoever in their testimony before the Commission.

274. Ad paragraphs 88 and 89

I deny the contents of this paragraph, specifically that I have been capture. I have already dealt with the allegations contained therein elsewhere in this affidavit, and I do not deem it necessary to repeat same.

275. Ad paragraph 99

GSM

275.1. Booysen, in the affidavit deposed to on the 2nd of April 2019, did not disclose the political persons whose interests were served by the NPA or myself, as alleged.

275.2. It is clear from the fact that Booysen did not provide the details of the alleged political elite and/or their associates that had to be protected from prosecutions, that the allegations levelled against me are baseless, unfounded and malicious.

275.3. The Cato Manor prosecution has been fully dealt with in the relevant sections elsewhere in this affidavit and I do not deem it necessary to repeat same.

275.4. The insinuation that me being the lead prosecutor, demonstrates that I acted unprofessionally and unlawfully, is denied. I take the strongest exception to the defamatory allegations in this paragraph that I had been "the clean-up- and go-to-person whenever the political elite and or their associates have to be protected from prosecutions." when there are no evidence placed before the Commission to support such malicious allegations.

275.5. Save as aforesaid, the allegations contained in this paragraph are specifically denied, and Booysen is put to the proof thereof.

276. Ad paragraph 100

GSM

276.1. I admit that in the statement I filed in the investigation against Jiba I have stated that Bheki Diondio Mthiyane "has been killed" when, in fact, he died of natural causes. This was an honest mistake since I had last dealt with the docket over three years before I filed the statement in the investigation against Jiba.

276.2. I have mistaken Mthiyane with another witness, Simphiwe Cyprian Mathonsi who was killed. It was never my intention to either mislead or lie to the Court. It is also critical to state that if Booysen feels strongly that I committed any crime, then, as an experienced police officer, he should have laid a criminal charge against me.

277. Ad paragraph 101

277.1. I take note of allegation that a case for perjury and fraud was opened against me, however, I wish to state that I have not been approached by the investigating officer and I do not know the status of the matter.

277.2. I further wish to indicate that I have not been contacted by the GCB in this regard.

277.3. With regard to annexure "JWB17" to Booysen's statement, I shall demonstrate that it is riddled with lies and the intention thereof is to mislead the Commission. It is also critical to note that Booysen does not vouch for the truthfulness and correctness of the allegations of what is stated in this annexure.

277.4. I respond to some of the allegations applicable to me, contained in this annexure, below:

277.4.1.1. The prosecution memorandum was prepared by a team that comprised of myself, Mathenjwa and Mlotshwa, and therefore it is not true that I am the only one who compiled the memorandum.

277.4.1.2. Similarly, the memorandum, together with its relevant annexures, was presented to the NDPP by the team, which included Noko. I attach hereto a copy of the memorandum with annexures hereto, marked as annexure "GSM12".

277.4.2. Ad paragraphs 3 and 4

277.4.2.1. It is evident from this paragraph that Booysen is aware that even the investigating officers collaborates in preparation of the presentation to the NDPP, and yet he seeks to single me out and give the wrong impression that I was the only one who was responsible for the preparation of the memorandum and its presentation to the NDPP. This has a material bearing on the reliability of the allegations levelled against me and on the credibility of Booysen.

277.4.2.2. This is a clear indication that Booysen has a vendetta against me. Even though I signed the memorandum, it is a product of the prosecution team's work. I signed the memorandum as team leader.

277.4.3. Ad paragraph 5

277.4.3.1. The allegations therein contained have been fully dealt with and it is not necessary to repeat same.

277.4.4. Ad paragraph 6 and 7

GSM

The allegations are fully dealt with in Brown's supplementary affidavit Annexure 62.2

278. Ad paragraph 102

278.1. Van Loggerenberg lodged a complaint with the National Director of Public Prosecution, which was referred to Adv Smit ("Smit"), the then Director of Public Prosecution, North West, for investigation. It was prudent for such a complaint to be dealt with by a person who was not involved in the matter of Van Loggerenberg. A copy of the alleged complaint is attached hereto, marked as annexure "GSM13".

278.2. The investigation by Smit concluded that there was no substance or merit in the allegations levelled against me. A copy of the outcome of the investigation is attached hereto, marked as annexure "GSM14".

279. Ad paragraph 103

279.1. It is denied that there is an aborted prosecution.

279.2. I have no knowledge of what Nhleko's plans were, as a result of which I cannot respond to these allegations. Full reasons have been advanced as to why McBride was charged.

GSM

280. Ad paragraph 104

280.1. It is denied that any investigations that related to McBride suffered a setback. Booysen is a senior police officer. If he was convinced that I committed any offence, he should have registered a case for defeating the ends of justice, which he did not do.

281. Ad paragraph 106

281.1. The allegations therein contained are specifically denied and Booysen is put to the proof thereof.

281.2. To the contrary, I prepared a memorandum, advising Simelane to retain Nel and Johnson, as prosecutors in the Agliotti matter.

282. Ad paragraph 107

282.1. I did not personally choose to get involved in the three prosecutions. My involvement in these three matters was as a result of the matters being allocated to me. There was no legal justification for me not to deal with the prosecutions complained of.

282.2. I was never involved in the prosecution of the Mphego matter.

282.3. Nel and Johnson were removed from the Agliotti matter by Simelane, who was the NDPP at that stage, contrary to my advice, as evidenced by a memorandum I addressed to Simelane dated 3 February 2010, attached hereto, marked as annexure "GSM15".

282.4. That I am based at the DPP office in Mmabatho, does not disbar me from being involved in prosecutions of matters that I was lawfully involved in.

282.5. Booysen's allegation that, in his almost 40 years career, he has never encountered a situation that prosecutors are appointed from one jurisdiction to undertake prosecutions in another jurisdiction, has already been addressed and it is not necessary to repeat same.

283. Ad paragraphs 109 to 114, 121, 132-133, 215, 217, 227, 229, 230.1, 230.6 – 230.7,

283.1. Insofar as the contents of these paragraphs are inconsistent with my version as contained in this affidavit, such allegations are specifically denied and Booysen is put to the proof thereof.

I. DEFEATING THE ENDS OF JUSTICE – McBRIDE, SESOKO AND KHUBA

284. In order to properly place the decision to prosecute McBride, Sesoko and Khuba with defeating the ends of justice into proper context, it is best to first set out the elements of the offence. They are:

GSM

284.1. Unlawfulness of the act;

284.2. defeating or obstructing;

284.3. administration of justice; and

284.4. intention.

285. In order to demonstrate how McBride, Khuba and Sesoko committed the offence, I list each element and thereafter set out the facts which demonstrate or shows the commission of the offence.

(a) Unlawful conduct

286. The unlawful conduct I considered at the time is as follows:

286.1. McBride, Khuba and Sesoko's action of removing the information which appeared at pages 9, 16, 20, 21, 26, and 30 of the first rendition report dated 22 January 2014 ("first report"), linking Lieutenant-General Anwa Dramat ("Dramat") and General Shadrack Sibiya ("Sibiya") to the commission of a crime when they prepared the second report dated 18 March 2014 ("second report"). I annex copies of the first and second report marked "GSM16" and "GSM17", respectively.

286.2. With regard to the portions that appeared in the first report and were removed in the second report, I refer the Chairperson to the manuscript notes I made on both the first and second report to show the portions removed.

286.3. McBride, Khuba and Sesoko's action of adding new paragraphs in the second report on pages 23, 24, 25, 26 and 30.

286.4. With regard to the additions of new information same is demonstrated, again, by the manuscript notes I made on the second report.

286.5. McBride, Khuba and Sesoko changed the recommendations from the one set out in the first report to the fact that "no charges should be brought against Lt General Dramat and Major General Sibiya. The investigation established that there is no prima facie case against them."

286.6. McBride, Khuba and Sesoko's continued assertions and averments in other judicial processes that Dramat and Sibiya were exonerated from any criminal liability. When McBride in fact knew when he made such assertions and averments that he had no legal authority to exonerate anybody from any criminal liability.

287. The reason I was of the view that the removal and additions made in the second report, were made solely with the intention of exonerating Dramat and Sibiya was that there was no new evidence which justified the removal and additions.

288. The conclusion I reached when taking a decision to prosecute McBride, Sesoko and Khuba is supported by objective facts as evident from the investigation diary where Khuba changed his report as the investigating officer from being "A100" to "A102" and included a so-called forensic report as "A101" which report is dated 17 March 2014 and the entry in the investigation diary was made on 18 March 2014 the same day that the second rendition report was ostensibly finalised.

289. With regard to the analysis of the change in these entries in the investigation diary, I refer the Commission to paragraphs 389 to 398 of Anthony Mosing's ("Mosing") affidavit which has been filed with the Commission. Mosing is the prosecutor who guided the investigation. I set out paragraphs 389 to 398 for ease of reference. I incorporate the paragraphs referred to above into this affidavit, which reads as follows:

> "388. Khuba submitted a final report to me on 22 January 2014. Khuba did not prepare his statement as the investigating officer and I requested him to submit same and to incorporate it into the final report. Khuba prepared his statement as the investigating officer, which, according to the investigation diary, was initially entered as "A100", on 5 February 2014. He brought the report to me which incorporated his statement of the investigating officer.

GSM

Khuba did not change the date of the report from 22 January 2014, and I did not insist that he correct the date, as it was not a significant number of days' difference.

389. I interpose to mention that the entry number into the docket of Khuba's statement was changed from "A100" to "A102". I find this change quite peculiar, particularly when regard is had to what was filed as "A101" which is the "Analysis of statement by Precision Forensics".

390. I have since learnt that "A101" is relied on by Khuba before this Commission to discredit the statement of Madilonga, who was the police officer who phoned Dramat and confirmed that Dramat instructed him to permit the Zimbabwean police entry into South Africa. Madilonga's version is supported by other, independent objective evidence.

391. A further oddity about "A101" is that it is dated October 2013 and yet Khuba never discussed this statement with me during the time nor attached it to the docket. As such, it raises very serious questions which point to an attempt to "sanitise" the evidence that implicated Dramat. It is unheard of for an investigator to discredit his own key witness, especially for the reasons allegedly set out in the purported expert report. No wonder, the report dated 18

March 2014, changed the recommendation of the first report and no longer recommended that Dramat be charged. This clearly points to an attempt to defeat the ends of justice.

392. McBride contradicts himself with regard to the weight to be attached to the report in that he complains that the so-called captured prosecutors do not prosecute in certain instances where IPID members have made a recommendation that certain persons should be prosecuted and, in the same breath he wants the Commission to attach no weight to the recommendations made by Khuba with regard to the rendition. The making of a report with recommendations is a statutory requirement as more fully set out in section 7(4) of IPID Act.

393. On Khuba's version, it appears that the Executive Director of IPID did not report for duty and that is why he signed the report.

394. Below, I set out the key points that demonstrate why the version of Madilonga is critical and carries weight, namely:

394.1 Confirmation that he made a telephone call to Dramat;

G S M

394.2 Confirmation that entry and exit of Zimbabwean Police was in line with the handing over of the victims to the Zimbabwean Police;

394.3 The pivotal role played by Maluleka in the illegal handing over of the Zimbabwean nationals to the Zimbabwean police.

395. On or about 14 February I delivered the docket to the DPP: South Gauteng for decision. I later in this affidavit set out the processes of how I reported on the investigation to the NDPP who had assigned the matter to me.

396. I later learnt that Khuba and his colleagues had retrieved the docket from DPP:SG and prepared a report dated 18 March 2014 and changed the recommendations. By so doing, I am of the considered view that Khuba was undoing his hard work which he did when he made a breakthrough in the case.

397. Having regard to the different versions Khuba has put forth in explaining why the report changed, it appears that he was pressurised to change his recommendations. This much is evident when one has regard to his transcript of the interview with Werksmans and the improbable versions he has given from then to now.

GSM

398. It is clear that the recommendations of the report were changed in order to "exonerate" Dramat and Sibiya, despite the evidence Khuba gathered. I discuss this detail when dealing with the evidence against Dramat."

290. A further analysis that supports the conclusion that there was no new evidence to justify the alteration of the recommendation made in the first report by producing the second report is set out in the affidavit of Jacobus Petrus Pretorius ("Pretorius"). The relevant paragraphs are incorporated into this affidavit and read as follows:

"160. It is prudent that I should demonstrate to the Commission the process that unfolded prior to taking the decision of charging McBride, Sesoko and Khuba with defeating the ends of justice.

161. At that stage, I was assigned to deal, inter alia, with criminal matters that arose from the recommendations that were made by the Marikana Commission of Enquiry. It was on a Friday afternoon, on the 26th of February 2016, when I was approached by Maema, who briefed and made a presentation to me regarding the matter under consideration. He was in possession of a memorandum which outlined how the investigation was conducted, and what his recommendations were arising from the investigation.

GSM

162. Maema extensively discussed the merits of the investigation that was done with me. A summary of the investigation is contained in a memorandum dated the 22nd of February 2016, attached hereto, marked as annexure "JPP46".

163. Maema presented the memorandum to me, which I read and considered over the weekend. I also took into account the probabilities in the matter. From the discussion I had with Maema, together with the contents of the memorandum and the probabilities, I was satisfied that there was prima facie evidence for making out a case for defeating and/or obstructing the ends of justice with reasonable prospects of success.

164. Once I was satisfied, I made an appointment with the DPP: NG for Thursday, the 3rd of March 2016 to consult with Mzinyathi in his office and discuss the merits of the case with him. Mzinyathi agreed that there was a reasonable prospect of success and signed the memorandum accordingly. I attach hereto a confirmatory affidavit deposed to by Mzinyathi, marked as annexure "JPP47", in support of this statement.

GSM

165. What is set out above is the checks and balances that are in place and have to be followed as a statutory imperative in the decision-making process at the NPA.

166. It follows then that the matter was properly, lawfully and legitimately referred to the PCLU for investigation as it was deemed a priority crime as, inter alia, it involved the Executive Head of IPID. It is a practice for the NDPP to refer for investigation to the PCLU, matters involving high ranking officials or matters that touch on the integrity or independence of state organs and thus it was referred in terms of the Omnibus Clause.

167. McBride, Khuba and Sesoko were adamant that the IPID report does not bind the NPA in making its decision to prosecute. They refer to the statements of Van Zyl, Mzinyathi and Baloyi who all stated that they either did not read the report or, if they did, it was a cursory reading and does not influence their decision, as they only consider the facts as contained in the docket which evidence was not deleted in the docket. Thus the case of fraud or defeating the ends of justice was contrived. It is clear that IPID's officials seek to turn a blind eye to what their mandate is, namely that after an investigation, they are expected to compile a report and make the necessary recommendations.

GSM

168. I deny that the prosecution was contrived, for the following reasons:

168.1 It is common cause that the docket was uplifted from the DPP:SG after McBride was briefed on the matter;

168.2 McBride instructed that the evidence or investigation be reviewed and the new evidence be included and the report be finalised;

168.3 The so-called new evidence does not lay a basis for changing the recommendations contained in the report of 22 January 2020, especially the nature and import of the deletions of the first report, which I regarded as the final report, that convinced me that there is a cover-up. The result would be that only the foot soldiers would be prosecuted, and the Generals would get protected. Having regard to the probabilities, just prosecuting the foot soldiers would constitute a grave injustice.

168.4 On his own version, McBride had discussed at length with Nxasana who also agreed that there was no evidence against Dramat and Sibiya. It is unclear this alleged view of Nxasana was before or after he had considered the docket or only the report that was presented to him. Even worse, on McBride's evidence it appears this view was held at a meeting they had on 6 March 2014 after McBride was briefed and the docket was still at DPP:SG;

168.5 Even more, McBride issued media statements that the IPID exonerated Dramat and Sibiya, whilst knowing fully well that it is not the duty of the IPID to exonerate people but the role of the court and to that extent sought to create the impression that the NPA was persecuting and maliciously pursuing and charging Dramat and Sibiya;

169. It is therefore not a simple case of an incorrect analysis or summary of the evidence as remarked by the Chairperson, during the evidence of Minister Nhleko, but a very serious matter of the head of an independent and oversight institution envisaged in the Constitution, deliberately misrepresenting facts in the institution's report and issuing wrong media statements."

(b) Defeating or obstructing

291. In establishing this element, I rely on the facts set out below:

GSM

291.1. The removal of the docket from Adv Z Van Zyl ("Van Zyl"), by Khuba and Glen Angus ("Angus") under the false pretext that there were investigations to be done after which the docket would be returned to Van Zyl, knowing well that no investigations would be conducted and that the docket would not be returned to Van Zyl as undertaken;

291.2. The subsequent inserting and filing of the statement made by the Expert, Anne-Marie Van Staden and the changing of the numbering of the statements in the investigation diary of the docket was meant to give a wrong impression that the new evidence was subsequently obtained which justified the change in the recommendations made in the first report dated 22 January 2014.

291.3. To demonstrate that there was no new evidence obtained, I rely on the evidence as contained in the affidavits of Mosing and Torie. The relevant portion of Mosing's affidavit are quoted below:

545.3. I have demonstrated that the period between the 22 January 2014 and 18 March 2014, the only "evidence" that was entered therein which supposedly justified a dramatic change in the recommendations of IPID is the statement of the Secretariat which effectively mirrors her report dated 25 June 2012 and therefore could not amount to new evidence that would justify the change in recommendation.

545.4. It is also apposite to mention that the statement of the Secretariat was deposed on 17 February 2014 but only filed a month later. This statement must be the reason Khuba wrote me an email on 28 February requesting to file a evidence in the docket and I indicated that he must file the evidence with the DPP: South Gauteng as the docket was with him.

545.5. The second entry made on 18 March 2014 is the statement analysis of Madilonga. The absurdity of this report[9] is that it is ostensibly a final report on the analysis of the attached statement of Madilonga which was analysed by one Anne-Mari van Staden and yet the analyses conducted on the attached statement is exactly the same analysis that was supposedly conducted sometime in 2013 when this Anne-Mari van Staden emailed Khuba the analysed statement on 4 October 2013.

[9] A101 in the docket.

GSM

545.6. The analysed statement of Madilonga and the email from Anne-Mari van Staden are attached to Khuba's main affidavit, deposed to on 16 July 2019, which attached the analysed statement as HIK6. On the other hand, the email dated 4 October 2013, is attached to a supplementary affidavit, deposed on 22 August 2019.

545.7. It is bewildering that, if indeed, Khuba obtained the statement analysis on 4 October 2013, he kept such a fact completely secret from me whilst I was guiding the investigation. Even more puzzling is that Khuba did not include this statement in the investigation diary, neither did he include it in his report dated 22 October 2013, a date after he supposedly received the analysed statement. Again, Khuba did not include this statement in his report dated 22 January 2014. All these point to the high probability that the statement was not analysed in 2013. The so-called analysis was a ruse to come up with some sort of "evidence" that casts doubt on the credibility of Madilonga's statement who at all times since April 2013 Khuba considered to be the main witness in the case.

545.8. The so-called report does not qualify as an expert report in that the "expert's" qualifications and experience are not set out therein. Neither has the "expert" filed an affidavit in support of the report or to demonstrate his field of expertise. Consequently, no reasonable person should or should have attached any weight to this report.

545.9. I take note of the reliance placed on IPID regulations and Standard Operating Procedure (SOP). However, once again the objective facts point to a stratagem to justify the report dated 18 March 2014 as the final report to achieve McBride's desired outcome.

545.10. I say this because, on Khuba's own version at the time the 22 January 2014 report was finalised the then Acting Executive Director of IPID, Mbeki, was no longer coming to the office and Khuba alleges that she only signed financial documents. As such, on McBride's version IPID would be hamstrung from issuing reports in such instances. On a purposive interpretation this could never have been the intention of the legislature that when the Executive Head of IPID is, for whatever reason, unable to execute her duties, the functions of IPID "come to a grinding halt"."

292. The relevant portions of Torie's affidavit are set out below:

"124. A further report, compiled by A van Staden ("Van Staden") of Precision Forensics, confirmed that Madilonga's statement was analysed by Anna-Mari Van Staden and this report is dated 17 March 2014, a day before Khuba and Sesoko signed the report.

125. I am of the respectful submission that the so-called analysis and findings of the purported expert, are irrational, suspicious and lacks the necessary details. The report of the purported expert should not be relied on at all. It is clear that prior to compiling the report, Van Staden did not take into account other relevant independent material contained in the docket and was not sensitive and did not take into account the social background of Madilongwa. It is expected of an expert to be objective, independent and rational. A copy of this report is attached hereto, marked as annexure "JPP38".

126. The person who analysed Madilonga's statement also failed to take into account that English is not Madilonga's mother tongue. The conclusion by the expert that Madilonga's statement is deceptive, is based mainly on the poor grammar used by Madilonga and lack of proficiency in English. It appears that the expert is not socially sensitised to sociological dynamics that make up different persons in South Africa.

127. For example, the so-called expert raised concern with the use of five pronouns in one sentence or a missing pronoun. Not every person is South Africa is proficient in the use of grammar and sentence construction. Sometimes non-English speakers use direct translation in their writing. As such, more was needed to cast doubt on Madilonga's statement and not just his use of grammar."

293. The evidence of McBride before the commission is that on 3 March 2014, which is three (3) days after his appointment, he had a meeting with Mr. Mxolisi Nxasana ("Nxasana") to discuss whether there was evidence implicating Dramat and Sibiya. McBride's evidence is also that Nxasana agreed with him that there was no evidence implicating Dramat and Sibiya in the commission of the crimes. The irregular exclusion of Van Zyl from the meeting when the latter was seized with the matter, it is a further indication of this element of the crime.

294. The numerous media utterances and in the affidavits filed in numerous court proceedings by McBride that Dramat and Sibiya were exonerated when no decision had been made by the prosecuting authority.

295. The questionable conduct of Nxasana in keeping the docket for an unreasonable period of eight (8) months, the failure by Nxasana to confirm or deny the media utterances made by McBride.

(c) Administration of justice

296. The removal of the docket under the false pretext that further investigations had to be conducted and that the docket would be returned to Van Zyl on 14 March 2014, prejudiced the administration of justice.

(d) Intention

297. The failure to return the docket Van Zyl despite the undertaking and the numerous requests by Van Zyl directed to Khuba enquiring when the latter would return the docket and his failure to deny the assertion made by Van Zyl that it was Khuba's intention not to return the docket to Van Zyl. I annex a copy of the memorandum prepared by Van Zyl dated 27 June 2014 marked "GSM18".

298. I draw the Commission's attention to annexure "GSM18" paragraph 7 which reads as follows:

GSM

"7. I phoned Mr Khuba on 23 June 2014 and asked him why he lied to me when he uplifted the docket. I told him that they never intended to return the docket. He said that he still had one thing to do. He denied lying to me, but did not deny that they never intended to return the docket to me, despite me making that statement several times. Mr Khuba stated that docket had been handed to "... the NDPP's secretary" but he could not provide any name."

299. From the aforesaid it is clear that the intention was not to return the docket, but to remove and change information in order to exonerate Dramat and Sibiya.

J. FRAUD

300. Although McBride only mentions that I charged Khuba, Sesoko and him with defeating the ends of justice, it is apparent from the charge sheet that I had also charged them with the offence of fraud. I attach hereto, marked as annexure "GSM19", a copy of the charge sheet.

301. It is common cause that:

301.1. Khuba received instructions from the former Acting Executive Director of IPID, Ms Koekie Mbeki ("Mbeki") to conduct an investigation into the rendition of Zimbabwean Nationals by the members of the DPCI;

GSM

301.2. Khuba conducted an in-depth investigation into the said rendition of Zimbabwean Nationals by the DPCI, with the guidance of the NPA;

301.3. Khuba prepared a report dated 22 January 2014, and filed it with the NPA;

301.4. The report dated 22 January 2014 recommended that Dramat, Sibiya, together with other persons be criminally charged with kidnapping and defeating the ends of justice;

301.5. McBride instructed Khuba and Angus to uplift the docket from the DPP: South Gauteng offices; and 301.6. Khuba and Angus uplifted the docket on 7 March 2014 from the DPP: South Gauteng offices.

302. McBride, Khuba, and Sesoko removed information implicating Dramat and Sibiya from any criminal conduct in the kidnapping of the Zimbabwean Nationals. They changed the recommendation that was set out in the report dated 22 January 2014 to the one which stated that no charges should be brought against Dramat and Sibiya as the investigation established no prima facie case against them.

303. McBride, Khuba, and Sesoko misrepresented in various court proceedings that there was no evidence implicating Dramat and Sesoko and that the latter two were exonerated. McBride further made the misrepresentation in various media reports whilst he knew that they were false.

304. Hence, the aforesaid conduct prejudiced and/or had the potential to prejudice the NPA and the administration of justice. It is clear from the objective facts that there was sufficient evidence that justified the prosecution of McBride, Khuba, and Sesoko.

K. MCBRIDE'S MAIN AFFIDAVIT

305. Ad paragraph 125

305.1. McBride did not provide evidence of the matters and dockets that were brought to me for either a decision or prosecution which were investigated by IPID and I declined to prosecute. It is clear that this allegation is based on speculation or conjecture and ought to be dismissed.

305.2. In this affidavit, I have demonstrated that those who claim to be corruption fighters are themselves criminals who should be prosecuted for their unlawful activities which are dealt with in the applicable and relevant dockets.

305.3. I specifically deny that the NPA has lost any credibility as a result of my lawful and professional conduct, in that all the cases that were brought before me for either my decision or my prosecution were done so within the confines of the law.

GSM

305.4. I am advised by my legal team that Torie, Mosing, Baloyi, Mashuga, Chuake and Mathenjwa vehemently dispute and deny the unfounded and malicious allegations levelled against them, and I align myself with the views that they expressed.

305.5. No particulars and/or details of the alleged subordinates who are experienced prosecutors whose decisions I overrode despite abundant evidence that justifies a prosecution. In this affidavit, I have extensively set out the sufficient evidence that was considered which led to the prosecution of McBride, Khuba, and Sesoko, as well as Booysen.

306. Ad paragraph 126

306.1. No evidence at all is set out in support of the allegations that my actions are politically driven;

306.2. I did not take the decision to charge Dramat and Sibiya, in fact, I took the decision to charge McBride, Khuba, and Sesoko for unlawfully exonerating Dramat and Sibiya in the kidnapping of the Zimbabwean Nationals. I also took a decision to charge Booysen in the activities of the Cato Manor section based at Cato Manor;

306.3. To demonstrate that I did not persecute McBride, I declined to prosecute McBride and Sibiya arising from the complaint that the latter two attempted to obstruct the members of Crime Intelligence who had been to Sibiya's office to retrieve a Data 6 devise which was in his safe. The complaint was in respect of Hillbrow CAS 542/3/2015. I attach hereto as annexure "GSM20" my decision not to prosecute McBride in this matter.

306.4. Save as aforesaid, I deny the remainder of the contents of this paragraph.

307. Ad paragraphs 127 and 128

307.1. The allegations set out in these paragraphs are related to those set out in Rule 3.3 Notice, namely paragraphs 14, 50, 78, 87 to 118. I have already indicated above that I have never dealt with these matters, and therefore, have no knowledge of same.

308. Ad paragraph 129

308.1. As stated above, I did not take the decision to prosecute the rendition matter, instead, I took a decision to prosecute McBride, Khuba, and Sesoko with fraud and defeating the ends of justice. I have already extensively dealt with the basis upon which I took the decision to charge McBride, Khuba, and Sesoko; and 308.2. Save as aforesaid, I deny the remainder of the contents of this paragraph.

309. Ad paragraphs 132, 133 and 134

GSM

309.1. I have already set out the basis upon which I took the decision to prosecute McBride, Khuba, and Sesoko and do not deem it necessary to repeat same;

309.2. As already demonstrated above, I have already dealt with the basis upon which I took the decision to prosecute Minister Pravin Gordhan ("Gordhan"). I specifically denied that I either worked with or took instructions from Tom Moyane ("Moyane"). I specifically deny the involvement in preventing SARS legal advisor, Vlok Symington from leaving the boardroom;

309.3. I have already extensively dealt with matters in regard to the PCLU and it is not necessary to repeat same; and 309.4. Save as aforesaid, I deny the remainder of the contents of this paragraph.

L. THE PARAGRAPHS IN MCBRIDE'S AFFIDAVIT WHICH EXPRESSLY OR BY IMPLICATION REFER TO ME

310. With the above background in mind, and having perused and considered the affidavit of McBride and the allegations in the Rule 3.3 notice, annexure "GSM7.1" hereto, which implicate or may implicate me. As demonstrated above, I am not implicated. I proceed to deal with paragraphs that are expressly or by implication applicable to me.

311. The paragraphs that expressly or by implication refer to me are paragraphs 125, 126, 127, 128, 129,130,132,133 and 134.

GSM

M. BASIS OF ALLEGATIONS OF CAPTURE AS SET OUT IN THE RULE 3.3 NOTICE OF McBRIDE

312. The Rule 3.3 notice I received from the Secretary of the Commission pertaining to the evidence of McBride, It is alleged that:

> "2.1 You improperly and or unlawfully sought to:
> 2.1.1 unduly interfere in the investigative independence of the national prosecuting authority ("NPA"), the Independent police investigative director 8 ("IPID") and all the Directorate for priority crime investigation ("DPCI") commonly known as the Hawks;
> 2.1.2 unduly delayed end or declined recommended prosecution;
> 2.1.3 participate in the undue persecution of officials of the NPA, IPID and or DPCI; and
> 2.1.4 destabilized the NPA, IPID and/or all the DPCI.
> 2.2 In acting as aforesaid, you allegedly sought to enable the state capture of the criminal justice system."

313. The Rule 3.3 notice also state that the statement of McBride which implicates me or may implicate me set out the allegations that implicate me or may implicate me at paragraphs 14, 50, 78 and 87 to 118.

GSM

314. The Rule 3.3 notice further state that annexures "Q", "R" and "S" to the statement of McBride implicate or may implicate me in the above-mentioned allegations.

315. I have perused and considered the contents of paragraph 14, 50, 78, 87 to 118 and must at the outset state that these paragraphs do not in any way implicate me. Instead, there are paragraphs in the statement of McBride which makes reference to me and I will set these out later and respond thereto.

316. I now proceed to specifically deal with the paragraphs referred to in the Rule 3.3 notice ad seriatim.

317. Ad paragraphs 13, 14 and 33

317.1. There is no evidence to substantiate or corroborate McBride's version that the prosecution was politically driven or malicious. In any event, such is specifically denied and McBride is put to the proof thereof.

317.2. It is also critical to indicate that McBride did not institute any civil suit against the State based on malicious prosecution. It is denied that the prosecution referred to therein were malicious.

317.3. In paragraph 14, it is alleged that investigations and prosecutions pertaining to Toshan Panday ("Panday"), General Richard Naggie Mdluli ("Mdluli"), Phahlane and General Jan

GSM

Ntebo Mabula ("Mabula") are prime examples of matters that would have proceeded to finality were it not for my consistent interference.

317.4. Regrettably, the statement and evidence of McBride does not specify in what respect I interfered in the investigations and prosecution of these matters.

317.5. I was never involved in any investigation and/or prosecution of any of the matters in this paragraph and have never set an eye on the dockets pertaining thereto.

317.6. As such, I deny the inference and conclusion wish to portray from this paragraph.

317.7. The withdrawal of the charges was as a result of the fact that the State witnesses were no longer prepared to testify in line with the contents of their statements.

317.8. The withdrawal was not as a result of the alleged realisation that the State did not have a watertight case against the Accused.

317.9. Save as aforesaid, the remainder of the allegations therein contained are specifically denied and McBride is put to the proof thereof.

318. Ad paragraph 50

GSM

318.1. In this paragraph it is alleged that Sesoko was victimized and suspended from his post, of Chief Director of Investigations and Information Management, by Kgamanyane because Sesoko had supported McBride's application to the Constitutional Court to challenge the constitutionality of section 6(3) and 6(6) if the Independent Police Investigative Directorate Act, Act 1 of 2011 ("the IPID Act"). Further that Sesoko was instructed by Kgamanyane to go to Limpopo and North West to collect the dockets in which former DPCI Head, Mthandazo Berning Ntlemeza ("Ntlemeza") and Mabula were suspects.

318.2. No facts are set out indicating how Sesoko's support of McBride Constitutional Court application and the resultant suspension from his post relate to me or in what way I played a role in respect of same. It is also not set out in what manner the alleged retrieval of dockets pertaining to Ntlemeza and Mabula relate to me.

318.3. Despite Sesoko having testified before the Commission, it was not his case that I ever played any role in his victimization, suspension and the initiation of any disciplinary steps, nor in any of the dockets referred to in this paragraph. I have also never laid an eye on such dockets.

318.4. I therefore deny any inferences and or conclusions sought to be drawn from this paragraph.

GSM

319. Ad paragraph 78

319.1. In this paragraph it is alleged that that Crime Intelligence had infiltrated IPID as an official from Crime Intelligence, Brigadier Tiou Kgomo ("Kgomo") had been appointed as Director: Investigations at IPID by Kgamanyane. It is also alleged that Kgomo approached two IPID officials, the late Mandla Mahlangu ("Mahlangu") and Cedrick Nkabinde to offer them Brigadier positions in order to induce them to make false statements to implicate IPID managers in wrongdoing.

319.2. Attached to this paragraph is annexure "Q" which is alleged to be a transcript of the recording made by Mahlangu wherein he had a conversation with Kgomo. It is alleged that in the transcript Kgomo made such an offer to Mahlangu and also confirmed to Mahlangu that he (Kgomo) is working with the North West team led by Mabula investigating a concocted case that would bring McBride down along with other IPD investigators and thus torpedo the investigation against Phahlane. Lastly, the paragraph alleges that Kgomo took Mahlangu to Potchefstroom to meet Mabula.

319.3. Once again, no facts are set out to indicate what any of these allegations have to do with me and or how am I connected thereto.

GSM

319.4. Similar to the previous paragraphs, I have no knowledge of the alleged infiltration of IPID by Crime Intelligence nor do I have knowledge of the Brigadier posts which were alleged to have been offered to IPID officials and therefore deny the inference and conclusions sought to be drawn from this paragraph.

319.5. I take note of the transcription of the alleged conversation between Kgomo and Mahlangu, annexure "Q", save to state that I see no relevance thereof in so far as it may implicate me in interfering with the investigative independence of the NPA, IPID and DPCI and destabilising these institutions, delaying recommended prosecutions and participating in the persecution of the NPA, IPID and DPCI officials and thus enabling the state capture of the criminal justice system, I deny any involvement with the alleged conduct of Kgomo or any knowledge thereof.

320. Ad paragraphs 87 to 100

320.1. These paragraphs, inter alia, allege that:

320.1.1. O' Sullivan laid a complaint at IPID against Phahlane pertaining to the construction of his Sable Hills residence. The IPID under Kgamanyane did not investigate this complaint and only did so when McBride returned from suspension when the latter constitute a task team to investigate the complaint with the assistance of O'Sullivan and Trent (see paragraph 88);

320.1.2. In response to this IPID investigation the SAPS commenced with counter investigations against IPID officials, which counter investigations resulted in a case being opened, under Kameeldrift 12/01/2017, against O'Sullivan and Trent. These charges resulted in IPID officials, Mahlangu and Binang, being joined by Molatlhwa Mashuga ("Mashuga"), the prosecutor in the matter, with O'Sullivan and Trent in the charges preferred against the latter two for contravening section 33(5) and 33(2) of the IPID Act.

320.2. Once again, no facts are set forth to explain what role I played in all these events and how such role was played out.

320.3. I was never involved in the investigation nor prosecution of this matter as is evident that it was Mashuga who is the prosecutor who dealt with this matter. As mentioned earlier in this affidavit, Mashuga has filed an extensive affidavit with the Commission explaining his involvement in this matter. Mashuga's confirmatory affidavit is attached hereto as annexure "GSM4".

GSM

320.4. As such, I deny the inferences and conclusions sought to be drawn from these allegations.

321. Ad paragraphs 101 to 118

321.1. These paragraphs, inter alia, allege that:

321.1.1. The purpose of the SAPS' counter-investigation was to impede the IPID investigation and thus undermine its independence.

321.1.2. As a result of such counter-investigation the IPID launched an urgent interdict against Phahlane, Mabula and Brigadier Ncube and later the rest of the Mabula team who were conducting counter-investigation against the IPID officials were added as respondents.

321.1.3. There is a recording in which one of the suspects admits to torturing the deceased in the Makau case which implicates Mabula. The recording which allegedly implicates Mabula was transcribed and is attached to McBride's affidavit as annexure "R". It appears that the so-called suspect admitted such allegation to Booysen who recorded the conversation.

GSM

321.1.4. The parties to the urgent interdict reached agreement to the effect that the SAPS would stop the counter-investigation against IPID officials.

321.1.5. McBride approached the Portfolio Committee on Police ("PCP"), the Minister of Police, Bheki Cele ("Cele") and the National Police Commissioner of Police General Kehla Sitole ("Sitole") and despite such requests for assistance none bore fruit.

321.2. Once again, no facts are set forth to explain what role I played in all these events and how such role was played out.

321.3. I have no knowledge of these court proceedings nor the alleged assistance sought from the Minister, the National Commissioner and or the PCP.

322. As such, I deny the inferences and conclusions sought to be drawn from these allegations.

N. AFFIDAVIT OF KAREN HELEN VAN RENSBURG

323. I specifically deny the allegations pertaining to me in this affidavit. I was never involved in the Kameeldrift as already demonstrated above.

O. AFFIDAVIT OF HELEN ELIZABETH VAN JAARSVELD

324. I specifically deny the allegations pertaining to me in this affidavit. I was never involved in the Kameeldrift as already demonstrated above.

P. THE ROGUE UNIT (BROOKLYN CAS 427/05/2015)

(a) Overview

325. In a nutshell, the Rogue Unit matter is about:

325.1. Whether SARS officials installed listening and monitoring devices at the offices of the Directorate of Special Operations ("DSO") and NPA offices of the following officials:

325.1.1. The former NDPP, Adv Vusi Pikoli ("Pikoli");

325.1.2. The former DNDPP, Adv Mokotedi Mpshe ("Mpshe");

325.1.3. The former DNDPP, Mr Willie Hofmeyer ("Hofmeyer");

325.1.4. Adv Kiliany Pillay ("Pillay");

325.1.5. Adv Gerrie Nel ("Nel");

325.1.6. Mr Andrew Leask ("Leask");

325.1.7. Ms Thanda Mgwengwe ("Mgwengwe").

325.2. If such devices were installed, as alleged by Helgard Lombard ("Lombard") and Skollie:

325.2.1. Who authorised such installations;

GSM

325.2.2. On what authority did such person rely;

325.2.3. If it was SARS management, whether SARS has the statutory authority not only to authorise, but also to carry out such surveillance.

326. I will demonstrate that SARS has no authority to authorise and/or conduct such surveillance, save for limited instances where SARS act with other law enforcement agencies, such as the Intelligence Division of the SANDF, the Intelligence Division of SAPS and the National Intelligence Agency, currently known as the State Security Agency.

327. I will also demonstrate by reference to legislative prescripts and witness statement that:

327.1. SARS is not statutorily authorised to act as it did; and 327.2. There is undisputed evidence that such surveillance equipment was installed in the offices of the officials referred to above.

(b) Formation

328. The High-Risk Investigation unit (commonly referred to as the Rogue Unit) owes its origin from the memo written from the office of the General Manager of the Enforcement and Risk division of SARS, Pillay dated 2 February 2007 and the then Commissioner of SARS, Gordhan directed to the former Minister of Finance, Mr Trevor Manuel ("Manuel") to seek approval for the funding of special capability within the former National Intelligence Agency (NIA) (currently known as the State Security Agency) to supply SARS and other law enforcement agencies with the necessary information to address the illicit economy, from where SARS was losing a lot of revenue. The Unit was called the Special Projects Unit, later it was referred to as the National Research Group and then it was called the High-Risk Investigations Unit ("HRU"). It was managed by Skollie from inception until 2008 and Van Loggerenberg from 2008 to 2009. A copy of the memorandum is attached hereto, marked as annexure "GSM21".

GSM

329. The purpose for the creation of the Unit is outlined in paragraph 1 of the Memo:

> "To seek approval to fund a special capability within NIA to supply SARS and law enforcement with the necessary information to address the illicit economy." (my emphasis).

330. It is clear that SARS had a huge challenge of loss of revenue within the illicit economy and that only a multi-disciplinary approach of dedicated law enforcement agencies could address the challenge effectively. The initial intentions of establishing the unit are genuine and perfectly in order. The idea was to place the unit within the NIA and it makes perfect sense, as NIA is the agency that has the legal mandate and the capability to collect covert intelligence.

331. Paragraph 2 of this memo recognises this fully that:

*"2.1 Collecting tactical intelligence invariably means penetrating and intercepting organised crime syndicates, an activity for which SARS does not presently have the capability (including the legislative mandate to manage clandestine activity).

*2.2 Discussions are taking place within the National Intelligence to supplement SARS intelligence capability. NIA is willing to create a ring-fenced capability, provided funds are made available to cover personnel costs. All other costs are covered by NIA. NIA is willing to formalise the above-mentioned arrangement into a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU)."

332. It appears clearly from this portion of the memo that there was awareness that there are organised crime syndicates in operation in the field concerned, which required to be penetrated, for a breakthrough to happen and that SARS alone does not have the capability to achieve this goal. There was anticipation that SARS and NIA would have to engage to face this challenge. What is strange is that the engagement between SARS and NIA only happened at the instance of Manala Manzini ("Manzini"), the former Director General of the NIA, and already at that time (in 2007) the recruitment and training of staff was already done by SARS alone, without any engagement of NIA.

333. After consulting with Manzini, and having his statement reduced to writing, I gained the distinct impression that Manzini expected that SARS would initiate the process of interaction as their memo is clear that "discussions are already taking place within NIA to supplement SARS's intelligence capability". Instead SARS had started the process of recruiting staff on its own without involving NIA. I agree with Manzini's expectation as SARS is the institution that required the assistance of NIA.

334. Gordhan signed the said memo on 8 February 2007 and the Deputy Minister, Mr Jabu Moleketi ("Moleketi") approved the request on 22 February 2007 and made hand written comments as follows: -

> "Supported however this is a strange way of executing what I consider to be an economic mandate of NIA… it seems as an add on rather than part of NIA's mandate".

335. Manuel approved the request on 22 February 2007 and explained that his approval was against an address by the former President Thabo Mbeki ("President Mbeki") on 9 February 2007 which hinted a process to modernise SARS and to improve inter-departmental structures in dealing with cash in transit heist, drug trafficking and poaching of game and abalone, which is commonly referred to as the illicit economy. It is clear that this capacity was being created within NIA not within SARS and that the memo seeks budget of NIA to be increased at an accelerated amount to cater for this expense. Moleketi's hand written endorsement recognises this as part of the economic mandate of NIA.

336. Manzini engaged with Pillay in respect of the establishment and location of this unit at the instance of NIA and an agreement was not reached as NIA correctly insisted that the Unit should be located within NIA in compliance with the National Strategic Intelligence Act 39 of 1994 and the Intelligence Services Act 65 of 2002. At the time of this engagement, the recruitment and training of staff attached to this unit was already done by SARS alone without any involvement of NIA.

337. It must be noted that the Legal Enforcement Division of Customs at SARS was requested on 22 January 2007 to provide a legal opinion or advice relating to the possible amendment of the National Strategic Intelligence Act 39 of 1994 wherein the former Director General of Justice, Adv Menzi Simelane ("Simelane") was asked for support for the amendment to the Interception Act, Act 70 of 2002 the effect of which SARS would be added as a Law Enforcement Agency together with NIA, the Defence and SA Police Service. It appears that SARS was impatience with the stance adopted by NIA that this additional specialised capacity to address the illicit economy should be based with NIA to support SARS.

(c) Contravention of Section 49(1), read with the Provisions of section 2 and Section 51(1)(b), as well as Section 1 of the Regulation of Interception of Communication and Provision of Communication – Related Information Act 70 of 2002 (RICA) – Unlawful Interception of Communication (against Pillay and Skolile)

338. The abovementioned charge relates to the unlawful fitment of Surveillance and Listening equipment within the offices of the former DSO and NPA offices (Operation Sunday Evenings). The elements of this offence are as follows:

338.1. Unlawful and intentional;

GSM

338.2. Interception of communication; and 338.3. Without authorisation of the designated judge in terms of section 16 of the RICA Act.

I. Unlawful and intentional conduct

339. Leask was the lead investigating officer of a case in which the former National Commissioner of Police and former Head of Interpol, Mr Jackie Selebi ("Selebi") was investigated for involvement in corrupt activities for his dealings with Mr Glen Norbet Agliotti ("Agliotti") for receiving quid pro quo payments and benefits from Agliotti.

340. In a meeting in the office of the former NDPP, Pikoli, attended by the management of the disbanded Directorate of Special Operations ("the DSO"), an agreement was reached that steps needed to be taken to enhance the security around the Selebi investigation to protect the officials involved therein.

341. The installation of security equipment which Pikoli authorised was overt, not covert. Adv Leornard McCarthy ("McCarthy"), Nel and Mngwengwe were parties to the meeting.

342. McCarthy advised Leask to seek the assistance of Skollie for advice on what steps could be taken to enhance the security of their documents and staff. Leask remembered that Skollie used to frequent the offices of the DSO when Pete Richer ("Richer") was at the DSO.

GSM

343. Leask contacted Johannes de Waal ("de Waal") asking him if he could get hold of Skollie, as they wanted to upgrade their security at the DSO offices. De Waal gave Leask the contact details of Skollie. Leask then contacted Skollie enquiring about a security upgrade at the NPA and DSO offices. Leask arranged a meeting with Skollie where they discussed the security equipment required. Leask and Nel informed Skollie that the equipment they required must have the capability to detect real time intrusions, remote viewing and recording.

344. Lombard stated that Skollie instructed him not to tell Leask and Nel that they were SARS employees, as they could use the business of installing the equipment as an opportunity to a make profit for the Special Projects Unit.

345. Lombard used his dormant company, Protech Security Consultants to submit a quotation to the NPA. Pieter Jonker ("Jonker") of the DSO paid Lombard two (2) separate cash amounts of R900 000 and R250 000 to purchase the equipment. The cash amounts were withdrawn from the Confidential Fund (C-Fund) of the DSO. Lombard then deposited the cash amounts into his wife's ABSA Bank account, with the permission of Skollie. I annex hereto a statement of Jonker, marked as annexure "GSM22" where the aforementioned is stated. From the aforesaid, it is clear that the manner in which the cash money was dealt with, was to avoid linking the DSO to the transactions.

GSM

346. In his statement, Lombard stated that he enquired from Skollie about the existence of section 16 of the RICA Act authorisation ("the authorisation"). A week later, Skollie informed him that he had spoken to Pillay, who informed him that the authorisation was with the lawyers, and also that, President Mbeki had given approval of the operation. I attach hereto the statement of Lombard (A34 in the docket), marked as annexure "GSM23.1", together with annexures A to Z thereto. I attach hereto the affidavit of Lombard (A129 of the docket) dated 24 October 2016, marked as annexure "GSM23.2". I attach hereto Lombard's supplementary affidavit (A147 of the docket), marked as annexure "GSM23.3".

347. Lombard and Skollie installed the surveillance equipment in the late afternoons and evenings when there were no employees at the offices of the NPA and DSO. Some of the offices in which the surveillance equipment was installed include the following offices and boardrooms:

347.1. The office of Pikoli and his boardroom;

347.2. The office of Mpshe;

347.3. The office of Hofmeyer;

347.4. The office of K Pillay;

347.5. The office of the Director Administration of the NDPP, Danie Schmidt ("Schmidt");

GSM

347.6. The office of the Divisional Head of Operational Support Division, John Izak Welsh ("Welsh");

347.7. The office of Nel;

347.8. The office of Mngwengwe;

347.9. The office of Leask; and 347.10. The office of the Special Investigator, Slang Mangwale ("Slang").

ii. Interception of communication – The capability of the equipment fitted

348. In his statement, Lombard indicated that the equipment had the capability to detect an intrusion and send a signal via cell phones to the identified NPA and DSO members who could then view it remotely and have it recorded onto a disk.

349. Lombard stated that he was able to access the equipment remotely because Leask had reported that from time to time the system would hang up and the NPA and the DSO officials would not have access thereto. Upon investigation, Leask discovered that the signal was poor and there was a bug on the 3G routers which caused the system to hang up from time to time. Lombard then asked Leask for permission to connect remotely to prevent the hanging ups. Leask gave him verbal permission to connect remotely.

GSM

350. Lombard and de Waal indicated that they used it as an opportunity to eavesdrop on the NPA and DSO at the request of Pillay and Skollie in 2007, as Pillay was interested in the investigation which the DSO was conducting into the activities of the former Commissioner of Police, Jackie Selebi and Glen Agliotti. Skollie informed Lombard that he had been contacted by Leask to install a security system at the NPA and DSO offices, as Leask and Nel suspected that the SAPS had gained access to sensitive documents relating to the Selebi investigation. Lombard stated that Skollie informed him that Pillay and President Mbeki were also interested in knowing more about the prosecution of the Jacob Zuma ("Zuma"), which the DSO was contemplating or investigating at the time.

351. The covert equipment initially requested is listed in Annexure "B" to annexure "GSM23.1" hereto, which consisted of:

351.1. CCTV cameras, overt and concealed complete with digital video recorders and microphones;

351.2. Equipment to monitor and view remotely, ie GSM 3G routers;

351.3. Alarm systems at certain offices; and 351.4. Access control system in the Special Investigation area Boardroom protection to counter eavesdropping devices Window tint.

GSM

352. Leask and Nel later verbally added the following audio capability to be used with the CCTV cameras:

352.1. Cellular phones with remote viewing software;

352.2. Digital audio recorders & concealed microphones; and 352.3. Cell phone encryption with Military specification software, to install this service one must register with the Department of Communication as a "Cryptography service provider", which he did on 21 August 2007. A receipt of R300 of a Nedbank deposit for registration as a "Cryptography service provider" to the Department of Communications is attached to Annexure "GSM23.1" hereto as Annexure "C".

353. On 12 July 2007, Jonker called Lombard and informed him that the funds for the installation of the equipment were ready, and Lombard was given R300 705.46 in cash which he deposited into his wife's ABSA Bank account. On 17 July 2007, he received a further amount of R600 000.46 which he also collected from Jonker and deposited into the same account. The bank statements annexed to Annexure "GSM23.1" hereto as Annexure "D" confirm the deposits into his wife's bank account.

354. In order to verify the capability of the equipment that Lombard had installed in the offices of the NPA and DSO, I requested the investigating team to confirm the capability of the equipment as indicated by Lombard. Captain Freddy Sewele ("Sewele") instructed Izak Johannes Fisher

("Fisher"), a Colonel at the Head Office of the Crime Intelligence, attached to the Technical Support Unit, who holds a Diploma in Police Administration, Electrical Engineering, and a Higher Diploma in Electrical Engineering, to inspect the equipment to verify its capability. I annex hereto a copy of Fisher's statement marked as "GSM24".

III. Without Authorisation of the Designated Judge in terms of Section 16 of the RICA Act – The Installation of the Surveillance Equipment

355. The installation of the equipment commenced in July 2007. In the beginning, Skollie accompanied Lombard and assisted with the installation. The installation mainly took place after-hours to avoid exposure from the staff who had links with the SAPS. The Manuals of the equipment fitted at the NPA and DSO offices are attached to Annexure "GSM23.1" hereto as Annexure "F" to "J", and include the following:

355.1. Pinhole Cameras (Leask; Nel)

355.2. High resolution cameras (Leask; Nel; Pikoli; Slang)

355.3. Minidome cameras (Leask; Mgwengwe)

355.4. CMOS snake camera (Nel; Welsh)

355.5. Mobile phone video monitoring Software (Schmidt; Mgwengwe; Nel; Welsh; Leask; Slang)

355.6. Firewall pro

GSM

355.7. Magical Security 128 Encryption

355.8. Diasonic Voice Recorder

355.9. Solid Voice recorder

355.10. PMD660

355.11. Marantz Recorder

The above brackets are the names of the officials in whose offices the equipment was installed.

356. Lombard further stated that the Digital Video Recorders ("DVR") could be accessed by any official into whose office the equipment was fitted and could only be downloaded by Leask, Nel and Lombard. The equipment was set up on basic security mode with username "administrator" and password "000000". There was no server, and hence, the dates were kept on the equipment's hard drive. Each DVR had an 80GB Hard Drive Disk ("HDD") installed and all the videos were recorded on the HDD. A notebook could be used to download data (audio or video) from the HDD of the notebook. A list of all SARS notebooks, with their serial numbers, used to download the videos and recordings is provided in Annexure "GSM23.1" hereto as Annexure "L" ("the list"). After downloading the data (Video or audio), de Waal would burn a CD of it and hand it to Skollie.

357. On 25 May 2016 from 19:21 to 22:25, Lombard accompanied by his legal representative, Adv Fanie Schnetler ("Schnetler"), pointed out all the offices where the surveillance equipment was installed to Colonel Tshabalala of East Tshwane police station in accordance with section 208 of the Criminal Procedure Act 51 of 1977.

358. It was at this pointing out session that additional surveillance equipment which was still within the offices of the NPA and DSO was removed with the assistance of the officials from Crime Intelligence Technical Support Unit.

iv. Evidence of Unlawful Conduct – Listening and Transcribing of the video/audio

359. In early October 2007, de Waal was requested by Skollie to transcribe audios of the videos from the offices of the NPA and DSO in which the equipment was fitted, at his house in Irene, Centurion. De Waal asked Skollie if there was an authorisation for the operation, and Skollie explained that "only the President" and Pillay were aware of the operation. Skollie added that he would show de Waal the authorisation once he obtained it, but never did. Skollie further added that Lombard would never have fitted the equipment if there was no proper authorisation. De Waal stated that, at the time, he knew that the DSO was investigating cases relating to Selebi, Shabir Schaik ("Shaik") and Zuma. Further, he stated that at the time, there were tensions between the DSO and SARS, as Pillay was refusing to release tax information of persons that the DSO was investigating.

GSM

360. De Waal downloaded the video and audio portions of the recordings every Sunday evening on Skollie's laptop. Thereafter, he transcribed the audio portions of the recordings, and subsequently handed them over to Skollie, who would then give them to Pillay. Skollie perused the documents and placed them in an envelope(s) and gave de Waal instructions to hand-deliver the envelope(s) to Pillay.

361. De Waal stated that Pillay never opened the envelope(s) in his presence and never discussed the contents of the envelope(s) with him. De Waal transcribed the first audio on 3 October 2007, and the last on 28 November 2007. Before joining SARS, de Waal was involved in numerous operations at the NIA under the management of Skollie and had always worked on verbal instructions without having seen the actual authorisation.

362. The objective facts set out above demonstrate that the charges in the Rogue Unit case were not "trumped up charges", as alleged by Booysen and McBride. As far as I am aware, none of the persons in respect of whom it is alleged that the charges were "trumped up", came before the Commission in support of Booysen and McBride's unfounded and malicious allegations.

v. The Accused persons

363. The abovementioned charges were preferred against Pillay in his capacity as General Manager of the Enforcement and Risk Division of SARS, Skollie, in his capacity as a Specialist Agent within the Enforcement and

GSM

Risk Division of SARS in charge of the Surveillance Unit and Van Loggerenberg, in his capacity as a Special Officer in the office of the General Manager of the Enforcement and Risk Division of SARS.

(d) (Contravention of the Section 10, read with Sections 1, 2, 24, 25, and 26(1)(a) of the Prevention and Combating of Corrupt Activities Act 12 of 2004 – Unauthorised Gratification by a Party to an Employment Relationship (against Pillay and Van Loggerenberg)

364. The abovementioned charge relates to the unlawful and unauthorised gratification in the amount of approximately R100 000.00 for the benefit of Lombard, for acting in relation to the exercise, carrying out or performance of his powers, duties or functions within the scope of Lombard's employment with SARS. This amount was the remainder of the funds utilised for the unlawful installation of video and listening equipment within the offices of the NPA and DSO. The elements of this offence are as follows:

364.1. Employment at SARS;

364.2. Performance of duties;

364.3. Unauthorised gratification;

364.4. Benefit of themselves or another.

365. Below I discuss in detail the elements of the offence.

(e) Employee of SARS

G. Sm

366. In 2005, whilst Lombard was employed at South African Defence Force Intelligence ("DI"), Charl Fourie ("Fourie") and De Waal approached him to enquire whether he was interested in taking up a position in a Unit that SARS intended to establish. He informed them that he was interested. Whilst Lombard was at DI, he was involved in surveillance operations together with SAPS and the DSO.

367. In 2006, Lombard received a call from Skollie and he was questioned about his technical abilities, after which he was invited to participate in a psychological, integrity and IQ test. After obtaining a Top Secret Clearance, Lombard was offered a position as a Specialist Agent: Custom Border Control Unit at SARS, and commenced in that capacity on 1 March 2007. A copy of his appointment letter is annexed to Annexure "GSM23.1" hereto as Annexure A.

368. Lombard reported to Skollie, who, in turn, reported to Pillay, who reported to Gordhan. At the time of Lombard's appointment, Skollie advised him that members of the newly formed Unit would not be exposed to other SARS employees, would work from home or guest houses, and the Unit would operate on a need-to-know basis. Lombard's version is corroborated by various witnesses, whose statements are attached hereto, marked as follows:

368.1. Jappie Tshabalala ("Tshabalala") – Annexure "GSM25";

368.2. Eric Khulekani Khwela ("Khwela") – Annexure "GSM26";

GSM

368.3. Norah Pitsi ("Pitsi") – Annexure "GSM27";

368.4. Dillo Nyapudi ("Nyapudi") – Annexure "GSM28";

368.5. Danie le Roux ("Le Roux") – annexure "GSM29";

368.6. Francois van Niekerk ("Van Niekerk") – annexure "GSM30".

(f) Performance of duties

369. In May 2007, Skollie enquired from Lombard whether it was possible to instal video and listening equipment at the offices of the NPA and DSO. Lombard stated that it was possible if they had the requisite authorisation in terms of Section 16 of RICA from the designated judge.

370. In June 2007, Skollie informed Lombard that Leask from the DSO had contacted him to instal video and listening equipment at the offices of the NPA and the DSO, as they expected that SAPS had gained access to sensitive documents relating to the Selebi and Agliotti investigations. Lombard and Skollie met with Leask and Nel who advised them what equipment they required and they furnished a quotation for such equipment to Leask and Nel. Jonker phoned Lombard to advise him to collect the money for the equipment.

371. In July 2007, Lombard and Skollie installed the video and listening equipment at the offices of the NPA and DSO. The equipment was removed on 2 June 2016. Photos of the equipment which were removed from the offices of the NPA and the DSO, the premises it was and the process of its removal, are attached as annexure "GSM31". Lombard is depicted in many of the photos, removing the equipment.

372. In Mid September 2007, Skollie requested Lombard to monitor the meetings in the offices where the video and listening equipment was installed. Lombard verbally reported to Skollie, who requested him to download the footage and recordings. Lombard did so and handed the footage and recordings over to Skollie, who, in turn, requested De Waal to transcribe the recordings.

(g) Unauthorised gratification for and Benefit of themselves or others

373. After all the equipment had been installed at the offices of the NPA and the DSO, and all the reconciliation of the finances on the installation had been concluded, an amount of approximately R100 000.00 was left of the amount collected by Lombard.

374. Lombard enquired from Pillay and Van Loggerenberg into which account of SARS the above amount must be paid. Both Pillay and Van Loggerenberg advised Lombard that there is no provision made for such an amount and the amount cannot be paid to SARS. They further advised Lombard that he must keep the money for himself, and should anybody ask about the money, he must tell them that it was a private installation. Lombard declared in the 2008 tax year a profit of R112 740.00 and paid an amount of R45 096.00 as 40% tax.

GSM

375. It is clear from the above that the amount paid for the installation was not authorised through the normal process of SARS, hence the fact that no provision was made for the money left over to be paid back to SARS.

376. In 2008, in order to bring the unauthorised transaction in line with the requirements of SARS with regard to private employment by SARS employees, Van Loggerenberg signed an authorisation to Lombard in respect of the private installation, despite the fact that Van Loggerenberg was not in charge of the Unit at the time of the installation. The authorisation is attached to Annexure "GSM23.1" hereto as Annexure

(h) Alternative count – General corruption

377. This charge relates to general corruption. In the event that the Court would find that there was no employment relationship between SARS and Lombard, this alternative charge was proffered in order to demonstrate that the receipt of the approximate R100 000.00 by Lombard, amounted to general corruption.

Q. EARLY RETIREMENT OF PILLAY AND REAPPOINTMENT IN THE SAME CAPACITY

(a) Overview

378. As the investigating team and I were working on the settlement package between Skollie and SARS, which was causing uneasiness amongst some SARS employees, we came across correspondence relating to the early retirement of Pillay. Perusal of the correspondence appeared to display a possible irregular, fruitless and wasteful expenditure and unauthorised expenditure in respect of the early retirement of Pillay by SARS. It appeared very improper that SARS could pay a retirement penalty for an employee particularly when he takes early retirement due to purely personal reasons.

379. I illustrate below that the payment of the early retirement penalty by SARS exposed SARS to irregular expenditure and was criminal. The opinion supplied by Symington is in my view incorrect and not in line with the law and GEPF Regulations. I did not have Symington's statement in the docket when the decision to prosecute was made. I only received it after representations were submitted to Abrahams. The decision would still have been the same with the opinion as it does not provide sound legal reasons and motivation for the view expressed by Symington.

380. Booysen alleges that I am part of prosecutors who prosecuted Gordhan, McBride, van Loggerenberg, Pillay, Magashula, Sesoko and Van Rensburg maliciously. He further alleges that I acted in disregard of the Constitution and the oath of office. I will demonstrate by reference to legislative prescripts and evidence in witness statements that there were cogent justification for pursuing the charges which were preferred against the person in respect of whom the charges were preferred. Despite the fact that the charges have been withdrawn, I still hold the view that they were wrongly withdrawn. It must also be noted that it is not Gordhan, Magashula or Van Rensburg raising these issues, it is Booysen and McBride complaining on their behalf.

G S M

381. The charges against Gordhan, Pillay and Magashula were the following: -

381.1. Fraud in that a false pretence was given to SARS and National Treasury to its prejudice that SARS was liable to pay in excess of a million rands to the Government Employees Pension Fund (GEPF) on behalf of Pillay which was a penalty for taking early retirement for personal reasons.

381.2. Contravention of the Public Finance Management Act by causing SARS to incur or failing to prevent irregular, fruitless, wasteful and unauthorised expenditure.

381.3. A further fraud in that a false pretence was given out to the Human Resources of SARS to its prejudice to enter into an employment agreement with Pillay for a remuneration package for a period of five (5) years instead of three years which was in the approved memo.

381.4. A further fraud in that a false pretence was given to Human Resources of SARS to its prejudice to enter into an employment contract with Pillay for a period of four (4) years when there was no approved internal memo or letter authorising same.

382. Pillay in a memo attached to Christina Susana Visser's statement as "CSV 03" informed Magashula in his capacity as Commissioner of SARS that he has decided to take early retirement and was requiring that the Minister approve of his early retirement with full benefits, for family considerations and that the Minister of Finance should reappoint him in the same capacity as a contract employee for three (3) years. A further request was that the Minister should approve that the early retirement penalty imposed on his pension in terms of Rule 14.3.3 (b) of the GEPF rules, be paid by SARS to the GEPF.

GSM

(b) Fraud

383. In this affidavit, I only set out the elements of the offence of fraud, because the evidence pertaining to contravention of the PFMA and GEPF Rules were fully set out in the affidavit of Torie to which I make reference and quote in this affidavit for ease of reference.

384. The elements of the offence of fraud are: -

384.1. The unlawful making of a misrepresentation,

384.2. to SARS and or the Human Resources division of SARS,

384.3. to the prejudice or potential prejudice of SARS,

384.4. knowing that such representation was false when it was made,

384.5. with the intention to defraud.

385. The following evidence was at my disposal in the docket when the decision to prosecute was made: -

GSM

385.1. On 12 August 2010 the former Commissioner of SARS, Magashula requested the former Minister of Finance, Gordhan to approve the early retirement of Pillay from SARS with full retirement benefits with effect from 1 September 2010 and that SARS must pay the early retirement penalty that is payable to the GEPF as contemplated in Rule 14.3.3(b) of the GEPF Pension law read with section 19 of SARS Act and section 16 (2A) of the Public Service Act, 1994. Approval was also sought for Pillay to be retained as Deputy Commissioner on contract for three (3) years. Effectively Pillay would be enabled to pay for his children's education and continue his employment at SARS for another three (3) years, whilst SARS would suffer financial loss of in excess of a million rands;

385.2. Provision is made in the memo for the former Deputy Minster, Nhlanhla Nene to recommend the proposal but the former Minister, Gordhan approved the early retirement without any signature of Nene. Nene explained that he had no recollection of the memo being presented to him for comment. The statements of Susan Venter (A130), Nico Coetzee (A102), Estelle van Niekerk (A100) and others based at Human Resources and Finance sections of SARS are in the docket. Gerda van den Heever (A104) who also took early retirement from SARS at an age of 58 after serving SARS for twenty-seven (27) years was not accorded the same privilege as Pillay, she repaid her penalty to GEPF after SARS paid it;

385.3. After Pillay went on early retirement, Magashule entered into an employment agreement with Pillay in the same capacity for a period of five (5) years commencing 1 January 2011 knowing that the approval granted was for a period of three (3) years only;

385.4. When Gordhan was appointed a Minister of Co-operative Government in May 2014, he extended Pillay's contract for another four (4) years when there no internal memos authorising same when his employment contract was terminating in 2015. The contract still had a year to run before it expired.

(c) The representations made by Pillay and Magashule, the opinion of Symington and the prosecution teams view pertaining thereto

386. After, Pillay and Magashule had made representation and an application was instituted by Freedom Under Law ("FUL") against President of South Africa and NPA, Abrahams became aware of the opinion prepared by Symington. Abrahams was of the view that the prosecution could not prove intention on the part of the accused because they relied on the opinion.

387. Abrahams in line with the trite principle of seeking the views of the prosecutor seized with the matter requested that I consider the opinion prepared by Symington and furnish him with my views. In response to Abrahams request, I expressly stated that the opinion supplied by

Symington was (and still is) in my view incorrect and not in line with the law and GEPF Regulations. As such, my decision would still have been the same (and is still the same) with the opinion as it does not provide sound legal reasons and motivation for the view expressed.

388. I expressed my views in a memorandum dated 19 October 2016, attached hereto, marked as annexure "GSM32" addressed to Pretorius and Abrahams where I, inter alia, stated as follows:

"A: INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this report is to provide the Acting Special Director of the Priority Crimes Litigation Unit with the prosecuting team's inputs having read the representations received by the office from accused 1 and 2's legal representatives.

We thank Adv Pretorius for the opportunity and hope that our inputs will be given due consideration.

B: BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE REPRESENTATIONS

Oupa Magashula

Tilney Incorporated rely on a note dated 18 October 2016 prepared by Adv De Jager SC. It appears therefrom that there are no factual disputes, only the interpretation of the law seems to be the points in issue. We do not agree, there are factual disputes, Mr Pillay wrote two(2) separate internal memos undated, one addressed to Accused 1(Magashula) and the other addressed to Accused 3 (Gordhan)

In the one addressed to Magashula he mentions the reason for his early retirement as "I was expected to perform at a very high level accompanied by accountabilities that go with the performance of such a high level job. This exacted its toll from me in the sense that my health condition is slowly deteriorating. Added to this, my family responsibilities, for a long time, suffered on account of the dedication required by my job…I have decided to take early retirement."

In the one addressed to Accused 3 (Gordhan) he states:

> "I have reached a stage in my life where it has become a reality that I had to make some very important decisions about the education of my children. The decision I have taken will require a considerable capital investment, money that can be raised by means of a bank loan, but which would be prohibitively expensive in view of the current financial circumstances where very high rates of interests are the order of the day and indications are that this situation will prevail for the foreseeable future. In view of this I have decided to inform you that I intend to retire in 2009 when I reach the age of 56 years. As I have already reached the earliest optional retirement age of 55 years in terms of the SARS retirement provisions, the retirements benefits will provide me with a lump sum benefit (which will financially support the decision I have made in terms of the education of my children) as well as a monthly pension. Whilst this may not be ideal in terms of maximum benefits when finally retiring, I am of the opinion that this is the best option available to me as far as my children's education is concerned.

This brings me to the second issue at stake, namely how I view my retirement as raised above. Clearly I am doing this on account of a matter that has nothing to do with my work at SARS. I still feel that I am still capable of doing my work, I still have the enthusiasm and will to do it and I am of the opinion that through my work, I can still contribute to the establishment of an even better South Africa for all its citizens."

Clearly the two separate reasons for early retirement are very different and mutually contradictory to each other. Section 16(6)(a) of the Public Service Act 103 of 1994 requires that the Executive Authority may authorise an employee to take early retirement if there are sufficient reasons (our underlining) to take such early retirement. In our view the reasons advanced for such early retirement, mutually contradictory to each other as they are, are purely personal and have nothing to do with his obligations towards SARS. The officials at Human Resources did warn accused 1 that implementation of the decision will amount to SARS paying for the education of Pillay's children, but they were simply ignored.

GSM

In the accused representations, it is alleged that the accused received legal advice from Mr Viok Symington from the SARS Legal and Policy Department, with respect this advice, despite being unsigned, is in our view very vague and no reasonable person may rely on such unmotivated and baseless advice. It is non-committal, as it only states that "approached individually, all three elements are technically possible under the rules of the GEPF read together with the Employment Policies of SARS. It is not clear what he means that the Minister may "waive" the early retirement penalty as if the penalty is payable to the Minister, the penalty should be paid to the GEPF and Rule 14.3.3 requires it to be paid by the employee and not the employer. No legislation authorises the Minster to direct that the early retirement penalty should be paid by the employer and to the extent that the Minister caused SARS to incur such unnecessary expenditure, the Minister is equally liable in terms of the law.

We have asked the Investigating team to approach Mr Viok Symington to verify the veracity of his opinion and we should receive his statement tomorrow.

We are of the view that there are sufficient facts to prove unlawfulness and intention to defraud SARS. The Minister did not exercise his discretion in accordance with the law, he exercised his discretion contrary to Rule 14.3.3 and the fact that some legal advisor from Legal and Policy Affairs of SARS says it is permissible without the legal basis of such an opinion does not make his conduct lawful. The Minister acted ultra vires his powers and not in line with Rule 14.3.3 of the GEPF. It is significant that the representors do not mention this rule at all and why the accused 2 should be "exempted" from paying the early retirement penalty.

The 3 000 employees from various government departments in respect of whom early retirement with full benefits were approved, referred to as Appendix A in the memo could not be traced and if it were to be located, would differ materially with Mr Pillay's case in that they were early retirements for entirely different considerations (dispensation for affirmative action considerations, not purely personal reasons like those advanced by Pillay). The same applies to the five such requests which were allegedly approved by the Minister and or the former Minister.

Representations on behalf of Pillay

The representations on behalf of Accused 2 refer to sections of the Act that we have already dealt with and do not raise any new issues. We are not aware what public policy considerations the NDPP was addressed on and cannot comment thereon. If the public policy consideration referred to is the prevailing public criticism of the decision to charge the accused, it would then mean the NPA should succumb to pressure and thereby lose its independence and credibility.

C: RECOMMENDATION

GSM

It is recommended that in the absence of cogent reasons why prosecution should be reconsidered, the representations must be turned down and prosecution of all three (3) accused persons must continue."

389. The views expressed in my memorandum were also confirmed by private counsel who was briefed to draft the NPA's answering affidavit in the FUL application and the contents of that affidavit are set out in detail in the affidavit of Torie's filed in the Commission. I align myself with the contents of Torie's affidavit as set out in paragraphs 241.3 to 250 as well as paragraph 250 to 306 in respect of the analysis of the employment contract of Pillay. For ease of reference, I quote these paragraph below:

"Despite the fact that the charges have been withdrawn, I still hold the view that they were wrongly withdrawn."

390. One of the complaints that McBride and Booysen have lumped into the litany of matters they rely on to try and prove a point that the NPA is captured, relates to criminal charges that were preferred against Mr Oupa Magashula ("Magashula"), Pillay, and the then Minister of Finance Mr Pravin Gordhan ("Gordhan"), relating to the pension pay out to Pillay. This prosecution came midstream in the investigation of the unlawful interception of communication at 12 NPA offices.

391. Whilst guiding the investigation pertaining to the unlawful SARS intelligence unit, certain facts came to my attention, which facts indicated a possible contravention of legal prescripts relating to the pension pay out of Pillay. Since the PCLU has to guide and manage the investigation of matters referred to them, and matters incidental thereto, I was obliged to guide the investigators and request them to investigate Pillay's pension pay out.

392. I have perused the affidavit of Pretorius and agree with what is stated in his affidavit pertaining to the reasons for instituting criminal proceedings against Magashula, Pillay and Gordon. In this regard I specifically refer the commission to the relevant paragraphs of Pretorius' affidavit and for ease of reference set out same herein below:

> "PURPOSE
> The purpose of this memorandum is to explain that I have decided to take early retirement as well as to request you to consider to recommend for possible approval by the Minister certain related matters that will flow from my decision to take early retirement.
> DISCUSSION
> As you know, I have been working in the Public Sector for the past 15 years, 10 which have been spent at SARS. For the most part of this period, especially my tenure with SARS, I was expected to perform at a very high level accompanied by the accountabilities that go with the performance of such a high-level job. This exacted its toll from me in the sense that my health condition is slowly deteriorating. Added to this, my family responsibilities, for a long time, suffered on account of the dedication required by my job. With the aforementioned in mind, although still not easy, I have decided to take early retirement.

However, I am still enthusiastic about SARS and the tremendous contribution it makes towards the establishment of an even better South Africa for all its citizens. With a view thereto, I am willing to serve in SARS in a different capacity where the demands of such a job will positivity support the reasons why I am in the first instance taking early retirement. (my emphasis)

Should you favourably consider my proposal to serve SARS in a different capacity, such service will have to be subject to that I be appointed as a contract employee. This will allow me more flexibility in terms of making a decision to finally part ways with SARS, should I come to such a decision. The second condition would be that my early retirement is approved in terms of the provisions of section 16(6)(a) and (b) of the Public Service Act, meaning that the Minister, in terms of the provisions of the abovementioned section approve that the penalty imposed on my pension benefits per Rule 14.3.3(b) of the GEPF Rules be paid by SARS to the GEPF. The GEPF has indicated that the penalty amount on my pension benefits that the employer has to pay on my behalf is R1 292 732,68. (my emphasis)

RECOMMENDATION

My recommendations are that you please:

- take note that I intend to take early retirement
- consider to approve that I be appointed in a different capacity in SARS on a contract basis; and
- consider to recommend to the Minister that he approves that the penalty on my pension benefits be paid on my behalf to the GEPF by the employer."

242. What is clear from the above quoted memorandum is the following:

242.1 Pillay's decision to take early retirement was for personal reasons which had absolutely nothing to do with the business of SARS at the time (and even thereafter);

242.2 Pillay asked to be appointed in a "different capacity" where the demands of such a job will positively support "the reasons why I am in the first instance taking early retirement";

242.3 Pillay was fully aware that the ordinary consequences of his decision to take early retirement were, amongst others, that he himself would have to pay a penalty to the GEPF for his early retirement. It is for this reason that he then asked SARS "to pay on (his) behalf" of himself the amount of R1 292 732.68 as opposed to him paying the penalty himself from his own personal funds, by having his pension benefits reduced.

243. Also, in 2009 Pillay wrote directly to the Minister where he made a different request to approve his application for early retirement for different reasons ("the second retirement application").

G S M

244. In his undated memorandum attached as "SA10" "to Annexure "B" in the main application, motivating the first retirement application, Pillay said the following the Gordhan:

"Dear Pravin,

PURPOSE

The purpose of this memorandum is to explain the reason why I have decided to take early retirement as well as to request you to consider to approve/recommend certain related matters that will flow from my decision to take early retirement.

DISCUSSION

I have reached the stage in my life where it has become a reality that I had to make some very important decisions about the education of my children. The decisions I have taken will require a considerable capital investment, money that can be raised by means of a bank loan, but which would be prohibitively expensive in view of the current financial circumstances where very high rates of interest are the order of the day and indications are that this situation will prevail for the foreseeable future.

In view of this I have decided to inform you that I intend to retire in 2009 when I reach the age of 56. As I have already reached the earliest optional retirement age of 55 years in terms of SARS retirement provisions, the retirement benefits will provide me with a lump sum benefit (which will financially support the decision I have made in terms of the education of my children) as well as a monthly pension. Whilst this may not be ideal in terms of maximum benefits when finally retiring, I am of the opinion that this is the best option available to me as far as my children's education is concerned.

This brings me to the second issue at stake, namely how I view my retirement as raised above. Clearly I am doing this on account of a matter that has nothing to do with my work at SARS. I still feel that I am still capable of doing my work, I still have the enthusiasm and will to do it and I am of the opinion that through my work, I can still contribute to the establishment of an even better South Africa for all its citizens. Taking this into account, I will appreciate it if you could consider to approve that immediately after my early retirement, appoint me as a contract employee. No legal provision prevents you from making such an appointment.

GSM

The third matter is slightly more technical and complicated and it concerns my early retirement benefits payable by the GEPF. Although the Rules of the GEPF provides that a member of the GEPF can elect to retire from the age of 55 years and onwards, there is a penalty payable in terms of the benefits ... As I intend to take early retirement at age 56 years ... my pension benefits will be reduced by 14.4%. it was realized that the provisions of this particular GEPF Rule prevented many employees from an early retirement and in many instances these were employees Departments would have liked to take early retirement. In an effort to address the situation, Section 16(6) of the Public Service Act ... was amended to provide that where early retirement is applied for, Ministers can approve that employees (Departments/SARS) pay the penalties imposed on early retirees in terms of the GEPF Rules.

In view of this it would be appreciated if you, when I take early retirement, would recommend to the Minister that SARS pay to the GEPF my early retirement GEPF penalties. It is estimated that the penalties will amount to R1 064 257."

245. In the above quoted memorandum:

GSM

245.1 Pillay states correctly that what "I am doing ... has nothing to do with my work at SARS";

245.2 Pillay appreciates that "there is a penalty payable in terms of the benefits" for the early retirement which he has decided to take and that "my pension benefits will be reduced by 14.4%";

245.3 Pillay is wrong in saying that section 16(6) of the Public Services Act was amended to enable government employees to pay penalties on behalf of their early retirees. The correct position is that the penalty is imposed by the Rules of the GEPF and the relevant Rule has never been amended to do that which Pillay asked the then Commissioner at the time, Gordhan, to do;

245.4 Pillay further says that whatever decision he has taken (to take early retirement) is intended to provide him with funds for the purpose of paying for the education of his children which funds "can be raised by means of a bank loan, but which would be prohibitively expensive in view of the current financial circumstances where very high rates of interest are the order of the day ...". It is therefore clear from this that Pillay simply wanted the taxpayers to save him from the ordinary financial hardships which he was facing and to which all taxpayers are exposed.

245.5 The first retirement application was not approved. It is not clear why it was not approved.

246. The fact that Pillay was fully aware of the aforesaid financial implications of his decisions to take early retirement is also apparent from the contents of the so-called Symington memorandum. In this memorandum, which is dated the 17th of March 2009 (which is a date long before the date of Pillay's above quoted memorandum dated the 27th of November 2009) Symington said the following:

> "However, the financial soundness of his decision to apply for early retirement is dependent on whether the Minister approves SARS payment of the benefit penalty to the GEPF as well as whether SARS contracts with him for a period of post-retirement employment. This is so because of the relatively young age at which he will be retiring vis-à-vis his projected life expectancy. If the Minister does not approve his request or if SARS does not contract with him after his retirement, the financial risk of his decision will increase substantially and my advice then would be for him to review his application for early retirement and to possibly withdraw it.

...

... However, if the minister is unable to approve his request relating to the penalty of if SARS is not in a position to contract with him after retirement, then his decision to apply for early retirement should probably all together be withdrawn."

247. The following is apparent from the Symington memorandum:

247.1 It is dated the 17th of March 2009 and it is addressed to the Commissioner for SARS.

247.2 Gordhan was the Commissioner for SARS until May 2009 and the Symington memorandum must have been addressed to him. There is nothing to suggest that Gordhan did not receive the Symington memorandum.

247.3 What Symington is saying in his memorandum is simply that Pillay's decision to take early retirement is not financially sound unless:

GSM

247.3.1 the Minister of Finance (at the time Trevor Manuel) approved the payment by SARS of the benefit penalty to the GEPF the payment of which would have been triggered by Pillay's early retirement; and 247.3.2 the Minister of Finance also approved that SARS should at the same time enter into a post-retirement contract of employment with Pillay.

247.4 Symington did not say that it was lawful for Gordhan and Magashule to burden the taxpayer with Pillay's penalty in excess of R1.2 million levied upon him as a result of his decision to take early retirement – which decision was clearly a ruse to enable him to access his pension benefits to fund the education of his children. At the end, SARS ended up financing a big portion of Pillay's children's education as stated in the affidavits to which I refer below.

248. The effect of the above is simply that in order to ensure that Pillay's early retirement did not result in financial prejudice to him, SARS had to pay the benefit penalty to the GEPF. It then entered into a post-retirement employment contract with him, otherwise, according to Symington, Pillay's decision to take early retirement would not have been financially sound.

249. It is for this reason that Symington made it clear in his memorandum that unless the Minister of Finance approved the whole package, i.e. early retirement, payment of the benefit penalty to SARS on behalf of Pillay, and post-retirement employment of Pillay by SARS (without advertising the position), Pillay would have had to forget about taking early retirement and would have had to raise finance for the education of his children differently. Symington did not take into account the total effect of the combination of the three elements, as set out above.

250. At the time when Maema decided to charge Pillay, Magashula and Gordhan, approved by myself and Mzinyathi, we did not have the Symington memorandum in our possession. The Symington memorandum was provided to the NDPP when Pillay and Magashula made Section 179(5) representation on the 14th of October 2016 for the withdrawal of the charges against them. In their representation, they provided new information in the form of the Symington memorandum."

GSM

393. Paragraphs 251 to 306 reads as follows:

"250. The other document which we, the prosecutors (Maema, Mzinyathi and myself) had in our possession is a letter dated the 12th August 2010 from Magashula, (reflecting the third application from Pillay), who at the time was the Commissioner for SARS, addressed to Gordhan. In this letter, Magashula motivated the early retirement of Pillay with full retirement benefits as follows:

"1. PURPOSE

The purpose of this memorandum is to request approval from the Minister for the early retirement of Deputy Commissioner Ivan Pillay with full retirement benefits from the GEPF as contemplated in Rule 14.3.3(b) of the Government Employees Pension Law, 1996, read with section 19 of SARS Act and section 16(2A)(a) of the Public Service Act, 1994 ...

In addition, approval is requested to retain Mr. Pillay as Deputy Commissioner of SARS on 3 year contract with effect from 1 September 2010.

2. BACKGROUND

...

GSM

Ivan has always excelled at his job and made a significant contribution towards the establishment of SARS as the high respected organisation it is today.

For personal reasons, he has requested to take early retirement with effect from 1 September 2010. He is currently 56 years old.

Given Ivan's critical skills, experience and leadership, he has agreed to remain in the employ of SARS as Deputy Commissioner after his retirement on a 3 year contract to assist with the on-going leadership transition.

3. MOTIVATION FOR RETIREMENT WITH FULL BENEFITS

In the light of Ivan's exemplary service and sacrifice in the service of the people of South Africa, it is requested that he be granted early retirement with full retirement benefits as provided for in section 19 of SARS Act, 1997, read with section 16(2A)(a) of the Public Service Act, 1994.

Over the past 5 years the GEPF has approved over 3 thousand requests from various government departments for staff members to retire before the age of 60 with full benefits. The statistics are attached to this memorandum as received from the GEPF (Appendix).

In addition, the former and current Minister of Finance have approved at least five such requests over the past 2 years (see Appendix B).

4. MOTIVATION FOR REAPPOINTMENT ON A 3 YEAR CONTRACT

Ivan's wealth of knowledge and experience within SARS and his leadership position as Deputy Commissioner is an invaluable asset to the organisation. This is particularly important given the on-going leadership transition within the organisation following the departure of the Minister and the recent restructuring of the top leadership of the organisation as part of the revised Operating Model.

Ivan's continued guidance, leadership knowledge over the next 3 years will provide critical continuity as well as playing an important mentoring role in developing the next generation of SARS leaders.

In addition, it should be noted that there is precedent for the termination of employment and immediate rehiring of the same person under different conditions of employment within the public sector.

In this regard, advice was sought from the Acting Director-General of the Department of Public Service and Administration

GSM

... regarding the proposed early retirement of Mr. Pillay and his retention on a 3 year contract. He confirmed that there is no restriction on the appointment to the public service or to the same department of a person who has left on an Employee Initiated Severance Package (EISP) and that he was aware of previous such cases.

5. FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

The financial implication of early retirement with downscaled benefits for Ivan will be considerable as his lump sum benefit will decrease by R243 605 to R121 443 and his monthly pension by R47 402 to R48 563.

The financial implications for SARS, should approval be granted to allow Ivan to take early retirement with full retirement benefits, will be an amount of R1 258 345.99 which SARS will be liable to pay the GEPF in terms of the provisions of section 17(4) of the GEPF Law, 1996."

252. The above quoted memorandum concludes with a recommendation that Gordhan approves Pillay's early retirement without downscaling his retirement benefits and that Gordhan also approves the reappointment of Pillay as Deputy Commissioner of SARS on a 3 year contract with effect from 1 August 2010 with the same remuneration that he was earning prior to the so-called early retirement.

GSM

253. The recommendations were approved by Gordhan on 13 October 2010. It is worth nothing that the then Deputy Minister of Finance, Mr. Nhlanhla Nene, did not approve the recommendation despite the fact that the memorandum made provision for his approval to be obtained. I understand that is also part of internal requirements in government that a Minister approve a recommendation only after the Deputy Minister has applied his mind to it. This did not happen in this case.

254. We also had in our possession the following documents which we considered when we made the decision to bring the charges in issue.

Affidavit of Nico Johan Coetzee

255. The affidavit deposed to by Nico Johan Coetzee ("Coetzee"), who was previously employed by SARS is attached as "SA11" to Annexure "B" in the main application. There are other documents attached to such affidavit and I refer to them individually below.

256. In his affidavit, Coetzee says that in 2008, he was instructed to prepare a ministerial memorandum to be signed by Gordhan (who was Commissioner of SARS at the time), to recommend to the then Minister of Finance (Trevor Manuel) that he approve Pillay's early retirement.

GSM

257. Coetzee further states that:

"4.

I awaited the approval by the Minister of the request by Mr. Pillay. In October 2009 while waiting for the approval of the memorandum, I received a revised memorandum from the office of the Commissioner, Mr Oupa Magashula. The memorandum contained different reasons from my original memorandum as to why the Minister should approve Mr. Ivan Pillay's early retirement. The reasons on the revised memorandum were that Mr. Pillay wished to go on early retirement in order to enable him to provide for his children's education and not as I have previously stated that he wished to pursue other interests. I raised concerns to the Commissioner through the e-mails dated the 8th and the 9th October 2009 respectively, that if the Minister should approve Mr. Pillay's application on the grounds of personal interest may create a precedent in terms of which, other employees might come forward with similar request for early retirement."

258. In the e-mails dated 8 and 9 October 2009 referred to in his affidavit, Coetzee said the following to Magashula:

"Hi Oupa

GSM

Luckily for me I have dealt with this matter during June this year but I do not know why the matter was not promoted at the time as I have certainly started the process. I have amended the two submissions (attached) to fit in with Mr. Pillay's latest request. It is not unusual that a retirement employee is re-appointed after retirement in a contract capacity. What may raise some eyebrows in this particular case is that the employee is appointed in the same position he held before his retirement. Ordinarily such a re-appointment will be a different and a lower-graded position. It will have to be decided if satisfactory reasons can be given for the re-appointment in the same position. We had two similar application for early retirement, both which were not approved by the Minister as the Minister could not find sufficient reason to approve early retirement. In terms of section 16(6) of the Public Service Act, the Minister only has consider if sufficient reason exist to approve Mr. Pillay's early retirement ..."

259. In Coetzee's e-mail of 9 October 2009, he said:

"I am resending this e-mail on account of a slight change I have made to the two attached documents. The changes indicated that the reason why Mr. Pillay is requesting approval for early retirement is to provide for his children's education and not as I have previously stated that he wished to pursue other interests. You will now have to consider to recommend and the Minister consider to approve if this is sufficient reason to recommend/approve Mr. Pillay's application for early retirement. If his application is duly recommended/approved, it could technically be construed that SARS is willing to contribute from its budget an amount of ±R340 000 towards the education of his children. I admit it is a rather cynical viewpoint, but it can be a viewpoint that may be held by other parties as well and that may put yourself and the Minister in a tight spot, especially because Mr. Pillay was re-appointed in his present position. The argument may be that he was able to continue with his present functions, but his early retirement and reappointment was purely to assist him to be able to provide for his children's education with a R340 000 'contribution' from SARS."

GSM

Pillay's contract of employment

260. Pursuant to Magashula's recommendation, Gordhan approved Pillay's early retirement and re-appointment. The approved re-appointment was to be for a period of three years. Gordhan also approved that Pillay's penalty to the GEPF be paid by SARS.

GSM

261. Despite the fact that the Minister approved Pillay's re-appointment to be for a period of three years, on the 7th of February 2011, Magashula and Pillay concluded a five year contract, a copy of which is attached as "SA12" to Annexure "B" in the main application. This contract was clearly not approved by Gordhan and all the payments made in terms thereof were not lawfully authorised. Magashula and Pillay were fully aware of this illegality. They acted in contravention of the empowering approval given by Gordhan to conclude a three year contract (even though that approval itself was unlawful).

262. The aforesaid contract was to have come to an end in 2016. But, on the 26th of March 2014, Gordhan concluded a new contract, just weeks before his appointment to a different ministry. In terms of that contract, Pillay was appointed with effect from the 1st of April 2014 to the 31st of December 2018. There does not appear to be a lawful reason for concluding another contract before the expiry of the contract concluded in February 2011.

Affidavit of Chrisna Susanna Visser

263. Visser' affidavit, which is attached as "SA13" to Annexure "B" in the main application, largely confirms that there was no business reason for SARS to pay Pillay's penalty.

GSM

264. Visser deals with other things in her affidavit, amongst others, the circumstances under which Pillay concluded an employment termination agreement with Skollie. Of relevance for purposes of this application, Visser says the following:

"8

Nic Coetzee and I were both uncomfortable with the request as it was for personal reasons and we could find no business reasons to pay the penalty on behalf of Mr. Pillay. We were requested to draft a memorandum to the Minister of Finance for his approval. Nic Coetzee and I both advised Mr. Oupa Magashula in the Commissioner's boardroom that it is not advisable to continue with the early retirement of Mr. Pillay because it was personal reasons and not business reasons. We were also concerned that it could set a precedent whereby others could come and claim the same benefit. We informed him that no such case was recommended in the past as it was for personal reasons. He instructed us to continue with the memorandum.

I was presented with the signed approved memorandum by the Minister and I initiated the process of the exit of Mr. Ivan Pillay from the Pension Fund and his re-employment on a contract basis. Part of this process was to sign a contract of employment with Mr. Ivan Pillay. I drafted a three year contract of employment to be signed by Mr. Oupa Magashula as the Commissioner and Mr. Ivan Pillay as the employee. The contract document was however amended to five years ... Mr. Oupa Magashula requested that I sign as a witness. I queried the matter of the contract that was amended to five years. Mr. Oupa Magashula indicated that they decided that it will be five years and not three and continued to sign the contract. I signed as witness as I believed it was merely to indicate that it was Oupa Magashula who signed the contract. I advised but the advice was case aside and not taken.

GSM

In 2014 a new contract of employment ... was requested from my Office via Rita Hayes who was employed by Mr. Ivan Pillay. I enquired why a new contract was needed as the previous employment contract was still valid however I was just advised that the Minister Pravin Gordhan and Mr. Ivan Pillay wanted to conclude a new contract. I then continued to e-mail a draft contract to her office. I was presented with a new contract of employment to implement for Mr. Ivan Pillay."

G Sm

265. Pillay's aforesaid contract was concluded in April 2014 – the very last year of Gordhan's tenure as Minister of Finance. In view of the fact that Pillay's contract of employment signed in February 2011 was still valid and of full force and effect until February 2016, there was no lawful reason to conclude a new contract other than to unduly benefit Pillay with a further contract of employment for another period of two years after what would have been the end of his contract concluded in February 2011.

Statement of Gordhan

266. In his own statement attached is attached as "SA14" to Annexure "B" in the main application, which statement was not made under oath, the Minister says the following about Pillay's early retirement and his approval thereof:

> "15. Mr Pillay took early retirement and was re-appointed when I was Minister of Finance. I seem to recall that it happened in early 2010.
> 16. The then Commissioner of SARS, Mr Oupa Magashula, addressed a memorandum to me on 12 August 2010, seeking my approval for Mr Pillay's early retirement and re-employment on a fixed term contract. I was told that Mr Pillay sought in this way to gain access to his pension fund to finance the education of his children. I understand that Mr Magashula had established from enquiries made with the Department of Public Service and Administration that the terms of Mr Pillay's early retirement and re-appointed were lawful and not unusual. I approved Mr Magashula's proposal because I believed it to be entirely above board and because I thought it appropriate to recognise the invaluable work Mr Pillay had done in the transformation of SARS since 1995."

267. Gordhan's statement creates an impression that he approved Pillay's early retirement package on the basis that Pillay needed money to finance his children's education. This, however, is not what is stated in Magashula's memorandum to Gordhan of August 2010. The issue of raising funds to provide for the education of Pillay's children is referred to in Pillay's memorandum to Gordhan in 2008, which is not the one which Gordhan approved in 2010.

268. What Gordhan does not say in his unsworn statement is the following:

268.1 The legal basis on which he approved the request that Pillay's penalty to the GEPF be paid by SARS;

GSM

268.2 The fact that the memorandum which he approved in 2010 does not say anything about Pillay wanting to access his pension benefits on order to provide for the education of his children;

268.3 That he became aware of Pillay's need for money to educate his children when he still worked with him whilst he was still the Commissioner for SARS;

268.4 Why he did not approve the request made to him by Pillay in 2008;

268.5 Why he considered it to be above board to approve the early retirement and re-appointment of Pillay in circumstances where he knew that upon early retirement, the position of Pillay had to be advertised to enable interested parties to apply to be considered for the position – and more so when Magashula resigned from the position of Commissioner for SARS pursuant to allegatons that he offered a member of the public employment at SARS without following the prescribed recruitment procedures;

268.6 That he was, in fact, a party to the "enquiries made with the Department of Public Service and Administration" referred to in paragraph 16 of his statement. In this regard, in an e-mail dated 23 July 2010, which is attached as "SA15" to Annexure "B" in the main application (and which was obtained only in the review process), addressed to the then Acting Director-General of the Department of Public Service and Administration, Magashula said:

> "Dear Kenny,
> Thank you very much for a quick discussion yesterday with my Minister regarding the early retirement of our Deputy Commissioner of SARS. In my discussion this morning with my Minister we agreed that I should ask you for a written response to our discussion and the questions I posed yesterday ..."

269. The reference to "my Minister" in the above quoted e-mail is a reference to Gordhan. It is clear from the above quoted e-mail that Gordhan was fully involved in the process leading to Pillay's early retirement. The enquiries referred to in his statement were made at his request, yet he does not say this in his statement.

270. In his aforesaid e-mail, Magashula did not enquire about the payment of Pillay's penalty to the GEPF or the legality of paying it. Of relevance, for purposes of the charges in issue, he asked the following questions:

GSM

- "Is there a precedent for authorising early retirement and re-engaging the same person on a short contract completely different from permanent employment, with a scaled down responsibility, salary and other conditions of employment?

- ...

- Related to the first bullet point – do you have any statistics of how many of these early retirement cases without re-engagement have been processed thus far?"

271. The response from the Acting Director-General of the Department of Public Service and Administration is attached as "SA16" to Annexure "B" in the main application, and it was silent on the question whether it was lawful for SARS to pay Pillay's penalty to the GEPF. This response must necessarily be silent on this issue due to the fact that the issue was not raised. In fact, the response shows that what was asked in the discussion was the so-called Employee Initiated Severance Package, which is completely different from what Pillay wanted to do.

272. The Employee Initiated Severance Package was introduced into the public service in terms of a ministerial determination made by the Minister of Public Service and Administration. A copy of the relevant determination is attached as "SA17" to Annexure "B" in the main application. Paragraph 1 of this determination says that it is "applicable to all employees appointed in terms of the Public Service Act, 1994, as amended." Pillay was employed in terms of the South African Revenue Service Act 34 of 1997 and the determination did not apply to him. Furthermore, the determination did not apply to Pillay due to the fact that in terms of paragraph 3 thereof, its purpose is to:

> "... allow employees affected by transformation and restructuring who wish to exit the public service, to apply for an employee-initiated severance package."

273. Pillay's application was in any event not made in terms of the ministerial determination referred to above.

274. What appears from Gordhan's statement is that he was not a party to the process which led to Pillay's application for early retirement and re-appointment and that he only became involved in that process when he was Minister of Finance. As demonstrated by the documents to which I have referred above, this is simply not true.

275. In his memorandum dated 27 November 2009, Pillay requested that his approval be granted in terms of section 16(6)(b) of the Public Service Act, 1994. It provides.

> "(b) If an employee is allowed to so retire, he or she shall notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in subsection (4) be deemed to have retired in terms of that subsection, and he or she shall be entitled to such pension as he or she would have been entitled to if he or she had retired from the public service in terms of that subsection."

276. Section 16(4) of the Public Service Act, 1994 provides that an officer, other than a member of the services or an educator or a member of the State Security Agency who has reached the age of 60 years may, subject in every case to the approval of the relevant executive authority, be retired from the public service. Pillay had not reached the age of 60 years provided for in this section. This being the case, section 16(4) of the Public Service Act did not apply to him.

277. Section 16(6)(a) of the Public Service Act, 1994 upon which Pillay also relied on his aforesaid memorandum provides that an executive authority may, at the request of an employee, allow him or her to retire from the public service before reaching the age of 60 years, notwithstanding the absence of any reason for dismissal in terms of section 17(2), if sufficient reason exists for the retirement. This provision simply authorises the executive authority, Gordhan in this case, to authorise the early retirement of an employee who has not yet reached the age of 60 years. This provision, however, is silent as far as the retirement or pension benefits are concerned.

GSM

278. In his letter to Gordhan referred to above, Magashula sought Gordhan's approval in terms of section 16(2A)(a) of the Public Service Act 1994. This section provides that:

> "(2A)(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (1) and (2)(a), an officer, other than a member of the services or an educator or a member of the State Security Agency shall have the right to retire from the public service on the date on which he or she attains the age of 55 years, or any date after that date."

279. This section simply creates a right of a Public Service Employee to retire at the age of 55 years or after attaining that age. The executive authority's approval is not required for that purpose.

280. In his letter to Gordhan, Magashula further relied on Rule 14.3.3(b) of the Rules of the GEPF. Rule 14.3.3 deals with members with 10 years and more pensionable service. Rule 14.3.3(b) provides that:

> "(b) A member who retires on account of a reason mentioned in Rules 14.3.1(d) or (e) and who has at least 10 years' pensionable service to his or her credit, shall be paid the benefits referred to in Rule (a) above: Provided that such benefits shall be reduced by one third of one percent for each complete month between the member's actual date of retirement and his or her pension-retirement date."

281. It is clear from Rule 14.3.3(b) that it only applies to a person who retires on account of a reason mentioned in Rules 14.3.1(d) or (e).

282. Rule 14.3.1(d) deals with a member who retires before his or her pension-retirement date but not on a date prior to the member attaining the age of 55 years: Provided that such a member has the right to retire on that date in terms of the provisions of any Act which regulates his or her terms and conditions of employment. Pillay had a right to retire n terms of provisions of the Public Service Act 1994 referred to above. Accordingly, Rule 14.3.1(d) is the one which applied to him.

283. Rule 14.3.3(b) to which reference has already been made above, provides that a person who retires on account of a reason mentioned in Rule 14.3.1(d) or (e) shall be paid "the benefits referred to in Rule (a) above: Provided, that such benefits shall be reduced by one third of one percent for each complete month between the member's actual date of retirement and his or her pension-retirement date." This Rule applied to Pillay because in terms of Rule 14.3.1(b) he was retiring "before his or her pension-retirement date in terms of the law governing his or her terms and conditions or service" being the Public Service Act to which reference has been already been made above.

284. There is no provision in the Public Service Act, 1994, in particular in section 16 thereof, in terms of which provision is made for SARS to pay what Pillay himself described in his memorandum as "the penalty imposed on my pension benefits per Rule 14.3.3(b) of the GEPF Rules." Rule 14.3.3(b) of the GEPF Rules simply makes provision for the reduction of the pension benefits of a person who retires before his or her pension retirement date and does not make provision for the employer of such a person to pay the penalty which is imposed in terms thereof.

285. When we decided to bring charges, we clearly took into account that there was no authorisation in law for SARS to pay the penalty, effectively financing Pillay's retirement and education of his children.

286. In addition, we took into account that the so-called early retirement was in fact not an early retirement at all. This is so due to the fact that Pillay did not intend to retire and both Gordhan and Magashula were fully aware that Pillay did not truly intend to retire. The fact that Pillay did not genuinely truly intend to "retire" is not concealed in his memorandum dated 27 November 2009.

287. In the aforesaid memorandum, a false impression is created that Pillay was to serve SARS in a "different capacity" where the demands of such a job will "positively support the reasons why I am in the first instance taking early retirement." The reason given for early retirement is that "my health condition is slowly deteriorating" and "my family responsibilities, for a long time, suffered on account of the dedication required by my job.". Despite all of this, Pillay was at the very same time reappointed to the very same position from which is so desperately wanted to "retire".

288. In the light of the above, we were quite correct in bringing the charges against the three individuals.

289. In addition to the above, the fact that Pillay was reappointed at the same time that he went on early retirement clearly meant as far as we were concerned, that the position of Deputy Commissioner of SARS, to which he was reappointed immediately was not advertised and other interested parties were not given an opportunity to apply to be appointed to that position. This would have been necessary due to the fact that at the very moment that Pillay took early retirement, his position of Deputy Commissioner became vacant and the position had to be advertised to give all interested parties an equal opportunity to apply for it. This was not done.

290. Pillay, Magashula and Gordhan's reliance upon the provisions of section 17(4) of the GEPF Law, 1996; Rule 20 of the Rules of the GEPF; and the contents of the Government Employees Pension Fund Members Guide is not only incorrect, it is also misleading the public because Pillay, Magashula and Gordhan's papers have been published for all to see.

291. Section 17(4) of the GEPF Law, 1996 deals with a situation where the employer or if any legislation adopted by parliament places an additional financial obligation on the GEPF. In that event, the employer or the government shall pay the financial obligation it has placed on the GEPF. This is not what happened in this case. The penalty obligation was imposed upon Pillay by the Rules of the GEPF and not upon the GEPF. The penalty obligation also did not arise from the employer's action or operational requirements, it arose from Pillay's early retirement.

292. Section 17 of GEPF Law deals with the funding of the GEPF. The section does not deal with penalties which must be paid by employees who are taking early retirement. The section is clearly not concerned with penalties which the Rules of the fund impose upon retiring employees. The GEPF is not funded by penalties levied upon early retirees.

293. Section 17(4) makes it clear that it is concerned with any action taken by the employer or if any legislation adopted by parliament (places any additional financial obligation on the Fund) the person who places such an obligation on the Fund is then made responsible to pay the fund "an amount which is required to meet such obligation."

294. In the case of Pillay, no obligation whatsoever was placed on the GEPF. On the contrary, the obligation was placed on Pillay to pay the penalty. In the premises, section 17(4) of the GEPF Law does not assist Pillay, Magashula and Gordhan.

Rule 20

295. Rule 20 of the Rules of the GEPF similarly does not assist Pillay, Magashula and Gordhan. Rule 20 deals with compensation to the GEPF on retirement or discharge of a member prior to attachment of the member's pension retirement date.

296. The Rule applies to a situation where a member "becomes entitled in terms of Rule 14.8 to the pension benefits in terms of a severance package, referred to in that Rule, or is discharged prior to his or her pension retirement date and at such retirement

GSm

... in terms of the Rules becomes entitled to the payment of an annuity or gratuity or both an annuity and a gratuity in terms of the Rules, and any of these actions result in an additional financial liability to the fund."

297. In this case, the GEPF did not attract "an additional financial liability". On the contrary, it is Pillay who attracted a penalty for himself. He, and not SARS, had to pay the penalty.

The Guide

298. Pillay, Magashula and Gordhan's reliance on the Government Employees Pension Members Guide is completely wrong. The sentence quoted therefrom, is inconsistent with what is contained in the GEPF Law and the Rules of the GEPF.

299. It cannot be, as Pillay, Magashula and Gordhan are suggesting that the guide supersedes the GEPF Law and the Rules. In any event, on any proper and rational interpretation of the guide upon which Pillay, Magashula and Gordhan seek to rely, the only situation which could be contemplated therein is where "the employer granted permission for your early retirement" for the employer's own operational reasons. There can be no basis on which the government should fund the early retirement of its employees. In circumstances where that has nothing to do with the government's operational reasons.

GSM

300. When regard is had to the above background and provisions of the GEPF Law and the GEPF Rules, it cannot be said that there was no rational basis to bring charges against Gordhan, Pillay and Magashula.

THE DECISION TO PROSECUTE

301. Maema made a full and comprehensive presentation to me and Mzinyathi. The final decision to prosecute was made by me, and Mzinyathi concurred. The decision was taken pursuant to a consideration of the available evidence at the time.

302. As required by protocol, a memorandum was sent to the President, advising the President of the prosecutorial decision, once it was taken, to charge Gordhan, prior to levelling the charges against him.

303. I also took into the public interests into account prior to taking the prosecutorial decision to charge Pillay, Magashula and Gordhan.

304. Thus, once again, a Section 24(3) of the NPA Act Consultation was held with Mzinyathi in compliance with the statutory imperative of checks and balances in the system.

305. In this case:

GSM

305.1 The outside world was told that Pillay took early retirement;

305.2 In fact and in truth, Pillay never retired;

305.3 Pillay remained in the very same position of deputy commissioner which, according to his first memorandum, he desperately wanted to retire from;

305.4 The GEPF was made to understand that Pillay was leaving the public service by way of an early retirement, when, in fact, he was not leaving the public service;

305.5 The transaction was concluded to enable Pillay to have access to his pension benefits to provide for the education of his children;

305.6 The early retirement transaction would not have been concluded if Pillay did not need to provide for the education of his children;

305.7 Gordhan approved a three-year contract of employment; however, Pillay and Magashula concluded a five-year term contract commencing in February 2011 with the intended end date being in 2016;

306. The transaction was therefore, not a genuine, lawful and proper early retirement transaction because an early retirement transaction results in the retiree actually leaving the employment of the employer. It is common cause that Pillay did not leave the public service, nor was it intend that he would leave the public service.

CONCLUSION

394. Mindful of the fact that this Commission was established by the President and will report its findings to the President, this Commission should not allow itself to be used to draw the President into an invidious position of pronouncing upon the prosecution of individuals, thereby interfering with the Constitutional independence of the NPA, where no legal basis and/or justification for such exist.

395. It behoves me to draw the Commission's attention to the totality of the evidence set forth in this affidavit, particularly about the impact of the allegations made against me by the witnesses. While the persistent attacks may at first blush appear to be confined to my person, the impact these attacks have on the NPA as a Constitutional institution cannot and should not be trivialised.

396. I have alluded to the fact that allegations are made that the core group of advocates, of which I am alleged to be one, have for years been on a path of destabilising persons and institutions that are corruption busters whilst they protect and refuse to prosecute persons against whom there is evidence to sustain charges of corruption and malfeasance. The cumulative effect of these allegations is that the NPA is not to be trusted to effectively and properly deliver on its Constitutional and legislative mandate.

397. I have shown in this affidavit that all these allegations are made without any substantive evidence to support or sustain them. On close scrutiny, it is clear that the complainants as well as those they favour should be treated differently from the rest of the citizens.

398. In the prevailing environment in the country where integrity and reputation are easily eroded through negative publicity in the media, those of us who have to take arguably difficult prosecutorial decisions may be hampered from exercising our prosecutorial decisions without fear, favour or prejudice.

399. It was not without reason that the drafters of the Constitution deemed it prudent to provide for prosecutorial independence in section 179 of the Constitution. Any threat to the independence of the prosecutors undermines the Constitutional imperative for prosecutors to act without fear, favour or prejudice. Not only that, but the persistent negative statements these witnesses publish seeking to impose upon the prosecutors' decisions that are favourable to them and those that they favour, is a direct violation of section 32(1)(b) of the NPA Act.

400. In the course of my work, I acted in good faith at all times. Therefore, I urge the Commission not to make any adverse findings against me. In this regard, I refer to Section 78 of POCA which provides as follows:

GSM

"78. Liability

Any person generally or specifically authorised to perform any function in terms of this Act, shall not, in his or her personal capacity, be liable for anything done in good faith under this Act."

401. I further refer the Commission to Section 42 of the NPA Act, which provides as follows:

"42 Limitation of liability

No person shall be liable in respect of anything done in good faith under this Act."

402. In conclusion, I have instructed my legal representatives to apply for leave to make legal submissions as envisaged in Rule 3.9.

403. I respectfully submit that a case has been made out for the relief prayed for in the notice of motion to which this affidavit is attached.

I HEREBY STATES IN ENGLISH UNDER OATH

RAJENDRAN SANJEEVI AIYER

I AM COLONEL IN THE SAPS IN KZN. MY CONTACT DETAILS AS FOLLOWS : 0827730046

I WISH TO STATE THE FOLLOWING ;

ON THURSDAY 2012-08-02 AT 08:45 I MEET WITH BRIGADEIR MOKOENA IN MY OFFICE AT 3RD FLOOR IN SERVAMUS BUILDING. I WAS REQUESTED TO SUBMIT A STATEMENT. REGARDING THE STRUCTURES OF ORGANISED CRIME SINCE DECEMBER 2006 ON APPOINTMENT AS UNIT COMMANDER DURBAN ORGANISED CRIME

SHORTLY THEREAFTER IN JANUARY 2007 THE SERIOUS AND VIOLENT CRIMES UNIT CLOSED THE NATIONAL COMMISSIONER. ONLY FOURTEEN MEMBERS (14) FROM SERIOUS AND VIOLENT CRIME UNIT WERE RESTRUCTURED INTO THE DURBAN ORGANISED CRIME. IN TERMS OF THE ORGANISED CRIME MANDATE THE SERIOUS AND VIOLENT CRIME INVESTIGATION BECAME THE MANDATE ORGANISED CRIME.

I WAS INFORMED THAT THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN WAS APPOINTED AT PROVINCIAL COMMANDER OF ORGANISED CRIME IN KZN IN FEBRUARY 2007.. ALL FOUR UNIT COMMANDERS OF ORGANISED CRIME HAD REPORT TO THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN, DIRECTLY IN KZN . THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN WAS ACCOUNTABLE TO PROVINCIAL HEAD OF DETECTIVE SERVICES ,THEN ASSISTANT COMMISSIONER PT BROWN (RETIRED IN 2011) .

AS UNIT COMMANDER OF DURBAN ORGANISED CRIME HOLDING THE RANK OF SENIOR SUPERINTENDENT (COLONEL), I HAD THREE SUPERINTENDENT (LT COL.) WHO HAD TO REPORT TO ME AND WERE ACCOUNTABLE ME ; AS SECTION COMMANDERS . NAMELY SUPERINTDENT (F) TT DUBE SUPPORT AND ADMINISTRATION. THE SUPERINTENDENT WC OLIVIER IN CHARGE OF SERIOUS AND VIOLENT CRIMES SECTION. THE ANOTHER BEING SUPERINTENDENT GART LE ROUX IN CHARGE OF DRUG, FIREARMS, VEHICLES AND GOLD DIAMOND .

BETWEEN THESE TWO SECTION COMMANDERS (WC OLIVIER AND GART LE ROUX) ,ALL OPERATIONS CONDUCTED UNDER THEIR SUPERVISION.

UNDER THE COMMAND OF SUPERINTENDENT WC OLIVIER HE HAD THREE CAPTAINS ACCOUNTABLE TO HIM, NAMELY CAPTAINS VAN TONDER ,SMITH, LOCKHEM . TOTAL , ALL INCLUSIVE OF 14 MEMBERS TO BE PLACED AS A TEAM TO ADDRESS SERIOUS AND VIOLENT CRIMES IN THE POST AT THE UNIT AND ALSO ATTEND TO OTHER CRIMES . DURING FEBRUARY 2007 THESE MEMBERS WERE PLACED INTO THOSE POSTS IN DURBAN ORGANISED CRIME.

SHORTLY THEREAFTER PROBLEMS STARTED TO SURFACE WITH SERIOUS AND VIOLENT CRIME SECTION. AFTER A INSPECTION CONDUCTEDS BY THEN DIRECTOR NGHINGA (HAWKS)OF THE NATIONAL ORGANISE CRIME OFFICE, IN HER INSPECTION REPORT , SHE WANTED TO KNOW WHY

WAS UNIT SPILT INTO TWO ,HER INSTRUCTION WAS THAT ALL MEMBER MUST REPORT TO ONE OFFICE NAMELY 136 VICTORIA EMBANKMENT WERE MY OFFFICES HAD BEEN.

I TRIED TO EXPLAIN SUPERINTENDENT WC OLIVIER WHO WAS NOT TOO HAPPY REGARDING THE DECISION. I FULLY AWARE THAT SUPERINTENDENT WC OLIVIER WAS CLOSE THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN. I TOLD SUPERINTENDENT WC OLIVIER MERGER HAS TAKE PLACE ON THE INSTRUCTION OF NATIONAL OFFICE. SUPT WC OLIVIER CHANGED HIS ATTITUDE TOWARDS ME . .

I NOTICED THAT SUPT. WC OLIVIER REPORTING ALL INCIDENT DIRECTLY TO THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN . I WAS MERELY INFORMED AFTERWARDS OR LONG AFTER ANY SHOOTING INCIDENT HAD TAKEN PLACE HIS SECTION . ALMOST EVERY WEEK THE CATO MANOR OFFICES WERE VISITED BY THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN WITHOUT ME BEING INFORMED. I KEPT TELLING HIM TO REGISTER ALL OPERATION OR RAIDS ON CAS SYSTEM BUT NOTHING OF THAT HAPPENED . HE STARTED FRUSTRATE ME AS UNIT COMMANDER. IT CLEAR THAT SUPTRENTENDENT OLIVIER WAS ACTING ON OWN ACCORD,HE WAS FORMING HIS OWN UNIT AT CATO MANOR AND HE HAD BACKING OF THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN WHO CONSTANTLY VISIT THE CATO MANOR OFFICE.

THE TROUBLE STARTED TO SURFACE WHEN I NOTICED STRANGE FACES AND MEMBERS ALLEGING TO BE MEMBERS OF DURBAN ORGANISED CRIME UNIT AT CATO MANOR OFFICES.SOME OF THESE MEMBERS AND RESERVIST CLAIMED TO BE MEMBERS OF DURBAN ORGANISED CRIME UNIT . I HAD NO INDICATION WHO THESE MEMBERS EG CAPTAIN EVA REPORTED TO CATO MANOR WITHOUT ANY WRITTEN DOCUMENT, MEMBERS LIKE SGT G PADAYCHEE ,WARRANT OFFICER GHANESS MANY MOVED WITHIN UNIT WITHOUT MY PERMISSION . THESE MEMBERS STARTED BEHAVE AS THEY FELT AND BECAME HOSTILE TOWARDS ME. INFORMATION WAS THAT ALL THESE MEMBERS ARE ONLY ACCOUNTABLE TO THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN.I HAD SNO SUPPORT FROM THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN .

WHEN I EVENTUALLY INFORMED THEM WE CANNOT RUN TWO OFFICE AND I SERVED THOSE MEMBERS WITH NOTICES TO MOVED FROM CATO OFFICES THAT IS WHEN THE AGGRESSION AND ANGER SURFACED . ALL OF THEM RAN TO THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN OFFICE AT PROVINCE . THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN CAME DOWN ON ME HEAVILY. HE WALKED INTO MY OFFICE ON THAT DAY RAISED HIS VOICE AND STATED THAT THE DECISION REGARDING CATO MANOR IS IN HIS HANDS AND I SHOULD NOT INTERFER ANYMORE AND HE LEFT FOR THE AIRPORT. IT WAS VERY CLEAR THAT I WAS NOT IN COMMAND OF THE CATO MANOR OFFICES. I SHOCKED THAT SINCE THAT DAY SUPT WC OLIVIER OPERATED ON HIS OWN THEY DID NOT REPORT TO ME.

I WAS VICTIMISED ,MY SON WAS ATTACKED IN SCHOOL AGAIN THEN DIRECTOR BOOYSEN, TARGET ME NOTHING CAME OF THE DEPARTMENTAL CHARGES .I WAS NOT GUILTY AND CHAIRMAN MADE BRIG MS MOODLEY MADE SERIOUS REMARKS AGAINST THE CONDUCT OF DIRECTOR BOOYSEN , AGAIN NOTHING CAME OF IT.

MY CELLPHONE WAS ILLEGALLY BUGDED FROM THE 13TH FLOOR SERVAMUS BUILDING IN DIR JW BOOYSEN BOARD ROOM . I RECEIVED A CALL ON A CELLPHONE WHICH WAS ILLEGALLY BUGGED WITH USE OF THREE CORRECTIONAL OFFICERS NAMELY BRIG MOHAN AND CAPT GOVENDER OF WESTVILLE PRISON AND ANOTHER MEMBER AND WITH DIRECTOR BOOYSEN .I HAVE SUPPORTING DOCUMENT TO PROVE THE BUGGING . NOW MAJOR GENERAL NGOBO DETECTIVES SERVICES WAS INFORMED TO INVESTIGATE ME ON INSTRUCTION COMMISSIONER PT BROWN.

THE SECTION UNDER LT COLONEL WC OLIVIER STARTED TO CALL THEMSELVES THE CATO MANOR ORGANISED CRIME UNIT. STATE RESOURCE, EMAILS AND FINANCIAL WERE SENT DIRECTLY TO THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN . ALTHOUGH I WAS THE UNIT COMMANDER, I WAS NOT IN CONTROL OF THEM. I REPORTED THIS TO VERY SENIOR OFFICER THAT DID NOT HELP.

THE MORE I TRIED THE ACT ON ISSUE THE MORE I WAS VICTIMISED BY NOW MAJOR GENERAL JW BOOYSEN. HE TRIED EVERYTHING POSSIBLE TO SUPEND ME AND MISUSED THE DEPARTMENTAL PROCEDURE TO TARGET ME. HE TRIED EVERYTHING IN HIS POWER TO MOVE ME OUT OF UNIT .HE RECOMENDED THAT I MUST BE MOVED OUT FROM MY POST SO THAT HE COULD PUT SOMEONE HE WANTS TO RUN THE UNIT.

EVENTUALLY HE DID GET ME OUT. BRIG ZAKHALI WAS MOVED OUT OF PROVINCIAL HAWKS AND ACTED IN MY POST . I TRIED TO FIGHT MY CASE BUT ODDS WERE STACKED AGAINST ME UNTIL NOVEMBER 2011 I RECEIVED A OFFICIAL NOTICE THAT I BEING TRANSFERRED WITH POST. THIS IS A UNFAIR LABOUR PRACTICE BUT I COULD DO NOTHING.

IT CLEAR THAT MAJOR GENERAL JW BOOYSEN WAS UNTOUCHABLE IN THE POLICE AND HE HAD THE BACK UP SENIOR OFFICERS IN THE SAPS. HE COULD DO WHAT HE WANTED TO DO WITH ME. HE WAS EVEN PROMOTED TO MAJOR GENERAL AS DEPUTY PROVINCIAL HEAD OF THE HAWKS KZN.

TO THIS VERY DAY I AM FACING HUMILATION OF ACTION AND I WAS FORCFULLY MOVED OUT OF HAWKS ENVIROMENT AS UNIT COMMANDER. I FELT ABUSED BY THE SYSTEM BECAUSE SO MANY OF THEM GANGED UP AGAINST ME. THEY MADE IT SEEM LIKE I WAS TROUBLE MAKER. ALL I WAS TRYING TO DO WAS JOB AS UNIT COMMANDER. I FOLLOWED ALL PROTOCALLS, RIGHT UP MINISTER OFFICE WITH MY COMPLAINT. I WAS THEATEN WITH DEPARTMENTAL ACTION AND INFORMED BY A BRIG KADWA HE HAS BEEN APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE ME FOR ADRESSING MY COMPLAINT TO THE MINISTER OFFICE. THOSE MEMBERS AT CATO MANOR OFFICE ACTED UNDER COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL BOOYSEN ALL THE TIME . ALL MEDIA REPORTS ON ALL INCIDENTS CAME FROM M/GENRAL BOOYSEN AND NOT ME. ALL GRAHIC PICTURE OF SHOOTING ON CRIME SCENE WAS PUT IN BY JOURNALIST CALLED MR ANIL SINGH (A FRIEND OF BOOYSEN) OF DAILY SUN NEWSPAPER . I DO NOT KNOW HOW THIS JOURNALIST GOT TO THOSE CRIME SCENE AND WERE HE OBTAINED THOSE PICTURES.

I AM VICTIM AND THAT MAJOR GENERAL BOOYSEN ABUSED HIS POSITION TO TARNISH MY IMAGE SAPS AND HAVE ME REMOVED AS UNIT COMMANDER OF ORGANISED CRIME DURBAN. IT IS SHOCKING THAT EVERYTIME I HAVE RAISED THIS ISSUE I WAS TARGETED. I HAVE BEEN THREATEN AND EVIDENCE IS POINTED AT THEM YET THEY WALKING FREELY. MY LIFE IS IN SERIOUS DANGER RELATING THOSE TO ISSUES ABOVE

I AM WILLING TO CLEAR ANY OMISSION OR ANY UNCLEAR ISSUE WHEN CALLED UPON TO DO SO .

I KNOW UNDERSTAND CONTENTS OF THIS STATEMENT

I AM COLONEL IN THE SAPS . ON THURSDAY 2012-08-30 I WAS APPROACHED BY INVESTIGATION TEAM I WANT TO MAKE ADDITIONAL STATEMENT AS FOLLOWS:

IT WAS BROUGHT TO MY ATTENTION THAT CAPTAIN VAN TONDER WAS HAVING MEETING WITH ALL ROLE PLAYERS IN RESPECT OF CITI CRIMES ON A WEEKLY BASE. HE HELD THIS MEETING WITH STAKE HOLDERS . AT TIMES WHEN I CALLED ,THEN DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN (PROVINCIAL COMMANDER OF OCU) AT THE PROVINCIAL OFFICE I WAS TOLD BY STAFF THAT HE IS ATTENDING A MEETING AT CATO MANOR OFFICES WHICH I HAD NO KNOWLEDGE OF, HIM BEING THERE .I WOULD CONTACT MEMBERS WHO CONFIRMED BOOYSEN PRESENCES CATO MANOR OFFICES. THAT WAS NOT PROTOCALL OF DIRECTOR BOOYSEN ,JUST TO GO DIRECTLY TO MY OFFICES WITHOUT INFORMING ME . I RECEIVED INFORMATION FROM RELIABLE SOURCES WITHIN THE UNIT MEMBERS I WAS TOLD THAT DIRECTOR BOOYSEN IS AT THE UNIT IN CATO MANOR. I WAS TOLD BY LATE WARRANT OFFICER NXUMALO, ON A CERTAIN DAY AFTER MY WEEKLY MEETING AT MY OFFICES I SHOULD BE VERY CAREFUL OF BOOYSEN AND OLIVIER AND I SHOULD PROTECT MYSELF. THEY ARE UP TO SOMETHING. HE WAS DISTURBED WHEN HE NOTICED LT COL OLIVIER WALK TOWARDS MY OFFICE AND PROMISE TO DISCUSS THIS LATER. HE WAS SHOT AND KILLED SHORTLY THEREAFTER WHILST IN AN OPERATION IN THE INANDA AREA UNDER THE COMMAND OF CAPT LOCKHEM.

I THEN COMPLAINED TO COMMISSIONER PT BROWN THEN PROVINCIAL HEAD OF DETECTIVES (PT BROWN) . DIRECTOR BOOYSEN AND I WAS CALLED IN AT PROVINCIAL COMMISSIONER NGIDI'S OFFICE IN PRESENCES OF PT BROWN ,I TOLD THE PC OF KZN WHAT DIRECTOR BOOYSEN WAS DOING .HOW ,BOOYSEN WAS VISITING THE CATO MANOR OFFICES WITHOUT MY KNOWLEDGE . A DECISION WAS TAKEN BY THE PC IN KZN I SHOULD REMAIN UNIT COMMANDER DURBAN ORGANISED CRIME AND DIRECTOR BOOYSEN SHOULD REMAIN AS PROVINCIAL COMMANDER NOT TO INTERFERE WITH EACH OTHER JOBS. I WAS IN AGREEMENT , YET BOOYSEN IGNORED THE INSTRUCTION AND CONTINUED TO GO TO CATO OFFICES WITHOUT TELLING ME AS THE UNIT COMMANDER. I WAS ALWAYS TOLD BY PT BROWN THAT BOOYSEN WAS MY COMMANDER AND I HAVE WORK ON HIS INSTRUCTION . I CONSTANTLY REMINDED A/ COMM. PT BROWN ,AS HE WAS TASKED BY THE PC TO OVERSEE THE INSTRUCTION OF PC IN KZN. I TOLD HIM I WILL COMPLY IF IT IS ONLY LAWFUL INSTRUCTION FROM BOOYSEN .I ALSO PICKED IT UP, THAT THE SENIOR MANAGER HAD A CERTAIN FEAR OF BOOYSEN .

SEVERAL CASES OF SHOOTING LIKE RAJA KILLING ,PAVILLION SHOOTING , BALI ATM BOMBING, SHOOTING OF ATTORNEY SHAM KILLERS AND MANY OTHERS, I ESTABLISHED THAT DIRECTOR BOOYSEN WAS AT THE CRIME SCENES. WITHOUT ME INFORMING HIM . LATER WHEN I ARRIVED AT A FEW OF THE CRIME SCENE I NOTICED BOOYSEN PRESENCES .I SAID NOTHING EVEN THOU I WAS VERY UPSET . IT CLEAR LT COLONEL OLIVIER WAS WORKING HAND IN HAND WITH DIRECTOR BOOYSEN . HIS TELEPHONE RECORDS INCLUDING HIS CELLPHONE RECORDS WILL SHOW . I RECALL SHOOTING INCIDENT WHEN I REPORTED A SHOOTING INCIDENT TO DIRECTOR BOOYSEN IN THE N3 NEAR CATO RIDGE AREA BY CST SHANE NAIDOO AND OTHERS . I WAS UNWARE THAT BOOYSEN WAS ON LEAVE AT TIME YET HE CONFIRMED HE IS AT SCENE . I WAS SHOCKED I HAD NO COMMENTS.

CAPTAIN EVA WAS NOT APPOINTED TO DURBAN ORGANISED CRIME . COMMISSIONER PT BROWN AND DIRECTOR BOOYSEN WAS INVOLVED IN THE PROCESS ,THEY MUST EXPLAIN WHAT PROCESS THEY USED. I DID NOT APPROVE MOST OF MEMBERS AT CATO OFFICE MEMBERS TO ORGANISED CRIME DURBAN. ALL THEY DID WAS JUS CLOSED THE UNIT SERIOUS VIOLENT UNIT AND REOPENED AS THE CATO MANOR ORGANISED CRIME OFFICES. MANY OF THOSE MEMBERS HAVE LONG STANDING RELATIONSHIP WITH DIRECTOR JW BOOYSEN FROM DAYS OF MUDER AND ROBBERY UNIT. I DEMANDED THAT ALL THESE MEMBERS BE VETTED . NOTHING CAME OF THAT PROCESS. THEY CONTINUED TO OPERATE AS TWO SEPARATE UNITS.

I RECEIVED INFORMATION FROM RELIABLE SOURCES IN THE TAXI ASSOCIATION THAT WARRANT OFFICER MOSTERT IS WORKING WITH FOR A TAXI GUY IN THE STANGER TAXI ASSOCIATION . THERE GOING TO PUT A HIT ON ME AS I AM PROBLEM IN THERE OPERATIONS . ALLEGATIONS OF LARGE AMOUNTS OF MONEY WAS EXCHANGING HANDS. SHORTLY THEREAFTER I RECEIVED INFORMATION FROM A SOURCE THAT A DIRECTOR GOPAUL AND BOOYSEN WERE SEEN TOGETHER. DIRECTOR GOPAULS MEMBERS FROM THE DURBAN HARBOUR POLICE PROCEEDED TO UMHALI AREA AND GUN DOWN INNOCENT INDIAN BOY,PLUS THE DRIVER AFTER A CAR CHASE . THE STATION COMMANDER AT UMHALI AT TIME WAS UNAWARE OF HARBOUR POLICE WORKING IN THE AREA. THEY HAD NO MANDATE TO ENTER THAT POLICING AREA. CAPTAIN MANIVASHEN OF KWA DUKUZA SAPS ALSO REPORTED THE CONDUCT OF WARRANT OFFICER MOSTERT REGARDING A HIT ON A PRISONER NOTHING HAPPENED.

IN TERMS OF LOGISTIC AND RESOURCES MOST OF FINANCIAL APPROVALS BY PASSED ME AS UNIT COMMANDER RELATING TO CATO MANOR. I FINANCIAL CLERK INFORMED ME THAT MONIES HAVE BEEN TAKEN FROM OUR BUDGET AND PROVINCIAL OFFICE WAS TELLING US WHAT TO DO WITH OUR BUDGET, AT OCU DURBAN .

I WAS LATER ALSO INFORMED BY SOURCES THAT LT COLONEL GARTH LE ROUX WAS INVOLVED IN MKIZE INCIDENT . IT IS ALLEGED THAT HE ESCORTED IN HIS RED CORSA(STATE CAR) MKIZE BEFORE THE KILLING. I DISCUSSED THIS MATTER TO WILLIAMS OF ICD . I TRUSTED WILLIAMS.
I CONFIRM THAT ON THE DAY OF MKIZE KILLING I WAS IN THE COMPANY OF ANOTHER CONSTABLE TERRANCE MUNUSAMY FROM POINT POLICE WHEN I CALLED LT COLONEL OLIVIER TO FIND OUT IF HE KNEW OF THE SHOOTING OF MKIZE IN UMGENI ROAD . HE TOLD ME THAT ONLY NIU MEMBERS ARE INVOLVED ,NONE OF THE CATO MEMBERS ARE INVOLVED. I ONLY LATER DISCOVERED THAT LT COLONEL OLIVIER HAD TOLD ME LIES . I IMMEDIATELY TASKED MY SOURCE TO CONFIRM WHAT IS GOING ON IN UMGENI ROAD. MY FEEDBACK WAS THAT CATO MANOR MEMBERS ARE ON THE SCENE AND THEY ARE INVOLVED IN THE SHOOTING. I IMMEDIATELY MADE OB ENTRY . I CALLED ICD OFFICE TO FIND OUT WHAT'S GOING ON . INFORMATION WAS THAT DIRECTOR BOOYSEN AND BRIG MADONSELA HAD ALSO PROCEEDED TO THAT SCENE , YET THERE WAS A COURT ORDER. MY SOURCE ASKED WHO DRIVING A BEIGE MINI BUS ,IF WE HAVE ONE ,I TOLD HIM I DON'T KNOW. I LATER DISCOVERED THIS BEIGE MINI BUS WAS GIVEN TO CATO MANOR OFFICES WITHOUT MY KNOWLEDGE.
I DID MAKE CALL TO BOOYSEN AND TELL HIM OF SHOOTING INCIDENT AND REPORT I RECEIVED FROM LT COLONEL OLIVIER ABOUT SHOOTING INCIDENT THAT OUR MEMBERS ARE NOT INVOLVED IN THE INCIDENT. I WAS TOTALLY UNAWARE OF LIES GIVEN TO ME BY OLIVIER. I WILL REVEAL THE SOURCE TO INVESTIGATORS ,AS HE FEARS HIS LIFE. I ALSO CONFIRM THAT I HAD A WITNESS IN MY OFFICE WHEN I CALLED LT COLONEL OLIVIER. THE OB WAS STOLEN SHORTLY THEREAFTER FROM MY OFFICES. BOOYSEN CONCEDED IN A MEDIA REPORT HE ATTENDED TO MKIZE SHOOTING INCIDENT.

WARRANT OFFICER GANESH AND SGT PADAYCHEE WERE ONLY DEALING WITH DRUGS . THESE MEMBERS TAKEN TO CATO MANOR BY DIRECTOR BOOYSEN. I HAD NO SAY IN THE MATTER. MOST OF THE TRANSFERS AND SECONDMENT TO DURBAN ORGANISED CRIME WAS DONE BY DIRECTOR BOOYSEN. . I HAD VERY LITTLE SAY ,BY THAT TIME, I HAD NO COMMAND OVER LT COL OLIVIER AND THOSE MEMBERS AT CATO MANOR.

YES, WHEN THE NATIONAL OFFICE CLOSED CATO MANOR SVC OFFICES I HAD REQUEST FOR LOGISTICAL AUDIT . INVENTORY OF STATE PROPERTY WAS NOT IN ORDER INCLUDING UNACCOUNTED FIREARMS . I ISSUED A SINGLE 4X4 NISSAN HARDBODY TO LT COL OLIVIER. ALL OTHER RESOURCES WAS GIVEN FROM DIRECTOR BOOYSEN OFFICE INCLUDING\ COMPUTERS WHICH BROUGHT TO MY NOTICE LATER ON .
WHEN I CLOSED CATO MANOR OFFICES , BOOYSEN STEP IN AND WALKED INTO MY OFFICE AND TOLD ME THAT I HAVE NO DEALING WITH CATO MANOR OFFICES AND HE TAKE OVER THAT SECTION AND MAKE DECISION .
ALL MEDIA REPORTS OF SHOOTING BY CATO MANOR SECTION WAS MADE BY BOOYSEN .
ALSO OF UNLAWFUL ARREST OF WARRANT OFFICER SWART OF OCU

DURBAN COMPLAINED ABOUT BOOYSEN ARRESTING HIM UNLAWFULLY. I WITNESS WARRANT OFFICER KARL SANDERS OFFICE BEING RAIDED BY BOOYSEN WITH WARRANT PETER GEORGE AND WARRANT OFFICER MOSTERT. I CALLED BOOYSEN ASIDE AND INFORMED THAT THIS A UNLAWFUL SEARCH AND ARREST OF MEMBERS. I CAUTION BOOYSEN AGAINST ARREST OF MY MEMBERS. I ALSO AWARE THAT SPAR HAD DONATED A LAPTOP TO CATO MANOR OFFICES WITHOUT MY KNOWLEDGE. ONE CREAM OR BEIGE MINI BUS CUMBI WAS ISSUED WITHOUT ME BEING INFORMED DIRECTLY TO LT COL OLIVIER AND HIS TEAM , THIS CAN BE CONFIRMED BY CAPTAIN NI SHANGE FROM DURBAN ORGANISED CRIME UNIT. I WAS LATER TOLDED , IT WAS DISCOVERED TO BE USED IN MKIZE SHOOTING INCIDENT.

ALL THOU MY OFFICE KEPT THE ALL MEMBERS PERSONAL FILES. THESE MEMBERS WERE MAKING APPLICATION TO TRAVEL WITHOUT MY SIGNATURE OR I DID NOT HAVE ANY KNOWLEDGE OF THEIR OPERATIONS. SOMETIMES ,THEY TRAVEL WITHOUT ANY WRITTEN APPROVAL . I HAD FALL OUT WITH THE UNIT COMMANDER OF OCU RICHARD BAY , HE WANTED TO KNOW WHAT ARE MEMBERS OF CATO MANOR DOING IN HIS AREA .I COULD NOT GIVE HIM AN ANSWER, I MERELY REFERRED HIM TO BOOYSEN . I HAVE EVIDENCE THAT BOOYSEN WAS BUGGING MY CELLPHONES WITH A BRIG MOHAN AND CAPTAIN GOVENDER FROM WESTVILLE CORRECTIONAL SERVICES. THIS UNLAWFUL TO BUG MY CELLPHONES. e9

I THESE ALLEGATION AGAINST BOOYSEN ACTION AGAINST ME WILL RUN INTO PAGES WITH SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS. LT GEN MASEMOLA WAS AWARE OF THESE ISSUES. MOST OF SENIOR POLICE ON TOP KNEW WHAT WAS GOING ON . I REPORTED THIS LT GENERAL DRAMAT AS WELL. ALL I DID WAS BECOME A VICTIM , BOOYSEN MANAGED MOVE ME OUT OF MY POST AS UNIT COMMANDER. I BROUGHT THIS ISSUE TO GENERAL CELE ATTENTION VIA MY ADVOCATE ,I RECEIVED NO JOY. I WROTE TO MINISTER OF POLICE OFFICE THAT IS WHEN BRIG KADWA OF HAWKS INVESTIGATED ME ON THE INSTRUCTION OF LT GENERAL DRAMAT. I AM HONEST POLICE OFFICIAL DOING MY JOB YET I TARGETED FOR NO REASON. APPLICATIONS FOR STATES RESOURCES SUCH ACCOMMODATIONS AND TYRES FOR CATO MANOR ETC . MOST TRAVELING PLANS WENT DIRECTLY TO DIRECTOR BOOYSEN OFFICES.

I REPORTED THE SERIES OF SHOOTING INCIDENT DURBAN ICD OFFICES. I SPOKE TO MISS WILLIAMS WHO SHARED MY CONCERNS . IT WAS CLEAR VERY LITTLE COULD BE DONE AGAINST CATO MANOR .

RSA

G Sm

YES DID RECEIVE REPORTS AFTER SHOOTING INCIDENT . THIS DONE ONLY BECAUSE I FORCED THEM TO DO SO. I WAS AWARE OF DIRECT COMMUNICATION OF THESE MEMBERS TO DIRECTOR BOOYSEN . YES I DID QUESTION WHY SO MANY CASES KILLING TOOK PLACES. I TRIED TO REMOVE THE ATTORNEY SHAM MURDER DOCKET AND GIVE IT ANOTHER INVESTIGATOR BUT DIRECTOR BOOYSEN CALLED FOR MEETING . IN MY PRESENCES THE NEW INVESTIGATOR WARRANT OFFICER RENEYCKE HAD TO GIVE BACK THE DOCKET TO LUIT MOKESH PANDAY ON INSTRUCTION OF DIRECTOR BOOYSEN. I WAS UNDERMINED ALL THE TIME BY DIRECTOR BOOYSEN .HE ONLY VISITED MY OFFICE FEW TIMES.ONCE IN A FORMAL MEETING HELD AT DURBAN .

ALL THESE PRIVATE COMPANIES FREQUENTED CATO MANOR OFFICE YET I WAS COMMANDER. I WAS AWARE THAT SPAR DONATED COMPUTERS TO CATO MANOR OFFICE. CATO MANOR HOSTED HUGE YEAR FUNCTIONS AT DURBAN HARBOUR AFTER DURBAN OCU FINISHED HAVING YEAR END FUNCTION . AGAIN I COULD NOT QUESTION THEM AS DIRECTOR BOOYSEN WAS PRESENCES TO OPEN THAT FUNCTION . I DO NOT KNOW WHERE THE MONEY CAME ,AS LT COL OLIVIER MUST EXPLAIN .THIS PARTY WAS WELL IN ACCESS OF ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND RAND. LARGE NUMBER PEOPLE WERE INVITED . I WENT SEE AND WAS TREATED LIKE OUTSIDER TO THIS CATO MANOR OFFICE :

I WAS FORCEFUL REMOVED FROM MY OFFICE ON RECOMMENDATION OF DIRECTOR BOOYSEN THAT HE USED HIS POSITION AND THE DEPARTMENTAL PROCEDURE AGAINST ME . I WAS AWARE THAT BOOYSEN HAD INTENTION TO REMOVE ME FROM MY OFFICE A LONG TIME AGO . BRIG MADONSELA TOOK LOCKSMIT FORCED THE DOOR OPEN OF MY OFFICE. I FOUND A PLACARD READING EX UNIT COMMANDER ON MY DOOR . MOST OF KILLING WERE REPORTED TO ME LONG AFTER THE ICD HAD ATTENDED AND DIRECTOR BOOYSEN ,THEY ONLY SUBMITTED WRITTEN REPORTS TO ME LATE IN THE DAY.

I WANT MAKE IT VERY CLEAR THIS IS A VERY SERIOUS MATTER AND ACCORDING TO MY VIEW , THESE MEMBERS ARE VERY DANGEROUS. THEY HAVE BEEN GRANTED BAIL BY COURTS TO WORK FROM THE SAME OFFICES. IT CLEAR THAT NOBODY RESPECT THE WITNESS. I WILL ONLY MAKE A PROPER STATEMENT WHEN ALL SAFETY MEASURES ARE PUT INTO PLACE. MY RIGHTS ARE RESPECTED BY THE COURTS.

I FULLY UNDERSTAND THE RIGHTS OF SUSPECT BUT CASES SUCH AS THESE THE COURTS HAVE TO INTO CONSIDERATION SERIOUS NATURE OF CASE AND UNDERSTAND DANGERS OF DEALING WITH ORGANISED CRIMINAL NETWORKS. IT SEEMS THAT CERTAIN PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT IN THIS MATTER IS CREATED FALSE PERCEPTION OF FACTS. IN ORDER FOR TRUTH TO BE EXPOSED FAIR PRINCIPAL OF JUSTICE MUST APPLY.

I PREFER TO EXPOSE FACTS IN COURT IF MY LIFE IS GOING TO BE EXPOSED ,TO THIS KIND OF DANGER. THERE ARE LOTS OTHERS, WHO NOT BEEN ARRESTED , GOING AROUND IN PUBLIC PLACES CREATING PERCEPTIONS YET EMPLOYED BY THE STATE IN ORGANISED CRIME AND SAPS IN KZN .THERE LOT OF PRESSURE PUT ON ME ,AS I STILL WORK IN THE SAPS IN KZN.

I WILL STILL ADD TO WHAT I HAVE SAID AND WILL CLEAR OUT ANY OMISSION IF THAT NEED BE .I WILL ADD TO MY STATEMENT UNDER CROSS EXAMINATION IN COURT.

251.1. The maintenance of law and order is a duty imposed on the Police by law.

251.2. When a member is required to perform duties in a neighbourhood or in circumstances perilous to life, he shall be adequately armed for self-preservation or the protection of life and property. He must not, when necessary, hesitate to make use of his arm(s).

251.3. For obvious reasons it is not possible to make hard and fast rules with regard to all the circumstances under which fire-arms may be used.

251.4. As a member is often required to act on his own initiative, it is essential that all members have a thorough knowledge of the circumstances under which fire-arms may legally be used.

251.5. Members may be justified in using their fire-arms under the following circumstances:

251.5.1. If their station or barracks is attacked;

251.5.2. if an attempt is made to relieve them of their prisoners or deprive them of their arms;

251.5.3. to defend themselves or any other person or persons from death or serious injury if attacked,;

251.5.4. when other means are ineffectual, to effect the arrest or to prevent the escape of a prisoner convicted of a serious crime or of a person who has committed or is suspected of having committed an offence included in Schedule 1 to Act No 51 of 1977. [In this connection attention is especially drawn to the provisions of Section 49(2) of Act No 51 of 1977.]

251.6.1. It must constantly be borne in mind that, however justified a member may consider himself to be in shooting, whether or not the results are accompanied by the loss of life, this act with all its accompanying circumstances will have to be subjected to an investigation. A member who is placed in such circumstances, shall have to prove that he acted with all reasonable care and without recklessness or negligence, but that he was compelled by circumstances to make use of his fire-arm and that the degree of force and the nature of the weapon used, were not out of proportion to the circumstances necessitating the use of it.

251.6.2. Escape from lawful custody is a Schedule 1 offence, in the Criminal Procedure Act, only if the person who escapes or attempts to escape, has been arrested for having committed an offence in Schedule 1 or for the offence of escaping from that lawful custody. It is strictly prohibited to shoot at a person who has committed or is accused of having committed a petty offence [ie an offence other than that referred to in Schedule 1 of the Criminal Procedure Act] simply because he resists or escapes or attempts to escape. In such circumstances only the force [killing excluded] which is reasonably necessary to overcome the resistance or to prevent the escape, may be used.

251.6.3. If, under certain circumstances, it would suffice merely to wound or maim a person, care must be exercised not to kill that person. A member should familiarise himself with his weapon(s) in order to control the use of it. If a member has a valid reason to believe that his life is in imminent danger, he is entitled to shoot to kill that person.

251.6.4. A member who, under certain circumstances, is authorised and compelled to discharge a fire-arm must, however, always take care not to hit an innocent person.

251.7. The Riotous Assemblies Act [Act No 17 of 1956] makes special provision for the suppression of riotous assemblies. [See Sections 7 and 8 of the Act.] Attention is however directed to the provisions of Section 9, regarding the provisions in other enactments relating to the dispersal of riotous gatherings.

251.8. It is of the utmost importance that the officer [or other senior member present] should give all his attention to the supervision of the members under his command. He should not, therefore, except in the case of extreme necessity, himself fire but should, by a deliberate word of command, order one or more members under his command to fire a specified number of rounds at a particular person or persons indicated by him.

251.9. The Commander shall cause the members to fire at the leaders of the mob and such members must, as far as possible, attempt to hit the persons indicated. Firing shall not take place before the Commander has given a definite word of command to that effect.

251.10. Care must, however, at all times be taken that an innocent person, who is not identifying himself with the mob, is not hit.

251.11. Only as many members as may be considered necessary in the circumstances shall be assigned to fire.

251.12. If the necessity for firing arises and only the officer [or the other senior member in charge] is armed, he shall hand his weapon to a responsible member of the section. In all cases, before giving an order to fire, he must exercise the utmost forbearance, consistent with the safety of the members under his command and, as to the extent of the firing, exercise a humane discretion.

251.13. As soon as the necessity for firing has ended, a further shot shall not be fired.

251.14. If women and children are present, or are intentionally being used to thwart Police action, or to incite the emotions of the public, tear-gas must be used as the primary means to disperse the crowd. If this is not successful, the use of batons and fire-arms may be considered.

251.15.1. If a member, irrespective of the circumstances, fires a weapon, allows a weapon to be fired or orders the firing of a weapon, he must immediately report the fact to his immediate commander, or if he is not available, to the senior member at the police station in the area in which the incident occurred.

SO 251.15.1 are replaced by FO(G) 13/1989

251.15.2. If an officer was not present at the time of the incident, such Commander [or other senior member] shall immediately arrange to notify an officer about the incident, in order that, that officer can visit the scene without delay to investigate thoroughly the circumstances of the shooting incident.

251.15.3. If an officer is not readily available, or, owing to the distance he has to cover, he can reach the scene after a long time has expired, that Commander [or other senior member] shall immediately visit the scene personally and thoroughly investigate the shooting incident. If, however, the investigation reveals any of the following circumstances -

251.15.3.1. that a person has been killed or injured;

251.15.3.2. that property has been seriously damaged;

251.15.3.3. that the events reveal the unjustified use of the fire-arm and/or its reckless or negligent handling; or 251.15.3.4. that the events cause particular public interest or are of such a nature that Head Office ought to be informed; an officer shall, as soon as possible thereafter, visit the scene and verify the investigation that has already been done.

GSM

251.15.4. On his arrival at the scene, the Commander [or other senior member] must:

- identify himself;
- make known the purpose of his visit;
- determine who fired the shot; and
- warn that person in accordance with Judges' Rules before he questions him.

251.15.5. A full factual report about the shooting incident shall then, in accordance with the provisions of SO 231.5.3 and 231.5.4, be submitted under the following headings, under the member's personal file [or if the member is from another station area, under the general file of the station concerned] to the Commander of that member and the District Commissioner in whose District the shooting incident occurred:

He was fatally shot and killed behind the steering of the police vehicle whilst Insp Khanyile, who was in his company, also sustained gunshot wounds but miraculously managed to fight off the suspects, shooting the one about six meters from him. systematically proceeded through the house starting in the lounge area and proceeding down the passage. Turning left into the next passage a young school child was found standing in the one doorway who pointed to a closed door and informed Insp Mostert that "they are hiding there". The child was asked to depart from the house for his own safety. Once the investigation team reached the closed door, they found it to be locked and proceeded to announce themselves stating "It is the police, open up". This was repeated several times but no response was received. The door was then kicked in by Insp Mostert and at the same time a shot was fired from the room towards the investigation team and the sound of glass breaking was heard. During the investigations it was clear that Supt Chonco was a thorn in the side of these criminals who did not hesitate to take the law into their own hands. Investigations also revealed that the following suspects were directly involved in the assassination of Supt Chonco:

6.

Apart from that the relief sought in paragraph (b) (i) constitutes nothing more than mere lip service couched in interdictory language enjoining the Police to do exactly that which is their duty to perform.

7.

In seeking that relief, and as a general statement, the Applicant relies on nothing more than innuendo, hearsay, unconfirmed rumour and generalized unconfirmed reports made in the popular press.

8.

I turn now to deal with the specific allegations made in the Applicant's Affidavit.

9.

AD PARAGRAPH 1

I admit the identity of the Applicant and that he is an adult male taxi owner. I have no knowledge as to his place of residence.

10.

Having regard to that set out in this Affidavit I dispute the contents of paragraph 2.

GSM

Durban Central Cas 188/02/2009

A923

11.

AD PARAGRAPH 3

I admit these allegations.

12.

AD PARAGRAPH 4

I admit the identity of the Second Respondent. However, the Second Respondent is responsible for the portfolio of community safety and liaison. I refer further to his Affidavit filed evenly herewith.

13.

AD PARAGRAPH 5

I admit these allegations.

14.

AD PARAGRAPH 6

Save to state that I am the Provincial Commander: Organised Crime for the Province of KwaZulu-Natal I admit these allegations.

AD PARAGRAPHS 7 AND 8

I note what the Applicant intends to do as described in these paragraphs. The manner in which the Police are authorized to carry out their functions and duties is set out with precise clarity in the Criminal Procedure Act. 51 of 1977

A 92(P)

("the Act"). In my respectful submission this Court is enjoined to ensure that the Police comply with their duties and obligations as set out in the Act. It is imperative that right at the outset I make it abundantly clear that as matters presently stand a Warrant of Arrest has not been sought or issued with regard to the Applicant and, at present, he has no reason absolutely to fear arrest. However, as the investigation into the matters generally described in the Founding Affidavit progresses further I am unable to state with any certainty whether that position will change. If it does and there indeed arises a situation where it becomes necessary to either question or detain or arrest the Applicant, those functions will be carried out strictly in accordance with the law. If and when that happens, the Applicant has available to him all of his constitutional and other rights which the Police are obliged to respect and observe.

I have no knowledge of the allegations contained in these paragraphs, question their relevance to this application and, to the extent that the Applicant contends that they are indeed relevant, put him to the proof thereof.

AD PARAGRAPH 14

While there has certainly been tension between the two associations mentioned by the Applicant, the violence in the taxi industry is not limited to those two alone. Violence in the taxi industry is endemic, rife and spreads across all associations. There have been members from all associations that have been killed but at present I am unable to say how many and from which particular association such people have emanated.

G S M

Durban Central Cas 185/02/2009

A:92/5

18.

AD PARAGRAPH 15

The Police are investigating violence whenever and wherever it occurs. This includes all the associations that are involved and not just the two referred to by the Applicant.

19.

AD PARAGRAPH 16

I admit that at a point in time Superintendent CHONCO was the Station Commissioner at Kraanskop Police Station. However he was assigned to deal with all taxi conflicts as a co-ordinator of that investigation in the Province of KwaZulu-Natal. He was not the head of any unit and there is no particular unit as described by the Applicant. I have no knowledge as to whether or not the Applicant did indeed meet with CHONCO.

20.

AD PARAGRAPH 17

I admit that CHONCO was murdered on 27 August 2008. On that day he and another member of the South African Police, one KHANYILE, were in a motor vehicle when they were set upon. In the exchange of gun fire CHONCO was killed, KHANYILE was injured and one of the assailants was shot dead at the scene. This assailant was found in possession of an AK47 rifle.

GSM

Durban Centre | Ces 18/12/2009

21.

AD PARAGRAPH 18

Although I am aware of the fact that the services of a security company were retained by the association, I am not aware of the remaining allegations contained in this paragraph. To the extent that the Applicant contends that they are relevant I put him to the proof thereof.

22.

AD PARAGRAPH 19

I dispute the allegations contained in paragraph 19. The forensic investigation into the firearms of the security company was only done much later under different circumstances. I deal with those later in this Affidavit.

23.

AD PARAGRAPH 20

I deny the allegations contained in paragraph 20. To the extent that the Applicant seeks to rely on rumour and the unsubstantiated evidence of an unknown person who claims to be a policeman, I cannot deal with same.

24.

AD PARAGRAPH 21

I admit that a person was detained and questioned. I deny that that person was in any way assaulted. In any event these allegations constituted hearsay and ought to be struck out.

GS

25.

AD PARAGRAPH 22

I note the contents of the document purporting to be an Affidavit by MOSES DLAMINI. It is improper for that Affidavit to be put up by the Applicant unless and until MOSES DLAMINI puts up an Affidavit in this matter. That Affidavit was not designed for the purposes for which the Applicant intends to employ it and is therefore, in the context of this application, hearsay, and ought to be struck out. In any event, MOSES DLAMINI was never assaulted and I refer to the Affidavits of PANDAY and MAHARAJ filed evenly herewith.

26.

AD PARAGRAPH 23

The information received from MOSES DLAMINI is hearsay and ought to be struck out. In any event I deny the existence of any list that is referred to by the Applicant and deny that DLAMINI was assaulted.

AD PARAGRAPG 24

I admit that MOSES DLAMINI was released. Any information received by the Applicant from MOSES DLAMINI as referred to in the Founding Affidavit is hearsay and ought to be struck out. I have no knowledge as to why the Applicant became concerned for his wellbeing and deny that he had any reason to be so afraid. The letter, annexure "B" needs to be placed in context. On 05 September 2008 Hlapane Attorneys addressed, inter alia, the Provincial Commissioner. A copy of that letter is annexed hereto marked "JWB1". That was responded to on 11 September 2008, a copy of which is annexed hereto marked "JWB2". Annexure "B" to the founding affidavit was then received. In any event, in the absence of an affidavit from the author of the letter the contents thereof are hearsay.

GSM

A92.15

28.

I deny the allegations contained in this paragraph. It is not the intention of the Police to kill anyone. It is certainly the intention of the Police to properly investigate all crime and to bring the persons responsible therefor to book.

29.

AD PARAGRAPH 26

I deny the allegations contained in this paragraph. It is not the intention of the Police to falsely implicate anyone in any of the crimes concerned. Again the unsubstantiated hearsay referred to in this paragraph is not a basis for the grant of the interdicts sought and ought to be struck out.

30.

AD PARAGRAPH 27

No list existed and therefore there was no list that could have been supplied to the Second Respondent. In this regard I refer to the Affidavit of the Second Respondent filed evenly herewith.

AD PARAGRAPH 28

NDIMANDE and TEMBE were arrested and questioned. They were subsequently released. On 16 September 2008 information was received which necessitated NDIMANDE and TEMBE to be questioned again. Information was also received that the two individuals were in the process of fleeing the Province of KwaZulu-Natal, making their way to the Free State. On the busy N3 freeway between Pietermaritzburg and Merrivale an attempt was made to apprehend them. Police vehicles employing their sirens and appropriate flashing lights attempted to stop them. They resisted and shot at the Police. The Police returned fire and they were killed. Two hand guns, a Lugar assault rifle and an AK47 assault rifle were recovered by the Police. To the extent that the information contained in paragraph 28 is at odds with what I say here, I deny same. I also deny the contents of the press report from The Daily Sun to the extent that it is at odds with what I say. TEMBE was an employee of the security company referred to by the applicant in paragraphs 18 and 19 of the founding affidavit. As a consequence of this incident, and when he was discovered in possession of assault weapons, and because he was involved in an incident where he was party to the Police being fired upon, the forensic investigation into the firearms referred to in paragraph 19 of the founding affidavit was commenced.

Durban Central Cas 185/02/2009

A922

32.

AD PARAGRAPH 29

There is simply no basis for what the Applicant contends is "widely believed". I have no knowledge of what services the Applicant has engaged and who or what the "various entities" are. I have already explained that NDIMANDE and TEMBE were again sought as a result of new information received. There is nothing untoward about that. In any event, why the Applicant refers to the N3 highway as a "quite (sic) back-road" escapes me unless it is nothing more than a thinly veiled attempt to colour the information (whether true or not) placed before this Court.

AD PARAGRAPHS 30 AND 31

I have already said that there was no list in existence. On 3 September 2008 an attempt was made to arrest BUTHELEZI. He resisted arrest and attempted to shoot at the members of the South African Police Services who returned fire in self-defence. BUTHELEZI was killed in that exchange of fire. His firearm, a CZ 7.65 automatic was recovered at the scene. Whether or not BUTHELEZI was a prominent member of the Applicant's association is unknown to me. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraphs 30 and 31 to the extent that theirs are at odds with what I say here. The Affidavit put up from SOKHULU is hearsay and must be struck out. It was not obtained or put up for the purposes of this application and she has not confirmed those facts for the purposes of this application. In any event I deny the allegations contained in that Affidavit to the extent that they are at odds with what I say herein. BUTHELEZI was killed while he resisted arrest and shot at the Police.

GSM

34.

Information was received that implicated NTULI and MTHEMBU in taxi violence related incidents. On 18 September 2008, as a result of that information, members of the South African Police Service attempted to arrest NTULI and MTHEMBU. The Police were fired upon and had to return fire. As a result both NTULI and MTHEMBU were killed. Their firearms, a Z88 and a CZ 75 were recovered from the scene. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 32 to the extent that it differs from what I say herein.

AD PARAGRAPH 33

MKHIZE was arrested on 18 October 2008 in Pietermaritzburg. He was attending a funeral at the time. He was transported to Scottburgh for questioning. After questioning, during which he had agreed to effect a pointing-out, he was again transported for that purpose. Whilst in the vehicle he attempted to overcome the driver and was shot in the process. This was in self-defence. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 33 where they are at odds with what I say herein.

I am surprised to note that the Applicant identifies himself with the unnamed person referred to in the unsubstantiated newspapers article. How the Applicant concludes that the report suggests that he is intending to flee the country is a mystery. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 34 to the extent that they are relevant to this application.

37.

AD PARAGRAPH 35

I have repeatedly said that the list referred to is simply a figment of the Applicant's imagination. The Applicant is not a suspect at present and neither has a warrant of arrest been contemplated or sought with regard to him. However it is interesting to note that the Applicant has a "source" within the Police services. Why he would need such a "source" is food for interesting speculation. There is no plan to kill the Applicant. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 35.

38.

I deny these allegations:

GSM

Durban Central | Cas 188/02/2009

39.

AD PARAGRAPH 37

This application has been engineered to ensure that the Applicant approach the Court without any response from the Respondents being placed before the Court. If regard is had to annexure "G" it will be noted that it called for a response by 11H00. The absence of a response was coupled with an assumption that there was indeed no response that would be forthcoming. However, if regard is had to the telefax transmission slip annexed to that letter it would be seen that it was only telefaxed at 11H21 that morning. By that stage the response time has past considerably. I have no doubt that that discrepancy was not brought to the attention of the learned Judge who heard this matter in the urgent circumstances engineered by the Applicant. In any event, it came to my attention shortly after noon that day that the third respondent had received an identically worded letter, but which instead called for a response by 12h00 that same day. I was informed that the third respondent's office was preparing a response. The third respondent's reply is annexed hereto marked "JWB3". It is also to be noted that very little of the relief claimed in the Notice of Motion is foreshadowed in the letter, annexure "G". I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 37.

40.

AD PARAGRAPH 38

The Applicant's belief is wholly unfounded. I otherwise deny the allegations contained in paragraph 38.

G S M

Durban Central Cas 185/02/2009

41.

AD PARAGRAPH 39

I note the allegations contained in paragraph 39.

42.

AD PARAGRAPH 40

I note that the Applicant states that he has no information whatsoever that could assist the South African Police Service in its ongoing investigation into the issues of taxi violence. If that is indeed the Applicant's position then he has nothing to fear. Even if the Police conclude otherwise and determine, at some point in the future, that the Applicant might well be a suspect and liable to detention, the Applicant is well within his rights to refuse to respond to any questions put to him. He is also well within his rights, at that point in time, to demand that he has his legal representative present when being questioned. All those rights the Police Services are obliged to respect and will respect. I also note that the Applicant's stated intention is never to make any confession before a Magistrate or anyone else relating to the investigation into taxi violence. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 40.

43.

I have already said that no warrant for the arrest of the Applicant has been

GSM

A92B

contemplated or sought. The investigation is ongoing and is nowhere near completion at this stage. The Applicant's averments are simply no basis for the relief sought. I deny the allegations in paragraph 41.

44.

I note these allegations.

AD PARAGRAPH 43

There is simply no basis for the alleged urgency and the matters dealt with are entirely of the Applicant's own making, based on untested rumour, innuendo and hearsay. There is simply no evidence whatsoever to support the Applicant's alleged "fears and contentions". It is a well known fact that the taxi industry is beset with the corruption and violence as the competing associations and competing members seek to protect their respective interests. The mere fact that people being investigated have sought to turn on the Police and are killed in circumstances where the Police are forced to defend themselves cannot and must not be construed to mean that the Police is conducting a campaign against them.

46.

AD PARAGRAPH 44

There was no need to bring this application. I acknowledge that the Applicant

GSM

A 92B

has indeed been corresponding with the Police Services. However, and with specific reference to annexure "H", it is disingenuous for the Applicant to put up the response from me without putting up his letter of 29 August 2008. This is yet another indication of why I say the Applicant has crafted together this application to suit his own purposes because the Applicant does not see fit to put up his letter, obviously considering it to be relevant, I will refrain from doing so.

47.

AD PARAGRAPH 45

The references contained in this paragraph are scurrilous and inflammatory. This paragraph and the newspaper articles referred to have no bearing whatsoever on the matter at hand and ought to be struck out.

I deny the allegations contained in these paragraphs.

WHEREFORE I pray that it may please this Honourable Court to dismiss the application with costs.

Further to my affidavit deposed to on the 3 August 2012 I wish to add the following:-

3.

I confirm that I arranged the meeting between the then MEC Bheki Cele and the Taxi Association officials but I did not participate in the meeting.

4.

I was never told by the police that my clients were sought by them. It was members of the Association who had heard that some of their members were being mentioned as being on the wanted list by the police. This list was in the possession of those interrogated by them. The people who informed them (Association) were suspects who would hear this during interrogation by police.

These suspects were Swayo Mkhize, Moses Dlamini and Nzuzo Mkhize who had been taken in for interrogation by the police in respect of Suptendant Chonco's murder case.

My intervention in the whole thing was essentially to write to several police institutions and bring this to the attention of those who could prevent further killings and / or bring to book the culprits.

On Tuesday 2008/09/16 I was at my place of employment when I was called by WO Mostert who to my at me and say you will come now to 123 Hanover Freeway to come and see what we have done to your man.

I then drove to the scene together with Sean and on our arrival the freeway was completely blocked by Metro police, SAPS and the SUV. Cars were also there. I only talked to Mosiori and we were not allowed to get inside the scene and see what had happened. I wanted to see my security. We waited there for about 1 hour and half and I drove back.

(11) I am the owner of the security company where Tembe was working for. We were protecting Magnificent taxi association members. So Tembe was with the client when he was killed. We gave Tembe to escort Mr Magojela on request of the taxi association. He was issued with a 9mm pistol and Mini Ruger 14 fire arms. There were no any other fire arm that was issued to him only the two fire arm mentioned were issued to him.

The deceased Tembe was screened before he join the Security Company and he was a church going person and he was not involved in any criminal activities.

When I talked to MPO Mosteri he said to me the deceased was shooting at them but I can't see the reason why the deceased can shoot at the police.

On 11/05/2008 one of my security guy namely Mthokozane Penze phoned me and told me that he was together with our Client Magojela Nsimande and that they were followed, chased and arrested around Mthunzini area. They were taken to Mthunzini Police Station (SAPS) where they were interrogated. They were handed over to Organised Crime police officer namely W.O. Van Ponder, Paul

P Mosses, Mokhanya and they were tortured, kicked and beaten during the interrogation. I told him that he must always be truthful when he is questioned

He told me that they were later released because they were not connected to any case. The security guard Tembe was placed to protect Mr Magojela Nkunamane after the chairperson of Mapthumulo taxi association Mr Mbhize requested for protection of Mapthumulo taxi officials by our security company. Our security company was protecting many taxi owners for or of Mapthumulo taxi association. It is our co-business to protect owners who needed protection.

When Tembe was placed to protect Magojela Nkunamane was issued with 9mm Manico pistol and Mini Ruger 14 and he had relevant permit with not had any other weapon

Mr Magojela Mthunzi was also a Taxi owner of Mathumulo approached because his life was in danger to protect him.

On 16/09/2018 Mr Praven Judge shooting incident. He told him that our Client Magojela and killed by them organise immediately from Pinetown to Hamilton.

On my arrival I notice
a Mahwaxy vehicle (bakkie)

The Mortuary personel were busy loading the bodies in the vehicle. I then went to the Mortuary bakkie and asked the personel that I want to see and check the body of the security guy Tembe. When I checked it I realise that when the body was pulled out of the bakkie I touched his neck and realise that his neck was broken. I also notice that he had deep marks all over his body. He also had bullet ~~hol~~ shots wounds on his body.

The police left the scene and the bodys were removed by the Mortuary personels. The Hyundai Tucson was left at the scene because the breakdown vehicle was supposed to remove the vehicle from the scene to Honick SAPS.

After the Police left I went

Close to the car in which our security guard and our client Magoje was travelling with. I inspected the vehicle and noticed that driver side was having a lot of bullet holes and it showed that this vehicle was fired from outside and there were no bullet holes that showed that it was fired from inside. There were bullets holes on the drivers seat. It clearly showed that shots were fired into the vehicle which caught the driver and killed him.

I also noticed that the body of the security guard was dragged from behind the vehicle from a distance and clearly showed that it was the body of Teube that was dragged. I can say he must have tried to get out of the vehicle and his foot was stuck behind and his body got underneath the vehicle which was in motion and he got dragged by a motor vehicle and broke his neck. He was dragged by this motor vehicle up until it stopped.

There were no evidence that the body guard (security personal) shot at the police from inside their moving car which the two deceased were travelling with. There were no bullets holes on the rear window which could indicate that there were shots which were fired from inside. The security guard (body guard) should not shoot at the police because he felt under the vehicle and broke his neck. He was dead when dragged by the vehicle. I have no doubt that he has never shot at the Police but noticed that there was no any police car which had a bullets holes on it. I then spoke to the people who were walking closer to the road and asked them what happened but they said when they started to hear gunshots they hide themselves but they heard gunshots and the Tucson Hyundai vehicle stopped and the police started shooting again and they hided again up until there were no gunshots. Further that police helicopter landed at the scene and a tall white police officer got out of the helicopter and had spoke to the policeman on the scene who were just there immediately after the shooting stopped. The said police helicopter just left after we arrived at the scene.

I started to do investigation together with Mr Steyl and handed some photos to him which I took with my cellphone.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

4.1 I have 24 years' experience in the forensic ballistic investigation of crime scenes, scene reconstruction, documentation of investigations and compiling of opinions, results, and findings. This includes scene photography, developing and printing of photos and compiling albums thereof.

4.2 In addition to forensic ballistic experience privately and with the SAPS, I have an additional (2) two years' service with the SAPS whereupon I investigated a wide range of crime scenes and general grievances. I also underwent a further (2) year's compulsory military service.

4.3 I am a recognised member of A.F.T.E. (Association of Firearm and Toolmark Examiners) an International organisation based in the United States. Qualified experts throughout the world belong to this organisation. I also receive quarterly A.F.T.E journals, which highlight the most up to date material available in this profession.

4.4 I visited the F.B.I and Virginia Commonwealth Laboratories in the USA in June 1993 and during February 1995 the Washington Metropolitan Police Firearm Section and Virginia Commonwealth Laboratories. In July 2000 I attended the A.F.T.E. firearm and toolmark conference at St. Louis, Missouri and visited the F.D.L.E. Laboratories in Tampa and Orlando. During my visit to the laboratories I studied the newest technological progress in the forensic ballistic field which is used by these well-accredited laboratories. I also had the opportunity to visit several firearm factories where I studied the manufacturing processes of firearms and firearm parts and the interaction between the mechanics and the cartridge case in the firing process. I was able to acquire valuable information used in the microscopic identification process. In February, 2008 I visited the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) Forensic Laboratory in Columbus, Georgia, USA. During this visit I studied the handling of exhibits, report writing as well as lab accreditation processes. I also learned about their paperless documentation and security system.

4.5 I was trained in the selected measure of crime scenes with regards to the vertical and horizontal angles with Theodolite (GTS 4) measuring equipment. I also received training in measuring of contour intervals with the Theodolite, and the documentation of information on a topographical map. I was exclusively responsible for the training of the ballistic members in the set-up and working and application of the Theodolite GTS 4.

4.6 I am actively involved in a current and on going study of all the latest technologies in the forensic ballistic field using reference materials available through subscriptions to international firearm magazines, internationally recognised reference books and articles written by other experts listed on the internet.

4.7 I have to date investigated more than 8000 ballistic related cases.

4.8 During the past 24 twenty-four years I have investigated forensic / ballistic cases and have given evidence in High Courts and Magistrates Courts throughout South Africa, and neighbouring countries.

4.9 INDEPENDENT SHOOTING RANGE ASSESSOR

From May 2004 – December 2005

Owner/ Assessor: Range Assessments cc.

G S M

When the Compulsory Specification for Small Arms Shooting Ranges was introduced in May 2004, the South African Bureau of Standards (SABS) requested my ballistic expertise to put together a standardized ISO 17202 company which would implement and conduct the assessment of shooting ranges thought the country. Detailed knowledge of the specifications was attained and applied whereby we assisted many ranges with an entirely new design in order to comply.

Having assessed over 300 ranges in the initial years, the foundation was laid for the SABS to continue annual assessments of ranges for their yearly certification.

4.10 COMPUTER RELATED EXPERIENCE

In 1992 I began working with computer hardware and the building of personal computers. Over the last 19 years I have furthered my computer knowledge by self study in also working with and becoming acquainted with various software (how they work and interrelate with hardware and other software), internet solutions, networking and database construction, design and management. I further work with computerized photograph, video and sound editing software.

I am highly efficient in the use of all Microsoft Office products including: MS Word, MS Outlook, MS PowerPoint, MS Publisher, Windows Media. I am beginning self study into animation software for court presentation purposes of crime reconstructions.

4.11 TRAINING

I have been appointed by the Legal Aid Board to present courses to their members on ballistics. To date I have presented lectures in Kwazulu-Natal, the Free State and Gauteng, the Northern Cape, the Western Cape and the Eastern Cape. I have also launched a series of ballistic seminars designed for private advocates and attorneys specialising in criminal law. I have been appointed by the State Attorney's office in KwaZulu Natal to present this course as well.

Ezemvelo Wildlife/ Parks Board has used my services to present a course on Footwear Impressions: Recording and Casting which teaches Park members how to approach a scene in a standardized manner and how to photograph, cast & record footwear impressions for court presentation. This course requires completion and a positive result on a final written examination including photographic and cast specimens from each attendee.

STATEMENT

BACKGROUND

On 22 September, 2008 I received instructions from Hlapane Attorneys, Durban. I had a consultation with Mr. Nathi Shozi and Ms. Gabi of 4 Oribi Road, Mandeni where it was brought to my attention that a shooting incident occurred in her home where her boyfriend and another friend were killed in her main bedroom. I was instructed by Mr. Shozi to attend a scene investigation into the matter.

On the 23rd September, 2008 I visited 4 Oribi Road, Mandeni where Ms. Gabi pointed out the main bedroom where the incident occurred. I inspected the scene and noted the following:

1. The incident occurred in the main bedroom. The layout of the scene is: Upon entering the door in the corner of the room, there is a built in cupboard to the left. The bed is located against the opposite wall under the window. There is a vanity with a mirror in front along the right wall and a free standing cupboard is located along the left wall near the bed. (See Sketch Plan)

2. The wooden bedroom door leading to the main bedroom had a single bullet hole from the inside to outside through the door. Upon examining the hole, it appears to be consistent with a 9mm bullet fired from the inside toward the outside of the bedroom. The trajectory is slightly downward from the inside toward the outside. The measurements are consistent with a 9mm bullet. This bullet impacted on the adjacent toilet wall. Upon determining the trajectory I found that the door was in the closed position when the shot was fired. See sketch plan: trajectory 1 and photographs below.

3. There was a blood stain visible on the carpet at the left foot corner of the bed. In the vicinity of the blood stained area, I observed a bullet impact mark in the carpet. Upon further examination I also found a bullet embedded in the under felt of the carpet. I cut the carpet open, took photographs of the bullet in the embedded position and determined the most probable angle of the impact. The bullet retrieved was a full jacketed 9mm bullet. See Sketch Plan: Impact Mark A and photographs below.

4. In the blood stained vicinity I found a further bullet impact mark on the carpet. I cut the mark open and found that bullet had fragmented and had exited the impact site.

GSM

5. Ms. Gabi handed me a fragmented bullet that she retrieved from the carpet during the cleaning process. The bullet fragment is a 5,56 calibre bullet which was damaged on the base section and could have created some shrapnel leaving the site of impact. See Sketch Plan: Impact Mark B and photographs below.

6. The free standing cupboard had an unstable bullet entrance hole visible which impacted sideways into the cupboard. Ms. Gabi handed me a bullet that she had retrieved from the inside of the cupboard during the cleaning process. It was a slightly damaged 9mm bullet. See Sketch Plan: Trajectory 2 and photographs below

7. There were two 5mm diameter holes in the curtain behind the bed at 1.9 and 2 meters from the ground which is consistent with 5,56 calibre fired bullets. These two gunshots broke the window and exited the room. (see sketch plan: trajectories 3 & 4)

G S M

8. There is a shrapnel impact mark on the left wall before the free standing cupboard 85cm from the floor which is consistent with shrapnel ricochet from the carpet. (see sketch plan: S1) There is a further associated shrapnel mark/ indentation on the free standing cupboard 51cm from the floor. See Sketch Plan: S1 & S2 and photographs below.

9. I instructed Ms. Gabi to carefully move all the furniture and unpack all the cupboards to see if there are any other exhibits still embedded in the room.

Subsequently I received a phone call from her and was notified that she had retrieved a cartridge and one further bullet under the bed. These items have been collected from her.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION & INSTRUCTION FEBRUARY 2012

On the 8th of February 2012 I received instructions from Mr. Khuba of the Independent Complaints Directorate, whereby I was given a case file which containing various statements, affidavits and reports as well as color copies of scene photographs taken by the Local Criminal Records Centre, Richard's Bay.

SCENE SKETCH PLAN

Attached to this report is a scene sketch plan which indicates the bullet trajectories and exhibits retrieved from this scene. There are three windows behind the bed all of which have burglar bars on the section that opens. There were four bullet trajectories indicated:

G S M

- Trajectory 1 caused by a 9mm calibre type bullet
- Trajectory 2 caused by a 9mmP type calibre projectile found inside the cupboard
- Trajectories 3 & 4 caused by a 5,56 type calibre projectile exiting the window

There were two bullet impact marks on the carpet (A & B) where 'A' was a 9mmP calibre bullet retrieved from the carpet and 'B' was a 5,56 type fragmented projectile found by the owner.

There were two secondary/shrapnel/ fragmented projectiles creating the damage marked as 'S1 & S2.'

The two 9mmP calibre bullets and one 5,56 fragmented projectile were handed over to the ICD.

POST-MORTEM REPORTS

Deceased, Mzamani Johannes Ntuli, death register 347/2008 - post-mortem was conducted by Dr. N Z Khumalo in Eshowe. The deceased sustained multiple gunshot wounds and is the same individual as shown in the LCRC photo album as the deceased with a striped orange shirt.

The deceased sustained an entrance wound on the right back of the head with an associated exit wound above the left ear. This wound track is upwards and right to left. There is a further entrance wound on the left upper back. This wound track appears to be forward and toward the right. There appears to be multiple exit wounds on the left front upper chest. There also appears to be an entrance wound in the left front upper chest. It seems the deceased sustained at least three gunshot wounds. There is no description of the appearance of the wounds. There is a tremendous lack of information concerning the wound tracks and individual connections between entrance and exit wounds.

Deceased, Wilson Nkosinathi Mthembu, death register 348/2008 - post-mortem was conducted by Dr. N Z Khumalo in Eshowe. The deceased sustained multiple gunshot wounds and is the same individual as shown in the LCRC photo album as the deceased with white vest and a beige flannel jacket.

The deceased sustained two entrance wounds to the right upper chest. It appears that one had an upward trajectory and exited on the back behind the neck. The second one exited on the right flank.

LCRC 299/09/2008 – compiled by Sgt. JF Ndletshe consists of 32 pictures and a sketch plan. On the 21st of February 2012 I visited the LCRC in Richards Bay to obtain the original digital disk containing ALL the photos taken at the scene; however we could not obtain any original photographs except for the color copies which we were already in possession of.

Upon examining the color copies of photographs taken at the scene I generally observed a bedroom with two deceased lying on the carpet in front of a double bed. After observing the positioning of the deceased (especially the position of the deceased with the orange striped shirt Mzamani Johannes Ntuli) it was clear that the position of this deceased's head coincided with the bullet damage marks in the carpet previously found during my investigation. (See photograph below)

During my scene investigation I retrieved a 9mmP bullet which had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the head of the deceased. This coincides with the head wound found in the post-mortem. A further 5,56 calibre fragmented projectile was retrieved from the carpet in the vicinity of the waist of the deceased.

The only blood spatter and pooling found in the room was on the carpet beneath the deceased. There are further other bullet trajectories found which can be observed in the attached sketch plan.

The LCRC sketch plan's layout is incorrect and does not indicate the impact damage to the adjacent toilet as indicated on my sketch plan as trajectory '1.'

The ballistic statement in this case is not complete as none of the shottists' firearms were connected with the cartridge cases and exhibits at the scene, however, in summary, it appears that two 9mm pistols, one a LEW Z88 pistol with erased serial number and one CZ 75 pistol with serial number G2921, were retrieved from the scene. This is also depicted on the scene photographs indicating the pistols on the carpet in the vicinity of the deceased. One of these pistols fired two shots.

However, there were two 9mm short (9x17mm) calibre cartridge cases retrieved from the scene where there was no firearm on the scene that could have fired these cartridges. It is also unclear if these two cartridge cases come from one pistol or two different pistols.

Further there is no mention of the exhibits which I retrieved from the scene and handed over to the Independent Complaints Directorate.

Once the complete ballistic statement is received I will add or alter this section of the statement.

CONCLUSION

Based on the information available to me at this time, it is my opinion that:

- Deceased, Mzamani Johannes Ntuli, death register 347/2008 sustained multiple gunshot wounds. There was an entrance and exit gunshot wound to the head which is consistent with the deceased in a lying position as depicted in the (LCRC) photographs (with the orange striped shirt).

- I retrieved a 9mmP bullet which had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the head of the deceased (with the orange shirt). The exit wound on his head is consistent with the bullet impact mark in the carpet underneath his head (Impact Mark 'A').
- A further 5,56 calibre fragmented projectile was retrieved from the carpet in the vicinity of the waist of the same deceased as above.
- There was no blood found in the room except on the carpet beneath both deceased.
- The ballistic statement is incomplete as it does not refer to the shottists' firearms or the exhibits I handed over to the ICD.
- Two 9mm short (9x17mm) calibre cartridge cases were retrieved from the scene with no corresponding firearms retrieved. It also appears that these cartridge cases could be from two different pistols.
- There was one shot fired from a closed bedroom door from the inside to the outside of the room. The calibre was most probably a 9mm.
- There were a total of at least three 5,56 shots fired inside the bedroom. The two on the curtain did not create any injuries to the deceased. The one fired directly into the carpet most probably created injury to the deceased.
- Apart from the bullet hole through the bedroom door, there were at least another three 9mm shots discharged inside the bedroom where the one in the carpet and the one found inside the free standing cupboard could have created injuries to the deceased.
- The two shots inside the carpet (9mm & 5,56) in the vicinity of the blood stain in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70-75 degrees).
- Deceased, Wilson Nkosinathi Mthembu, death register 348/2008 sustained multiple gunshot wounds and is the same individual as shown in the LCRC photo album as the deceased with white vest and a beige flannel jacket.

GSM

SEQ 29/2021-408

- The deceased sustained two entrance wounds to the right upper chest and a further three entrance wounds underneath the right arm. These five bullet wound trajectories are up, down & horizontal. This indicates that the deceased could have sustained wounding in a standing AND in a lying position.

On 6th March 2012 during the performance of my official duties I received a copy of a Police case Docket with reference DURBAN CENTRAL CAS 185/02/2009 from Lieutenant-Colonel Mano of the Task Team. Amongst other documents in the docket I found the following documents which were to be utilized in crime scene reconstructions:

4.3 Ballistic Reports (affidavits in terms of Section 212 of criminal Procedures act 51 of 1977) compiled by Sergeant Padmini Tilakdharee marked LAB 18592/09 1ST, 2ND and 3rd entries.

4.8 Statement by Inspector JF Stoltz.

The intention and scope of this Forensic examination comprise the following:

5.1 Crime scene reconstruction.

5.2 Bullet trajectories determination.

5.3 Expert opinion concerning the case.

I studied the two post mortem reports and noticed the following:

6.1 The wounds sustained by the deceased as described by both doctors are the same and consistent with the photos.

6.2 Both doctors' observations resulted to the conclusions that the cause of death was Low Velocity Gunshot Wound to the Neck. Both doctors are in agreement that the bullet perforated the neck and was from right to left.

I observed the crime scene photos and noticed the following:

7.1 The position of the deceased's vehicle on the road.

7.2 The position of fired cartridge cases on the crime scene.

7.3 The bullet holes and damages on the vehicle.

7.4 The position of the deceased's body inside the vehicle.

7.5 The position of the firearm and fired cartridge cases inside the vehicle.

7.5 The positions and types of wounds sustained by the deceased. Not all the wounds sustained by the deceased and described by the doctors were visible on photos.

Both doctors's observations resulted to the conclusions that the cause of death was a Low Velocity Gunshot Wound to the Neck and they are both in agreement that the bullet that perforated the neck was from right to left and forward. In determining the possible bullet trajectory of the fatal shot, I am of the opinion that this shot was fired through the right rear door's window and it was most probably the bullet that perforated the headrest of the driver's seat. This shot was fired from the right side towards the back of the vehicle.

Taking into consideration the position of the bullet hole in the head rest of the driver's seat and the position of the fired cartridge cases on the crime scene, I am of the opinion that the shot was most probably fired from the area circled on the photo below.

Photo 28 (Possible position where shots were fired from).

According to Ballistics report compiled by Sergeant Padmini Tilakdharee on dated 4th June 2009, cartridge cases marked E1--E3, F, G1-G7 and H (visible on photo above) were positively linked to the pistol with serial number H 86407 Z, and cartridge cases marked L, N and P were positively linked to the pistol with serial number H 74632 Z. These cartridge cases place the two shooters at the left back of the Toyota Quantum (right back of the deceased's vehicle).

11.

According to statements by Police officials, Inspector Felokwakhe Thomas Dlamuka, Constable Stanley Sandile Mfene, D/Inspector Padayachee, Inspector Rakesh Chunderbhan Maharaj and Inspector JF Stoltz, the deceased fired shots to the direction of the police and they returned shots fatally wounding the deceased. According to Ballistics report compiled by Sergeant Padmini Tilakdharee dated 4th June 2009, all cartridge cases collected from the crime scene (including the two found inside the vehicle of the deceased), were not linked to the firearm found in the vehicle of the deceased.

According to the same report compiled by Sergeant Padmini Tilakdharee dated 4th June 2009, all possible shots were fired from outside towards the vehicle of the deceased.

12.

On observation of the vehicle on the photos I noticed that all the windows of the vehicle were shattered and there were glass particles embedded in the rubbers on the doors. This indicates that the windows were closed during the incident and limits the possibility of shots being fired from inside of the deceased's vehicle.

13.

After observation of the crime scene photos, post mortem reports, Ballistics Reports and Statements by Police Officials, I could reach the following conclusions:

13.1 Two different calibres were used in shooting at the vehicle of the deceased (high velocity possibly 5,56 and low velocity possibly 9mm).

13.2 The person or persons who fired with high velocity calibre firearms to the door and window of the vehicle were directly opposite the deceased on the right side.

13.3 The smaller shrapnel laceration injuries sustained by the deceased on the right arm and right side of the face were most probably caused by glass particles and bullet fragments created by high velocity bullet impact on glass. This gives the impression that the driver's side window was shattered by bullets fired into the vehicle. The shrapnel laceration injuries sustained on the right arm give impression that the deceased's arm was stretched forward possibly holding the steering wheel.

13.4 The persons who fired shots with low velocity firearms were positioned on the right side towards the back.

13.5 The position of cartridge cases and glass particles at the crime scene gives the impression that the vehicle was stationary during the incident.

13.6 There was no sign of shots fired from inside the vehicle.

The abovementioned conclusions were arrived at by means of an examination and process, which require knowledge and skill in Forensic Ballistics.

15.

I know and understand the contents of this declaration.

I have no objection to taking the prescribed oath.

I consider the prescribed oath to be binding on my conscience.

THE DEATH SQUADS

No lights, no warnings, just a barrage of rifle fire, and a taxi boss and his bodyguard were dead — at the hands of rogue cops

Special reports by STEPHAN HOFSTATTER, MZILIKAZI WA AFRIKA and ROB ROSE

Then one of the unknown cohort discharged a pistol into the bonnet, apparently to make it appear as if there had been a shoot-out. Another cop smashed the driver's window of the Hyundai with his rifle butt, evidently to make it look like shots had also been fired out of the vehicle, not just into it. 'There was no shoot-out. The cops pulled up alongside the Hyundai and just slaughtered them'

On Monday 2009-04-26 I was at home when Thokozani my husband phoned me from Johannesburg and told me that he will come home the following day.He later phoned again and told me that he will be coming home the same day.I then asked him why is he changing his mind and wanted to come home the same day because the following day is still fine.He told me that one of his friends known as Thembinkosi told him that he must come home the same day and he will collect him at Durban station.

At about 00h45 on 2009-04-27 my husband arrived home with Thembinkosi .I went outside to meet my husband and Thembinkosi inside his vehicle which is a Golf that was parked at the gate.My husband got inside the yard and went to the shack situated at the back of the house to talk to the ancestors' as he always do and later came inside the house and we started to have a talk.I then unpacked his bag and took out the dirty clothes for washing that I was going do to in the morning and put the clean clothes aside.There was no any other thing inside the bag like fire arm or explosives only the clothes that i took out of the bag I then left the bag next to the bed inside our bedroom .We then went to sleep and we only slept for about 30 minutes but when I started to hear a sound like there was somebody who was trying to open the door.I thought that it was my son Njabulo and I called him but there was no response.I called him three times but there was no answer,I started to realise that the bedroom was dark and I was surprised because there were lights outside , that also made Njabulo's room bright .

I heard a male voice saying open up police and a lot of noise started and they were forcing the door to open and the windows.I woke up and went to the door but these people were making a lot of noise.I opened the door and told them that i was looking for the burglar door key.I looked for the key and open up the burglar door.I was immediately grabbed by huge tall white police officer unknown to me and he pulled me outside.I was then told by one unknown white police officer to sit down and one unknown African male was instructed to to guard me.
Two police officers then went inside the house and they were followed by one African male police officer , I then heard the unknown African man shouting the word start that is when the police started the shooting from inside the house and the police officers who were outside the house also started firing shots .I was facing down during the shooting when I felt that there was something falling on top of me and when I looked around I realise that it was my two children and I just grabbed them and put my head down up until the shooting stopped .After the shooting stopped police started to put on globes that were outside it seems they took these globes out when they arrived .They started to move up and down inside the house and outside the house giving each other hands , it seems as if they were celebrating what they have done .I started to realise that there were many people who were standing on all the corners of the house who also came closer and I realise that they were also police officer though they were wearing private clothes but they were talking to the one they found inside the house and even those who were standing next to us .The time I opened the door I was grabbed by the unknown white male with big feet I saw his feet as he was wearing a short trouser ,the unknown white male officer with big feet was together with Nel at the door .Mostert told one police officer to guard me and they both got inside the house. They were then followed by one unknown African male police officer .This unknown African male police officer is the one who told other police officers to start and that is when the shooting started.The time the shooting started my son Njabulo was inside the house and i think they pushed him outside fearing that he saw what was happening because he felt on top of me holding his younger brother whiles shots were being fired.

When my husband arrived at home I am the one who unpacked his bag and there were clothes only inside his bag.There was no any fire arm or explosive inside the bag.I was surprised to see on the daily Sun newspaper that my husband was in possession of fire arm and explosives.My husband has never carried a fire arm or explosive and did not have a firearm.Mostert and Nel remained at my place and they even told my brother in law Mr Nathi and Mr Khubeka that they are the ones who shot and killed my husband because they asked them who shot and killed my husband.I remained outside up until 06h00 in the morning I then realise that these police officers took two cell phones Nokia 2011 and Nokia 3330 which belonged to my Husband , one of the two cell phones was not having Sim card the other one was having a Sim card with cell no : 0837683285 and R 9850-00 that was collected through a social club and some valuable properties inside the house ,Initial the police took my cell phone a Nokia 3310 but they returned it before they left the scene. The two cell phones belonging to my husband and the R9850-00 that was collected through a social club were not handed back to me until today.

Kwamashu police officers attended the scene while Mostert and Nel were still at my house.My husband was taken to the mortuary at about 08h00.One police officer from Kwamashu came and he said he attended several shootings where Cato Manor police officers were involved . He only checked the scene and left.

5.1 THE TRANSFER BAR OF THE REVOLVER MENTIONED IN 3.1 IS BROKEN AND BECAUSE OF THIS IT WAS NOT ABLE TO DISCHARGE AMMUNITION.

I examined the mechanism of the revolver mentioned in 3.1 and found:

6.1 THE DEVICE WAS MANUFACTURED OR DESIGNED TO DISCHARGE CENTRE-FIRE AMMUNITION.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

4.1 I have 24 years' experience in the forensic ballistic investigation of crime scenes, scene reconstruction, documentation of investigations and compiling of opinions, results, and findings. This includes scene photography, developing and printing of photos and compiling albums thereof.

4.2 In addition to forensic ballistic experience privately and with the SAPS, I have an additional (2) two years' service with the SAPS whereupon I investigated a wide range of crime scenes and general grievances. I also underwent a further (2) year's compulsory military service.

4.3 I am a recognised member of A.F.T.E. (Association of Firearm and Toolmark Examiners) an International organisation based in the United States. Qualified experts throughout the world belong to this organisation. I also receive quarterly A.F.T.E journals, which highlight the most up to date material available in this profession.

4.4 I visited the F.B.I and Virginia Commonwealth Laboratories in the USA in June 1993 and during February 1995 the Washington Metropolitan Police Firearm Section and Virginia Commonwealth Laboratories. In July 2000 I attended the A.F.T.E. firearm and toolmark conference at St. Louis, Missouri and visited the F.D.L.E. Laboratories in Tampa and Orlando. During my visit to the laboratories I studied the newest technological progress in the forensic ballistic field which is used by these well-accredited laboratories. I also had the opportunity to visit several firearm factories where I studied the manufacturing processes of firearms and firearm parts and the interaction between the mechanics and the cartridge case in the firing process. I was able to acquire valuable information used in the microscopic identification process. In February, 2008 I visited the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) Forensic Laboratory in Columbus, Georgia, USA. During this visit I studied the handling of exhibits, report writing as well as lab accreditation processes. I also learned about their paperless documentation and security system.

4.5 I was trained in the selected measure of crime scenes with regards to the vertical and horizontal angles with Theodolite (GTS 4) measuring equipment. I also received training in measuring of contour intervals with the Theodolite, and the documentation of information on a topographical map. I was exclusively responsible for the training of the ballistic members in the set-up and working and application of the Theodolite GTS 4.

4.6 I am actively involved in a current and on going study of all the latest technologies in the forensic ballistic field using reference materials available through subscriptions to international firearm magazines, internationally recognised reference books and articles written by other experts listed on the internet.

4.7 I have to date investigated more than 8000 ballistic related cases.

4.8 During the past 24 twenty-four years I have investigated forensic / ballistic cases and have given evidence in High Courts and Magistrates Courts throughout South Africa, and neighbouring countries.

4.9 INDEPENDENT SHOOTING RANGE ASSESSOR

From May 2004 – December 2005

Owner/ Assessor: Range Assessments cc.

GSM

When the Compulsory Specification for Small Arms Shooting Ranges was introduced in May 2004, the South African Bureau of Standards (SABS) requested my ballistic expertise to put together a standardized ISO 17202 company which would implement and conduct the assessment of shooting ranges thought the country. Detailed knowledge of the specifications was attained and applied whereby we assisted many ranges with an entirely new design in order to comply.

Having assessed over 300 ranges in the initial years, the foundation was laid for the SABS to continue annual assessments of ranges for their yearly certification.

4.10 COMPUTER RELATED EXPERIENCE

In 1992 I began working with computer hardware and the building of personal computers. Over the last 19 years I have furthered my computer knowledge by self study in also working with and becoming acquainted with various software (how they work and interrelate with hardware and other software), internet solutions, networking and database construction, design and management. I further work with computerized photograph, video and sound editing software.

I am highly efficient in the use of all Microsoft Office products including: MS Word, MS Outlook, MS PowerPoint, MS Publisher, Windows Media. I am beginning self study into animation software for court presentation purposes of crime reconstructions.

4.11 TRAINING

I have been appointed by the Legal Aid Board to present courses to their members on ballistics. To date I have presented lectures in Kwazulu-Natal, the Free State and Gauteng, the Northern Cape, the Western Cape and the Eastern Cape. I have also launched a series of ballistic seminars designed for private advocates and attorneys specialising in criminal law. I have been appointed by the State Attorney's office in KwaZulu Natal to present this course as well.

Ezemvelo Wildlife/ Parks Board has used my services to present a course on Footwear Impressions: Recording and Casting which teaches Park members how to approach a scene in a standardized manner and how to photograph, cast & record footwear impressions for court presentation. This course requires completion and a positive result on a final written examination including photographic and cast specimens from each attendee.

STATEMENT

On the 8th of February 2012 I received instructions from Mr. Khuba of the Independent Complaints Directorate whereby I was given a case file containing various statements, affidavits and reports as well as four compact disks (CD) containing photographs of the scene and post-mortem taken by the Local Criminal Records Centre, Durban.

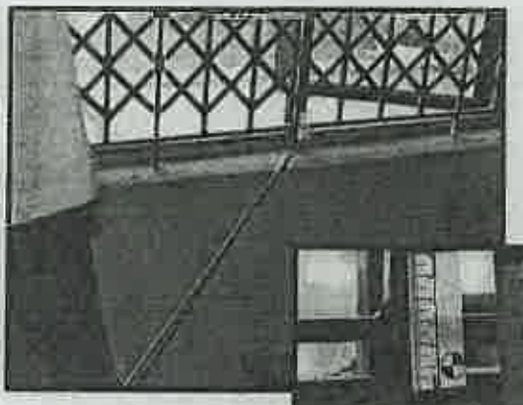
Deceased, Sakhile Prince Thabede. death register 1434/2009 Phoenix - post-mortem was conducted by Dr. T Naidoo in Phoenix. I attended this post-mortem and made my own notes and took photographs of particular gunshot wounds as related to ballistics. The deceased sustained multiple gunshot wounds from in an upward direction from the bottom toward the top of the torso and head.

There were three (3) entrance wounds on the right hand and arm which created further multiple re-entry wounds on the chest, neck and face. There was one tangential wound of 57 x 6mm on the upper right side of the face between the eye and the ear. The x-rays reveal multiple small fragments which created a lead 'snowstorm' effect in the chest which is consistent with a 5,56 high velocity calibre fragmented bullets. See photographs inserted.

GSM

SCENE PHOTOGRAPHS & INVESTIGATION

On the 17th of February I attended the scene reconstruction at G 185 Mpunga Road, Kwa Mashu with the ICD task team. The incident occurred in the main bedroom of the house. The house is a corner home with surrounding high walls. I took photographs and measurements which I later used in conjunction with the original scene photographs, depicting the deceased on the bed, to compile a computerized sketch plan attached to this report. See photographs inserted



The sketch plan indicates the following:

- A bedroom with an en-suite bathroom
- Upon entering the door a double bed with a leather/wood headboard and two side tables are directly in front and behind the headboard is a window.
- On the left side of the bed was a dressing table with a mirror
- On the right hand side of the bed was a doorway leading to the en-suite bathroom
- Opposite the bed on the wall (with the door) one impact mark was found. Upon examining this mark I found it could be consistent with a bullet impact mark originating from the en-suite bathroom. However, after examining the original scene photographs, I did not observe any plaster or cement particles on the floor underneath this impact mark, therefore I am not convinced that this is a bullet impact mark.

G sm

- The burglar bars indicate an impact of a high velocity projectile which created fragments as well as lead vaporizing.
- The headboard was located at the house C552 Ifafa Road, Kwa Mashu. Upon examination I found a defect (8 x 19mm – keyhole) caused by an unstable, high velocity bullet. The height, angle and trajectory coincide with the impact mark found on the burglar bar.

Scene Photographs taken by the LCRC:

These photos depict the bedroom and layout as described in my sketch plan. It further shows the decreased lying in the middle of the bed with his head on a pillow turned toward the left. The impact mark on the headboard is clearly visible as related to the sketch plan. The tangential wound on his head correlates to the unstable bullet impact mark on the headboard.

Medium and high velocity blood spatter visible on the headboard is consistent with the wounding of the deceased in a lying position on the bed.

Next to his left elbow was a revolver. Later on this revolver was pictured on the sheet with five live rounds and one fired cartridge. There were also 5,56 x 45mm cartridge cases depicted mostly on the right side of the room. See photographs below.

The ballistic statement was compiled by Avintha Behari, LAB No 184900/09.

She received the following exhibits:

- One .38 Special calibre Taurus Revolver with serial number erased
- Five 5,56 x 45mm calibre fired cartridge cases marked 'A, B, C1, C2 & D'
- One .38 Special calibre fired cartridge case marked as 'E1'
- Five .38 Special calibre cartridges unmarked (unfired)

She concluded that the Taurus revolver was not capable of discharging any ammunition due to the broken transfer bar.

The firearm used by the shottist was not tested and compared to the (5) 5,56 cartridge cases found on the scene.

CONCLUSION

Based on the information available to me at this time, it is my opinion that:

- Deceased, Sakhile Prince Thabede, death register 1434/2009 Phoenix sustained multiple gunshot wounds in an upward direction from the bottom toward the top of the torso and head.
- The bullet that caused the tangential wound on the right side of the face continued its unstable trajectory through the headboard and impacted the burglar bars where the projectile was fragmented.
- The deceased was lying on the bed with his head on the pillow, turned to the left side when he sustained the tangential wound as described above.
- All the above mentioned wounds indicate that the deceased was in a lying position when he sustained these injuries.

SEQ 29/2021-517

- Medium and high velocity blood spatter visible on the headboard is consistent with the wounding of the deceased in a lying position on the bed.
- The revolver as depicted on the scene photographs and later examined by the State ballistic expert is defective and not capable of discharging ammunition.
- I am not convinced that the impact mark found on the opposite wall from the bed was a bullet impact mark. It is further unclear if this impact mark was related to this incident.

The police vehicle and my BMW vehicle were driving in a convoy and thereafter the vehicles proceeded to the residence of Nkanyiso 08 which Nkanyiso was also arrested. I and Nkanyiso were then loaded together inside the Police Toyota Quantum Fun and Khehla remained inside the police BMW. Thereafter the vehicles proceeded in a convoy to Kwamashu G-Section where the deceased - Sakhile Thabethe was staying. While going to where Sakhile was staying the police Toyota Quantum was in front, followed by my BMW and then the police BMW.

On our arrival at where Sakhile stayed all the police vehicles including my vehicle were parked next to the yard as the said yard is on the corner. The street lights were working and the visibility was clear due to the lights from the street lights. Khehla was then taken into the Toyota

From this six male police officers I know Mostert, Lockram, One Indian officer whom I know by sight, One white officer whom I also know by sight and two black males whom I also know by sight and all this police officer are well known to me unfortunately I cannot recall the names of the other four.

The said five police officers entered inside the yard of where Sokhile resided and in a blink of an eye police officer Mostert came back to the Toyota Quantum. Mostert was carrying an R5 firearm with his hand and he (Mostert) opened the left front passenger door of the Toyota Quantum and he said he forgot his spook (guard). by then

I, Nkanyiso and Khulile were still inside the Rapha Quarters, and I was occupying the seat which is behind the front seats (Passenger and driver). Mosteri then took a .38 special Revolver under the passenger seat and he went back inside the yard of where Sakhile resided.

I hereby further state that ~~the~~ the ~~part~~ fence of the yard of which Sakhile resided is a high wall. I then heard a noise of a person kicking the door. The door of where Sakhile resided was a zinc door. I immediately heard Sakhile screaming saying that please don't kill me. I then heard several gunshots found coming from Sakhile's house and I smelled propellent powder.

The police officer who was guarding us then said to us that our friend is being killed inside the house. In the process of gunshots found Sakhile was screaming and the

All the police officers went outside the vehicles and had a discussion. After the discussion Mosfert opened the door of the Toyota Quantum and grabbed my shoulder. Mosfert further said to me that come and see your friend. I and Mosfert went inside the yard and Sakhile's girlfriend was standing next to the house and she was crying. I and Mosfert entered inside the house with a front door and proceeded to the bedroom where I saw Sakhile lying on the bed and was bleeding from his face and upper body.

Thereafter Mosfert took me back to the police Toyota Quantum. I hereby further state that when Mosfert came back to the vehicles after the gunshots sound, he was not possessing the pistol that he took from the Toyota Quantum. The only firearm that he was possessing was an R5 firearm.

STATEMENT OF CLIENT

DENISE HURLEY
IDENTITY NO: 891207 0146 08 7

I am a second year student nurse at Addington Hospital living out.

On Wednesday the 25th of November 2009, I was at the deceased's mother's house which is at C553 Kwa-Mashu. I have been in a relationship with him for approximately a year and I had been living with him (Sakhile Prince Thabode) at his address at G187 Kwa-Mashu for the past six months. On this day the deceased came to fetch me from his mother's home at 9h30 / 10pm. On that day because I was not well they gave me off from work at about 14h30. I then contacted the deceased and he arranged via his mother (Constance Thabede) and another friend of his to fetch me from work at about 14h30. From that time 14h30, I was at his mother's home. It takes about 5 to 10min to travel from his mother's house to our house.

D.M.H

G sm

AR

The house at C187 is free standing. It has a fence. It comprises of 4 rooms and an extension of a bathroom (diagram attached hereto). There is an entrance gate and the vehicle was parked in front of the entrance to the lounge. At this stage there was nobody in the house. It's just the two of us that live there.

We entered the house put the lights on, had a bath, had something to eat and then we got into bed. We got into bed at about 22h45. We were having general discussion more so about how I felt because he knew that they had let me out early that day.

We fell off to sleep.

At about 01h15 in the morning of the 26th, that is Thursday, we were awakened by somebody kicking down the front lounge door. When the door was kicked in the damage to the door related to where the lock was. No photograph was taken but the lock was repaired and replaced.

The repair to the door would have been done by the deceased's elder brother by the name of Sihle and his friends. The distance from the lounge to the main bedroom is approximately 3-4 meters. By the time we really got up and acclimatized to what was happening, they were already at the main bedroom door. They were two male figures. There was one Indian male who was shorter than the white male. The main bedroom door had been left open and they were at the door. Each room has one window. The outside light comes in via the lounge window, which has lace curtains, lighting up a part of the main bedroom.

D.M.H

At that point the white man then shouted 'Mtako'. That's the nick name of the deceased. The deceased responded by saying "yes". The white male had a torch which he flashed on the two of us. The white person (Stoltz) then instructed the Indian male (Padaychee) who was carrying this large firearm to shoot. The deceased was trying to protect me because I was naked by raising the duvet. At that stage I was in the process of getting up in a position where I was seated with my feet on the ground and at that stage the first shot was fired and it struck him on his right arm. The distance between the shootist and the deceased would be approximately 1and half to 2 meters. The deceased them shouted saying "do not shoot". At this stage I was still in the bedroom but was now out of the bed standing. I was on the right hand side of the bed next to the dressing table. The white male came to me, pulled me by my hair and took me out of the bedroom. I was now standing in the lounge at the entrance of the main bedroom while the other two remained in the room. After the first shot I don't know how many shots in fact were fired because I just heard repeated sounds. After I was pulled at the back the white male gave further instructions to the Indian male to fire shots. Other shots were then fired. As this was being done the white male made a remark directed at the deceased saying "die". As he was being shot at the deceased shouted out in zulu, asking what he had done. At this stage the deceased was still on the bed. The deceased at all stages never moved from the bed. Everything went silent. No further shots were fired. At this stage I said nothing. I couldn't scream or shout because I was in a state of shock. When they saw that I was completely naked they then asked me to get dressed. I then told them that I am a nurse, may I go and check the deceased because maybe I could help him. At this stage the white male that was there then threw a pistol on the right side of the bed on the pillow. Before I entered the main bedroom that's when the two other males, the one black male and the other white male had come into the lounge. The white male (Mostert) then asked what happened here The first white male then responded to the second white male by saying that the deceased had fired shots at them and in retaliation thereof they had fired shots at him. I went to the left hand side of the bed and held the deceased left hand and I determined that he was dead. The white male called me out of the room and asked me where the deceased had got the gun from. I responded by telling him that the deceased had no gun and that I had seen the other white male throw the gun in the vicinity of the deceased. He threatened to say that he would arrest me if I am telling lies. I told him I swear he didn't have a gun. We were fast asleep. The black male then said to me that I must not say things that I am not sure of. I was then escorted out of the house. I was seated outside on the side of the house using one of the chairs from inside the house. The first white male and the second white male and the Indian male was still in the house. The black male accompanied me outside.

D.M.H

The second white male had them phone Kwa-Mashu police station asking for back up indicating that there was a shoot out at the deceased home which is at G187 Kwa-Mashu. He then reported that one was deceased and several were injured and then asked for paramedics and then hung up. The second white male then left the yard and returned with one Accused. The second white male was then telling Ngwaba, come look at your friend, see your friend that's when they entered the house. I was still on the outside. Then came back out of the house with the Accused. I learnt that they had arrested 3 persons, who were in a B.M.W and the police brought one into the house.

Shortly there after 3 SAP vehicles arrived. They were standing by the gate which is a distance from where I was seated. The African male then came to me and said that I must go and sit in one of the police vehicles. This was about 02h00 / 02:15. We had gone to bed at about 22h45. The incident happened at 24h45. Police and SAP Kwa-Mashu had come at 02h15. The Indian male together with another person that I had not seen had exited the house before I could go to sit in the vehicle which they had asked me to do. There were two vehicles. One was a navy BMW and the other one was a Quantum combi. I then noticed that there were two other persons that were detained in the BMW. The second white male (Mostert) then came to the Quantum where I was seated and at the entrance then said to me girl I am going to arrest you if you tell lies. White male no.2 then referred to another white male who had come there by the name of Charles. They then said that they need to go to Ntuzuma to write a statement. On the road next to the quantum they took photographs of three guns on the road. These guns being an AK47, another small gun, looks like the one that was thrown next to the deceased and another gun. The ~~white~~ INDIAN male and the black male and somebody else now then left to Ntuzuma. The black male was using a blue overall, was also holding a big gun. The African male had asked me again whilst I'm in the Quantum as to where the deceased got the gun from and I had repeated that he had no gun. He said how sure I am that he did not have a gun. I told him that I make the bed everyday and that there was no gun there. We had just come home, we had a bath, I had got into bed and he had returned on the bed with me. I explained to him what had happen and it would have been impossible to get a gun because there was no time to do that. He left me and went back. Whilst this was all happening the first group of policeman from Organized Crime were all together near the Quantum were I was, whereas the Saps from Ntuzuma /Kwa-Mashu were running up and down. The second white policeman(Mostert) then came and started questioning me in the Quantum asking me inter alia my occupation, where I lived, my age, where the deceased got money from, whether I have seen the deceased with loads of money, if I have seen anything suspicious in the house, our sexual relationship he was then making remarks to the effect that I was no more than a prostitute to the deceased. He advised me that the deceased had other girlfriends and referred to a Gloria Mthethwa and she had directed them to the house. He then said that she lived in P section Kwa-Mashu but I believe that that was a lie. The second white male I did not know his name but when I was describing this incident to other people they then told me that must be Mostert the Inspector. I describe him as being tall and big in size, huge tummy, thick legs, wearing shorts, boots, and soft denim shirt light blue and had two black cell phones. It appears that the Indian male who did the shooting was Padayachee and the first white male I could not get his name. I will be able to identify them. The first white male is medium built in a hat and a black t-shirt and cargo pants. I managed to get the name of Padayachee whilst on the phone they were repeating some serial numbers of firearms that were used at this incident. The Indian guy said that he used four rounds. At this time the mother of the deceased had arrived, the police had already taken my cell phone with them. The person who had my cell phone with him was Charles. They saw a lot of people coming to the scene. I was then allowed to join the people. Before I could leave there was a black female Superintendent from the Kwa-Mashu police station, who took my name and my details.

To the best of my recollection the first black male who had come into the house with the second white male he was wearing a black beanie, a black jacket , a long pants and a gun that was hanging on him, a clip board and a pen and he was writing. The black male number two was wearing an overall, he also had a gun. Holding it in a ready position. ~~White~~ BLACK man number-~~8~~ was wearing a camouflage jacket; he was standing on the left hand side of the BMW that had the other Accused in it.

The Indian male (Padaychee) wearing a black t- shirt, grey overall pants. White male number one(Stoltz) was wearing a cargo pants, black t-shirt, cap. White man number two was the big guy Mostert – soft denim shirt, shorts, and boots. White man number three was Charles – black t-shirt with white print, cargo pants. Then the members of the first unit that's the Organized Crime Unit left. That's when the mother of the deceased was allowed into the house. When I returned into the house I then noticed the change, when I had first seen the white male put the gun on the right hand side of the deceased on the pillow I now noticed that there was a blood stain of a gun on the left hand side towards the mid section of the deceased. There was no stain on the pillow. The deceased mother spoke to an Inspector Ngcwayo, they waited there till about 06h30 / 07h00 that's when the body was then removed. I have also now learnt that Inspector Stoltz has opened a charge of attempted murder against the deceased.

I am an adult female with the following ID Number: 8912070146087. I am currently selfemployed. My contact numbers are 072 282 1153. My residential address is 988 Emachobeni Inanda Durban.

On Wednesday the 25th of November 2009, I was at boyfriend mother's place at number C553 Kwa-Mashu. The name of my boyfriend was Sakhile Prince Thabethe. I have been in relationship with him for approximately a year and living together at his residential place at house number G 187 Kwa-Mashu. On the same day Sakhile came to fetch me from his mother's home between 21:30 and 22:00PM. On that day in question I went to my work as usual and during the day i was not feeling well and I reported to my supervisors who allowed me to go and consult with a Doctor. I then called Sakhile to inform him that am not feeling well, he then said to me I must wait he will call someone to come and picked me up from my work place. After some few minutes Sakhile called me and informed that his mother and his friend will come and picked me up. Sakhile's mother and his friend (Bantu) came after plus minus 45 minutes and they took me to his mother's residential place.

I stayed at his parental place until he came back at around 21:30. On his arrival I was feeling much better and I did not go to consult the Dr, he then said we must go to his residential place. We used his car his VW micro bus to his place. On arrival he open the gate and drive in, he parked the vehicle in front of the lounge door. He opens the front lounge door and I got out of the car and entered the house and went to close the gate. He then came and locked the door, I then went to the bed room lying on the bed. At that stage we were talking to each other while on the other hand he was busy preparing something to eat. He then took a bath immediately after he ate.

After taking he came to bed and we continue talking to each other until we felt asleep. At round 01:00 am I heard something sounded like the gate is opening I started to focus to the direction of the lounge window because the outside light were on. I was in the position to can see what is happening outside because the lounge window was fitted with a lace curtain which makes it easier for me to see outside. I then saw two shadows moving to the front door and I wanted to see what was happening, immediately I heard a bang and a door was flung open. I then screamed and grabbed Sakhile by the hand and pulled him towards me in order for him to see what was happening. I noticed two people in front of the bedroom door one of them was having a torch in his hands and I could realised that it's a white male person. The white male person said Mtako and Sakhile responded by saying yes, (Mtako is the nick name for Sakhile). Immediately after Sakhile responded to the white man call's, he then seated upright in the bed and the white male person instructed the Indian person to shoot, Sakhile then pushed me out of the bed and they started shooting at him. I have recognised these people as a white and Indian people because the reflection of bathroom light made it possible see them because the bathroom light was on.

The Indian guy was having a long and big fire arm while the white guy was having a small and big fire arms. The Indian guy is the one who started shooting at Sakhile with a long and big fire arm. He was shooting at Sakhile repeatedly and the white guy was also shooting at him with a small fire arm. The white person grabbed me with my hair and pulled me out of the bed and I was standing behind them and they carried on shooting, the white guy keep on instructing the Indian one to keep on shooting. At the time when the white guy instructed the Indian guy to shoot he pleaded with them not to shoot because he asked them what he did. They ignored his request and continue to shoot at him. Sakhile did not have any dangerous weapon or a firearm in his possession and he did not even shoot at them because he was not having anything on him. The white man kept on saying "die" "die" to Sakhile, They stopped shooting at him and turned around and faced me, they realised that I wasn't dressed I then requested them to go inside to see if I can't help Sakhile, they refused and said to me I must go and get dressed.

I just pulled out the dress from the washing which was on the other bedroom but before I can get the dress the white guys went in to the bedroom and place a small fire arm just next to Sakhile's right hand, I was standing in a position which make it possible for me see inside the bedroom where Sakhile was shot and from there I grabbed a dress and put it on. I just wanted to clarify that immediately when I saw the Indian and White guy I realised that they are police officials because the manner in which they used to open the door was the same as the one they used previously and at that time they did not shoot at us, they only took Sakhile and left. He informed that they ended up at Cato Manor offices.

After I dressed two other guys' 1 black and 1big white guy entered the house, the white big guy started asking the three of us being myself, the white and Indian guys who shot at Sakhile about what happened, the white guy said to him Sakhile shot at him and they responded by shooting at him. I then said to him Sakhile did not shoot at them, the white big guy asked me where did Sakhile get the fire arm from, I responded by saying he did not have a fire arm with him. The Police allowed me to enter the bedroom where Sakhile was lying; I even saw the firearm which was placed by a white guy. While inside the room I saw Sakhile with full of blood and could see the bullet wound on his chest, right hand and another one like it grazed on his forehead.

The white big guy ordered the black guy to take me out of the house and black guy accompanied me to the right side of the house and while I was on the side of the house it's when I started shaking and feeling cramps from my lower abdomen as I was 4 about months pregnant . There were couples of car outside and I managed to identify a silver BMW, a white Quantum and another navy BMW. While I was seated I heard a white big guy calling the police by saying they need a backup because there was a shooting incident, he requested the person whom he was talking to summon the paramedics because several people were injured. After this white guy making a call, he went to a BMW and took one of Sakhile's friends Nqaba into the house telling him to come see what has happened to his friend, I further realised that there were 2 other people in the car and I identified them as Nka which is short for Nkanyiso and Candice. Candice is deceased. At the time when these guys taking Nqaba to the house there were only organised crime unit members on the scene of the incident. They were going up and down or walking in and out the house. While I was seated in the Quatum the white guy who shot at Sakhile made a call to someone else and he gave that person the serial number of the fire arms that were used. He further reported to that person, that Padayachee and him are the one who shot at the crime scene. Inside the quatum I saw a black bag with lots of fire arm inside, I noticed this at the time when the white guy open the bag and took out the firearm to read out the serial number.

The other SAPS Police officials arrived later to attend the crime scene and the paramedics came shortly after. His body was taken by the mortuary vehicle. That is all I wanted to say

1.

I am employed as a police officer in the South African Police Service with force nr 0638855-8, holding the rank of D/Inspector and attached to the Organised Crime Unit situated at 446 Bellair Road, Cato Manor, Tel. (031) 203-7337.

2.

On 2009-11-26 I was on duty together with Insp Stoltz and other members from our unit. We had information regarding a suspect who was wanted for numerous cases of armed robbery. The suspect's name was Sakhele Thabethe also known as "Mfaku".

3.

At approximately 01:50 we proceeded to a house situated at G187, Kwa-Mashu the information received was that the suspect was hiding there. Insp Stoltz and I proceeded to the front entrance door while the other members took guard outside the house.

4.

I then knocked on the door and audibly demanded entry by shouting "Police, open up". However our demand to gain entry was ignored. The door was then kicked open in order to gain access into the house. Upon entering the house I noticed a black female ran out of one room and into another.

As we approached the bedroom that the female exited from, I noticed a black male in the room. We identified ourselves as police officers. The black male then produced a firearm and pointed it at us. I immediately fired three rounds from my R5 rifle at the suspect in order to prevent him from shooting us. The suspect was fatally wounded. The necessary role players were contacted and attended the scene. I did not give any person the right to point a firearm at me.

The bullet holes in the sofa are consistent to the holes in the wall. The hole marked W1 was most probably created by an unstable bullet that had perforated the right arm of the deceased and hole marked W2 was created by a bullet that missed the deceased that went through the small hole in the sofa.

I studied the post mortem report and noticed the wounds sustained by the deceased described as follows:

9.1 A 5x5mm circular wound left face 1510mm above heel features are those of a distant gunshot entrance wound. (Wound marked 1a).

9.2 A 5x5mm circular wound left abdomen 1110mm above heel features are those of a distant gunshot entrance wound. (Wound marked 2a).

I observed the crime scene photos and noticed that:

10.1 The deceased was lying on the sofa with a pistol under his left arm.

The position of the wound on the abdomen can only be noticed with blood stain on the shirt.

12.

After examination of the crime scene, and observation of the crime scene photos and post mortem I am of the opinion that:

12.1 The deceased was hit by at least three bullets. Four fired cartridge cases were collected from the crime scene means four shots were fired and one bullet missed him and perforated the sofa at hole marked W2.

12.2 The bullet that perforated the right arm of the deceased at wounds 3a and 3b also perforated the sofa at hole marked W1.

12.3 Looking at the position of the deceased I am of the opinion that wounds marked 2a and 4a were inflicted by the same bullet.

12.4 The bloodstain pattern on the back of the sofa next to the right arm of the deceased is classified as forward spatter. This pattern is caused as the bullet exits target and a larger amount of high force impact spatter is directed in the same direction as the bullet. The amount of high force spatter created will depend upon the calibre of the bullet fired. The bigger the calibre the greater the spatter. The positions of the spatter and the wound sustained indicate that the arm of the deceased during the incident was almost positioned were it is currently positioned. There was slight movement of the arm after the incident.

12.5 The injuries and damages caused by all four bullets had characteristics of high velocity bullets. This is most probably 5.56mm calibre bullets supported by a number of fired 5,56x45mm calibre cartridge cases.

12.6 Looking at the wounds sustained, the bloodstain pattern and bullet holes, all these confirm that the deceased was shot while in a lying position on the sofa.

The abovementioned conclusions were arrived at by means of an examination and process, which require knowledge and skill in Forensic Ballistics.

I know and understand the contents of this declaration.

I have no objection to taking the prescribed oath.

I consider the prescribed oath to be binding on my conscience.

1.

I am an adult African male who is 18 years old who was born on 1993 November 21. I am residing at no K232 Dloko Road at J Section at Bhekithemba Township in Durban. I am currently studying Grade 12 at Qhilika High School at Bhekithemba area and I contacted on my sisters cell phone Khanyisile Ngcobo which is 0839765551. I would like to state as follows.

On Tuesday 2011/05/10 at about 01h45 in the early hours of the morning I was at my above place of residence sleeping when I was awoken up by the footsteps coming from outside the outbuilding that I was sleeping in. I then got up and proceeded to open the door and I then saw several men outside and they had firearms with torches on them which they pointed at me and then I concluded that they were policemen. Two of them grabbed me and put me on the side of the house opposite the door that I came out of and one of them shouted something to the effect of asking if I was not one of the people that they were looking for and the whole time there were firearms pointed at me. Where I was standing I had full view of the policemen but I could not see inside the other room where my two brothers and my cousin were sleeping. I then saw one of them kicking the door open and then straight after that the policemen fired shots pointing inside the room firing plus or minus nine times. I could not count properly as I was in shock and I was scared. Then after the shooting I was taken to the main house where I was told that I must not leave the house until further notice. I stayed in the house with my mother for about two hours until an African police man came to the main house and asked me to come to the room where my brothers and cousin were in and where I had witnessed the shooting. I went with him to the room and he let me into the room where I was asked to identify my two brothers and cousin, my cousin was lying on the floor and I identified him as Moye then on the bed I saw Xolani Ngcobo who is my brother then on the cough there was Msawakhe Ngcobo who is also my brother.

Further states under oath as follows

On Friday 2005/07/31 at about 17:00 Fulwana Zwane who is the accused in this case came and fetch me at home Lufan's we were not in good terms with him he came to fetch me so as to reconcile. He took me with his car BMW whose number plate is unknown to me and he drove with me to his home at F-Section. He then washed his car and while he was washing his car I was next to him but outside the car.

After he had finished to wash his car we then drove to Durban North at No Name to have supper and we did have supper. When I was with him he received calls from his friend Bongani of Tin and mistaken he received three (3) calls and he was asking where he was and he was telling Bongani that we were at Nando's but we were coming back. After we've finished eating we drove back to KwaMashu and we first passed his friend house the one who was phoning him. His friend was at U Section at Emabalini. Fulwana went to Bongani and my father after that I heard Fulwana saying that he was going straight home and he came to the 101 and drove to F section where Fikwana was selling.

At F-section Fikwana parked his car inside the yard and he asked me to enter his house but I refused. Within five minutes of our arrival I heard the banging doors of cars closing. I turned back to see who were those people banging the doors and I saw two white males with a uniform with firearms on their hands and I told Fikwana that there were police and he told me that police were coming to search what were looking for but they were going to go and leave us.

There two white males went to opposite direction one came to my side at ~~right~~ left front passenger door and the other came to right drive door where Fikwana was. One grabbed me and took me to his room and the other one grabbed Fikwana and pushed him to the wall and his hands were stretched and up in the air as the white males have instructed Fikwana and he complied.

When I left of the car I left Fikiwane on the wall outside his car. When I on that side where I was taken to an African male one white males was asking me where and I fell in love with Fikiwane and did he used to leave me in his mind right at 00:00. I told him that we were were in love for a Year and he had not left me at night when we were together.

When I was on that side where I was taken to I had several gun shots ± eight, but I am not too sure they were more than one. I asked two African males that were with me that what is Fikiwane who was shot and they replied yes and I further asked why they were shooting him and they responded that the white males will tell them as only the white males were with him. I then heard that Fikiwane was trying to shoot at the white males but that was confusing to me as Fikiwane was already under their control and when I was with him from 17:00 till he was shot he did not have any firearm in his ~~possession~~ possession.

GSM

Thandeka Pearl Madlala states

I deny that Fulwana had to shoot at the police because I was with Fulwana from 17:00 and he washed his car in my presence and if it was broken in as Colbyville that Colby was not working it was locked and if the firearm was in his possession on his body I would have felt or seen it as we were touching each other very closely as lovers if it was hidden on his legs I would have seen it because when he washed his car he became wet and took a walking bath and washed his feet in my presence and changed the shoes and unlifted his trouser so I am definitely sure that there was no firearm in his possession.

STATEMENT OF: JABULISIWE GLADYS MASONDO OF E1141 NTUZUMA T/SHIP, UNEMPLOYED, TELEPHONE NUMBER 031-5093827

I am an adult female with the abovementioned particulars and I am the deceased mother in this case.

On Wednesday 2008-11-12 at about 00:00 I was at home sleeping and all my children were also at home sleeping in the same but different rooms, Nhlanhla as well was sleeping in his room in the same house. Whilst sleeping I had a knock at his room and he responded as to who that was .Someone replied and said he should open the door and it was the police. I quickly went to Nhlanhla's room, he wanted to open the sliding door in his room the one you can enter from outside. I told him not to open his room sliding door and that I will let the police in the house through the kitchen door. I told him that he must inform the police that we will open the kitchen door they must just come to the kitchen side and yet he did .

We both went to the kitchen with Nhlanhla and I opened the door for the police. The white males without police uniform came inside through the kitchen door. These police officers instructed me to get out of the house and I refused to do so.Nhlanhla wore black slip on sandals, tracksuit pant and a short sleeved sweater.Nhlanhla did not have any kind of weapon in his possession. The police officers pushed Nhlanhla to his bedroom and I followed them, Nhlanhla told me not to worry because he knows those police officers they are from Cato Manor SAPS. The police officers refused to let me inside Nhlanhla's bedroom and I ended up waiting in the passage not far from Nhlanhla's bedroom.

The police officers started making noise talking very loud in English and Afrikaans and I had several gunshots but Nhlanhla was quiet all this time. After those many gunshots another two gunshots were fired and those were two last gunshots fired in my house. I wanted to get inside my son's room but the police constantly denied me access. The police had already opened the sliding door at Nhlanhla's room the one that you can gain entry from outside. The police were in and out Nhlanhla's bedroom using that sliding door.

After the police were done with the shooting, other police officers came to me and told me that they were looking for Senzo that is my younger son than Nhlanhla.I asked them what exactly they wanted from Senzo.The police officers told me that they were looking for Nhlanhla's firearm, he might know its whereabouts as the brother. They kept on going in and out with Senzo looking for a firearm. I told the police officers that Nhlanhla did not own any firearm and there was no weapon in my house. A white police officer came to me and said he was sorry and I asked him what was he sorry for and he did not tell me, he then asked Nhlanhla's age, I told him and he left me standing. An african police officer approached me and asked me why are we not handing over the firearm that is sought by the police. I told that police officer that there was no firearm in my house.

I peeped through a small space on Nhlanhla's bedroom door and I saw Nhlanhla lying on his bed and his feet hanging and there was blood on his pillow. The police still constantly denied me access to Nhlanhla's room. I think after two hours another group of police officers came in and I asked them which police station they come from .They told me they came from Kwa-Mashu SAPS. After the Kwa-Mashu police came I had a chance to peep again and I saw Nhlanhla lying with the same posture and his feet were almost greyish and I thought my son was dead all along .The police killed my son by shooting him without a reason.

After a while the police asked me to come inside and search Nhlanhla's pockets and yet I did .My son was already dead and he was cold, I closed his eyes and mouth. After that police officers told me that I should vacate the house with my other children as there was a bomb in Nhlanhla's room and that it was going to explode. I told them that I was not going to vacate my house as I clearly knew that there was no bomb in my house. I just refused to leave the house and no bomb exploded.

After a while after the bomb issue the police said they had found a firearm in Nhlanhla's bedroom and again the police were telling lies, there was never any firearm in my house. It is clear to me that the police officers planted this bomb and a firearm in my son's bedroom. If they are true and honest when they carry out their duties why they not transparent, why did they chase me away .I are believe they closed the door at Nhlanhla's bedroom and killed him in cold blood. After everyone has left Nhlanhla's cell phone, his Absa and Fnb and other clothing account cards were missing.

I have no objection in taking the prescribed Oath.

I consider the prescribed Oath to be binding on my conscience.

Dear Sir

MEDICO-LEGAL OPINION – DECEASED: DAN PHIRI
TONGAAT CAS 190/03/2009 – PHOENIX PM NO.: 301/2009

I've been requested by Mr Khuba of ICD to provide an opinion on the gun-shot wounds sustained by the deceased in the above matter.

On 8 February 2012, Mr Khuba handed me a copy of the docket. I was subsequently handed cd's containing photographs of the scene and of the Post Mortem Examination.

The following observations were made:
The deceased was in a motor vehicle when he sustained gun-shot wounds from four (4) projectiles.

G S M

A296

1. Gun shot entrance wound on the right side of face:
   - This wound is a large wound with a large margin of abrasion with associated blackening.
   - It entirely consistent with a loose contact/or incomplete contact wound.
   - The projectile passed through the face and exited through the left lower side of the face.
   - This exit wound has a rim of abrasion and is referred to as a "shored" wound, meaning it was in contact with something when the bullet exited, in this case, it is most likely the back of the left hand of the deceased.
   - This is an atypical entrance wound.
   - The projectile then exits via the left index finger.
   - The projectile then struck the left shoulder superiorly but having lost energy when it passed through the face and hand, it did not penetrate into the chest cavity.
   - This projectile would have been in the motor vehicle.

2. Gun shot entry wound on the right side of face, anterior to the contact wound:
   The projectile passed through the face and exited via the left nostril. This projectile then passed through the fingers of the left hand creating an atypical entry wound. The projectile would have been in the motor vehicle.

   When considering the wounds in respect of the above two shots, the left hand would have been in contact with the face but the exact position is not known.

3. Gun shot entry wound on the right arm:
   - There was associated blackening of the overlying sleeve of the shirt and minimal tattooing on the skin surrounding the wound. These are features of a close/near wound.
   - The bullet then passed the chest and a bullet was removed from the left lower back.

G S M

A29(3

4. Gun shot entry wound on the right shoulder anteriorly:
   - This wound had a large rim of abrasion on the lateral side. There was also a glancing/linear abrasion to the right wound. The bullet passed into the chest and exited from the left chest wall laterally.

In regard to all four shots, the direction is in the main, right to left and downwards.

When considering the presence of firearm discharge residue in respect of the wound through the arm and the loose contact wound of the face. The shottist was close to the deceased when the shots were fired.

The trajectories pass from right to left, meaning the shottist was to the right and above the deceased.

All the blood relating to the gun-shot wounds are in the motor vehicle, indicating that the deceased in all probability was shot while seated in the motor vehicle. The shot on the right arm, in its track, was associated with laceration of the thoracic cord. This would have immediately incapacitated the deceased.

Yours faithfully,

G. PERUMAL

MONTHS
RACE: AFRICAN PERSON NUMBER: 2101138652

I MANDLA ISMAEL MAVUNDLA
STATES UNDER OATH IN ZULU TRANSLATED TO ENGLISH THAT:

(3)

ON THE 18TH OF MARCH 2020 I MADE ARRANGEMENTS WITH THE DECEASED DAVID TO BUY GROCERIES
AT TONGAAT AS WE BOTH STAYED
AT MANDINI. WE WERE NOT STAYING FAR FROM EACH OTHER AT MANDINI.
THE DECEASED WAS MY COUSIN AND I WAS USING HIM EVERYTIME TO BUY GROCERIES FOR THE TUCKSHOP WHICH I WAS OWNING.

(4)

THE DECEASED ARRIVED AT MY PLACE
AT AROUND ± 07:30 AND HE WAS WITH ANOTHER MAN WHO IS A MECHANIC AND WHO USUALLY ASSIST HIM WITH HIS OTHER VEHICLES AS HE IS A TAXI OWNER.

GSM

WE DROVE AND THE DECEASED WAS DRIVING AND THE MECHANIC WAS SITTING IN FRONT AND I SATTED AT THE BACK OF THE VEHICLE. THE VEHICLE THE DECEASED WAS DRIVING WAS AN OLD WHITE TOYOTA COROLLA WHITE IN COLOUR. WE LEFT THE MECHANIC WHERE HE WAS WORKING AND PROCEEDED TO FETCH EMMANUEL TIKALI WHO WAS A FRIEND TO THE DECEASED. EMMANUEL TIKALI SAT AT THE FRONT PASSENGER SEAT AS I CONTINUED SITTING AT THE BACK SEAT ALONE.

(6)

(7)

ALONG THE WAY WE PARKED NEXT TO A SILVER GREY SEDAN. I REALISED THAT IT WAS THE SAME PERSON WHO WAS TALKING TO THE DECEASED ON THE CALL. THE DRIVER CAME

MICLE

TO OUR VEHICLE BECAUSE THE DECEASED WAS PARALYZED. HE WAS USING TWO CRUTCHES TO WALK AS HE WAS SHOT DURING THE TAXI VIOLENCE THAT DRIVER WHO IS UNKNOWN TO ME TALKED TO THE DECEASED ABOUT A VEHICLE THAT WAS ABOUT TO BE BOUGHT BY THE DECEASED AND THE ARRANGEMENT WAS THAT THE MAN WILL CHANGE HIS VEHICLE AT HIS PLACE AND COME WITH US IN THE DECEASED VEHICLE IN ORDER THAT HE SHOULD SHOW US THE PLACE.

(8)

(9)

WE PASSED THOSE THERE VEHICLE AND IMMEDIATELY ALL OF THEM FOLLOWED US WITH THE BOMBA IN FRONT. THE OCCUPANTS OF THE BOMBA POINTED US WITH RIFLES IMMEDIATELY WHEN THEY WERE DRIVING PARALLEL TO US BECAUSE THEY

WERE LOOKING ON THE SAME SIDE OF
IN-COMING VEHICLES. TWO WHO WERE MCCL ON THE LEFT HAND SIDE ON THE PASSENGER AND ~~FORWARD~~ BACK SEAT WERE THE ONE WHO PONTIFIED US WITH THOSE RIFLES. THEY LEFT THE WHITE TOYOTA WHICH WAS IN FRONT TO DRIVE AWAY BECAUSE THEY DID NOT ATTEMPT TO STOP
IT. THE OFFICERS IMMEDIATELY STOPPED THE VEHICLE.

ALL THE OCCUPANTS OF THE THREE VEHICLES GOT OUT OF THEIR VEHICLES CARRYING FIREARMS AND POINTING
THEM TO US. THEY OPENED THE DOOR OF OUR VEHICLE AND TOOK OUT
PAYSLEE AND DISMOUNTED OUT OF
THE VEHICLE. THEY INSTRUCTED US TO LIE WITH OUR STOMACH ON THE GROUND.

THEY WENT TO THE OFFICERS WHO WAS STILL IN THE VEHICLE. THEY TOLD HIM THAT THEY HAVE BEEN LOOKING FOR HIM FOR A LONG TIME. THEY FURTHER TOLD HIM THAT HE IS GOING TO DIE
TODAY. THEY WERE ALL TALKING AND HE WAS BEGGING THEM NOT TO SHOOT HIM AS HE WAS ALSO CRYING. MCCL

ONE OF THE WHITE POLICEMEN WHO WAS POINTING THE DECEASED WITH A FIREARM SHOT TOWARDS HIM (DECEASED) TWICE. THAT WHITE POLICEMAN SHOT THE DECEASED WITH A 9MM PISTOL. THE DECEASED WAS NOT A THREAT TO ANY POLICEMAN AS HE WAS CRYING FOR HIS LIFE. THE DECEASED WAS NOT IN POSSESSION OF ANY FIREARM. HIS BODY WAS VERY THIN AFTER HE WAS SHOT DURING THE TAXI VIOLENCE, THUS IT WAS IMPOSSIBLE FOR HIM TO CARRY A FIREARM ON HIS PERSON OR WAIST. THEY CARRIED US FROM THE GROUND AND TOOK US TO THE COURTYARD. I SAW THE DECEASED STANDING FROM THE FORE.

THERE OF THOSE POLICEMEN DRESS WITH BALACLAVA AND CAMOUFLAGE BUTTO TO CARRY WEAPON AT THEIR OFFICES. WHEN WE ARRIVED THERE THEY SHOWED US THE PHOTO ALBUM OF ALL THE PEOPLE THAT THEY HAD KILLED. THEY TOLD US THAT IF WE DOWN COMPLAIN TO ANY BODY THEY ARE GOING TO KILL US LIKE THESE PEOPLE AND THE DECEASED

I attended court for several times and came to identify that as the person who got the declaration. I came to know his name because he was always in court on my appearances, and he also testified during my trial.

I am a male person and am currently a prisoner at Kokstad Maximum Prison under prison number: 210138652.

I hereby give an additional statement to the statement I submitted on the 10th January 2012 to an ICD official Mr Parmeau.

was a white Toyota Corolla and the white Toyota Quantum was behind Dan Plin's Toyota Corolla. I also did not memorize the number plates of BMW, Toyota Corolla and the Toyota Quantum however they were of KZN, Durban.

I further declare that Dan Plin stopped the vehicle in the middle of the lane that he was driving on after seeing that the occupants of the grey BMW vehicle were pointing us (me, Dan and Sikhumbuzo) with the firearms. The three vehicles stopped the same as they were driving next to Dan Plin's vehicle, meaning the grey BMW parallel to Dan Plin's vehicle, behind the BMW it was a Toyota Corolla and Toyota Quantum behind Dan Plin's vehicle.

I and Sikhumbuzo were taken out of Dan Plin's vehicle and we were instructed to lie down on the tar road with our stomach between Dan Plin's vehicle and the other Toyota Corolla vehicle which was behind the Grey BMW vehicle. We were facing Dan Pluir's vehicle and I then saw Police officer NEL opening the driver's door of Dan Pluir's vehicle.

Police officer NEL then stood very close to Dan Pluri at about ± one metre away. Dan Pluri was still occupying the driver's seat of his vehicle. From where my head was lying to where Police officer NEL was standing it was about ± three metres away.

I hereby further state that the deceased told me and Sthembiso that Police officers who were present were not less than ten in number and the majority of them were white in colour.

Police officer Magwaza is the one who handcuffed me and took me away from the scene. I came to know Magwaza when we were taken to the Police station and as he introduced himself by Magwaza and further

10

I hereby further state the front and rear doors of Dan Phiri vehicle were opened by a white policeman whose name is unknown to me and they were left open.

SCHEDULE OF OBSERVATIONS

GENERAL

1. HEIGHT: 1.9m WEIGHT: ±70kg
   PHYSIQUE: Slender NUTRITION: Adequate

2. SPECIAL IDENTIFYING FEATURES: Adult Black male with a white plastic identification tag labelled, "301/09," around the left wrist.

   Tattoos: Nil

   Clothing:
   - ✓ a pair of blue and white checked boxer shorts
   - ✓ a pair of grey and white tracksuit pants
   - ✓ orange, yellow, brown and white short-sleeved sweater

   The sweater is blood-stained with multiple defects overlying the gunshot injuries described in paragraph 4. The fabric surrounding the defect overlying the gunshot entry wound described as (6a) in paragraph 4 demonstrates blackening as well as deposition of burnt and unburnt powder in keeping with firearm discharge residue. This segment of the sweater was excised by myself at the time of autopsy and immediately handed over to SC Mazibuko to submit for ballistics.

   Old Scars
   - ✓ 300 x 15mm hypopigmented midline laparotomy scar extending vertically from the epigastrium to the suprapubic region
   - ✓ non-specific scars on the trunk, buttocks and limbs bilaterally

3. SECONDARY POSTMORTEM CHANGES: The body was refrigerated prior to autopsy and therefore no comment can be made on rigor mortis or hypostasis. No external or internal features of decomposition observed.

4. EXTERNAL APPEARANCE OF BODY AND CONDITION OF LIMBS:

   See Annexure A

   Signs of Medical Intervention: Nil

   General Appearance:
   - ✓ moustache and beard

GSm

A/7

The following injuries were noted on external examination:

(2b) 17 x 6mm gunshot exit wound in the left mandibular region 55mm from he midline and 80mm below the tragus of the left ear. This wound demonstrates abraded edges as well as protruding bone fragments.

The direction of the bullet is therefore downwards from right to left in the anatomical position. The gunshot wound tract is associated with:

- ✓ soft tissue injury and haemorrhage
- ✓ haemorrhagic perforation of the tongue
- ✓ left mandibular fracture with displaced bone fragments.

The direction of the bullet is therefore backwards and downwards from right to left in the anatomical position.
The gunshot wound tract is as follows:

- ✓ skin on the anterolateral aspect of the right upper chest
- ✓ anterior aspect of the right 2nd rib
- ✓ upper lobe of the right lung involving the perihilar vasculature
- ✓ pericardial sac and heart involving the anterior walls of the right and left ventricles
- ✓ upper lobe of the left lung
- ✓ lateral aspect of the left 5th intercostal muscle
- ✓ skin on the lateral aspect of the left hemithorax.

The gunshot wound tract is associated with mediastinal haemorrhage as well as a haemopericardium measuring approximately 200ml with blood clots.

(5) 16 x 7mm non-patterned superficial abrasion on the anterior aspect of the proximal one-third of the right arm.

The direction of the bullet is therefore backwards from right to left in the anatomical position.

A17

The gunshot wound tract is as follows:

- ✓ skin on the anterolateral aspect of the middle one-third of the right arm
- ✓ soft tissues in the middle and proximal one-thirds of the right arm as well as the right axilla
- ✓ anterolateral aspect of the right 2nd intercostal muscle
- ✓ upper lobe of the right lung involving the perihilar vasculature
- ✓ 8th and 9th thoracic vertebrae with haemorrhagic laceration of the underlying spinal cord
- ✓ lower lobe of the left lung
- ✓ posterior aspect of the left 9th intercostal muscle
- ✓ bullet lodged within the subcutaneous tissue in the left lower back

The gunshot wound tracts described as (4) and (6) in this paragraph are associated with:

- ✓ soft tissue injury and haemorrhage
- ✓ partial collapse of the lungs bilaterally
- ✓ right haemothorax measuring approximately 800ml with blood clots
- ✓ left haemothorax measuring approximately 1 litre with blood clots.

(7b) 15 x 7mm gunshot exit wound in the medial aspect of the middle one-third of the left 3rd finger.

The direction of the bullet is therefore downwards in the anatomical position. The gunshot wound tract is associated with underlying soft tissue injury and haemorrhage.

(8b) 20 x 11mm defect in the lateral aspect of the middle one-third of the left 3rd finger. No obvious firearm discharge residue observed.

The defects described as (8a) and (8b) in this paragraph are consistent with a perforating gunshot wound. Owing to the atypical appearance of the surface defects, however, no definite comment can be made on range of fire or direction of the bullet. The gunshot wound tract is associated with soft tissue injury and haemorrhage as well as a palpable fracture of the middle phalanx.

No further recent injuries were noted on external examination.

States in English under oath

During 2006 December I was promoted to the rank of Senior Superintended on the post of Unit Commander Durban Organised Crime. In January 2007 I took my post as the Unit Commander of Durban Organised Crime. In February 2007 the Serious and Violent Crime Unit were closed and the members had to be redeployed and the Serious and Violent crime unit mandate was incorporated into organised crime.

I was informed by the Deputy Provincial Commissioner of the support that Fifteen (15) members of the disbanded Serious and Violent Crime Unit will be deployed to Durban Organised Crime Unit, and I must ensure that they are accommodated at Durban Organised Crime from Cato Manor. At the same time the Provincial Management informed us that the new Provincial Commander of Organised Crime is Director JW Booysen, who was the former Provincial Commander of Serious and Violent.

Prior to the appointment of Director Booysen as the Provincial Commander Organise Crime I did not enjoy good working relationship with him. By that time I was the Provincial Project Coordinator for Detective Investigation at Kwa-Zulu Natal.

After his appointment as my immediate Commander I approached him and congratulated him and also suggested to him that we set aside our personal differences and work together in organised crime in the interest of the service, we then agreed.

During March 2007 the Fifteen (15) members of the disbanded Serious and Violent Crime Unit were appointed by Director Booysen to report to Durban Organised Crime. At the same time I received a list of members appointed to Durban Organised Crime and they were as follows: Supt Olivier, Capt Van Tonder, Capt Lockem, Capt Smith, Supt Booysen, Insp

RSA

During the same month of March 2007 I called all the above members to my office at Durban Organised Unit and introduced myself to them that I am the Unit Commander of Durban Organised Crime. I then informed them that I strictly believe in protocol and discipline of the organisation. I need to be informed of all activities that are taking place in terms of their mandate to deal with Serious and Violent Crime and to inform me of all the operations in accordance to the protocol, and I will inform Director Booysen. I then appointed supt Olivier as the Section Commander of their Section (serious and violent). I then informed Supt Olivier that he will report all incidents to me and we agreed. I also brought to the attention of all members that they are going to be relocated to Durban Organised Crime Unit at number 136 Victoria Embankment. The response of some of the members was that they are dealing with hardened criminals and the offices at number 136 Victoria Embankment were not conducive for interrogation of suspects. I explained to the members that this is a National directive that we must operate under one roof. I also explained to them the geographical policing area for Durban Organised Crime.

I also explained to the members not to leave the geographical policing area without prior authorisation and I further informed them that if they operate outside their geographical policing area I had to inform the relevant commander of that policing area. I further explained to them the reporting protocol, that I will report to Director Booysen and the Director will be accountable to the Provincial Head Detective Service Assistant Commissioner PT Brown (retired in 2011).

Shortly thereafter I received a visit by Head Office then Director Nchinga. In her interview with me, she wanted to know why the unit was operating as two Units, one at 136 Victoria Embankment and another one at Cato Manor. She then gave me instruction that all members must report to one office at 136 Victoria Embankment.

10

Shortly thereafter I received inspection report from Director Booysen regarding the visit by Director Ntshinga to attend to all outstanding queries, one of the critical queries was relocation of members from Cato Manor offices to 136 Victoria Embankment were the main Durban Organised Crime Unit was situated. I then approached Supt Olivier about relocation of members from Cato Manor to 136 Victoria Embankment and he was not happy regarding the decision to move. Since then Supt Olivier changed his attitude towards me.

A.S.A

G.S.M

I further noticed that Supt Olivier was reporting all incidents directly to Director Booysen because there were several incidents that when I reported to Director, he will indicate that Supt Olivier had already informed him. These are crime scenes such as Mbali ATM shooting, Pavilion where I found Director Booysen on the crime scene without me informing him of the incident. I also notice the hostile attitude of those members at Cato Manor office towards me. It was also brought to my attention that Director Booysen visits the Cato Manor offices n weekly basis without me being informed and it was not according to protocol.

During 2009 February 03 I was informed by radio control about Mkhize's (taxi boss) shooting at Umngeni Road. I was aware of the court order against Director Booysen by Mr Mkhize. I immediately contacted Supt Olivier to establish whether our members are involved. He denied involvement of our members. I then contacted Director Booysen and informed him that Mr Mkhize was shot and advised him not to attend the crime scene as I was aware that there is a court interdict against the Director by Mr Mkhize. I made further inquiries and established that our members were involved in the shooting. I then made an Occurrence Book entry and I never attended the crime scene.

12

I was merely informed afterwards or long after shooting incidents or operations had taken place by Cato Manor members. In some instances I received information of operation or activities by members of Cato Manor without me being informed. As the Unit Commander it was clear that Supt Oliver and his members were acting on their own accord.

13

This created perception that they were operating independently as Cato Manor Organised Crime Unit. I noticed the media reports (newspapers) addressing them as Cato Manor Organised Crime Unit.

14

The unit also consists of reservist members and I was instructed by Director Booysen that the entire reservist must report directly under his command. During my visit as the Unit commander at Cato Manor I noticed strange faces of members alleging to be members of Durban Organised Crime Unit. There were also reservist members who also claimed to be members of Durban Organised Crime. I also noticed Captain Eva from Durban South Area office reporting as member of Cato Manor without me being informed or without my consultation. The following members Sgt E Padaychee and Insp Ghaness were moved from the drugs section to Serious and Violent Section by Director Booysen without my consultation. These members at Cato Manor believe that they are not accountable to me and they reported directly to Director Booysen at the Provincial office.

RSA

G S M

T.K

15

Eventually I convened the meeting of all members at 136 Victoria Embankment and I informed them that we cannot run two offices, that is the main office (136 Victoria Embankment) and Cato Manor. I also reminded them that the National directive is that we must work under one roof. That is when I saw aggression and anger surfaced from the Cato Manor members. After the meeting Cato Manor members went directly to Director Booysen's office, shortly thereafter I was visited by Director Booysen.

16

Director came down heavily on me without consulting with me. He burst into my office with anger, pointed finger at me and he indicated that I should not interfere anymore with Cato Manor office. It was very clear that I was not in command of the Cato Manor office, because since that day Supt Olivier operated independently. They did not report to me anymore. Therefore I was continuously victimised by Director Booysen who charged me departmental continuously.

17

My cell phones were illegally and unlawfully bugged by Director Booysen and the other members of Correctional Service namely Brig Mohan, Capt Govender and an Indian male known as Donovan from the 13th floor Servamus building (Provincial Office). I have supporting documents to prove the bugging on my cell phone. I attached a copy on my statement as per ANNEXURE RSA 1. Due to this illegal interception of my cell phone I was informed by Maj General Ngcobo that he is being tasked by Commissioner PT Brown to investigate me for my conduct in the telephonic conversation.

18

Since I was warned by Director Booysen not to interfere with Cato Manor offices, state resources like Emails, financial authority were send from Director Booysen office to Cato Manor (vice versa). This action confirmed that I am no more in control of Cato Manor members and I reported this to senior officers in terms of the protocol. The Provincial Commissioner Ngidi and Commissioner Brown tried to intervene and the interventions failed. The more I tried to act on issues, the more I was victimised. Director Booysen tried every possible means to suspend me and to misuse departmental disciplinary procedure to target me. He eventually removed me out of my office and he even intimidated me telephonically and criminal offences were registered against me. He moved me from Durban Organised Crime and placed me at Detective and he appointed Brig Zakhali as acting Commander in my post.

R.S.A

In November 2011 I received official notice that I being transferred with post to Provincial Inspectorate Component. The members at Cato Manor office acted under command of Director Booysen all the times. All media reports on all incidents relating to Cato Manor's involvement came from Director Booysen's office and not from me. All graphic pictures of shooting on crime scene involving members of Cato Manor were taken by journalist called Mr Anil Singh, a friend of Director Booysen of Daily Sun newspaper.

20

I am willing to clear any omission or any unclear issue when called upon to do so.

States under oath in English:

I retired from the SA Police Service in September 2010 after 42 years of service with the rank of Major General. I held the post of Provincial Head, Detective Services of KwaZulu-Natal from 1st January 2000 until my retirement.

The Detective Organigram for the Province was as follows:

I as Provincial Head was directly accountable to the Deputy Provincial Commissioner, Operations and to Provincial Commissioner. Specialized detectives in the Province who fell under General Detectives, Organized Crime, Serious and Violent Crime and Commercial Crime were under my command. In March of 2010 with the establishment of DPCI (Hawks), Organised Crime now fell under the direct command of the Deputy Provincial Commissioner responsible for the Hawks.

The four components each had a Provincial Commander who reported directly to me. They were accommodated in the Provincial Headquarters. The Provincial Commanders managed their Units at different centres within the Province. Each of the Units had a Unit Commander with Section Heads to assist him/her in the management of the Unit. General Detectives were commanded by Detective Area Heads and Detective Branch Commanders.

The lines of communication for reports to and from my office followed this chain of command. This would be from the station/unit member through his branch or unit commander to the Detective Area Head or Provincial Commander to my office. I would forward these onto the Deputy Provincial Commissioner Operations and him in turn to the Provincial Commissioner. Where necessary there was also communication to National Component Heads and the National Head of Detectives.

Reports on daily serious crime incidents were reported by the Unit Commanders to their respective Provincial Commanders and they in turn to me. I would then take

When the Serious and Violent Unit was formed, Major General Booysen was appointed the Provincial Commander of these units with the rank of Senior Superintendent. Copy of his promotion record attached. Annexure "A". The mandate of the Unit was to investigate cases as indicated in their mandate, a copy of which is attached. Annexure "B 1" and the job description of the then Director Booysen Annexure "B 2".

Colonel RS Alyer was appointed the Unit Commander of Organised Crime, Durban on 2006-12-01 with the rank of Senior Superintendent, a copy of his SAP 96 showing his promotions attached. Annexure "C".

During January 2007 the Serious and Violent Crime units were restructured under correspondence 4/1/2 dated 2007-01-08. Some of these members were placed at General Detectives at Station level and others at various Organised Crime Units. Organised Crime was now tasked to investigate cases of a serious and violent nature which fell within their new mandate. (Copies attached). Annexure "D 1" and "D2".

The disbanded Durban Serious and Violent Crime Unit had been accommodated in offices at Cato Manor Police Station. Those members who were placed at Durban Organised Crime remained at these premises due to a lack of suitable accommodation at the Durban Organised Crime offices. These offices were situated on the Esplanade in rented office accommodation. Although situated in different offices these members still fell under the command of the Durban Organised Crime Unit commander.

When Serious and Violent Crime Unit was disbanded and the mandate of Organized Crime expanded to cover the investigation of violent crime, Colonel Alyer was the commander of Durban Organized Crime.

A poor relationship developed between him and the former members of SVC based on his management style and perceived lack of knowledge in respect of the investigation of violent crimes. This lead to strained relationship between him and Major Genl Booysen as the Provincial Commander of Organized Crime. I attempted to resolve this issue and although both parties would agree to work more closely an undercurrent of mutual mistrust continued. I approached the know late Deputy Provincial Commissioner Ntanjana to assist in counselling both members which he did. This resolved the differences on hand but subsequent events would once again lead to a breakdown mutual respect and co-operation. Complaints in respect of the conduct of Col Aiyer were addressed and are on record in his personal file.

NHM

During March 2009 I received correspondence from Maj Genl Booysen under reference 3/1/5/1 dated 25 March 2009, copy of which is attached. Annexure "E". Senior Superintendent Aiyer had compiled an information note instructing members at Serious and Violent Crime at Cato Manor to relocate to the Durban Offices of Organised Crime, copy of this information note attached. Annexure "F".

I discussed the matter with Maj Genl Booysen and agreed with the sentiments expressed in his report. After discussion with Provincial Core Management it was agreed that the Serious and Violent Crime unit remain at Cato Manor. The possible relocation of Organised Crime Durban to KwaMashu was at an advanced planning stage. When this move did not materialize National Head Office also endeavoured to find more suitable accommodation for the newly formed Hawks. Correspondence in this regard is with Provincial Logistics.

The allocation of vehicle resources commenced at Provincial level when Provincial Logistics would determine the purchase of vehicles for Detectives based on the Provincial budget. Each Provincial Commander would supply a needs list based on the current vehicle strength at their units.

At a meeting with me, the Provincial Commanders and Col Odendaal the Provincial Fleet manager would present a complete breakdown of each units vehicle needs according to their manpower.

He also indicated the cost of each type of vehicle which determined the number and type of vehicle which could be purchased. The terrain in which each unit operated was considered eg 4 X 4 vehicles or high performance vehicles. The final allocation of the new vehicle was at the discretion of the Unit Commander. He/she was entrusted to ensure that the vehicle was allocated to members where it would be optimally used.

National Logistics would from time to time allocate more vehicles in addition to those approved in the Budget. The allocation of these vehicles would be discussed by the Provincial Core Management. The Provincial Commissioner would then use his discretion and allocate these vehicles to stations or units where they were most needed.

GSM

Durban Central Cas 185/02/09 A 48

11.

When the interdict court papers of Mr FE Mkhize were received at Provincial Headquarters the matter was dealt with by Legal Services. I became aware of the interdict when it was discussed at the daily crime meeting.

Provincial Commissioner Ngidi gave direction as to how the matter would be dealt. Major General Booysen was tasked to supply a founding affidavit and the matter was to be opposed through the offices of the State Attorney. The matter was subsequently resolved through an order of the High Court.

On the 30 October 2009 I received correspondence from Mason Incorporated acting on behalf of their client FE Mkhize. Her husband was deceased and the case was under investigation vide Durban Central CAS 185/02/2009. A correspondence file was opened and I dealt with the matter. I requested the case docket and on 5 November 2009 I issued specific guidelines in the investigation diary. The investigation and this case were later taken over by the local ICD. (Copy of my guidelines attached). Annexure "G".

The investigation of taxi related crimes in the Province were conducted under the guidelines in POCOC instruction 5/2000 and Transport Violence and Law Enforcement Contingency plan in POCOC instruction 5/2001.

Transport Violence Investigation Task teams were established in each police Area. The activities of the teams were co-ordinated the Provincial co-ordinator Lt Col EG van Rensburg. The Provincial chairman of the Provincial Priority Committee for Transport Violence was Maj Genl Booysen. On 2005-01-09 the POCOC instruction was amended to reinforce measures to combat Transport Violence. Copies of these plans are contained in the Provincial TVPC Archer file.

A Provincial team of Detectives stationed at Umhlanga Rocks was formed to deal specifically with the cases arising from the conflict between Kwa Maphumulo and Stanger Taxi Associations. The investigation in these cases was monitored by Lt Col van Rensburg and Maj Genl Booysen. Feedback on the cases was provided to the Provincial Crime Combatting Forum (PCCF) and Provincial Joints meetings. Weekly overviews on the violence compiled by Lt Col Peroo were provided by Crime Intelligence. The PCCF would task ACCU for additional deployments at the taxi rank and the disputed routes used by both associations.

These measures met with limited success as violence flared up when police presence was withdrawn.

Supplementary statement of Patrick Thomas Brown

States under oath:

1.

The poor relationship between maj General Booysen, the members of Cato Manor Organised Crime office and Colonel Alyer as the Commander had a direct impact on the management style of Maj Genl Booysen. He adopted a hands on approach in respect of matters involving this unit. Col Alyer's perceived lack of knowledge on SVC matters and the culture of SVC Units led to a breakdown in their communication. This meant that Maj Genl Booysen was more operationally involved in matters at this unit than at other units in the Province. He also used the services of Col Zikhali at Provincial level to co-ordinate the activities of the units. He would visit the Cato Manor weekly on a Tuesday for the Greed meeting. His management style ensured that the unit continued to function optimally.

The relationship between Maj Genl Booysen and Lt Col Olivier was one of complete trust and respect. They had both served at Amanzimtoti during their formative years in the police. They also worked very closely when the Project office was stationed at Rossburgh. This contributed to easy communication between him and Maj Genl Booysen.

The accepted protocol for conducting Organised Crime investigations or Operations outside the units boundary would be to inform the unit commander of the unit where the investigation or operation would be conducted.

The same would apply to investigations or operations conducted outside the Province when the Provincial Commander of the other Province and the local unit commander would be informed. This was not necessarily followed when information was at hand which indicated that secrecy was essential due to local police involvement with the suspects sought. For trips outside the Province prior approval would be required on the trip itinerary from the Unit Commander, Provincial Commander and the Provincial Head of Detectives.

When a death in custody as a result of police action occurred the member responsible was required to have the matter reported to the local area duty officer who would despatch a duty officer to the scene and ensure that the Independent Complaints Directorate member on call was informed to enable their attendance at the scene. The required ICD form and the shooting incident report had to completed and the duty officer would report the matter to the Provincial Nodal Point for inclusion in the daily crime report. During the daily morning crime meeting the core management of the Province would be presented with a crime report by Crime Intelligence. When Organized Crime members were involved, Maj Genl Booysen would confirm the contents of the shooting incident report and provide additional information which had been provided to him or from his own personal observation at the scene. The commander of the unit would also be informed of the incident by his members from the scene.

Depending on the decision of the ICD official a case would be registered for investigation either by themselves or by the local detective with them monitoring the investigation. Progress in the investigation would be reported to Area and Provincial level.

I am involved in other business interests; I am a director of a company called East of Eden with business interests around the Kwazulu Natal.

I have been the Chairman of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association from 2004 to date. I own and operate five (5) taxis with a total value of R1.4 million. I generate an income of approximately R31 000-00 per week I also own a Toyota Prado 2007 model valued at R470 000-00 and Toyota Corolla 2004 model valued R130 000. I employ about ten (10) people in my business.

Since 2003 there have been overwhelming tensions between my Association and the Stanger Taxi Association which has resulted in numerous Court applications between our Associations. There has also been a lot of violence emanating therefrom with about 35 members of the Association being killed. This tension and violence increased to such level that one stage the Second Respondent shut down the operations of both Associations in an endeavour to ameliorate the position.

FACTS

As a result of the violence and unrest as mentioned above between the two Associations, the members of SAPS under the control of the First, Second, Third and Fourth Respondents got to be involved in the investigations surrounding criminality that had taken place as a result of these tensions and violence.

Superintendent Chonco was one of the policemen tasked to investigate the unrest between the two Associations. He was a senior policeman stationed at Kranskop police station. He was the Station Commissioner at Kranskop police station and also Head of the Unit investigating taxi violence in the area and more particularly within our Associations. I knew Superintendent Chonco at a distance. I personally met him once when I was called to a meeting of the Amakhosi to discuss taxi violence in their areas.

B.E.M

Superintendent Chonco was violently murdered on the 27th August 2008 whilst travelling between Kranskop and Stanger. He had been part of the convoy transporting certain suspects to Stanger Court when the convoy was waylaid by groups of unknown men who fired at the vehicles with high-calibre rifles. Superintendent Chonco was killed during that attack and another policeman by the name of Khanyile was injured. One of the alleged attackers was shot and killed and a firearm was allegedly found lying next to his corpse. It is understood that this suspect was shot and killed by members of SAPS who had been part of the convoy. The aforementioned information has been gleaned from newspaper reports and I cannot vouch for the correctness thereof.

At that time, the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association had engaged the services of Taxi Violence Protection Unit, a Security Company that provided security services to the taxi association. The owner of Taxi Violence Protection Unit was Warren Jullie. At that time I was personally being protected by one of the members of the aforementioned security company. I had engaged the services of a personal body guard as I was of the view that my life was in danger from members of the Stanger Taxi Association.

19.

B.E.M

GSM

After the shooting of Superintendent Chonco I learned that the members of SAPS investigating Superintendent Chonco's murder had suspected that members of Taxi Violence Protection Unit referred to above were involved and had approached Mr. Jullie to hand over all firearms to conduct forensic investigation on them.

20.

There was also a rumour which had been circulating thereafter within the Taxi Association to the fact that I had orchestrated the attack on Superintendent Chonco and that I was being sought in respect thereof. I was subsequently telephoned by a member of the SAPS stationed at KwaMaphumulo police station and informed that the rumours were in fact correct. I am not prepared to divulge the name of this policeman as he had given me this information on an off-the-record basis.

21.

Nevertheless, on the day following the murder Superintendent Chonco one of the security officials employed to protect members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association was arrested by the members of the SAPS. He was interrogated about the death of Superintendent Chonco and during such interrogation he was excessively assaulted by them.

22.

I annex hereto marked "A" an affidavit deposed to by Moses Dlamini in respect of a matter unconnected to this one. I understand the reason for deposing to this affidavit in question was because he was seeking the intervention of the Independent Complaints Directorate to investigate reasons for his arrest and assault.

B.E.M.

G.S.M.

23.

I subsequently had occasion to speak to Moses Dlamini who informed me that during his interrogation the SAPS members were in possession of a list of names which included mine. The names on the list are allegedly those contained in paragraph 9 of Annexure "A", i.e. myself, Mthembu, Kopolota, Magojela and Buthelezi. All these people were members of my Association and were indeed taxi owners. Moses Dlamini further informed me that during his interrogation he was told by police involved therein that I, together with the other people mentioned on the list, had been the people directly implicated in the killing of Superintended Chonco and that they, whilst assaulting him, were bragging that they were going to kill him as well as all the people on the list. He further cautioned me to be absolutely careful as it appeared that my name generated the most vexation amongst the police in question.

24.

Moses Dlamini was released after it was found that he could not be inculpated with the murder of Superintendent Chonco. As a result of the information I received from Moses Dlamini I became concerned for my wellbeing and approached the Associations Attorneys, Hlapane Attorneys, and instructed Nkosinathi Hopewell Shozi, a practising attorney of this Honourable Court to intercede in the matter on my behalf. I annex hereto marked "B" a copy of a letter written by Mr. Shozi in this regard, wherein I am specifically mention in paragraph 11 thereof.

All of the people whose names appeared on the list referred to above have since been killed by the Police. It was alleged that they were being arrested for the murder of Superintendent Chonco and were killed whilst allegedly threatening members of the SAPS during or shortly after such arrest. All of these deaths have occurred under questionable and suspicious circumstances and I have been reliably informed by certain members of SAPS who are close to the investigating team that the policy being adopted by the investigating team is to kill or eliminate all members of my Association suspected of involvement in the murder of Superintendent Chonco.

I pause at this stage to state categorically that I was not involved in the planning or execution of the plan to murder Superintendent Chonco and was surprised as every body else when his death was publicized. I was of the view that Superintendent Chonco was doing sterling work in order to arrest the violence and restore a situation of normality within the Association's working environment and his death was viewed as a great loss by me for this reason. I, however, believe, because I have been told as much by a policeman close to the investigating team, that the investigating team in the murder of Superintendent Chonco have taken a view to falsely implicate prominent members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association in the murder of Superintendent Chonco and thereafter to eliminate them. Rumour is that they have taken sides with the Stanger Taxi

Association in weakening the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association in the dispute. One of the methods employed in weakening KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association is to kill its leaders.

As a further confirmation of the existence of the list mentioned by Moses Dlamini is that on or about the first week of October 2008, a meeting was held with Second Respondent at Truro House, Durban which was called specifically to discuss the murder of Superintendent Chonco. It must be noted and emphasized that the Second Respondent is on record as publicly stating that members of SAPS should not hesitate to arrest suspects and "take them to the nearest police station or nearest mortuary". By this, he had bluntly told or given members of SAPS carte blanche to kill troublesome individuals. During that meeting the Second Respondent was questioned about the existence of a list of names referred to by Moses Dlamini. The motivation behind this was to establish the factual existence of this list and to arrange that people mentioned on the list hand themselves over to the police. The Second Respondent confirmed the existence of this list. He also confirmed that the list emanated from the interrogation of the two suspects who were being conveyed by Superintendent Chonco to Stanger Court on the day he was killed.

THE KILLINGS

MAGOJELA NDIMANDE AND TEMBE

B. E. M.

G. S. M.

On Friday the 29th August 2008 Magojela Ndimande, who was a member of my Association and whose name appeared on the list mentioned by Moses Dlamini, was arrested in the Mtunzini area together with his body guard, Tembe, and taken to the Mtunzini police station where they were severely assaulted. They were subsequently released on the same day and Magojela returned to his homestead in or around the KwaMthethwa area in Empangeni. Several days after his release Magojela, who goes by the surname of Ndimande, was waylaid by police in the Merrivale area. He was shot and killed. Tembe, who had also been arrested with him on the 29th August 2008 was also killed. Tembe was a security guard employed by Taxi Violence Protection Unit and was the personal body guard of Magojela. I annex hereto marked "C" a copy of the communiqué issued by police after the death of Magojela and Tembe:

It is widely believed that the deaths of Magojela and Tembe had been in keeping with the information I had received about the elimination of prominent members of my Association under the guise of them being sought for the murder of Superintendent Chonco. We have engaged the services of various entities in order to investigate these shootings. It is also questionable to say the least that these two individuals who were sought by the Police (See Annexure "C") had been arrested by them and released shortly thereafter and within a few days of their release they are shot and killed on a quite back-road and allegedly to be "dangerous criminals" in possession of dangerous weapons.

30.

B. E. M.

G S M

LINDELANI BUTHELEZI

I must hasten to add that before the death of Magojela and Tembe, Lindelani Buthelezi whose name had also been on the list in question had already been killed by police under spurious circumstances. Lindelani Buthelezi was known as a prominent member of my Association.

31.

On the 3rd September 2008 Lindelani Buthelezi was confronted in his rented house at Stanger by a large group of policemen. He was killed by them during such "arrest". I annex hereto marked "D" a copy of an affidavit by Lindelani Buthelezi's common law wife who was present when he was killed in which she relates the disturbing circumstances under which he was killed. It is my belief that his death is consistent with the information I had received about the existence of a list of names and the elimination of the people mentioned therein.

KOPOLOTA NTULI AND NKOSINATHI MTHEMBU'S

Kopolota Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu, whose names were also on that list, were killed by members of the SAPS at Mandeni whilst at Kopolota's fiancé's homestead, also under questionable circumstances. Prior to the killing of Kopolota and Mthembu, the attorney representing the Association had offered to surrender any member of the Association suspected of the murder of Superintendent Chonco should they be sought. I annex hereto marked "E" a letter dated 5th September 2008 and refer this Honourable Court specifically to paragraphs 18 and 19 thereof. Despite this offer, the SAPS proceeded to shoot and kill the two individuals once again in circumstances that lead me to believe the correctness of the information referred to above. Once again the police version is that they acted in self-defence.

MDU MKHIZE

On Saturday the 18th October 2008 Mdu Mkhize who was a member of my Association was arrested at a funeral service at KwaMaphumulo by members of the South African Police Services. He was handcuffed and led away and we later heard that he was killed. I annex hereto marked "F" a copy of the Daily Sun newspaper article wherein his death is being mentioned. Whilst Mdu Mkhize's name was not on the list mentioned by Moses Dlamini, I have been privy to information that he was also being sought for elimination by police.

It is disturbing to note from article of Daily Sun dated 21st October 2008 annexed hereto as "F", the police are already plotting a reason for any action taken against me by them. They suggest to the reporter in question that I am on the run or fugitive from justice and that I intend to flee the country. I deem this as an apparent attempt by them to later justify why they would have killed me. As can be seen from the contents of my affidavit, I am an established businessman with entrenched roots in South Africa. I am also a family man who is committed to the well being of my wife and children. I do not, and have never attempted, to flee the country or to escape justice. I view this article with concern as I would be shot and then the story would be put out to the public that I had been attempting to escape. If this was ever my intention, I would not be appealing to this Honourable Court for assistance in protecting my rights to life. I am a member of South African Airways Voyager Programme and have such qualified for the free tickets issued after spending a certain amount of money. As a consequence thereof, I have applied for a passport so that I can utilize the two acquired tickets to go on holiday with my wife. The content of the article is mischievous in that it gives the impression that I will be fleeing the country and it is apparent that the police leaked this information to the media. I annex hereto marked "F1" copy of the letter from South African Airways Voyager confirming the issue of such tickets and "F2" as proof of application for a passport.

Of the people whose names are mentioned on the list, I am the only one who remains alive. However, on Sunday the 19th October 2008 I was telephoned by my source from the KwaMaphumulo police station and informed that a concerted effort is now being waged by policemen investigating Chonco's murder to eliminate me. To this end, I was informed further that a warrant for my arrest has been obtained, a precusor to justify taking me into "custody". Thereafter the plan is to kill me and to allege that I had been killed whilst threatening the lives of the policemen involved in my arrest.

I have no doubt about the veracity of this information received from my source at the KwaMaphumulo police station. This is so because he is close to the investigating team and also because the information I have received from him in the past has turned out to as I would be shot and then the story would be put out to the public that I had been attempting to escape. be reliable and credible. Besides that, the objective evidence of the deaths of my colleagues whose names appeared on the list mentioned by Moses Dlamini and whose existence was confirmed by the Second Respondent, affords compelling evidence to support his information as well as my fears.

As a result of my concerns and fears I immediately approached my instructing attorney, Mr. Moloi of SD Moloi & Associates Inc. and asked him to verify the existence or otherwise of the warrant of arrest. A letter was written to the Third Respondent this morning (20th October 2008) a copy of which is annexed hereto marked "G", contents of which speaks for themselves. My instructing Attorney has not received a response thereto despite requesting the Third Respondent to do so by a certain time failing which an Application would be made to this Honourable Court on an urgent basis for relief.

I verily believe that my life is in danger from members of the South African Police Services and further believe that should I be arrested by them in any circumstances other than those referred to in my Notice of Motion, I will be killed by them.

39.

I wish to reiterate that I have not been involved in the planning or execution of the plan relating to Chonco's death and wish to reiterate that I know nothing about his death and can therefore, not assist the police with any of their investigations.

B. E. M.

GSM

I, however, understand that the police have an obligation to investigate whatever information they might have and that it might be contra bonos mores for this Honourable Court to interfere with such investigation. I however wish to state that I am not averse to being arrested in pursuance of that investigation but would only wish that this Honourable Court intervenes to regulate the conduct of such arrest and further investigation. As I do not know anything about the murder of Superintendent Chonco, I would be unable to assist the police in any of their investigation. I therefore would not be in a position to make any statements outside of a warning statement wherein I intend to deny my involvement. I would also not be in a position to point out any matters relevant to the investigation by the police. Nor would I be prepared to make any confession before a Magistrate or anybody else for that matter relating to such investigation.

41.

As there is a warrant already issued for my arrest, I am of the view that it has been issued because of an alleged prima facie case implicating me in the murder of Superintendent Chonco. That fact implies that their investigations are completed and ties in with my averment that I do not intend assisting the police in any way with their investigation and as such eliminates, absolutely, the need for them to want to take me out of the police cells under the ruse or guise of wanting to conduct further investigation. I mention this because I believe that if I am not killed during the arrest stage, I have been informed or verily believe that I will be taken out of my holding cells allegedly for further investigations and shot.

B.E.M.

GSM

42.

I do not intend putting my life at risk by threatening any policemen and wish to state categorically that it is not in my nature to do so.

43.

It is for this reason that I approached this Honourable Court on an urgent basis in an endeavour to ensure that my life is not threatened or harmed. I have offered to hand myself over to the members of the investigating team under controlled circumstances, and in the presence of my legal representatives. I am also prepared to be subjected to interrogation in the presence of my legal representatives and members of the Independent Complaints Directorate and to answer whatever questions posed to me. I believe that if I was approached by the police in circumstances under which my colleagues were approached, I would most definitely be killed. There is ample evidence above that supports my fears and contentions.

I have no other remedy accept this application to protect my rights to life and to ensure that I am not harmed by members of the South African Police Services. The Third Respondent has been aware of our concerns regarding the death of members of our Association as various correspondences have been entered into between our Association and himself. I annex hereto marked "H" a response received from the Third Respondent indicating his awareness and involvement in this matter. The Fourth Respondent who is directly in command of the unit investigating Superintendent

B.E.M.

Chonco's murder is also aware of our concerns as certain communications and concerns have been directed to him as well. I annex hereto marked "J" a response received from him in respect of this matter. Swayo Mkhize and Gedwana Mhlongo mentioned in Annexure "J" are members of our Association.

45.

The Fourth Respondent or his members have, in the recent past, made headlines for various killings of suspects in circumstances not too dissimilar to those under which members of my Association mentioned herein have been killed. I wish to refer specifically to the incident involving the killing of suspects fingered in the killing of Naren Sham and his family no more than two months ago. Naren Sham was a prominent Attorney of this Honourable Court. He, together with his wife and son, were found murdered in their home in Morningside. Two suspects allegedly implicated therein were shot and killed and the explanation given therefore was that they were shot and killed for allegedly threatening to attack police during further investigations. I annex hereto marked "K" and "L" two (2) newspaper articles which are relevant to this incident.

The aforementioned information does, in my view, indicate that the balance of convenience favours the granting of this interdict for the following reasons:-

(a) I am prepared to hand myself over to the police in the presence of my legal representatives;

B.E.M.

G Son

(b) I am prepared to assist the police with their investigation as far as I can within controlled environment and in the presence of my lawyers and if possible, members of Independent Complaints Directorate. I say this because I do not know what else the police require to know from me. As a warrant of arrest has been issued, it stands to reason that investigations had been completed and what is outstanding is to arrest me as the evidence is deemed to be sufficient for that purpose as well as the purpose to arraign me for trial.

(c) An arrest under these controlled circumstances will not prejudice the police investigations. Instead it will eliminate any possibility of them alleging that I had threatened their lives.

It is respectfully submitted that the granting of the order I seek will not be in any way prejudicial to the interest of the Respondents in carrying out their investigations. However, it is submitted that there is overwhelming prejudice to my right to life if the Honourable Court does not grant this order in the terms requested as it will open the way for the opportunity on the part of the police to carry out their threats of killing me.

48.

I am of the view that this application is urgent and that this Honourable Court should condone non-compliance with the rules relating to service. I am prepared to hand myself over at any time or place as would be ordered by this Honourable Court in the presence of my lawyers, members of the Independent Complaints Directorate and be interrogated in their presence as well.

I, the undersigned,

I am an adult male, a member of the South African Police Service, and am also the Provincial Commander: Organised Crime for the Province of KwaZulu-Natal.

2.

The facts stated herein are, unless where indicated to the contrary, within my personal knowledge and belief, alternatively have been obtained by me from files and documents under or in the control of the South African Police Service. I am the Fourth Respondent in these proceedings.

3.

All of the Respondents oppose this application. It is convenient that I depose to the principal Opposing Affidavit with the other Respondents providing Confirmatory Affidavits and/or additional Affidavits as they might see fit.

4.

I have read the Notice of Motion herein, the Founding Affidavit of the Applicant and the other documents and Affidavits annexed thereto.

5.

Before responding to the Applicant's Affidavit it is pertinent for me to point out that the relief sought by the Applicant in paragraphs (b) (ii), (iii) and (iv) is not warranted by the matters disclosed in the founding papers but, more importantly, constitutes an unwarranted and unjustified limitation of the powers, rights, obligations and duties vested in and imposed upon the South African Police Service in terms of the Constitution and more specifically in terms of the Criminal Procedure Act, 51 of 1977. As such that relief constitutes an improper interference with the duties of the Police to investigate and combat crime.

GSM

6.

Apart from that the relief sought in paragraph (b) (i) constitutes nothing more than mere lip service couched in interdictory language enjoining the Police to do exactly that which is their duty to perform.

7.

In seeking that relief, and as a general statement, the Applicant relies on nothing more than innuendo, hearsay, unconfirmed rumour and generalized unconfirmed reports made in the popular press.

8.

I turn now to deal with the specific allegations made in the Applicant's Affidavit.

9.

AD PARAGRAPH 1

I admit the identity of the Applicant and that he is an adult male taxi owner. I have no knowledge as to his place of residence.

10.

Having regard to that set out in this Affidavit I dispute the contents of paragraph 2.

GSM

11.

AD PARAGRAPH 3

I admit these allegations.

12.

AD PARAGRAPH 4

I admit the Identity of the Second Respondent. However, the Second Respondent is responsible for the portfolio of community safety and liaison. I refer further to his Affidavit filed evenly herewith.

13.

AD PARAGRAPH 5

I admit these allegations.

14.

AD PARAGRAPH 6

Save to state that I am the Provincial Commander: Organised Crime for the Province of KwaZulu-Natal I admit these allegations.

15.

AD PARAGRAPHS 7 AND 8

I note what the Applicant intends to do as described in these paragraphs. The manner in which the Police are authorized to carry out their functions and duties is set out with precise clarity in the Criminal Procedure Act 51 of 1977

A92(3)

("the Act"). In my respectful submission this Court is enjoined to ensure that the Police comply with their duties and obligations as set out in the Act. It is imperative that right at the outset I make it abundantly clear that as matters presently stand a Warrant of Arrest has not been sought or issued with regard to the Applicant and, at present, he has no reason absolutely to fear arrest. However, as the investigation into the matters generally described in the Founding Affidavit progresses further I am unable to state with any certainty whether that position will change. If it does and there indeed arises a situation where it becomes necessary to either question or detain or arrest the Applicant, those functions will be carried out strictly in accordance with the law. If and when that happens, the Applicant has available to him all of his constitutional and other rights which the Police are obliged to respect and observe.

I have no knowledge of the allegations contained in these paragraphs, question their relevance to this application and, to the extent that the Applicant contends that they are indeed relevant, put him to the proof thereof.

AD PARAGRAPH 14

While there has certainly been tension between the two associations mentioned by the Applicant, the violence in the taxi industry is not limited to those two alone. Violence in the taxi industry is endemic, rife and spreads across all associations. There have been members from all associations that have been killed but at present I am unable to say how many and from which particular association such people have emanated.

G Sm

Durban Central Cas 185/02/2009

A.92B

18.

AD PARAGRAPH 15

The Police are investigating violence whenever and wherever it occurs. This includes all the associations that are involved and not just the two referred to by the Applicant.

19.

AD PARAGRAPH 16

I admit that at a point in time Superintendent CHONCO was the Station Commissioner at Kraanskop Police Station. However he was assigned to deal with all taxi conflicts as a co-ordinator of that investigation in the Province of KwaZulu-Natal. He was not the head of any unit and there is no particular unit as described by the Applicant. I have no knowledge as to whether or not the Applicant did indeed meet with CHONCO.

20.

AD PARAGRAPH 17

I admit that CHONCO was murdered on 27 August 2008. On that day he and another member of the South African Police, one KHANYILE, were in a motor vehicle when they were set upon. In the exchange of gun fire CHONCO was killed, KHANYILE was injured and one of the assailants was shot dead at the scene. This assailant was found in possession of an AK47 rifle.

GSM

Durban Centre | Ces 185/02/2009

21.

AD PARAGRAPH 18

Although I am aware of the fact that the services of a security company were retained by the association, I am not aware of the remaining allegations contained in this paragraph. To the extent that the Applicant contends that they are relevant I put him to the proof thereof.

22.

AD PARAGRAPH 19

I dispute the allegations contained in paragraph 19. The forensic investigation into the firearms of the security company was only done much later under different circumstances. I deal with those later in this Affidavit.

23.

AD PARAGRAPH 20

I deny the allegations contained in paragraph 20. To the extent that the Applicant seeks to rely on rumour and the unsubstantiated evidence of an unknown person who claims to be a policeman, I cannot deal with same.

24.

I admit that a person was detained and questioned. I deny that that person was in any way assaulted. In any event these allegations constituted hearsay and ought to be struck out.

G S M

25.

AD PARAGRAPH 22

I note the contents of the document purporting to be an Affidavit by MOSES DLAMINI. It is improper for that Affidavit to be put up by the Applicant unless and until MOSES DLAMINI puts up an Affidavit in this matter. That Affidavit was not designed for the purposes for which the Applicant intends to employ it and is therefore, in the context of this application, hearsay, and ought to be struck out. In any event, MOSES DLAMINI was never assaulted and I refer to the Affidavits of PANDAY and MAHARAJ filed evenly herewith.

26.

AD PARAGRAPH 23

The information received from MOSES DLAMINI is hearsay and ought to be struck out. In any event I deny the existence of any list that is referred to by the Applicant and deny that DLAMINI was assaulted.

I admit that MOSES DLAMINI was released. Any information received by the Applicant from MOSES DLAMINI as referred to in the Founding Affidavit is hearsay and ought to be struck out. I have no knowledge as to why the Applicant became concerned for his wellbeing and deny that he had any reason to be so afraid. The letter, annexure "B" needs to be placed in context. On 05 September 2008 Hlapane Attorneys addressed, inter alia, the Provincial Commissioner. A copy of that letter is annexed hereto marked "JWB1". That was responded to on 11 September 2008, a copy of which is annexed hereto marked "JWB2". Annexure "B" to the founding affidavit was then received. In any event, in the absence of an affidavit from the author of the letter the contents thereof are hearsay.

I deny the allegations contained in this paragraph. It is not the intention of the Police to kill anyone. It is certainly the intention of the Police to properly investigate all crime and to bring the persons responsible therefor to book.

29.

AD PARAGRAPH 26

I deny the allegations contained in this paragraph. It is not the intention of the Police to falsely implicate anyone in any of the crimes concerned. Again the unsubstantiated hearsay referred to in this paragraph is not a basis for the grant of the interdicts sought and ought to be struck out.

30.

AD PARAGRAPH 27

No list existed and therefore there was no list that could have been supplied to the Second Respondent. In this regard I refer to the Affidavit of the Second

AD PARAGRAPH 28

NDIMANDE and TEMBE were arrested and questioned. They were subsequently released. On 16 September 2008 information was received which necessitated NDIMANDE and TEMBE to be questioned again. Information was also received that the two individuals were in the process of fleeing the Province of KwaZulu-Natal, making their way to the Free State. On the busy N3 freeway between Pietermaritzburg and Merrivale an attempt was made to apprehend them. Police vehicles employing their sirens and appropriate flashing lights attempted to stop them. They resisted and shot at the Police. The Police returned fire and they were killed. Two hand guns, a Lugar assault rifle and an AK47 assault rifle were recovered by the Police. To the extent that the information contained in paragraph 28 is at odds with what I say here, I deny same. I also deny the contents of the press report from The Daily Sun to the extent that it is at odds with what I say. TEMBE was an employee of the security company referred to by the applicant in paragraphs 18 and 19 of the founding affidavit. As a consequence of this incident, and when he was discovered in possession of assault weapons, and because he was involved in an incident where he was party to the Police being fired upon, the forensic investigation into the firearms referred to in paragraph 19 of the founding affidavit was commenced.

There is simply no basis for what the Applicant contends is "widely believed". I have no knowledge of what services the Applicant has engaged and who or what the "various entities" are. I have already explained that NDIMANDE and TEMBE were again sought as a result of new information received. There is nothing untoward about that. In any event, why the Applicant refers to the N3 highway as a "quite (sic) back-road" escapes me unless it is nothing more than a thinly veiled attempt to colour the information (whether true or not) placed before this Court.

AD PARAGRAPHS 30 AND 31

I have already said that there was no list in existence. On 3 September 2008 an attempt was made to arrest BUTHELEZI. He resisted arrest and attempted to shoot at the members of the South African Police Services who returned fire in self-defence. BUTHELEZI was killed in that exchange of fire. His firearm, a CZ 7.65 automatic was recovered at the scene. Whether or not BUTHELEZI was a prominent member of the Applicant's association is unknown to me. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraphs 30 and 31 to the extent that theirs are at odds with what I say here. The Affidavit put up from SOKHULU is hearsay and must be struck out. It was not obtained or put up for the purposes of this application and she has not confirmed those facts for the purposes of this application. In any event I deny the allegations contained in that Affidavit to the extent that they are at odds with what I say herein. BUTHELEZI was killed while he resisted arrest and shot at the Police.

Durban Central | Cas 185/02/2009

34.

Information was received that implicated NTULI and MTHEMBU in taxi violence related incidents. On 18 September 2008, as a result of that information, members of the South African Police Service attempted to arrest NTULI and MTHEMBU. The Police were fired upon and had to return fire. As a result both NTULI and MTHEMBU were killed. Their firearms, a Z88 and a CZ 75 were recovered from the scene. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 32 to the extent that it differs from what I say herein.

AD PARAGRAPH 33

MKHIZE was arrested on 18 October 2008 in Pietermaritzburg. He was attending a funeral at the time. He was transported to Scottburgh for questioning. After questioning, during which he had agreed to effect a pointing-out, he was again transported for that purpose. Whilst in the vehicle he attempted to overcome the driver and was shot in the process. This was in self-defence. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 33 where they are at odds with what I say herein.

I am surprised to note that the Applicant identifies himself with the unnamed person referred to in the unsubstantiated newspapers article. How the Applicant concludes that the report suggests that he is intending to flee the country is a mystery. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 34 to the extent that they are relevant to this application.

37.

AD PARAGRAPH 35

I have repeatedly said that the list referred to is simply a figment of the Applicant's imagination. The Applicant is not a suspect at present and neither has a warrant of arrest been contemplated or sought with regard to him. However it is interesting to note that the Applicant has a "source" within the Police services. Why he would need such a "source" is food for interesting speculation. There is no plan to kill the Applicant. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 35.

38.

I deny these allegations.

39.

AD PARAGRAPH 37

This application has been engineered to ensure that the Applicant approach the Court without any response from the Respondents being placed before the Court. If regard is had to annexure "G" it will be noted that it called for a response by 11H00. The absence of a response was coupled with an assumption that there was indeed no response that would be forthcoming. However, if regard is had to the telefax transmission slip annexed to that letter it would be seen that it was only telefaxed at 11H21 that morning. By that stage the response time has past considerably. I have no doubt that that discrepancy was not brought to the attention of the learned Judge who heard this matter in the urgent circumstances engineered by the Applicant. In any event, it came to my attention shortly after noon that day that the third respondent had received an identically worded letter, but which instead called for a response by 12h00 that same day. I was informed that the third respondent's office was preparing a response. The third respondent's reply is annexed hereto marked "JWB3". It is also to be noted that very little of the relief claimed in the Notice of Motion is foreshadowed in the letter, annexure "G". I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 37.

40.

The Applicant's belief is wholly unfounded. I otherwise deny the allegations

GSM

Durban Central Cas 185/02/2009

A92(3)

contained in paragraph 38.

41.

AD PARAGRAPH 39

I note the allegations contained in paragraph 39.

42.

AD PARAGRAPH 40

I note that the Applicant states that he has no information whatsoever that could assist the South African Police Service in its ongoing investigation into the issues of taxi violence. If that is indeed the Applicant's position then he has nothing to fear. Even if the Police conclude otherwise and determine, at some point in the future, that the Applicant might well be a suspect and liable to detention, the Applicant is well within his rights to refuse to respond to any questions put to him. He is also well within his rights, at that point in time, to demand that he has his legal representative present when being questioned. All those rights the Police Services are obliged to respect and will respect. I also note that the Applicant's stated intention is never to make any confession before a Magistrate or anyone else relating to the investigation into taxi violence. I accordingly deny the allegations contained in paragraph 40.

43.

I have already said that no warrant for the arrest of the Applicant has been

Durban Central Cas 185/02/2009 Page 16 A92B

contemplated or sought. The investigation is ongoing and is nowhere near completion at this stage. The Applicant's averments are simply no basis for the relief sought. I deny the allegations in paragraph 41.

44.

I note these allegations.

AD PARAGRAPH 43

There is simply no basis for the alleged urgency and the matters dealt with are entirely of the Applicant's own making, based on untested rumour, innuendo and hearsay. There is simply no evidence whatsoever to support the Applicant's alleged "fears and contentions". It is a well known fact that the taxi industry is beset with the corruption and violence as the competing associations and competing members seek to protect their respective interests. The mere fact that people being investigated have sought to turn on the Police and are killed in circumstances where the Police are forced to defend themselves cannot and must not be construed to mean that the Police is conducting a campaign against them.

46.

AD PARAGRAPH 44

There was no need to bring this application. I acknowledge that the Applicant

G.S.M

A 92B

has indeed been corresponding with the Police Services. However, and with specific reference to annexure "H", it is disingenuous for the Applicant to put up the response from me without putting up his letter of 29 August 2008. This is yet another indication of why I say the Applicant has crafted together this application to suit his own purposes because the Applicant does not see fit to put up his letter, obviously considering it to be relevant, I will refrain from doing so.

47.

AD PARAGRAPH 45

The references contained in this paragraph are scurrilous and inflammatory. This paragraph and the newspaper articles referred to have no bearing whatsoever on the matter at hand and ought to be struck out.

48.

I deny the allegations contained in these paragraphs.

WHEREFORE I pray that it may please this Honourable Court to dismiss the application with costs.

Draft statement by Aris Danikas

Contact details : technotronic@on.gr

To whom it may concern:

1.

I Aris Danikas age of 41 years old ex owner of technotronic electronics in S.AFRICA would like to make the following draft about criminal acts by members of the Cato Manor organized crime unit that I witnessed as a police reservist attached to the unit from 1999 to 2008. I would like to stress that I am very concerned that making this draft outlining the criminal acts I have witnessed could put my life and that of my immediate family, including my wife's relatives in South Africa, in danger, and I make this draft on the understanding that the South African authorities will do everything in their power to ensure the safety of my immediate family and myself. Moreover, I am also very concerned that outlining these acts will make me a target of false accusations and being implicated in the crimes by the Cato Manor unit members that I witnessed but did not participate in. It must also be stressed that these falsehoods aimed at attacking my credibility and discrediting my character will be orchestrated by the very people I witnessed committing these crimes who are also seasoned police officers fully capable and in possession of the means to manipulate evidence against me. I therefore also make this draft on the understanding that I will be legally protected and indemnified from any of these efforts to falsely implicate in any crimes.

During the week of 15 October 2001 I had lunch with Johan Booysen at the News Café in Musgrave shopping centre in Durban. Booysen showed me a photograph of an escaped crime suspect who he alleged had faxed threatening material to senior justice officials that had convicted the suspect previously for various crimes. Booysen told me if I saw the man in the photo I should put a bullet in his head.

On 15 October 2001 at 12.30am (see my duty register annexed PAGE ONE) I drove to Cato Manor police station and drove in a car with Booysen to a township, I believe it was KwaMashu, followed by several Cato Manor members in unmarked vehicles. Booysen stayed in the car and I joined the members conducting house to house penetration searching for the suspect. We found a relative of the suspect, who took us to a house. I saw Jeremy Martin kick the door in, and I saw the suspect dragged outside by Martin.At the time of his arrest i was positioned close to the entrance of the house and could see a female and childrent lying in a bed. Martin dragged him out of the house into the rain in his underpants and we stood around him in a circle while Martin was trying to handcuff him. The suspect was unarmed. The suspect then slid down a 2 meter slope out of the circle. At that point another officer, I believe his name was Eddie van Rensburg, told me in abusive language to "get the fuck out of here". Then I heard shots and the suspect was dead. The members claimed later that the suspect had produced a firearm hidden somewhere in the vicinity, a claim I seriously doubt as he was surrounded by more or less 12 police officers armed with assault rifles.

On 26 February 2004 I called Cato Manor officers to come to my shop Technotronic in Smith Street to arrest a man who came to collect a stolen laptop. He was taken to Cato Manor police station. I accompanied them. At the offices of the serious and violent crime unit at Cato Manor they stripped the suspect of his clothes, tied him to a chair, and proceeded to torture him by choking and hitting the suspect. I recall that members present included RC Maharaj and Varesh Panday. I recorded the event secretly and showed it to Booysen soon afterwards. He just laughed and said "that's how things are done to get results." He also warned me not to show it to anybody or I would get into trouble and requested a copy and a colour photo of a specific frame showing Varesh Panday, which he told me he wanted to use to incriminate Panday, with whom he was in a personal dispute. To my knowledge he never took disciplinary action against his members, but I believe he warned them against the possibility of my taking recordings future torture because they henceforth avoided taking me to interrogations. In 2008, after I left South Africa, I place clippings of the recordings on YouTube REFF CASE NO 297/02/04 (FILE "torture in office")

On 30 March 2004 a drunk man was harassing the owner of the Pie Shop next door to my shop in Smith Street. Booysen happened to be in my shop and went to grab the suspect and dragged him through my shop, with my help (FILE workshop blood VIDEO 1). Booysen took the suspect to the back of my shop where I saw Booysen assault the suspect with his fists and knock him down unconscious, leaving a lot of blood on the floor. Later on police members arrived and under Booysen's direction collected the suspect. Soon afterwards, it may have been the next day, Booysen either dictated or gave me a statement, I don't recall which. This statement falsely stated that the suspect had attacked one of us and tried to murder one of us – I don't recall whether it was me or him – with a screw driver in my workshop. This never happened, but I had to sign it because Booysen ordered me to in order to justify his use of unnecessary and excessive force.(reference 30-03-04 15:45 30-03-04 1900 SUSPECT ARRESTED AT BROAD STR POLICE STATION)

On 21 January 2006 Booysen came to my shop and I related a story to him of being in a car with Willie Olivier and Eugene van Tonder, senior members of the Cato Manor unit. They were driving around Smith Street in a black Lumina, a state unmarked car used by the unit, with tinted windows. Van Tonder wound down the window and started shooting with a handgun sized airgun at pedestrians, specifically targeting black pedestrians for entertainment, laughing as he shot them. I recall he knocked down a man on a bicycle and wounded a few others, including females. When I related this to Booysen, he described in detail how he and his colleagues had frequently done this, and that he participated in this himself, laughing while telling this story. He also said that a civilian who was injured had opened a case and provided the registration number of the vehicle where the shots were fired from, that I was in, and that this number had been traced to the Cato Manor unit. Booysen said the complaint was sent to his office and he said he "took care of it". By that I understood that he had covered it up (see video 2)

On 27 October 2006 at around 9am four suspects were arrested by Cato Manor members at Durban airport arrival lounge. Some of the members I rememberd who were present during this arrest, were: Booysen, Mostert, Van Tonder, Vick Panday, Peter George, Shane Naidoo, Mukesh Panday, Anton Lokum, Sgt R Lee and Adele Sonnekus took part in this arrest too, at Booysen's invitation. They were taken to Cato Manor police station and interrogated one by one. I was present during this interrogation. Other members of the unit I recall being present were Booysen, Mostert, Van Tonder, Vick Panday, Peter George, Shane Naidoo, Mukesh Panday, Anton Lokum. I witnessed one being questioned and subsequently tortured in my presence and in the presence of Booysen. After a short while he said he could not be seen there and left with me. Booysen later told me Mostert shot two of the suspects dead after one tried to hit him with a spade. Furthermore he told me that he arrived at the scene soon afterwards and that one suspect was still alive, waiting for the paramedics to arrive. He told me that he then leaned down to the dying suspect's ear and whispered: "I told you I'm going to kill you if you come back." (REGISTRATION OB 1 2 /10/2006)

6.

On 9 April 2007 I was visited by Booysen and Adele Sonnicus at my residence when he received a call from one of his members to inform him of a shootout in Melvern area. We proceed to the crime scene where I saw various members of the cato manor unit (operation greed). I found two African males lying within a residential garage. One was shot dead inside a car and the other one was wounded and still alive but in great agony and bleeding heavily. Booysen told me that they will only call the paramedics and the ICD once the second suspect had also dead, so everyone was waiting around for the second suspect to pass away due to his injuries. I managed to use a camera and recorded some video material of the crime scene in the presence of Booysen and the rest of the officers involved in the shooting. I was also instructed by Mosterd and Olivier to pick up various large caliber spent police cartridges and after I placed them to my pocket I handed over to Mosterd and Olivier as per their request.(REGISTRATION OB 11-12 ,04/2007))Ilie Malvin suspect dying.

The suspect died after a few minutes, and three times I asked the director to call an ambulance.

Later on I was told by Booysen that the driver of the police getaway car of the robbers was a police informer and had tipped off the Cato Manor office about the planned burglary, and that he had driven away after dropping the suspects at the house they intended to burgle.The suspects were then shot dead by the unit.

When we left the crime scene and returned to my residence with Booysen I played the video to him and he specifically instructed me to get rid of the video material or else I would get into serious trouble. I chose to keep it and placed it on YouTube in 2008.

On 15 November 2007 robbers who were part of a gang that stole jewels and watches shot an off duty policeman at Pavilion shopping mall in Durban. (REGISTRATION OB 18-19 , 11/2007)) I attended the scene with Booysen. Other members of the unit who I recall were present were Booysen, Mostert, Olivier, Van Tonder, Peter George, Rakesh Maharaj, Mukesh Panday and Shane Naidoo.

On 23 November 2007 a Greek national Costas Svourakis was arrested at OR Tambo airport aboard an Olypic Airways flight to Athens in possession of several watches later identified as the ones stolen at the Pavilion Mall. The suspect was brought to Cato Manor that night and interrogated for about two hours. I was called by Booysen to attend the scene to act as an interpreter. Other members of the unit who I recall were present were Booysen, Mostert, Eugene van Tonder and Vic Panday and Mukesh Panday.

I witnessed the suspect being stripped of his clothes and tied on a chair naked. Soon afterwards he was tortured and beaten by the members of the cato manor unit by placing a bag over his head and choked until he confessed to various crimes that he was accused of. ((registration OB 22 23 ,11/2007))

On the 24 May 2008 I received a call from Mosterd to assist at a crime scene at 5th Avenue at Morning side Durban where a suspect was shot and also fell to his death while Mosterd and members of the Cato manor unit tried to arrest him. When I arrived at the scene I was shown a dead body on the ground and I was refused entry to the crime scene by Olivier. I was told later by Mostert that he himself shot the suspect while he was falling to his death.

2. Summary of events:

On Wednesday 2008/08/27 at approximately 10H00, Supt Chonco was in the company of Insp Khanyile, they were attached to the Provincial Taxi Task Unit. The same day they were on route from SAPS Kranskop to KwaDukuza Court. Ahead of them was a marked police vehicle with two accused also on route to take the two accused to KwaDukuza Court.

Whilst Supt Chonco travelled along the R74, approximately 20 kilometers before KwaDukuza on a detour along the R74, he was led into an ambush and was accosted by armed males armed with AK47 and R4 – R5 rifles. He was fatally shot and killed behind the steering of the police vehicle whilst Insp Khanyile, who was in his company, also sustained gunshot wounds but miraculously managed to fight off the suspects, shooting the one about six meters from him. Insp Khanyile was later removed and taken to Umhlanga Hospital by helicopter.

The scene was attended by Supt Minaar, the Station Commissioner of Kranskop SAPS as well as other members of nearby police stations. The same day at 11H00, members of Organised Crime, Cato Manor, was summoned and tasked to the scene and took over from Supt Minaar. The scene was thoroughly secured and a thorough investigation was done at the scene with extensive enquiries made by the members on the scene. Statements were obtained from the local community and other persons nearby.

The same day 2008/08/27, the investigation team which at this stage consisted of Supt W Olivier, Capt S Smith, Capt N Eva, Capt Van Tonder, Insp Mostert, Mdlalose, Zondi, Makhanya; P George, Thabethe, Panday, Stolz and Sgt Mkhwanazi, concluded their investigation at the scene. At the time the deceased, who was shot at the scene by Insp Khanyile, was removed and possession was taken of his cell phone. Capt Eva, Insp Mostert and Cst Naidoo extracted vital information from the phone. It was during this time that Insp Mostert contacted Crime Intelligence and requested immediate assistance. Supt Olivier, Capt Eva, Van Tonder, Stolz and Panday returned to the office whilst Insp Mostert, Mdlalose, Makhanya, Zondi and Mkhwanazi remained at the scene to conduct further enquiries. Later the members departed to Kranskop and Greytown areas and the same day at 23H00 the investigation team still consisting of the above members met at Greytown. From Greytown the above investigation team proceeded to the area called Matimatolo near Maphumulo, however it proved to be a fruitless exercise. The team then returned to the office.

During this time all avenues were utilized to gather the intelligence that was analysed and on 2008/09/03 the first breakthrough was made by the investigation team with the assistance from Crime Intelligence. The investigation team now consisting of Supt Olivier,

G.S.M

Capt Eva, Smith, Van Tonder, Lockem, Insp Mostert, Panday, Nel, Makhanya, Mdlalose, Magwaza, RC Maharaj, Zondi, Sgt Mkhwanazi and Cst Naidoo as well as Capt V Auerbach of SAPS Brighton Beach, proceeded to the KwaDukuza area. The informer pointed the house out to the investigation team which was situated next to the R74 at 59 Rose Avenue, KwaDukuza. The same evening at 23H30, the same investigation team proceeded to 59 Rose Ave. The following members penetrated the house:

0084512-4	Insp P Mostert
0621413-4	Insp Makhanya
0536844-8	Cst S Naidoo
0443522-2	Capt V Auerbach (Brighton Beach SAPS)

whilst the remaining members took guard outside the house. As the above members entered the house a gun fight ensued and the first suspect, Lindani Buthelezi, was fatally shot and found next to him was a 9mm pistol with the serial number erased. The case is being investigated by KwaDukuza SAPS vide CAS 150/08/08. The investigation team then returned to the office.

Insp Mostert continued to gather information with the assistance of Crime Intelligence.

3. The Apprehension of two more suspects

Details of candidates:

0070031-2	Dir JW Booysen
0426991-8	Capt Lockem
0066633-5	Capt JJE Van Tonder
0410381-5	Capt N Eva
0084512-4	Insp P Mostert
0621413-4	Insp Makhanya
0429170-1	Insp B Nel

Summary of events:

On Monday 2008/09/15, Dir Booysen, the Provincial Commander, contacted Insp Mostert and informed Insp Mostert that he had information pertaining to the suspect that had organized the hit on Supt Chonco. He was hiding in Virginia in the Orange Free State and was on route to Pietermaritzburg to collect some cash in Pietermaritzburg. During this time the informer remained in contact with Dir Booysen who continued to relay the information over to the investigation team.

A shootout then took place between the passenger of the suspects' vehicle and the investigation team resulting in the driver of the vehicle being injured in the process which resulted in the vehicle stopping. The passenger in the suspects' vehicle, during the shootout, made an attempt to flee from the moving vehicle which resulted in him being flung out of the moving vehicle. Both the suspects were fatally injured in the shootout. The driver was positively identified as Timson Magojela Ndimande and was the main brain behind the assassination of Supt Chonco, the other suspect was his body guard. The following firearms were found in the vehicle; one AK47 Rifle with loaded magazine, one Ruger Mini 14 Automatic Rifle and two magazines as well as two 9mm Norinco Pistols, both with loaded magazines.

systematically proceeded through the house starting in the lounge area and proceeding down the passage. Turning left into the next passage a young school child was found standing in the one doorway who pointed to a closed door and informed Insp Mostert that "they are hiding there". The child was asked to depart from the house for his own safety. Once the investigation team reached the closed door, they found it to be locked and proceeded to announce themselves stating "It is the police, open up". This was repeated several times but no response was received. The door was then kicked in by Insp Mostert and at the same time a shot was fired from the room towards the investigation team and the sound of glass breaking was heard. The team then entered the room and a shootout took place between the police and the suspects, fatally wounding two suspects. The two suspects were positively identified as Nathi Mthembu and Mdu Khopoloto Ntuli. Found in the room was one Z88 9mm Pistol loaded with the serial number erased and one CZ75 9mm Pistol also loaded with the serial number intact. Insp Mostert was in possession of a warrant of arrest for the suspect Mdu Khopoloto Ntuli vide Maphumulo CAS 2/02/05: Murder which was being investigated by Supt Chonco.

During the investigations it was clear that Supt Chonco was a thorn in the side of these criminals who did not hesitate to take the law into their own hands. Investigations also revealed that the following suspects were directly involved in the assassination of Supt Chonco:

Lindani Buthelezi who was shot by the investigation team
Nathi Mthembu who was shot by the investigation team
Mdu Khopoloto Ntuli who was shot by the investigation team and who was also wanted on Maphumulo CAS 02/02/2005: Murder (Attached, find J50 Warrant of arrest)
Timson Magojela Ndimande and his body guard, Sibusiso Tembe, who were shot by the investigation team and who orchestrated the hit on Supt Chonco.

Attached find newspaper clippings from the Daily Sun, The Natal Mercury and the Daily News as well as statements of members who were involved in the individual scenes.

As depicted in this report, it is clear that several members contributed and played an important role of which some members were continuously confronted with the dangers of the apprehensions of the suspects whilst other members played their individual roles which contributed to the success. These members should receive a benefit.

In the process there was a conflict between Sfange (Kwadwuza) Pasi association and Maphumulo Pasi association. According to my knowledge during these years I was there, nobody from Sfange Pasi association was either arrested or killed by Cofa manor unit.

The only police officer who was a threat to Sfange Pasi association was then Superintendent Cfonco. According to the association Cfonco did not take side. Cfonco was a straight police officer. Cfonco did not take bribery from either Sfange or Maphumulo Pasi association if somebody committed murder relating to Pasi he would go out and arrest the suspect without involving Cofa manor.

Cafo manor unit was not happy with superintendent Afonco. Sanele and Bongiwe were not happy too with Afonco. I heard them Sanele and Bongiwe saying Afonco was a trouble and they will talk to senior officers referring to Boy Zeni and Mofet to sort him (Afonco).

JUDGMENT HANDED DOWN ON: 15 September 2016

[1] 'An important requirement for admission as an attorney or advocate is to be a 'fit and proper' person. Lawyers are also struck from the respective rolls of advocates or attorneys if they cease to be "fit and proper". The requirements of being "fit and proper" person is not defined or described in the legislation. It is left to the subjective interpretation of and application by seniors in the profession and the ultimately the court. In the apartheid years, this requirement was applied arbitrarily, but today the question may be asked why some lawyers who have been found to be a "fit and proper" do not act as such. The pre-admission character screening of lawyers seems not to be effective any more. Post admission moral development is imperative'[1].

[2] A successful practitioner, an attorney or an advocate, should possess and display certain qualities, most of which cannot be acquired through learning. Having these qualities could indicate that a person is indeed a "fit and proper" person for the profession. An appropriate academic training may, however, play a vital part in improving them- as they are "by nature at least latent."

[3] The following are listed as the least of qualities a lawyer should possess:

'Integrity- meaning impeccable honesty or an antipathy to doing anything dishonest or irregular for the sake of personal gain,

- Dignity- practitioners should conduct themselves in a dignified manner and should also maintain the dignity of the court.
- The possession of knowledge and technical skills,
- A capacity for hard work,
- Respect for legal order and
- A sense of equality or fairness'[2].

[4] This case is about whether the respondents, Ms Nomgcobo Jiba (first respondent),referred to in these proceedings as "Jiba", an advocate who currently holds the position of Deputy National Director of the Public prosecutions, Mr Lawrence Sithembiso Mrwebi (second respondent), referred to in these proceedings as "Mrwebi", an advocate who holds the position of special director of public prosecutions and head of the crime unit within the prosecuting authority and Mr Sibongile Mzinyati, third respondent (Mzinyathi), an advocate and a director of public prosecutions North Gauteng, are "fit and proper" persons to remain on a roll of admitted advocates in terms of Admission of Advocates Act no 74 of 1964.

[5] The application has been instituted by General Council of the Bar of South Africa ("GCB"), a voluntary association with legal personality functioning in terms of its constitution with its constituent members comprising of 10 societies of advocates throughout South Africa. GCB wants this court to consider acting against the respondents as contemplated in section 7(2) of Admission of Advocates Act. The section provides as follows:

> "(2) Subject to the provisions of any other law, an application under paragraphs (a) (b) (c) or (d) of subsection (1) for the suspension of any person from practice as an advocate or for the striking off the name of any person from the roll of advocates, may be made by the General Council of Bar of South Africa, by the Bar , or Society of Advocates for the division which made the order for his or her admission to practice as an advocate or is ordinarily resident, and, in the case of an application made to a division under paragraph(c) of subsection (1) also by the State attorney referred to in the State Attorney Act 1957 (Act no 56 of 1957)".

[6] During August 2014 and following the handing down of a judgment by the Supreme Court of Appeal on 1 April 2014 in the matter of Freedom Under Law v National Director of Public Prosecutions and others[3] (Mdluli's case), GCB received a request from the office of the National Prosecuting Authority (NPA) to consider bringing an application against the three respondents in terms of section 7 (2) of the Admission of Advocates Act quoted in paragraph 5 above. At a scheduled meeting in November 2014, GCB considered the request and decided to proceed to prepare the present application which was instituted on 1 April 2015 coincidentally exactly a year after the SCA's judgment in Mdluli's case.

[7] The gist of the complaints against the three respondents is based on their conduct in the handling of Freedom Under Law v National Director of Public Prosecutions and Others 2014 (1) SA 254 254 GNP; NDPP v Freedom Under Law (see footnote 3) a case referred to in this proceedings as Mdluli or FUL case and adverse

THE TEST

[9] Section 7 (1) (d) of the Admission of Advocates Act authorises a court to remove an advocate from the roll of advocates, if satisfied that he or she is not a "fit and proper" person to continue to practice as an advocate. The test is a contemplation of three-staged inquiry, as is also the case in applying the provisions of section 22 (1) (d) of Attorneys Act 53 of 1979. First, the court must decide if the alleged conduct complained of has been established on a preponderance of probabilities. This is a factual inquiry. Secondly, it must consider if the person concerned is in the discretion of the court not a fit and proper person to continue to practice. This involves a weighing up of the conduct complained of against the conduct expected of a fit and proper person to practice. This is a value judgment consideration. Thirdly, the court must inquire whether in all of the circumstances the person in question is to be removed from the roll or whether an order of suspension from practice would suffice. This is also a matter for the discretion of the court. In deciding on what course to follow, the court is not first and foremost imposing a penalty. Rather, the main consideration is the protection of the public[4].

CONSTITUTIONAL IMPERATIVE AND LEGISLATIVE FRAME WORK

[10] It is important to start by mentioning that all the complaints raised against the respondents arise from the handling of three review proceedings instituted against the National Prosecuting Authority, in terms of which certain decisions, two of which, that is, in Mdluli and Spy Tapes cases related to the withdrawal of criminal charges and the other decision in Booysen case related to the institution of criminal proceedings. It is for this reason that a brief outlay of the legislative-frame work governing the authority and operation of the prosecuting authority is necessary.

[11] There is a single national prosecuting authority established in terms of section 179 of the Constitution as determined in National Prosecuting Authority Act[5] (the Act). The prosecuting authority has the power to institute criminal proceedings on behalf of the state and to carry out any necessary functions to institute criminal proceedings.[6] National legislation must ensure that the prosecuting authority exercises its functions without fear, favour or prejudice[7]. The National Director of Public Prosecutions must issue policy directions which must be observed in the prosecution process, may intervene in prosecuting process when policy directives are not complied with, and may review a decision to prosecute or not prosecute, after consulting the relevant Director of Public Prosecutions and after taking representations within a period determined by the National Director of Public Prosecutions from the following: the accused, the complainant, any other person or party whom the National Director considers to be relevant[8].

[12] The "Act" is the brain-child of section 179 of the Constitution, in particular subsection (4) which requires of a national legislation to be enacted to ensure that members of the prosecuting authority exercise their duties without fear, favour or prejudice. Chapter 4 of the Act deals with powers, duties and functions of members of the prosecuting authority. Of relevance to the present proceedings, they have the power to institute and conduct criminal proceedings on behalf of the state and have the power to discontinue criminal proceedings[9]. On the other hand, and in accordance with section 179 of the Constitution, the National Director may review a decision to prosecute or not to prosecute, after consulting the relevant Director and after taking and considering representations from the accused, the complainant, any other person or party whom the National Director considers relevant, within the period specified by the National Director[10]. This is a replica of what is provided for in section 179 of the Constitution. The hierarchy in the exercise of powers, duties, and functions under Chapter 4 runs from the national director, deputy national director, directors, deputy directors and down to the prosecutors[11]. Section 21 is also important as it obliges and authorises the National Director to determine prosecution policies, and issue policy directions which must be observed in the prosecution process.

[13] A special director should exercise the powers, carry out the duties and perform functions considered or imposed on or assigned to him or her by the President, subject to the directions of the national director: Provided that if such powers, duties and functions include any of the powers, duties and functions referred to in section 20 (1), they should be exercised, carried out and performed in consultation with the director of the area of jurisdiction concerned[12]. In the present case, the second respondent was such a "special director" and the third respondent such "director" concerning the withdrawal of the fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli. (My emphasis as it would appear later in this judgment).

[14] In terms of the legislative power to make or determine prosecution policies and to issue policy directives, the National Director of Public Prosecutions issued code of conduct inter alia, dealing with professional conduct, independence and impartiality by each member of the prosecuting authority in the exercise of their powers, duties and functions.

[15] Because of its relevance to the "fit and proper" person requirement, I find it necessary at the risk of prolonging this judgment, to repeat some of the directives contained in the code of conduct:

"Prosecutors must-

(a) Be individuals of integrity whose conduct is objective, honest and sincere

(b) Respect, protect and uphold justice, human dignity and fundamental rights as entrenched in the Constitution.

(c) Protect the public interest;

(d) Strive to be and seen to be consistent, independent and impartial;

(e) Conduct themselves professionally, with courtesy and respect to all, and in accordance with the law and the recognized standards and ethics of their profession;

(f) ...

(g) At all times maintain the honour and dignity of their profession..."

Independence.

"The prosecutorial discretion to institute and to stop criminal proceedings should be exercised independently, in accordance with the prosecution policy and the policing directive and be free from political, public or judicial interference."

Impartiality

"The prosecutor should perform their duties without fear, favour or prejudice. In particular they should-

(a) Carry out their functions impartially and not become personally involved in any matter;
(b) Avoid taking decisions or involving themselves in matter where a conflict of interest existent or might possibly exist;

G Sm

(c) Take into consideration the public interest as instinct from media or part as an interest and concerns, however vociferously these may be presented;

(d) Avoid participation in political or other activities which may prejudice or be perceived to prejudice their independence or impartiality;

(e) Not seek or receive gifts, donations, favour or sponsorships that may comprise or may be perceived to compromise or may be perceived to compromise their professional integrity;

(f) Act with objectivity and pay due attention to the constitutional right to equality;

(g) Take into account all relevant circumstances and ensure that the reasonable inquiries are made about evidence irrespective of whether these inquiries are to the advantage or disadvantage of the alleged offender;

(h) Be sensitive to the needs of victims and do justice between the victim, the accused and the community according to the law and the dictates of fairness and equity ; and

(i) Assist the Court to arrive at a just verdict and in the event of conviction, an appropriate sentence based on the evidence presented."

[16] Three points summarised hereto were raised as preliminary issues. First, alleged failure to afford Jiba a fair hearing, second, that the application and relief sought offend against separation of powers and lastly that the present application is pre-mature. Counsel for Jiba was asked at the start of the hearing of this application as to whether he was persisting with the three issues. The response was that preliminary issues are not abandoned.

Alleged lack of affording Jiba proper hearing and separation of powers

[17] The preliminary issues are introduced in the Jiba answering affidavit as follows:

"13. Before dealing with my response to the allegations against me, set out in the founding affidavit, I wish to raise the following as points in limine. First, the appropriateness of bringing an application such as this against the National Director of Public Prosecutions in the office of the NPA. This raised an important constitutional issue involving the interpretation of the NPA Act and the inter-relationship between section 7 of the Admission of Advocates Act. Secondly, the issue of bringing this application, where there is no urgency and none has been alleged in the founding affidavit, without affording me the opportunity to be heard by the applicant. Both issues are interlinked in the circumstances of this matter"

[18] In what I believe to be an elucidation of the statement above, Jiba in paragraphs 18 and 19 of her answering affidavit in these proceedings proceeds as follows:

GSM

"18. Thus, for the court to make an order striking my name from the roll of advocates, it has to make a finding first that I am not a fit and proper person to continue to practice as an advocate. Normally, with regard to practicing advocate at the bar an enquiry is conducted by the applicant with regard to the latter issue. The affected party is normally afforded a right of hearing. Oral evidence is led and witnesses cross-examined. Only if is the applicant is satisfied through the fair enquiry process that the affected party is indeed not fit and proper, would it bring an application to strike the name from the roll of advocates.

19. In this instance applicant has opted to roll the two processes into one through a motion application, based on an affidavit which replete with hearsay and innuendo, which is prejudicial to me, without having afforded the opportunity to be heard. I wish to state that much of the prejudice hearsay and innuendo would have been eliminated if applicant had followed the normal process at least of conducting an investigation and first granting me a hearing to determine the truthfulness of the allegations that are being made against me and if indeed I am not a fit and proper person to practice as an advocate."

[19] To put the gist of Jiba's criticism in perspective, it is necessary to refer to sections 12 and 7 of the National Prosecuting Authority Act and Admission of Advocates Act respectively. Her criticism is further articulated as follows in paragraph 28 of her answering affidavit in these proceedings:

"An order by this Honourable Court that my name be struck off the roll of advocates would with respect, undermine the process for the removal from office of a Deputy National Director provided for by the NPA Act by essentially disqualifying me from holding the position of Deputy National Director and rendering the enquiry moot. This is in circumstances where the question of whether I am fit and proper person to hold the office would already have been determined on the basis of affidavits and, in this case, hearsay evidence. This, with respect, would infringe the doctrine of separation of powers and my right to a fair hearing."

[20] Section 12 of the Act deal with the term of office of National Director and deputy National directors of Public Prosecutions and subsections 5, 6 and 7 of section 12 deal with the removal or suspension thereof. Because of their importance, subsections are repeated hereunder:

"(5) The National Director or a Deputy National Director shall not be suspended or removed from office except in accordance with the provisions of subsections (6), (7) and (8).

(6) (a) The President may provisionally suspend the National Director or a Deputy National Director from his or her office, pending such enquiry into his or her fitness to hold such office as the President deems fit and, subject to the provisions of this subsection, may thereupon remove him or her from office-

(i) for misconduct;

(ii) on account of continued ill-health;

(iii) on account of incapacity to carry out his or her duties of office efficiently; or

(iv) on account thereof that he or she is no longer a fit and proper person to hold the office concerned.

(b) The removal of the National Director or a Deputy National Director, the reason therefor and the representations of the National Director or Deputy National Director (if any) shall be communicated by message to Parliament within 14 days after such removal if Parliament is then in session or, if Parliament is not then in session, within 14 days after the commencement of its next ensuing session.

(c) Parliament shall, within 30 days after the message referred to in paragraph (b) has been tabled in Parliament, or as soon thereafter as is reasonably possible, pass a resolution as to whether or not the restoration to his or her office of the National Director or Deputy National Director so removed, is recommended.

(d) The President shall restore the National Director or Deputy National Director to his or her office if Parliament so resolves.

(e) The National Director or a Deputy National Director provisionally suspended from office shall receive, for the duration of such suspension, no salary or such salary as may be determined by the President.

(7) The President shall also remove the National Director or a Deputy National Director from office if an address from each of the respective Houses of Parliament in the same session praying for such removal on any of the grounds referred to in subsection (6) (a) , is presented to the President."

[21] There is a distinct difference between removal or suspension under section 12 of the Act and removal or suspension under Admission of Advocates Act. Subsection (2) of section 7 of the latter Act was quoted earlier in paragraph 5 of this judgment. Subsection (1) provides as follows:

> "(1) Subject to the provisions of any other law, a court of any division may, upon application, suspend any person from practice as an advocate or order that the name of any person be struck off the roll of advocates -
> (a) in the case of a person who was admitted to practise from the roll as an advocate in terms of sub-section (1) of section three or is deemed to have been so admitted -
> (i) if he has ceased to be a South African citizen; or

> (Section 7(1)(a)(ii) substituted by section 2(a) of Act 60 of 1984)

> (d) if the court is satisfied that he is not a fit and proper person to continue to practise as an advocate; or
> (e) on his own application."

G S M

[22] The process under section 12 of the Act and section 7 of the Admission of Advocates Act, whilst overlapping, the distinction is sharp. In terms of the Act, the National Director or deputy National Director may be removed or suspended as such. That would not necessarily mean that such a person is automatically removed from the roll of advocates. For any such removal from the roll of advocates one has to follow the process envisaged in section 7 of the Admission of Advocates. However, the National Director or deputy National Director who is removed from the roll of advocates cannot continue to be a National Director or deputy National Director of Public Prosecutions because of the provisions of section (9) of the Act which provides:

> "9. (1) Any person to be appointed as National Director, Deputy National Director must-
> (a) possess legal qualifications that would entitle him or her to practice in all courts in the Republic ; and
> (b) be fit and proper person, with the regard to his or her experience, conscientiousness and integrity, to be entrusted with the responsibility of the office concerned.

[23] So, if you cease to be a fit and proper person under section 7 of Admission of Advocates, and you are removed from a roll of advocates, you cannot be entitled to practice in all courts in the Republic as contemplated in paragraph (a) of section 9 (1) of the Act. These processes can sometimes run parallel to each other but any choice of the two would not render the process unfair.

[24] The premature and or separation of powers contention should therefore be seen in the context of the above legislative framework and there can be no merit to the contention. Any suggestion that the proceedings should have been preceded by an inquiry instituted by the President as contemplated in the Act, should also be seen in context. It is worrying that Jiba or her counsel still found it necessary to persist with the argument despite the fact that the President had already put it on record in the matter between Democratic Alliance (DA) and Jiba instituted and recently finalised in the Cape High Court. In that case DA wanted court to suspend Jiba, but the President stated inter alia, as follows in a letter dated 1 September 2015 written on his behalf:

> "...The President was subsequently been apprised of the matter by the Minister and has asked me to draw your attention to the following:

GSM

- That he is of the view that none of the jurisprudential grounds exists which warrant the suspension of advocate Jiba;
- That the process initiated by General Council of the Bar of South Africa ("the GCB") will result in a definitive outcome expressed in a court judgment ruling, as opposed to the hosting of an inquiry which will culminate in a recommendation to the President which will then require further processes to be implemented before a definitive decision;
- That the GCB in its wisdom has not sought suspension of Advocate Jiba in its application, pending the final determination of the matter, whilst this approach is not resolutive on the question of suspension, it indeed gives a particular insight from a professional body charged with the duty of upholding the conduct of Advocates in general;

The President is equally of the view that the judgment of the Supreme Court of Appeal are replete with instances where the Court has expressed its approval with the nature of the proceedings as well as the test to be applied in examining the conduct of legal professionals. It must follow that the investigative acumen and process of the GCB, matched with the judicial process provides a better guarantee for ensuring the constitutional safeguards of all concerned.

In the circumstances, whilst the President remains concerned by the seriousness of the allegations, he cannot accede to your request, at this time. Lastly, the President as Head of the Executive has always resisted the invitation to comment on decisions taken by the NDP where there are either unhelpful or unwise…[13]»

[25] This must have sent a clear message to Jiba, who must have been aware of the President's response as quoted above long before the judgment was handed down on 23 May 2013 by Dolamo J. That being so, persistence with the premature and or separation of power point, in my view, displays unwillingness on the part of Jiba to concede to anything. She is fully aware that the President had pleaded in the Cape High Court that the matter in that court was premature in the light of the present proceedings. Despite this, she too wanted to suggest that the present proceedings are pre-mature for not allowing inquiry to take place as envisaged in section 12 of the Act or GCB for not instituting a disciplinary inquiry before approaching the court directly for removal or suspension contemplated in section 7 of the Admission of Advocates Act.

[13] See Democratic Alliance v President of the Republic of South Africa and Others (17782/15)2016 ZAWCHC66 (23 May 2016) at Para 40

GSM

Persistence in this regard seems to be consistent with Jiba conduct in the handling of cases where she is involved as it would appear later in this judgment.

[26] Coming back to GCB's alleged failure to afford Jiba a fair hearing, it is important to mention that motion proceedings differ from action proceedings or disciplinary proceedings where oral evidence is heard and the opportunity to cross-examine witnesses afforded. With motion proceedings, which are often referred to as application proceedings, evidence is placed before the court in the form of affidavits sworn to by witnesses. The proceedings are commenced by way of a notice of motion accompanied by a founding affidavit setting out facts on which a claim is based, with all the supporting documentation being annexed to the affidavits. Motion proceedings are appropriate when the issue or issues to be resolved is purely a dispute of law and there is no material dispute of fact. One cannot proceed by way of motion proceedings where there is a material dispute of fact. In essence therefore, a party who is sued by way of motion proceedings can only complain if there are material issues which cannot be resolved on affidavits. When that happens, the court is better placed to decide whether there is real dispute of fact that cannot be resolved on affidavits. In the event of a dispute of fact that cannot be resolved on papers, the court may either dismiss the application; refer specific issues for oral evidence or for trial. The risk is on the party who elected to proceed by way of motion proceedings. In my view, neither of this finds application in the present case.

[27] It is not Jiba's case that there is a dispute of fact. The closest to this is that GCB's case is based on hearsay evidence. There is no merit to this. In any event, even if there was, this court is better placed to decide on which evidence to give a probative value.

[28] I am actually unable to understand Jiba's contention of the alleged failure by GCB to afford her proper hearing. For example, in paragraph 12 of her answering affidavit to these proceedings, she states:

> "12 I am advised that applications of this nature are sui generis and that I am required to assist the court in ascertaining the truth. I intend to do so..."

Having said this, Jiba then indicated that in order to properly place her defence before this court, she will at all times refer to various documents, which she had been able to access through her position as a Deputy National Director, stating that she is fully aware that the grounds upon which GCB relies for the relief sought, arise out of her conduct in her capacity as Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions.

[29] Clearly, Jiba cannot rely on failure to be afforded a proper hearing simply because an inquiry was not followed where oral evidence could be led and cross examination allowed. She had everything at her disposal to deal with the allegations against her and no form of prejudice can be claimed to have occurred. For this, the so called points in limine are destined to fail. Before I turn to deal with the complaints raised in respect of each case mentioned in paragraphs 8.2, 8.3 and 8.4 of this judgment, I hereunder give reasons for the order refusing leave to file further answering affidavits.

REASONS FOR THE ORDER REFUSING FOURTH AFFIDAVIT

[30] On 18 August 2015 GCB filed a replying affidavit in these proceedings. Subsequent thereto on 15 September 2015 Jiba filed the fourth affidavit referred to as a supplementary answering affidavit. It is this affidavit which formed the subject of the leave to file additional affidavit. For two reasons, the fourth affidavit was filed and Jiba states the reasons as follows:

> "4. ...First, in order to supplement any response to the founding affidavit of Adv. Idris Jeremy Muller SC ("ADV Muller") deposed to on behalf of the General Council of the Bar ("the GCB") the applicant in these proceedings, in the light of certain information which has come to hand subsequent to the filing of my answering affidavit. Secondly, in support of the notice of application to which this affidavit is attached, for leave to file supplementary answering affidavit."

[31] Effectively, the suggestion is that new information came to light post the filing of the answering and replying affidavits respectively. It is in the interest of the administration of justice that well known and well established general rules regarding the number of sets of proper sequence of affidavits in motion proceedings be ordinarily observed. That is not to say that these general rules must always be lightly applied. Some form of flexibility controlled by the presiding judge exercising his discretion in relation to the facts of the case before him, must also necessarily be permitted. Where an affidavit is tendered in motion proceedings both late and out of its ordinary sequence, the party tendering it is seeking not a right, but an indulgence from the court. He or she must both advance his explanation for why the affidavit it is out of time and satisfy the court that, although the affidavit is late, it should, having regard to all the instances of the case, nevertheless be received. Attempted definition of the ambit of discretion is neither not desirable... It is sufficient for the purposes - to say that on any approach to the problem, he inadequately or otherwise of the explanation for the late tendering of the affidavit will always be an important factor of enquiry[14].

[32] The rule of practice that an applicant must generally speaking, stand or fall by his founding papers, is not one cast in stone but has been bent from time to time, because of the existence of a judicial discretion which permits the filing of further affidavits so as to give effect to a solitary practice and fundamental consideration in the administration of justice, that a matter should be adjudicated upon all the facts relevant to the issues in dispute. Despite the cogency of this rule of practice, it has been frequently stated that it does not operate to preclude the introduction of further affidavit when consideration of fairness and justice to both parties dictate that this should be done. The rule remains subject to the discretionary power of the court and mere fact that the matter sought to be introduced in the new affidavits should properly have been included in the founding affidavit and not in reply, does not negative the existence of that discretionary power[15].

[33] The principle enunciated in the preceding case law, should apply to a respondent who wishes to file further affidavit in response to replying affidavit or new information discovered thereafter. Most importantly, all facts sought to be introduced should be relevant to the issue in dispute. In the present case, relevant facts must speak to the issue whether the first respondent (Jiba) or any of the respondents for that matter, is fit and proper to remain on a roll of advocates. Bearing this in mind, it is important to have regard to the facts which Jiba wanted to introduce in the fourth affidavit.

G SM

[34] What Jiba refers to as "new information", is a letter dated 23 July 2013, marked as Annexure NJIA to her "supplementary affidavit". The essence of the letter is articulated by Jiba as follows:

> "25. As appears from the correspondence it concerns all alleged agreement by NPA to pay through the office of the State Attorney, 75% of the applicant's attorney and client cost of instituting and prosecuting this application. There are also several demands from the applicant's attorneys of record to Mr Matubatuba in the office of the State Attorney to settle the accounts of counsel who are acting on behalf of the GCB in this application.
> 26. As a matter of professional courtesy to the individual counsel involved, the amounts of these accounts referred to in the letter from the applicant's attorney of record dated 30 June 2015, have been blocked out. I also do not attach the copies of these accounts but they can be made available to this Honourable court if necessary. Suffice to state the amounts involved are substantial.
> 27 The content of this correspondence is extremely concerning and I respectfully submit, makes it clear that this application forms part of a direct attempt by certain members in the NPA to remove me for political reasons..."

[35] The removal from a roll of advocates "for political reasons" appears to be Jiba's theme in introducing the letter in question. This appears from the preceding paragraphs of her affidavit in which she states inter alia:

> "7. Adv. Muller was at pains in the founding affidavit expressly to state that notwithstanding the applicant is aware of reports of disputes and political manoeuvring between different factions within and outside the NPA, that this application for the striking off my name from the roll of advocates, is not part of any campaign to remove me from the NPA. I refer the court to paragraph 7.7 of the founding."

[36] 'Political manoeuvring' in the quotation above appears to be borrowed words from paragraph 7.8 of the founding affidavit wherein GCB states:

> "7.8 The GCB is also alive to allegations which have been reported in the media to the effect that some or all of these developments are a manifestation of political manoeuvring by factions or individuals within and outside of the NPA. Beyond what has been reported in the media, the GCB has no knowledge of these allegations or their veracity."

G SM

[37] So, right at the onset, GCB made it known that it was aware of the allegations of in-fighting within the National Prosecuting Authority and GCB continues in its founding papers by clarifying its position as follows:

"7.9 I mention these matters, because this application may be characterised by some as another facet of the developments which appear to be taking place both within and outside the NPA. It is not, and it should not be viewed as, any such thing. As indicated, the application was indeed prompted by a request from the NPA. Having considered the NPA's request then GCB formed the view that, on the evidence available to it, the respondents' conduct obliged it to act in terms of section 7 (2) of the Admission of Advocates Act and bring these facts to this court's attention, so that the court could consider whether one or more of the respondents is a fit and proper person to continue to practice as an advocate as contemplated in section 7 (1) (d) of the Act. It is for this reason that the GCB resolved to prepare this application."

[38] What is referred to as "new information" should have been viewed in this context by Jiba. Properly considered, there was never a need to seek to introduce the letter of 25 July 2015. It was common cause or put differently, it was not in dispute that there was in-fighting within the NPA. The agreement to pay 75 % of GCB's attorney and client costs in instituting and prosecuting the application has no material relevance to the question whether the complaints forming the subject of the application are established and if so, whether the complaints are of such a nature that they make any of the respondents unfit persons to continue to practice or remain on a roll of advocates.

[39] The statement 'this correspondence and the alleged agreement between the NPA and the GCB and or its attorneys of record, further confirm my suspicions that this forms part of a political agenda to remove me from the NPA. I submit that this new information is highly material for the placing of this application by GCB in its proper context', is irrelevant to the factual findings this court has been called upon to pronounce on. The question in the present proceedings is whether any of the complaints made against the respondents, if proved, would make any one of them to cease to be fit and proper persons to remain on a roll of advocates. It is on the basis of this that leave to file further answering affidavit was refused.

[40] However, one could not turn a blind eye on the fact that public funds might have been improperly utilized by paying 75% of GCB's legal costs for having instituted the present proceedings as if it was doing the national prosecuting authority a favour. GCB instituted the present proceedings as is entitled to do so in terms of section 7 of the Admission of Advocates Act. Counsel for GCB was quizzed as to why the agreement and expenditure thereof if any should not be referred to the Audit-General to investigate possible contraventions of Departmental Financial Instruction (DFI) and the provisions of Public Finance Management Act. To this enquiry, the court was assured by Adv. Burger SC on behalf GCB that no cent of public funds was spent or is intended to be spent or recouped by GCB for having instituted the present proceedings based on the alleged agreement with the NPA. Consequently, the intended referral to the Audit-General will not be made. I now turn to deal with the complaints raised as the basis for the present proceedings.

BOOYSEN CASE AND COMPLAINTS AGAINST JIBA IN CONNECTION THERETO

[41] '...Court should discourage preliminary litigation that appears to have no purpose other than to circumvent the application of section 35(5) of the Constitution. Allowing such litigation will often place prosecutor between a rock and a hard place. They must, on the one hand, resist preliminary challenges to investigations and to the institution of proceedings against accused persons; on the other hand, they are simultaneously obliged to ensure that prompt commencement of trials. Generally disallowing such litigation would ensure that the trial court deciding the pertinent issues is best placed to do, and would ensure that trials start sooner rather than later. There can be no absolute rule in this regard; however. The courts' doors should never be completely closed to litigants... But in ordinary course of events, and where the purpose of the litigation appears merely to be avoidance of the application of section 35(5) or the delay of criminal proceedings, all courts should not entertain it. The trial court would then step in and consider together the pertinent interest of all concerned. If that approach is generally followed the state would be sufficiently constrained from acting unlawfully by the application of section 35(5) and by the possibility of civil and criminal liability'[16].

[42] The office of the National Director of Public Prosecutions is closely related to the functions of the judiciary broadly to achieve justice and is located at the core of delivering criminal justice[17]. Courts are not overly eager to limit or interfere with the legitimate exercise of prosecuting authority. However, a prosecuting authority's discretion is not immune from the scrutiny of a court which can intervene where such discretion is improperly exercised[18].

[43] Courts have on rare occasions expressed their disapproval of the fact that a prosecution was instituted[19]. Courts do not interfere with the prosecuting authority's bona fide exercise of its discretion because prosecuting authority has the power to decide to prosecute and, once the accused is on trial, he or she will have the fullest opportunity to put his defence to the court, cross-examine prosecution witnesses and to reply on his right not to be convicted unless the prosecution can prove his guilt beyond reasonable based on admissible evidence and prevented in terms of a regular procedure[20]. Courts can intervene where mala fide is alleged, or where it is alleged that the prosecuting authority never applied its mind to the matter or acted from ulterior motive [21]. (My emphasis).

[44] The complaints against Jiba, in her capacity as the then Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions in Booysen case, arose from the exercise of her statutory power to authorise the charging of Major-General Booysen (Booysen) with contravention of section 2(1) (e) and (f) of the Prevention of Organised Crimes Act no.121 of 1998 ("POCA"). A person shall only be charged with committing an offence contemplated in subsection (1) of section 2 POCA if prosecution thereof is authorised in writing by the National Director[22]. Any person who whilst managing or employed by or associated with any enterprise, conducts or participates in the conduct, directly or indirectly, of such enterprise's affairs through a pattern of racketeering activity, manages the operation or activities of an enterprise and who knows or ought reasonably to have known that any person, whilst employed by or associated with that enterprise, conducts or participated in the conduct, directly or indirectly, of such enterprise affairs through a pattern of racketeering activities shall be guilty of an offence[23].

[45] On 18 August 2012 Jiba, Acting as a National Director of Public Prosecutions, issued written authorisation to have Booysen charged with contraventions of section 2(1) (e) and (f) referred to in paragraph 44 above. Booysen successfully challenged the authorisation in Kwa-Zulu Natal Division before Govern J. In his replying affidavit, before Govern J, Booysen stated that Jiba was: "mendacious" when she asserts in paragraph 21 of the answering affidavit that she considered the statements together with the other information in the 'docket' before making the impugned decisions. She could not have considered the statements referred to in her answering affidavit. She is invited to explain how she could have taken into account information on oath that objectively did not exist at the time of taking the decision".

[46] What is quoted above is the gist of the complaint against Jiba in the handling of Booysen case. In its founding papers, GCB articulates the conduct complained of as follows:

> "On the evidence of her conduct in the Booysen matter as (with respect, correctly) described by Govern J in this judgment, Jiba signally failed to comply with the NPA's Code of Conduct. More pertinent to this application, the statements made by Jiba under oath is seeking to justify her decision to issue the POCA authorisations, were evidently untruthful. As such her conduct indicates that she is not a fit and proper person to practice as an advocate."

[47] These averments seem to be based on the finding by Govern J which inter alia, included:

> "[30] This leaves the four annexures to the answering affidavit mentioned above. These are the only documents not contained in the dockets. [Jiba] says that they are all statements made under oath. [Jiba] says in addition that they implicate Mr Booysen in one or more of the offences in question".

[48] Then in paragraphs 31 and 34 of his judgment, Govern J made adverse remarks against Jiba as follows:

> "[31] The submissions of Mr Booysen in his replying affidavit can be summarised as follows: two of the annexures are sworn statements made under the name of one Colonel Alyer. They are annexures NJ2 and NJ4 respectively. Mr Booysen described these statements which concern 'office politics and submit that they in no way implicate him in any of the offences with which he has been charged. The second of these in addition to not implicating him in any of the offences in question, was deposed to on 31 August 2012, some two weeks after the first impugned decision was taken. The documents referred to as a statement by Mr Danikas annexure NJ3 is not a sworn statement. It is not even signed by anyone. It is not dated. Even if it could be attributed to the named person and even if it was sworn statement as claimed by the NDPP, the contents do not cover the period clearly in the indictment except for one event which does not relate to Mr Booysen…

G Sm

[34] Mr Booyen was clearly within his rights to deal with in reply with the inaccurate assertions by the NDPP in her answering affidavit and to issue the challenge and invitation in question. He had not seen the statements until they were annexed to the answering affidavit. As regards the inaccuracies, the NDPP is after all an officer of the court, she must be taken to know how important it is to ensure that her affidavit is entirely accurate. If is shown to be inaccurate and thus misleading to the court, she must also know that it is important to explain and if appropriate correct any inaccuracies. Despite this, the invitation of Mr Booysen was not taken by the NDPP by way of a request or application to deliver further affidavit. In response to Mr Booysen's assertion mendacity on her part, there is deafening silence. In such circumstances the court is entitled to draw an inference adverse to the NDPP. The inference in this case need go no further than that, on her own version, the NDPP did not have before her annexures 4 at the time. In addition it is clear that annexure NJ3 is not a sworn statement. Most significantly the inference must be drawn that none of the information on which she says she relied linked Mr Booysen to the offence in question..."

[49] Before dealing with information placed before Jiba for written authorisation in terms of section 2(1) of POCA, it is important to reflect whether the invitation by Booysen and the adverse remarks by Govern J were based on correct evaluation and understanding of Jiba's answering affidavit. The challenge or invitation by Booysen to Jiba, was contained in the replying affidavit and at the risk of prolonging this judgment, I repeat the contents thereof in part:

> "...She is invited to explain how she could have taken into account information on oath that objectively did not exist at the time of taking the decision."

[50] The invitation was made after having made allegations of 'mendacity' in the same paragraph with reference to paragraph 21 of Jiba's answering affidavit in Booyesen matter and because of the relevance thereto, paragraphs 16.6, 16.7 and 17 of Jiba's answering affidavit in that case are repeated hereunder:

> "16.6 The information under oath which was placed before me also indicated that the applicant knew or ought to have known that his subordinates were killing suspects as aforesaid instead of arresting them.
> 16.7 The information further revealed that unlawful activities of killing suspects and/or civilians were, in certain instances motivated by the Applicant's and members of his Unit's desire to enrich themselves by means of State monetary award and/or certificates for excellent performance. In this regard, I annex a copy of an example of such a monetary award claim document as "NJ1" in which inter alia, the Applicant is recommended for such an award resulting from the death of suspects.

17. Particular reference is made in this regard to the statement made by Colonel Rajendran Sanjeevi, Mr Aris Danikas and Mr Ndlondlo from which it is apparent that the applicant is well aware of the information that the Respondents have in their possession relating to the murder of at least 28 people and the monetary and non-monetary awards claimed by him (the Applicant) for the instrumental part that he played in these crimes. Additionally, Mr Danikas has revealed some of the information that he has provided to the Respondents and to the press and even posted video footage thereof on You-Tube. I annex copies of these statements as NJ2, NJ3, NJ4 and NJ5, respectively."

[51] Having regard to what is quoted above, it does not seem the statement: "Jiba says that they are all statements made under oath", is correct. Nowhere in Jiba's answering affidavit did she make such a statement, neither did she say any of annexures, NJ2, NJ3, NJ4, and NJ5 were under oath. 'Under oath' statements or information were made only in paragraphs 16 and 16.6 of the answering affidavit without suggesting that all of the annexures referred to in paragraph 17 of the answering affidavit in Booysen matter were made under oath. Therefore the statement: 'The documents referred to as a statement by Mr Danikas, annexure NJ3, is not a sworn statement', as stated in paragraph 31 of Govern J's judgment, has to be seen in context insofar as it was understood that Jiba averred that NJ3 was a sworn statement. The truth is, she never said NJ3 was a sworn statement and it could not reasonably have been so inferred particularly reading in the context of paragraph 16.7 of her answering affidavit in Booysen case quoted in paragraph 50 above.

[52] The fact that Jiba did not avail herself to the invitation to deal with the allegation of being "mendacious", meaning "not telling the truth", should also be seen in context. The allegation was made in the replying affidavit. This too, Govern J was mindful of. For the purpose of these proceedings, the criticism by Govern J should be seen in the context of what Jiba now has to say in these proceedings.

[53] When it was discovered that Booysen has raised certain issues in his replying affidavit, the prosecution team felt that it needed to respond thereto. On 14 August 2013 a meeting of the prosecution team was held. Subsequent to the meeting, a memorandum was prepared and forwarded to the defence team led by Hodes SC, in terms of which it was expected that supplementary affidavit would be filed to explain the criticism against Jiba with regards to the annexures. On 19 August 2013 an email by Adv Mosing of NPA was sent to Adv Chauke Director of Public Prosecutions Johannesburg, enquiring what progress had been made with regard to filing of further affidavit to deal with Booysen's allegations. Subsequently, Jiba was advised by Adv. Mosing that counsel had indicated that no further actions were necessary.

[54] Based on the explanation above, it is clear that Jiba did not ignore the serious allegations of "mendacious" made by Booysen. By seeking to file further affidavit to explain the annexures after the replying affidavit was filed, is a clear indication that she was mindful of the need 'to explain and correct any inaccuracies' created by Booysen in his replying affidavit. Therefore the statement: 'Despite this, the invitation by Mr Booysen was not taken up by the NDPP by way of a request or application to deliver a further affidavit, in response to Mr Booysen's ascertain of mendacity on her part, there is a deafening silence', made by Govern J in paragraph 34 of his judgment ought to be seen in the context of what is explained in paragraph 53 above.

[55] Similarly, the statement that 'as regards the inaccuracies, the NDPP referring to Jiba), is after all an officer of the court, she must be taken to know how important it is to ensure that her affidavit is entirely accurate…', should be seen in the context of what is stated in paragraph 53, but even most importantly, in the context of her explanation now offered in the present proceedings.

[56] On 17 August 2012 Jiba approved the application for authorisation in terms of section 2(4) of POCA for contravention by Booysen of section 2(1)(e) and (f) of POCA. The provisions of section 2(1) (e) and (f) were referred to in paragraph 44 of this judgment. The information and advice that was placed before Jiba for the purpose of granting or refusing authorisation was prepared and compiled by Adv. Raymond K Mthenjwa and Adv. Gladstone Sello Maema, both deputy directors of public prosecutions, Adv Anthony Mosing, a senior deputy director of public prosecutions and the head of the special Projects Division, who acted as the liaison between Jiba and the prosecuting team.

[57] At the time Jiba deposed to the answering affidavit in Booysen's matter, the facts and the evidence against Booysen had been presented to her on many occasions and she was acquainted with the case against Booysen. In her affidavit during proceedings before Govern J she referred to annexure NJ5, being the statement of Mr Ndlodlo and Annexure 6 being the statement of Booysen. These annexures apparently did not form part of the papers before Govern J and Jiba was not aware why that was not done. I revert to the essence of annexures NJ5 and NJ6 later when dealing with whether Jiba had information implicating Booysen when she issued the authorisation on 17 August 2012. NJ3 was the statement of Ari Danikas, which was obtained round about 18 April 2012 by General Mabula who led the Hawks investigation team against Booysen.. The drafted statement of Danikas was handed over to the prosecution team during June 2012 and formed part of the information she considered in authorising the prosecution of Booysen. Danikas was a police reservist in the Durban Organised Crime Unit based in Carto Manor and was at that time in Greece. He had security concerns and was unwilling to come on his own to South Africa. On or before 11 July 2012 Adv Maema asked General Mabula to leave the statement unsigned so that the information process outlined in the mutual legal assistance legislation, that is, sections 2 and 3 of International Cooperation in Criminal Matters Act 75 of 1996 be followed to formalise the statement, although the witness was willing to have it signed at the South African embassy. The prosecution was confident that the statement would ultimately be signed through the process outlined as contemplated in Act 75 of 1996, but it formed the basis of the briefings to be considered by her in issuing the authorisation. However, the process of signing the statement could not be finalised since the incumbent (Mr Mxolise Ntasana) at the time of deposing to the answering affidavit in the present proceedings, had instructed to halt the process.

[58] Whilst the statement in question did not relate to the specific incident covered in the indictment, it was however intended to corroborate the evidence in possession of the prosecution team that Booysen was involved in the various activities giving rise to the charges against him of similar facts evidence which is admissible in racketeering prosecutions.

[59] An explanation stated above is offered in these proceedings to set the record straight. Therefore the statement, 'the document referred to as a statement by Mr Danikas annexure NJ3... is not even signed by anyone. It is not dated. Even if it can be attributed to the named person and even if it was sworn statement as claimed by the NDPP the contents do not cover the period dealt with in the indictment except for one event which does not relate to Mr Booysen', as stated by Govern J ought to be seen in the context of the explanation given by Jiba in these proceedings and the fact that Jiba never said annexure NJ3 was a sworn statement as stated earlier in this judgment. I need to caution. I should not be understood as seeking to review or upset Govern J's judgment. At the time, he did not have Jiba's responses as this court now has.

[60] Regarding the question how Jiba could have taken into account information on oath that objectively did not exist at the time the authorisation was made, the explanation by Jiba in these proceedings is as follows:

> "217. There were also two statements by Colonel Alger (reference to as Annexure NJ2 and NJ4). One was taken on 3 August 2012 setting out Booysen's managerial responsibilities, participation and interferences in the activities of a section of Durban Organised Crime Unit. The statement was obtained before 17 August 2012, being the date on which the authorities were granted by me. A second statement of Colonel Alger was taken on 31 August 2012 following a consultation with the prosecution team during early July 2012. However the content of the statement was information already relayed to the prosecution team by Colonel Alger at the consultation."

[61] Therefore the statement: 'The second of these in addition to not implicating him in any of the offences in question, was deposed to on 31 April 2012, some two weeks after the first impugned decision was taken', in paragraph 31 of Govern J's judgment, inasmuch as GCB seeks to rely on it for the complaint levelled against Jiba, should be considered in the light of explanation quoted in paragraph 60 above. I am unable to find any conduct on the part of Jiba that justifies an application contemplated in section 7 of the Admission of Advocates Act.

[62] As far as the allegation of lack of information implicating Booysen is concerned, an understanding of the applicable legislature framework, what was placed before Jiba and the core function of the prosecuting authority is necessary. The court may hear evidence, including evidence with regard to hearsay, similar facts or previous convictions relating to offences contemplated in subsection (2) of section 2 of the Act notwithstanding that such evidence might otherwise be inadmissible, provided that such evidence would not render a trial unfair[24]. This should be seen in the context of the Preamble under POCA which inter alia, reads:

> "AND BEARING IN MIND that it is usually very difficult to prove the direct involvement of organised crime leaders in particular case, because they do not perform the actual criminal activities themselves, it is necessary to criminalise the management of and related conduct in connection with enterprises which are involved in the pattern of racketeering activity.
> AND WHEREBY THE SOUTH AFRICAN common law and statutory law fail to deal effectively with organised crimes ... criminal gang activities, and also fail to keep pace with international measures aimed at dealing effectively with organised crime ... and criminal gang activities.
> AND WHEREAS pervasive presence of criminal gangs in many communities is harmful to well-being of these communities, it is necessary to criminalise participation in or promotion of criminal activities."

[63] In my view the provisions of section 2(1) (e) and (f) referred to in paragraph 44 of this judgment are meant for the criminalisation of such activities. The point I am making is this: Courts for the purpose of an exercise of its discretion in terms of section 2(2) referred to in paragraph [62] of this judgment, may rely on hearsay evidence, information and or documentation collected by the police and presented to it by the prosecution. If that is so, and courts are entitled to have regard to hearsay evidence during trial, so too should the National Director of Public Prosecutions (Jiba in Booysen's case) be entitled to rely on hearsay and similar facts evidence for the purpose of authorisation as contemplated in subsection (4) of section 2 of POCA. Otherwise, pervasive presence of criminal gangs will continue to rule with impunity and fear in many of our communities and resultantly pose harm to the well-being of many communities.

[64] As I said, one needs to be careful not to be understood as upsetting Govern J's judgment for having reviewed Jiba's decision to prosecute Booysen. That is not an issue before this court. The issue however is whether in granting authorisation in terms of section 2(4), Jiba was mala fide or had ulterior motive, in which event, the requirements of "fit and proper person" to remain on a roll of Advocates becomes relevant. For this purpose, further provisions of POCA are necessary to consider, also taking into account offences under section 2(1) (e) and (f).

[24] See section 2 (2) of POCA

G SM

[65] 'Pattern of racketeering activity' means 'the planned, on-going, continues or repeated participation or involvement in any offence referred to in Schedule 1 and included at least two offences referred to in Schedule 1'. On the other hand, "enterprise" 'includes any individual partnership, corporation, association or other juristic person or legal entity, and any union or group of individuals associated in fact'[25].

[66] The essence of the information before Jiba, can be summed up as follows: In addition to what is stated in paragraphs 56, 57 and 60 of this judgment, Booysen was the head of Carto Manor Organised Crime Unit in the South African Police Services. Members of the police in his unit and under his command had allegedly committed crimes of serious nature including murders against suspects who were sometimes framed in the commission of offences. Booysen knew, approved and or ought to have known of the commission of these offences. In reward to the members' unlawful activities, Booysen motivated for incentive of R10 000.00 for each of the 26 members of the Carto Manor Crime Unit including Booysen himself. Booysen was also commended for outstanding services rendered in that he 'was part of a team, who through their commitment and dedication, arrested several crime and dangerous suspects for the murder of a police officer'.

[67] I cannot find any mala fides and or ulterior motive in the authorisation by Jiba as contemplated in POCA. POCA is like a cry out loud for declaration of war against serious, continuous and organised crimes. That needs specialised investigation and prosecution. Most importantly, POCA requires the freedom and space to be given to the members of the prosecuting authority in the exercise of their legislative power to investigate through members of their investigating Directorate and under the watchful eye of a special director so appointed to prosecute without fear, favour and prejudice those implicated in the commission of serious crimes. Anything short of this, or anything which tends to impede on this constitutional and legislative imperative, for example, hauling Jiba to the proceedings in terms of Section 7 of the Admission of Advocates Act, ought to be based on very cogent, serious and exceptional circumstances.

[68] You do not want members of the prosecution authority to unduly watch their backs for fear of being dismissed or removed from the roll of advocates every time when they make mistakes in prosecuting and presenting cases in court, or every time when an application for authorisation is made in terms of section 2(4) of POCA. An overriding factor for them for consideration should be to adhere to the rule of law and the Constitution. It suffices for now to conclude on Booysen matter by stating that no case has been made for removal or suspension from the roll of advocates. I now turn to deal with the other matter and basis of complaints thereto against Jiba.

[25] See definition under Section 1 of POCA

GSM

SPY TAPES CASE

[69] The listening of telephone conversation recorded on tapes between Bulelani Nqcuka, the then National Director of Public Prosecutions and Mr McCarthy, the then Director of Public Persecutions for Durban and withdrawal on 1 April 2009 of several of criminal charges against Mr Jacob Zuma, (currently the President of the Republic of South Africa), became to be known in South Africa as a "Spy tape case." It was a case instituted by Democratic Alliance Party against the National Prosecuting Authority in terms of which the latter's decision to withdraw several charges against Mr Zuma was challenged. It is the handling of that case by Jiba in her capacity as the then Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions which forms the basis of the application and dispute in these proceedings. The case in question is also referred to in these proceedings as a "Spy tapes case."

[71] On 6 April 2009, the then acting National Director of Public Prosecutions, Adv. Mokotedi Mpshe, after having listened to the conversation aforesaid recorded on tape publicly announced the withdrawal of corruption and other several related charges against Mr Zuma.

[72] During April 2009 and subsequent to the withdrawal of the charges, the Democratic Alliance (DA), a registered political party and official opposition in South African national parliament instituted review proceedings in the North Gauteng High Court for an order reviewing, correcting and setting aside the decision to discontinue the prosecution against Mr Zuma and declaring the decision to be inconsistent with the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa. DA further required Mr Zuma and NPA to deliver to the registrar of the High Court, in terms of rule 53(1) of the Uniform Rules, the record on which the impugned decision was based, which included representations made by Mr Zuma for the withdrawal of the charges. The prosecuting authority, as the decision maker refused to deliver the record contending that the record contained the said representations which had been made on confidential and without prejudice basis. It was further pointed out that Mr Zuma had declined to waive the conditions under which he had submitted his representations. Lastly, it was contended that the decision by the national prosecuting authority to discontinue a prosecution was not reviewable.

[73] In terms of Rule 53 (1) of the Uniform Rules,

> "...all proceedings to bring under review the decision or proceedings of any inferior court and of any tribunal, board or officer performing judicial, quasi-judicial or administrative functions, shall be by way of notice of motion directed and delivered by the party seeking to review such decision or proceedings to the magistrate, presiding officer or chairman of the court, tribunal or board or to the officer, as the case may be, and to all other parties affected-
> (a) Calling upon such person to show cause why such decision or proceedings should not be reviewed; and corrected or set aside and
> (b) Calling upon the magistrate, presiding officer, chairperson or officer, as the case may be, to despatch within fifteen days after receipt of the notice of motion to the registrar the record of such proceedings sought to be corrected or set aside, together with such reasons as he or she is by law required or desires to give or make, and to notify the applicant that he has done so."

[74] Jiba as acting National Director of Public Prosecutions at the time or her predecessor failed to despatch the record of the decision. This led to an application to compel in the high court Pretoria before Ranchod J. DA failed in its application to compel. However, on 20 March 2012 the SCA on appeal by DA, made an order of relevance, as follows:

> "1.3 In the Rule 6(11) application, the first respondent (referring to NDPP) is directed to produce and lodge with the Registrar of this court the record of the decision. Such record shall exclude the written representations made on behalf of the third respondent (referring to Mr Zuma) and any consequence memorandum or report prepared in response thereto oral representations if the production thereof would breach any confidentiality attaching to representations (the reduced record). The record shall consist of the documents and materials relevance to the review, including the documents when making the decision and any documents informing such decision."(My emphasis).

GSM

[75] The order was not complied with. Instead, on 12 April 2012 the state attorney on behalf of NPA headed by Jiba at the time wrote to DA's attorneys two days after the expiry of the 14 days set by the SCA and indicated that they were in the process of preparing copies of the reduced record as indicated in the order of the SCA, that a list of documents was supplied, which it was alleged, constituted the reduced record and that the list was not in breach of the confidentiality. Then in paragraphs 4 and 5 of the letter, it was recorded:

> "4. Other material considered by the Acting NDPP at the time is subject to the confidentiality obligation and therefore cannot be discovered, unless it may transpire that Mr Zuma's team may at a later stage be willing to consent to a relaxation of the confidentiality in respect of particular documents or particular contents, in which event we will advise you accordingly.
> 5. There are in addition certain tape recordings which are in the process of being transcribed, but that process has not been completed as yet, and will take some additional time. On completion thereof, we are obliged to give an opportunity to Mr Zuma's legal team to consider whether there is any objection to disclosure of such transcripts. On completion of that process, if there is no objection to disclosure, they will be made available as a supplement to the record."

[76] During May 2012 the State Attorney supplied certain documents to DA's attorneys. On 9 May 2012 State Attorney then wrote again to DA's attorneys and informed them that Mr Zuma's legal representatives required a period of two to three weeks to consider the tape transcripts, but that they were not consenting to the release thereof pending further consultation with their client.

[77] The delay in not fully complying with the order quoted in paragraph 74 above led to DA approaching this court for an order, inter alia, directing that the record be produced and lodged with the Registrar of this court in terms of the SCA order which should include a copy of electronic recording and a transcript thereof as referred to by the Acting NDPP in the announcement of his decision of 6 April 2009, internal memoranda, reports, minutes of meetings dealing with the contents of the recording and or transcripts itself, insofar as these documents do not directly refer to written or oral representations. In addition, the DA sought an order that Jiba be held in contempt of the order of the SCA referred to in paragraph 74 above.

GSM

[78] The application was heard before Mathopo J who made an order in favour of the DA except for the contempt of the court relief. Mr Zuma appealed to SCA against Mathopo J's order. The latter's order inter alia, read:

> "1. The First Respondent is directed to comply with the order of the Supreme Court of appeal in case no: 268/2011 dated 20 March 2012 ("the SCA order"), within five days of the date of this order.
> 2. The record to be produced and lodged by the First Respondent with the Registrar of this court, in terms of the SCA order, shall include a copy of the electronic recordings and a transcript thereof referred to by the first respondent in the announcement of the first respondent's decision of 6 April 2009 as well as any internal memorandum, reports or minutes of meetings dealing with and or transcript itself, insofar as the SCA documents do not serve to breach the confidentiality of the thereof of respondents' written or oral representations."

[79] On appeal to the SCA, its order of 20 March 2012 and that of Mathopo J were varied by additions as follows:

> "1. ...
> 2. ...
> 3. With regard to memoranda, minutes and notes of meetings, referred to by the first respondent in paragraph 26 of her answering affidavit (the internal documentation):
> 3.1 Within five days of this order, the first respondent shall cause to be delivered to the Honourable Mr Justice NV Hurt (Justice Hurt) copies of the internal documentation;
> 3.2 On the copy of each document forming part of the internal documentation, Justice Hurt shall mark or order that part of the document which he considers the reveal the contents of third respondent's written or oral representations(the representations) to first respondent;
> 3.3 The exercise referred to in paragraph 3.2 above shall be performed in accordance with any directives with any directives which the Honourable Justice Hurt may prescribe in order to fulfil his mandate;
> 3.4 The ruling of Justice Hurt shall be final and binding on the parties; and
> 3.5 Should Justice Hurt, for whatever reason, be unable to commence or complete the exercise referred to in this paragraph, the applicant and the third respondent shall attempt to reach agreement on another independent and impartial person to replace him and, if no agreement can be reached within five days of Justice Hurt becoming unavailable, then the chairperson of the General Council of the Bar of South Africa shall be requested to appoint such."

[80] Additions to the order were apparently initiated by the parties. It is the conduct of Jiba complained of in not complying with the order of 20 March 2012 and adverse remarks made by the Supreme Court of Appeal that GCB approached this court seeking the order to remove Jiba from a roll of Advocates. GCB having referred to specific paragraphs in the SCA's judgment, to which I refer later in this judgment, concluded in paragraph 17 of its founding affidavit as follows:

"17. In my submissions these observations by the SCA were, with respect, warranted and Jiba's conduct in the Zuma matter falls well short of the conduct required of an advocate of this Honourable Court and as contained in the Code of Conduct for members of the NPA. She did not assist the court at arriving at a just verdict, and she did not perform her duties as Acting NDPP fearlessly and vigorously in accordance with the highest standard of the legal profession; as the Code of Conduct requires. Moreover, the answering affidavit deposed to by her, and the attitude she evinced towards the High Court and the SCA, was less than objective, honest and sincere."

[81] Jiba in her answering affidavit to these proceedings correctly in my view articulated the essence of the complaints attributable to her in the Spy Tapes case as follows:

"241. The complaints against me in relation to the Democratic Alliance matter are as follows:

241.1 That I adopted a supine attitude to the SCA's directive;

241.2 That in my answering affidavit (in the contempt application) I did not adopt a position to the confidentially of the tapes or the transcripts but "resorted to a metaphorically shrugging of the shoulders"

241.3 That the SCA referred to my approach in the answering affidavit, in not taking a stance on the confidentiality of the material sought, as disingenuous;

241.4 That I did not take an independent view about confidentiality in the face of the order of the SCA, and that this conduct is not worthy of the office of the NDPP; 241.5 That I did not assist the court at arriving at a just verdict, and my attitude was less than objective".

GSM

[82] Very often when adverse remarks are made in legal proceedings, the person against whom the remarks are made is not given the opportunity to state his or her case to the impeding adverse remarks. It is for this reason that courts do not easily make adverse remarks. This is one of those cases. However, as I deal with each of the complaints levelled against Jiba in the "Spy Tapes case", I will also refer to her responses thereto and this will happen unfortunately at the risk of prolonging this judgment but, it is necessary to do so. Courts are of course willing to reconsider adverse remarks afresh given the responses by the person against whom they were made.

Supine attitude

[83] "Supine" is an English word which according to South African Concise Oxford Dictionary means "lying face upwards- with the palm of the hand upwards"- "failing to act as a result of moral weakness or indolence"- n. Latin verbal noun "used only in the accusative and ablative case, especially to denote purpose."

[84] The context in which Navsa ADP (as he then was) used the word might give relevance to the usage of words "supine attitude." During May 2012, DA's attorneys having received certain documents which did not include transcripts of tape recordings which were used as the basis of the withdrawal of the charges against Mr Zuma. At the end of June 2012 DA having not been satisfied with the documents provided and the response to the outstanding information from Jiba, wrote to the State Attorney and recorded:

"5. A copy of the transcript of the recordings ('the transcript') has not been furnished. The transcript itself and any consequent memorandum or report prepared in response thereto, are not covered by the limitation to the production of the record as per the order of the SCA for the following reasons:

5.1 Firstly, the recordings and/or the transcript could not possibly have been given in confidence to the first respondent because he quoted extensively from these recordings when announcing his decision to discontinue the prosecution of the Third Respondent on 6 April 2009.

5.2 Secondly, the limitation in the SCA order only relates to 'the written representations made on behalf of the Third Respondent and any consequent memorandum or report prepared in response thereto or oral representations if the production thereof would breach any confidentiality attaching to the representations (the reduced record). The recordings and/or the transcript are neither written, nor oral representation nor memorandum or report prepared in response thereto.

5.3 Thirdly, the limitation in the SCA order does not cover memoranda or reports prepared in response to oral representations but merely in response to the written representations.

5.4 Fourthly, to the extent that internal NPA memoranda, report or minutes of meetings deal with the contents of the recordings and/or the transcript itself, as opposed to Third respondent's written or oral representations in respect thereof, they are not covered by the limitation in the SCA's order and should be produced. In other words in the internal debate regarding the effect of what is revealed in the recordings on the decision on whether or not to discontinue the prosecution, is not covered by the limitation to the extent that such debate does not refer to the representations themselves.

6. It is inconceivable there are no internal NPA memoranda reports or minutes of meeting dealing with the contents of the recordings and/or the transcript itself. We accordingly call on you to produce these documents, as well as the recordings and the transcripts themselves forthwith, failing which our client will take all the necessary steps to compel compliance with the order of the SCA. Naturally, costs will be sought against your client as well."

[85] Then in its judgment handed down on 20 August 2014, the SCA stated:

"[15] The exhortation in the last paragraph of the letter, set out at the end of the preceding paragraph yielded no results. It is common cause that during telephone discussions in July 2012 between specific State Attorney and DA's legal representative, the former had indicated that the blame for the delay was attributable to Mr Zuma's attorneys. The NDPP itself adopted a supine attitude."

[86] Jiba in dealing with this criticism has now in these proceedings responded as follows:

G Sm

"242. As the applicant points out, the Democratic Alliance matter arose from a decision of the then national Director of Public Prosecutions, Mr Mokotedi Mpshe ("Mr Mpshe"), to discontinue the criminal prosecution of President Zuma. The applicant's complaint goes to my response to the directive of the SCA of 20 March 2012. More particularly the applicant's complaint goes to my interpretation of the SCA's directive. I point out that at all times during the Democratic Alliance matter I was again represented by a team of experienced counsel, namely advocates P Kennedy SC and NH Maenetje (whom I am advised has subsequently taken silk) ("the Kennedy team").

243. The SCA directive is set out in paragraph 16.2 of the founding affidavit. As appears from the directive the record of decision (of the former National Director of Public Prosecutions) which I was required to produce, was to "exclude the written representations made on behalf of Mr Zuma and any consequent memorandum or report prepared in response thereto, or oral representations, if the production thereof would breach any confidentiality attaching to the representations".

244. As a result of the tape recordings which were in the process of being transcribed, the directive was not complied with within the stipulated 14 days. As the bulk of the representations, which were to be excluded from the reduced record, concerned the tape recordings, I was concerned that the content of these could potentially breach confidentiality relating to the representations. For that reason, and in order not to fall foul of the SCA directive, the decision was taken, on the advice of senior counsel representing me, to obtain the input of Mr Zuma's legal representatives as to whether there was any objection to the disclosure of the transcript of the tape recordings.

245. The applicant in the Democratic Alliance matter, the Democratic Alliance ("the DA") then brought an application to compel me to produce the record and for an order that I be held in contempt of court, as appears from the decision of Mathopo J, before whom the application was argued, a copy of which is attached hereto, marked "NJ21", the Democratic Alliance matter concerns the interpretation of the SCA's directive.

246. As appears further from paragraph 13 of the decision of Mathopo J, I abided the decision of the Court as regards the production of the transcripts. Although the Judge held that the proper construction of the SCA order confidentiality did not extend to the transcript (at paragraph 27), the court agreed that affording Mr Zuma an opportunity to raise his concerns was in line with the SCA order, and I was therefore not found to be in contempt of court (at paragraph 50).

G SM

247. I draw to this Honourable Court's attention that at paragraph 32 of decision of Mathopo J, the learned Judge criticised me for adopting a neutral position with regard to the transcripts.

248. On appeal, (at the instance of Mr Zuma) the SCA similarly criticised me for adopting what is referred to as 'a supine attitude" to its directive. Indeed this is the basis of the applicant's complaint against me in this application. ...

249. I accept that the SCA has criticised me for not taking an "independent view" about confidentiality. I respectfully submit that this was a result of adopting a cautious approach, in order to ensure that I did not unwittingly infringe on the rights of either of the parties in the Democratic Alliance matter. I respectfully submit that this does not amount to conduct that this is less than objective, honest and sincere and does not render me not 'fit and proper to practice as an advocate."

[87] Indeed the interpretation of the order of the SCA, the relevant part of which is quoted in paragraph 74 of this judgment, did not appear to have been an easy exercise. Its correct interpretation appears to have prompted the DA to widen and clarify it, so did Mathopo J and the SCA as per Navsa ADP. I say so for the following reasons:

87.1 DA in its application before Mathopo J sought relief in addition, as paraphrased in paragraph 77 supra and by so doing sought to widen and clarify SCA 's directive of 20 March 2012.

87.2 Mathopo J also had to deal with DA's application for contempt of court, and in finding that no case has been made for contempt of court against Jiba, in paragraph 50 of his judgment, stated:

"[50] The submissions advanced on behalf of the first respondent is that the delay if any, was occasioned by the third respondent's legal representative in considering whether to object to the transcript or not. Thus no fault could be attributed to the State attorney or first respondent because in terms of the SCA's order, the first respondent was obliged to afford the third respondent, an opportunity to indicate whether he has any objection or not. I agree with first respondent that affording the third respondent an opportunity to raise his concerns was in line with the SCA's order. This conduct in my view cannot be regarded as deliberate or wilful non-compliance with the order. It follows that the contempt of court application must be dismissed". (My emphasis).

G S M

[88] The finding by Mathopo J as indicated above seems to be in line with what was stated in the Democratic Alliance v The Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions and Others[25] wherein it was said:

> "[33] There was a debate before us about what the value would be to the reviewing court of a reduced record, namely, a record without Mr Zuma's representations. Concern was also expressed on behalf of Mr Zuma that there might be material in the record of decision which might adversely affect his rights and to which he might rightly object. The concern was met by an undertaking on behalf of the first respondent that, in the event of this court altering the decision of the court below, so as to order the production of the record of the decision sought to be reviewed, the NDPP 's office would inform Mr Zuma of its contents. Questions involving the extent of the record of the decision and its value to the court hearing the review application are speculative and premature. In the event of the order compelling production of record, the office of NDPP will be obliged to make available whatever was before Mr Mpshe when he made the decision to discontinue the prosecution. It will then fall to the reviewing court to assess its value in answering the questions posed in the review application. If the reduced record provides an incomplete picture it might well have the effect of the NDPP being at risk of not being able to justify the decision. This might be result of Mr Zuma's decision not to waive the confidentiality of the representations made by him. On the other hand, a reduced record might redound to the benefit of the NDPP and Mr Zuma".

[89] That being the understanding of Mathopo J and undertaking given in the SCA as quoted in paragraphs 82.2 and 88 of this judgment respectively, the interpretation of the order of 20 March 2012 by the SCA has context as understood by Jiba and articulated in her answering affidavit quoted in paragraph 86 above.

[90] The additional order of the SCA quoted in paragraph 79 of this judgment, in my view, indicates how difficult it was to implement the order of 20 May 2012 without clarification and additions. Seeing this in context, Mathopo J was perhaps right in his conclusion in paragraph 50 of his judgment which conclusion has not been challenged or questioned.

[91] "Supine attitude" must therefore be seen in the context of the preceding paragraphs. Failure by Jiba not to respond to the articulation in the letter of 6 June 2012 from DA attorneys referred to in paragraph 84 of this judgment seems to have been dictated by two things: First, the delay by Mr Zuma's attorneys, an explanation which was accepted by Mathopo J as indicated in paragraph [50] of his judgment. Second, by Jiba's understanding of paragraph 2 of the order of 20 March 2012 which understanding was also shared by Mathopo J. The real question ultimately is whether her conduct was of such a nature that she had ceased to be a fit and proper person to remain on a roll of advocates. In the absence of mala fides and or ulterior motive on her part, I am unable to find against her on the "Supine attitude" complaint. I now turn to deal with other remarks made against her in the Spy tapes case.

[25] 2012(3) SA 486 (SCA) at para 33

Metaphorical shrugging of shoulders

[92] The word "shrugging" is described in the Oxford dictionary as 'raising one's shoulders slightly and momentarily to express doubt, ignorance, or indifference'. The context in which Navsa ADP used the words is important. I can do no better than giving the context by quoting what was said in paragraph 17 of the SCA judgment handed down on 28 August 2014:

"[17] The basis of the application, as foreshadowed in the letter from the DA's attorneys as set out above, was that in terms of the order in the first appeal, a copy of the transcript of the recordings ought to have been furnished and that the recordings could not possibly have been provided to the ANDPP confidentially, as that office quoted publicly and extensively from the recordings when announcing the decision to discontinue the prosecution of Mr Zuma. Furthermore, it was contended that the SCA order envisaged an embargo only on written representations made on behalf of Mr Zuma and any subsequent memorandum or report in relation thereto, if the production thereof would breach any confidentiality attaching to the representations. The recordings and/or transcripts, it was submitted, were neither written nor oral representations nor a memorandum or report related to the representations. In addition, it was asserted that memoranda or reports relating to internal debate within the office of the NDPP concerning the recordings were not covered by any limitation envisaged in the order in the first appeal. The DA was adamant that internal memoranda, reports or minutes of meetings addressing the transcripts must exist and are susceptible to disclosure. In the founding affidavit on behalf of the DA the following appears:

> 'The notion of an accused making representations to the First Respondent "in confidence", which representations then lead to the discontinuation of a prosecution, is already absurd. For the time being, the Applicant has elected to live with that absurdity. But the Applicant cannot accept and will not allow the NDPP to conceal the foundation of the decision, i.e. the recordings and the internal debate regarding them."

GSM

[93] Then in paragraph 18, Navsa ADP mentioned the 'metaphorical shrugging of shoulders" as follows:

"It is important to note that the ANDPP's answering affidavit does not adopt a position in relation to the confidentiality of the tapes or transcripts. it resorts to a metaphorical shrugging of the shoulders, and places the reason for its non-compliance with the order of this court in the first appeal at the door of Mr Zuma's legal representatives, submitting that the present dispute was due to them not being timeously forthcoming with a final position on the disclosure of the tapes or the transcripts. The NDPP's office assumes the position that the lack of consent to the release of the tapes or transcripts was sufficient to forestall compliance with the order in the first appeal."

[94] What is quoted in paragraph 86 as a response to the criticism levelled against Jiba, in my view, serves also as a response to the "metaphorical shrugging of shoulders." The delay or forestalling of compliance with the SCA order of the 20 March 2012 should similarly be seen in the context of what I said with regards to the "supine attitude", particularly now seen in the light of Jiba's responses as quoted in paragraph 86 above. What Mathopo J said in paragraph 50 of his judgment is equally important. The explanation for the delay was accepted, but even most importantly, it was also the understanding of Mathopo J that in terms of the SCA order of 20 March 2012, Mr Zuma or his attorneys were to be contacted before making the tapes and the transcript available to DA. The submission made on behalf of Mr Zuma as articulated in the SCA judgment of 28 August 2014 in my view, is also relevant to Jiba's reason for taking the position as she did. Navsa ADP referred to the submission in his judgment as follows:

"In the high court, even though Mr Zuma had not filed an answering affidavit, counsel on his behalf submited that confidentiality, as envisaged in this court's order in the first appeal, extended to everything comprising representations made on Mr Zuma's behalf. It was contended that since the office of the NDPP did not itself take steps to obtain the recordings, but accessed them through the efforts of Mr Zuma, separating them from the representation would be illogical and irrational"[27].

94.1 It could not have been easy for Jiba to deal with the issue of confidentiality seen in the light of stance articulated by Mr Zuma's attorneys. Considering Jiba's responses in these proceedings to the adverse remarks made against her, I am unable to find that her stance to abide by the decision of the court in the proceedings before Mathopo J was "metaphorical shrugging of shoulders" and neither can I find mala fides on her part or that she was motivated by ulterior motive. I now turn to deal with the other complaints levelled against Jiba.

[27] 2014(4) ALL SA 35 SCA at para 22

'Disingenuous, not worthy of office of NDPP, less objective and loath to take independent view'

[95] The words are randomly taken from the judgment of the SCA wherein Navsa ADP inter alia, stated:

> "[41] One remaining aspect requires to be addressed, albeit briefly. As recently as April this year, this court in the National Director of Public Prosecutions v Freedom Under Law 2014 (4) SA 298 (SCA) criticised the office of the NDPP for being less than candid and forthcoming. In the present case, the then NDPP, Ms Jiba, provided an opposing affidavit in tenderised hearsay and almost meaningless terms. Affidavits from people who had first-hand knowledge of the relevant facts were conspicuously absent. Furthermore, it is to be decried that an important institution such as office of the NDPP is loath to take an independent view, about confidentiality, or otherwise, of documents and other materials within its possession, particularly in the face of an order of this court. Its lack of interest in being assistance to either the high court or this court is baffling. It is equally lamentable that the office of the NDPP took no steps before the commencement of litigation in the present case to place the legal representatives of Zuma on terms in a manner that would have ensured either a definitive response by the latter or a decision by the NPA on the release of the documents and material sought by the DA. This conduct is not worthy of the office of the NDPP, such conduct undermines the esteem in which the office of the NDPP ought to be held by citizenry of this country".

[96] Whilst these remarks were made in passing, but considered together with what was stated in paragraph 93 above, they serve as an indictment on Jiba. However, the criticism must be seen in the context of what has already been said in the preceding paragraphs. Again, the responses to the criticisms require this court to reconsider the remarks and in particular whether Jiba has ceased to be a fit and proper person to remain on a roll of advocates. 'Freedom Under Law' referred to in the quotation above in reference to Mdluli case and I deal later hereunder with the conduct of Jiba, Mrwebi and Mzinyathi in that case.

GSM

[97] As regards the hearsay information and failure to file confirmatory affidavit, Jiba of relevance, explains in paragraph 248 of her answering affidavit to the present proceedings as follows:

> "...Navsa JA also criticised me, at paragraph 26 of his judgment, for referring to what I had been told by her Mpshe and not filing a confirmatory affidavit by him. With respect, a confirmatory affidavit was indeed filed by Mr Mpshe, and I attach a copy of it hereto marked "NJZ2". Although I cannot find a copy with a date stamp, it will be observed that this affidavit was signed by Mpshe and commissioned by Warrant officer Seleka in Sinoville Police Station on 3 April 2013, which was three months before the hearing of the matter before Mathopo J on 24 July 2013. It seems that this must have erroneously been omitted from the record of appeal to the SCA. I have no explanation for why this was the case as I took no part in the appeal nor was I responsible for the filing of the documents."

[98] I have already dealt with failure to take an independent view on confidentiality in the face of the order of the SCA. Jiba, DA and Mathopo J in my view, sought to interpret the order of 20 March 2012. I am unable to find that Jiba's failure to take an independent view with the benefit of her responses in these proceedings can be seen as unworthy conduct to justify removal from the roll of advocates or suspension therefrom.

[99] By the time the matter was heard before Mathopo J, Mr Zuma's attorneys had already indicated what Mr Zuma's stance was, which is more accurately stated by Navsa ADP in paragraph 22 of his judgment quoted in paragraph 94 above. His failure to put Mr Zuma's attorneys on terms should also be seen in context, more so Jiba's replies to the complaint levelled against her in this regard. As she says, she did not want to 'fall foul of the SCA directive' and 'the decision was taken on the advice of a senior counsel' representing her, 'to obtain the input of Mr Zuma's legal representatives as to whether there was any objection to the disclosure of the transcript of the tapes recordings'.[28] I therefore find that no case has been established with regard to the Spy tapes matter. But that cannot be said with regard to Mdluli case (Freedom Under Law case) to which I now turn to consider.

MDLULI CASE (FUL)

[28] See the quotation in paragraph 85above (in particular 244 of answering affidavit).

G sm

[100] Freedom Under Law (FUL) instituted review proceedings against the National Director of Public Prosecutions and others in terms of which FUL wanted the court (as per Murphy J) to review and set aside, inter alia, a decision of Mrwebi to discontinue the prosecution of Lt General Richard Mdluli (Mdluli) on corruption and fraud charges.

[101] Who is Mr Richard Mdluli? He was adequately profiled by Brand JA in his judgment handed down on 17 April 2014[29]. I can do no better than to paraphrase what was articulated by Brand JA: From about 1996 until 1998 one Mr Tefo Ramogibe (the deceased) and Mdluli were both involved in a relationship with Ms Tshidi Buthelezi (Buthelezi). The deceased and Buthelezi were secretly married during 1998. Mdluli was upset about this and addressed the issue on numerous occasions with Buthelezi, the deceased and members of their respective families. At that time Mdluli held the rank of senior superintendent and the position of the detective branch commander at the Vosloorus police station. Since 1 July 2009 Mdluli held the position of National Divisional Commissioner in the Police Services (SAPS), a position also described as head of Crime Intelligence Unit and at that time he assumed the rank of Lieutenant General.

[102] On 31 March 2011 Mdluli was arrested and charged with 18 criminal charges including the murder of the deceased. Many of these charges rested on allegations by relatives and friends of the deceased, Buthelezi and other persons associated with Mdluli including policemen under his command. The further allegations were that Mdluli brought pressure to bear upon these people through violence, assaults, threats and kidnapping and in one instance rape, with the view to compelling their co-operation in securing the termination of the relationship between the deceased and Buthelezi. On one occasion, Mdluli had allegedly taken the mother of the deceased to the Voosiorus police station where she found the deceased injured and bleeding. In the presence of the deceased's mother, Mdluli warned the deceased to stay away from Buthelezi. The deceased was killed few days thereafter: It is important to mention that the murder and other charges never proceeded to trial. Much of the original docket and certain exhibits were lost or disappeared. Information about discontinued investigation resurfaced after Mdluli was appointed the head of Crime Intelligence in 2009.

[29] National Director of Public prosecutions and other V freedom Under Law 2014 (4) SA 298 SCA

G S.M

[103] On 8 May 2011 Mdluli was suspended from office and disciplinary proceedings were instituted against him. After Mdluli's arrest and his suspension from office some members of crime Intelligence Unit came forward with information concerning alleged crimes committed by some of its members, including Mdluli. As a result of further information, instruction was given to investigate those allegations. Upon investigations, warrant for Mdluli's arrest on charges of fraud and corruption was authorised and executed on 20 September 2011.

[104] Fraud and corruption charges emanated from the alleged unlawful utilisation of funds held in the Secret Services account created in terms of the Secret Services Act no. 56 of 1978 for the private benefit of Mdluli and his wife. It was alleged that one of Mdluli's subordinates purchased two motor vehicles ostensibly for use by the Secret Services but structured the transactions in such a manner that a discount of R90 000.00 that should have been credited to the Secret Services account was utilised for Mdluli's benefit. Further allegations were that the two motor vehicles were registered in the name of Mdluli's wife and appropriated and used by the two of them exclusively.

[105] On 3 November 2011 Mdluli wrote a letter to the President of the Republic of South Africa, Honourable Mr Jacob Zuma, the Minister of Safety and Security and to the Commissioner of Police stating that the charges against him were the result of conspiracy among senior officers including the then Commissioner of Police, General Bheki Cele who suspended Mdluli and head of the Hawks, General Anwar Dramat. In the letter it was further stated by Mdluli:

> "...In the event that I come back to work, I will assist the President to succeed next year."

[106] "Next year", was reference to African National Congress (ANC) elective conference in Mangaung which was to take place towards the end of 2012. The allegations of conspiracy led to the appointment by the Minister of Safety and Security of a task team which later reported that there was no evidence of a conspiracy and that the police officers who had accused Mdluli of criminal conduct had not acted in bad faith. On 17 November 2011 Mdluli's legal representatives made representations to Mrwebi in his capacity as Special Director of Public Prosecutions and Head of Investigating Directorate, seeking the withdrawal of the fraud and corruption charges. The representations repeated what was said to President Zuma and others regarding conspiracy theory. The representations were also made with reference to the murder and other related charges to Advocate KMA Chauke (Chauke), the DPP South Gauteng for the withdrawal of those charges. The fraud and corruption charges were withdrawn in a letter dated 4 December 2011, although it was contended by Mrwebi that the decision was actually taken on 5 December 2011. On 1 February 2012 Chauke decided to withdraw the murder and related charges. These decisions formed the subject of a dispute before Murphy J in the North Gauteng High Court in review proceedings brought by FUL.

[107] I found it necessary to give this lengthy back-ground about Mdluli in order to show the kind of personality, Jiba and Mrewbi in particular, had to deal with. Jiba, Mrewbi and Mzinyathi are respondents in the present proceedings all of them implicated in Mdluli case, complaints of which serve as the basis for GCB's application to remove them from a roll of advocates, the contention being that they have ceased to be fit and proper persons. I deal with the complaints against each one of them hereunder and in some respects those against Jiba overlapping with some of the complaints levelled against Mrwebi.

Complaints against Jiba in Mdluli case

[108] Allegations against Jiba in Mdluli case are in my view, correctly categorised in her answering affidavit to the present proceedings as follows:

108.1 That she did not file a full and complete rule 53 record notwithstanding an order compelling her to do so.

108.2 That she did not file an answering affidavit by the due date and had to be directed to do so by the Deputy Judge President and in addition that she did not file written heads of argument timeously;

108.3 That her reasons for the various delays were sparse and unconvincing;

108.4 That her conduct in particular is unbecoming a person of such high rank in the public service.

GSM

108.5 That she did not disclose to the court that on 13 April 2012, she had received a 24 page memoranda from Adv. Breytenbach and that she deliberately attempted to mislead the court.

108.6 That she did not make a full and frank disclosure in order to refute, explain or ameliorate serious allegations made against her.

108.7 That the SCA had also criticised her conduct.

[109] In dealing with the case against Jiba, I will pick up on each complaint made against her insofar as is material, her responses thereto and evaluation of the evidence on each of the complaints so considered material. I will do so without necessarily following the sequence of the complaints identified in paragraphs 108.1 to 108.7 above.

Failure to file record of decision timeously

[110] In paragraph [73] of this judgment I referred to the provisions of sub-rule (1) of Rule 53. Because of the importance of the provisions of Rule 53 to the topic under discussion, I find it necessary to repeat the rest of the provisions in their entirety:

> "(2) The notice of motion shall set out the decision or proceedings sought to be reviewed and shall be supported by affidavit setting out the grounds and the facts and circumstances upon which applicant relies to have the decision or proceedings set aside or corrected.
> (3) The registrar shall make available to the applicant the record despatched to him as aforesaid upon such terms as the registrar thinks appropriate to ensure its safety, and the applicant shall thereupon cause copies of such portions of the record as may be necessary for the purposes of the review to be made and shall furnish the registrar with two copies and each of the other parties with one copy thereof, in each case certified by the applicant as true copies. The costs of transcription, if any, shall be borne by the applicant and shall be costs in the cause.
> (4) The applicant may within ten days after the registrar has made the record available to him, by delivery of a notice and accompanying affidavit, amend, add to or vary the terms of his notice of motion and supplement the supporting affidavit.
> (5) Should the presiding officer, chairman or officer, as the case may be, or any party affected desire to oppose the granting of the order prayed in the notice of motion, he shall- (a) within fifteen days after receipt by him of the notice of motion or any amendment thereof deliver notice to the applicant that he intends so to oppose and shall in such notice appoint an address within eight kilometres of the office of the registrar at which he will accept notice and service of all process in such proceedings; and (b) within thirty days after the expiry of the time referred to in sub-rule (4) hereof, deliver any affidavits he may desire in answer to the allegations made by the applicant.

(6) The applicant shall have the rights and obligations in regard to replying affidavits set out in rule 6.

(7) The provisions of rule 6 as to set down of applications shall mutatis mutandis apply to the set down of review proceedings."

[111] "The record despatched to him" in sub-rule (3) above is reference to the record contemplated in sub-rule (1) (b) quoted in paragraph [73] of this judgment. The objective of rule 53 is obvious. The time frames are to ensure that review proceedings are not unnecessarily delayed. Secondly, despatching to the Registrar the record of the proceedings sought to be corrected or set aside, together with such reasons as the decision maker is by law required to give, and notifying the applicant that this has been done and making such record available to the applicant, is to ensure that a party aggrieved by the decision is properly informed as to the route to follow. The rule serves as a tool to ensure that any challenge to the proceedings sought to be reviewed is well considered and properly pleaded. For this purpose, the applicant or aggrieved party is under Sub-rule (4) given an opportunity by delivery of a notice and accompanying affidavit, to amend, add to or vary the terms of his notice of motion and supplement the supporting affidavit if need be. Similarly, the decision maker is in terms of Sub rule (5) (b) given the opportunity to deliver any affidavit he or she may desire in an answer to allegations made therein and any further reasons as contemplated in sub-rule (1) (b).

[112] Therefore compliance with Rule 53 regarding time frames and providing complete record, is not just a procedural process, but is substantive requirement which serves to ensure that the substance of the decision is properly put to the fore at an early stage. Any attempt to frustrate this, should be met with displeasure by our courts.

[113] On 15 May 2012 Jiba was served with court papers in the application brought by FUL and 6 June 2012 was the date on which Jiba and Mrwebi were to despatch to the registrar the record of the decision and to advise FUL that they have done so. Instead, and without complying with the time frames, they briefed and consulted with Motimele SC and his team for the first time on 11 June 2012.

[114] Reasons for the delay is sought to be explained in paragraph 86 to 90 of Jiba's answering affidavit in these proceedings and are paraphrased as follows:

114.1 Motimele SC was briefed, inter alia, to advise on the interpretation of Rule 53 and the record of the decision as contemplated in Rule 53. The record of the decision was then allegedly prepared on the advice of Motimele SC. In paragraph 86 of the answering affidavit to these proceedings, Jiba inter alia, states:

"...It is important to note that no decision by me personally in my official capacity as an Acting NDPP was to be reviewed. My citation insofar as these decisions are concerned is, in my view, in official capacity as acting head of the NPA and not because I had made any decision."

114.1.1 I find the statement a bit startling, especially taking into account who is Jiba: She was appointed as Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions on 28 December 2011. Before that, she had gone through the ranks in the legal fraternity and within the prosecuting authority. In addition, she has a good academic record. In 1987 she completed Bluris degree, followed by LLB in 1989 obtained at Walter Sizulu University (then known as University of Transkei). In 1994 she obtained an industrial diploma from Damelin College. In 1996 she graduated with an LLM degree in commercial law. Her work professional career started in1988 in Peddie in the Eastern Cape where she was employed and worked as a prosecutor in a magistrate's court. In 1997 she resigned from the public service and commenced articles of clerkship with attorneys Qunta Ntsebeza in Cape Town. In 1998 she qualified as an attorney. In 1999 she moved to Pretoria to work at an accounting firm, Deloitte and Touche as a senior forensic consultant. Later that year, she joined the Investigating Directorate for Serious Economic Offences (IDSEO) in Pretoria as a senior state advocate. In 2001 the IDSEO was disbanded and the Directorate for Directorate of Special Operations ("DSO") within the NPA was established. Later in 2001 she was appointed as a Deputy Director of Public Prosecutions. In 2006 she was appointed senior Deputy Director of Public Persecutions. She was then relocated to the specialised commercial crimes court in Pretoria in 2009. On 22 December 2010 she was then appointed to the position of a Deputy National Director of Public Prosecutions and then followed by her acting stint as a National Director of Public Prosecutions from December 2011.

114.1.2 So, she is clearly an astute lawyer who must know that as an Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions at all material times thereto, the buck had to stop with her and it was in that capacity that FUL cited and served her with the review proceedings. The Act is very clear:

'Subject to the provisions of the Constitution and NPA Act, any director shall subject to the control and the directions of the National Director, exercise the powers referred to in subsection s(1) in respect of-

(a) the area of jurisdiction for which he or she has been appointed; and

(b) such offences and in such courts, as he or she has been authorised in writing by the National Director or a person designated by the National Director[30].

114.1.3 Powers referred to in subsection (1) are powers as contemplated in section 179 (2) of the Constitution and all other relevant sections of the Constitution to inter alia, discontinue criminal proceedings. Therefore, the statement: "... no decision by me personally in my official capacity as an acting ANPP was to be reviewed', insomuch as it was intended to serve as an execuse for not providing the record of decision in accordance with the time periods set out in rule 53, is clearly not good enough and Jiba knew or ought to have known about this. Her failure to ensure that there was compliance was therefore not only unwarranted, but was, in my view, also deliberate and or reckless. She has a vast experience to know where her responsibility in the shoes of National Director of Public Prosecutions lies, otherwise she would not have been appointed to act in that position.

[30] Section 21(3) of the Act

114.2 In paragraph 87 of her answering affidavit to these proceedings, she inter alia, states:

> "It is also important to point out that the advice on what should be contained in the record was given and accepted at a time when the reviewability of prosecutorial decisions to prosecute or not to prosecute was still largely uncertain and had not been pronounced upon definitively by the court..."

114.2.1 Just starting with the latter statement regarding 'uncertain and had not been pronounced upon definitively by the court...' regarding the reviewability of prosecutorial decisions, one is forced to refer to what was articulated in our case law before the challenged decisions of Mrwebi and Chauke to drop charges against Mdluli were taken. On 20 March 2012 in the case of Democratic Alliance v The Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions[31], of relevance, it was held:

> "[27] Whilst there appears to be justification for the contention that the decision to discontinue a prosecution is of the same genus as a decision to institute or continue a prosecution, which is excluded from the definition of administrative action in terms of Section 1 of (ff) of PAJA, it is not necessary to finally decide that question. Before us it was conceded on behalf of the first and third respondents that the decision to discontinue a prosecution was subject to rule of law. That concession in my view was rightly made. As recently as 1 December 2011, in Democratic Alliance v President of the Republic of South Africa and Others 2012(1) SA 417 (SCA) this court noticed that the office of the NDPP was integral to the rule of law and to our success as democracy. In that case, this court stated emphatically that the exercise of public power, even if it does not constitute administrative action, must comply with the constitution. The Constitutional Court has respectively emphasised this point."

[31] Democratic Alliance v The Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions (288/11) [2012] ZASCA (20 March 2012); 2012 (3) SA 486 SCA.

GSM

114.2.2 Now, in Mdluli case, FUL pleaded its cause of action on the basis that the withdrawal of the charges against or discontinuance of the prosecution of Mdluli was an exercise of public power to be performed in accordance with the rule of law and the supreme law of the land (the Constitution). The challenge by FUL was that the withdrawal of the fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli in the face of prima facie case was in conflict with the rule of law and the Constitution based on the facts briefly stated in paragraph 104 of this judgment.

114.2.3 Jiba was the Acting Director of Public Prosecutions when the judgment quoted in part in paragraph 114.2.1 above was handed down on 20 March 2012. She was therefore fully aware of what was stated therein or ought to have known, in particular the concession that whatever the prosecution authority does, must comply with the rule of law and the Constitution. So, for her to allege that when she deposed to her answering affidavit in Mdluli case on 2 July 2013, she moved from the premise that the decisions of Mrwebi and Chauke were not reviewable, could not have been made in good faith seen in the context of the concession made as repeated in the quotation referred to in paragraph 114.2.1 above and the pleaded cause of the review of the decision of Mrwebi. Therefore the delay and reasons for not providing the record of the decision was completely unjustified and deliberate.

GSM

114.2.4. I can do no better than repeating, at the risk of prolonging this judgment, what Navsa JA said in his judgment handed down on 20 March 2012:

> "[32] The office of the NDPP exercises public power and is subject to the constraints set out in the authorities referred to above. Having made the concession that the decision to discontinue the prosecution was subject to a rule of law review, it was nevertheless submitted on behalf of the first and third respondent that such a review would be a narrow one, on limited grounds. In light of primary concession made on behalf of the respondents, it is for present purposes not necessary to debate the extent to which a decision to discontinue a prosecution is reviewable…" (My emphasis).

114.2.5 "On limited grounds", should for the present purposes be seen in the context of the pleaded failure to comply with the rule of law and the Constitution by withdrawing corruption and fraud the charges against Mdluli in the face of prima facie evidence.

114.2.6 Now coming back to the other part of the quotation in paragraph 114.2 above, Jiba did not need an 'advice on what should be contained in the record.' She knew or ought to have known and briefed fully on why Mrwebi took the decision to discontinue the fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli. She knew or ought to have known what evidence and documentation Mrwebi relied upon for the decision, for example, what was contained in the docket. So, it was incumbent on Jiba and Mwerbi to advise whoever they had briefed on the matter of the reasons for the decision to discontinue fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli and if they had done so, they would not have speculated or be uncertain about which documents and or information was necessary to form part of the record. In any event, Rule 53 is very clear. The decision maker is required to provide the aggrieved party via the Registrar the record of decision or proceedings sought to be corrected or set aside together with such reasons as he or she is by law required or desire to give or make as contemplated in sub-rule (1) (b). If Jiba was worried about confidentiality, for example, representations by

Mdluli, she could have resorted to and dealt with the matter by way of an undertaking postulated in the matter of Democratic Alliance v Zuma and Others, the relevant portion of which the SCA in dealing with the topic: "Production of Record" stated as quoted in paragraph [88] of this judgment.

114.2.6 It cannot be difficult for any decision maker to know the reasons, information and or documentation relied upon for any challenged decision under rule 53. For this, Jiba and or Mwerbi's suggestion that the advice given to them about the record of the decision was the reason for the delay in complying with the provisions of Rule 53, has no legal basis. The delay was their own making and was completely unreasonable, unwarranted and viewed in context, signified bad faith on the part of Jiba and Mrwebi, bearing in mind that court papers in Mdluli case were served on them on 15 May 2012, that is, two months after the SCA handed down its judgment on 20 March 20012 in DA case against Mr Zuma.

Failure to provide complete record

[115] The complaint is raised in GCB founding affidavit as follows:

> "8.13 Rule 53 was not complied with. The "record" filed in the murder and related charges case comprised a copy of the charge sheet and three letters complied with a two page document entitled "Reasons for decision". The "record" filed in the case of theft and corruption charges comprised a copy of the charge sheet, three internal memoranda, a fax and two letters together with a document entitled "brief reasons for the withdrawal of charges preferred against LTG Mdluli and another dated 5 July 2012, comprising13 pages.
> 8.14 As a result of the respondent's failure to file a proper record, FUL brought an application in terms of Rule 30 A in order to compel them to do so. Such an order was granted by Prinsloo J on 3 August 2012... The order was not complied with."

GSM

[116] Jiba in paragraph 87 of her answering affidavit in these proceedings seems to attribute the incomplete record on account of protection of 'the identity of informers and other privileged information, which an accused person is ordinarily not entitled to have sight of in criminal proceedings and that such documents fell outside of "PART A" of the docket that an accused person is entitled to have access to. In addition, there was uncertainty as to whether in the situation of a decision to withdraw charges, representations made by the accused (as had been received from Mdluli) should form part of a rule 53 record."

[117] I should be worried about Jiba's generalisation instead of being specific and helpful. Starting with Mdluli representations, Jiba is not saying Mdluli claimed confidentiality in his representations for the withdrawal of the charges against him. If Jiba was unclear about Mdluli's stance on his representations, the least she could have done was to establish from Mdluli if his representations could be provided as part of the record of the decision in terms of rule 53. Complete record of the decision and subsequent reasons for the decision if any, may discourage the aggrieved party to pursue a challenge to any decision taken by a public body.

[118] What is referred to as Part A of the docket, would ordinarily be instructions by the prosecuting team and memoranda if any in the investigation process. That may not necessarily constitute evidence admissible in a court of law and may not form the basis to determine the presence or absence of prima facie evidence. Jiba because of her generalisation and avoidance is unhelpful in this regard. For example, which "privileged information" is he talking about? It is not consistent with an officer of the court whose main concern should be to assist the court in arriving at a just decision. The identity of the informers, and other privileged information as alleged in paragraph 87 of Jiba's answering affidavit, should in any event be seen in context. The information that led to the corruption and the fraud charges been preferred against Mdluli did not come from the informers, but rather from fellow colleagues of Mdluli. That being so; and taking into account the general nature of Jiba's attempt to deal with the complaint against her, something which is not different from what she said previously, caused adverse remarks to be made. Murphy J referred to it as "sparse", but despite these remarks, Jiba did not find it necessary to take the court into her confidence and deal with the allegations in some more details given the opportunity to do so in the present proceedings. Clearly the points taken by Jiba in this regard had no merit from the start. For this, she must be found to have acted contrary to the oath she took when she was admitted as an advocate and in a way flouted the rules of game of the high position she holds and or held in the prosecuting authority at all material times hereto.

Failure to comply with the directive by Deputy Judge President [119] On 8 October 2012 FUL delivered supplementary affidavit in terms of rule 53 (4) and on 14 March 2013 it filed a further supplementary affidavit. By that time, no single answering affidavit was delivered. As a result, on 3 June 2013 FUL's attorneys wrote to the Deputy Judge President Ledwaba to arrange a date for the hearing of the application. On 5 June 2013 a directive was issued directing Jiba and Mrewbi to file answering affidavit by not later than 24 June 2013. On 7June 2013 the state attorney Mr JE Ngoetjana who was handling FUL case on behalf of Jiba and Mrwebi was removed from the case and Mothimele SC, Notshe SC and Adv S Phaswane who had been on brief all along were then withdrawn from the case. This was after Ledwaba DJP had given directive on 5 June 2013 to file answering affidavit by Monday 24 June 2013.

[120] According to Jiba, on 18 June 2013, that is, eleven days after the mandate of Motimele SC was terminated and 15 days after DJP Ledwaba had given directive to file answering affidavits by the 24 June 2013, Motau SC team was briefed to replace Motimele team. He was instructed to draft answering affidavit, an application for condonation, consult with Jiba and her team, to prepare heads of argument and argue the matter. On Friday 21 June 2013 Motau SC team sent a draft answering affidavit to be considered and deposed to by Jiba after consultation. Jiba and Mrwebi were also requested to return the draft affidavit and comments if any by mid-morning on Sunday 23 June 2013. The request and the deadline set by the Deputy Judge President were not adhered to, neither was the request by Motau SC team. Instead, on 25 June 2013, a day after the expiry of the deadline set by the Deputy Judge President for the filing of the answering affidavit and two days after Motau SC's request was not met, Motau SC received an email to which two draft affidavits by Jiba and Mrwebi were attached. This was contrary to the one answering affidavit which was proposed by Motau SC to be deposed to by Jiba as the head of the prosecuting authority at the time and presumably with confirmatory affidavit/s to be made by Mrwebi and those who might have been referred to in the answering affidavit.

GSM

G Sm

[121] Jiba in paragraph 79.2 of her answering affidavit in these proceedings correctly set out one of the complaints levelled against her by GCB as follows:

> "79.2 That I did not file answering affidavit by the deadline directed by the Deputy Judge President"

[122] One would have expected that she will offer an explanation. However, that was not to be. The complaint is sufficiently set out in paragraph 8.19 of the founding affidavit in these proceedings to which the answer is offered by Jiba as follows:

> 155. Save to deny that the draft answering affidavit prepared by Motau SC team was sent to me on 21 June 2013, and that the email of the 25 June 2013 (annexure "GCBB") came from my office I admit the remainder of the content of this paragraph. The reasons why two separate affidavits were prepared and why the LAD did not agree with the approach of the Motau SC team that I should be the main deponent to the answering affidavit, is dealt with above."

[123] The quotation above was preceded by the following statement in paragraph 101 of Jiba's answering affidavit in the present proceedings:

> "...Indeed as stated by the applicant in paragraph 8.19, the Motau SC team prepared a draft answering affidavit prior to any consultation with representatives from NPA. I deny however that this draft was sent to me personally. As appears from annexure "GCB12" this email was not sent to me. I further deny that the email dated 25 June 2013 (i.e annexure "GCB13") was sent from my office. It was in fact sent on my behalf by Adv Chita from the LAD."

[124] Jiba cannot escape the criticism by seeking to attribute the blame to LAD and the emails not having been sent to her personally. The context is this:

124.1 The directive which was given on the 5 June 2013 to file answering affidavit by 24 June 2013 was followed by a meeting on 7 June 2013 between Jiba, her team and acting deputy state attorney Mr Chouw and Mr Tshivase. Then in paragraph 97 of the answering affidavit in the present proceedings, Jiba states:

> "After discussion we agreed that since the legal team for the NPA had failed to file the answering affidavit within time periods required by the rules, their mandate should be terminated and they should be replaced".

G sm

124.1.1 'The legal team for the NPA,' she is referring to Motimele team. So, Jiba knew at least by 7 June 2012 about the directive given by the Deputy Judge President. From that date onwards, she had a flickering red light pointing towards the deadline of the 24 June 2013 set by the Deputy Judge President. But, she did nothing until on18 June 2013 when Motau SC was briefed. In the present proceedings she does not explain what has happened between 5 and 18 June 2013.

124.1.2 Insofar as she might have wanted to blame LAD, she was mistaken, because the final responsibility rested on her, and she had a duty to ensure that the flickering of red light did not to go beyond 24 June 2013. That however, did not worry Jiba as it would appear later hereunder. As explained by Jiba, the Legal Affairs Division ('LAD') is a division within the NPA tasked with handling of all matters pertaining to the civil litigation involving the NPA. It is headed by a Deputy National Director of Public Prosecutions who at all relevant times hereto was Adv. Nomvula Mokhatla and was assisted inter alia, by Deputy Directors, Senior State Advocates and Senior Prosecutors. When court papers against the NPA are received, they are referred to LAD and the Deputy National Director heading LAD. Thereafter, they are referred to a member of their team who would then prepare a memorandum on steps to be taken and that would then be discussed with the Deputy National Director. A consultation will then be arranged to brief and advise the National Director and for the present proceedings (Jiba) who was the Acting National Director at the time. It will then be decided how LAD intends to handle the matter and thereafter the state attorney will be briefed. (My emphasis).

124.2 Jiba did not seem to be worried by the flickering of the red light. Despite the request to return the draft answering affidavit by Sunday morning of 23

G Sm

June 2013, with such comments as Jiba and Mr Mrwebi might wish to make, the request was not heeded to. The fact that an email of 21 June 2013 to which the draft affidavit was attached, was not sent to Jiba personally, is not an excuse. It should be concluded from the email of the 26 June 2013 sent by Motau SC to the State Attorney that Jiba knew or ought to have known of the contents of the email of 21 June 2013 before 24 June 2013:

124.2.1 The following is recorded by Motau SC in the email of 26 June 2013:

> "A draft was produced and circulated on Friday with a request that comments, if any, be sent to us by mid-morning of Sunday, 23rd of June 2013. The requested comments were not received as stipulated. We received an email to the effect that an affidavit be prepared in the name of Adv. Mrwebi, which we advised has been incorrect. This despite, we note that the same outcome is sought to be achieved by dividing the affidavits as proposed".

124.2.2 The latter statement quoted above was prompted by an email of 25 June 2013 to Motau SC from the state attorney in which it was recorded: "Please find the draft amended affidavit for your attention. We have separated the affidavit of Jiba from that of Adv. Mrwebi".

124.2.3 Clearly, the statement, "we have received an email to the effect that an affidavit be prepared in the name of Adv Mrwebi, which we have advised has been incorrect"; is reference to a stand-alone email before the email of 25 June 2013 to which 'separated affidavits of Adv. Jiba from that of Adv. Mrwebi' were attached. Jiba must have indicated before 25 June 2013 or per the email of 25 June 2013 that she did not want to depose to any affidavit. Most importantly, she must have known of the request by Motau SC to comment on the draft answering affidavit and to have it returned by not later than Sunday 23 June 2013.

G S M

124.2.4 It is actually worrying that an officer of the court, who occupied and continues to occupy a very important high profile public office within the prosecuting authority by virtue of being an admitted advocate, would adopt that kind of an attitude. Wishing to wash her hands at every given opportunity prevailing has a bearing on her fitness to remain on a roll of advocates. What is even more worrying is Jiba's failure to deal with the statement by Motau SC as quoted in paragraph 124.2.1 above. Reference to the email of 26 June 2013 addressed to the State Attorney by Motau SC and the quotation in paragraph 124.2.1 is dealt by Jiba as follows:

"AD PARAGRAPH 8.20

156. I deny that the email dated 26 June 2013 was addressed to myself or the second respondent. It was sent to Adv. Chita and Adv. Mokhatla of the LAD".

124.2.4 As to whom the email was sent, is really not the issue. The issue is how Jiba dealt with the directive by the Deputy Judge President. I return later to the other issues recorded in the email of 26 June 2013 sent to the State Attorney by Motau SC. Jiba did not seem to be concerned with the snail pace at which the matter was being dealt with. This constituted a wanting conduct on her part which cumulatively considered with other complaints relating to her handling of Mdluli case, should justify a removal from a roll of advocates

Failure to heed to Motau's advice

[125] It is advisable for any person who is a party to any legal proceedings to get someone who would be impartial, objective and independent to handle a particular litigation, if that affects you personally. Lawyers do not normally defend themselves in legal proceedings. They get another lawyer to advise and defend them and understandably, so. Seeking to defend yourself can cloud and blur issues as your own interest is at stake. It is for this reason that I want to believe that Jiba and her team on 18 June 2013 briefed Motau SC. It does not happen often that a client will easily litigate contrary to the advice given by counsel or attorney on brief. Any such conduct contrary to the advice would be unprecedented to constitute a reason for a legal representative on brief to withdraw.

[126] Jiba correctly paraphrased the complaint relevant to the topic under discussion as follows:

> "79.3 That I persisted, despite the advice of Adv. Motau SC and his team to the contrary, with filing a substantive confirmatory affidavit which was alleged untenable given the evidence that had been given under -oath by the second and third respondents at the Breytenbach disciplinary inquiry".

[127] The original draft answering affidavit was provided to Jiba and her team on 21 June 2013, although Jiba seeks to deny that it ever came to her attention until 26 July 2013. It was to be considered and commented upon. Jiba and her team suggested that Mrwebi be the one to depose to the answering affidavit. Motau SC advised against this. Despite the advice, on 25 June 2013 separated affidavits were brought to the attention of Motau SC. On 26 June 2013 Motau SC after having met with Jiba at an unscheduled meeting on that day, responded to the proposed separated affidavits and similarly advised against the move and suggested that the issue be discussed during consultation which was still to be arranged. Instead of consultation, Jiba and her team decided to instruct the state attorney to deliver the separated affidavits, which were served and filed with the Registrar on 4 July 2013 as per instruction of the prosecuting authority headed by Jiba at the time.

[128] To give a proper perspective to the complaint, I can do no better than to quote the relevant averments in the founding affidavit and the answer thereto by Jiba. In the founding affidavit GCB states:

"8.24. It appears that the State Attorney who was handling the matter at the time, Mr Sebelematsa, was not present at the unscheduled consultation of 26 June 2013. In an email dated 3 September 2013, he set out his chronology of what had transpired. I attached hereto as annexure "GCB15" a copy of that email. In the email he states that as a result of the fact that by Monday, 24 June 2013, no comments had been received from Jiba and Mrwebi on the contents of the draft answering affidavit which Motau SC and his team had drafted, he (Mr Sebelemetsa) received numerous calls from counsel as to what they should do since the affidavit had to be filed by 24 June 2013. Mr Sebelemetsa thereupon enquired from "the client" and was told that there were many averments (like the disclosure of internal memos) in the draft prepared by Motau SC and his team with which they did not agree. I infer that "the client" is a reference to Jiba and Mrwebi. Without further input from the State Attorney or counsel, Mr Sebelemetsa on 2 or 3 July 2013 received a "signed copy" of an answering affidavit by Mrwebi , a supporting affidavit by Jiba and a confirmatory affidavit by the South Gauteng Director of Public Prosecutions, Adv Chauke. Mr Sebelemetsa states in his email that ".. the mandate from client was that I must proceed to serve and file the said affidavit". Again, I assume that this is a reference to Jiba and Mrwebi. On the face of it, both affidavits were commissioned on 2 July 2012 (although the date "2 June 2012" was, I assume, incorrectly written in handwriting on the affidavit of Jiba. The date stamp however confirms that it was commissioned on 2 July 2012). Mr Sebelementsa then discussed the matter with Mr Tshivase and was told to file the affidavit since the time was already up for their filing. He was also told to forward copies to counsel. He proceeded to serve and file same on 4 July 2013. (My emphasis).

[129] Jiba in her own wisdom decided to respond as follows:

"AD PARAGRAPH 8.24

160. I admit that Mr Sebelemetsa was not present at the "unscheduled consultation". As I pointed out above, I was at chambers in connection with an unrelated matter and decided on the spur of the moment to stop at Adv Motau SC's chamers to introduce myself.

161. As I have also mentioned above the email by Mr Sebelemetsa dated 3 September 2013 (annexure "GCB15") was addressed to the Hodes SC team in order to assist them in preparing an application for condonation.

162. I deny that the reference to "the client" should be read as a reference to me personally. I never instructed Mr Sebelemetse personally. All instructions received from him would have come from members of the LAD,usually Adv Chita ,or Adv Mokhatla. Adv Muller's assumptions are, with respect, incorrect.

163. I have dealt with the serving and filing of the affidavit deposed to myself and by the second respondent and the reasons therefor, above."

G Sm

[130 Earlier in this judgment I mentioned Jiba's washing of hands in dealing with the complaints against her. The answer quoted above is no different from that attitude. "All instructions received from him (referring to state attorney) would have come from members of the LAD, usually Adv Chita or Adv Mokhatla", is intended to suggest that Jiba instructs or instructed no one, but rather that LAD does or did. She is again mistaken and this appears to be once more an attempt to run away from her responsibilities as the head of the prosecuting authority, but even most importantly as an officer of the court.

[131] Jiba in her answering affidavit paraphrased in paragraph 124.1.2 of this judgment, explains how matters against the NPA are brought to the attention of the National Director of Public Prosecutions. For this, it cannot be expected that the instruction to file one affidavit by Mrwebi and later separated affidavits contrary to the advice of Motau SC would have been conveyed to the state attorney by LAD without the knowledge and approval of Jiba. In any event, she should have known on her own initiative taking into account the fact she had a red light flickering towards 24 June 2013 since a directive to this effect was made by the Deputy Judge President on 5 June 2013.

[132] There are actually serious worrying features in Jiba's response as quoted in paragraph 129 above. Clearly, the suggestion is that she had no knowledge of the instruction to file separated affidavits. "I never instructed Mr Sebelemetsa personally", should be seen in the context of the events preceding the filing and service of the separated affidavits on 4 July 2013:

132.1 On 24 June 2013, Motau SC out of concern to miss the deadline set by the Deputy Judge President, made several calls to Sebelemetsa (state attorney). Subsequent to this, the state attorney enquired from 'the client' and was told that there were many averments in the draft prepared by Motau SC they did not agree with. Jiba was proposed by Motau SC to be the deponent to the answering affidavit. It is highly unlikely and improbable that LAD, either through Adv Chita and or Adv. D Mokhatla would receive a draft answering affidavit, decide to have it deposed to by Mrwebi against the advice of Motau SC and then instruct the state attorney to file and serve separated affidavits without discussing their strategy with Jiba. Seen in the context of what is stated in paragraph 124.1.2, the state attorney could not have been instructed by LAD to file separated affidavits without LAD having obtained the go ahead from Jiba. For this reason, her attempt to distance herself from the decision to file separated affidavits is not consistent with the conduct befitting an officer of the court.

132.2 In paragraph 102 of the answering affidavit to these proceedings, Jiba states:

"On 26 June 2013 I happened to be at chambers with Adv Andrew Chauke (Adv Chauke), the Director of Public Prosecutions for south Gauteng (and the person who withdrew the murder charges against Mdluli) for an unrelated matter and decided to stop in to introduce myself to Adv. Motau SC. This was the "unscheduled consultation" referred to in paragraph 8.21 of the founding affidavit. This was however not a full consultation and the merits of the matter was certainly not discussed. Adv Motau SC did mention that draft answering affidavit has been sent and I informed him that I had not received this affidavit. He undertook to send same but I never received it."

133.2.1 With the greatest respect to Jiba, this is a duck and dive tactic. Two things had happened before the so-called "unscheduled consultation" of 26 June 2013: First, on 24 June 2013 Motau SC contacted the state attorney several times to enquire about the draft answering affidavit sent on 21 June 2013. The response by the NPA regarding the enquiry by the state attorney was that "there were many averments (like the disclosure of internal memos) in the draft prepared by Motau SC and his team with which they did not agree". The correctness of this statement by the state attorney (Mr Sebelemetsa) as indicated in his email dated 3 September 2013 is not denied or placed in dispute by Jiba. That being so, Jiba knew or must have known before 24 June 2013 about the draft answering affidavit which was supposed to be deposed to by her. Her statement: "I had not received this affidavit", suggesting as on 26 June 2013, cannot be true. As I said, it is highly unlikely and improbable that Adv Chita and Adv Mokhatla of LAD would have expressed a view about "many averments... they did not agree with" without consultation and approval of Jiba. The suggestion in these proceedings that she did not receive or was not told about the draft answering affidavit by the time she decided to introduce herself to Adv Motau SC on 26 June 2013 and that therefore she did not ignore Motau SC's advice's, cannot be true and is misleading.

134.2.2 Whilst still on the decision to introduce herself to Adv Motau, I find it particularly discontenting that instead of being concerned about whether the deadline set by the Deputy Judge President has been adhered to, she was more interested in introducing herself to Adv Motau SC. That consultation, should never have been "unscheduled consultation"; neither should it have been a brief consultation nor at the spur of the moment consultation. Merits of the matter should have been discussed in detail. Everything to the matter was at stake. There was a deadline of 24 June 2013 already missed to file an answering affidavit which was set by the Deputy Judge President on 5 June 2013. Jiba knew about this because according to her on 7 June 2013 'due to the alleged concerns and frustrations expressed with regard to the delays in filing answering affidavits, a meeting was held with the state attorney and after the discussion it was agreed that since Motimele SC and his team had failed to file the answering affidavit within the time periods required, their mandate should be terminated and that they should be replaced'. This was stated in paragraphs 96 to 97 of Jiba's answering affidavit. With this knowledge and not having deposed to any affidavit to meet the deadline set by the Deputy Judge President, it was incumbent on Jiba to be more concerned with the deadline than just introducing herself and then states in these proceedings: "This was however not a full consultation and the merits of the matter was certainly not discussed".

134.2.3 The other thing which had happened before 26 June 2013 was conveyed in the email of 25 June 2013 from the state attorney. In the email, inter alia, was stated: "Please find the draft amended affidavit for your attention. We have separated the affidavit of Adv Jiba from that of Adv Mrwebi".

134.2.4 Therefore the statement: "I informed him that I had not received it" in paragraph 102 of her affidavit referring to the meeting of 26 June 2013 with Motau SC, could only have been a lie. How can the state attorney prepare separated affidavits of Jiba and Mrwebi at least on 25 July 2013 without Jiba having been told of the draft affidavit prepared and sent by Motau SC on 21 June 2013? The story is far-fetched and improbable. In other words, Motau SC was misled too. This conduct is so serious that Jiba cannot remain on a roll of advocates. This brings me to the other discontenting issue.

134.2.5 The statement: "he undertook to send same, but I did not receive it", referring to Motau SC and the draft answering affidavit, does not make Jiba's case any better. In fact it makes it worse. If she did not receive it, what did she do? She had then introduced herself to Motau SC. She therefore had the opportunity to enquire from Motau SC about the answering affidavit when she did not allegedly receive it. On the same date, that is, 26 June 2013, Motau SC in response to the proposed separated affidavits as per the email of 25 June 2013 recorded: and I do this at the risk of repetition and prolonging this judgment:

"... This despite we note that the same outcome is sought to be achieved by dividing the affidavits as proposed. I do not want us to waste time in dealing with this aspect it shall be one of the agenda items to be discussed at the consultation which is still to be confirmed. In the meantime, may we request that comments and outstanding information be furnished using our original affidavit. We also request that a condonation affidavit be furnished to explain the failure to comply with the filing period as set out in the directives issued by the DJP.

Upon receipt of your comments and the outstanding information using our original draft affidavit as a working document, we shall set a date and time for a consultation to deal with issues in the following sequence:

1. Comments to our original answering affidavit and our reaction thereto,
2. The permissibility or otherwise of the proposed splitting of affidavits,
3. Our comments on the condonation affidavit to be prepared by the NPA accounting for each day that passes without having filed the answering affidavit in terms of the directive,
4. We propose that a period of five hours be set aside for such a consultation".

134.2.6 In dealing with what is stated above which is quoted in paragraph 8.21 of GCB's founding affidavit, Jibs in one paragraph stated:

"AD PARAGRAPH 8.21

157. I have dealt with the unscheduled consultation above. I reiterate that the merits of the application were not discussed in any detail with the Adv. Motau

G SM

SC. It is indeed correct that I advised Adv Motau SC that I had not seen his draft answering affidavit. As mentioned above, he undertook to forward it to me, however I never received it".

134.2.7 It was not about the brief consultation of 26 June 2013, neither is it about whether merits of the application were discussed in any detail. The issue was rather how she dealt with the information in the email of 25 June 2013 from Motau SC quoted in part in paragraph 134.2.5 above. In addition, how she dealt with the draft answering affidavit after her consultation with Motau SC on 26 June 2013.

134.3 After consultation with Jiba on 26 June 2013, Motau SC again forwarded to Jiba and Mrwebi the original draft affidavit and again advised that the way forward would be a per the steps outlined in paragraphs 1 to 4 of Adv. Motau SC's email of 26 June 2013 quoted in paragraph 134.2.5 above. These averments are contained in paragraph 8.2.2 of the founding affidavit to which Jiba in these proceedings responds as follows:

"168. I deny each and every allegation contained in this paragraph as if specifically traversed. No such affidavit was ever sent to me or if it was sent, I never received it. I wish to state that none of the emails referred to in the deponent's founding affidavit were ever sent to my email address of that of my PA. All were sent to the LAD staff in particular Adv Chita and Adv Mokhatla and my PA, Khanya Lamola".

134.3.1 One is by now accustomed to this kind of responses by Jiba in these proceedings. But again, she misses the point and displays conduct which is not only unbefitting of an officer of the court, but also not befitting the conduct of a person holding such high public position in the prosecuting authority.

134.4 On her own version, on 26 June 2016 without discussing merits of the application in Mdluli case, she was told of the draft answering affidavit which was sent on 21 June 2013. It was an officer of the court talking to another officer of the court, the other one having been briefed to deal with the opposition to an application against the prosecuting authority which was at the time headed by Jiba. Without reverting to Adv Motau SC subsequent to the meeting of 26 June 2013 and without terminating Motau SC's mandate, on 2 July 2013 the state attorney received a signed copy of the answering affidavit by Mrwebi, a signed supporting affidavit by Jiba and a confirmatory affidavit by Chauke, (the South Gauteng Director of Public Prosecutions) with the instruction to proceed to serve and file the said affidavits and was also told to forward copies to Motau SC. The state attorney then proceeded to serve and file on 4 July 2013. As accustomed to, the response by Jiba to this is: "I never instructed Mr Sebelemetsa personally".

134.5 It is clear that right at the outset, Jiba and her team did not like the advice given to them by Motau SC. Otherwise the separated affidavits would never have been signed, filed and served. Jiba knew or must have known that by so doing, she will be pushing Motau SC and his team out of the brief. Deposing to the separated affidavits, filing and serving them contrary to the advice of counsel on brief, was in my view, very serious and unprecedented. If she wanted to rely on people internally, that is, Adv. Chita and or Adv. Mokhatla, she should first have withdrawn their instruction to the state attorney and Motau SC as Jiba and her team decided to handle the matter on their own. But instead, she deposed to a separated affidavit and then caused the instruction to be given to the state attorney to serve and file the affidavits without reverting to Motau SC. This was deliberate and displayed an un-repented conduct then and now. She was steadfast to defy logic and advice for as long as her wishes were not accommodated. That is the kind of conduct making Jiba to cease to be a fit and proper person and to remain on a roll of advocates. The conduct is even more glaringly displayed when dealing with the next topic.

Jiba's failure to heed to the advice of advocate Halgryn SC

[135] Later in this judgment I will deal with Mrwebi's failure to heed to advocate Halgryn SC's advice from paragraphs 153 to 153.3.1. The application in FUL (Mdlulí) case before

G S M

Murphy J was set down for hearing on 11 and 12 September 2013. On 5 July 2013 Motau SC and his team, as one would expect, withdrew as counsel for Jiba and Mrwebi. On 2 August 2013 a new legal team was briefed namely, Adv. Leon Halgryn SC and Adv. Johan Uys (Halgryn SC team). On 6 August 2012 Advocate Eulande Mahlangu was added to Halgryn SC team. A series of consultations were held on 5, 6, 7 and 8 August 2013 between the State Attorney, Jiba and her team. Halgryn SC team also studied the case dockets in both the murder and corruption charges. On Friday 10 August 2013, a further consultation took place between counsel and Jiba. Following the latter consultation, Halgryn SC team also withdrew from the brief. This was unprecedented happening indeed:

135.1 Three teams of counsel on brief in one matter, all withdrawing within a short space of time one after the other, was, in my view, a sign of unwillingness on the part of Jiba not to let go the decision to withdraw the charges against Mdluli. Halgryn SC provided Jiba with a document titled "Confidential and privileged memorandum and opinion dated 12 August 2013". This memorandum was provided to GCB by the Prosecuting Authority. It must therefore be accepted that confidentially and privilege with regard to the document has been waived.

135.2 In the memorandum, Halgryn SC expressed scathing criticism of the manner in which the proceedings were conducted to that date and stressed the fact that the record filed by Jiba and Mrwebi did not constitute the record of the proceedings as required in terms of Rule 53.

135.3 In a topic headed "Fundamental flaws in the prosecution of the matter thus far", Halgryn SC referred to the opposition of the application brought by FUL for the review and setting aside of Mrwebi's decision to withdraw the charges against Mdluli as a "sinking ship" and then in paragraphs 9 and 10 of his memo advised:

> "9. These flaws in the prosecution of the matter thus far, (which we had very little difficulty in uncovering), on behalf of our clients are fundamental- so much so- that we are under no doubt that as matters now currently stand our clients are headed towards a certain judgment against them, with every potential of irreparable harm to the credibility and reputation of the National Prosecution Authority.

10. As the papers correctly stand there is simply no defence".

135.4 Then in paragraph 51 of the memorandum, Halgryn SC stated:

"If there is a decision to continue with the opposition of this matter, on the basis of attempting to justify the decisions to discontinue the prosecutions, with reference to the records/dockets, our client will regrettably have to find yet, another team of counsel to do so. We are unable to do so. None of the reasons advanced thus far makes any rational sense, let alone establish a defence".

135.5 I do not intend to traverse the content of a 21 page memorandum of Halgryn SC. It suffices to mention that anyone who might have thought that Jiba will be deterred in her tracks, one would have been mistaken. Secondly, it suffices to mention that Halgryn SC's prediction of the possible scathing criticism by the court was spot on. For example, Murphy J in his judgment inter alia, stated:

"[24] The reasons for the various delays, and late filing, are sparse and most unconvincing. However, in the interests of justice I was persuaded that the matter should proceed without further delay and condoned the non-compliance with the rules and directives of the DJP. Suffice to say that the conduct of the respondents is unbecoming of persons of such high rank in the public service and is especially worrying in the case of the NDPP, a senior officer of this court with weighty responsibilities in the proper administration of justice. The attitude of the respondents signals a troubling lack of appreciation of the Constitution ethos and principles underpinning the office they hold". (The emphasis is mine as was also that of GCB in their founding affidavit).

135.6 I cannot agree more with the sentiments expressed by Murphy J both with regards to the delay, incomplete record and holding steadfast on the decision to discontinue the prosecution against Mdluli despite clear 'sinking ship' and prima facie case in particular regarding the corruption and fraud charges against Mr Mdluli as indicated briefly in paragraph 104 of this judgment.

G SM

135.7 Jiba was not deterred in her tracks by the criticism made by her counsel, Adv. Halgryn SC. Instead, Jiba and Mrwebi insisted in defending the 'sinking ship' which ultimately caused Halgryn SC team to withdraw on 12 August 2013. Thereafter yet another set of counsel Hodes SC's team was briefed and a belated attempt was made to file supplementary affidavit. The application was heard on 11 September 2013 and judgment was handed down on 23 September 2013. The application by FUL was granted by Murphy J making a number of adverse remarks against Jiba including the one quoted in paragraph 135.5 above.

135.8 Attempts to justify her decision not to heed to the advice of Halgryn SC, in my view, just makes her situation worse. In her answering affidavit to the present proceedings, she seems to suggest that the assumption by Halgryn SC team that there was a prima facie case against Mr Mdluli of fraud and corruption charges was wrong. In paragraph 112 of her answering affidavit to these proceedings she states:

"... After I learnt that the charges were withdrawn, I called for a briefing from both the second respondent and Adv Chauke. I was satisfied with the reasons that were advanced for the withdrawal of the charges. With regard to the fraud and corruption charges, it was my understanding that the case was withdrawn to enable the police to finalise the investigations as at that time there was no evidence that linked Mdluli to the offences to which he was charged. To me there was nothing untoward about this".

135.9 For the following reasons such understanding could never have been honestly and truly made:

135.9.1 There was everything untoward about the decision to withdraw the charges. There was a clear prima facie case against Mdluli in the corruption and fraud charges.

135.9.2 Having been briefed by Mrwebi on her request about the merits or demerits of the decision to withdraw the charges, she would have known that Mrwebi, as a special director, was obliged to take the decision to withdraw the corruption and fraud charges in consultation with Mzinyathi as contemplated in the Act. I deal with the relevant provisions in some more detail when I deal with the complaints against Mrwebi. It suffices for now to mention that it is striking that Jiba decided to be briefed by Mrwebi on the corruption and fraud charges to the exclusion of Mzinyathi.

135.9.3 Jiba having called for a meeting with Mrwebi to be briefed on the withdrawal of the fraud and corruption charges, she would have been told that on 8 December 2011 Mzinyathi sent an email to Mrwebi in which he recorded inter alia:

> "Essentially the aspect I want to discuss is that I do not agree with your understanding (as expressed in your memorandum, that you can instruct prosecutors in the North Gauteng Division in respect of which I am appointed as the Director of Public Prosecutions irrespective of my views on the matter. As explained above in summarising our meeting of 5 December 2011, we did not discuss that you have prepared memorandums (already singed on 4 December 2011) in which you are giving the said instructions. Had you mentioned this aspect, I would have made my objections to your approach during our meeting. I am also concerned that you indicated in your memorandum to me that you will advise the attorneys of Mr Mdluli of your instructions that charges will be withdrawn. I hold the view that such advice to the attorneys would be premature as I do not share your views/nor do I support your instructions that the murder charge be withdrawn". (My emphasis)

135.9.4 Jiba having consulted and briefed by Mrwebi on the withdrawal of the charges against Mdluli, would have been told that the provisional withdrawal of the fraud and corruption charges after the meeting of 9 December 2013 between Mrwebi, Mzinyathi and Breytenmbach was a damage control compromise as he (Mrwebi), had already notified Mdluli's lawyers about his decision to discontinue the prosecution. I deal with this in some more detail when I deal with the complaints against Mrwebi.

135.9.5 In my view, Jiba was steadfast to do everything in her power to ensure that the charges against Mdluli were permanently withdrawn. This was despite the prima facie evidence against Mdluli and failure to withdraw the fraud and corruption charges in consultation with Mzinyathi. By so doing, was mala fide and displayed ulterior motive and thus offended against the rule of law and the Constitution. She must be found to be no longer fit and proper person to remain on a roll of advocates. This then brings me to another complaint against Jiba.

Jiba's failure to disclose to the court Breytenbach's memo and representations for the internal review of Mrwebi's decision.

[136] On 12 April 2012 Breytenbach sent a memorandum to Jiba in terms of which she requested Jiba to review the decision of Mrwebi to discontinue the prosecution of Mdluli on the fraud and corruption charges. The memo was received by Jiba on 13 April 2012. On 2 July 2013 Jiba deposed to an affidavit opposing the application by FUL in terms of which the decision by Mrwebi was sought to be reviewed. In paragraphs 21 to 25 of her answering affidavit in FUL application she stated:

"21. The decisions of the third respondent (Mrwebi) and Adv Chauke (the South Gauteng DPP) on this matter have not been brought to my office for consideration in terms of regulatory framework.

22. In the light of the above I did not take any decision referred to in the applicant's founding affidavit. In terms of s 22(2)(b) of the NPA Act, I may intervene in any prosecution process when policy directives are not complied with. I may also in terms of section 22 (c) of the NPA Act review a decision to prosecute or not to prosecute after consulting the relevant director and after taking representations of the accused person within the time period specified by me, the complainant or any other party whom I consider to be relevant.

G Sm

23. At this state there was no policy contravention and/or representations received by me to warrant my intervention.

24. ...

25. To descend to the arena without any representations being made to my office would prejudice the fifth respondent or any other interested party in this matter".

136.1 GCB in paragraph 9.19 of its founding affidavit in these proceedings, inter alia, states: "It is difficult to avoid the conclusion that her affidavit was an attempt by Jiba to deliberately to mislead the court". I tend to agree. Jiba probably when she deposed to her affidavit on 2 July 2013 and stated what is quoted in paragraph 136 above, particularly paragraphs 21, 22 and 25 never thought that one day the memorandum of Breytenbach will surface in court proceedings. It is not her version that she forgot about it when she deposed to her affidavit on 2 July 2013. Instead, she brings in a very startling defence, which in my view, only serves as a trap to herself and displays her again as an un-repented and dishonest person.

136.2 Her explanation in these proceedings is as follows:

> "135. I deny that the memorandum received from Adv Breytenbach was from a person or party that I considered relevant or was obliged to consider relevant. It therefore did not constitute representations from a person contemplated by the provisions of section 22(2)(c) of the NPA Act, or at all. It was a document from a prosecutor who failed to execute tasks assigned to her by her superior. Pursuant to the suspension of Adv. Breytenbach another team of prosecutors was appointed to take the case forward, namely Adv. Becker and Adv Viljoen. There were mamoranda submitted by these prosecutors in terms of which the opposite view was expressed. There was similarly no mention made of this in my affidavit. I deny that I was under any obligation to place the content of internal memoranda received from colleagues before court. (My emphasis).

136.2.1 Jiba is again mistaken. In my view, she was driven by the desire to bury the charges against Mduli once and for all. The provisions of section 22(2)(c) is clear and simple. Jiba being such an astute lawyer as profiled in paragraph 114.1.1 of this judgment, could never have made such a mistake about the interpretation and application of the provisions of section 22(2)(c) of the NPA Act. At the risk of repeating myself, the section reads as follows:

"22. Powers, duties and functions of National Director

1. ...
2. In accordance with section 179 of the Constitution, the National Director-

(b)...

(c) may review a decision to prosecute or not to prosecute, after consulting the relevant Director and after taking presentations within the period specified by the National Director, of that accused person, the complainant and any other person whom the National Director considers to be relevant".

136.2.2 Breytenbach was not only such person who Jiba should have considered relevant, but was also the person best placed to provide Jiba with the relevant information regarding the prima facie evidence against Mdluli. For example, she was involved in the prosecution of Mdluli. On 9 December 2011 she was together with Mzinyathi when they confronted Mrwebi for having withdrawn the charges against Mdluli. On 13 April 2012 by virtue of her having had access to the contents of the docket, provided Jiba with a detailed 24 page memorandum setting out her view why Mrwebi's decision ought to be reviewed in terms of section 22(2)(c) of the Act. Jiba was therefore obliged to disclose the memorandum to the court and to consider the merits of the internal review provided for in section 22 (2) (c) quoted above. She however, chose to ignore Breytenbach and her detailed memorandum. I cannot believe that it was because she felt that Breytenbach was not 'any other person' she was obliged to listen to and consider her memorandum. As I said, her motivation in adopting the attitude as she did must be found in her willingness to protect Mdluli by all means. In so doing she offended against section 179 of the Constitution and the rule of law, something which has a direct relevance to the question whether she should remain on a roll of advocates. She was occupying the highest position in the prosecuting authority by virtue of the fact that she is an admitted advocate on a roll of advocates. Her conduct in bringing the image of the prosecuting authority into disrepute also questions her suitability to remain on a roll of advocates.

136.3 Failure by Jiba not to disclose Breytenbach's memo in the proceedings before Murphy J and failure to consider the request by Breytenbach for internal review of Mrwebi's decision was, in my view, deliberate and was intended to mislead Murphy J.

Jiba's failure to consider the contradictions in the evidence of Mrwebi [137] During April 2012 Breytenbach was charged with misconduct and suspended by Jiba from work pending finalisation of her disciplinary enquiry. On 15 May 2012 FUL served on the prosecuting authority an application to set aside the decisions to withdraw charges against Mdluli. On 22 and 23 January 2013 Mrwebi and Mzinyathi respectively testified in the disciplinary enquiry of Bretenbach. On or about 26 June 2013 Motau SC and his team whilst waiting for the comments of Jiba and Mrwebi on the draft answering affidavit, received from NPA or State Attorney, certain further documentation from the NPA and or State Attorney including the transcript of Bretenbach's disciplinary hearing were received. Upon consideration of such documentation and the transcript, they noticed a series of contradictions between the evidence which had been given on behalf of Jiba in her capacity as Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions during Bretenbach's hearing and the contents of the two draft affidavits prepared by Jiba and Mrwebi. This information as distilled from paragraph 8.23 of the founding affidavit, is dealt with by Jiba in one sentence as follows: "I have no direct knowledge of the contents of this paragraph":

GSM

137.1 Jiba cannot claim not to have known of the contradictions of the evidence adduced during the disciplinary enquiry and the relevance thereof to FUL's application and in particular the validity of the decision to withdraw the fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli. She cannot suspend Breytenbach for misconduct and thereafter pretend like she had nothing to do with Breytenbach disciplinary enquiry. Mrwebi in dealing with section 24 (3) of the Act made a concession during cross-examination in the disciplinary proceedings of Breytenbach, which unfolded as follows:

"Adv Trengrove:	No, you must understand that consult means little bit more than telling the guy what your views are. Correct?
Adv Mrwebi:	Yes you are right, because I consulted with him, the point is that I consulted with him.
Adv Trengrove:	By telling him what your views were.?
Adv Mrwebi:	We did not strictly speaking at first, at first agree, that's the point.
Adv Trengrove:	By the time you took this decision ...?
Adv Mrwebi:	We were not the same mind."

137.2 I revert later to the evidence of Mrwebi when I deal with the complaints against him. I have referred to this evidence just to show that when Jiba deposed to her affidavit opposing the setting aside of the decision of Mrwebi, knew or ought to have known as put by Halgryn SC that they were chasing a 'sinking ship'. The application was clearly unassailable for the following reason: A Special Director (Mrwebi) shall exercise the powers, carry out duties and perform the functions conferred or imposed on or assigned to him or her by the President, subject to the directives of the National Director: Provided that if such powers, duties and functions include any of the powers, duties and functions referred in section 20 (1), they shall be exercised, carried out and performed in consultation with the Director of the area of jurisdiction concerned as contemplated in suction 24(3) of the Act.

G Sm

[138] It is common cause that Mrwebi could only have discontinued the prosecution of Mdluli on the corruption and fraud charges in consultation with Mzinyathi. I dealt earlier in paragraph 135.9.3 above how Mzinyathi reacted angrily to the conduct of Mrwebi. The real point for the topic under discussion is that: Jiba on 2 July 2013 when she deposed to her answering affidavit, which affidavit she deposed contrary to the advice of her counsel (Motau SC), was aware that there was no defence to hold on the decision of Mrwebi regarding the discontinuance of the prosecution against Mdluli on the fraud and corruption charges. In this regard her conduct was wanting and inconsistent with the conduct of a lawyer who should remain on a roll of advocates. But Jiba was relentless in fighting the case brought by FUL and directly or indirectly dismissed team of advocates one after the other because she did not agree with their advices. That was done irrespective of the merits of the advices. By so doing, she ceased to be a fit and proper person to remain on a roll of advocates. I make the order accordingly later in this judgment.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST MRWEBI IN MDLULI (FUL)

[139] Mrwebi in his answering affidavit to the present proceedings categorises complaints levelled against him as follows:

139.1 That he sought to mislead the court by not placing before it a proper record of all the documents and facts relevant for the court to arrive at a proper decision;

139.2 That he persisted with the aforesaid conduct even after he had received the memoranda of Motau SC and Halgryn SC;

139.3 That he sought to mislead the court as to the fact or extent of consultation that allegedly took place between him and Mzinyathi;

139.4 That he made the decision to withdraw the charges before he had consulted with Mzinyathi;

139.5 That he persisted with his conduct even after it had been pointed out to him by both Motau SC and Halgryn SC that his version was demonstratively false.

[140] For the purposes of this judgment, I will not necessarily follow Mrwebi's categorisation of the complaints aforesaid. I will however deal with what I consider to be the essence of GCB's complaints against Mrwebi. In some instances, extensive quotations of his evidence in these proceedings, in FUL and disciplinary proceedings of Breytenbach might be necessary. Some of the complaints against Mrwebi have already been dealt with insofar as they overlap with those against Jiba.

Alleged mistake on the date Mrwebi took the decision to withdraw the charges

[141] Just to recap, Mrwebi was a special director appointed in terms of section 13(1)(c) of the Act, which provides that the President, after consultation with the Minister and the National Director – may appoint one or more Directors of Public Prosecutions, (hereinafter referred to as Special Directors) to exercise certain powers, carry out certain duties and perform certain functions conferred or imposed on or assigned to him or her by the President by proclamation in the Gazette. On the other hand, the President shall as contemplated in section 13(1)(b) in respect of any Investigating Directorate established in terms of section 7(IA), appoint a Director of Public Prosecutions as head of such an Investigating Directorate established by the President in the office of the National Director contemplated in section 7 to deal with offences or criminal offences or unlawful activities as set out in the proclamation issued in the Gazette for establishment of such Investigating Directorate . Mrwebi at all material hereto was the head of the Investigating Directorate and corruption and fraud charges are offences set out in the proclamation by the President as envisaged in section 7(1) of the Act.

141.1 In paragraphs 100 to 107 of this judgment I referred to the events which preceded the taking of the decision to discontinue fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli. On 4 December 2011 not less than two documents were issued under the signature of Mrwebi. Firstly, it was a letter addressed to the Mdluli's lawyers advising them of the withdrawal of the charges. Secondly, it was a document titled: "CONSULTATIVE NOTE IN TERMS OF SECTION 24(3) OF THE NATIONAL PROSECUTING AUTHORITY ACT 32 OF 1998 (NPA) ON REPRESENTATIONS OF LT. GENERAL MDLULI".

G Sm

141.2 Mrwebi suggested during the disciplinary proceedings of Breytenbach, proceedings before Murphy J and in the present proceedings that his decision to withdraw the charges was not taken on 4 December 2011, but rather on 5 December 2011. I have very serious problems with this. For the following reasons the decision must have been taken on 4 December 2011 before Mrwebi met and allegedly consulted with Mzinyathi:

141.2.1 It was common cause that on the morning of 5 December 2011 Mrwebi visited the office of Mzinyathi regarding representations by Mdlulí for the withdrawal of the charges against him. Mrwebi in his answering affidavit of 2 July 2013 dealing with the opposition to FUL application, and in seeking to explain himself, stated:

> "25. Later the same day on 5 December 2011 I drafted and directed a memorandum to Adv Mzinyathi in which I recorded some of my views on the matter as well as the fact that I consulted him as required by section 24(3) of the NPA Act. The Regional Head of SCCU, Adv Breytenbach was copied merely for her information. I also directed correspondences incorrectly dated 4 December 2011 to Adv Breytenbach in which I advised of my decision that the matter must be withdrawn. A further correspondence was directed to the legal representative of Fifth Respondent also advising of my decision. The date appearing on these documents should be 5 December 2011 not 4 December 2011. This was clearly a mistake on my part."

141.3 For the following reasons I do not think it was a mistake:

141.3.1 Firstly, the alleged mistake is not explained. There were at least three documents on which the date of 4 December 2011 was indicated. On each of these documents the date of 4 December 2011 is reflected twice, that is, on the first and last page. The third document which I have not mentioned yet, was a covering letter to the "consultative note". Repetition of the date about six times, without more, could not have been a mistake.

141.3.2 The consultative note and the covering letter to it, were both addressed to Breytenbach, Mzinyathi being the person copied. It is not explained why the two documents dated 4 December 2011 were incorrectly directed to Adv. Breytenbach and incorrectly copied to Mzinyathi, particularly that Breytenbach was not part of consultation between Mrwebi and Mzinyathi on 5 December 2013.

141.3.3 On the morning of 5 December 2011 Mrwebi went to Mzinyathi's office to discuss Mdluli matter. Then in his 'consultative note' he concluded by seeking to explain what had happened during the discussion as follows:

"Because I believed that the IG's assistance would serve to address any short comings\defects about the evidence, I did not during the discussion with the DPP deem it necessary to go into much detail about the merits of the matter although there was brief reference to the merits during the discussions"

141.3.4 "IG" is reference to "Inspector General" in terms of Intelligence Services Oversight Act. Accepting that this is what had happened, there was no need to take a decision to withdraw the charges immediately after having deemed it not 'necessary to go into much detail about the merits of the matter' as that would not have constituted 'in consultation' with Mzinyathi.

141.3.5 According Mzinyathi, it was Mwrebi who approached him in his office. He informed him that he (Mrwebi) was dealing with the representations in connection with the matter of Mdluli. Mzinyathi then in paragraph 7 of his confirmatory affidavit dated 10 September 2013 in FUL case stated:

"...He further informed me that he was going to conduct some research on the Intelligence Serving Oversight. Act, No 40 of 1994. Thereafter he left my office."

141.3.6 So, because there was no basis to take the decision, no such decision could have been taken on 5 December 2011. It appears from the quotation above that when Mrwebi approached Mzinyanthi, he knew that he was going to raise the provisions of the Intelligence Services Oversight Act, whilst on the other hand he had already taken a decision to withdraw the charges against Mdluli. The contents of "consultation note" dealing with what Mwerbi referred to in paragraph 24 of his opposing affidavit in FUL matter, as 'the views that IG can help in the matter as he/she has unlimited access to documents and information in possession of crime intelligence', in my view, was a well-planned mission calculated to give Mzinyathi the impression that a decision to withdraw the corruption and fraud charges against Mdluli was not taken when in actual fact that was fait accompli. I am satisfied that Mwerbi took the decision before he met with Mzinyathi on 5 December 2011.

141.3.7 This is also the understanding of Mzinyathi, which is articulated as follows in his affidavit to the present proceedings:

> "71. I need to emphasise that on 5 December 2011, we did not discuss the fact that he had prepared memoranda, nor did he say he had prepared any, nor did he bring any along. I had no idea that as of the following day, I would suddenly get two memoranda of the nature that I have indicated herein above. I wish to make in unequivocally clear that if we had had such a discussion on the 5 December 2011, I would have raised my objections to his approach during that very meeting."(My emphasis);

141.3.8 Just to conclude on the topic, what is recorded in the 'consultative note'; in my view, serves to support the conclusion I have reached. In paragraph 2 of the 'consultative note' Mrwebi refers to the representations received from Mdluli and then ends the paragraph in the last four lines by stating as follows:

> "The purpose of this document is therefore to deal with and record a decision on the matter. It is the further aim that the document shall serve as a consultative document with the Director of Public Prosecutions North Gauteng as required by Section 24(3) of the NPA Act." (My emphasis) 141.3.9 The two underlined sentences cannot go together. The latter sentence gives the impression that the Mzinyathi (the Director of Public

GSM

Prosecutions North Gauteng) was still to be consulted on the document, whilst the former announces a decision already taken by announcing that the "document is...to deal with and record a decision on the matter". In my view, it is very clear from the quotation above that the document in question could only have been written before the meeting of the 5 December 2011. The way it is coached, speaks to that conclusion. If the document was not there before he met with Mzinyathi, how 'a consultative document' which was not in existence could have been used as a 'further aim that the document shall serve as a consultative document', with Mzinyathi on 5 December 2011? In cross-examination during Breytenbach disciplinary proceedings, Mrwebi blamed the construction as quoted in paragraph 141.3.8 above on being an African. The answer to this effect was preceded by cross-examination of Mrwebi which unfolded as follows:

> "ADV TRENGROVE: Can I take you through sentences one by one. You say the purpose of this document is to deal with and record a decision on the matter, Correct?
> ADV MWERBI: Yes.
> ADV TRENGROVE: So you had taken your decision by the time you issued this document.
> ADV MRWEBI: The decision, I had taken a decision, I had issued, I have taken a decision by the time I wrote this document.
> ADV THENGROVE: But then you say that the aim of this document is to serve as a consultative document with Advocate Mzinyathi.
> ADV MWERBI: Yes, that is correct Sir because I did not record, we had a verbal meeting with Advocate Mzinyathi, I was trying to capture the things that we discussed there with Mzinyathi, that was the idea of..., that's what I'm...

GSM

ADV THENGROVE: I see, so this is not, not then to serve, because you say, it doesn't say: "I record, this is to record the meeting we've already had", this says: "This shall serve as a consultative document."

ADV MWERBI: As a record may be because the point is my intention Sir, you know you will excuse me, maybe my language is not very well. I'm an African Sir, my language is not very good maybe, my English language is not…

ADV TRENGROVE: Sorry?

ADV MRWEBI: My English language may not be very good…

ADV TRENGROVE: Yes neither is mine.

ADV MWERBI: Yes, but the point is, is the intention was to record the consultative discussions that I had with Mzinyathi on the matter".

141.4 With the quotation above, I am even more convinced that the document was prepared before the meeting of 5 December 2011. How can Mrwebi use the document as a "consultative document" with Mzinyathi when he allegedly produced it after he had consultation with Mzinyathi. This should find to have constituted a lie on the part of Mwerbi.

Mrwebi's failure to disclose 'consultative note' and to despatch a complete record

[142] Murphy J in paragraph 41 of his judgment said this concerning Mrwebi:

"Mrwebi determined to withdraw the fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli and prepared a memorandum and a consultative note setting out his reasons dated 4 December 2011. Mrwebi did not disclose these obvious relevant documents as part of his record of decision belatedly filed in terms of Rule 53.They came to light however as annexures to Breytenbach's founding affidavit in her application to the Labour Court".

142.1 The quotation above is referred to in paragraph 9.9 of the GCB's founding affidavit in these proceedings. It is one of the complaints for the case against

G Sm

Mrwebi. In an answer specifically to paragraph 9.9 of GCB's founding affidavit, Mrwebi states:

"116. I have already dealt with the disclosure of the record in proceedings involving NPA and reiterate what I have already stated".

142.2 This statement was preceded by what Mrwebi stated in the present proceedings as follows:

"15... I must emphasise that this document was purely an internal memorandum meant for the attention of the NDP North Gauteng only and was in no way meant to be a complete recording of the reasons for the decision in the matter".

142.2.1 Mrwebi could never have come to the conclusion that a document which contains his reasons for the decision would remain to be 'purely an internal memorandum meant for the attention of the DPP North Gauteng only'. Rule 53 (1) (b) is very clear. It required Mrwebi to despatch within 15 days upon receipt of notice of motion to the registrar the record of such proceedings sought to be corrected or set aside together with such reasons as he is by law required to give. So, in addition to the record of the proceedings, his consultative note which contained his reasons should have been filed. The consultative note did not have to be a complete record of the reasons for the decision in the matter before he was obliged to disclose or despatch it to the registrar as required by the Rules.

142.2.2 On 12 August 2013 Halgryn SC provided NDPP with his memorandum in which inter alia, he recorded:

> "21. We have had regard to 'records' which were indeed filed (which comprise of a scant odd 67 pages) and if we compare it to the actual dockets (each of which comprise of 3 lever arch files there seems to be no logic behind the filing of the skimpy document
> 22. It is palpably not the entire records and our clients are not only going to lose this case for reasons alone, but in the process will undoubtedly be the subject of scathing attacks in open court for failing to provide the full records/dockets, let alone be the subject of a highly critical judgment in which this aspect will receive much attention".

142.2.3 With the critical advice and possible scathing attacks on the skimpy compliance with the provisions of Rule 53, Mrwebi cannot hide, like Jiba attempted to do, behind the fact that LAD was doing everything and that he was just a by-standing person having nothing to do with the case. It was his decision which was challenged. He is a lawyer, an advocate admitted in 1988. During June/July 2012 he was informed of the challenges by FUL. He subsequently consulted with Motimele SC. Then in paragraph 24 of these proceedings, he states:

> "After the aforesaid consultation, I was never contected by any official in regard to the application of FUL until a year later, during July/August 2013 when I was again requested by the Legal Affairs Division to attend another consultation with counsel in Sandton. I duly attended the aforesaid consultation with Halgryn SC, Johan Uys and Eulande Mahlangu". (my emhasis

142.3 Mrwebi has shot himself in the foot for this statement. The statement is for the following reasons false:

142.3.1 On 2 July 2013 Mrwebi deposed to an answering affidavit in FUL matter. At that time, Motau SC was still on brief and Halgryn SC with whom he consulted in August 2013 was not in the picture yet. The answering affidavit was according to his counsel finalised and deposed to on the advice of LAD. If that is so, his statement, "After the aforesaid consultation, I was never contacted by any official in regard to the application of FUL until a year later, (during July/August 2013 ...), referring to consultation with Motimele SC on 11 June 2012, cannot be correct.

142.3.2 Between 21 and 25 June 2013 Motau SC by email was told that only Mrwebi should be deposing to an affidavit as the decision maker. When Motau SC did not accede to this, on 25 June 2013 state attorney and Motau SC were provided with separated affidavits of Mrwebi and Jiba. On 26 June 2013 Motau SC sent an email to the State Attorney objecting to the separated affidavits. Subsequent thereto separated affidavits were commissioned on 2 July 2013 and filed on 4 July 2013. Now, Mrwebi wants this court to believe that all of this about him, had happened without his knowledge and approval until he was contacted during 'July/ August 2013' to consult with Halgryn SC who was briefed on 2 August 2013 and first consultation with him having taken place only on 5 August 2013. His version cannot be true.

142.3.3 Another worrying factor was Mrwebi's suggestion stated in his affidavit of 2 July 2013 as follows:

> "3 Where I make submissions of a legal nature I do so on the advice of the NPA's legal representative".

142.3.4 The first question about the statement is which NPA's legal representative was he referring to? It could not have been Motau SC team because his advice was ignored by the NPA and then Mrwebi and Jiba on their own settled separated affidavits on or before 25 June 2013 and the instruction to serve and file same must have been given before the end of June 2013. So, if Mrwebi intended to suggest that he relied on the advice of NPA's legal representative referring to Motau SC team he would have been untruthful. If he sought to rely on LAD for such an advice, his suggestion that the last time he had anything to do with FUL application was 2012 and that he was then contacted to consult with Halgryn SC in July/ August 2013 similarly cannot be correct for the reason already mentioned above.

142.3.5 As I said, Halgryn SC team was briefed on 2 August 2013 and first consultation with him took place on 4 August 2013. So, by the time Mrwebi deposed to his answering affidavit on 2 July 2013, he had nothing to do with Halgryn SC team, but one thing for sure he knew of the draft answering affidavit. First, he proposed one affidavit by him and later separated affidavits.

142.4 In terms of the statement quoted in paragraph 143.2.3 above, Mrwebi is effectively seeking to suggest that he had nothing to do with the defiance of Motau SC's advice. The tactic adopted by Mrwebi in these proceedings as was the tactic in FULmatter before Murphy J, is the same as the adopted by Jiba, i.e. 'the application was never served on me personally' and as stated in paragraph 32 of his affidavit in the present proceedings, "did not know or become aware that the complete record for purposes of review had not been disclosed".

143.4.1 If his statement is true that he never became aware that the complete record for the purposed of review had not been discovered what did he then do after he had become aware of the critical memorandum of Halgran SC in August 2013? The case was proceeded with and finalised before Murphy J. Seeing that it was his decision which was under attack, he was not expected to play a passive role. It was his duty to ensure that there was compliance with the Rules of court and advice by Halgryn SC. His attempt to blame LAD is of no help to his conduct complained of. Failure to disclose the consultative note and to provide complete record should be found to have been deliberate.

Mrwebi's failure to heed to the understanding he had with Mzinyathi

[144] According to Mzinyathi, on 5 December 2011 Mrwebi visited his office. Mrwebi informed him of the representations made by Mdluli and made Mzinyathi to believe that the meeting was a way of fulfilling the requirement for consultation contemplated in the relevant section 24 (3) of the Act which Mrwebi quoted to Mzinyathi. This version was never disputed by Mrwebi and therefore he would have known that Mzinyathi's attitude was that the decision to withdraw the fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli can only be taken if Mzinyathi agreed thereto.

[145] The discussion centred around section 7(7) of the Intelligence Services Oversight Act no. 40 of 1994 as according to Mrwebi, the section was critical in dealing with Mdluli's representations. They then parted on the understanding that Mrwebi was going to conduct some research on the regulations applicable to the intelligence environment in which Mdluli worked. Section 7(7) has nothing to do with the prima facie case which was established as contained in the docket placed before Mrwebi.

[146] In paragraph 135.9.3 of this judgment I referred to what Mzinyathi 's reaction was to the decision taken by Mrwebi after the meeting of 5 December 2011, a version which is not placed in dispute by Mrwebi. To discuss with a colleague whom you are obliged in terms of the legislative framework to consult and agree with; and parted on the understanding that a decision will not be taken before a research is conducted, but, then thereafter took a decision contrary to the understanding, in my view, can only be ascribed to as a betrayal and consultation in bad faith by an officer of the court. This in my view is so serious that it should justify a removal from the roll of advocates.

Mrwebi's failure to take advice offered by Mzinyathi

[147] Mzinyathi knew on 6 December 2011 when he received two memorandums from Mrwebi that the latter has taken a decision to withdraw the charges against Mdluli on the corruption and fraud charges. The one memo was addressed to Mzinyathi and another one to Adv. Glynis Breytenbach. The one addressed to Mzinyathi was entitled "consultative note" in terms of section 24(3) of the National Prosecuting Authority Act, referred to earlier in this judgment. The one addressed to Breytenbach was headed "Decision regarding the representations of Lt. General Mdluli". In paragraph 28 of the memorandum addressed to Mzinyathi, Mrwebi stated: "The prosecutor is accordingly instructed to withdraw the charges against both Lt-General Mdluli and Col. Barnard immediately". Furthermore, in paragraph 29 of the memo Mrwebi stated that Lt-General Mdluli's lawyers will be advised accordingly.

[148] In the memorandum to Breytenbach, Mrwebi stated:

> "I refer to the attached consultative note in terms of section 24(3) of the National Prosecuting Authority Act, 32 of 1998 to the Director of Public Prosecutions, North Gauteng and which was copied to your office. For reasons stated in the said note, the charges against Lt-General Mdluli and Colonel Barnard must be withdrawn immediately".

[149] That appeared to have infuriated Mzinyathi terribly. On the morning of 7 December 2011, Mzinyathi called Mrwebi and requested to meet with him during the cause of that day. This was after Mzinyathi had a meeting with the prosecutors Mr Smith and Breytenbach that morning. Mrwebi was apparently in Bloemfontein and then, they agreed to meet on 9 December 2011.

[150] On 8 December 2011, Mzinyathi apparently out of anxiety sent an email to Mrwebi. The relevant portion of the email is quoted in paragraph 135.9.3 of this judgment. Of importance, it was clearly conveyed to Mrwebi that he (Mrwebi) cannot instruct prosecutors in the North Gauteng Division in respect of which Mzinyathi is appointed as a Director of Public Prosecutions.

[151] In the present proceedings, Mrwebi seeks to find an excuse in the following statement made by him in paragraph 17 of his answering affidavit:

> "17. Even though the North Gauteng High Court as well as the Supreme Court of Appeal, subsequently ruled that the phrase "in consultation with" as contained in section 24(3) of the National Prosecuting Authority means that there must be concurrence between two functionaries, I was as at 05 December 2011 of the view that my consultation with Adv Mzinyathi, such as it was in full compliance with the provisions of section 24(3) of the National Prosecuting Act".

[152] For the following reasons Mrwebi should be found not to be honest and candid with this court, as he was also not honest in the proceedings before Murphy J.

152.1 Firstly, he was warned in the email of 8 December 2011 that he cannot legally instruct prosecutors in the North Gauteng Division without Mzinyathi agreeing thereto;

152.2 Secondly, according to Mzinyathi on the 9 December 2011 when they met with Mrwebi, the latter was told that his withdrawal of the charges against Mdluli was contested by both of them, that is, Mzinyathi and Breytenbach. It has always been Mzinyathi's contention that a decision to withdraw the charges could not be taken without his concurrence. This version by Mzinyathi was never questioned by Mrwebi, nor did he at any stage raise it with Mzinyathi that the latter's concurrence was not required in terms of section 24(3) of the Act. Only in these proceedings did Mrwebi plead as quoted in paragraph 151 above.

GSM

152.3 On 22 January 2013 Mrwebi took the witness stand in the disciplinary proceedings of Breytenbach. Interpretation and application of the provisions of section 24(3) featured prominently particularly under cross-examination. For its importance, I find it necessary to quote the relevant portion of Mrwebi's evidence during cross-examination:

"ADV TRENGROVE: Did he agree to stop the prosecution?

ADV MRWEBI: The decision was mine.

ADV TRENGROVE: Did he agree to stop the prosecution?

ADV MRWEBI: Okay let's say he did not agree to stop the prosecution.

CHAIRPERSON: Is that your answer?

ADV MRWEBI: That is my final answer.

ADV TRENGROVE: Which means that your decision was unlawful, correct?

ADV MRWEBI: I did not believe so, no.

ADV TRENGROVE: No there is no doubt about this legal rule.

ADV MOKHARI: It's a legal argument.

ADV TRENGROVE: There is no doubt about this legal argument and I simply say to the witness I agree with you that your view is correct, it accords with these cases, but let me do it on that basis. You understood the law to be, rightly or wrongly, that you required substantial agreement on the exercise of that power correct? We also know that Mr Mzinyathi did not agree with you that the prosecution be stopped, correct?

ADV MRWEBI: Mr Mzinyathi did not wholly agree with me in respect of issues that I raise.

ADV TRENGROVE: Mr Mzinyathi did not agree with you that the prosecution be stopped, correct?

GSM

ADV MRWEBI: We left on the understanding that I am going to take a decision. To me that's sufficient agreement. We left on the understanding that I will go and take the decision based on what we have discussed. To me that would have ...

ADV TRENGROVE: Why don't you just answer the question?

ADV MRWEBI: No, no, no, there was no express agreement, expressly, expressly, in express terms

ADV TRENGROVE: The only view he expressed was that the prosecution should go on?

ADV MRWEBI: On the one part.

ADV TRENGROVE: On that issue?

ADV. MRWEBI: Yes.

ADV. TRENGROVE: Yes?

ADV. MRWEBI: Yes.

ADV TRENGROVE: On your understanding of the law thereof your decision was unlawfully taken?

ADV MRWEBI: I do not think it was sir.

ADV TRENGROVE: Because you did not have substantial agreement to stop the prosecution?

ADV MRWEBI: Because sir, I believe I had substantial agreement Sir.

ADV TRENGROVE: You believe you..?

ADV MRWEBI: I believe I had substantial agreement

ADV TRENGROVE: I see, so you believed that Adv Mzinyathi substantially agreed that the prosecution should be stopped?

ADV MRWEBI: Agreed with me, discuss the issue and these are the issues, then he said he will take the decision

GSM

ADV TRENGROVE: Mr Mrwebi we will submit to the chair that this evidence is patently, dishonestly given. It can't be honest.

ADV MRWEBI: That's your view Sir. I can't stop you from saying that".

152.3.1 What is quoted in paragraph 152.3 above was preceded by cross-examination of Mrwebi during the disciplinary hearing of Breytenbach which unfolded as follows:

"ADV TRENGROVE: Was there anybody else who shared your view? Any lawyer who shared your view?

ADV MRWEBI: I do not know, I do not know because I did not consult with anybody else.

ADV TRENGROVE: You don't know because you didn't consult anybody?

ADV MRWEBI: I don't know.

ADV TRENGROVE: I see. Now by the time you took this decision that the matter be withdraw, as you said, you did not yet know what Advocate Mzinyathi's view was, correct?

ADV MRWEBI: You know, the simple view of Advocate Mzenyathi was known, I would say it was known because I, this is what I picked up later on you know, because he says he believed there is a case, that's his view, that was his view, yet I told him the problems later.

ADV TRENGROVE: So at the time you took this decision to the best of your belief Advocate Mzinyathi was of the view that the prosecution should continue?

ADV. MRWEBI: Not necessarily.

TRENGROVE: Yes, but that's what I understand you to say Mrwebi?

ADV MRWEBI: Yes, you said there was ...Yes.

ADV TRENGROVE: I beg your pardon?

ADV MRWEBI: Well, maybe let's say yes.

ADV MRWEBI: Yes, what?

GSM

ADV MRWEBI: Yes it's what, he wanted the prosecution to continue.

CHAIRPERSON: He had that view?

ADV MRWEBI: Well, he did not say so. He did not say so.

ADV TRENGROVE: But your belief was ...

ADV MRWEBI: His view was that you know, on his... In fact he says he did not get deeper into the matter but on the face of it, looks like you know we can, there is a case, that was his view".

152.3.2 Further in cross-examination, his evidence which preceded also what is quoted in 152.3 above unfolded:

ADV TRENGROVE: Did you and he agree to discontinue the prosecution on that day?

ADV MRWEBI: No, we agree on the problems, we did not agree to discontinue the prosecution on that day.

ADV TRENGROVE: You unilaterally decided to discontinue the prosecution without his agreement, correct?

ADV MRWEBI: I think I did so after I consulted him, as I thought I consulted him I was required.

ADV TRENGROVE: Just answer my question. You unilaterally stopped the prosecution with...

ADV MRWEBI: I did not think it was unilateral Sir.

ADV TRENGROVE: You unilaterally stopped the prosecution without his agreement, correct?

ADV MRWEBI: In certain respects, let's say in certain respects.

ADV TRENGROVE: You unilaterally stopped the prosecution without his agreement to stop the prosecution.

ADV MRWEBI: In certain respects.

ADV TRENGROVE: In ... He did not agree to stop the prosecution at all. Correct?

ADV MRWEBI: No, in respect of certain issues.

GSM

ADV TRENGROVE: He did not agree to stop the prosecution at all.

ADV MRWEBI: In respect of certain issues.

ADV TRENGROVE: What do you mean by that?

ADV MRWEBI: He identified, he agreed with me in terms of the problems that there were that..."

152.3.3 I agree with the conclusion by Mr Trengrove as in the quotation under paragraph 152.3 of this judgment. That is, Mrwebi's evidence was 'patently, dishonestly given". Mr Mrwebi seems to have forgotten about the oath which he took as a witness, but also as an officer of the court when he was admitted as an advocate in 1988. He turned himself into an unreliable and dishonest witness. Unfortunately that finds its way into the present proceedings. His statement in paragraph 17 of his answering affidavit in these proceedings quoted in paragraph 151 above is not only a lie, but is intended to mislead this court. He clearly knew long before he deposed to his answering affidavit in FUL matter on 2 July 2013 that his decision would never have been lawful without the agreement, concurrence or substantial agreement with Mzinyathi. I am not sure if he thought this court will have no regard to his evidence adduced during the disciplinary proceedings of Breytenbach. There cannot be any excuse for his lies. He should be found to have ceased to be a fit and proper person to remain on a roll of advocates. He betrayed his oath of office as an advocate and in doing so, also brought the prosecuting authority into disrepute

Mrwebi's failure to heed to Hagryn SC's advice

[153] In paragraphs 135 to 135.9.5 of this judgment I dealt with Jiba's failure to adhere to Halgryn SC's advice. In some respects what is stated therein finds some relevance to the topic under discussion. On 12 August 2013 Halgryn SC provided his written opinion in which he clearly pointed out that the decision to withdraw the charges against Mdluli will not stand in court. Despite the advice, Mrwebi and Jiba persisted in seeking to oppose the application brought by FUL. In paragraph 24 of his answering affidavit in the present proceedings, Mrwebi states that he consulted with Halgryn SC in August 2013. Then in paragraph 25 he concludes by saying: "After the aforesaid consultation, I never interacted in any manner whatsoever with Halgryn SC or any other external legal practitioner in regard to the FUL matter":

153.1 Mrwebi cannot wash his hands. First, he is the person who made the decision which was challenged. Secondly, he knew of the advice by Halgryn SC or ought to have known. " I never interacted in any manner whatsoever with....or any other external legal practitioner", confirms that after consultation with Halgryn SC, he (Mrwebi) interacted with "internal legal practioner/s" seen in the light of what follows hereunder. Jiba in her answering affidavit to the present proceedings puts it this way:

> "110. The approach suggested by Halgryn SC team at the consultation held on 8 August 2013 and prior consultations made a number of assumptions:.. His advice was that therefore that I should review the decision of the second respondent and Adv Chauke in terms of section 22(2)(c) of the NPA Act and give FUL an opportunity to amend their grounds for relief if they still disagree".

153.2 Then in paragraph 111 of her answering affidavit in the present proceedings, Jiba says:

> "I together with the NPA team could not agree with Halgran SC".

153.3 Furthermore, in paragraph 137 of Jiba's answering affidavit in these proceedings and after having dealt with a range of oral advices given by Halgran SC during consultation, she concludes by saying:

> "It was for these reasons that I was uncomfortable with the oral advice furnished to me by the Halgryn SC team. Indeed the entire team of representatives from the NPA disagreed with his advice. I therefore requested the Halgryn SC team to prepare a written memorandum of advice. The representatives of the NPA then also went away and reconstructed the respective dockets".

GSM

153.3.1 Clearly none of the above would have happened without the decision maker's (Mrwebi's) involvement. The point is, Mrwebi's attempt to distance himself from the decision to defy Halgryn SC's advice, smacks him as untruthful and dishonest person in the handling of Mdluli case up to the present proceedings. He should know as a decision maker and a person against whom serious allegations are made in the present proceedings, that he ought to take this court into his confidence than just stating that he never interacted with Halgryn SC or any other external legal practitioner' after consultation with Halgryn SC. The real issue is what he did with Halgryn SC's advice. He together with Jiba ignored solid and right advice given by Halgryn SC. That does not accord with a fit and proper requirement to remain on a roll of advocates. I now turn to deal with the other issue.

Mrwebi's withdrawal of corruption and fraud charges in the face of prima facie evidence

[154] There is a single national prosecuting authority in the Republic, structured in terms of an Act of Parliament, namely the National Prosecuting Authority Act. The prosecuting authority has the power inter alia, to institute criminal proceedings on behalf of the state and to carry out any necessary functions included to incidental to instituting criminal proceedings (section 179(1) and (2) of the Constitution).

154.1 Anyone within the prosecuting authority, who exercises this power, must do so in accordance with the rule of law and the Constitution. Short of this, would be in conflict with the Constitution and the national legislation. Failure to prosecute any case in the face of a prima facie evidence would offend against the law and the Constitution, being the supreme law of the Republic of South Africa.

154.2 It is not my understanding that Mrwebi suggested that there was no prima facie case on the corruption and fraud charges. In his 'consultative note' he expressed himself on the issue as follows and I do this at the risk of repetition:

GSM

> "...Essentially my views related to the process that was followed in dealing with the matter particularly in view of the fact that the matter fall squarely within the mandate of the Inspector-General in terms of Intelligence Services Act 40 of 1994. I noted that it is only the Inspector General who by law is authorised to have full access to the Crime Intelligence documents and information and thus who can give a complete view of the matter as the investigative can never be complete without access to such documents and information. In my view, the process followed in this matter is possibly illegal as being in contravention of the said provisions of the Intelligence Services Oversight Act 40 of 1994".

[156] For the following reasons there was no legal basis to come to the conclusion as quoted above and Mrwebi knew about it:

156.1 If the concern expressed above was genuine, instead of withdrawing the charges, Mrwebi could have allowed the prosecution team and the investigating officer to resort to utilisation of the provisions of section 205 of the Criminal Procedure Act, which allows the Director of Public Prosecutions or a public prosecutor authorised thereto in writing, to request a judge of a High Court, a regional court magistrate or a magistrate subject to the provisions of subsection (4) and section 15 of the Regulation 12 Interception of Communicative and Provisions of Communication – related Information Act 2002, to require the attendance before him or her or any other Judge, regional court magistrate or magistrate for examination by the Director of Public Prosecutions or the public prosecutor authorised thereto in writing, of person who is likely to give material or relevant information as to any alleged offence.

156.1.1 Therefore, Mrwebi could have advised the investigating and prosecution team in the matter to resort to section 205 of Act 51 of 1977 in order 'to have full access to...documents and information' and to subpoena whoever 'can give a complete view of the matter' by submitting documents and information during the proceedings in terms of section 205.

156.2 It looks like the raising of the Intelligence Services Oversight Act was just a shield behind the real intention of Mrwebi, the intention being the withdrawal the charges despite prima facie case against Mdluli and with or without the concurrence of Mzinyathi.

156.3 Before Mzinyathi and Breytenbach met with Mrwebi on 9 December 2011, together with a member of the South African Police Services met with Inspector General of Intelligence's legal advisor, Ms Joy Governder who expressed the view that Inspector General of Intelligence (IGI) does not investigate criminal offences as such Investigations are within the domain of the SAPS.

[157] On 19 March 2012 IGI ambassador, Adv FD Radebe prepared a memo which memo was later forwarded by Lt. Gen. Dramat to Jiba and Mrwebi on 23 March 2012. In the memo addressed to Lt. Gen, NS Mkhwanazi, Acting National Commissioner of Police at the time, it was recorded:

"1. We refer to your letter of the 22nd February 2012 wherein you requested an opinion on the reasons advanced by the National Prosecuting Authority for the withdrawal of the criminal charges against General Mdluli.

2, In response to the memorandum of Adv. Mrwebi of the 4 December 2011 we advise as follows:

2.1 The Inspector- General of Intelligence (IGI) derives her mandate from the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, which provides for the monitoring of the intelligence oversight which much result in a report containing findings and recommendations;

2.2 Any investigation conducted by the Inspector-General is for the purposes of intelligence oversight which must result in a report containing findings and recommendations;

2.3 The mandate of the IGI does not extend to criminal investigations which are court driven and neither can IGI assist the police in conducting criminal investigations. The mandate of criminal investigations rests solely with the police;

As such we are of the opinion the reasons advanced by the NPA in support of the withdrawal of the criminal charges are inaccurate and legally flawed. We therefore recommend that this matter be referred back to the NPA for the institution of the criminal charges".

GSM

[158] How Mrwebi could have missed this simple mandate of IGI is mind boggling. His intention, in my view, was to withdraw the charges against Mdluli and never to reinstate them. The following facts seem to support the conclusion: The memorandum quoted above was brought to the attention of Mrwebi by Breytenbach in the company of Adv Ferreira. Mrwebi in paragraph 21 of his answering affidavit deposed to on 2 July 2013 in the FUL matter, stated:

> "... The document from the IGI in the last paragraph thereof contained a recommendation that this matter must be referred back to the NPA for the investigation of criminal charges".

[159] Then in paragraph 32 of the answering affidavit of 2 July 2013, Mrwebi introduced a revealing shift from his initial basic reason for the withdrawal of charges against Mdluli, and by so doing exposed himself in bad light. He stated inter alia:

> "Later on 30 March 2012 I addressed to General Dramat, advising of the fact that any decision to instruct the withdrawal of the charges still stands and that the matter is closed..." (My emphasis)

159.1 The statement above is in direct contrast to what Mrwebi said in the preceding paragraph 24 of his affidavit deposed to on 2 July 2013 wherein he stated:

> "On 5 December 2011 I met Adv Mzinyathi, the DPP of Gauteng North to discuss the Mdluli matter. In the light of the views I held about the matter that the IG would not only help with access to documents and information as well as the fact that she/he would also assist with the issue of privilege my view as conveyed to the DPP related to the process that was followed by the police in dealing with the matter as well as the view that, in the nature of the matter, the IG can help in the matter as she/he has unlimited access to documents and information in possession of crime intelligence. Because I believe that the IG's assistance would serve to address any shortcomings or defects about the evidence... "

159.1.1 A turn around on the statement quoted above is sought to be explained further in the same paragraph 32 of the answering affidavit of 2 July 2013 as follows:

> "I want to clarify that I wrote in the fashion I did (referring to 'the withdrawal of the charges still stands and the matter is closed'), I did because since our agreement with the DPP, North Gauteng and Adv. Breytenbach on 9

G SM

December 2011 nothing, as far as I was aware changed in terms of the status of the investigation in the matter, no new information was presented on which the earlier decision could be reconsidered and accordingly in my view what was the point of keeping the matter open in the books of NPA, hence my statement that 'the matter is closed'. This statement does not however, mean that should new evidence come to light it may be reopened and dealt with according law".

[160] "I wrote in the fashion I did...", Mrwebi was referring to "the withdrawal of the charges still stands and the matter is closed." Mrwebi was dishonest and sought to mislead the court in FUL matter. First, the charges were not withdrawn because there was lack of evidence. The brief summary of evidence in paragraph 104 above is quite clear that there was prima facie evidence upon which to proceed on the fraud and corruption charges about Mdluli. That was also the views of Mzinyathi to which Mrwebi conceded during the disciplinary hearing of Breytenbach. Secondly, the "consultative note" containing the reasons for the withdrawal of the charges focused on the views of the Inspector General. Lastly, the discussion of 9 December 2011 came after the horse had bolted because Mdluli's lawyers were already informed that the charges against Mdluli would be withdrawn.

160.1 Mzinyathi explained it on 23 January 2013 as follows during his cross-examination in the disciplinary proceedings against Breytenbach:

"ADV TRENGROVE:	So, by the time he met with you on the 9th December he said he was functus officio, correct?
ADV MZINYATHI:	Yes
ADV TRENGROVE:	And we all know that functus officio means that I have taken any decision and I no longer have power to reopen it, correct?
ADV TRENGROVE:	So that presented you with a fait accompli, the horse bolted, the case will have to be withdrawn;
ADV MZINYATHI:	Indeed.
ADV TRENGROVE:	And it was in the light of that fait accompli that you then had your discussion as to what now, correct?
ADV MZINYATHI:	Yes.

G S M

ADV TRENGROVE: And I understand your evidence that you felt, and I'm told that Advocate Breytenbach agreed with you, whether she said so or not, that you did not want the spectacle of a public clash between various affidavits of the NPA, correct?

ADV MZINYATHI: Yes.

[161] So, the provisional withdrawal as agreed on 9 December 2011 had context and the context was not that there was insufficient evidence to prosecute Mdluli on the fraud and corruption charges. Refusing to reinstate the charges after the Intelligence had cleared the way for Mrwebi, bearing in mind that, that was his initial main concern, in my view, displayed how Mrwebi was determined to flout the rule of law and the Constitution by discontinuing the prosecution against Mdluli in the face prima facie evidence and in contravention of the provisions of section 24 (3) of the Act, that is, without concurring with Mzinyathi.

Insistence on 'in consultation' with Mzinyathi

[162] On 9 September 2013, that is, few days before the hearing of FUL application which was scheduled for 11 September 2013, Mrwebi delivered supplementary answering affidavit in an attempt to respond to FUL replying affidavit in which retired Judge Kriegler stated:

> "83. The second is that Advocate Mrwebi still seeks to sit on two stools: whereas his cotemporaneous actions and documents clearly point to withdrawal of charges, i.e. an unequivocal withdrawal of proceedings against General Mdluli, he subsequently sought – and still seeks – to suggest a "provisional" withdrawal.
> 84. The third is that Advocate Mrwebi still persists in generalising when seeking to justify his criticism of the case against the General and his disagreement with the Specialised Commercial Crimes Court prosecutor who had worked up the case with senior investigators and the prosecutor's two experienced supervisors, Advocates Brytenbach and Mzinyathi.
> 85. Then, when the Inspector General of Intelligence ("the IGI") (the fourth respondent) intimated that Advocate Mrwebi was quite wrong in seeking to involve her office instead of the Police, he doggedly adhered to the manifestly position he had adopted from the outset".

GSM

[163] I cannot agree more with the criticism. The 'fourth respondent' was with reference to the Inspector General of Intelligence. Mrwebi in seeking to tackle the criticism as he should, in my view, made his position worse by responding as follows:

> 23. The allegations herein are denied. The Applicant has not made any basis for its bold allegation that I had made the decision to cease the prosecution of the firth respondent.
> 24. I took the decision to withdraw the criminal case in consultation with Adv. Breytenbach and Mzinyathi ..."

[164] There was no 'bold allegation' about it. In the preceding paragraphs, I particularly dealt with the concession and at times serious contradictions made by Mrwebi at every corner regarding the withdrawal of the charges against Mdluli on the corruption and fraud charges. He clearly discontinued the prosecution by all means in the face of a clear prima facie evidence and without concurring with Mzinyathi.

[165] But what has really brought down Mrwebi in the quotation above, is his alleged in consultation with Mzinyathi. For the first time since his decision on 4 December 2011, did he use the words 'in consultation' with Mzinyathi. By 9 September 2013 when he deposed to the supplementary affidavit in Mdluli/FUL case he had already conceded on 22 January 2013 during the disciplinary hearing against Breytenbach that he single-handedly took the decision to withdraw the charges against Mdluli. He later in the disciplinary proceedings moved to 'substantial agreement' with Mzinyathi, something branded by Advocate Trengrove SC as evidence which was 'patently, dishonestly given'.

> "... The decision to withdraw charges was taken in consultation with Advocate Mzinyathi".
> 166.1 Mrwebi clearly has made himself liable to cease to be a fit and proper person to remain on a roll of advocates.

Concluding words on Mrwebi and Jiba

GSM

[167] I cannot believe that two officers of the court (advocates) who hold such high positions in the prosecuting authority will stoop so low for the protection and defence of one individual who had been implicated in serious offences.

[168] In fact, taking into account the kind of personality (referring to Mdluli), Mrwebi and Jiba had to deal with, they should have stood firm and vigorous on the ground by persisting to prosecute Mdluli on fraud and corruption charges. By their conduct, they did not only bring the prosecuting authority and the legal profession into disrepute, but have also brought the good office of the President of the Republic of South Africa into disrepute by failing to prosecute Mdluli who inappropriately suggested that he was capable of assisting the President of the country to win the party presidential election in Mangaung during 2011 should the charges be dropped against him.

[169] It is this kind of behaviour that diminishes the image of our country and its institutions which are meant to be impartial, independent and transparent in the exercise of their legislative public powers. Retired Judge Johan Kriegler in his replying affidavit in FUL review proceedings had the occasion to put it this way:

> "128. In serious matter of public interest, an accountable and transparent organ of state has a responsibility to keep the public informed and to make full and frank disclosure in order to refute, explain or ameliorate dangerous allegations..."

169.1 POCA as a national legislation was introduced in our country and in its preamble, a concern is raised of the ineffectiveness of the ordinary laws of the country to deal with the surge of crimes like corruption and fraud. The Prosecuting Authority Act makes a provision for the establishment of the Investigating Directorate and special Director, (who was Mrwebi at all material times hereto) within the prosecuting authority, to deal with the surge of crimes like corruption and fraud, the mandate being to effectively investigate and prosecute these offences without fear, favour and prejudice.

[170] Mzinyathi, Breytenbach and other prosecuting officials who were involved in the investigation of charges against and prosecution of Mdluli, were like foot soldiers in a war-zoned area crying loud for the freedom and space to declare war and to fight against serious crimes that are crippling our country and threating investment. Jiba on the other hand, was like a commander-in-chief and in charge required to lead by example. But instead, she flouted every rule in the fight against crime. Her failure to intervene when she was required to do so, has failed the citizens of this country and in the process, brought the image of the legal profession and prosecuting authority into disrepute. Both Mrwebi and Jiba should be found to have ceased to be fit and proper persons to remain on a roll of advocates.

COMPLAINTS AGAINST MZINYATHI

[171] GCB's complaint against Mzinyathi arose from his confirmatory affidavit deposed to on 10 September 2013. This was a confirmatory affidavit to Mrwebi's supplementary answering affidavit deposed to on 9 September 2013. Murphy J in his judgment in FUL matter handed down on 28 September 2013 inter alia, criticised Mzinyathi as follows:

> "[52] Mrwebi in his answering affidavit did not deal with Mzinyathi's testimony at the disciplinary enquiry or for that matter with any of the averments in the supplementary affidavit. His account of the events between 5 December 2011 and 9 December 2011 takes the form of a general narrative which does not admit or deny the specific allegations in the supplementary founding affidavit. He nonetheless maintained that he had consulted Mzinyathi. The answering affidavit was not accompanied by a confirmatory affidavit from Mzinyathi who therefore initially did not confirm Mrwebi's general account. In his confirmatory affidavit filed at the 11th hour the day before the hearing without any explanatory whatsoever for it being filed 6 months after the delivery of the supplementary founding affidavit, Mzinyathi differing from his evidence at the hearing, confirmed the allegations in Mrwebi's affidavit as they relate to herein thus saying in effect for the first time that he had indeed concurred in the decision.
> [53] Mzinyathi elaborated further in regraph 7 to 9 of the affidavit that Mrwebi approached him at his office on 5 December 2011, told him that he was dealing with representations regarding Mdluli and needed to consult him. Mrwebi mentioned to him that he was busy researching the Intelligence Services Oversight Act and then left his office. The impression created as mentioned earlier is that no substantive discussions took place that day and hence clearly there was concurrence before Mrwebi wrote the consultative note and communicated with Mdluli's attorneys. Later Mzinyathi heard from Smith that Mrwebi had instructed the prosecutor to withdraw the charges. He then wrote the e-mail of 8 December 2011 to Mrwebi and met him on 9 December 2011 together with Breytenbach. At the meeting he was persuaded that the matter was not ripe for trial and agreed to the provisional withdrawal of the charges. This differs materially from his original position that he was unable to influence the decision because it has been finally taken, but conceded to the characterization of the withdrawal as provisional as a compromise partially addressing his concerns.

GSM

> [54] Taking into account of how it was placed before the court by Mzinyathi after FUL's heads of argument were filed, without explanation for its lateness, and its inconsistency with his testimony at the disciplinary hearing that he was presented with a fait accompli and was unable to influence the decision because Mrwebi claimed to be functus officio, this evidence of the DPP of North Gauteng to the effect that he ultimately concurred, must regrettably be rejected as creditworthy. The affidavit is a belated transparent and unconvincing attempt to rewrite the script to avoid the charges of unlawfulness. The version in the supplementary founding affidavit, originally uncontested by Mzinyathi and corroborated by Mzinyathi's testimony at the disciplinary hearing, must be preferred and accepted as the truth".

[171] In the present proceedings Mzinyathi deals with these criticisms and explains himself extensively in more than twenty page affidavit made out of several paragraphs. I do not intend to deal with his responses in detail. Mzinyathi in paragraph 13 of his confirmatory affidavit deposed to on 10 September 2013 stated:

"I have read the answering affidavit of Mrwebi and the first respondent and confirm the allegations made therein in so far as they relate to me".

[172] It is this statement that brought Mzinyathi in the firing line with Murphy J. This court now has the benefit of hearing Mzinyathi on the remarks made against him. I must immediately point out that I have not been able to find in Mzinyathi's confirmatory affidavit that at the meeting of 9 December 2011 'he was persuaded that the matter was not ripe for trial and agree to the provisional withdrawal of the charges'. What I read in his confirmatory affidavit of 10 September 2013 is that he '...initially disagreed with Adv Mrwebi's decision that the matter should be withdrawn'. The 'not ripe for trial' statement in paragraph 10 of Mzinyathi confirmatory affidavit cannot be attributable to him as his statement, but rather that of Mrwebi and it reads: "The other issue which he raised was that the investigation were incomplete and the matter was not ripe for trial. After extensive discussions we agreed that the matter should be withdrawn provisionally so that the investigating officers can work with the office of the Inspector General of Intelligence to conduct further investigations. Adv. Mrwebi informed Adv. Breytenbach that once the investigations were completed she could re-enroll the matter for trial", something which Mrwebi refused to do after the Inspector General advised that 'the matter be referred to the NPA for the institution of the criminal charges' afresh against Mdlull as quoted in paragraph 157 of this judgment. What is clear from what was stated in paragraph 10 of Mzinyathi's confirmatory affidavit is that "not ripe for trial", was a statement made by Mrwebi to Mzinyathi and Mzinyathi did not own the statement in his confirmatory affidavit. The agreement of 9 December 2013 to provisionally withdraw the fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli has context which is briefly referred to hereunder:

172.1 The statement quoted in paragraph 171 above was preceded in particular by paragraphs 7 to 9 in which Mzinyathi recorded:

"7. On 5 December 2011; Adv, Lawrence Mrwebi approached my office and informed me that he was dealing with representations in connection with the matter of the Fifth Respondent, and that he needed to consult with me in this regard, He further informed me that he was going to conduct some research on the Intelligence Services Oversight Act No 40 1994. Thereafter he left my office.

8. Later I received a copy of a letter from the prosecutor, Adv. Smith in which Adv. Mrwebi instructed the prosecutor to withdraw charges against the Fifth Respondent. In response to the said instruction I wrote an email to Adv. Mrwebi in which I requested a meeting with him to discuss the matter.

9. On 9 December 2011, I and Adv. Breytenbach held a meeting with Adv.Mrwebi in his office, 2nd Floor, VGM Building 123 West Lake Avenue, Weavind Park in Silverton, the NPA Head Office. During our meeting, I initially disagreed with Adv Mrwebi decision that the matter should be withdrawn."

[173] What is quoted above should be seen in the context of the email of 8 December 2011 quoted in part in paragraph 153.9.3 of this judgment, which email Mzinyathi sent to Mrwebi before their meeting of 9 December 2011. This email is also mentioned by Mzinyathi in the present proceedings. Mzinyathi in my view should be commended for standing firm against Mrwebi's withdrawal of the charges against Mdluli. His evidence during Breytenbach's disciplinary proceedings part of which is quoted in paragraph 160 above was consistent with his stand point about what had transpired on 5, 8 and 9 December 2011. That coupled with his detailed answering affidavit in the present proceedings tackling the adverse remarks made against him as quoted in paragraph 169 of this judgment, should bring the complaints against Mzinyathi to rest. Murphy J did not have the benefit of the detailed response which has now been placed before this court by Mzinyathi. The agreement on 9 December 2011 as indicated in paragraph 10 of Mzinyathi's confirmatory affidavit deposed to on 10 September 2013 to have the charges 'withdrawn provisionally' against Mdluli was not inconsistent with what Mzinyathi said during the disciplinary proceedings of Breytenbach as quoted in paragraph 160 of this judgment.

GSM

[174] GBC seems to have been mindful of the insufficient information against Mzinyathi to justify any of the reliefs sought. For example, in paragraph 20 of its founding affidavit, it states:

> "Jiba and Mrwebi, in particular, appear to be entirely indifferent to the demands of the advocates profession and high standard required of them as officers of the court. They have fallen well short of their high duty to the court, which requires absolute honesty and integrity. The affidavits deposed by Jiba and Mrwebi in the FUL matter evince an attempt to mislead the court, at best and, indeed, appear to have been untruthful in material respects". (my emphasis).

[175] Mzinyathi in my view, was consistent throughout. His confirmatory statement quoted in paragraph 171 above has to be considered in the light of what is stated in paragraph 173, all of which speak to the contextualisation of the statement in paragraphs 10 and 13 of his confirmatory affidavit. It is for this reason, amongst others, that this court did not deem it necessary for Mzinyathi to address the court in the present proceedings, neither did GCB insist to proceed against Mzinyathi after counsel for GCB was requested to indicate whether GCB still persists with its application against Mzinyathi.

COSTS

[176] Mzinyathi should be found to have substantially succeeded in his opposition for the relief sought by GCB. For this reason he should be entitled to costs up to the stage when counsel for GCB indicated that the latter will not persist with its relief against Mzinyathi. Similarly, GCB should be found to have substantially succeeded arising from my findings with regard to Jiba and Mrwebi conduct in their handling of Mdluli case.

[177] An order is hereby made as follows:

177.1 The case against Mzinyathi (third respondent) is hereby dismissed with costs, such costs to include the costs of two counsel up to the stage when the applicant (GCB) indicated that it will not persist against the third respondent.

177.2 The application against Jiba (first respondent) and Mrwebi (second respondent) with regard to their handling of Mdluli's (FUL) case is hereby granted and an order is hereby made as follows:

177.2.1 The names of Ms Nomgcobo Jiba (first respondent) and Mr Lawrence Sithembiso Mrwebi (second respondent) are hereby struck from the roll of advocates;

177.2.2 The first and second respondents to pay the costs of the application the one paying the other to be absolved and such costs to include the costs of two counsel.

JUDGMENT

Shongwe ADP (Seriti and Mocumie JJA concurring)

Introduction

[1] The General Council of the Bar (GCB), a voluntary association with legal personality in terms of its constitution, brought an application in terms of s 7(1)(d) of the Admission of Advocates Act 74 of 1964 (the Act) to strike from the roll of advocates, alternatively to suspend officials of the National Prosecuting Authority (NPA) in April 2015. These officials are Ms Nomgcobo Jiba (Jiba), who held the position of Deputy National Director of Public Prosecutions (DNDPP); Mr Lawrence Sithembiso Mrwebi (Mrwebi), who held the position of Special Director of Public Prosecutions and head of the Specialised Commercial Crime Unit (SCCU) and Sibongile Mzinyathi (Mzinyathi) who held the position of Director of Public Prosecutions in North

Gauteng. (For ease of reference and without disrespecting them, I shall refer to all parties by their surnames.)

[2] This appeal is against the order of the Gauteng Division, Pretoria (Legodi and Hughes JJ), striking from the roll of advocates, the names of Jiba and Mrwebi with costs including the costs of two counsel, the one paying the other to be absolved. The application against Mzinyathi was dismissed with costs to include the costs of two counsel. Against the order of costs, the GCB filed a counter-appeal. The appeals are with the leave of the court a quo. The three applications were dealt with in one hearing and were therefore heard together in this court as the factual and legal background was similar.

[3] The appointment of members of the NPA is in terms of s 179 of the Constitution read with s 11 of the National Prosecuting Authority Act 32 of 1998 (the NPA Act). The NPA Act provides for the members of the NPA to be appropriately qualified and to possess legal qualifications that would entitle him or her to practise in all courts in the Republic (s 9(1) of the NPA Act). The GCB has the authority to apply to court for suspension of its members as advocates from practice and the removal of their names from the roll of advocates in terms of s 7(1)(d) of the Act.

[4] Only a court has the authority to strike a name from the roll of advocates or attorneys. In this case the GCB amassed information from various sources and public records, for instance from judgments handed down from various courts such as Freedom Under Law v National Director of Public Prosecutions & others 2014 (1) SA 254 (GNP); National Director of Public Prosecutions &

others v Freedom Under Law 2014 (4) SA 298 (SCA); [2014] ZASCA 58; and Zuma v Democratic Alliance & others [2014] ZASCA 101; [2014] 4 All SA 35 (SCA). And also sourced information contained in the affidavits in the various cases and from the office of the NPA. The gist of the information gathered sought to prove that the appellants (Jiba and Mrwebi) were not fit and proper persons to remain admitted as advocates.

Legal Framework

[5] I now turn to deal with the relevant legal principles to be considered before an advocate can be struck from the roll. The application is brought in terms of s 7(1) of the Act – and it reads as follows:

'Subject to the provisions of any other law, a court of any division may, upon application, suspend any person from practice as an advocate or order that the name of any person be struck off the roll of advocates–

(d) if the court is satisfied that he is not a fit and proper person to continue to practise as an advocate . . . .'

[6] This court in Jasat v Natal Law Society 2000 (3) SA 44 (SCA) ([2000] 2 All SA 310 (A) placed the following guidelines which were followed with approval in Malan & another v Law Society of the Northern Provinces [2008] ZASCA 90; 2009 (1) SA 216 (SCA) para 4:

'First, the court must decide whether the alleged offending conduct has been established on a preponderance of probabilities, which is a factual inquiry.

Second, it must consider whether the person concerned "in the discretion of the Court" is not a fit and proper person to continue to practise. This involves a weighing up of the conduct complained of against the conduct expected of an attorney and, to this extent, is a value judgment.

GSM

And third, the court must inquire whether in all the circumstances the person in question is to be removed from the roll of attorneys or whether an order of suspension from practice would suffice.'

The principles that apply in striking off an attorney from the roll also apply where an advocate is concerned. It is common cause that these proceedings are not ordinary civil litigation proceedings but are said to be sui generis in nature. The GCB as custos morum of the profession acts in the interest of the profession, the court and the general public. The GCB's role is to present evidence of the alleged misconduct to court, and for the court to exercise its disciplinary powers. On the other hand the practitioner is expected to proffer an acceptable explanation to gainsay the allegations. The nature of the proceedings is not subject to the strict rules that govern ordinary civil proceedings. (See General Council of the Bar of South Africa v Matthys 2002 (5) SA 1 (E) para 4 and Society of Advocates of South Africa (Witswatersrand Division) v Edeling 1998 (2) SA 852 (W) at 859I et seq.)

Facts

[7] The genesis and the long history of this appeal arose after a certain Lieutenant-General Richard Mdluli (Mdluli), the head of Crime Intelligence within the South African Police Service (SAPS) had been charged with fraud, corruption and related charges and also with murder and attempted murder. The fraud and corruption charges were subsequently withdrawn by Mrwebi and later Advocate Chauke, the Director of Public Prosecutions (DPP) South Gauteng, also withdrew the murder and related charges against Mdluli. Unhappy about the withdrawal of these charges, Freedom Under Law (FUL), a non-profit organisation recognised to be acting in the public interest in terms of s 38 of the Constitution, launched review proceedings to have the withdrawals set aside. It is significant to mention that Jiba was appointed DNDPP with effect from 22 December 2010 when the GCB launched the application for her to be struck from the roll of advocates. She had been acting as the NDPP after the position became vacant when Advocate Simelane was removed as NDPP. The context of her involvement in this office vis-à-vis the grounds on which she is accused of not being a fit and proper person is important in the proper consideration of the adjudication of this matter.

[8] Several complaints were raised by FUL against Jiba, Mrwebi and Mzinyathi during the hearing of the review proceedings. For example that, through their conduct, they delayed and frustrated the prosecution of the review proceedings by failing to file a record of decision in terms of rule 53 of the Uniform Rules of Court. (I shall revert to this complaint later in the judgment.) For now, it suffices to say that it is one of the reasons put forward by the GCB to show that the appellants were not fit and proper persons. The other complaint by FUL was that the delay to file a record of decision prolonged the review proceedings which resulted in the late filing of the appellants' answering affidavits in the review proceedings. The Deputy Judge President of the Gauteng Division, Pretoria (DJP) had to intervene, by directing the appellants to file their answering affidavit by 24 June 2013, which was eventually filed nine days later. This delay resulted in Murphy J, who presided in the review proceedings, to remark that the reasons advanced for the various delays, and late filing were sparse and mostly unconvincing. This was also raised by the GCB as an indicator of them being unfit persons to remain on the roll of advocates. However Murphy J condoned the non-compliance with the rules and directives of the DJP. I now turn to deal with the complaints against Jiba and Mrwebi which according to the GCB justify declaring them to be not fit and proper persons to remain on the roll of advocates.

GSM

Complaints against Jiba

[9] Initially Jiba raised certain points in limine, that she had not been afforded a proper hearing and the issue of separation of powers. She argued that the GCB should have held an enquiry before approaching a court of law, as is usually done where a practising advocate is charged with misconduct. These points were not pursued on appeal, therefore there is no need to decide them. I now turn to deal with the specific complaints levelled against Jiba.

[10] The first complaint dealt with by the court a quo was in connection with Booysen's case. In that case Jiba, in her capacity as acting NDPP issued two authorisation letters charging Major General Johan Wessel Booysen with the contravention of s 2(1)(e) and (f) of the Prevention of Organised Crime Act 121 of 1998 (POCA). In a nutshell Booysen alleged that Jiba was 'mendacious' when she asserted that she considered statements together with other information in the docket before she took the decision to charge him. This allegation was further exacerbated by the negative remarks of Gorven J who presided in the Booysen matter when he drew an inference that none of the information upon which Jiba relied linked Booysen to the offence in question. The court a quo found that '[i]t suffices for now to conclude on [the] Booysen matter by stating that no case has been made for removal or suspension from the roll of advocates'. I do not find it necessary to deal with the detail of the complaint in view of the finding of the court a quo. I share the sentiment expressed. Before us counsel for the GCB dealt with some of the complaints but, in my considered view did not take the matter any further. The court a quo could not find 'any mala fides and or ulterior motive in the authorisation by Jiba as contemplated in POCA'.

GSM

[11] The next complaint against Jiba was in connection with a challenge on review by the Democratic Alliance (DA), a political party, against the decision of the NPA in which the then acting NDPP, Advocate Mokotedi Mpshe, withdrew corruption charges against the former President Jacob Zuma. The withdrawal came after Adv Mpshe had listened to a recorded conversation on tape between the former NDPP (Mr Bulelani Ngcuka) and the then DPP for Durban (Mr McCarthy). The complaint was in connection with Jiba's handling of this matter in her capacity as acting NDPP. This case popularly became known as the 'spy tapes case'. The specific complaint was that Jiba failed to comply with the requirements of rule 53 of the Uniform Rules which require the disclosure of the record of proceedings under review. As a result the DA approached the high court, Pretoria seeking an order to compel the NPA to comply with the rule. The application was dismissed, subsequently the DA appealed to this court. The appeal was upheld and certain orders were made which the NPA failed to comply with. As a result certain negative remarks were made by this court. Such remarks and failure to comply with the court order were advanced as reasons why Jiba was not fit and proper to remain on the roll of advocates. Because of the findings of the court a quo, which I agree with, it will not be necessary to deal with specifics, save to add that the court a quo concluded that the GCB failed to show any mala fides on Jiba's part or that she was motivated by an ulterior motive. (See the judgment of the court a quo reported as General Council of the Bar of South Africa v Jiba 2017 (2) SA 122 (GP).)

[12] The main reason, in the court a quo's view, why Jiba and Mrwebi were found to be not fit and proper persons to remain on the roll of advocates was their handling of the so called Mdluli case. It is significant to note that the court a quo started by describing who Mdluli was and detailed his personality, characterised him in an egregious manner as if he was already convicted of the allegations against him. This characterisation, in my view, negatively influenced the court a quo's evaluation of the manner in which Jiba and Mrwebi handled the Mdluli case. The relevance of which is not clearly explained. The court a quo, in its judgment, referred to a letter by Mdluli to former President Zuma, the Minister of Safety and Security and the Commissioner of Police, which stated that the charges brought against him were a conspiracy. I was unable to glean the relevance of quoting from the said letter. In my view the content of the letter was far-fetched and did not establish whether Jiba was a fit and proper person to practise as an advocate.

[13] The specific complaints were: (a) that she failed to file a full complete rule 53 record even after a court order to that effect; (b) that she failed to file an answering affidavit after the DJP had directed her to do so and that she did not file her heads of argument timeously; (c) that her reason for the delays were sparse and unconvincing; (d) that her conduct as a person of high rank in the public service was unbecoming; (e) that she failed to disclose that she had received a 24 page memorandum from Advocate Breytenbach and that she deliberately attempted to mislead the court with reference to the memorandum; (f) that this court had criticised her conduct in the handling of the Mdluli matter; and (g) that she failed to make a full and frank disclosure to refute, explain or ameliorate the serious allegations against her.

[14] It is significant to consider these complaints together with Jiba's answers and explanation in the context of her position as acting NDPP and the fact that she is cited herein as a litigant. Jiba was not acting as counsel representing a client. She acted as head of the NPA, therefore the State Attorney and counsel had to be appointed to represent her. In her answering affidavit she explained the policy applicable where an official had been cited in his or her representative capacity. She further explained that the Legal Affairs Division (LAD) tasked with the handling of all matters pertaining to civil litigation dealt with this matter. The LAD was headed by Advocate Nomvula Mokhatla the Deputy National Director of Public Prosecutions. In her team, were deputy directors, senior State advocates and senior State prosecutors. This team would prepare a memorandum on steps to be taken, arrange consultations with her and advise on how the LAD would handle the matter further. Counsel would be briefed by the State Attorney. She further explained that the LAD is similar to 'an in-house legal department . . . '.

[15] Jiba's explanation to counter the complaint that she failed to file a full and complete rule 53 record was that Advocate Motimele SC and Advocate Notshe SC had been briefed to advise on the preparation of the rule 53 record. It was prepared by Advocate Chita on behalf of the NPA on the advice of the Motimele SC team. This was done after Advocate Chita had consulted with Mrwebi and Advocate Chauke whose impugned decisions were to be reviewed. Her conduct must be viewed and equated to an attorney and client relationship to her advisors. She is a trained lawyer, however her opinion would be secondary to that of counsel and the LAD. She cannot, in my considered view be said to be not a fit and proper person simply because she was advised otherwise. It must be considered that she did not benefit in any manner whatsoever from providing an incomplete rule 53 record, nor did she act dishonestly. In para 24 of Murphy J's judgment he condoned the non-compliance with the rules and directives of the DJP. To me this is an indication that no prejudice was caused to any party. We preside in matters daily where attorneys and counsel take incorrect decisions or instructions, and also file court processes out of time, however, they apply for condonation; and in most cases such would be granted if no prejudice would result. The legal practitioners in these instances are not necessarily unfit persons to practise as advocates or attorneys in so doing.

[16] The complaint that she failed to disclose the memorandum from Advocate Breytenbach and thereby deliberately attempted to mislead the court, was explained as follows. It must be clear from the onset that this was a confidential internal memorandum prepared by Advocate Breytenbach to Jiba expressing a different view to the impugned decision by Mrwebi. The court a quo concluded in para 136.3 that '[f]ailure by Jiba not to disclose Breytenbach's memo in the proceedings before Murphy J and failure to consider the request by Breytenbach for internal review of Mrwebi's decision was, in my view, deliberate and was intended to mislead Murphy J'. It was not Murphy J who said that Jiba attempted to mislead the court. It was the court a quo's conclusion on the reasons set out above. The truth of the matter is that when Murphy J heard the review proceedings, the Breytenbach memo had already been in the public domain at the labour court when Breytenbach was fighting against her suspension. It cannot, therefore be fair, to accuse Jiba of failing to disclose the Breytenbach memo before Murphy J. Jiba cannot, fairly be accused or alleged not to be a fit and proper person for failing to consider the request by Breytenbach for the internal review of Mrwebi's decision. Surely Jiba should be entitled to her own opinion based on facts at her disposal. She should not be punished for differing with Breytenbach. Murphy J went further to say that 'The NDPP in her answering affidavit, though not dealing directly with the [Breytenbach] memo, maintained that the decision to withdraw charges had not come to her office for consideration "in terms of the regulatory framework"'.

GSM

[17] The next complaint arose from a meeting between Jiba and Advocate Motau SC, who had been briefed after Motimele SC's team withdrew on 26 July 2013, in an unscheduled consultation. She is reported to have said that she had not received the answering affidavit settled by Advocate Motau SC. Whereas Advocate Sebelemetsa of the State Attorney's office had written to Advocate Motau SC's team advising them that the draft answering affidavit had been amended by separating Jiba's from that of Mrwebi. Advocate Sebelemetsa also wrote a memo on 3 September 2013 advising that they 'never had any consultation with the team [i e Advocate Motau SC] in preparation of the said affidavit'. The court a quo concluded that Jiba 'was steadfast to defy logic and advice [from Advocate Motau SC] for as long as her wishes were not accommodated. That is the kind of conduct making Jiba to cease to be a fit and proper person and to remain on the roll of advocates'. Therefore the court a quo was of the view that Jiba lied when she told Advocate Motau SC that she had not received the affidavit. In my view it is not the only reasonable inference to be drawn. As explained above, the State Attorney would liaise with the LAD and deal with issues and correspondence without necessarily informing Jiba. All that needed to happen was to have Mrwebi sign the affidavit and that Jiba sign a supporting affidavit. The explanation could be that Jiba's team was of the view that the impugned decision in the Mdluli matter was that of Mrwebi. The signed affidavit was received by Advocate Motau SC. The difference of opinion between Advocate Sebelemetsa on the second and third of July 2013 long after the unscheduled consultation with Motau SC and Jiba's team and the inference drawn by the court a quo, in my considered view, would not justify labelling Jiba a dishonest person and consequently not fit and proper to remain on the roll of advocates. As a result of this misunderstanding Advocate Motau SC and his team withdrew from the matter.

GSM

[18] Advocate Halgryn SC was briefed after the withdrawal of Advocate Motau SC. After several consultations Advocate Halgryn was in disagreement with the manner in which the case had been conducted. He was of the view that from the papers there was no defence. Jiba responded to Halgryn SC's team by saying that 'it assumed that there was a prima facie case against Mdluli of fraud and corruption which had to be enrolled and prosecuted . . . it assumed that the decision of Adv Chauke not to proceed with the other charges while he had referred the matter to a formal inquest was incorrect . . . it assumed that I [Jiba] had stood back and did nothing since the withdrawal of the charges'. She further explained that the fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli were withdrawn for purposes of further investigation and that the intention was to reinstate these charges if further incriminating evidence came to hand. The difference of opinion should not and cannot fairly be considered sufficient to conclude that Jiba is not a fit and proper person to remain on the roll of advocates. Perhaps one may infer some form of incompetence with regard to her duties, which may be a ground to remove her from being the DNDPP but not sufficient enough to be removed from the roll of advocates. Jiba also referred, in her answering affidavit, to the view of two senior State prosecutors who also handled this matter, namely Advocate Andre Becker and Advocate Rita Viljoen who expressed the view that there was insufficient evidence to prosecute Mdluli on the fraud and corruption charges. It follows therefore that the GCB failed to establish any misconduct against Jiba. Therefore the first jurisdictional requirement was lacking. In the circumstances of this case there is no need to deal with a value judgment to determine whether Jiba is a fit and proper person to remain on the roll of advocates. Therefore even the sanction imposed of striking her name from the roll does not arise. The court a quo materially misdirected itself when it came to the conclusion that the decision is one no reasonable court could make.

GSM

Complaint against Mrwebi

[19] The main complaint against Mrwebi was that he sought to mislead the court on the extent of the consultation or 'in consultation' between himself and Mzinyathi. Put differently that he took a decision to withdraw the fraud and corruption charges against Mdluli before he consulted with Mzinyathi in terms of s 24(3) of the NPA Act. It is alleged further that Mrwebi persisted with this conduct even after having been advised by Motau SC and Halgryn SC that he was wrong. The other complaints were that he sought to mislead the court by not providing a proper record of all the documents and facts relevant for the proper determination of the FUL review proceedings. Some of the answers and explanations given by Jiba relating to the rule 53 record are relevant and applicable to the case of Mrwebi and may be properly considered herein.

[20] What weighs heavily against Mrwebi are the answers and explanations proffered by him against these allegations. Mrwebi received representations from Mdluli regarding the fraud and corruption charges. He apparently decided to withdraw and discontinue the prosecution of Mdluli before discussing with Mzinyathi or 'in consultation' with Mzinyathi as required by s 24(3) of the NPA Act. It is apparent that Mrwebi furnished contradictory explanations of when and why he decided to withdraw the charges against Mdluli. It is clear from Mzinyathi's confirmatory affidavit that he contradicted Mrwebi's assertions that there was any form of consultation on 5 December 2011 when the two met and discussed the Mdluli matter. At some point while discussing this matter Mrwebi created the impression that the decision to discontinue the prosecution fell squarely within the mandate of the Inspector General of Intelligence (IGI) in terms of the Intelligence Services Oversight Act 40 of 1994. Murphy J found that '[i]t is common cause that Mrwebi did not consult the SAPS or the IGI prior to withdrawing the charges, and that Mzinyathi and Breytenbach informed Mrwebi at the meeting with him on 9 December 2011 that the IGI was not authorised to conduct criminal investigations'. The IGI, indeed, confirmed that '[t]he mandate of the IGI does not extend to criminal investigations which are court driven and neither can the IGI assist the Police in conducting criminal investigations'.

[21] It is highly possible that Mrwebi, genuinely, did not comprehend what the concept 'in consultation' meant, however the concessions he made under cross examination by counsel for the GCB, indicated that he was at most confused. I would not classify his explanations as dishonest. However I am prepared to find that the GCB succeeded in establishing the alleged offending conduct on a preponderance of probabilities. Because there was no personal gain from Mrwebi's conduct, I do not think that the sanction handed down is justified. The purpose of these proceedings is to uphold the rules regulating the profession and not to punish the wrongdoer. (See Society of Advocates of South Africa (Witwatersrand Division) v Cigler 1976 (4) SA 350 (T) at 357 G-H.)

Complaints against Mzinyathi

[22] Murphy J made some negative remarks against Mzinyathi suggesting that the confirmatory affidavit of Mzinyathi differed from his evidence tendered at the disciplinary hearing of Breytenbach. The GCB interpreted this supposed contradiction as misconduct, hence it was of the view that Mzinyathi was not a fit and proper person. The court a quo placed the misunderstanding by Murphy J into perspective and contextualised it. It came to the conclusion that Mzinyathi, should be commended for standing firm against Mrwebi's withdrawal of the charges against Mdluli. His evidence during Breytenbach's disciplinary proceedings was consistent with his stand point surrounding what transpired on the fifth, eighth and ninth of December 2011. The court a quo, correctly so in my view, dismissed the complaint against Mzinyathi with costs, up to the stage when the GCB indicated that it will not persist against Mzinyathi.

[23] The GCB was granted leave to appeal the costs order against it in favour of Mzinyathi. The GCB contended that it acted reasonably and in the interest of its members and the public at large when it brought the application against Mzinyathi. It further contended that Mzinyathi together with Jiba and Mrwebi had been criticised by not only the high court (Murphy J) but also by this court. Finally it averred that the normal rules of costs in adversarial proceedings should find no application.

[24] On the other hand, counsel for Mzinyathi contended that the general principle with regard to costs is that the court exercises its discretion and that the successful party should, as a general rule, have his or her costs. (See Ferreira v Levin NO & others; Vryenhoek & others v Powell NO & others 1996 (2) SA 621 (CC) para 3.) He argued that the fact that the GCB was the custos morum should not insulate it from paying costs and that no special treatment should be given to the GCB.

[25] I am unable to find any reason that demonstrates that the court a quo did not exercise its discretion honestly and judiciously. Therefore this court is not empowered to interfere with the findings of the court a quo. The only recognisable basis is possibly that the GCB acted as a custos morum. However, s 9(1) of the Constitution provides that everyone is equal before the law and has the right to equal protection and benefit of the law. (See Biowatch Trust v Registrar Genetic Resources & others [2009] ZACC 14; 2009 (6) SA 232 (CC); 2009 (10) BCLR 1014 (CC).) I am unable to provide a cogent reason as to why Mzinyathi should be out of pocket when the GCB dragged him to court without sound and reasonable grounds for doing so. The GCB should at least, have withdrawn the application to strike Mzinyathi's name from the roll of advocates, immediately after the filing of his answering affidavit in this matter. The court a quo was able to identify the misunderstanding Murphy J was labouring under and the explanation given by Mzinyathi. The GCB recklessly, if not irresponsibly, continued to implicate Mzinyathi in a matter where he had no involvement without verifying the allegations. The only matter wherein Mzinyathi filed a confirmatory affidavit was the FUL matter; he was not involved in the so-called 'spy tapes' investigation and the Booysen case. The GCB did not even explain its insistence in its replying affidavit. Counsel for Mzinyathi elaborated at length on the various instances where the GCB unreasonably continued to implicate Mzinyathi in its heads of argument. Due to the view I take on the issue of costs, it is not necessary to exhaust the list. The counter-appeal stands to be dismissed with costs.

SEQ 29/2021-926

Appropriate sanction

[26] A court of appeal is entitled to interfere with the exercise by the court a quo of its discretion if it is satisfied that it did not bring an unbiased judgment to bear on the issues before it, or exercised its discretion upon a wrong principle and or as a result of a material misdirection. (See Kekana v Society of Advocates of South Africa 1998 (4) SA 649 (SCA) at 654E-H and 655G and Vassen v Law Society of the Cape of Good Hope 1998 (4) SA 532 (SCA) at 537; also reported at [1998] 3 All SA 358 (A).) Stated differently, but to the same effect, in Fine v Society of Advocates of South Africa (Witwatersrand Division) 1983 (4) SA 488 (A) at 494H – 495A, the court remarked that:

G SM

'[T]he Appeal Court will only interfere with the exercise of this discretion on the grounds of material misdirection or irregularity, or because the decision is one no reasonable Court could make.'

[27] As regards Mrwebi, I am of the considered view that the court a quo treated him harshly. Mrwebi, notwithstanding his misconduct, did not personally gain anything from his actions. His failure to comprehend the concept of 'in consultation', in my view should perhaps be attributed to his incompetence or naivety rather than his honesty and lack thereof. I recognise the principle that the main consideration is the protection of the public and not to punish. In my view the court a quo over-emphasised the nature and personality of Mdluli, his past misdemeanours or alleged criminal activities and found it abhorrent that Mrwebi had withdrawn the fraud and corruption charges against him. Although it later transpired that the charges were not finally withdrawn, it was a provisional withdrawal. The approach of the court a quo did not only close its reasoning but ultimately led it to commit material misdirections by finding that Mrwebi had committed misconduct arising from allegations irrelevant to his case. The withdrawal of charges against Mdluli became the centrepiece of the inquiry, whereas the handling and conduct of the administrative procedures and negative remarks by the judges a quo were indeed the cause for the complaint. The court a quo, in my view, did not bring its unbiased judgment to bear.

[28] The GCB alleged that Mrwebi sought to mislead the court by not placing before it a proper record of all the documents. That Mrwebi sought to mislead the court as to the date of the consultation with Mzinyathi, whether it was the fourth or fifth of December 2011. All these complaints collectively or individually cannot justify the striking off the roll of advocates. These are common mistakes which counsel make in their daily work and are mostly excusable. Moreover Mrwebi was not acting for a client but was a litigant advised by the LAD and counsel. Nowhere in the judgment of the court a quo was it shown that the court considered a suspension instead of the ultimate penalty of striking an advocate off the roll and reasons why a suspension was not an appropriate sanction. I am of the view that considering all the facts and circumstances of this case a suspension of Mrwebi as an advocate would be the appropriate sanction. I am alive to the fact that a court of appeal's interference with the trial court's discretion is permissible on restricted grounds. The basis of my interference is grounded on my findings that the court a quo did not bring its unbiased judgment to bear on the question before it, and materially misdirected itself. (See Benson v SA Mutual Life Assurance Society 1986 (1) SA 776 (A) at 781I-782A.)

[29] In conclusion, as regards Jiba, the evidence presented by the GCB juxtaposed with the explanation proffered by her failed to establish the alleged offending conduct on a preponderance of probabilities. On that ground the appeal must succeed. It becomes unnecessary to consider the discretion of the court on the question whether or not she is a fit and proper person to remain on the roll of advocates. As regard Mrwebi, I am satisfied that the alleged offending misconduct has been established and also concur that the court a quo exercised its discretion judicially when it concluded that he is not a fit and proper person to practise as an advocate, however, misdirected itself regarding the appropriate sanction to be imposed. Based on the reason given above, this is a case where the court a quo should have suspended Mrwebi, more especially, that he did not personally benefit from his misconduct nor did he prejudice any client. All that the court a quo was dissatisfied with was that '[b]y their conduct, they did not only bring the prosecuting authority and the legal profession into disrepute, but have also brought the good office of the President of the Republic of South Africa into disrepute by failing to prosecute Mdluli who inappropriately suggested that he was capable of assisting the President of the country to win the party presidential election in Mangaung during 2011 should the charges be dropped against him'. Surely this is irrelevant and cannot be a good reason singularly or cumulatively to remove an advocate from the roll.

[30] We have had cases in this court against advocates who had admitted to unlawfully enriching themselves of millions of rands, who in the result have been either suspended or ordered to repay the spoils (see General Council of the Bar of South Africa v Geach & others; Pillay & others v Pretoria Society of Advocates & another; Bezuidenhout v Pretoria Society of Advocates [2012] ZASCA 175; 2013 (2) SA 52 (SCA)). In the case of Mzinyathi on costs, no cogent and justifiable grounds have been placed before this court to interfere with the discretion of the court a quo, save to underscore the tradition of the GCB being insulated against a costs order regardless. The appeal in this regard must also fail.

[31] In the result I make the following order:

1 The appeal is upheld with no order as to costs.

2 The counter-appeal is dismissed with costs including the costs of two counsel.

3 Paragraph 177.1 of the order of the court a quo is confirmed.

4 Paragraph 177.2.1 and 177.2.2 are set aside and replaced with the following:

'The application for the striking off the roll of Ms Jiba and Mr Mrwebi is dismissed with no order as to costs; however as regards Mr Mrwebi he is suspended as an advocate for a period of six months from the date of this order (15 September 2016).'

GSM

SEQ 29/2021-930

J B Z Shongwe
Acting Deputy President
Supreme Court of Appeal

Van der Merwe JA (Leach JA concurring)

[32] I have had the benefit of reading the judgment of Shongwe ADP, and find myself respectfully unable to agree with his conclusions in respect of the appeal and cross appeal. In my judgment the appeals of Ms Nomgcobo Jiba (Ms Jiba) and Mr Lawrence Sithembiso Mrwebi (Mr Mrwebi) should fail and the cross appeal of the General Council of the Bar (the GCB) should succeed.

[33] An advocate is required to be of 'complete honesty, reliability and integrity'. See General Council of the Bar of South Africa v Geach and others [2012] ZASCA 175; 2013 (2) SA 52 (SCA) paras 126-127. It goes without saying that these qualities are particularly required of an advocate who holds high public office in the administration of justice.

[34] Whether a person should be struck from the roll of advocates for failure to comply with these standards, is determined by a three-stage process. The first entails a factual finding in respect of the alleged offending conduct. If that conduct is established, the second stage comprises a finding as to whether the person is a fit and proper person to continue to practise. If not, the third stage involves the exercise of a discretion in respect of whether a removal from the roll of advocates or suspension from practise is appropriate. This court, on appeal, has limited grounds to interfere with such discretion. It can only do so if the court a quo acted capriciously, or on a wrong principle, or if it failed to bring an unbiased judgment to bear on the issues or did not have substantial reasons – see Kekana v Society of Advocates of South Africa 1998 (4) SA 649 (SCA) at 654D-G.

[35] In light of these considerations I deal with the appeals of Ms Jiba and Mr Mrwebi in turn.

Ms Jiba

[36] Ms Jiba was a Deputy National Director of Public Prosecutions. During the period from 28 December 2011 to 30 August 2013 she acted as the National Director of Public Prosecutions and thus headed the National Prosecuting Authority (NPA). The contention that Ms Jiba is not a fit and proper person to continue to practise as an advocate was based on her alleged conduct in her capacity as Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions (ANDPP) in relation to three matters.

[37] In the first matter, Freedom Under Law (FUL), a public interest organisation, inter alia, sought the review and setting aside of the decision of Mr Mrwebi, who was at the time a Special Director of Public Prosecutions, to withdraw charges of fraud and corruption against Lieutenant-General Richard Mdluli. At the time Mr Mdluli was the head of the Crime Intelligence Unit of the South African Police Service (SAPS). FUL succeeded in the Gauteng Division, Pretoria where Murphy J reviewed and set aside the decision to withdraw these charges against Mr Mdluli. His judgment is reported as Freedom Under Law v National Director of Public Prosecutions and others 2014 (1) SA 254 (GNP) (the FUL matter). An appeal to this court against that part of the order of Murphy J was unsuccessful. In National Director of Public Prosecutions and others v Freedom Under Law [2014] ZASCA 58; 2014 (4) SA 298 (SCA) Brand JA, speaking for a unanimous court, held that Mr Mrwebi had failed to comply with the provisions of s 24(3) of the National Prosecuting Authority Act 32 of 1998 (the NPA Act), which required him to take the decision in consultation with, that is with the concurrence of, the Director of Public Prosecutions for the Gauteng Division, Pretoria (Mr Mzinyathi).

[38] In the second matter, Major-General Johan Booysen, in essence, sought the review and setting aside of the decision of Ms Jiba to authorise the institution of a prosecution against him. The matter served before Gorven J in the KwaZulu-Natal Local Division, Durban who granted the relief claimed. Gorven J found that the decision was irrational. His judgment is reported as Booysen v Acting National Director of Public Prosecutions and others [2014] 2 All SA 391 (KZD) (the Booysen matter).

[39] The relevant aspects of the third matter appear from the judgment of this court in Zuma v Democratic Alliance and others [2014] ZASCA 101; [2014] 4 All SA 35 (SCA) (the Zuma matter). This judgment formed part of protracted litigation between Mr Zuma and the Democratic Alliance and dealt with the precise ambit of a previous order that the ANDPP produce and lodge the record relating to the decision to discontinue the prosecution of Mr Zuma.

[40] The court a quo based its finding that Ms Jiba was not a fit and proper person to practise as an advocate, only on her conduct in the FUL matter. In the process it rejected the contentions of the GCB that the conduct of Ms Jiba in the Booysen and Zuma matters also justified her being struck from the roll of advocates. In this court, counsel for Ms Jiba argued that in the absence of a cross appeal it was not open to the GCB, on appeal, to rely on the conduct of Ms Jiba in the Booysen and Zuma matters.

[41] This argument is without merit. It is trite that on appeal a respondent may seek to justify the order appealed against on any ground that the record of appeal allows. A cross appeal is only required when a respondent seeks a variation of the order of the court a quo, as is the case here in respect of the costs order against the GCB. The reason for this is that an appeal lies only against an order, not the reasons for the order. It matters not that the reasons for the order may to some extent have been incorporated in the order itself. The court a quo made the order in respect of Ms Jiba that the GCB had proposed. A cross appeal in respect thereof would be nonsensical. Thus, the GCB was entitled to seek to justify this order with reference to the Booysen and Zuma matters.

[42] The essential issue in the Zuma matter was whether the record of decision that had been submitted by Ms Jiba should have included certain tapes or transcripts, alleged by Mr Zuma to be confidential, and internal memoranda of the office of the NDPP relating to the tapes and transcripts. Navsa ADP said that in her answering affidavit Ms Jiba failed to adopt a position in respect of the former and resorted to 'a metaphorical shrugging of the shoulders'. He said that this displayed a baffling lack of interest in being of assistance to the court. In respect of the internal memoranda, Navsa ADP stated that 'Ms Jiba provided an "opposing" affidavit in generalised, hearsay and almost meaningless terms'. Navsa ADP added that the generalisation resorted to by Ms Jiba was, 'to say the least, disingenuous'. Thus, this court held in the Zuma matter that Ms Jiba had acted in a singularly unhelpful manner and had been less than truthful.

T S M

[43] In her answering affidavit in the Booysen matter, Ms Jiba stated that she had based the decision to authorise the prosecution of Mr Booysen on, inter alia, four documents that were annexed to her answering affidavit, as annexures NJ2, NJ3, NJ4 and NJ5. She said that Mr Booysen 'is directly implicated under oath in the statements placed before me in Annexures "NJ2" to "NJ5"'.

[44] In this regard Gorven J held as follows:

'[31] The submissions of Mr Booysen in his replying affidavit can be summarised as follows. Two of the annexures are sworn statements made under the name of Colonel Aiyer. These are annexures NJ2 and NJ4 respectively. Mr Booysen describes these as statements which concern "office politics" and submits that they in no way implicate him in any of the offences with which he has been charged. The second of these, in addition to not implicating him in any of the offences in question, was deposed to on 31 August 2012, some two weeks after the first impugned decision was taken. The document referred to as a statement by Mr Danikas, annexure NJ3, is not a sworn statement. It is not even signed by anyone. It is not dated. Even if it can be attributed to the named person and even if it was a sworn statement as claimed by the NDPP, the contents do not cover the period dealt with in the indictment except for one event which does not relate to Mr Booysen. As regards annexure NJ5, this does not implicate Mr Booysen in any of the offences in question.

[32] In argument, the respondents did not in any way challenge the above factual submissions concerning the nature and content of the annexures in question. The factual submissions appear to me to be accurate.'

[45] Counsel for Ms Jiba pointed out that annexure NJ3 was patently not an affidavit, it had not even been signed, and argued that it is improbable that Ms Jiba intended to express a deliberate falsehood or attempted to mislead the court in respect of this annexure. That may be so, but the force of the argument is reduced by the fact that Ms Jiba did not explain in her answering affidavit, in the present matter, that she had mistakenly described annexure NJ3 as a statement under oath. In any event, this could not explain the objectively false statements by Ms Jiba under oath that she had regard to all these annexures when she made the decision to authorise the prosecution of Mr Booysen and that Mr Booysen had been directly implicated in the alleged crimes in all of these statements. The court a quo should, in my view, have taken cognisance thereof that unexplained false statements were made by an advocate acting as the NDPP in respect of the essence of the Booysen matter, namely the reasons for the decision to authorise the prosecution.

[46] In the FUL matter a dismally incomplete record of the decision had been filed out of time. I am in agreement with counsel for Ms Jiba that in terms of rule 53(1) the primary obligation to submit the record of decision rested on Mr Mrwebi. He had taken the decision to withdraw the fraud and corruption charges against Mr Mdluli. But that did not absolve Ms Jiba from all responsibility. Indeed, in her answering affidavit in the present application she did not rely on the absence of an obligation on her to ensure the filing of a proper record of the decision. Instead, she attempted unconvincingly to justify the filing of an incomplete record on the basis of uncertainty at the time as to what should be included in such a record of decision. As the head of the NPA, who had been cited in that capacity as a party in the FUL matter, Ms Jiba bore the overall responsibility for the submission of a proper record of the decision. It suffices to say that this conduct displayed at least a lack of appreciation of the duty of an advocate to assist the court to come to a speedy and just conclusion.

[47] This is also illustrated by the following. On 8 October 2012, FUL delivered a supplementary founding affidavit in terms of rule 53(4). On 14 March 2013 it filed a further supplementary affidavit. This was necessitated by the paucity of the records filed and by further documents that had become publicly available. The respondents in the FUL matter, including Ms Jiba and

Mr Mrwebi, had to file answering affidavits by no later than 2 May 2013. They did not do so. On 5 June 2013, Ledwaba DJP issued a directive obliging the respondents to deliver answering affidavits by no later than 24 June 2013. One would have thought that the timeous filing of the answering affidavits of Ms Jiba and Mr Mrwebi would in the circumstances have become a matter of critical concern to them. On her own evidence, however, Ms Jiba made no attempt to ensure compliance with the directive. New counsel was briefed to draft the answering affidavits of Ms Jiba and Mr Mrwebi only on 18 June 2013. Nevertheless, by 21 June 2013 counsel had managed to prepare draft answering affidavits and made them available for perusal and comments to be given by midmorning on Sunday, 23 June 2013. Ms Jiba said that she was unaware hereof. On 26 June 2013, two days after the deadline for the filing of the answering affidavits, Ms Jiba had an unscheduled meeting with counsel in chambers. Counsel personally informed her that the draft answering affidavits had been made available. This notwithstanding, the answering affidavits were only filed on 4 July 2013.

[48] Mr Mrwebi took the decision to withdraw the fraud and corruption charges against Mr Mdluli on 4 or 5 December 2011. These charges related only to certain motor vehicle transactions. During April 2012, two members of the NPA, advocates G Breytenbach and J M Ferreira, submitted a memorandum to Ms Jiba. This memorandum was referred to by the parties as the Breytenbach memorandum and for convenience I continue to do so. The Breytenbach memorandum implored Ms Jiba to review the decision of Mr Mrwebi to withdraw the fraud and corruption charges in respect of the motor vehicle transactions. It also mentioned that new evidence of possible further similar offences by Mr Mdluli had since become available.

[49] Ms Jiba did not mention the Breytenbach memorandum in her answering affidavit in the FUL matter. In the founding affidavit in the present matter, the GCB suggested that this failure to disclose the Breytenbach memorandum constituted an attempt to mislead the court and that suggestion found favour with the court a quo. However, FUL had obtained the Breytenbach memorandum and it formed part of its papers in the FUL matter. This is not clear form the record, but I accept that it was probably submitted with one of FUL's supplementary founding affidavits. Although Ms Jiba did not appear to be aware that the Breytenbach memorandum formed part of the papers, I accept that it is improbable that she intended to conceal the Breytenbach memorandum.

[50] However, this is not the end of the enquiry for present purposes. Ms Jiba stated in her answering affidavit, in the FUL matter, that the decision of Mr Mrwebi 'had not been brought to my office for consideration in terms of the regulatory framework' and that she had not received a request to review the decision by a person whom she considered to be relevant. She went so far as to say that to 'descend into the arena without any representations being made to my office' would prejudice Mr Mdluli or any other interested party.

[51] A different picture emerged from Ms Jiba's answering affidavit in the present matter. First, she said that immediately after she learnt that the charges against Mr Mdluli had been withdrawn, she called for a briefing by Mr Mrwebi and Mr Chauke (who had withdrawn murder charges against Mr Mdluli) and was satisfied with the reasons that were advanced for the withdrawal of the charges. Thus, Ms Jiba in fact did review or reconsider the withdrawal of the charges.

[52] Second, Ms Jiba elaborated as follows in respect of the Breytenbach memorandum:

G.S.M

'135. I deny that the memorandum received from Adv Breytenbach, was from a person or party that I considered relevant or was obliged to consider relevant. It therefore did not constitute representations from a person contemplated by the provisions of section 22(2)(c) of the NPA Act, or at all. It was a document from a prosecutor who failed to execute tasks assigned to her by her superior. Pursuant to the suspension of Adv Breytenbach another team of prosecutors was appointed to take the case forward, namely Adv Becker and Adv Viljoen. There were memoranda submitted by these prosecutors in terms of which the opposite view was expressed.'

[53] This view about the Breytenbach memorandum could not have been honestly held. Ms Breytenbach was the regional head of the Specialised Commercial Crime Unit in Pretoria. This memorandum was submitted by 'the lead prosecutors in the matter'. In their 24 page memorandum they made a persuasive case that Mr Mdluli should be prosecuted on the fraud and corruption charges relating to the motor vehicle transactions. The Breytenbach memorandum was certainly worthy of consideration. The statement that it emanated from a person that was not and should not have been considered relevant, is simply spurious.

[54] Third, after the answering affidavit of Ms Jiba in the present matter had been filed, the GCB requested copies of the memoranda by advocates Becker and Viljoen, in terms of the provisions of rule 35(12). Only one memorandum, dated 25 June 2013, was produced. It did not at all convey that the prosecution of Mr Mdluli should not proceed. It only conveyed that the investigation of the fraud and corruption charges in respect of the motor vehicle transactions and four other matters of similar nature, had not yet been concluded. Thus Ms Jiba's evidence was untruthful in all three of these respects.

[55] The matters that I have mentioned extend beyond mere incompetence or unsuitability for the position of ANDPP. First, they demonstrate a serious lack of appreciation or disregard of the duty of an advocate to be of assistance to the court and to uphold the administration of justice. The fact that Ms Jiba was a litigant in official capacity in these matters is no excuse. That was all the more reason for her to conduct the litigation with the utmost trustworthiness and integrity. Second, in all three matters Ms Jiba gave untruthful evidence under oath and thus displayed dishonesty and a lack of integrity.

G S M

[56] The importance of legal practitioners being scrupulously honest in their dealing with the court has been stressed time and again in this country – see eg Toto v Special Investigating Unit 2001 (1) SA 673 (E) at 683A-F and the cases there cited. As the court stressed in Kekana at 655G-656B, in our system of justice the courts should be able to rely absolutely on the word of practitioners, and for that reason there is a serious objection to allowing a practitioner who is untruthful, and deceives or attempts to deceive a court, to continue in practice. What is also relevant, but was not taken into account by the court a quo, is that Ms Jiba has persisted throughout these proceedings with a denial under oath of misconduct on her part. This shows a lack of insight into what she did wrong. In itself it is an important factor which refers adversely on her character, and is a weighty consideration in militating against any lesser stricture than her removal from the roll – see Vassen v Law Society of the Cape of Good Hope 1998 (4) SA 532 (SCA) at 539B-C.

[57] As is mentioned in more detail below, the GCB is the watchdog of the profession. As such, it bears an onerous duty owed to the public at large to ensure that practitioners meet the high standards of integrity expected of them. Instead of recognising the importance of the functions the GCB carries out as custos morum of the profession, she berated it. She alleged, inter alia, that the GCB had displayed 'double standards', that the founding affidavit of the GCB 'seeks deliberately to mislead the court and indeed the public' and that the application 'is therefore misconceived, mischievous and is designed to embarrass me.' All these allegations are unsubstantiated. None of this is consistent with the high standards of integrity expected from a practicing advocate.

[58] For the aforementioned reasons I am not persuaded that the court a quo erred in finding that Ms Jiba was not a fit and proper person to practice as an advocate. In fact the reasons to do so are more extensive than those relied on by the court a quo. There is therefore not only no reason to interfere with the exercise of the discretion of the court a quo in respect of the appropriate sanction, but in my view it was correct in ordering Ms Jiba's name to be removed from the roll.

Mr Mrwebi

[59] Mr Mrwebi was a Special Director of Public Prosecutions and headed the Specialised Commercial Crime Unit of the NPA. As I have said, he was directly responsible for submitting the record of his decision in the FUL matter. He failed to file a proper record and did not deliver his answering affidavit in time. He gave no acceptable explanation for these failures. On his own evidence he took no interest in these aspects.

[60] These instances of unreliability must be also viewed in the light of what follows. Mr Mrwebi said that he took the decision to withdraw the fraud and corruption charges against Mr Mdluli on 5 December 2011, after he had spoken to Mr Mzinyathi earlier that day. He recorded the reasons for his decision in a memorandum which he said was incorrectly dated 4 December 2011. In the memorandum he expressed scepticism in respect of the merits of the charges, but said that this was unimportant in view of his conclusion. His conclusion was that 'the offences for which Mdluli was charged fall squarely within the mandate' of the Inspector-General of Intelligence (IGI) in terms of the Intelligence Services Oversight Act 40 of 1994. He concluded that the prosecution of Mr Mdluli could therefore not continue and that the investigator should advise the complainants to refer the complaint to the IGI.

[61] On 22 January 2013 Mr Mrwebi testified in disciplinary proceedings instituted against Ms Breytenbach, after her suspension from office during April 2012. His evidence under cross examination in respect of his engagement with Mr Mzinyathi presented a sorry picture. He acknowledged that s 24(3) of the NPA Act required the agreement of Mr Mzinyathi in order for the charges to be withdrawn. He then attempted to say that he did reach such agreement with Mr Mzinyathi on 5 December 2011. Then he referred to this as a '50/50 agreement'. Thereafter he referred to it as 'substantial' agreement. However, earlier in his evidence he said that at their meeting, on 5 December 2011, Mr Mzinyathi had expressed the view that there was a prima facie case against Mr Mdluli. Mr Mrwebi eventually conceded that Mr Mzinyathi did not agree to stop the prosecution at all.

'ADV TRENGOVE: He did not agree to stop the prosecution at all. Correct?

ADV MRWEBI: No, in respect of certain issues.

ADV TRENGOVE: He did not agree to stop the prosecution at all.

ADV MRWEBI: In respect of certain issues.

ADV TRENGOVE: What do you mean by that?

ADV MRWEBI: He identified, he agreed with me in terms of the problems that there were that . . .

ADV TRENGOVE: Did he agree to stop the prosecution?

ADV MRWEBI: The decision was mine.

ADV TRENGOVE: Did he agree to stop the prosecution?

ADV MRWEBI: Okay let's say he did not agree to stop the prosecution.

CHAIRPERSON: Is that your answer?

ADV MRWEBI: That's my final answer.'

GSM

Notwithstanding this, Mr Mrwebi thereafter recanted by saying that he believed that he had reached substantial agreement with Mr Mzinyathi on 5 December 2011. This prompted counsel to say that he would submit to the chairperson of the enquiry that this evidence was patently dishonest. That would indeed be a proper description of his evidence.

[63] By then Mr Mrwebi must have realised that his decision would not withstand scrutiny. As an officer of court he should have conceded this. But Mr Mrwebi persisted in opposing the relief claimed in respect of his decision in the FUL matter. In his answering affidavit in that matter he glossed over his conversation with Mr Mzinyathi on 5 December 2011. He then said that at his subsequent meeting with Mr Mzinyathi and Ms Breytenbach, on 9 December 2011, they both agreed with him that there was a serious defect in the case against Mr Mdluli on the merits. This was not only irrelevant, as the decision to withdraw the charges had been taken on 5 December 2011, but was emphatically shown to be untrue by the evidence of Mr Mzinyathi and the conduct of Ms Breytenbach.

[64] In his answering affidavit in the present application, Mr Mrwebi repeatedly said that on 5 December 2011 he had been under the impression that he was only required to speak to Mr Mzinyathi in order to comply with s 24(3) of the NPA Act, and that it had not been necessary to obtain his approval. This directly contradicted his evidence at the disciplinary hearing.

[65] It is quite astonishing that a Special Director of Public Prosecutions could have held the view that the investigation of fraud and corruption charges relating to motor vehicle transactions fell within the functions of the IGI. When Mr Mzinyathi and Ms Breytenbach questioned this during their meeting with Mr Mrwebi on 9 December 2011 (they had spoken to the legal advisor of the IGI on the previous day), Mr Mrwebi intimated that his withdrawal of the charges on 5 December 2011 should be regarded as provisional, pending further investigation.

[66] On 26 March 2012 a letter from the office of the IGI to the Acting National Commissioner of the SAPS, dated 19 March 2012, was handed to Mr Mrwebi. This letter conveyed the following clear position:

'1. We refer to your letter of the 22 February 2012 wherein you requested an opinion on the reasons advanced by the National Prosecuting Authority for the withdrawal of the criminal charges against Lt General Mdluli.

2. In response to the Memorandum of Adv Mrwebi of the 4 December 2011 we advise as follows:

2.1 The Inspector- General of Intelligence (IGI) derives her mandate from the Constitution of the Republic of South Africa, 1996 and the Intelligence Services Oversight Act, 1994 (Act 40 of 1994) which provides for the monitoring of the intelligence and counter- intelligence activities of the Intelligence Services,

2.2 Any investigation conducted by the Inspector-General is for the purposes of intelligence oversight which must result in a report containing findings and recommendations;

2.3 The mandate of the IGI does not extend to criminal investigations which are court driven and neither can IGI assist the police in conducting criminal investigations. The mandate of criminal investigations rests solely with the Police;

As such we are of the opinion the reasons advanced by the NPA in support of the withdrawal of the criminal charges are inaccurate and legally flawed. We therefore recommend that this matter be referred back to the NPA for the institution of the criminal charges.'

GSM

[67] Without any further investigation or engagement, Mr Mrwebi responded in writing to General Dramat of the SAPS on 30 March 2012 'that my decision to instruct the withdrawal of the charges still stands and that the matter is closed'. His subsequent explanation of this conduct, namely that it had been agreed on 9 December 2011 that there was a serious defect in the case and that nothing changed thereafter, has been shown to be false. The inference is irresistible that Mr Mrwebi had throughout used his senior position in the prosecutorial service to advantage Mr Mdluli and to ensure that he not be prosecuted.

[68] As already set out, Mr Mrwebi lied about the events of both 5 and 9 December 2011 and abused his position. Not only has Mr Mrwebi shown himself to be seriously lacking in integrity, but has failed in these proceedings to have taken the court into his confidence and fully explained his actions. All of this hallmarks him as a person unfit to practice as an advocate, particularly in the light of the authorities already referred to when dealing with Mr Jiba. I have no hesitation in endorsing the order of the court a quo that Mr Mrwebi should be struck from the roll of advocates.

Cross appeal

[69] The GCB cross appeals against the following order of the court a quo:

'The case against Mzinyathi (third respondent) is hereby dismissed with costs, such costs to include the costs of two counsel up to the stage when the applicant (GCB) indicated that it will not persist against the third respondent.'

The GCB submits that no order should have been made in respect of the costs of Mr Mzinyathi.

GSM

[70] In the FUL matter, Murphy J made findings in respect of the credibility of Mr Mzinyathi that required serious consideration of whether he was a fit and proper person to continue to practice as an advocate. Murphy J inter alia said:

'Taking account of how it was placed before the court by Mzinyathi, after FUL's heads of argument were filed, without explanation for its lateness, and its inconsistency with his testimony at the disciplinary hearing, that he was presented with a fait accompli and was unable to influence the decision because Mrwebi claimed to be functus officio, this evidence of the DPP of North Gauteng, to the effect that he ultimately concurred, must regrettably be rejected as un-creditworthy. The affidavit is a belated, transparent and unconvincing attempt to re-write the script to avoid the charge of unlawfulness.'

These findings formed the heart of the complaint against Mr Mzinyathi in the present application.

[71] In his answering affidavit in the present application, Mr Mzinyathi explained the circumstances of his involvement and the context of his affidavit in the FUL matter. In the result, the GCB did not engage with the answering affidavit in its replying affidavit and at the hearing in the court a quo declared that it left the matter of Mr Mzinyathi in the hands of the court.

[72] The GCB is the custos morum of the profession of advocates, in the public interest, in much the same manner that the Law Societies act as the guardians of the attorneys' profession. As such it brings matters of alleged misconduct of advocates to the attention of the court. The nature of an application by the GCB to strike an advocate from the roll of advocates is a disciplinary enquiry conducted by the court. In these sui generis proceedings the GCB is therefore not in the position of an ordinary litigant. See Society of Advocates of South Africa (Wits Division) v Edeling 1998 (2) SA 852 (W) at 859G-I. For these reasons our courts have over many decades recognised the principle that unless the GCB had acted irresponsibly in bringing a disciplinary matter to the attention of the court, the GCB should not be mulcted in costs, even if the court decides that the practitioner should not be struck from the roll or suspended. See the remarks of Tindall J in Incorporated Law Society v Taute 1931 TPD 12 at 17, approved by this court in Botha v Law Society, Northern Provinces [2008] ZASCA 106; 2009 (1) SA 227 (SCA) para 22.

G S M

[73] It was with explicit recognition of this principle that counsel for Ms Jiba submitted that no order as to costs should be made in the event of her appeal being successful. The court a quo was not alive to this principle and therefore misdirected itself. The GCB cannot be faulted for bringing the findings of Murphy J to the attention of the court. It was its duty to do so. Even though the answering affidavit of Mr Mzinyathi in the present application appeared to contain an acceptable explanation of the criticisms of Murphy J, it was not for the GCB to assume the function of the court and determine that the proceedings in respect of Mr Mzinyathi should terminate. Its decision to leave the matter in the hands of the court, was principled and responsible. In my judgment the GCB should therefore not have been ordered to pay Mr Mzinyathi's costs.

[74] I would therefore make the following order:

1 The appeal of the first appellant (Ms Jiba) and the second appellant (Mr Mrwebi) are dismissed, and they are in each instance to pay the costs of the respective appeal, such costs to include the costs of two counsel.

2 The cross appeal of the GCB in the case of the third respondent a quo, Mr Mzinyathi, is upheld with costs of two counsel, and para 1 of the order of the court a quo is altered to read as follows:

'The case against Mzinyathi (third respondent) is dismissed with no order as to costs.'

I, Aris Danicas, 45 years of age, a former member of Technotronic Electronics in South Africa, would like to make the following statement regarding the criminal offense of members of the Cato Manor Organized Crime Unit, which I witnessed as a volunteer policeman in the unit since 1999 up to 2008. I would like to stress my deepest concern that this statement, which describes the criminal acts that I have witnessed, could put my own life and the life of my immediate family, including my wife's relatives in South Africa, in danger and I make this statement on the agreement that the South African authorities will do their part to ensure the safety and security of my immediate family and myself.

Furthermore, I am deeply concerned that the description of these acts will make me a target of false accusations and will involve me in the crimes of the members of the Cato Manor unit, of which I was a witness but not a member of them. It should also be stressed that any misconduct in order to compromise my credibility and the blurring of my character will be compounded by the very people who committed the crimes I have witnessed and who are also officers of the police and who possess the means to counter the evidence against me. Therefore, I make this statement on the agreement that I will be protected legally and be ensured against these attempts to falsely involve me in any crime. I also accept to be examined as a witness, but not in South Africa, only by video communication and only after we have been offered Witness protection.

In the 1990s, I helped the police to arrest a number of shop robbers and I was asked by Major-General Booysen to be a reservist, after a meeting that had followed between us. He then told me that he would take me to his own unit under his protection and that I would never have to wear a uniform or serve in a police station and that he would use me only in his own very and of high standards unit, as I was considered in my community a specialist in electronics due to my work and expertise in the field.

3.

All applications were completed by the unit's secretary. All approvals and certificates of criminal records, as well as my applications, were completed by Major-General Booysen himself.

4.

Major-General Booysen personally transported me in his car to the various government departments in order to submit the relevant applications. He also had a serious disagreement with the Commander of the Police Department, where I had been booked as a reservist, because from the first day of my registration, Major-General Booysen ordered my transfer to the Cato Manor Unit.

5.

I have submitted all my detailed records of the case files from 2000 to 2008 to an electronic file I handed over to Lieutenant – General Mabula. These are the same records that I filed twice a month at Major-General Booysen's office at the Provincial Headquarters. The same records were also collected personally once a month in person by Police Officer B 'Mitchell, who was working at the central office of the reservists under the command of the Police Chief Officer Kennedy.

6.

I have never been paid for my term of office as a police reservist. In addition, I have been injured on duty many times and received medical care at the expense of the State. As a result, I have permanent injuries to my back, knee and neck.

7.

I have been given police firearms such as a 9-mm Beretta parabellum, which was given to me permanently with a special permission from Booysen's office, and I was also given, a pepper spray, handcuffs, a police siren, a safety vest, a police light for my private car, a police radio transmitter, and a common crime scene investigation kit, like the one that all the members of the unit had in their vehicles. I have in my possession letters signed by Booysen himself, which authorize all the above concessions. When I was called to join operations in my field of expertise, I was also assigned a R5 rifle for the duration of the mission.

8.

I had been trained in firearms handling, Special Units methods and in crime investigation procedures. The members of the Cato Manor Unit usually wore regular clothes.

9.

At that time, I was a very close friend of the Major-General Booysen's family.

I sold to him electronics from my store at a discounted price, I gave for free electronics from my store to him and his family, and I did a lot of repairs without any charge and spent a significant amount on other gifts and entertainment for him and his family. Major-General Booysen generally had the requirement of me to entertain him and his family at my own expense in return for my protection from criminals, to give him my apartment to use during his private moments with his mistresses. He would call it: "A FAVOR FOR A FAVOR". He had similar agreements with other businessmen I knew. He always demanded some type of favor from these businessmen and, in return, arranged for his team from the Cato Manor unit to protect these businesses and to sort out any problems that the businessmen might had with the law or security. For example, during the most instances that I was traveling to Greece, Booysen posted a Cato Manor police officer to guard the premises of my business for as long as I was away. Some of the police officers who guarded my store were Shane Naidoo and Panday Viresh. When I had to send my wife to the bank with a large sum of cash, Booysen would send armed members of the Cato Manor unit to escort her to the First National Bank at Musgrave. When Interpol and FBI members arrived in Durban, Booysen ordered me to meet them for lunch and dinner at a Greek restaurant and expected me to cover all the costs so that he looked good. When Booysen wanted to buy a Mercedes Benz from a local dealer in Durban, he asked me to call the owner of the company (a wealthy Muslim and a member of the family who owned the NMI dealership) and pass him the message that he wanted to buy a good car at a good price, in exchange for help from the members of the Cato Manor unit in the event of theft or hijacking of the cars of his dealership.

Major-General Booysen was responsible for some of the incidents that occurred at the Cato Manor Organized Crime Unit. He was always called on high profile incidents and any serious shooting incident involving the murder of suspects by his members.

Other times, he would arrive after a shootout when many suspected criminals were killed. If the shooting episode was near driving by car, he would always drive there and on many occasions he would call me to meet him there as well. He often asked me to make use of my siren in order to get to the crime scene faster. Following orders by Major-General Booysen, in several occasions I also received photographs from the scene of the crime before the arrival of the official photographer of the forensic laboratory. These photos are available for examination.

I was useful to him (Major-General Booysen) since I had shown to the unit that I was observant with details and could use my own latest technology equipment exclusively for the unit in the crime scene.

13.

I sometimes escorted Major-General Booysen just for companionship, sometimes he was too drunk to drive, so I was driving him with the car to a certain crime scene. I have recorded a particular case where Major-General Booysen was in my house when he was called to a triple murder crime scene and followed him, with my own car behind Major-General Booysen' s car, who led to the scene of the crime. At the time, he was drunk and caused an accident going through a red robot in the Musgrave area. From there on, he proceeded to attack the driver of the other vehicle involved in the accident, and I was obliged to physically hold Major-General Booysen from attacking the other man. Then, I drove to the crime scene with him in my car. Previously, he had managed to drive his damaged car back to my house. The photograph of the damaged car parked outside my house is at your disposal. After the incident, an insurance investigator, who was a former police officer called me and questioned me regarding the car accident, but I had already received orders from Major-General Booysen to lie to him and cover up the fact that Major-General Booysen was drunk at the time of the accident.

14.

Major-General Booysen was very proud and passionate about the work of the Cato Manor Unit and the fact that they were shooting "criminals". His favorite phrase was, "I can make people disappear." By the way, the African suspect who was wanted for his connection to the above triple murder was shot and killed by his members, and the Second Officer Mossie Mostert proudly gave me digital photos while being in my business. These photos are stored on my computer and are at your disposal.

15.

In October 2001, I was having dinner with Major-General Booysen at the News Cafe in Musgrave Shopping Center in Durban. Major-General Booysen showed me a photograph of a suspect who had escaped, who he claimed to have faxed threatening material to senior justice officials who had previously in the past convicted him of various crimes. Major-General Booysen identified the suspect as "Jabulani" and told me that if I saw the man in the photograph, I would have to plant a bullet in his head. I asked him why. He told me that an order had come from very high, from the judiciary circles, that he should not be captured alive, as he would escape from the prison again. He said that the man was a member of a house burglary that he was out of control and raped women during the burglaries. After his arrest and escape, the members of his gang themselves began to turn against him and gave information to the police about his activities and his whereabouts.

On October 18, 2001 at 12:30 pm Major-General Booysen invited me to participate in a mission. This happened either the same afternoon when I and Major-General Booysen were dining at the News Café, or one or two days later. I recall this date in my memory by consulting my records as I will never forget what happened that day, since it was my first field operation where a death had taken place.

I do not remember if I drove to some collection point with the rest of the police, or if I was picked up from my house. Major-General Booysen invited me to drive with him in his car to a small town. I think it was called Umlazi. We were followed by quite a few members of the Cato Manor unit in discreet vehicles. Major-General Booysen remained in the car and I participated with the other members in conducting raids in homes to search for suspect Jabulani. Major-General Booysen took me there as a member of the unit. That night I was armed with a gun, as well as my own weapon.

More than ten members arrived at the suspect's home. I cannot remember who used what kind of weapon. What I remember is that, Jeremy Martin had an automatic police rifle. I saw Jeremy Martin kicking the door. At that moment I was near the entrance of the house and could see a woman and children lying on a bed. Martin dragged the suspect out of the house in the rain, wearing only a dark underwear, and we stood around him in a circle, while Martin was trying to put on him his handcuffs. I remember that this person was Jabulani. He was lying down on his stomach. Suddenly Martin ordered the suspect to stop moving after he got him handcuffed and moved towards him and grabbed him. The suspect and Jeremy then slipped along a 2-3 meter downhill outside the circle. At that moment, another policeman, I think he was called Eddie van Rensburg, told me in abusive language to "leave from there". Then I heard shots and the suspect was dead. I personally believe that up to the moment of his death, the suspect was not armed. Major-General Booysen was the general commander of the operation. I remember that, after the shots, I phoned Major-General Booysen, who the last time I saw him, was standing at a distance on the hill in his car, next to the rest of the parked cars of our unit. Then, in the morning, he came to the place where we were and congratulated the members of the unit. The members that were present at the point where the incident happened as well as Jeremy Martin, they, later claimed that the suspect had a weapon hidden somewhere nearby, a claim I seriously questioned as he (the suspect) was surrounded by more or less 10 police officers armed with rifles. The next day I was having dinner with Major-General Booysen, and I remember expressing my concern about this, but he replied that I just imagined the facts and that this was a clear case of resistance to arrest, and that the suspect was trying to shoot the police officers.

18.

I remember an incident where I used Major-General Booysen's gun to shoot a suspect. The incident happened at my store in Durban in 2001.

19.

My act was fully justified, because I stopped an armed robber who had attempted to kill a security guard and myself, after he had robbed my shop and threatened with a gun, me, a member of my staff, Major-General Booysen and his 16-year-old daughter. Major-General Booysen pulled his gun out of his case which he had on his ankle but froze, so I grabbed the gun out of his hands and ran after the armed robber. Then I saw that the armed robber tried to shoot the guard named Charles, with my own pistol, which he had removed earlier. He also turned against me. I shot two low shots and injured the robber. I shot low as I did not want to injure the passers-by.
The importance of referring to this incident, is because Major-General Booysen had altered the scene of the crime by ordering me to change my testimony to cover his cowardice and the fact that he, a senior police officer, had allowed me to use his weapon at a scene of a crime. He also threatened the investigator police officer Jack Muller, who did not want to change my original testimony. When I handed a copy of the armed robbery from my company's security recording system over to a newspaper journalist, and after the journalist published a negative commentary with the title, "Top Police Officer, a hero or a coward?", I was threatened by Major-General Booysen and the journalist who wrote the article was fired and from fear changed city.

On February 26, 2004, I called Cato Manor police officers to come to my Technotronic store on Smith Street to arrest a guy who came to get a stolen laptop.

The suspect was taken to the Cato Manor police station. I accompanied them, as I was the policeman who arrested him, and I wanted to take part in the investigation. It was also a way to accumulate more duty hours, as every search that I was conducting, it had to be done officially during duty hours. At the offices of the Cato Manor Serious and Violent Crimes Unit, they undressed the suspect, tied him to a chair, and went to the torture of drowning and hitting him. I remember that among the members that were present were, RC Maharaj and Varesh Panday. I recorded the incident secretly, using one of the first generation smart camera phones. At that moment, the unit members did not know that the phone had a camera. I pretended to have made a call and recorded the torture, because I realized that this was wrong and I had do something about it. This recording has been copied from my phone to my files and I handed it to Lieutenant–General Mabula. When I later showed the recording to Major-General Booysen, he just laughed and said to me "that's how things are done to get results." He also warned me not to show it to anyone as I would find myself in trouble. He asked me for a copy and a color photo of a specific snapshot that showed Viresh Panday, and told me that he wanted it in order to incriminate Panday, with whom he had personal differences. As far as I know, he had never pursued any disciplinary action against the members of his team, but I believe he warned them of the possibility that I would record the tortures in the future, because since then, they would avoid taking me with them in the interrogations. In 2008, I left South Africa due to the threats I was getting for my life and the sudden pressure I received from Booysen when members of his unit appeared in my home to suspend me and take my gun away, placing in this way my life at risk because, after hundreds of arrests of suspects at my business premises, I had been targeted by various criminals.

When I arrived in Greece at the end of 2008 and I felt secure, I tried to get in touch with various Government bodies and with various journalists to inform them of the tortures and mistreatment that was taking place as I thought it was wrong. But no one seemed to be interested in publishing anything against Booysen, so I uploaded excerpts from the recordings on YouTube REGARDING THE CASE NO. 297/02/04 (ARCHIVE "torture in office").

On March 30, 2004, a drunken man harassed the owner of the Pie Shop next to my own shop on Smith Street. Major-General Booysen happened to be in my store, grabbed the suspect and dragged him into my store with my help (ARCHIVE workshop blood VIDEO 1). Major-General Booysen took the suspect at the back of my store, where I saw him attacking the suspect with his feasts and threw him down unconscious, leaving a lot of blood on the floor. Later on, members of the police arrived, and under the orders of Major-General Booysen, took away the suspect. Immediately after, it must have been the next day, Major-General Booysen either dictated to me or gave to me an affidavit, I do not remember what it was of the two. In this affidavit it was falsely reported that the suspect had attacked one of us and tried to murder one of us with a screwdriver in my store, I do not remember if the affidavit was referring to myself or to him. That never happened, but I was obliged to sign it as Major-General Booysen ordered me to do so to justify the use of excessive and unnecessary violence, {It refers to 30-03-04 15:45 30-03-04 1900 SUSPECT ARRESTED AT THE POLICE STATION ON BKOAD STREET).

On 21 January 2006, Major-General Booysen came to my shop and I told him a story about his officers, when I was in a car with Willie Olivier and Eugene van Tonder, senior members of the Cato Manor unit. They were driving around Smith Street in one of the discreet government cars that had been assigned to Cato Manor unit with tinted windows. It could have been a black Lumina or a silver BMW. Van Tonder lowered the window slightly, and started shooting with an air gun against the passers-by, aiming in particular at black passers-by, for fun, laughing as he fired at them. I remember throwing a guy down from a bike and injuring some others, including women. When I told this story to Major-General Booysen, he described to me in detail how he and his colleagues often did this and that he himself had participated in this. He laughed as he told me this story. He also told me that an injured citizen had opened a case and gave the vehicle registration number from which the shots were fired, in which vehicle I was also in, and that this number belonged to the Cato Manor unit. Major-General Booysen said the complaint had been sent to his office and "had been already sorted". From this I realized that he had covered it. (see video 2).

On 27 October 2006, at around 9 am, four suspects were arrested at Durban Airport's arrivals section by members of the Cato Manor unit. Some of the members who were present during these arrests were: Major-General Booysen, Mostert, Van Tonder, Vick Panday, Peter George, Shane Naidoo, Mukesh Panday, Anton Lokum, Sgt R Lee. This arrest was also attended by Adele Sonnekus, who was invited there by Major-General Booysen. Those arrested were taken to the Cato Manor police station and were interrogated one by one. During this interrogation I was present. I was witnessing the interrogation and the subsequent torture of one of the suspects which happened during my presence and the presence of Major-General Booysen. After a short while, Major-General Booysen said he should not been seen by anyone there and left. Major General-Booysen later said to me that Mostert had shot and killed two of the suspects after the one of them attempted to hit him with a shovel. In addition, Major General-Booysen said to me that he arrived at the scene immediately after the incident and that one of the suspects was still alive, waiting for the ambulance to come. General Major-Booysen further said that he had bent in the ear of the suspect who was dying and whispered, "I told you I would kill you if you were trying to come back."

In April 2007, Major-General Booysen and Adele Sonnekus visited me in my house after he had received a phone call from one of the members of his unit who had reported a shooting incident in Malvern. Adele Sonnekus was a police officer of the Provincial Organized Crime Unit and the secretary. During the day of that incident, she and Major-General Booysen visited my home. They had a love affair. We went to the crime scene where I saw several members of the Cato Manor unit. I found two African men lying in the garage of a house. One was shot and killed in the car and the other was injured and still alive, but was in great pain and bleeding heavily. Major-General Booysen said to me that they would call the ambulance and the Independent Complaints Directorate only if the second suspect died, so everyone waited around the second suspect to succumb to his wounds. I was able to use a video camera to record the crime scene in the presence of Major-General Booysen and the rest of the officers involved in the shootout. I was always allowed to record crime scenes for the unit and later it became clear that this was how journalists were bribed, by giving them my own photos as exclusive publications in exchange for favorable stories. But I came to the conclusion that they wanted the films for their own private collections as well. That day, when I realized that the robber would die, I focused my camera on him so I would later have a recording on how the unit left a suspect to die. Later (2009) I posted this video on YouTube. I was also instructed by Mostert and Olivier to collect from the floor a number of spent large caliber cartridge casings. After I put them in my pocket, I handed them over to Mostert and Olivier as they requested me to do (file: Suspect Malvin dies). When I told Major-General Booysen that this was wrong, he became aggressive towards me and told me that it was not Cato Manor's duty to provide medical care to the criminals.

The suspect died after a few minutes. I requested Major-General Booysen to call an ambulance three times before the suspect died. This can be heard in the video. Later I was informed by Major-General Booysen that the driver of the police car with which the robbers escaped was a police informant and had given information at Cato Manor's office for the planned burglary, and that he had left after he had dropped off the suspects at the house that they intended to break in. The suspects then were shot and killed by the unit.

26.

When we left the scene of the crime with Major-General Booysen and returned to my house, I played the video in the presence of other acquaintances of mine and he gave me the specific order of getting rid of the video, otherwise I would have a serious problem. I chose to keep it and uploaded it on YouTube in 2009.

On November 15, 2007 robbers who were part of a gang that stole jewelry and watches shot a police officer at the Pavilion Shopping Center in Durban. I went to the scene along with Major-General Booysen. Other members of the unit that I remember being present there were, Mostert, Olivier, Van Tonder, Peter George, Rakesh Maharaj, Mukesh Panday, and Shane Naidoo. I was with Major-General Booysen when the incident happened. We may have also gone together with the car. I helped the forensic team to spot the scene of the crime and to gather evidence. This is kept in my file and I also have the photos of the scene of the crime.

On November 23, 2007, a Greek citizen, Kostas Svourakis, was arrested at O.R. Tambo Airport on a flight of Olympic Airways to Athens, who was in possession of many watches later identified as those stolen from the Pavilion Shopping Center one week earlier. The suspect was taken to the police station of Cato Manor unit that night and was interrogated for about two hours. I was called by Major-General Booysen to attend the scene in order to act as an interpreter. Other members of the unit I remember to be present there were, Mostert, Eugene van Tonder, Mukesh Panday and the reservist Vick Panday.

29.

I saw the suspect been stripped off his clothes and been tied up on a chair naked. Immediately afterwards he was tortured and beaten by Cato Manor members, who also put a bag over his head and pouring water over his head tried to make him drown until he confessed about the various crimes he was accused of. During the interrogation of Svourakis, I slapped him when Major-General Booysen asked him his name and tried to fool us, claiming that his surname was "Malakas", which is a Greek swear word and means "a masturbator". This happened at the beginning of the interrogation while they were around a table with Major-General Booysen. I have no involvement in the torture of the suspect.

On May 24, 2008, I received a phone call from Mostert to help in a crime scene on 5th Avenue in Morningside, Durban, where a suspect was allegedly died while Mostert and members of the Cato Manor unit were trying to capture him. When I arrived at the place they showed to me a corpse on the ground and I was refused to enter into the scene of the crime by Olivier. Later, Mostert told me that he had tried to shoot the suspect while the suspect tried to climb out of the window and fell out. (Reference MAY 2008 24-25 1 100 TO 0100).

The methods used by the members of the unit were to strip the suspect off his clothes, and physically attack him until he confesses or gives information. They would tie him naked on a chair and interrogate him. (Relevant video.) They would put a piece of leather or plastic or a hood over the head of the suspect, always sitting behind the suspect, causing in this way suffocation. The suspect could not really see who was attacking him. A standardized method was always used, that is, they shot to kill, hurt, tortured, altered the scenes of crime. Major-General Booysen was called by his members to the crime scene to confirm and manipulate the scene. I was present in some of the cases I mentioned earlier, when I was accompanying Major-General Booysen to the crime scene and ordered Major-General Booysen in front of me to his members to collect all the spent police rifle cartridge casings and hand them over to the responsible officer investigating the case. This usually happened after Major-General Booysen had arrived at the scene of the crime.

I would also like to testify that I have discussed my concerns regarding Major-General Booysen with Commissioner Pat Brown, the Head at that time of the Provincial Headquarters Investigators and his wife Tilly, who were close friends of mine. They warned me to be very careful with Booysen, as he was a very dangerous man and could harm me.

I would further like to testify that I had many personal conversations with Lettissa Booysen, ex-wife of Booysen and a close friend of mine, who had also warned me that Booysen was a very dangerous man and had destroyed the lives of many people and that he could hurt me seriously. The same message was given to me by Booysen's children.

I UNDERSTAND AND ACKNOWLEDGE THE CONTENT OF THIS AFFIDAVIT, I HAVE NO OBJECTIONS TAKING THE NECESSARY OATH.

I CONSIDER THE OATH BINDING TO MY CONSCIENCE.

Εγώ, ο Άρης Δανάκας, ετών 45, πράην μέλος της εταιρείας Technotronic Electronics στη Νότιο Αφρική, θα ήθελα να κάνω· την ακόλουθη δήλωση σχετικά με την εγκληματική δράση μελών της Μονάδας Οργανωμένου Εγκλήματος Cato Manor της οποίας έγινα μάρτυρας ως άφαδρος εθελοντής αστυνομικός στη μονάδα από το 1999 έως το 2008. Θα ήθελα να υπογραμμίσω τη βαθύτατη ανησυχία μου πως αυτή η δήλωση η οποία περιγράφει τις εγκληματικές ενέργειες στις οποίες έχω γίνει μάρτυρας θα μπορούσε να θέσει τη δική μου ζωή και τη ζωή της άμεσης οικογένειας μου, περιλαμβανόμενων των συγγενών της συζύγου μου στη Νότιο Αφρική, σε κίνδυνο και πραγματοποιώ την παρούσα δήλωση επί της συμφωνίας πως οι αρχές της Νοτίου Αφρικής θα πράξουν ότι περνά από το χέρι τους ώστε να διασφαλίσουν την προστασία και την ασφάλεια της άμεσης οικογένειας μου και εμού. Επιπλέον, ανησυχώ βαθύτατα πως η περιγραφή αυτών· των πράξεων θα με καταστήσει στόχο ψευδών κατηγοριών και θα με εμπλέξει στα εγκλήματα των μελών της μονάδας Cato Manor, των οποίων ήμουν μάρτυρας αλλά χωρίς να έχω συμμετοχή σε αυτά. Θα πρέπει επίσης να τονιστεί ότι οι όποιες αναλήθειες με σκοπό την προσβολή της αξιοπιστίας μου και την κηλίδωση του χαρακτήρα μου θα είναι ενορχηστρωμένες από τους ίδιους τους ανθρώπους που διέπραξαν τα εγκλήματα των οποίων έχω γίνει μάρτυρας και οι οποίοι είναι επίσης αξιωματούχοι αστυνομικοί και κατέχουν τα μέσα να παρακοπήσουν τα αποδεικτικά στοιχεία εναντίον εμού. Συνεπώς, κάνω αυτή τη δήλωση επί της συμφωνίας ότι θα προστατευτώ νομικά και θα διασφαλιστώ έναντι αυτών των προσπαθειών να με εμπλέξουν ψευδώς σε οποιαδήποτε εγκλήματα. Επίσης δέχομαι να εξεταστώ ως μάρτυρας αλλά όχι στην Νότιζα Αφρική ,παρά μόνο με βίντεο επικοινωνία και αφού μας προσφέρουν προστασία Μαρτύρων.

Τη δεκαετία του 1990 βοηθούσα την αστυνομία να συλλάβει διαφόρους κλέφτες καταστημάτων και μου ζητήθηκε από τον Υποστράτηγο Booysen να γίνω έφεδρος, μετά από συνάντησή μας. Κατόπιν μου είπε ότι θα με έπαιρνε στη δική του μονάδα υπό την προστασία του και ότι δεν θα ήμουν υποχρεωμένος ποτέ να φορέσω στολή ή να υπηρετήσω σε αστυνομικό τμήμα και ότι θα με χρησιμοποιούσε μόνο η δική του εκλεκτή και υψηλού προφίλ μονάδα, μιας και θεωρούμην από την κοινότητά μου ειδικός στα ηλεκτρονικά, εξαιτίας της εργασίας μου στον τομέα.

Όλες οι αιτήσεις συμπληρώθηκαν από τη γραμματεία της μονάδος. Όλες οι εγκρίσεις και τα πιστοποιητικά ποινικού μητρώου, καθώς και οι αιτήσεις μου, συμπληρώθηκαν από τον ίδιο τον Ύπτγο Booysen.

Ο υπτγος Booysen με μετέφερε προσωπικά με το αυτοκίνητό του στις διάφορες κυβερνητικές υπηρεσίες για τις αιτήσεις. Είχε επίσης μία σοβαρή διένεξη με τον διευθυντή του Αστυνομικού Τμήματος , όπου είχα εγγράφει ως έφεδρος, διότι από την πρώτη μέρα της εγγραφής μου ο υπτγος Booysen διέταξε τη μεταφορά μου στη μονάδα Cato Manor.

Έχω υποβάλλει όλα τα λεπτομερή αρχεία μου με τους αριθμούς τοποθέσεων από το 2000 έως το 2008 σε ένα ηλεκτρονικο αρχειο το οποίο παρέδωσα στον υπτγο Mabula. Πρόκειται για τα ίδια αρχεία τα οποία υπέβαλα μηνιαίως εις διπλούν στο γραφείο του υπτγου Booysen στο Επαρχιακό Αρχηγείο. Τα ίδια αρχεία συνέλεγε επίσης αυτοπροσώπως μία φορά το μήνα ο Αστυνόμος Β' Mitsel, ο οποίος εργαζόταν στο κεντρικό γραφείο των εφέδρων υπό τη διοίκηση του Αστυνομικού Διευθυντή Kennedy.

Ποτέ δεν έχω πληρωθεί για τη θητεία μου ως έφεδρος της αστυνομίας. Επιπροσθέτως, έχω τραυματιστεί εν ώρα καθήκοντος πολλές φορές και έλαβα ιατρική περίθαλψη με έξοδα της Πολιτείας. Ως αποτέλεσμα, έχω μόνιμα τραύματα στην πλάτη, το γόνατο και τον αυχένα μου.

Μου είχαν δοθεί αστυνομικα πυροβόλα όπλα, οπως μία Μπερέτα parabellum 9χιλ.,η οποία μου είχε παραχωρηθεί μόνιμα με ειδική άδεια από το γραφείο του υπτγου Boosyen, μου είχαν επίσης παραχωρηθεί ένα σκρέι πιπαριού, χειροπέδες, μία αστυνομική σειρήνα,αλεξίσφαιρο γιλεκο , φαρος για το ιδιαιτικο μου αυτοκίνητο, ένας ασύρματος της αστυνομία και ένα κοινό κιτ έρευνας σκηνής εγκλήματος ,όπως αυτά που είχαν όλα τα μέλη της μονάδας στα οχήματα τους. Έχω στην κατοχή μου επιστολές υπογεγραμμένες από τον ίδιο τον Boosyen οι οποίες εξουσιοδοτούν όλες τις παραπάνω παραχωρήσεις. Όταν καλούμουν να μετέχω σε επιχειρήσεις πεδίου μου παραχωρούνταν επίσης ένα τουφέκι R5 για τη διάρκεια της αποστολής.

Είχα εκπαιδευτεί στο χειρισμό πυροβόλων όπλων, στις μεθόδους των Ειδικών Μονάδων καθώς και στις διαδικασίες διερεύνησης τόπων εγκλήματος. Τα μέλη της μονάδας Cato Manor φορούσαν συνήθως κανονικά ρούχα.

9.

Εκείνη την εποχή ήμουν πολύ στενός φίλος της οικογένειας του Υπτγου Boosyen.

Του πούλησα ηλεκτρονικά είδη από το κατάστημά μου με έκπτωση, χάρισα ηλεκτρονικά είδη από το κατάστημά μου σε αυτόν και στην οικογένειά του,καθως και εκανα διαφορες επισκευες χωρις χρεωση και ξόδεψα ένα αξιόλογο ποσό σε άλλα δώρα και διασκεδάσεις για αυτόν και την Οικογενεια του. Είχε την απαίτηση από εμένα να διασκεδάζω τον ίδιο και την οικογένεια του με δικά μου έξοδα με αντάλλαγμα την προστασία μου από εγκληματίες,να του παραχωρω χρηση του διαμερισματος μου για να το χρησιμοποιει σε προσωπικες του στιγμες με ερωμενες του. Το αποκαλούσε: "A FAVOR FOR A FAVOR (ΜΙΑ ΧΑΡΗ ΓΙΑ ΚΑΘΕ ΕΞΥΠΗΡΕΤΗΣΗ). Είχε παρομοιες συμφωνίες και με άλλους επιχειρηματίες που γνώριζα. Πάντα απαιτούσε κάποια χάρη από αυτούς τους επιχειρηματίες και, εις αντάλλαγμα, κανόνιζε η ομάδα του από την Cato Manor να προστατεύει αυτή την επιχείρηση και να ταιριαζει όποια προβλήματα είχε ο επιχειρηματίας με τον νόμο ή την ασφάλεια. Για παράδειγμα, στις περισσότερες περιπτώσεις που ταξίδευα την Ελλάδα για διακοπές, ο Booysen τοποθετούσε έναν αστυνομικό από τη μονάδα Cato Manor για τη φρούρηση των εγκαταστάσεων της επιχείρησής μου, για όσο διάστημα εγώ έλειπα. Κάποιοι από τους αστυνομικούς που φρουρούσαν το κατάστημά μου ήταν οι Shane Naidoo και Panday Viresh. Οταν έπρεπε να στείλω τη σύζυγό μου στην τράπεζα με ένα μεγάλο ποσό μετρητών, ο Booysen έστελνε ένοπλα μέλη της μονάδας Cato Manor να τη συνοδεύσουν στην τράπεζα First National Bank στην Musgrave. Όταν έφταιναν στο Ντέρμπαν μέλη της Ιντερπόλ και του FBI, ο Booysen μου έδινε εντολή να τους συναντήσω για μεσημεριανό και δείπνο σε ένα Ελληνικό εστιατόριο και είχε την απαίτηση να καλύψω εγώ όλα τα έξοδα, ώστε να φαίνεται εκείνος καλός. Όταν ο Booysen ήθελε να αγοράσει μία Mercedes Benz από έναν τοπικό αντιπρόσωπο στο Ντέρμπαν, μου ζήτησε να τηλεφωνήσω στον ιδιοκτήτη της εταιρίας (έναν πλούσιο μουσουλμάνο της οικογένειας των ιδιοκτητών της αντιπροσωπείας NMI) και να του παράσω το μήνυμα ότι, σε αντάλλαγμα για τη βοήθεια από τα μέλη της μονάδας Cato Manor σε περίπτωση κλοπής ή πειρατείας των αυτοκινήτων της αντιπροσωπείας του, ήθελε να αγοράσει ένα καλό αυτοκίνητο σε καλή τιμή.

10.

Ο υπεγος Booysen ήταν ο υπεύθυνος για κάποια από τα περιστατικά που συνέβησαν στην μονάδα Οργανωμένου Εγκλήματος Cato Manor. Καλούνταν πάντα σε περιστατικά υψηλού προφίλ και σε οποιοδήποτε σοβαρό περιστατικό με πυροβολισμούς οποίο αφορούσε τη δολοφονία υπόπτων από τα μέλη του.

11.

Άλλες φορές, κατέφθανε μετά από κάποια ανταλλαγή πυροβολισμών όταν πολλοί ύποπτοι εγκλήματων είχαν σκοτωθεί. Βάν το επεισόδιο με τους πυροβολισμούς ήταν σε κοντινή απόσταση με το αυτοκίνητο, πάντα οδηγούσε μέχρι εκεί και σε πολλές περιπτώσεις μου τηλεφωνούσε για να τον συναντήσω κι εγώ εκεί. Συχνά μου ζητούσε να χρησιμοποιήσω τη σειρήνα μου ώστε να φτάσω στον τόπο του εγκλήματος γρηγορότερα. Κατόπιν οδηγιών του Υπεγου Booysen έλαβα επίσης φωτογραφίες από τον τόπο του εγκλήματος σε αρκετές περιπτώσεις, πριν την άφιξη του επίσημου φωτογράφου του εγκληματολογικού εργαστηρίου. Οι φωτογραφίες αυτές είναι διαθέσιμες προς εξέταση.

Τού ήμουν χρήσιμος καθώς είχα επιδείξει στη μονάδα ότι είμαι παρατηρητικός στις λεπτομέρειες και μπορούσα να χρησιμοποιώ στους τόπους των εγκλημάτων τον δικό μου τελευταίας τεχνολογίας ηλεκτρονικό εξοπλισμό αποκλειστικά για τη μονάδα.

Μερικές φορές συνόδευα τον Ύπτγο Booysen απλά για συντροφιά, άλλες φορές ήταν πολύ μεθυσμένος για να οδηγήσει, ώστε τον πήγαινα εγώ με το αυτοκίνητο σε κάποιο τόπο εγκλήματος. Έχω καταγράψει μία συγκεκριμένη περίπτωση όπου ο Ύπτγος Booysen συνέβαινε να βρίσκεται στο σπίτι μου όταν κλήθη σε ένα τόπο εγκλήματος τριπλού φόνου και ακολούθησα εγώ με το δικό μου αυτοκίνητο πίσω από τον Ύπτγο Booysen, ο οποίος οδήγησε μέχρι τη σκηνή του εγκλήματος. Εκείνη τη στιγμή ήταν μεθυσμένος και προκάλεσε ένα ατύχημα περνάντας με κόκκινο στην περιοχή του Musgrave. Από εκεί κι έκειτα, προχώρησε στην επίθεση του οδηγού του άλλου οχήματος που εμπλεκόταν στο ατύχημα και ήμουν υποχρεωμένος να συγκρατήσω σωματικά τον Ύπτγο Booysen. Μετά, οδήγησα στον τόπο του εγκλήματος με αυτόν στο αυτοκίνητό μου. Προηγούμένως, είχε καταφέρει να οδηγήσει το καταστραμμένο αυτοκίνητό του πίσω στο σπίτι μου. Η φωτογραφία του καταστραμμένου αυτοκινήτου του σταθμευμένο έξω από το σπίτι μου είναι στη διάθεσή σας. Μετά το περιστατικό, μου τηλεφώνησε ένας ερευνητής ασφαλειών, ο οποίος ήταν κρύπτν αστυνομικός, και μου έκανε ερωτήσεις σχετικά με το αυτοκινητιστικό, αλλά είχα ήδη λάβει εντολές από τον Ύπτγο Booysen να του πω ψέματα και να καλύψω το γεγονός ότι ο Ύπτγος Booysen ήταν μεθυσμένος κατά τη στιγμή του ατυχήματος.

Ο Υπτγος Boogsen ήταν πολύ υπερήφανος και καθισμένος με το έργο της μονάδας Cato Manor καθώς και με το γεγονός ότι πυροβολούσαν "εγκληματίες". Η αγαπημένη του φράση ήταν: "Μπορώ να κάνω ανθρώπους να εξαφανιστούν." Παρεμπιπτόντως, ο Αφρικανός ύποπτος που καταζητείτο για τη σύνδεσή του με τον παραπάνω τριπλό φόνο, πυροβολήθηκε και σκοτώθηκε από τα μέλη του και ο Υπαστυνόμος Β' Mossie Mostert μου έδωσε με υπερηφάνεια ψηφιακές φωτογραφίες στην επιχείρησή μου. Οι φωτογραφίες αυτές είναι αποθηκευμένες στον υπολογιστή μου και βρίσκονται στη διάθεσή σας.

Τον Οκτώβριο του 2001 γευμάτιζα με τον Υπτγο Boogsen στο News Cafe στο εμπορικό κέντρο του Musgrave στο Ντέρμπαν. Ο Υπτγος Boogsen μου έδειξε μία φωτογραφία ενός υπόπτου που είχε δραπετεύσει, για τον οποίο ισχυρίστηκε ότι είχε στείλει με φαξ απειλητικό υλικό σε ανώτερους αξιωματούχους της δικαιοσύνης οι οποίοι τον είχαν καταδικάσει στο παρελθόν για διάφορα εγκλήματα. Ο Υπτγος Boogsen ταυτοποίησε τον ύποπτο ως "Jabulani" και μου είπε ότι εάν έβλεπα τον άντρα της φωτογραφίας, θα έπρεπε να του φωνάξω μία σφαίρα στο κεφάλι. Τον ρώτησα γιατί. Μου είπε ότι είχε έρθει μία διαταγή από πολύ ψηλά στους δικαστικούς κύκλους να μην συλληφθεί ζωντανός, γιατί θα απέδραμε από τη φυλακή και πάλι. Είπε ότι ο άντρας ήταν μέλος μιας συμμορίας διαρρήξεων σπιτιών η οποία είχε ξεφύγει του ελέγχου και βίαζε τις γυναίκες κατά τη διάρκεια των διαρρήξεων. Μετά τη σύλληψη και την απόδρασή του, τα ίδια τα μέλη της συμμορίας του άρχισαν να στρέφονται απέναντίον του και να δίνουν πληροφορίες στην αστυνομία σχετικά με τις δραστηριότητες του και το που βρίσκεται.

Στις 18 Οκτωβρίου 2001 στις 12:30π.μ. ο Υπτγος Boogsen με κάλεσε να συμμετάσχω σε μια αποστολή . Αυτό συνέβη είτε το ίδιο απόγευμα που εγώ και ο Υπτγος Boogsen γευματίζαμε στο News Cafe, είτε μια-δυο μέρες αργότερα. Ανακαλώ στη μνήμη μου αυτή την ημερομηνία συμβουλεύομενος τα αρχεία μου και διότι ποτέ δεν θα ξεχάσω τι συνέβη εκείνη τη μέρα, μιας και ήταν η πρώτη μου επιχείρηση πεδίου στην οποία υπήρξε θάνατος. Δεν θυμαμαι εαν οδηγησα σε καποιο σημειο συγγεντρωσης με τους υπολοιπους αστυνομικους ,η με παραλαβανε απο την οικια μου. ο Υπτγος Booysen με κάλεσε να πάω μαζί του με το αυτοκίνητο σε μία μικρή πόλη. Πιστεύω ότι ονομαζόταν Umlazi. Μας ακολουθούσαν αρκετά μέλη της Cato Manor σε οχήματα χωρίς διακριτικά. Ο Υπτγος Booysen παρέμεινε στο αυτοκίνητο και εγώ συμμετείχα με τα άλλα μέλη στη διεξαγωγή εφόδων σε σπίτια προς αναζήτηση του υπόπτου JabuJani. Ο Υπτγος Booysen με πήγε εκεί ως μέλος της μονάδας.. Εκείνη τη νύχτα ήμουν οπλισμένος με ένα πιστόλι ,καθώς και με το δικό μου όπλο.

Πάνω κάτω δέκα μέλη έφτασαν στο σπίτι του υπόπτου. Δεν μπορώ να θυμηθώ ποιος χρησιμοποιούσε τί είδους όπλο. Αυτό που θυμάμαι είναι ότι ο Jeremy Martin είχε ένα αυτόματο τουφέκι της αστυνομίας. Είδα τον Jeremy Martin να κλωτσά την πόρτα. Εκείνη τη στιγμή βρισκόμουν κοντά στην είσοδο του σπιτιού και μπορούσα να δω μια γυναίκα και παιδιά να είναι ξαπλωμένοι σε ένα κρεβάτι. Ο Martin έσυρε τον ύποπτο έξω από το σπίτι, μέσα στη βροχή, και φορουσε μονο ενα σκουρο εσώρουχο και εμείς στεκόμαστιν σε γύρω του σε ένα κύκλο, ενώ ο Martin προσπαθούσε να του φοράει χειροπέδες. Θυμάμαι ότι το άτομο αυτό ήταν ο Jabulani. Ήταν ξαπλωμένος μπρούμυτα. Ξαφνικά, ο Martin διέταξε τον ύποπτο να σταματήσει να κινείται αφού του περασε χειροπόδες και κινήθηκε προς αυτό και τον άρπαξε. Ο ύποπτος και ο Jeremy κατάπιν γλίστρησαν κατά μήκος μιας κατηφόρας 2-3 μέτρων εκτός του κύκλου. Εκείνη τη στιγμή, ένος άλλος αστυνομικός, νομίζω ότι λεγόταν Eddie van Rensburg, μου είπε σε υβριστική γλώσσα να "φύγω από κει". Κατόπιν άκουσα πυροβολισμούς και ο ύποπτος ήταν νεκρός. Προσωπικά πιστεύω πως, μέχρι και τη στιγμή του θανάτου του, ο ύποπτος δεν ήταν οπλισμένος. Ο Υπτγος Booysen ήταν ο γενικός διοικητής της επιχείρησης. Θυμάμαι ότι, μετά τους πυροβολισμούς, τηλεφώνησα στον Υπτγο Booysen, ο οποίος την τελευταία φορα που τον είδα στεκόταν σε κάποια απόσταση κάνω στο λόφο στο αυτοκίνητο του, δίπλα απο τα υπολοιπα παρκαρισμενα αυτοκίνητα του σωματος μας. Μετά, κατα το πρωι ήρθε στο σημείο και συνέχαρη τα μέλη της μονάδας. Τα μέλη που βρισκόταν στο σημείο και ο Jeremy Martin ισχυρίστηκαν αργότερα ότι ο ύποπτος εμφάνισε ένα όπλο που είχε κρυμμένο κάπου εκεί κοντά, ένας ισχυρισμός τον οποίο αμφισβητώ σοβαρά, καθώς ήταν περικυκλωμένος από πάνω κάτω 10 αστυνομικούς οπλισμένους με τυφέκια. Την επόμενη μέρα γευμάτιζα με τον Ύπτγο Booysen και θυμάμαι ότι του εξέφρασα την ανησυχία μου αλλά, μου απάντησε ότι απλώς φανταζόμουν τα γεγονότα και ότι επρόκειτο για μια ξεκάθαρη περίπτωση αντίστάσης στη σύλληψη και ότι ο ύποπτος προσπάθησε να πυροβολήσει τους αστυνομικούς.

Θυμάμαι ένα περιστατικό όπου χρησιμοποίησα το όπλο του Ύπτγου Booysen για να πυροβολήσω έναν ύποπτο . Το περιστατικό συνέβη στο κατάστημά μου στο Ντέρμπαν το 2001.

Η πράξη μου ήταν πλήρως αιτιολογημένη, διότι σταμάτησα έναν ένοπλο ληστή ο οποίος είχε αποπειραθεί να σκοτώσει έναν φρουρό ασφαλείας και αμένα τον ίδιο, αφού προηγουμένως με είχε ληστέψει και απειλούσε με όπλο αμένα, ένα μέλος του προσωπικού μου, τον Ύπτγο Booysen και τη 16χρονη κόρη του. Ο Ύπτγος Booysen έβγαλε το όπλο του από τη θήκη που είχε στον ασφάλειό του αλλά πάγωσε, οπότε άρπαξα εγώ το όπλο από τα χέρια του και έτρεξα κατόπιν του ένοπλον ληστή. Μετά είδα ότι ο ένοπλος ληστής προσπαθούσε να πυροβολήσει τον φρουρό με το ονόμα Τσαρλς ,με το δικό μου πιστόλι, το οποίο είχε αφαιρέσει νωρίτερα. Εκείνος, γύρισε και εναντίον μου. Έριξα δύο χαμηλές βολές και τραυμάτισα το ληστή. Έριξα χαμηλά ώστε να μην τραυματίσω τους παραστικούς.

Η σημασία που αναφέρω αυτό το περιστατικό είναι διότι ο Ύπτγος Booysen αλλοίωσε το σκηνικό του εγκλήματος διατάζοντας με να αλλάξω την κατάθεσή μου, ώστε να καλυφθεί η δειλία του και το γεγονός ότι εκείνος, ένας ανάτερος αξιωματούχος της αστυνομίας, μου είχε επιτρέψει να χρησιμοποιήσω το όπλο του σε ένα έγκλημα. Εκφόβισε επίσης τον ερευνητή αστυνομικό Jack Muller, ο οποίος δεν ήθελε να αλλάξει την αρχική μου κατάθεση.Οταν παρέδωσα ενα αντιγραφο της ενοπλης ληστειας απο το καταγραφικο συστημα της Εταιρειας μου σε εναν δημοσιογραφο εφημεριδας ,και οφου δημοσιευτηκε αρνητικο σχολιο σε εφημεριδα με τιτλο ,Τοτ αστυομικος ,ηρωας η δειλος ? επειληθηκε απο τον Ύπτγος Boeysen και ο δημοσιογραφος που εγραψε αυτο το ρεπορταζ απολυθηκε και απο φοβο αλλαξε πολη.

Στις 26 Φεβρουάριου 2004 κάλεσα τους αστυνομικούς της Cato Manor να έρθουν στο κατάστημά μου Technotronic στην οδό Smith, να συλλάβουν έναν άντρα που ήρθε να πάρει ένα κλεμμένο λάπτοπ.

GSM

Ο ύποπτος οδηγήθηκε στο αστυνομικό τμήμα της Cato Manor. Τους συνόδευσα, καθώς εγώ ήμουν ο αστυνομικός που τον συνέλαβε, και ήθελα να λάβω μέρος στην έρευνα. Αυτός ήταν επίσης ένας τρόπος να γράψω περισσότερες ώρες, καθώς, για κάθε έρευνα που πραγματοποιούσα, έπρεπε να είναι επισήμως εν ώρα υπηρεσίας. Στα γραφεία της Μονάδας Σοβαράν και Βίαιων Εγκλημάτων της Cato Manor, έγδυσαν τον ύποπτο, τον έδεσαν σε μία καρέκλα και προχώρησαν στο βασανισμό του πνίγοντας και χτυπώντας τον. Θυμάμαι ότι μεταξύ των παρόντων μελών βρισκόταν οι RC Maharaj και Varesh Panday. Κατέγραψα το γεγονός μυστικά, χρησιμοποιώντας ένα από τα πρώτης γενιάς έξυπνα τηλέφωνα με κάμερα. Εκείνη τη στιγμή, τα μέλη της μονάδας δεν ήξεραν ότι το τηλέφωνο είχε κάμερα. Προσποιήθηκα ότι έκανα μία κλήση και κατέγραψα το βασανιστήριο, διότι αντιλήφθηκα ότι αυτό ήταν λάθος και ότι θα έπρεπε να κάνω κάτι για αυτό. Αυτή η καταγραφή έχει αντιγράφει από το τηλέφωνο στα αρχεία μου και την παρέδωσα στον Υπτγο Mabula. Όταν την έδειξα αργότερα, στον Υπτγο Boogsen, αυτός γέλασε και μου είπε "έτσι γίνονται τα πράγματα για να έχουν αποτέλεσμα". Με προειδοποίησε επίσης να μην το δείξω σε κανένα γιατί, θα έβρισκα το μπελά μου. Μου ζήτησε ένα αντίγραφο και μία έγχρωμη φωτογραφία ενός συγκεκριμένου στιγμιότυπου που έδειχνε τον Viresh Panday, την οποία μου είπε ότι την ήθελε για να ενοχοποιήσει τον Panday, με τον οποίο είχε προσωπικές διαφορές. Από ότι γνωρίζω δεν άσκησε ποτέ κάποια πειθαρχική δίωξη εναντίον των μελών της ομάδας του, αλλά, πιστεύω ότι τους προειδοποίησε για την πιθανότητα εγώ να καταγράψω μελλοντικά τους βασανισμούς, διότι από τότε κι έπειτα απέφευγαν να με παίρνουν στις ανακρίσεις. Το 2008 έφυγα από την Νότιο Αφρική, εξαιτίας των απειλών ενάντια στη ζωή μου και της αιφνίδιας πίεσης που έλαβα από τον Boogsen, όταν μέλη της μονάδας του εμφανίστηκαν στο σπίτι μου για να με θέσουν σε διαθεσιμότητα και να μου πάρουν το όπλο μου, θέτοντας με αυτό τον τρόπο τη ζωή μου σε κίνδυνο καθώς, μετά από εκατοντάδες συλλήψεις υπόπτων στις εγκαταστάσεις της επιχείρησής μου, είχα γίνει στόχος διαφόρων εγκληματιών. Όταν έφθασα στην Ελλάδα στα τέλη του 2008 και ένιωσα ασφαλής, προσπάθησα να έλθω σε επαφή με διάφορους Κυβερνητικούς φορείς, καθώς και με διάφορους δημοσιογράφους, για να αναφέρω αυτό το βασανιστήριο και την κακομεταχείριση, διότι πίστευα ότι ήταν λάθος. Όμως κανείς δεν ενδιαφερόταν να δημοσιεύσει τίποτε εναντίον του Boogsen, κι έτσι ανέβασα αποσπάσματα από τις καταγραφές στο YouTube ΣΧΕΤ. ΥΠΟΘΕΣΗ ΝΟ 297/02/04 (ΑΡΧΕΙΟ "torture in office").

Στις 30 Μαρτίου 2004 ένας μεθυσμένος άντρας παρενοχλούσε τον ιδιοκτήτη του καταστήματος Pie Shop δίπλα στο δικό μου κατάστημα στην οδό Smith. Ο Ύπτγος Booysen έτυχε να βρίσκεται στο κατάστημά μου και άρπαξε τον ύποπτο και τον έσυρε μέσα στο κατάστημά μου με τη δική μου βοήθεια (ΑΡΧΕΙΟ workshop blood ΒΙΝΙΤΗΟ 1). Ο Ύπτγος Booysen πήρε τον ύποπτο στο πίσω μέρος του καταστήματος μου, όπου τον είδα να επιτίθεται στον ύποπτο με τις γροθιές του και τον έριξε κάτω αναίσθητο, αφήνοντας πολύ αίμα στο πάτωμα. Αργότερα κατέφθασαν μέλη της αστυνομίας και, υπό τις διαταγές του Ύπτγου Booysen, παρέλαβαν τον ύποπτο. Αμέσως μετά, πρέπει να ήταν την επόμενη μέρα, ο Ύπτγος Booysen είτε μου υπαγόρευσε είτε μου έδωσε μία κατάθεση, δεν θυμάμαι τι από τα δύο. Σε αυτή την κατάθεση αναφερόταν ψευδώς ότι ο ύποπτος είχε επιτεθεί σε έναν από εμάς και προσπάθησε να δολοφονήσει έναν από εμάς με ένα κατσαβίδι μέσα στο κατάστημά μου, δεν θυμάμαι εάν η κατάθεση αναφερόταν σε εμένα ή σε εκείνον. Αυτό δε συνέβη ποτέ αλλά, ήμουν υποχρεωμένος να το υπογράψω διότι ο Ύπτγος Booysen με διέταξε να το κάνω, ώστε να δικαιολογηθεί η από πλευράς του χρήση υπερβολικής και περιττής βίας, (σχετικό 30- 03-04 15:45 30-03-04 1900 ΥΠΟΠΤΟΣ ΣΥΝΕΛΗΦΘΗ ΣΤΟ ΑΣΤΥΝΟΜΙΚΟ ΤΜΗΜΑ ΤΗΣ ΟΔΟΥ ΒΕΟΑD).

Στις 21 Ιανουάριου 2006 ο Ύπτγος Booysen ήρθε στο κατάστημά μου και του είπα μία ιστορία σχετική με αξιωματικους του, ότι βρισκομουνα σε ένα αυτοκίνητο με τους Willie Olivier και Eugene van Tonder, ανώτερα μέλη της μονάδας Cato Manor. Οδηγούσαν γύρω από την οδό Smith μέσα σε ένα από τα κυβερνητικά αυτοκίνητα χωρίς διακριτικά που είχε παραχωρηθεί στη μονάδα Cato Manor, με φιμέ παράθυρα. Μπορεί να ήταν μία μαύρη Lumina ή μία ασήμι BMW. Ο Van Tonder κατέβασε το παράθυρο ελαφρώς, και άρχισε να πυροβολεί με ένα αεροβόλο εναντίον των περαστικών, στοχεύοντας ειδικότερα στους μαύρους περαστικούς, για διασκέδαση, γελάντας καθώς τους πυροβολούσε. Θυμάμαι ότι έριξε κάτω έναν άντρα σε ένα ποδήλατο και τραυμάτισε μερικούς ακόμα, συμπεριλαμβανομένων και γυναικών. Όταν συσχέτισα αυτή την ιστορία με τον Ύπτγο Booysen, μου περιέγραψε με λεπτομέρειες πώς, αυτός ο ίδιος και οι συνάδελφοί του, το έκαναν συχνά αυτό και πως είχε και ο ίδιος συμμετάσχει σε αυτό.

Γελούσε καθώς μου έλεγε αυτή την ιστορία. Μου είπε επίσης πως ένας πολίτης που τραυματίστηκε είχε ανοίξει μία υπόθεση και είχε δώσει τον αριθμό κυκλοφορίας του οχήματος από όπου προέρχονταν οι πυροβολισμοί, μέσα στο οποίο βρισκόμουν εγώ και ότι αυτός ο αριθμός ανήκε στη μονάδα Cato Manor. Ο Υπτγος Booysen είπε πως η καταγγελία είχε σταλεί στο γραφείο του και είπε ότι "την τακτοποίησε". Από αυτό καταλάβα ότι τη συγκάλυψε. (βλέπε βίντεο 2).

23.

Στις 27 Οκτωβρίου 2006 περίπου στις 9 π.μ., τέσσερις άνοπτοι συνελήφθησαν στην αίθουσα αφίξεων του αεροδρομίου του Ντέρμπαν από τα μέλη της Cato Manor. Κάποια από τα μέλη που ήταν παρόντα κατά τη διάρκεια αυτών των συλλήψεων ήταν: ο Υπτγος Booysen, Mostert, Van Tonder, Vick Panday, Peter George, Shane Naidoo, Mukesh Panday, Anton Lokum, Sgt R Lee. Σε αυτή τη σύλληψη συμμετείχε επίσης ο Adele Sonnekus, κατόπιν πρόσκλησής του από τον Υπτγο Booysen. Οι συλληφθέντες οδηγήθηκαν το αστυνομικό τμήμα της Cato Manor και ανακρίθηκαν ένας ένας. Κατά τη διάρκεια αυτής της ανακρίσεως ήμουν παρών. Ήμουν μάρτυρας της ανάκρισης και του μετέπειτα βασανισμού ενός από τους υπόπτους, παρουσία εμού και του Υπτγου Booysen. Μετά από ένα σύντομο διάστημα, ο Υπτγος Booysen είπε πως δεν έπρεπε να τον δει κανείς εκεί και έφυγε. Ο Υπτγος Booysen μου είπε αργότερα πως ο Mostert είχε πυροβολήσει και σκοτώσει δύο από τους υπόπτους, μετά την απόπειρα του ενός να τον χτυπήσει με ένα φτυάρι. Επιπλέον, ο Υπτγος Booysen μου είπε ότι κατέφθασε στο σημείο αμέσως μετά και ότι ο ένας από τους υπόπτους ήταν ακόμα ζαντανός, περιμένοντας το ασθενοφόρο να έρθει. Ο Υπτγος Booysen μου είπε ότι είχε σκύψει στο αυτί του υπόπτου που πέθαινε και του ψιθύρισε: "Σου το είχα πει ότι θα σε σκοτώσω εάν επιχειρούσες να γυρίσεις."

24.

Τον Απρίλιο του 2007 με επισκέφθησαν στην οικία μου οι Υπτγος Booysen και Adele Sonnekus όταν αυτός είχε λάβει ένα τηλεφώνημα από ένα από τα μέλη του που τον πληροφορούσε για ένα περιστατικό με πυροβολισμούς στην περιοχή Malvern. Η Adele Sonnekus ήταν αστυνομικός την Επαρχιακής Μονάδας Οργανωμένου Εγκλήματος και ήταν γραμματέας.

AD COUNT 1

ACCUSED NO. 9 OLIVIER

AD: CONTRAVENTION OF SECTION 2(1) (f) OF ACT 121 OF 1998 (POCA) MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE)

THE ENTERPRISE

The Serious Violent Crime (SVC) section based at Cato Manor which was a section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit, which formed part of the KZN Provincial Organised Crime structure, is the enterprise as defined in the Act. The Organised Crime structures became part of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which was under the commandership of General Booysen as the Provincial Head: DPCI since 2010. Accused 9 was the section commander of the SVC section of Cato Manor and was at all times in charge of all the activities of the SVC section of Cato Manor. The South African Police Service (SAPS) is a legal entity established by legislation in terms of the South African Police Act 68 of 1995. It is comprised of a national office and provincial structures for each province. The SVC section as part of the Durban Organised Crime was supposed to report to Colonel Alyer as the Commander of Durban Organised Crime Unit but did not do so as a result of differences they had with Colonel Alyer, they instead bypassed him and worked under the direct control and direction of General Booysen.

The organisational structure of the SVC section was as follows:

Accused 9,Captain Olivier as the Section Commander;

Three (3) group commanders worked under Captain Olivier, namely Accused 6 Captain Eva; Accused 15, Captain Lockem and Accused 16, Captain van

G 5 m

Tonder. In terms of operations, Captain Olivier (Accused 9) bypassed the Unit Commander, Colonel Aiyer and dealt directly with the Provincial Commander of DPCI, General Booysen, reducing Aiyer to a de facto commander.

The hierarchal structure of the enterprise was as follows:

2.

The precise date(s) that each of the persons were in these positions is unknown to the State, safe to mention that since 2010 when the SVC section was incorporated into the Durban Organised Crime Unit, throughout the dates of the incidents mentioned in the indictment, May 2008 to September 2011, they occupied the positions in the hierarchy for the entire duration and participated in operation or activities which facilitated and advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

3.

3.1 Accused 9, in his capacity as the Section Commander was in charge of the section and directed and controlled the operations of the SVC with the operational guidance and support of General Booysen. The SVC section would plan various suspect raids as if they are looking for dangerous criminals in order to question them about alleged involvement in various offences, in most instances, without the knowledge or involvement of the investigating officer of the case in question. Most if not all of the persons they were seeking to question end up being killed. Their official capacity as members of the SAPS was used to cover the unlawful activities that they were conducting. The resources of the SAPS were used to cover up their unlawful activities and in most instances, they would doctor the scenes by placing a firearm next to the deceased to create an impression that the deceased was posing some sort of threat to them.

Accused 6, Accused 15 and Accused 16 (the Group Commanders) took turns depending on the member who had information from the informers by briefing the team members at different incident and on different dates whilst they were also keeping constant communication with the section commander, Accused 9 and General Booysen.

Accused 6 primarily took charge of most of the scenes after the shooting to ensure that no one accesses the scene before it is doctored by placing a firearm in the vicinity of the deceased at the various scenes so that there is always harmony in the allegation that the deceased was either producing a firearm, pointing a firearm, or firing shots in the direction of the police to make the shooting a justifiable killing in terms of section 49 of the Criminal Procedure Act.

3.2 The dates of the operations as well as the place of operation are the different date and places of incidents that are referred to in the predicate offences, Counts 3 to 116;

3.3 The places of the operations are the various areas mentioned in Column 2 above and in the predicate offences, Counts 3 to 116 of the Indictment.

3.4 the enterprise as the vehicle through which the various offences are committed, remains the same in all the incidents, the only difference is that different members of the enterprise would be present in different incidents and different dates mentioned in the predicate offences. The managers of the enterprise remains the same irrespective of the different members who participate in the different incidents mentioned in the predicate offences, the most senior member on the date of the operation takes charge of the progress of the operation and there is constant telephonic or radio contact with the section commander :

Incident 1: Count 35 – 38 Thabo Msimango

On 24 May 2008, Accused 4, Paul Mostert, Accused 5 Eric Nel, Accused 7 Adjithsing Ghanness, , Accused 11 Enock Mdlalose broke and entered the deceased's apartment on 3rd Floor,32 Colesberg, 5th Avenue, Greyville Berea with a crowbar. running away. A further shot was fired at the deceased as he lay helpless on the ground. Accused 5 7 and 11assisted the other accused during the process.

Incident 2: Count 98 – 101 Fukwane Zwane

On 31 July 2008, Accused 4 Paul Moster, Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya, Accused 10 Thembinkosi Mkhwanazi, Accused 11 Thathayipi Mdlalose and Accused 15 Anton Lockem proceeded to F section KwaMashu looking for the deceased Fukwane Zwane who was suspected of involvement in the ATM bombing at Hammersdale shopping complex, where two (2) security guards were held hostage and three (3) ATM blown open with explosives and a large amount of cash was forcibly removed from the ATM's. The accused proceeded on foot to the premises and found the deceased outside the premises seated in his silver 530i BMW car with his girlfriend. Captain Lockem took the girlfriend to the back of the house where Accused 8 and 11 were taking guard and returned to the vehicle to search the vehicle. Accused 10 Mkhwanazi positioned himself near a kombi to do guard duties. Accused 8 Makhaya and Mdlalose Accused 11 guarded the deceased's girlfriend at the back of the house. The deceased who was unarmed and who was already under police control, he raised his arms when he was ordered to do so and to get out of the car and was pushed towards the wall and subdued. Accused 4 fired numerous shots at him, claiming that he was either trying to shoot Accused 15 Lockem or pointing a firearm at Lockem and the deceased fell to the ground immediately with gunshot wounds on his upper body. Accused 15 then took charge of the scene and ensured that it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the deceased to make the shooting justifiable in terms of the law.

Incident 3: Counts 102 -103 Muzi Majola

On 6 August 2008, Accused 4 Paul Mostert, Accused 5 Eric Nel, Accused 13 Rubendren Naidoo and Accused 30 Mukesh Panday stopped at the Caltex garage in Dundee keeping observation when they noticed a vehicle with three (3) occupants. The vehicle left the garage towards Glencoe and the police followed it. Having identified that the driver of the vehicle was Muzi Majola and one of the passanger was Sicelo Mngimezulu who they were looking for on suspicions of being involved in ATM bombings, they decided to stop the vehicle. Muzi Majola and Sicelo Mngomezulu were detained whilst Innocent Mngomezulu was released. The accused then travelled in two (2) separate vehicles with the suspects. Sicelo Mngomezulu

When the driver saw the police vehicle, he came out of his car, produced a firearm and Accused 4 fired shot at him using his 9mm pistol wounding deceased Jabulani Bhengu fatally. Accused 4 fired more shots at the deceased who had fallen down. He remained on the scene until the paramedics arrived.

There was a second scene at Glastonbury Street, Sommerset Park, Accused 7, Accused 13 and Accused 15 had followed a suspect into the premises and the suspect fired in his direction and he returned fire, wounding the deceased fatally. Accused 26 also fired shots at the deceased with his R5 rifle. The deceased in the second scene Dumisane Mgobhozi was talking on his phone when the police shot at him. The deceased in the third scene, Boysie Mbonambi was in his room downstairs when Dumisane Mgobhozi entered his premises. The boys who were in the house did not see a firearm in Mgobhozi's possession. Boysie Mbonambi must have heard the gunshots as he was downstairs in his room and used the sliding door to escape from his house. There were bullet holes on the sliding door and the window was shattered.

The third scene was at a complex in Midsummer Cresent, where Boysie Mbonambi was spotted by a domestic worker trying to jump one of the back walls. A domestic worker drew the police's attention to where Mbonambi was hiding in the dustbin and Accused 14 fired shots inside the dustbin with his R5 rifle, wounding Mbonambi fatally. The deceased did not have any firearms in his hands as he tried to jump over the wall fencing of the adjacent property.

Various firearms were placed next to the deceased to confirm the allegations that they had a firearm which they either pointed or fired towards the police when the police shot them. Accused 15 took over the scene and ensured that it is doctored to accord with their allegation that the deceased had a firearm and fired shots in their direction so that their version is justifiable.
Boysie Mbonambi's children confirm that their father had been in his bedroom the entire morning until Dumisani Mgobhozi came to their home in a white Polo and they opened the gate for him. Dumisane asked them about their father and he was directed to the bedroom where the father was. After Dumisane spoke to his father he came out and was talking on his phone waiting for the boy to close the garage door when police burst into the house and fired shots at Dumisane who was still on the cell phone. Dumisane never had any firearm with him, only the cell phone through which he was talking when the police came in. The father, Boysie Mbonambi escaped through the sliding door and did not also have any firearms in his possession. The police also took Boysie's black Prada bag.

Incident 23 Counts 94 – 97 Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala

On 4 September 2011, Accused 4 Paul Moster, Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya, Accused 11 Thatayiphi Mdlalose, Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder Accused 25 Charles Smith and Accused 26 Jeremy Martem went to Mabuyeni Community Hall at Esikhaweni and took the deceased away, saying that he was Philani Ndlovu "Bha". The deceased told them that he was Qinisani Gwala and that they were mistaken but this fell on deaf ears. Even witnesses who were there conformed that he was Qinisani Gwala but the police took him away any way.

The accused hand cuffed him and took him to his home, likely to search his premises, They entered into the house and shot at the deceased whilst he was handcuffed. The Accused covered his brother who was present during the shooting with a washing basin.

Accused 25 fired shots at the deceased with his R5 rifle on the basis of their allegation that the deceased produced a gun next to the cupboards; as they were searching his room and tried to shoot at them. Accused 26 also fired shots at the deceased with his 9mm Berreta pistol. Accused 2 took over the scene and invited the relevant units to the scene after they made sure that they place a revolver next to the deceased on the scene to harmonise with their allegation that the deceased was shooting at them.

4. The Activities

These are the same as the operations which were conducted by the members of the enterprise which are outlined in paragraph 3 above. The Accused would, on the basis that they were conducting suspect raids, looking for suspects that they wanted to question relating to their involvement in some offence, break and enter the residences of most of the deceased who are mentioned in the table in paragraph 3 during the early hours of the morning as stated fully in paragraph 3 and at places mentioned in column 3 of the table and instead of questioning the suspects, they end up shooting and killing all of them on allegations that they were attempting to shoot at them or produced a firearm to endanger their lives. The tracing of the suspects would take place without the investigating officer knowing of the suspect raid and mostly without a warrant for the arrest of that suspect. Even if that docket in respect of which the suspect would be sought were to be presented to a prosecutor for consideration of a J50 warrant of arrest, it would be declined on the basis of insufficiency of evidence that links that suspect with the commission of the offence. In all the incidents mentioned in paragraph 3, all the suspects that were required for questioning ended up being killed, which was part of the initial plan.

The parties that participated in all the operations have been mentioned more fully in the incident 1 – 23 mentioned above.

In August 2008 when the case against Bongani Biyela was withdrawn in court in Durban Accused 4 was in the company of an Indian police officer (Shane Naidoo) when he approached the deceased, Bongani Biyela and told him in front of his co-accused that he will hunt him and kill him. When Bongani Biyela was in custody awaiting trial, Accused 4 summoned Richard Biyela to Cato Manor offices as he was verifying residential addresses of Bongani Biyela. Shane Naidoo and Bongani Biyela were present as Accused 4 questioned Richard Biyela about his residential address and possessions.

G SM

On 22 November 2008 after Bongani was released,a group of Cato Manor police including Shane Naidoo arrived at the Biyela homestead at about 02h00, asking for the whereabouts of Bongani Biyela and firearms. Richard Biyela was pointed with firearms and Shane Naidoo told his colleagues not to do so and they did. Richard Biyela told them Bongani Biyela might be in his hut and they proceeded there. He then heard gunshots in that area. When he was taken to a steepy area he met Accused 4 who asked where Bingani Biyela was and hit him with clenched fists on his face. Accused 4 said he was going to kill all Bongani's friends at KwaMashu, including Mlu. A certain black officer brought a bolt cutter and wanted to open his legs forcefully with a view to cut his testicles. Accused 4 took a big hammer and smashed the door of a rondavel that was not tampered with. The police then brought cases of beer and bottles of brandy to drink in celebration. Accused 4 asked if he knew Nqaba and Mtako. He answered affirmative and Accused 4 who was in the company of Accused 2 and Matthews Mkhize handcuffed him with cable ties at the back. He was asked whose the Detta vehicle that was parked outside was and he replied that it was his mother's. Accused 2 and Mkhize searched it and found nothing. In the Quantum wherein he was taken, he found Nqaba Mdluli inside and sat next to him.

Accused 4 sat in the front seat of the Toyota Quantum and the vehicles drove to "G" section where they stopped at a corner house, G187, Kwa-Mashu, that was rented by Sakhile Prince Thabethe. Accused 4 went into that house leaving Nka with Mkhize and others; he came back running to the Quantum asking Mkhize where his "mbombayi" or "spoek" is. Accused 4 asked the deceased's father many times who it was who was sitting in the lounge. When the deceased's father wanted to see the police official who had shot at his son, a false report was given that he had been injured and has been driven to hospital. G SM

The Accused knew

7.1 It is the State case that all the accused knew that they were participating in unlawful activities by associating themselves directly or indirectly with the enterprise and getting involved in conduct or activities which were advancing the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2 Prior to May 2008, a lot of incidents took place some of which are not even included in the indictment. On 24 May 2008 when the initial suspects were traced, it was already getting clear that Cato Manor was not interested in arresting the suspects and bringing them before the courts for their guilt to be determined properly by means of presenting evidence which has been properly obtained by the police. On 24 May 2008 when Thabo Msimango was located at his flat and he escaped, the police fired shots at him despite the fact that the flat is within an enclosure which was already cordoned off to an extent that there were no chances of escape. When he is struck by bullets as he falls down from the upper levels of his flat, making it easier to arrest a wounded suspect, the pursuers fires a shot at him lying helplessly on the ground to an extent that the tarred ground on which he fell sustains a hole from the shot fired, dispelling any myth that the intention is to arrest and making it very clear that the suspect is being finished off.

The killing of Supt Govender, Supt Choncho, Inkozi Zondi which were serving South African Police members and ex-members drove Cato Manor outside the ambit of the legal structure created by the SA Police Act and they decided then that they will stop at nothing to track the killers of police officers. It is the State case that Cato Manor at this stage decided that they will stop at nothing in tracking and eliminating people that they suspect of involvement in the continuing taxi feud between Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association. It is the State case that Cato Manor members knew that they will use the authority or cover of the legal entity of SAPS to clothe their unlawful activities.

7.2.2 The accused knew that they were participating in conduct that pursues the objectives of the enterprise from the briefings which Superintendent Olivier, (Accused 9 Captain Eva (accused 6), Captain Lockem, (accused 15) and Captain van Tonder accused 16 were giving them prior to most of the operations. General Booysen and Sup Olivier would arrive at most scenes and congratulate the members for a job well done. The utterances of influencial members of Cato Manor who were close to General Booysen such as accused 4 that he or Kito as they were well known would track and kill the suspects when they are released, made all members who took part in the operations know that they were busy with activities of an enterprise. For instance when Accused 4 told witness 127 that his appointment card was a license from Bheki Cele, the former Commissioner of Police to kill people. Bongani Velaphi Biyela (deceased in Count 39) had a criminal case for which he was attending court in Durban. When he was awaiting trial in custody, Cato Manor police said to witness 127 in broken fanakalo language that if Bongani were to apply for bail and be released, the police would "kill him". On a subsequent appearance in the same matter when the case was withdrawn and the deceased went to fetch his bail money, Accused 4 approached him and told him in the presence of his companions including witness 128 that even if he may be released, "they will hunt him (deceased) and kill him". This makes it clear that their intention in tracing suspects was not to bring them to the courts for their guilt to be determined but to kill them.

7.2.3 the precise nature, extent or ambit of the knowledge is very clear when the totality of the evidence and the number of the suspects killed is evaluated. It is sufficient just to state that the accused knew that they were participating in conduct that accelerates the objective of the enterprise.

8. The accused ought reasonably to have known

8.1 It is the State case that the accused "ought reasonably to have known that they were associating with an enterprise in contravention of section 2 (e) of Act 121 of 1998. The South African Police Act 68 of 1995 imposes a legal duty on every member of the service to protect the community and to perform official duty subject to Constitution and with due regard to the rights of every person which is enshrined in the Constitution. All the accused persons had an obligation to observe the rights of every person in particular those that are suspected of involvement in crime. It is the State case that the accused conducted themselves in a manner that contradicts their duties and obligations which flow from the Constitution and the Police Act. The accused ought to have known that in engaging in activities that they were taking part in, they were associating with unlawful conduct of the enterprise.

1. The Enterprise

The enterprise is the same and continues to be the same in both contravention of section 2 (1) (e) and 2 (1) (f) and in all predicate offences. It is clear from the Accused request for further particulars that deceased 1, Magojela Timson Ndimande and deceased 2, Sibusiso Tembe have been separated in the Accused's request documents. The State submits that it cannot happen as the incident relating to Magojela, which forms Count 8 and the incident relating to Sibusiso Tembe, which forms Count 9 happened at the same time, with same accused persons involved. Both Magojela and Tembe were travelling together in the same vehicle and the same conduct of the accused that contributed to the death of the one, is the same conduct the contributed to the death of the other. It is for this reason that the response relating to the further particulars have been dealt with together, particularly because the questions are also the same.

1.6 Yes.

1.7 It is alleged that the shots that struck the deceased at least more than once, considering that Accused 4 was not the only person firing shots at the deceased at the time.

1.8 Considering that Accused 4 was not the only person firing shots at the deceased at the time, it is not possible to state precisely upon which part of the body the deceased was struck by the gunshots fired by Accused 4. The State will argue that as the accused were acting in concert with one another, it is not necessary to prove which gunshot caused which wound, safe to state that Accused 4 associated himself with the conduct of his co-accused.

1.9 Yes.

2. AD: PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY: MURDER

3. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY AND THE RELATIONSHIP WITH PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, Accused 4's conduct is related to other actus reus in the indictment.

3.2 The State alleges that the shooting of the deceased, Magojela and Tembe is part of the list of targets that the Chairman of KwaMaphumulo taxi association was referring to in the court interdict that he successfully applied for in the Durban High court.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY RELATIONSHIP WITH THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes,the murder of Timson Magojela is connected or related to the other activities of the enterprise as required in terms of section 2(1) of Act 121 of 1998 in that:-

- Magojela was an executive member of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi association which was in conflict with the Stanger Taxi Association and was suspected by Cato Manor of either having funded the killing of Sup Choncho just in the same way as Mkhize, the Chairman of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association was suspected.

- Magojela was suspected of involvement in the planning of the Choncho killing as his number was allegedly one of the numbers that Dumisani Ndlovu was in regular communication with. Dumisani Ndlovu was one the assailants who attacked Sup Choncho who was shot and killed on the Choncho scene by Insp Khanyile. His cell phone was recovered from the scene and used by Cato Manor as an investigation tool.

- Magojela was one of the KwaMaphumulo members who was allegedly on the list of people to be killed that Bongane Mkhize complained about

GSM

In the court interdict, Bongane Mkhize in his affidavit in support of the interdict mentioned that according to the hit list allegedly in possession of Cato Manor, he is next to be killed. It is the State case that the Magojela killing was part of the plan by Cato Manor to eliminate members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Sup Choncho.

4.2 Accused 4 as a member of the Cato Manor police had close ties with the Section Commander, Sup. Olivier, accused 9 as well as General Booysen. This closeness and trusting working relation dates back from the times when they were together at the Serious Violent Crime Unit before its incorporation into Organised Crime.

4.2.2 – 4.2.4 It is the State case that the enterprise remains the same in all the incidents, the difference will only be the members who participated will difference depending on who is available and on duty on the day, who will then be briefed to engage in conduct that would advance the objectives of the enterprise. The organisational structure, operational structure and hierarchal structure of the enterprise and people employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined in detail on pages 3 – 5 of this submission.

4.2.5 It is the State's main case that the enterprise operated as a legal entity under the auspices or cover of the SA Police Service as a legal entity established by legislation in terms of the SA Police Act 68 of 1995. It is the State submission that the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor, which was a section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit, formed the enterprise.

4.2.6 The State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.9 Yes, It is alleged that Accused 4 was involved in the killing of Magojela and Tembe.

4.10 Accused 4 was involved in questioning of Magojela and Tembe after they were handed over to him on 29 August 2008 by witnesses 22 and 25, Cst Gebela Nad Warrant Officer Ndlovu. 6.4 Yes it is alleged that each person of the enterprise formed a common purpose to engage in the killing of Magojela and Tembe.

6.5.1 It is not certain when the common purpose was formed by other members with Accused 4. Accused 4 already had intended killing Magojela when he instructed witness 29, the owner of VIP Protection which was providing security services for members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association with security guards, to remove their guards from them. G SM

- Viva voce evidence of witness 31, an Airborne Law Enforcement Officer attached to the Airwing at the Virginia Airport
- Other statements which are in the docket a copy of which has been supplied to the defence, depending on what is placed in dispute
- The principles of law relied upon is circumstantial evidence, the doctrine of common purpose
- It is the state case that Accused 5 fired a number of shots at the deceased when no danger was posed to him or his colleagues and that the shooting cannot be justified in terms of section 49 (2) of the Criminal Procedure Act 51 of 1977
- Whereas section 16 of Act 68 of 1995 places a duty on the police to prevent and investigate organised crime, Accused 9, instead of utilising the resources at his disposal to tackle organised crime, used the resources to commit crime. It is the State's case that the Cato Manor section took the law in their arms and killed suspects instead of bringing them before the courts for their guilt to be determined.

1.2 The act that the State relies on to found a conviction of murder occurred:

1.2.1 on the dates, the 29 August 2008 and 16 September 2008
1.2.2 the time of the act is around 10h10 and
1.2.3 the place where it happened is along the N3 Highway near Cedara after Merrivale off ramp in Howick.

1.3 In so far as Accused 9 is concerned, the State is relying on his omission as the Section Commander to ensure that his members deal with the arrests in a lawful and constitutional manner that upholds and protects the rights of the arrested persons. When the accused were being killed instead of being arrested and placed before the courts, Accused 9 had a legal duty to determine why when his members are involded in these kinds of police operations, the suspects ended up being shot and killed. In fact on his arrival on the scene with General Booysen, they congradulated the members for the work done.

1.3.1 the date of the omission is 16 September 2009

AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY: MURDER

2.1 Yes

2.2.2 It is not certain at which place or time Accused 9 and other members of Cato Manor formed the plan to commit the crime of murder safe to state that at least when the accused requested witness 29, the owner of VIP Protection to remove his security officers from the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi association and on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was spotted, chased, during the pursuit and until the deceased was shot dead.

2.2.3 The terms of the plan are not known to the State, it is a matter of evidence.

2.2.4 Yes.

2.3.1 The precise identities of the persons who planned to kill the deceased are not clear to the State safe to state that the members of Cato Manor that took part in the pursuit and fired shots at the deceased and associated themselves with the shooting of the deceased.

2.3.2 The precise acts of participation or involvement of each person is outlined in some detail in the Incident 5 dealing with Counts 8 - 12.

2.3.3 The conduct of each accused has been outlined in Incident 5 dealing with Counts 8 – 12 above

AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

GSM

3.1 Yes, Accused 8's conduct and those of the other co-accused are related to other actus reus in the indictment.

3.2 The State alleges that the shooting of the deceased, Magojela and Tembe is part of the list of targets that the Chairman of KwaMaphumulo taxi association was referring to in the court interdict that he successfully applied for in the Durban High court.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes,the murder of Timson Magojela is connected or related to the other activities of the enterprise as required in terms of section 2(1) of Act 121 of 1998 in that:-

- Magojela was an executive member of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi association which was in conflict with the Stanger Taxi Association and was suspected by Cato Manor of either having funded the killing of Sup Choncho just in the same way as Mkhize, the Chairman of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association was suspected.

- Magojela was suspected of involvement in the planning of the Choncho killing as his number was allegedly one of the numbers that Dumisani Ndlovu was in regular communication with. Dumisani Ndlovu was one the assailants who attacked Sup Choncho who was shot and killed on the Choncho scene by Insp Khanyile. His cell phone was recovered from the scene and used by Cato Manor as an investigation tool.

- Magojela was one of the KwaMaphumulo members who was allegedly on the list of people to be killed that Bongane Mkhize complained about in the court interdict, Bongane Mkhize in his affidavit in support of the interdict mentioned that according to the hit list allegedly in possession of Cato Manor, he is next to be killed. It is the State case that the Magojela killing was part of the plan by Cato Manor to eliminate members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Sup Choncho.

- Sibusiso Tembe was a bodyguard who was protecting Magojela whose company VIP Protection was warned by Cato Manor police to remove him, Cato Manor had to eliminate him too to be able to get to Magojela Ndimande.

4.2 Accused 9 as Section Commander of the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit had close ties with the Provincial Commander of Organised Crime, General Booysen which dates back for many years when they worked in various Units together. This closeness and trusting working relation dates back from the times when they were together at the Serious Violent Crime Unit before its incorporation into Organised Crime and other sections of SA Police Service where they worked together.

4.2.2 – 4.2.4 It is the State case that the enterprise remains the same in all the incidents, the difference will only be the members who participated will difference depending on who is available and on duty on the day, who will then be briefed to engage in conduct that would advance the objectives of the enterprise. The organisational structure, operational structure and hierarchal structure of the enterprise and people employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined in detail on pages 3 – 5 of this submission.

4.2.5 It is the State's main case that the enterprise operated as a legal entity under the auspices or cover of the SA Police Service as a legal entity established by legislation in terms of the SA Police Act 68 of 1995. It is the State submission that the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor, which was a section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit, formed the enterprise.

4.2.6 The State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

G-SM

Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.9 Yes, It is alleged that Accused 9 was involved in the killing of Magojela and Tembe, either on the basis of having omitted to prevent it from happening when there was a legal duty to do so, or on the basis of being an accessory after the fact, since on arrival, he together with General Booysen congratulated the members for a job well done instead of considering the unlawfulness or otherwise of their conduct.

4.10 Accused 5 was involved in questioning of Magojela and Tembe after they were handed over to Cato Manor on 29 August 2008 by witnesses 22 and 25, Cst Gebela and Warrant Officer Ndlovu. On 16 September 2008 around 08h55, Accused 4 briefed other members of Cato Manor Unit about information at his disposal. Accused 4, accompanied by Accused 8, drove his silver BMW vehicle behind the deceased's Hyundai Tuscon and pulled next to it as his crew were shooting in the direction of the deceased, when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, Accused 4 went closer to the driver's door and fired shots towards the driver at close range. Accused 8 also fired shot in the direction of the deceased, in association with the conduct of Accused 4 and 5. Accused 9 associated himself with the conduct of his men on arrival at the scene.

3.2 The State alleges that the shooting of the deceased, Magojela and Tembe is part of the list of targets that the Chairman of KwaMaphumulo taxi association was referring to in the court interdict that he successfully applied for in the Durban High court.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes,the murder of Timson Magojela is connected or related to the other activities of the enterprise as required in terms of section 2(1) of Act 121 of 1998 in that:-

- Magojela was an executive member of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi association which was in conflict with the Stanger Taxi Association and was suspected by Cato Manor of either having funded the killing of Sup Choncho just in the same way as Mkhize, the Chairman of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association was suspected.

- Magojela was suspected of involvement in the planning of the Choncho killing as his number was allegedly one of the numbers that Dumisani Ndlovu was in regular communication with. Dumisani Ndlovu was one the assailants who attacked Sup Choncho who was shot and killed on the Choncho scene by Insp Khanyile. His cell phone was recovered from the scene and used by Cato Manor as an investigation tool.

- Magojela was one of the KwaMaphumulo members who was allegedly on the list of people to be killed that Bongane Mkhize complained about in the court interdict, Bongane Mkhize in his affidavit in support of the interdict mentioned that according to the hit list allegedly in possession of Cato Manor, he is next to be killed. It is the State case that the Magojela killing was part of the plan by Cato Manor to eliminate members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Sup Choncho.

- Sibusiso Tembe was a bodyguard who was protecting Magojela whose company VIP Protection was warned by Cato Manor police to remove him, Cato Manor had to eliminate him too to be able to get to Magojela Ndimande.

4.2 Accused 15 as Group Commander of the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit had close ties with the Section Commander, Captain Olivier and the Provincial Commander of Organised Crime, General Booysen which dates back for many years when they worked in various Units together. This closeness and trusting working relation dates back from the times when they were together at the Serious Violent Crime Unit before its incorporation into Organised Crime and other sections of SA Police Service where they worked together.

4.2.2 – 4.2.4 It is the State case that the enterprise remains the same in all the incidents, the difference will only be the members who participated will difference depending on who is available and on duty on the day, who will then be briefed to engage in conduct that would advance the objectives of the enterprise. The organisational structure, operational structure and hierarchal structure of the enterprise and people employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined in detail on pages 3 – 5 of this submission.

4.2.5 It is the State's main case that the enterprise operated as a legal entity under the auspices or cover of the SA Police Service as a legal entity established by legislation in terms of the SA Police Act 68 of 1995. It is the State submission that the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor, which was a section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit, formed the enterprise.

4.2.6 The State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.9 Yes, it is alleged that Accused 15 was involved in the killing of Magojela and Tembe, either on the basis of having omitted to prevent it from happening when there was a legal duty to do so, or on the basis of being party to the tracking, chasing, capture and ultimate shooting of Magojela and Tembe

4.10 Accused 5 was involved in questioning of Magojela and Tembe after they were handed over to Cato Manor on 29 August 2008 by witnesses 22 and 25, Cst Gebela and Warrant Officer Ndlovu. On 16 September 2008 around 08h55, Accused 4 briefed other members of Cato Manor Unit about information at his disposal. Accused 4, accompanied by Accused 8, drove his silver BMW vehicle behind the deceased's Hyundai Tuscon and pulled next to it as his crew were shooting in the direction of the deceased, when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, Accused 4 went closer to the driver's door and fired shots towards the driver at close range. Accused 8 also fired shot in the direction of the deceased, in association with the conduct of Accused 4 and 5. Accused 9 associated himself with the conduct of his men on arrival at the scene. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9 and 15 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9 and 15 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

It is the State case that the Magojela killing was part of the plan by Cato Manor to eliminate members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Sup Choncho.

GSM

- Sibusiso Tembe was a bodyguard who was protecting Magojela whose company VIP Protection was warned by Cato Manor police to remove him, Cato Manor had to eliminate him too to be able to get to Magojela Ndimande.

4.2 Accused 16 as Group Commander of the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit had close ties with the Section Commander, Captain Olivier and the Provincial Commander of Organised Crime, General Booysen which dates back for many years when they worked in various Units together. This closeness and trusting working relation dates back from the times when they were together at the Serious Violent Crime Unit before its incorporation into Organised Crime and other sections of SA Police Service where they worked together.

4.2.2 – 4.2.4 It is the State case that the enterprise remains the same in all the incidents, the difference will only be the members who participated will difference depending on who is available and on duty on the day, who will then be briefed to engage in conduct that would advance the objectives of the enterprise. The organisational structure, operational structure and hierarchal structure of the enterprise and people employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined in detail on pages 3 – 5 of this submission.

4.2.5 It is the State's main case that the enterprise operated as a legal entity under the auspices or cover of the SA Police Service as a legal entity established by legislation in terms of the SA Police Act 68 of 1995. It is the State submission that the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor, which was a section of the Durban Organised Crime Unit, formed the enterprise.

4.2.6 The State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

G SM

4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.9 Yes, It is alleged that Accused 16 was involved in the killing of Magojela and Tembe, either on the basis of having omitted to prevent it from happening when there was a legal duty to do so, or on the basis of being party to the tracking, chasing, capture and ultimate shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

4.10 Accused 5 was involved in questioning of Magojela and Tembe after they were handed over to Cato Manor on 29 August 2008 by witnesses 22 and 25, Cst Gebela and Warrant Officer Ndlovu. On 16 September 2008 around 08h55, Accused 4 briefed other members of Cato Manor Unit about information at his disposal. Accused 4, accompanied by Accused 8, drove his silver BMW vehicle behind the deceased's Hyundai Tuscon and pulled next to it as his crew were shooting in the direction of the deceased, when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, Accused 4 went closer to the driver's door and fired shots towards the driver at close range. Accused 8 also fired shot in the direction of the deceased, in association with the conduct of Accused 4 and 5. Accused 9 associated himself with the conduct of his men on arrival at the scene. Accused 15 also associate himself with the conduct of his men by taking part in the chasing, as he was the driver of the pursuit vehicle 2, the gold Toyota Corolla with registration ND 309-345.

WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF AN ENTERPRISE

5.1 Yes, Accused 16 managed the activities of the enterprise together with Accused 1, 6, and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Count 8, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.
Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Section Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.3 There was no house breaking in Count 8 – 12, the deceased vehicle in which he was travelling with his bodyguard was pursued along the N3 Highway. Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction.

7.2.3 Accused 16 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 16 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

This killing was also used to get monetary rewards and certificates within the SAPS.

8.7 – 8.8 Yes same as 6.3 above.

COUNT 9
MURDER OF SIBUSISO TEMBE

This count was dealt with together with Count 8, the death of Magojela as both were travelling together in the same vehicle and the conduct which led to the death of the one, led to the death of the other and it is the same accused persons who were involved in both counts.

PAGES 52 – 102 of the Accused 's Request, dealing with the murder of Sibusiso Tembe has been dealt with pages 1- 51 of the Accused's Request for Further Particulars

It is the State's view that both Magojela and Tembe were travelling together vin the same car and the conduct that caused their death is the same conduct perpetrated by the same accused persons, with slight differences here and there. It was convenient to deal with them together.

AD COUNT 10: CONTRAVENTION OF SECTION 3 OF ACT 60 OF 2000
AD COUNT 11: CONTRAVENTION OF SECTION 90 OF ACT 60 OF 2000
ACCUSED 4 PAUL MOSTERT

Although the accused separated Count 10 from Count 11 in their request, the State deals with both Counts 10 and 11 at the same time as both were committed at the same time by the same accused persons, the ammunition being inside the firearms concerned, it does not make sense really to separate them as if they are in fact separate conduct of separate accused persons.

1.1 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the unlawful possession of the firearm. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi' or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

- Evidence of photos taken by witness 17, Insp Zondi and the respective locations of the rifles and cartridges found on the scene.

- Evidence of witness 30, Mr Steyl relating to his observations and conclusions about where the rifles (the AK47 and the Mini Ruger 14) and cartridges were depicted on the scene.

1.3 No the State does not rely on an omission.

1.4.1 This is the 7,62 X39 mm Calibre Russian manufactured Model AK47 Assault Rifle with serial number 1975-849754

1.4.2 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds as ammunition.

2. AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARM AND AMMUNITION

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of the firearm and ammunition formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

G S m

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearm and ammunition:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them get injured nor any of their vehicles get damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle was possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem

G.S.M

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and
Accused 9 Willem Olivier
2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10 and 11, the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

3. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIPQUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 was involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

GSM

5.1 Yes and No Accused 4 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, they were managed by Accused 1, 9, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Section Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

GSM

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.
5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

GSM

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 9 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla with registration ND 309-345 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above
6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission
6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence
6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission
6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.
6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Phiangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 4 committed the crime of possession of firearms and ammunition jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

G rm

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

7.2.3 Accused 4 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 4 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

8.5 – 8.6 Yes members of the Stanger Taxi Association paid Cato Manor members after the killing of Magojela and Tembe. Sanele Zondi and Bongizwe Mhlongo raised an amount of R750 000, 00 and went to pay Cato Manor police in particular Booysen for this killing. This killing was also used to get monetary rewards and certificates within the SAPS.

8.7 – 8.8 Yes same as 6.3 above.

AD COUNT 10 -11: ACCUSED ERIC NEL
COUNT 10: UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARMS
COUNT 11: UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF AMMUNITION

Although the accused separated Count 10 from Count 11 in their request, the State deals with both Counts 10 and 11 at the same time as both were committed at the same time by the same accused persons, the ammunition being inside the firearms concerned, it does not make sense really to separate them as if they are in fact separate conduct of separate accused persons.

1.1 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the unlawful possession of the firearm. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi' or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

1.2.1 The date of the act is16 September 2008

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 10h00

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

1.3 No the State does not rely on an omission.

1.4 .1 This is the 7,62 X39 mm Calibre Russian manufactured Model AK47 Assault Rifle with serial number 1975-849754

1.4.3 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds as ammunition.

2. AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARM AND AMMUNITION

GSM

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of the firearm and ammunition formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearm and ammunition:

G SM

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them get injured nor any of their vehicles get damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and
Accused 9 Willem Olivier

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10 and 11, the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

GSM

3. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY RELATIONSHIPQUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

GSM

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and

G SM

Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes. It is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 Yes and No Accused 5 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, they were managed by Accused 1, 9, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Section Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

GSM

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 9 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

GSM

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.

6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 5 committed the crime of possession of firearms and ammunition jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and

Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

7.2.3 Accused 5 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 5 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. 8.5 – 8.6 Yes members of the Stanger Taxi Association paid Cato Manor members after the killing of Magojela and Tembe. Sanele Zondi and Bongizwe Mhlongo raised an amount of R750 000, 00 and went to pay Cato Manor police in particular Booysen for this killing. This killing was also used to get monetary rewards and certificates within the SAPS.

8.7 – 8.8 Yes same as 6.3 above.

AD COUNT 10 - 11: ACCUSED 8 PHUMELELA MAKHANYA
COUNT 10 UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARMS
COUNT 11 UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF AMMUNITION

Although the accused separated Count 10 from Count 11 in their request, the State deals with both Counts 10 and 11 at the same time as both were committed at the same time by the same accused persons, the ammunition being inside the firearms concerned, it does not make sense really to separate them as if they are in fact separate conduct of separate accused persons.

1.1 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the unlawful possession of the firearm. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

GSM

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi' or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

1.2.1 The date of the act is16 September 2008

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 10h00

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

1.3 No the State does not rely on an omission.

1.4.1 This is the 7,62 X39 mm Calibre Russian manufactured Model AK47 Assault Rifle with serial number 1975-849754

1.4.2 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds as ammunition.

2. AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARM AND AMMUNITION

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of the firearm and ammunition formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearm and ammunition:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.

GSM

- It is not surprising that not a single one of them get injured nor any of their vehicles get damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and
Accused 9 Willem Olivier

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10 and 11, the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

3. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition is related to other charges in the indictment.

G rm

3.2 the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIPQUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

GSM

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes It is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 8 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 Yes and No Accused 8 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, they were managed by Accused 1, 9, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

G-SM

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Section Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

GSM

5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 9 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

8.5 – 8.6 Yes members of the Stanger Taxi Association paid Cato Manor members after the killing of Magojela and Tembe. Sanele Zondi and Bongizwe Mhlongo raised an amount of R750 000, 00 and went to pay Cato Manor police in particular Booysen for this killing. This killing was also used to get monetary rewards and certificates within the SAPS.

G SM

8.7 – 8.8 Yes same as 6.3 above.

AD COUNT 10 – 11: ACCUSED 15 ANTON LOCKEM
COUNT 10 UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARMS
COUNT 11 UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF AMMUNITION

Although the accused separated Count 10 from Count 11 in their request, the State deals with both Counts 10 and 11 at the same time as both were committed at the same time by the same accused persons, the ammunition being inside the firearms concerned, it does not make sense really to separate them as if they are in fact separate conduct of separate accused persons.

1.1 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the unlawful possession of the firearm. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mdull with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi" or

"spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

1.2.1 The date of the act is16 September 2008

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 10h00

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

1.3 No the State does not rely on an omission.

1.4.1 This is the 7,62 X39 mm Calibre Russian manufactured Model AK47 Assault Rifle with serial number 1975-849754

1.4.2 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds as ammunition.

2. AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARM AND AMMUNITION

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of the firearm and ammunition formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearm and ammunition:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them get injured nor any of their vehicles get damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

GSM

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and
Accused 9 Willem Olivier

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10 and 11, the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

3. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIPQUA THE ENTERPRISE

G.S.M

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 15 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 Yes, Accused 15 did manage the activities of the enterprise in his capacity as a Group Commander at SVC section, together with Accused 1, 9, 6, and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Group Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.
5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

G SM

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South

African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 9 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla with registration ND 309-345 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen
Accused 9 Cornelius Olivier

6.5.3 The terms or nature of the conduct agreed upon was the tracking, locating and shooting of Magojela

6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission

6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence

6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission

6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.

6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the

G S M

Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 15 committed the crime of possession of firearms and ammunition jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

7.2.3 Accused 15 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 15 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

G sm

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

1.5 Same as 7.6 above.

7.8 -7.9 Same as 7.6 above

- Murder of Tembe committed on the same day.
- The unlawful possession of firearms committed on the same day.
- The unlawful possession of ammunition committed on the same day.

AD COUNT 10 – 11: EUGENE VAN TONDER

COUNT 10: UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARMS

COUNT 11: UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF ARMS

Although the accused separated Count 10 from Count 11 in their request, the State deals with both Counts 10 and 11 at the same time as both were committed at the same time by the same accused persons, the ammunition being inside the firearms concerned, it does not make sense really to separate them as if they are in fact separate conduct of separate accused persons.

1.1 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the unlawful possession of the firearm. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mdull with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi" or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

1.2.1 The date of the act is16 September 2008

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 10h00

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

1.3 No the State does not rely on an omission.

1.4.1 This is the 7,62 X39 mm Calibre Russian manufactured Model AK47 Assault Rifle with serial number 1975-849754

1.4.2 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds as ammunition.

2. AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARM AND AMMUNITION

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of the firearm and ammunition formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

2.2.4 Yes, It is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearm and ammunition:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids
- Immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them get injured nor any of their vehicles get damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert

Accused 5 Eric Nel

Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and
Accused 9 Willem Olivier

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10 and 11, the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

3. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIPQUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and Incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4

G S m

Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 16 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

G 5m

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 Yes, Accused 16 did manage the activities of the enterprise in his capacity as a Group Commander at SVC section, together with Accused 1, 9, 6, and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Group Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

 GSM

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.
5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

G.S.M

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

GSM

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 16 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla with registration ND 309-345 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members.
6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above
6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.
6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

G J M

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen
Accused 9 Cornelius Olivier

6.5.3 The terms or nature of the conduct agreed upon was the tracking, locating and shooting of Magojela

6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission

6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence

6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission

6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.

6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

GSM

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 16 committed the crime of possession of firearms and ammunition jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

7.2.3 Accused 16 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 16 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

1.5 Same as 7.6 above.

7.8 -7.9 Same as 7.6 above
7.9 Same as 7.6 above.

8.CONDUCTING THE AFFAIRS OF THE ENTERPRISE

8.1 The affairs of the enterprise that Accused 16 is alleged to have taken part in or participated in through a pattern of racketeering activities include the

- murder of Magojela that was committed on 16 September 2008.
- Murder of Tembe committed on the same day.
- The unlawful possession of firearms committed on the same day.
- The unlawful possession of ammunition committed on the same day.
- The defeating the ends of justice committed on the same day.

The other activities that Accused 16 participated in include the predicate offences that are listed on Page 25 of this submission:

Counts 3 – 7 the killing of Lindelani Buthelezi
Counts 8 – 12 the killing of Magojela and Tembe
Counts 13 – 18 the killings of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu
Counts 31 – 34 the killing of Sifiso Ndimande

Counts 39 – 52 the killings of Khanyisani Biyela and Bongani Biyela
Counts 53 – 57 the killing of Thokozani Njapha
Counts 58 – 61 the killing of Lindokuhle Nzuzo
Counts 62 – 65 the killing of Prince Thabethe
Counts 66 – 69 the killing of Kwazi Ndlovu

Counts 94 – 97 the killing of Qinisani Gwala Counts 98 – 101 the killing of Mfanafuthi Zwane and Counts 102 – 103 the killing of Sanele Majola

GSM

8.2- 8.4 The extent of participation of Accused 16 in these activities have been outlined in the Incidents:

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1

Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

8.5 – 8.6 Yes members of the Stanger Taxi Association paid Cato Manor members after the killing of Magojela and Tembe. Sanele Zondi and Bongizwe Mhlongo raised an amount of R750 000, 00 and went to pay Cato Manor police in particular Booysen for this killing. This killing was also used to get monetary rewards and certificates within the SAPS.

8.7 – 8.8 Yes same as 6.3 above.

AD COUNT 10 – 11: ACCUSED 9: WILLEM CORNELIUS OLIVIER AND ACCUSED 1: JOHAN BOOYSEN
COUNT 10: UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARMS
COUNT 11 UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF AMMUNITION

Although the accused separated Count 10 from Count 11 in their request, the State deals with both Counts 10 and 11 at the same time as both were committed at the same time by the same accused persons, the ammunition being inside the firearms concerned, it does not make sense really to separate them as if they are in fact separate conduct of separate accused persons.

1.1 The basis of liability of accused 1 and 9 is that they managed the activities of the enterprise and created an environment where the enterprise was able to perform activities that advanced the objectives of the enterprise. They both worked the Branch Commander of the Durban Organised Crime Unit, Colonel Aiyer out of the processes of granting approvals so that it is unnecessary to obtain his (Aiyer's) consent to approve the trip authorities of the members, the operational plans of the Cato Manor members and ensured that the members are resourced directly by them. The State relies on the doctrine of joint possession in respect of the managers of the enterprise who were never at the scene. In racketeering charges, it is not a requirement that the managers must be present with the members of the enterprise, as long as it can be proved that the manager has sufficient knowledge, or oght to have known about the activities of the enterprise.

1.2 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the unlawful possession of the firearm. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi" or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

G S M

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

1.2.1 The date of the act is16 September 2008

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 10h00

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

1.3 Yes, it is the State's case that Accused 1 and 9 omitted to question their members sufficiently to determine the lawfulness or otherwise of their conduct. They omitted to exercise their supervisory responsibilities on their members, thereby giving them a carte blanche to conduct themselves in a manner that caused citizens that they were duty bound to protect, their precious lives. Yes most of the victims could have been suspects in serious cases, but no one has a right to take their constitutionally protected lives, they ought to have been brought to the courts to determine their guilt or otherwise.

1.4.1 This is the 7,62 X39 mm Calibre Russian manufactured Model AK47 Assault Rifle with serial number 1975-849754

1.4.2 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds as ammunition.

2. AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARM AND AMMUNITION

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of the firearm and ammunition formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.
2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.
2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearm and ammunition:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them got injured nor any of their vehicles got damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

G S M

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, with the blessing of their managers, Accused 1 and 9 who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and
Accused 9 Willem Olivier

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10 and 11, the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

3. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

G S M

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

G S M

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Phiangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 16 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 Yes, Accused 16 did manage the activities of the enterprise in his capacity as a Group Commander at SVC section, together with Accused 1, 9, 6, and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Group Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

 G S M

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1 and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Accused 1, Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Accused 9, Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

GSM

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 16 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

G SM

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla with registration ND 309-345 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen
Accused 9 Cornellus Olivier

6.5.3 The terms or nature of the conduct agreed upon was the tracking, locating and shooting of Magojela

 G SM

6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission

6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence

6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission

6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.

6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 16 committed the crime of possession of firearms and ammunition jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and

Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

7.2.3 Accused 16 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 16 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

on the basis of being managers that associated themselves with the conduct of the members of the enterprise, that knew or ought to have known of the operations of the members of the enterprise.

The other activities that Accused 1 and 9 associated themselves with sufficiently to an extent of approving them without questioning them in include the predicate offences that are listed on Page 25 of this submission:

Sanele Zondi and Bongizwe Mhlongo raised an amount of R750 000, 00 and went to pay Cato Manor police in particular Booysen for this killing. This killing was also used to get monetary rewards and certificates within the SAPS.

AD COUNT 12: ACCUSED 4

COUNT 12: DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE

G Sm

1.1 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi" or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

- Evidence of photos taken by witness 17, Insp Zondi and the respective locations of the rifles and cartridges found on the scene.

- Evidence of witness 30, Mr Steyl relating to his observations and conclusions about where the rifles (the AK47 and the Mini Ruger 14) and cartridges were depicted on the scene.

1.2.1 The date of the act is16 September 2008

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 10h00

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

G Sm

1.3 No, the State's case is not based on an omission in respect of Accused 4.

AD: PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.
2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids.
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them got injured nor any of their vehicles got damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, with the blessing of their managers, Accused 1 and 9 who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and

G sm

Accused 9 Willem Ollvier

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 8 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10, 11 and 12 the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATION QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms with an intention to plant them at the scenes where the shootings take place to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. 4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 No, Accused 4 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Group Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

G S m

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1 and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

G SM

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Accused 1, Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Accused 9, Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 16 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla with registration ND 309-345 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen
Accused 9 Cornellus Olivier

6.5.3 The terms or nature of the conduct agreed upon was the tracking, locating and shooting of Magojela
6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission
6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence
6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission
6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.
6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

G fm

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 4 committed the crime of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

7.2.3 Accused 4 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 4 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

- murder of Magojela that was committed on 16 September 2008.
- Murder of Tembe committed on the same day.
- The unlawful possession of firearms committed on the same day.

on the basis of being managers that associated themselves with the conduct of the members of the enterprise, that knew or ought to have known of the operations of the members of the enterprise.

AD COUNT 12: DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE
ACCUSED 5: ERIC NEL

G sm

1.1 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi' or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

- Evidence of photos taken by witness 17, Insp Zondi and the respective locations of the rifles and cartridges found on the scene.

- Evidence of witness 30, Mr Steyl relating to his observations and conclusions about where the rifles (the AK47 and the Mini Ruger 14) and cartridges were depicted on the scene.

1.2.1 The date of the act is16 September 2008

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 10h00

G SM

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

1.3 No, the State's case is not based on an omission in respect of Accused 5.

AD: PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE

2.1 Yes, It is the State case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

 G JM

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids.
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them got injured nor any of their vehicles got damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, with the blessing of their managers, Accused 1 and 9 who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem

G SM

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and
Accused 9 Willem Olivier

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10, 11 and 12 the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATION QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice is related to other charges in the Indictment.

3.2 the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms with an intention to plant them at the scenes where the shootings take place to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, It is the State case that the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

G Sm

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5

Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3. 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 No, Accused 5 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10, 11 and 12, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Group Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1 and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

G SM

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Accused 1, Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Accused 9, Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 16 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

GSM

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 5 committed the crime of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

7.2.3 Accused 5 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 5 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

AD COUNT 12: DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE
AD ACCUSED 8: PHUMELELA MAKHANYA

1.1 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi" or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

- Evidence of photos taken by witness 17, Insp Zondi and the respective locations of the rifles and cartridges found on the scene.

- Evidence of witness 30, Mr Steyl relating to his observations and conclusions about where the rifles (the AK47 and the Mini Ruger 14) and cartridges were depicted on the scene.

1.2.1 The date of the act is16 September 2008

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 10h00

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

1.3 No, the State's case is not based on an omission in respect of Accused 8.

AD: PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with Information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

G Sm

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids.
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them got injured nor any of their vehicles got damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, with the blessing of their managers, Accused 1 and 9 who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva

G- Sm

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and
Accused 9 Willem Olivier

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10, 11 and 12 the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATION QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms with an intention to plant them at the scenes where the shootings take place to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

GJM

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 8 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 No, Accused 8 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10, 11 and 12, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Group Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

G SM

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1 and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Accused 1, Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Accused 9, Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South

African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 16 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla with registration ND 309-345 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5:2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel

6.5.3 The terms or nature of the conduct agreed upon was the tracking, locating and shooting of Magojela
6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission
6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence
6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission
6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.
6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 8 committed the crime of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

7.2.3 Accused 8 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 8 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

7.7 Same as 7.6 above.

7.8 Same as 7.6 above
7.9 Same as 7.6 above.

8.CONDUCTING THE AFFAIRS OF THE ENTERPRISE

8.1 The affairs of the enterprise that Accused 8 is alleged to have taken part in or participated in through a pattern of racketeering activities include the

- murder of Magojela that was committed on 16 September 2008.
- Murder of Tembe committed on the same day.
- The unlawful possession of firearms committed on the same day.
- The unlawful possession of ammunition committed on the same day.
- The defeating the ends of justice committed on the same day.

on the basis of being managers that associated themselves with the conduct of the members of the enterprise, that knew or ought to have known of the operations of the members of the enterprise.

GSM

The other activities that Accused 8 associated themselves with sufficiently to an extent of approving them without questioning them in include the predicate offences that are listed on Page 25 of this submission:

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15

Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

8.5 – 8.6 Yes members of the Stanger Taxi Association paid Cato Manor members after the killing of Magojela and Tembe. Sanele Zondi and Bongizwe Mhlongo raised an amount of R750 000, 00 and went to pay Cato Manor police in particular Booysen for this killing. This killing was also used to get monetary rewards and certificates within the SAPS.

8.7 – 8.8 Yes same as 6.3 above.

AD COUNT 12: DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE
AD ACCUSED 9: WILLEM CORNELIUS OLIVIER AND AD ACCUSED 1: JOHAN BOOYSEN

1.1The basis of liability of accused 1 and 9 is that they managed the activities of the enterprise and created an environment where the enterprise was able to perform activities that advanced the objectives of the enterprise. They both worked the Branch Commander of the Durban Organised Crime Unit, Colonel Aiyer out of the processes of granting approvals so that it is unnecessary to obtain his (Aiyer's) consent to approve the trip authorities of the members, the operational plans of the Cato Manor members and ensured that the members are resourced directly by them. The State relies on the doctrine of joint possession in respect of the managers of the enterprise who were never at the scene. In racketeering charges, it is not a requirement that the managers must be present with the members of the enterprise, as long as it can be proved that the manager has sufficient knowledge, or ought to have known about the activities of the enterprise.

1.2 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice. The following objective facts will, be proved:

G SM

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi' or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

- Evidence of photos taken by witness 17, Insp Zondi and the respective locations of the rifles and cartridges found on the scene.

- Evidence of witness 30, Mr Steyl relating to his observations and conclusions about where the rifles (the AK47 and the Mini Ruger 14) and cartridges were depicted on the scene.

1.2.3 The date of the act is16 September 2008

1.2.4 The time of the act is around 10h00

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

1.3 Yes, the State's case is based on an omission in respect of Accused 9 and 1. It is the State's case that they omitted to question the conduct of their members sufficiently to determine whether the conduct was lawful or otherwise, thereby creating an environment where their members could commit offences instead of arresting the persons they suspected of committing offences and bringing them befor the courts for their guilt to be determined.

AD: PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

G SM

DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

GSM

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids.
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them got injured nor any of their vehicles got damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, with the blessing of their managers, Accused 1 and 9 who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and Accused 9 Willem Olivier

GSM

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10, 11 and 12 the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATION QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms with an intention to plant them at the scenes where the shootings take place to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and Incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4

Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 8 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

G SM

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 Yes, Accused 1 and 9 did manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, in his capacity as Section Commander and Accused 1 displaced Col Aiyer in his position as Branch Commander of the Durban Organised Crime and fulfilled the role in person. Accused 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise in their capacity as Group Commanders participated actively in the operations of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10, 11 and 12, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Group Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1 and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

GSM

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Accused 1, Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Accused 9, Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 16 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla with registration ND 309-345 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

G.S.M

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen
Accused 9 Cornelius Olivier

6.5.3 The terms or nature of the conduct agreed upon was the tracking, locating and shooting of Magojela
6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission
6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence
6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission
6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.
6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 1 and 9 committed the crime of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

7.2.3 Accused 1 and associated themselves sufficiently with the enterprise to the extent of associating fully whith the operations performed and executed by the members of the enterprise which tasks advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 9 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 1, General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

AD COUNT 12: DEFEATING OR OBSTYRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE
ACCUSED 15: ANTON LOCKEM

1.1 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi' or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

- Evidence of photos taken by witness 17, Insp Zondi and the respective locations of the rifles and cartridges found on the scene.

- Evidence of witness 30, Mr Steyl relating to his observations and conclusions about where the rifles (the AK47 and the Mini Ruger 14) and cartridges were depicted on the scene.

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 10h00

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

1.3 No, the State's case is not based on an omission in respect of Accused 15.

AD: PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

Cf rm

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids.
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them got injured nor any of their vehicles got damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, with the blessing of their managers, Accused 1 and 9 who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva

GSM

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and
Accused 9 Willem Ollvier

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10, 11 and 12 the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATION QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms with an intention to plant them at the scenes where the shootings take place to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of

G. mm

KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

GSM

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 8 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 Yes, Accused 15 did manage the activities of the enterprise, in conjunction with Accused 9, in his capacity as Section Commander and Accused 1 displaced Col Aiyer in his position as Branch Commander of the Durban Organised Crime and fulfilled the role in person. Accused 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise in their capacity as Group Commanders participated actively in the operations of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10, 11 and 12, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

G S M

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Group Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

GSM

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1 and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Accused 1, Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Accused 9, Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

G SM

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 16 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla with registration ND 309-345 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members.

GSM

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen
Accused 9 Cornelius Olivier

6.5.3 The terms or nature of the conduct agreed upon was the tracking, locating and shooting of Magojela
6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission
6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence
6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission
6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.
6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 1 and 9 committed the crime of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

7.2.3 Accused 1 and associated themselves sufficiently with the enterprise to the extent of associating fully whith the operations performed and executed by the members of the enterprise which tasks advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 15 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9 and Accused 1, General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

AD COUNT 12 DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE
AD ACCUSED 16: EUGENE VAN TONDER

1.1 It is the State's case that the AK47 assault rifle with serial number 1975-849754 with one (1) magazine and eighteen (18) rounds, which was allegedly found at the scene of Magojela and Tembe's shooting incident on the Ne Highway on 16 September 2008 was brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Sibusiso Tembe was working for VIP Protection, a security company which was providing security services to the members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association.

- He was issued with two (2) firearms for this purpose, namely a 9mm pistol and a Mini Ruger 14 rifle for which permits were issued and no other firearms.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi" or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- The principle of joint possession by one person on behalf of others.

G S M

- Evidence of photos taken by witness 17, Insp Zondi and the respective locations of the rifles and cartridges found on the scene.

- Evidence of witness 30, Mr Steyl relating to his observations and conclusions about where the rifles (the AK47 and the Mini Ruger 14) and cartridges were depicted on the scene.

1.2.1 The date of the act is16 September 2008

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 10h00

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the N3 Highway after Merrivale offramp

1.3 No, the State's case is not based on an omission in respect of Accused 16.

AD: PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

DEFEATING OR OBSTRUCTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of justice and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.
2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.
2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids.
- immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.
- It is not surprising that not a single one of them got injured nor any of their vehicles got damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

GSM

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 16 September 2008 when this AK47 rifle and its ammunition were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Magojela from Pietermaritzburg to Howick on the N3 Highway, with the blessing of their managers, Accused 1 and 9 who are the following:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen and
Accused 9 Willem Olivier

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself. In Counts 10, 11 and 12 the date is the 16 September 2008 at around 08h30 to 10h00.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATION QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is the State's case that the offence of Defeating or obstructing the course of Justice is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms with an intention to plant them at the scenes where the shootings take place to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.

G 5 M

The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, it is the State case that the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban

G 5 m

Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 16 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 Yes, Accused 16 did manage the activities of the enterprise, in conjunction with Accused 9, in his capacity as Section Commander and Accused 1 displaced Col Alyer in his position as Branch Commander of the Durban Organised Crime and fulfilled the role in person. Accused 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise in their capacity as Group Commanders participated actively in the operations of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10, 11 and 12, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Pietermaritzburg before they set on tracking Magojela and Tembe. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW vehicle. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation. Accused 8 was a passenger in pursuit car 1, driven by Accused 4. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

GSM

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 1, 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 15 and 16.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He was the driver of pursuit car 1, the silver BMW; he pulled his vehicle alongside that of the deceased whilst his companions were firing shots at the deceased and when the deceased's vehicle came to a standstill, he went closer to the drivers' door and fired shots towards the driver at close range.

Accused 9, 15 and 16 as the Group Commanders created an environment in which the offences could be committed by providing the resources that enabled the members to commit the offences with the blessings from the Provincial Commander, General Booysen.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 1, 4, 5, 8, 9, 15, and 16. Accused 4, 5, 8, 15 and 16 followed Magojela and Tembe from Pietermaritzburg until they located him closer to Howick and shot and killed them, thereafter placed this AK47 rifle next to the body of Sibusiso Tembe.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

G S M

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1 and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Accused 1, Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

Accused 9, Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness 29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 16 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, Corolla police vehicle who was driving behind the silver BMW.

G S M

Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla with registration ND 309-345 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.
Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Magojela and Tembe.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen
Accused 9 Cornelius Olivier

6.5.3 The terms or nature of the conduct agreed upon was the tracking, locating and shooting of Magojela
6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission
6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence

GSM

6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission

6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.

6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 1 and 9 committed the crime of Defeating or Obstructing the course of Justice jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 16 September 2008 when the deceased was pursued and caught along the N3 Highway.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These includes the tracing of Magojela together, when he is spotted along the N3 Highway, both pursuit cars driven by Accused 4 (the silver BMW) and Accused 15 (a gold Toyota Corolla) followed him, they converge to stop him and they all fired shots in his direction. It was known to the Cato Manor police that Magojela was accompanied by an armed bodyguard from the VIP Protection Services, which company they had warned to remove the security guard.

G SM

7.2.3 Accused 1 and associated themselves sufficiently with the enterprise to the extent of associating fully whith the operations performed and executed by the members of the enterprise which tasks advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 16 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9 and Accused 1, General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

on the basis of being managers that associated themselves with the conduct of the members of the enterprise, that knew or ought to have known of the operations of the members of the enterprise.

The other activities that Accused 16 associated himself with sufficiently to an extent of approving them without questioning them in include the predicate offences that are listed on Page 25 of this submission:

COMMON PURPOSE

AD INCIDENT ON THE 16 SEPTEMBER 2008: THE SHOOTING OF MAGOJELA NDIMANDE AND SIBUSISO TEMBE: COUNTS 8 – 12

ACCUSED 4: PAUL MOSTERT

ACCUSED 5: ERIC NEL

ACCUSED 6: NEVILLE EVA

ACCUSED 8: PHUMELELA MAKHANYA

ACCUSED 9 CORNELIUS OLIVIER

ACCUSED 15 ANTON LOCKEM AND

ACCUSED 16 EUGENE VAN TONDER

It appears from the predominant facts at the State's disposal that a common pupose to commit the offences outlined can be inferred from the conduct of the members of the enterprise in the commission of the offences which form part of the pattern of racketeering acivity. The incident on the 16 September 2008 cannot be taken in isolation of other incidents or operations of the enterprise, it must be considered in the light of all the incidents as outlines in the table on Page 6 of this submission, Incident 1 on 24 May 2008 (the killing of Thabo Msimango) until Incident 23 on 23 September 2008 (the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala). One must also not loose sight of the regular briefings which the members of the enterprise get involved in prior to each and every operation where suspects are traced.

G & M

1. The accused which form part of the particular incident as outlined on Pages 7 to 23 formed a prior agreement in respect of that particular incident in which they were involved for instance in Count 8 – 12, It is the State's case that the following accused persons did form a common purpose to kill Magojela and Tembe:-

   Accused 4: Paul Mostert
   Accused 5: Eric Nel
   Accused 6 Neville Eva
   Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya
   Accused 9 Cornelius Olivier
   Accused 15 Anton Lockem
   Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder and
   Accused 1 Johan Booysen

1.1 The is not precisely certain about the time that the accused became party to the prior agreement to commit the offences on 16 September 2008, safe to state that when they left the Cato Manor offices and when they met again at a place in Pietermaritzburg where Accused 4 gave them a briefing after Accused 4 had constant telephonic conversations with Accused 1, Johan Booysen and when Magojela's Hyundai Tuscon was spotted along the N3 Highway north bound, a prior agreement to commit the offences that have been listed in Count 8-12 was formed by the accused persons.

1.2 Same as in paragraph 1.1 above

1.3 The terms of the agreement is a matter of evidence.

1.4 All the parties involved in the agreement and their roles can be repeated as follows:

1.4.1 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Magojela and Tembe. He started when he instructed the owner of the VIP protection that was providing security services to the KwaMaphumulo to remove their securities from their members. He must have placed the AK47 rifle next to the deceased and then called the owner of the VIP security whom he had earlier warned to remove the securities from members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, witness

G S M

29 and 30 to the scene to come and see what he did to their employee. He also held a briefing with all the members to update them with all the information at his disposal.

1.4.2 Accused 5 Eric Nel was part of pursuit car 1, fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai with his R1, after the vehicle came to a standstill, he secured the scene.

1.4.3 Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya was part of pursuit car 1 and also fired shots in the direction of the Hyundai.

1.4.4 Accused 15 Anton Lockem was the driver of pursuit car 2, the gold Toyota Corolla police vehicle with registration ND 309-345 and was driving behind the silver BMW driven by Accused 4.

1.4.5 Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder was part of pursuit car 2 and fired about 7 shots towards the Hyundai with his R5 rifle.

1.4.6 Accused 1, Booysen supplied information on Magojela's whereabouts to Paul Mostert and arranged the helicopter flight after Magojela was located on the N3 highway, where he landed immediately after the shooting.

1.4.7 Accused 9, Olivier accompanied Booysen in the helicopter and alighted at the scene. The AK47 rifle was placed next to the body of the deceased Tembe immediately after the shooting. It is the State case that the shooting of both deceased, the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition and the defeating the ends of justice are part of the same conduct of the accused to accelerate and achieve the objectives of the enterprise.

1.5 Same as in 1.4 above

1.6 The date, time and place of the act are the same as in paragraph 1.1 above.

2. Yes it is alleged that the accused formed an act of association with one another.

2.1.1 Same as in paragraph 1.4 above.

2.1.2 Same as in paragraph 1.1 above.

2.1.3 Same as in paragraph 1.1 above.

2.1.4 Same as in paragraph 1.4 above.

2.1.5 Same as in paragraph 1.4 above.

3. The State relies on prior agreement in the main argument, in the alternative the State will argue that it can be inferred from the proven facts.

AD COUNT 13 - 14
HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO COMMIT MURDER AND MURDER
DECEASED: MZAMENI NTULI AND NKOSINATHI MTHEMBU
ACCUSED 3: ADRIAAN STOLTZ

The State will deal with the offence of Housebreaking with intent to commit murder and murder of both Ntuli and Mthembu together in stead of separating it as Housebreaking and murder and separating the deceased as the accused have done in their request, both the housebreaking and the murder of both deceased persons took place at the same time by the same accused at the same venue and it makes more sense to deal with them together in our view.

The case against the accused must be understood against the following background:-

There was taxi violence between the Stanger Taxi Association and the KwaMaphumulo taxi Association which became the focus of investigation by a task team headed by Sup Choncho. On 27 August 2008 when he was ambushed whilst taking suspects to KwaDukuza court from Kanskop police station, Cato Manor section of the Durban Organised Crime took over the investigation and followed leads from a phone recovered from Dumisane Ndlovu, one of the suspects, who was shot and killed at the scene. This killing of Supt Choncho (KwaMaphumulo CAS 99/8/2008), the killing of Inkosi Zondi(Bhekithemba 113/09/09) followed the killing of Supt Govender where the suspects remained untraced, in the light of the number of police officials that were killed post 1994, Cato Manor police took it upon themselves to track down the killers of Choncho to the extent that they overstepped the bounds of lawfulness and shot and killed people that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Choncho in stead of collecting the evidence and bringing them before the courts for their guilt or otherwise to be determined. The suspects that were tracked were people that had some conversation with the deceased (Dumisane Ndlovu) prior to his killing.

G S M

1.1 It is the State's case that the breaking or pushing open of the sliding door and security door which is closed at the deceased's premises would amount to housebreaking if the State can prove that the plan to get to the premises was unlawful from the beginning. It is the State's case that Cato Manor went to 4 Oribi road with the intention to shoot and kill the two suspects, not a lawful suspect raid with a view to arrest. Against this backgroung, the State does not rely on an omission but relies on the following acts by the Accused:

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a resident of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the buglar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

G S M

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5,56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

1.1.1 the date of the incident is 18 September 2008.

1.2.2 the time is between 13h00 and 14h00.

1.2.3 the place where it happened is 4 Oribi road, Mandini.

1.3 The State does not rely on an omission in respect of Accused 3's liability.

2 AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER

2.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused's conduct formed part of a pattern of racketeering activity as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998 and was part of a bigger plan by the accused to eliminate people who they suspected of involvememnt in the killing of Supt Choncho.

2.2 As regards the plan:

GSM

2.2.1 It is not precisely cear when the accused formed the plan to eliminate people who they suspected of involvement in the killing of Supt Choncho, safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.2.2 It is not precisely clear where the plan was formed safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.2.3 The terms of the plan to eliminate the deceased is a matter of evidence.

2.2.4 Yes. It is alleged that more that one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of housebreaking with intent to murder and murder.

2.3 The participants to the offences are:-

2.3.1 Accused 4, Accused 3, Accused 8, Accused 10, Accused 11, Accused 12, Accused 13 and Accused 15.

2.3.2 The act committed by the respective accused persons in carrying out the plan are the following:-

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a resident of Lindle Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the bugiar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

2.3.3 The date, time and place of participation of each accused person is the same as in paragraph 1.2.1 above

3 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITIES RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accusad conduct is related to other conduct in the indictment.

G δ m

3.2 The following are the common feature that provides the nexus between the conduct of the accused and other offences in the indictment:-

- The modus operandi that is prevalent in most of the offences in the indictment of placing a firearm next to the deceased body to create an impression that the deceased was posing some form of danger to the accused to make their shooting justifiable in terms of section 49 (2) of Act 51 of 1977, is a common threat that connects the offences listed in the indictment.

- All the suspects that are tracked, traced and later killed are suspected to have been suspects in the killing of Supt Choncho. A striking common factor is that in most of these instances, there is not a shread of evidence that connects the suspects to the offences in the dockets concerned, put differently, if anyone were to place the Choncho or Inkosi Zondi dockets before a prosecutor for the consideration of a J50 warrant of arrest, it would not be authorised as there would be nothing linking the suspect to the offences in question.

- All the suspects that Cato Manor were looking for to connect with the Choncho killing are members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association which was in conflict with the Stanger Taxi Association and the informers who were providing Cato Manor with information that formed the basis of their conduct, were predominantly members of the Stanger Taxi Association, who could be harbouring their own grudges with the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association and could be biased against them.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 The crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and Murder are related to the enterprise as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism and attention, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

The members of the enterprise remain predominantly the same in most of the operations of the enterprise so that the objectives of the enterprise are achieved. The nucleus of the operation is maintained wherever possible, with members of the SVC section who have been working together for a while as they have developed an understanding of each other and what they all need to do in advancing the objectives of the enterprise.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 3 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5 WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 No, Accused 3 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Mandini before they proceeded to 4 Oribi road, Mandini where the two deceased were likely hididng. Accused 4 briefed the members present around the information at his disposal and the team proceeded to the address. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding. Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

G δm

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called the Cato Manor members to assemble and get them ready to travel to Mandini for a suspect raid.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

GSM

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Housebreaking with intent to murder and murder whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

G-5m

Accused 3 Adriaan Stolts
Accused 4 Paul Mostert

6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence
6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission
6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.
6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These include the tracing of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu together at 4 Oribi road in Mandini and ensuring that they are shot and killed.

7.2.3 Accused 3 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 3 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. COUNT 13 - 14
AD HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER DECEASED MZAMENI NTULI AND NKOSINATHI MTHEMBU
ACCUSED 4: PAUL MOSTERT

The State will deal with the offence of Housebreaking with intent to commit murder and murder of both Ntuli and Mthembu together in stead of separating it as Housebreaking and murder and separating the deceased as the accused have done in their request, both the housebreaking and the murder of both deceased persons took place at the same time by the same accused at the same venue and it makes more sense to deal with them together in our view.

GSM

The case against the accused must be understood against the following background:-

There was taxi violence between the Stanger Taxi Association and the KwaMaphumulo taxi Association which became the focus of investigation by a task team headed by Sup Choncho. On 27 August 2008 when he was ambushed whilst taking suspects to KwaDukuza court from Kanskop police station, Cato Manor section of the Durban Organised Crime took over the investigation and followed leads from a phone recovered from Dumisane Ndlovu, one of the suspects, who was shot and killed at the scene. This killing of Supt Choncho (KwaMaphumulo CAS 99/8/2008), the killing of Inkosi Zondi(Bhekithemba 113/09/09) followed the killing of Supt Govender where the suspects remained untraced, In the light of the number of police officials that were killed post 1994, Cato Manor police took it upon themselves to track down the killers of Choncho to the extent that they overstepped the bounds of lawfulness and shot and killed people that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Choncho in stead of collecting the evidence and bringing them before the courts for their guilt or otherwise to be determined. The suspects that were tracked were people that had some conversation with the deceased (Dumisane Ndlovu) prior to his killing.

1.1 It is the State's case that the breaking or pushing open of the sliding door and security door which is closed at the deceased's premises would amount to housebreaking if the State can prove that the plan to get to the premises was unlawful from the beginning. It is the State's case that Cato Manor went to 4 Oribi road with the intention to shoot and kill the two suspects, not a lawful suspect raid with a view to arrest. Against this backgroung, the State does not rely on an omission but relies on the following acts by the Accused:

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a resident of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the buglar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5,56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

1.1.2 the date of the incident is 18 September 2008.

1.1.3 the time is between 13h00 and 14h00.

1.1.4 the place where it happened is 4 Oribi road, Mandini.

1.2 The State does not rely on an omission in respect of Accused 4's liability.

2 AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER

2.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused's conduct formed part of a pattern of racketeering activity as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998 and was part of a bigger plan by the accused to eliminate people who they suspected of involvememnt in the killing of Supt Choncho.

2.2 As regards the plan:

2.2.1 It is not precisely cear when the accused formed the plan to eliminate people who they suspected of involvement in the killing of Supt Choncho, safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.2.2 It is not precisely clear where the plan was formed safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.2.3 The terms of the plan to eliminate the deceased is a matter of evidence.

2.2.4 Yes. It is alleged that more that one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of housebreaking with intent to murder and murder.

2.3 The participants to the offences are:

2.3.1 Accused 4, Accused 3, Accused 8, Accused 10, Accused 11, Accused 12, Accused 13 and Accused 15.

2.3.2 The act committed by the respective accused persons in carrying out the plan are the following:-

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.
- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.
- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a resident of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the buglar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.
- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.
- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.
- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5,56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

2.3.3 The date, time and place of participation of each accused person is the same as in paragraph 1.2.1 above

3 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITIES RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused conduct is related to other conduct in the indictment.

G SM

3.2 The following are the common feature that provides the nexus between the conduct of the accused and other offences in the indictment:-

- The modus operandi that is prevalent in most of the offences in the indictment of placing a firearm next to the deceased body to create an impression that the deceased was posing some form of danger to the accused to make their shooting justifiable in terms of section 49 (2) of Act 51 of 1977, is a common threat that connects the offences listed in the indictment.

- All the suspects that are tracked, traced and later killed are suspected to have been suspects in the killing of Supt Choncho. A striking common factor is that in most of these instances, there is not a shread of evidence that connects the suspects to the offences in the dockets concerned, put differently, if anyone were to place the Choncho or Inkosi Zondi dockets before a prosecutor for the consideration of a J50 warrant of arrest, it would not be authorised as there would be nothing linking the suspect to the offences in question.

- All the suspects that Cato Manor were looking for to connect with the Choncho killing are members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association which was in conflict with the Stanger Taxi Association and the informers who were providing Cato Manor with information that formed the basis of their conduct, were predominantly members of the Stanger Taxi Association, who could be harbouring their own grudges with the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association and could be biased against them.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 The crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and Murder are related to the enterprise as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism and attention, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

The members of the enterprise remain predominantly the same in most of the operations of the enterprise so that the objectives of the enterprise are achieved. The nucleus of the operation is maintained wherever possible, with members of the SVC section who have been working together for a while as they have developed an understanding of each other and what they all need to do in advancing the objectives of the enterprise.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

G-5 M

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5 WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 No, Accused 4 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Mandini before they proceeded to 4 Oribi road, Mandini where the two deceased were likely hididng. Accused 4 briefed the members present around the information at his disposal and the team proceeded to the address. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding. Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

GSM

Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called the Cato Manor members to assemble and get them ready to travel to Mandini for a suspect raid.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

G-5 m

The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called in the members of Cato Manor to assist in the operation at Mandini.
6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 3 Adriaan Stolts
Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 6 Neville Eva

6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence

6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission

6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.

6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 4 committed the crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and murder jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 18 September 2008 when the deceased were traced and found at 4 Oribi road Mandini.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These include the tracing of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu together at 4 Oribi road in Mandini and ensuring that they are shot and killed.

7.2.3 Accused 4 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 4 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

AD COUNT 13 – 14
HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER
DECEASED 1: MZAMENI NTULI
DECEASED 2: NKOSINATHI MTHEMBU
ACCUSED: PHUMELELA MAKHANYA

The State will deal with the offence of Housebreaking with Intent to commit murder and murder of both Ntuli and Mthembu together in stead of separating it as Housebreaking and murder and separating the deceased as the accused have done in their request, both the housebreaking and the murder of both deceased persons took place at the same time by the same accused at the same venue and it makes more sense to deal with them together in our view.

G S M

The case against the accused must be understood against the following background:-

There was taxi violence between the Stanger Taxi Association and the KwaMaphumulo taxi Association which became the focus of investigation by a task team headed by Sup Choncho. On 27 August 2008 when he was ambushed whilst taking suspects to KwaDukuza court from Kanskop police station, Cato Manor section of the Durban Organised Crime took over the investigation and followed leads from a phone recovered from Dumisane Ndlovu, one of the suspects, who was shot and killed at the scene. This killing of Supt Choncho (KwaMaphumulo CAS 99/8/2008), the killing of Inkosi Zondi(Bhekithemba 113/09/09) followed the killing of Supt Govender where the suspects remained untraced, in the light of the number of police officials that were killed post 1994, Cato Manor police took it upon themselves to track down the killers of Choncho to the extent that they overstepped the bounds of lawfulness and shot and killed people that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Choncho in stead of collecting the evidence and bringing them before the courts for their guilt or otherwise to be determined. The suspects that were tracked were people that had some conversation with the deceased (Dumisane Ndlovu) prior to his killing.

1.1 It is the State's case that the breaking or pushing open of the sliding door and security door which is closed at the deceased's premises would amount to housebreaking if the State can prove that the plan to get to the premises was unlawful from the beginning. It is the State's case that Cato Manor went to 4 Oribi road, Mandini with the intention to shoot and kill the two suspects, not a lawful suspect raid with a view to arrest. Against this backgroung, the State does not rely on an omission but relies on the following acts by the Accused:

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

G S M

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a residence of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the buglar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5,56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

1.1.1 the date of the incident is 18 September 2008.

1.1.2 the time is between 13h00 and 14h00.

2 AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER

2.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused's conduct formed part of a pattern of racketeering activity as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998 and was part of a bigger plan by the accused to eliminate people who they suspected of involvememnt in the killing of Supt Choncho.

2.2 As regards the plan:

2.2.1 It is not precisely cear when the accused formed the plan to eliminate people who they suspected of involvement in the killing of Supt Choncho, safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.2.2 It is not precisely clear where the plan was formed safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.2.3 The terms of the plan to eliminate the deceased is a matter of evidence.

2.2.4 Yes. It is alleged that more that one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of housebreaking with intent to murder and murder.

2.3 The participants to the offences are:

2.3.1 Accused 4, Accused 3, Accused 8, Accused 10, Accused 11, Accused 12, Accused 13 and Accused 15.

2.3.2 The act committed by the respective accused persons in carrying out the plan are the following:-

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.
- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a resident of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the bugiar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.
- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). 3 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITIES

G 5M

RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused conduct is related to other conduct in the indictment.

3.2 The following are the common feature that provides the nexus between the conduct of the accused and other offences in the indictment:-

- The modus operandi that is prevalent in most of the offences in the indictment of placing a firearm next to the deceased body to create an impression that the deceased was posing some form of danger to the accused to make their shooting justifiable in terms of section 49 (2) of Act 51 of 1977, is a common threat that connects the offences listed in the indictment.

- All the suspects that are tracked, traced and later killed are suspected to have been suspects in the killing of Supt Choncho. A striking common factor is that in most of these instances, there is not a shread of evidence that connects the suspects to the offences in the dockets concerned, put differently, if anyone were to place the Choncho or Inkosi Zondi dockets before a prosecutor for the consideration of a J50 warrant of arrest, it would not be authorised as there would be nothing linking the suspect to the offences in question.

- All the suspects that Cato Manor were looking for to connect with the Choncho killing are members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association which was in conflict with the Stanger Taxi Association and the informers who were providing Cato Manor with information that formed the basis of their conduct, were predominantly members of the Stanger Taxi Association, who could be harbouring their own grudges with the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association and could be biased against them.

5. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 The crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and Murder are related to the enterprise as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

G SM

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism and attention, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

The members of the enterprise remain predominantly the same in most of the operations of the enterprise so that the objectives of the enterprise are achieved. The nucleus of the operation is maintained wherever possible, with members of the SVC section who have been working together for a while as they have developed an understanding of each other and what they all need to do in advancing the objectives of the enterprise.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South

G SM

African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

G SM

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5 WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 No, Accused 8 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Mandini before they proceeded to 4 Oribi road, Mandini where the two deceased were likely hididng. Accused 4 briefed the members present around the information at his disposal and the team proceeded to the address. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15.

G Sm

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding. Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.

GSM

5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called the Cato Manor members to assemble and get them ready to travel to Mandini for a suspect raid.

5.7.– 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

AD COUNTS 13 – 14
HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER
DECEASED 1: MZAMENI NTULI
DECEASED 2: NKOSINATHI MTHEMBU
ACCUSED 10: THEMBINKOSI MKHWANAZI

G SM

The State will deal with the offence of Housebreaking with intent to commit murder and murder of both Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu together in stead of separating it as Housebreaking and murder and separating the deceased as the accused have done in their request, both the housebreaking and the murder of both deceased persons took place at the same time by the same accused at the same venue and it makes more sense to deal with them together in our view.

The case against the accused must be understood against the following background:-

There was taxi violence between the Stanger Taxi Association and the KwaMaphumulo taxi Association which became the focus of investigation by a task team headed by Sup Choncho. On 27 August 2008 when he was ambushed whilst taking suspects to KwaDukuza court from Kanskop police station, Cato Manor section of the Durban Organised Crime took over the investigation and followed leads from a phone recovered from Dumisane Ndlovu, one of the suspects, who was shot and killed at the scene. This killing of Supt Choncho (KwaMaphumulo CAS 99/8/2008), the killing of Inkosi Zondi(Bhekithemba 113/09/09) followed the killing of Supt Govender where the suspects remained untraced, in the light of the number of police officials that were killed post 1994, Cato Manor police took it upon themselves to track down the killers of Choncho to the extent that they overstepped the bounds of lawfulness and shot and killed people that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Choncho in stead of collecting the evidence and bringing them before the courts for their guilt or otherwise to be determined. The suspects that were tracked were people that had some conversation with the deceased (Dumisane Ndlovu) prior to his killing.

1.1 It is the State's case that the breaking or pushing open of the sliding door and security door which is closed at the deceased's premises would amount to housebreaking if the State can prove that the plan to get to the premises was unlawful from the beginning. It is the State's case that Cato Manor went to 4 Oribi road, Mandini with the intention to shoot and kill the two suspects, not a lawful suspect raid with a view to arrest. Against this backgroung, the State does not rely on an omission but relies on the following acts by the Accused:

G S M

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a residence of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the bugiar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5,56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

1.2.1 the date of the incident is 18 September 2008.

1.2.2 the time is between 13h00 and 14h00.

1.2.3 the place where it happened is 4 Oribi road, Mandini.

1.3 The State does not rely on an omission in respect of Accused 10's liability.

2.4.1 Accused 4, Accused 3, Accused 8, Accused 10, Accused 11, Accused 12, Accused 13 and Accused 15.

2.4.2 The act committed by the respective accused persons in carrying out the plan are the following:-

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a resident of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the buglar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head

(deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5,56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

2.4.3 The date, time and place of participation of each accused person is the same as in paragraph 1.2.1 above

3 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITIES RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.2 Yes, it is alleged that the accused conduct is related to other conduct in the indictment.

3.3 The following are the common feature that provides the nexus between the conduct of the accused and other offences in the indictment:-

- The modus operandi that is prevalent in most of the offences in the indictment of placing a firearm next to the deceased body to create an impression that the deceased was posing some form of danger to the accused to make their shooting justifiable in terms of section 49 (2) of Act 51 of 1977, is a common threat that connects the offences listed in the indictment.

- All the suspects that are tracked, traced and later killed are suspected to have been suspects in the killing of Supt Choncho. A striking common factor is that in most of these instances, there is not a shread of evidence that connects the suspects to the offences in the dockets concerned, put differently, if anyone were to place the Choncho or Inkosi Zondi dockets before a prosecutor for the consideration of a J50 warrant of arrest, it would not be authorised as there would be nothing linking the suspect to the offences in question.

- All the suspects that Cato Manor were looking for to connect with the Choncho killing are members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association which was in conflict with the Stanger Taxi Association and the informers who were providing Cato Manor with information that formed the basis of their conduct, were predominantly members of the Stanger Taxi Association, who could be harbouring their own grudges with the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association and could be biased against them.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 The crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and Murder are related to the enterprise as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism and attention, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

The members of the enterprise remain predominantly the same in most of the operations of the enterprise so that the objectives of the enterprise are achieved. The nucleus of the operation is maintained wherever possible, with members of the SVC section who have been working together for a while as they have developed an understanding of each other and what they all need to do in advancing the objectives of the enterprise.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation.

GS m

The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16

GSM

Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5 WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 No, Accused 10 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused

4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Mandini before they proceeded to 4 Oribi road, Mandini where the two deceased were likely hididng. Accused 4 briefed the members present around the information at his disposal and the team proceeded to the address. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding. Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called the Cato Manor members to assemble and get them ready to travel to Mandini for a suspect raid.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Housebreaking with intent to murder and murder whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called in the members of Cato Manor to assist in the operation at Mandini.
6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.

6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes It is alleged that Accused 10 committed the crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and murder jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 18 September 2008 when the deceased were traced and found at 4 Oribi road Mandini.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These include the tracing of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu together at 4 Oribi road in Mandini and ensuring that they are shot and killed.

7.2.3 Accused 10 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER
DECEASED 1: MZAMENI NTULI
DECEASED 1: NKOSINATHI MTHEMBU
ACCUSED 11: THATHAYIPHI MDLALOSE

The State will deal with the offence of Housebreaking with intent to commit murder and murder of both Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu together in stead of separating it as Housebreaking and murder and separating the deceased as the accused have done in their request, both the housebreaking and the murder of both deceased persons took place at the same time by the same accused at the same venue and it makes more sense to deal with them together in our view.

The case against the accused must be understood against the following background:-

There was taxi violence between the Stanger Taxi Association and the KwaMaphumulo taxi Association which became the focus of investigation by a task team headed by Sup Choncho. On 27 August 2008 when he was ambushed whilst taking suspects to KwaDukuza court from Kanskop police station, Cato Manor section of the Durban Organised Crime took over the investigation and followed leads from a phone recovered from Dumisane Ndlovu, one of the suspects, who was shot and killed at the scene. This killing of Supt Choncho (KwaMaphumulo CAS 99/8/2008), the killing of Inkosi Zondi(Bhekithemba 113/09/09) followed the killing of Supt Govender where the suspects remained untraced, in the light of the number of police officials that were killed post 1994, Cato Manor police took it upon themselves to track down the killers of Choncho to the extent that they overstepped the bounds of lawfulness and shot and killed people that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Choncho in stead of collecting the evidence and bringing them before the courts for their guilt or otherwise to be determined. The suspects that were tracked were people that had some conversation with the deceased (Dumisane Ndlovu) prior to his killing.

1.1 It is the State's case that the breaking or pushing open of the sliding door and security door which is closed at the deceased's premises would amount to housebreaking if the State can prove that the plan to get to the premises was unlawful from the beginning. It is the State's case that Cato Manor went to 4 Oribi road, Mandini with the intention to shoot and kill the two suspects, not a lawful suspect raid with a view to arrest. Against this backgroung, the State does not rely on an omission but relies on the following acts by the Accused:

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

GSM

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a residence of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, and 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the bugiar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5,56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

1.1.1 the date of the incident is 18 September 2008.

GSM

1.1.2 the time is between 13h00 and 14h00.

1.1.3 the place where it happened is 4 Oribi road, Mandini.

1.2 The State does not rely on an omission in respect of Accused 11's liability.

2 AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER

2.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused's conduct formed part of a pattern of racketeering activity as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998 and was part of a bigger plan by the accused to eliminate people who they suspected of involvememnt in the killing of Supt Choncho.

2.2 As regards the plan:

2.2.1 It is not precisely cear when the accused formed the plan to eliminate people who they suspected of involvement in the killing of Supt Choncho, safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.3.3 The date, time and place of participation of each accused person is the same as in paragraph 1.2.1 above conduct, were predominantly members of the Stanger Taxi Association, who could be harbouring their own grudges with the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association and could be biased against them.

4 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 The crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and Murder are related to the enterprise as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism and attention, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

The members of the enterprise remain predominantly the same in most of the operations of the enterprise so that the objectives of the enterprise are achieved. The nucleus of the operation is maintained wherever possible, with members of the SVC section who have been working together for a while as they have developed an understanding of each other and what they all need to do in advancing the objectives of the enterprise.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and Incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

G S M

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5 WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 No, Accused 11 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Mandini before they proceeded to 4 Oribi road, Mandini where the two deceased were likely hididng. Accused 4 briefed the members present around the information at his disposal and the team proceeded to the address. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

G Sm

5.2 Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding. Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

A male with an orange shirt came out and both Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called the Cato Manor members to assemble and get them ready to travel to Mandini for a suspect raid.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Housebreaking with intent to murder and murder whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 3 Adriaan Stolts
Accused 4 Paul Mostert

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 18 September 2008 when the deceased were traced and found at 4 Oribi road Mandini.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These include the tracing of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu together at 4 Oribi road in Mandini and ensuring that they are shot and killed.

7.2.3 Accused 11 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER
DECEASED 1: MZAMENI NTULI
DECEASED 2: NKOSINATHI MTHEMBU
ACCUSED 12: BONGANI ZONDI

The State will deal with the offence of Housebreaking with intent to commit murder and murder of both Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu together in stead of separating it as Housebreaking and murder and separating the deceased as the accused have done in their request, both the housebreaking and the murder of both deceased persons took place at the same time by the same accused at the same venue and it makes more sense to deal with them together in our view.

The case against the accused must be understood against the following background:-

There was taxi violence between the Stanger Taxi Association and the KwaMaphumulo taxi Association which became the focus of investigation by a task team headed by Sup Choncho. On 27 August 2008 when he was ambushed whilst taking suspects to KwaDukuza court from Kanskop police station, Cato Manor section of the Durban Organised Crime took over the investigation and followed leads from a phone recovered from Dumisane Ndlovu, one of the suspects, who was shot and killed at the scene. This killing of Supt Choncho (KwaMaphumulo CAS 99/8/2008), the killing of Inkosi Zondi(Bhekithemba 113/09/09) followed the killing of Supt Govender where the suspects remained untraced, in the light of the number of police officials that were killed post 1994, Cato Manor police took it upon themselves to track down the killers of Choncho to the extent that they overstepped the bounds of lawfulness and shot and killed people that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Choncho in stead of collecting the evidence and bringing them before the courts for their guilt or otherwise to be determined. The suspects that were tracked were people that had some conversation with the deceased (Dumisane Ndlovu) prior to his killing.

1.1 It is the State's case that the breaking or pushing open of the sliding door and security door which is closed at the deceased's premises would amount to housebreaking if the State can prove that the plan to get to the premises was unlawful from the beginning. It is the State's case that Cato Manor went to 4 Oribi road, Mandini with the intention to shoot and kill the two suspects, not a lawful suspect raid with a view to arrest. Against this backgroung, the State does not rely on an omission but relies on the following acts by the Accused:

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

G SM

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a residence of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, and 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the buglar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5,56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

1.1.1 the date of the incident is 18 September 2008.

1.1.2 the time is between 13h00 and 14h00.

1.1.3 the place where it happened is 4 Oribi road, Mandini.

HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER

2.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused's conduct formed part of a pattern of racketeering activity as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998 and was part of a bigger plan by the accused to eliminate people who they suspected of involvememnt in the killing of Supt Choncho.

2.2 As regards the plan:

3 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITIES RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused conduct is related to other conduct in the indictment.

3.2 The following are the common feature that provides the nexus between the conduct of the accused and other offences in the indictment:-

- The modus operandi that is prevalent in most of the offences in the indictment of placing a firearm next to the deceased body to create an impression that the deceased was posing some form of danger to the accused to make their shooting justifiable in terms of section 49 (2) of Act 51 of 1977, is a common threat that connects the offences listed in the indictment.

- All the suspects that are tracked, traced and later killed are suspected to have been suspects in the killing of Supt Choncho. A striking common factor is that in most of these instances, there is not a shread of evidence that connects the suspects to the offences in the dockets concerned, put differently, if anyone were to place the Choncho or Inkosi Zondi dockets before a prosecutor for the consideration of a J50 warrant of arrest, it would not be authorised as there would be nothing linking the suspect to the offences in question.

- All the suspects that Cato Manor were looking for to connect with the Choncho killing are members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association which was in conflict with the Stanger Taxi Association and the informers who were providing Cato Manor with information that formed the basis of their conduct, were predominantly members of the Stanger Taxi Association, who could be harbouring their own grudges with the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association and could be biased against them.

4 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 The crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and Murder are related to the enterprise as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism and attention, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

The nucleus of the operation is maintained wherever possible, with members of the SVC section who have been working together for a while as they have developed an understanding of each other and what they all need to do in advancing the objectives of the enterprise.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation.

The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. 4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5 WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 No, Accused 12 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused

4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Mandini before they proceeded to 4 Oribi road, Mandini where the two deceased were likely hiding. Accused 4 briefed the members present around the information at his disposal and the team proceeded to the address. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding. Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. GSM

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called the Cato Manor members to assemble and get them ready to travel to Mandini for a suspect raid.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Housebreaking with intent to murder and murder whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

both Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called in the members of Cato Manor to assist in the operation at Mandini.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 3 Adriaan Stolts
Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya

6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission

6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.

6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 12 committed the crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and murder jointly with the other accused whilst employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 18 September 2008 when the deceased were traced and found at 4 Oribi road Mandini.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These include the tracing of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu together at 4 Oribi road in Mandini and ensuring that they are shot and killed.

Ngon

7.2.3 Accused 12 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 12 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

4.1 Same as 7.6 above.

7.8 Same as 7.6 above
7.9 Same as 7.6 above.

8.CONDUCTING THE AFFAIRS OF THE ENTERPRISE

8.1 The affairs of the enterprise that Accused 12 is alleged to have taken part in or participated in through a pattern of racketeering activities include the

- breaking into the premises where the deceased were hiding.
- murder of Mzameni Ntuli that was committed on 18 September 2008.
- murder of Nkosinathi Mthembu committed on the same day.
- the unlawful possession of firearms committed on the same day.

GSM

- the unlawful possession of ammunition committed on the same day.
- the defeating the ends of justice committed on the same day.

The other activities that Accused 12 associated themselves with sufficiently to an extent of approving them without questioning them in include the predicate offences that are listed on Page 25 of this submission:

Counts 13 – 18 the killings of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu

8.2- 8.4 The extent of participation of Accused 12 in these activities have been outlined in the Incidents:

Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6

8.5 – 8.6 Yes members of Cato Manor benefited from the killing of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. This killing was also used to get monetary rewards and certificates within the SAPS which enhanced their position as a hard working team in the KZN region.

8.7 – 8.8 Yes same as 6.3 above.

AD COUNT 13 – 14
HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER
DECEASED 1: MZAMENI NTULI
DECEASED 2: NKOSINATHI MTHEMBU
ACCUSED 13: RUBENDREN NAIDOO

The State will deal with the offence of Housebreaking with intent to commit murder and murder of both Ntuli and Mthembu together in stead of separating it as Housebreaking and murder and separating the deceased as the accused have done in their request, both the housebreaking and the murder of both deceased persons took place at the same time by the same accused at the same venue and it makes more sense to deal with them together in our view.

The case against the accused must be understood against the following background:-

There was taxi violence between the Stanger Taxi Association and the KwaMaphumulo taxi Association which became the focus of investigation by a task team headed by Sup Choncho. On 27 August 2008 when he was ambushed whilst taking suspects to KwaDukuza court from Kanskop police station, Cato Manor section of the Durban Organised Crime took over the investigation and followed leads from a phone recovered from Dumisane Ndlovu, one of the suspects, who was shot and killed at the scene. This killing of Supt Choncho (KwaMaphumulo CAS 99/8/2008), the killing of Inkosi Zondi(Bhekithemba 113/09/09) followed the killing of Supt Govender where the suspects remained untraced, in the light of the number of police officials that were killed post 1994, Cato Manor police took it upon themselves to track down the killers of Choncho to the extent that they overstepped the bounds of lawfulness and shot and killed people that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Choncho in stead of collecting the evidence and bringing them before the courts for their guilt or otherwise to be determined. The suspects that were tracked were people that had some conversation with the deceased (Dumisane Ndlovu) prior to his killing.

1.1 It is the State's case that the breaking or pushing open of the sliding door and security door which is closed at the deceased's premises would amount to housebreaking if the State can prove that the plan to get to the premises was unlawful from the beginning. It is the State's case that Cato Manor went to 4 Oribi road with the intention to shoot and kill the two suspects, not a lawful suspect raid with a view to arrest. Against this backgroung, the State does not rely on an omission but relies on the following acts by the Accused:

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a resident of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the bugiar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56 calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5, 56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

1.1.1 the date of the incident is 18 September 2008.

1.1.2 the time is between 13h00 and 14h00.

1.1.3 the place where it happened is 4 Oribi road, Mandini.

1.2 The State does not rely on an omission in respect of Accused 13's liability.

2 AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER

G5 m

2.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused's conduct formed part of a pattern of racketeering activity as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998 and was part of a bigger plan by the accused to eliminate people who they suspected of involvememnt in the killing of Supt Choncho.

2.2 As regards the plan:

2.2.1 It is not precisely cear when the accused formed the plan to eliminate people who they suspected of involvement in the killing of Supt Choncho, safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.2.2 It is not precisely clear where the plan was formed safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.2.3 The terms of the plan to eliminate the deceased is a matter of evidence.

2.2.4 Yes. It is alleged that more that one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of housebreaking with intent to murder and murder.

2.3 The participants to the offences are:

2.3.1 Accused 4, Accused 3, Accused 8, Accused 10, Accused 11, Accused 12, Accused 13 and Accused 15.

2.3.2 The act committed by the respective accused persons in carrying out the plan are the following:-

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a resident of Lindle Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the bugiar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5,56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

2.3.3 The date, time and place of participation of each accused person is the same as in paragraph 1.2.1 above

3 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITIES RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

G 5m

3.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused conduct is related to other conduct in the indictment.

3.2 The following are the common feature that provides the nexus between the conduct of the accused and other offences in the indictment:-

- The modus operandi that is prevalent in most of the offences in the indictment of placing a firearm next to the deceased body to create an impression that the deceased was posing some form of danger to the accused to make their shooting justifiable in terms of section 49 (2) of Act 51 of 1977, is a common threat that connects the offences listed in the indictment.

- All the suspects that are tracked, traced and later killed are suspected to have been suspects in the killing of Supt Choncho. A striking common factor is that in most of these instances, there is not a shread of evidence that connects the suspects to the offences in the dockets concerned, put differently, if anyone were to place the Choncho or Inkosi Zondi dockets before a prosecutor for the consideration of a J50 warrant of arrest, it would not be authorised as there would be nothing linking the suspect to the offences in question.

- All the suspects that Cato Manor were looking for to connect with the Choncho killing are members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association which was in conflict with the Stanger Taxi Association and the informers who were providing Cato Manor with information that formed the basis of their conduct, were predominantly members of the Stanger Taxi Association, who could be harbouring their own grudges with the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association and could be biased against them.

4 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 The crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and Murder are related to the enterprise as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism and attention, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

G Sm

The members of the enterprise remain predominantly the same in most of the operations of the enterprise so that the objectives of the enterprise are achieved. The nucleus of the operation is maintained wherever possible, with members of the SVC section who have been working together for a while as they have developed an understanding of each other and what they all need to do in advancing the objectives of the enterprise.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

ES M

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5 WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 No, Accused 4 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, 15 and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Mandini before they proceeded to 4 Oribi road, Mandini where the two deceased were likely hididng. Accused 4 briefed the members present around the information at his disposal and the team proceeded to the address. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding. Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

AD COUNT 13 – 14
HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER
DECEASED 1: MZAMENI NTULI
DECEASED 2: NKOSINATHI MTHEMBU
ACCUSED 15: ANTON LOCKEM

The State will deal with the offence of Housebreaking with Intent to commit murder and murder of both Ntuli and Mthembu together in stead of separating it as Housebreaking and murder and separating the deceased as the accused have done in their request, both the housebreaking and the murder of both deceased persons took place at the same time by the same accused at the same venue and it makes more sense to deal with them together in our view.

G SM

The case against the accused must be understood against the following background:-

There was taxi violence between the Stanger Taxi Association and the KwaMaphumulo taxi Association which became the focus of investigation by a task team headed by Sup Choncho. On 27 August 2008 when he was ambushed whisit taking suspects to KwaDukuza court from Kanskop police station, Cato Manor section of the Durban Organised Crime took over the investigation and followed leads from a phone recovered from Dumisane Ndlovu, one of the suspects, who was shot and killed at the scene. This killing of Supt Choncho (KwaMaphumulo CAS 99/8/2008), the killing of Inkosi Zondi(Bhekithemba 113/09/09) followed the killing of Supt Govender where the suspects remained untraced, in the light of the number of police officials that were killed post 1994, Cato Manor police took it upon themselves to track down the killers of Choncho to the extent that they overstepped the bounds of lawfulness and shot and killed people that they suspected of involvement in the killing of Choncho in stead of collecting the evidence and bringing them before the courts for their guilt or otherwise to be determined. The suspects that were tracked were people that had some conversation with the deceased (Dumisane Ndlovu) prior to his killing.

1.1 It is the State's case that the breaking or pushing open of the sliding door and security door which is closed at the deceased's premises would amount to housebreaking if the State can prove that the plan to get to the premises was unlawful from the beginning. It is the State's case that Cato Manor went to 4 Oribi road with the intention to shoot and kill the two suspects, not a lawful suspect raid with a view to arrest. Against this backgroung, the State does not rely on an omission but relies on the following acts by the Accused:

- Accused 4 having received information of the whereabouts of the two (2) suspects that he was looking for, called the Cato Manor colleagues and they proceeded to Mandini.

- Accused 4 briefed the members including Accused 3, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 13 and 15 about the latest information at his disposal.

GSM

- The team proceeded to 4 Oribi, Mandini, a resident of Lindie Joyce Gabi where Accused 6, 8, 10, 12, 15 took guard positions outside the premises whilst Accused 3, 4 an 13 entered the premises. Accused 4 saw a person wearing an orange shirt running from the veranda into the house, Accused 3, 4 and 13 followed him into the house through the buglar and sliding door.

- A child who was in the passage pointed out the room where the accused were hiding. The door to the main bedroom where the suspects were hiding was locked and Accused 3 tried to force it open without avail. Accused 4 stepped in and broke it open. As they were approaching the door, they heard glasses breaking and someone shouting a person to go back inside. As the door was kicked open, a gunshot was heard.

- As Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom, a male person alighted from the wardrobe, allegedly carrying a gun. Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him killing him instantly. Another suspect also emerged from the wardrobe allegedly with a firearm in his hand and Accused 4 fired shots at him.

- Accused 6 then took charge of the scene.

- Mr Steyl retrieved a 9mm bullet fragments that had impacted into the carpet directly underneath the position of the deceased's head (deceased with the orange shirt). A further 5.56 calibre fragmented projectile was retrievedfrom the carpet in the vicinity of the position of the deceased's waist of the same deceased. These two (2) shots inside the carpet (9mm and 5, 56 calibre) in the vicinity of the blood stains in the carpet indicate a sharp downward trajectory (70 – 75 degrees). These indicate that the deceased sustained gunwounds in a lying position, in addition to the other gunshot wounds that were sustained in a standing position.

1.1.1 the date of the incident is 18 September 2008.

1.1.2 the time is between 13h00 and 14h00.

1.1.3 the place where it happened is 4 Oribi road, Mandini.

GSM

1.2 The State does not rely on an omission in respect of Accused 15's liability.

2 AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
HOUSEBREAKING WITH INTENT TO MURDER AND MURDER

2.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused's conduct formed part of a pattern of racketeering activity as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998 and was part of a bigger plan by the accused to eliminate people who they suspected of involvememnt in the killing of Supt Choncho.

2.2 As regards the plan:

2.2.1 It is not precisely cear when the accused formed the plan to eliminate people who they suspected of involvement in the killing of Supt Choncho, safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.2.2 It is not precisely clear where the plan was formed safe to state that when the accused did the suspect raid on 18 September 2008 and entered the premises and fired shots at the deceased, the plan to commit the offences was formed already.

2.2.3 The terms of the plan to eliminate the deceased is a matter of evidence.

2.2.4 Yes. It is alleged that more that one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of housebreaking with intent to murder and murder.

2.3 The participants to the offences are:

2.3.1 Accused 4, Accused 3, Accused 8, Accused 10, Accused 11, Accused 12, Accused 13 and Accused 15.

2.3.2 The act committed by the respective accused persons in carrying out the plan are the following:-

G Sm

2.3.3 The date, time and place of participation of each accused person is the same as in paragraph 1.2.1 above

3 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITIES RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, it is alleged that the accused conduct is related to other conduct in the indictment.

3.2 The following are the common feature that provides the nexus between the conduct of the accused and other offences in the indictment:-

- The modus operandi that is prevalent in most of the offences in the indictment of placing a firearm next to the deceased body to create an impression that the deceased was posing some form of danger to the accused to make their shooting justifiable in terms of section 49 (2) of Act 51 of 1977, is a common threat that connects the offences listed in the indictment.

- All the suspects that are tracked, traced and later killed are suspected to have been suspects in the killing of Supt Choncho. A striking common factor is that in most of these instances, there is not a shread of evidence that connects the suspects to the offences in the dockets concerned, put differently, if anyone were to place the Choncho or Inkosi Zondi dockets before a prosecutor for the consideration of a J50 warrant of arrest, it would not be authorised as there would be nothing linking the suspect to the offences in question.

- All the suspects that Cato Manor were looking for to connect with the Choncho killing are members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association which was in conflict with the Stanger Taxi Association and the informers who were providing Cato Manor with information that formed the basis of their conduct, were predominantly members of the Stanger Taxi Association, who could be harbouring their own grudges with the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association and could be biased against them.

4 PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

GSM

RELATIONSHIP QUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 The crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and Murder are related to the enterprise as defined in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism and attention, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

The members of the enterprise remain predominantly the same in most of the operations of the enterprise so that the objectives of the enterprise are achieved. The nucleus of the operation is maintained wherever possible, with members of the SVC section who have been working together for a while as they have developed an understanding of each other and what they all need to do in advancing the objectives of the enterprise.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

GSM

4.2.5 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15
Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Philangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5 WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

5.1 Yes, Accused 15 did manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 9, together with Accused 1, 6, and 16, who were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 10 and 11, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Mandini before they proceeded to 4 Oribi road, Mandini where the two deceased were likely hididng. Accused 4 briefed the members present around the information at his disposal and the team proceeded to the address. Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment where other members of the enterprise could function to advance the objectives of the enterprise.

5.2 Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

GSM

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding. Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Axccused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15.

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

GSM

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called the Cato Manor members to assemble and get them ready to travel to Mandini for a suspect raid.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South

GSM

African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of Housebreaking with intent to murder and murder whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspects. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. He started when he called in the members of Cato Manor to assist in the operation at Mandini.
6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

GSM

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 3 Adriaan Stolts
Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya
Accused 10 Thembinkosi Mkhwanazi
Accused 11 Thathayiphi Mdlalose
Accused 12 Bongani Zondi

Accused 15 Anton Lockem

6.5.3 The terms or nature of the conduct agreed upon was the tracking, locating and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission
6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence
6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission
6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.
6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the

Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 15 committed the crime of Housebreaking with intent to murder and murder jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 18 September 2008 when the deceased were traced and found at 4 Oribi road Mandini.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These include the tracing of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu together at 4 Oribi road in Mandini and ensuring that they are shot and killed.

7.2.3 Accused 15 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 15 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

7.7 Same as 7.6 above.

8.7 – 8.8 Yes same as 6.3 above.

COUNTS 15 – 18
UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF A FIREARM
UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF AMMUNITION
ACCUSED 3: ADRIAAN STOLTZ

Although the accused separated Count 15, 16, and 17 from Count 18 in their request, the State deals with all the Counts 15 to 18 at the same time all the offences were committed at the same time by the same accused persons, the ammunition being inside the firearms concerned, it does not make sense really to separate them as if they are in fact separate conduct of separate accused persons.

1.1 It is the State's case that the:

- 9mm Parabellum Calibre LEW Model Z88 pistol with serial number obliterated with one (1) magazine and six (6) rounds,

- 9mm Parabellum Calibre CZ Model 75 with serial number G2921 with a magazine and 13 rounds which were allegedly found at the scene of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi's shooting incident at 4 Oribi road, Mandini on 18 September 2008 were brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the unlawful possession of the firearm and ammunition. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu were suspected of involvement in the killing of Supt Choncho on 27 August 2008 whilst travelling on the R74 road in a convoy, transporting acuused persons from Kranskop police station to KwaDukuza court g for VIP Protection.

- Both deceased were members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who were suspected to have hatched and funded the plan to kill Supt Choncho as he was allegedly victimising members of their taxi association.

- Inspector Mazibuko (Witness 33) arrived at the scene of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu's shooting at 16h50 and only got to the scene or got inside the house at 17h10.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as

GSM

- the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township on 26 November 2009 when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mdull with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking Mdluli where his "mbombayi' or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- the scene of Khanyisani Biyela's shooting at Melmorth on 23 November 2008 where Captain Chris Mangena, witness 212 found that the firearm found next to the deceased arm as depicted on page 27 of his report (pattern 5) was clean, or clear of blood spatter on a bloodied scene, attracting the unavoidable conclusion that it was placed on the scene after the shooting.

- The scene of Sibusiso Tembe's shooting on the N3 highway at Howick on 16 September 2008 where Jacob Steyl, witness 213 found that the AK47 cartridge cases found inside the vehicle were on top of the blood without any blood spatter on a bloodied scene.

1.2.1 The date of the act is 18 September 2008

1.2.2 The time of the act is around 16h30

1.2.3 The place of the act is on the 4 Oribi road Mandini.

1.3 No the State does not rely on an omission.

1.4 The firearm concerned are:-

- a 9mm Parabellum Calibre LEW Model Z88 pistol with serial number obliterated with a magazine and six(6) cartridges
- a 9mm Parbellum Calibre CZ Model 75 pistol with serial number G2921 with a magazyn and thirteen (13) cartridges.

2. AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARM AND AMMUNITION

G5m

2.1 Yes, it is the State case that the unlawful possession of the firearm and ammunition formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they had doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

G sm

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearm and ammunition:

- the firearms and ammunition would be brought with to all their suspect raids.

- Immediately after the shooting one member was tasked to prevent other units or individuals from getting closer to the scene until it is doctored by placing a firearm next to the body of the deceased to create the impression that the deceased posed some form of danger to the police that would make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law.

- It is not surprising that not a single one of them got injured nor any of their vehicles got damaged despite all these suspects who fire shots at them. It is equally surprising that a suspect who knew them would, while being alone think about producing a firearm against so many police officials who would be part of the pursuit team or the police raid.

2.3 the members who would take part in any of the incident which formed part of a racketeering activity would depend on the availability of the member and on who is on duty on the date in question.

2.3.1 on the 18 September 2008 when these two (2) 9mm Parrabellum pistols and ammunition mentiones in paragraph 1.4 above were possessed by the members who took part in the tracking and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu at number 4 Oribi road Mandini, the Cato Manor members who were present are the following:-

Accused 3 Adriaan Stoltz
Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 6 Neville Eva
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhaya
Accused 10 Thembinkosi Mkhwanazi
Accused 11 Thathayiphi Mdlalose
Accused 12 Bongani Zondi

G SM

Accused 13 Rubendren Naidoo and

2.3.2 – 2.3.4 the bringing along of the unlawful firearms, "spoeks", or "mbombayi's to suspect raids was a joint responsibility of the members, including the preventing of other units of the SA Police Service from accessing the scene before it is doctored properly. In most instances accused 4 and accused 6 did most of these two roles. The date, time and place of the act of participation will be the date of the suspect raid itself, being 18 September 2008. In Counts 14 and 18, the date is the 18 September 2008 at around 16h30.

3. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIP QUA PREDICATE OFFENCES

3.1 Yes, It is the State's case that the unlawful possession of the firearms and ammunition is related to other charges in the indictment.

3.2 the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition was part of the accused's modus operandi at any of the suspect raids that they were executing. The accused required the unlawful firearms to make their shooting justifiable in terms of the law. The firearm had to be placed next to the deceased so that it is more acceptable that the deceased posed some danger to the deceased.

4. PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY
RELATIONSHIPQUA THE ENTERPRISE

4.1 Yes, It is the State case that the unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition is related to the enterprise as defined in section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

4.2.1 It is the objective of the enterprise to eliminate all the suspects who are linked with the killing of Sup Choncho in a manner that is acceptable in the eyes of the law and the community. It is for this reason that the shootings of the members of KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who are suspected of involvement in the Choncho killing and suspects of ATM bombings and ordinary civilians suspected of gang violence have to be made justifiable by using a "mbombayi", "spoek" or unlicensed firearm which is placed next to the deceased to create the requisite threat that makes it a justifiable shooting. The enterprise required to continue eliminating suspects without drawing a lot of criticism, this why they were able to kill so many people without the law detecting their trick.

4.2.2 the enterprise remains the same in all the charges, only the members may differ depending on who is on duty and available on the date of the operation. The organisational structure of the enterprise is the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.3 the operational structure is the same as has been outlined on page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

4.2.4 the hierarchal structure of the persons managing, employed by or associated with the enterprise has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

4.2.5 Yes, It is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

4.2.6 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact. It means disguising that they are police officials when their deeds are in fact those of criminals, which would never be authorised as police action.

4.2.7 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined as Counts and Incidents above as follows:-

Counts 3 – 7 dealt with in Incident 4
Counts 8 – 12 dealt with in Incident 5
Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 31 – 34 dealt with in Incident 15

G SM

Counts 35 – 38 dealt with in Incident 1
Count 39 – 52 dealt with in Incident 9
Counts 53 – 57 dealt with in Incident 12
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16
Counts 66 – 69 dealt with in Incident 18
Counts 80 – 93 dealt with in Incident 20 - 22
Counts 94 – 97 dealt with in Incident 23
Counts 98 – 101 dealt with in Incident 2 and
Counts 102 – 103 dealt with in Incident 3.

4.3 4.3 – 4.8 Yes it is alleged that the killings were PLANNED, ONGOING, CONTINUOUS or REPEATED as is required in Section 1 of Act 121 of 1998. The killings commenced or continued from the 24 May 2008 with that of Thabo Msimango, continued on various dates as outlined in the table on page 6 of this submission until the 23 September 2011 with the killing of Phiangenkosi Gwala. The continuous and ongoing requirement does not necessarily require the incident to commence and finish in a particular year or month, what is required is just that the incidents continue over a period of time to form a pattern of racketeering activity. The nature of the predicate offences and the relationship between the offences is a guiding factor. In this instance, various shootings take place over a period of time.

4.10 Accused 4 and other accused were involved in the procurement of the Mbombayi's and making sure that they are taken along when the suspect raids and other suspect tracing take place so that they can be placed on the scenes next to the deceased immediately after the shooting has taken place, before the relevant police units are invited to take photographs (LCRC), the IPID (for police incidents) and other experts to the scenes, to make the shootings appear justifiable in terms of the law.

Accused 6 was tasked in most instances with the control and protection of the scenes immediately after the shootings and would ensure that other police units are not allowed on the scene before the scene is doctored to accord with their version of a justifiable shooting. Other accused persons would take this responsibility when accused 6 was unavailable on that operation.

5. WHILST MANAGING THE ACTIVITIES OF THE ENTERPRISE

G S M

5.1 No, Accused 3 did not manage the activities of the enterprise, Accused 6, 15 and 16, in their capacity as a Group Commander at SVC section and Accused 9, the Section Commander at SVC section were the co-managers of the enterprise. Whenever any of them would not be at that particular scene, the most senior member would fulfil that management role. In Counts 13 to 18, Accused 4 had more information from his informer and then shared it in the briefing with other members at Mandini before they set on tracking Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu. Accused 4 and others made sure that the "mbombayi's" are taken with for the operation.

5.2 Yes, Accused 9, 15 and 16 created an environment in which the activities of the enterprise could take place by giving his members access to resources without engaging the Unit Commander, knowing that he has the blessings of the Provincial Commander.

5.2.1 The enterprise remains the same and continues to be the same in all its activities. In this incident, the accused persons who participated in the enterprise are Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15.

5.2.2 Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspect. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation.

5.2.3 the organisational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.2.4 the operational structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission. It operated the same as the Cato Manor section of Durban Organised Crime Unit with Sup Olivier as the Section Commander and the Captains as Group Commanders. The most senior on the day who is available, takes charge of the troops.

5.2.5 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise remains the same as has been outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

5.3 Yes the enterprise was a group of persons who included Accused 3, 4, 6, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 15.

G SM

5.4 Yes, each person who was part of the enterprise formed a common purpose to take part actively in the tracking, pursuit and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

5.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.
5.5.2 the parties to the common purpose are all the accused persons who took part in the chasing and ultimate shooting of the deceased.
5.5.3 the terms or nature of the course of conduct agreed upon by the entity is a matter for evidence.

5.6.1 the work and functions of each persons employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspects. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

5.6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

5.7 – 5.8 Yes, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under

GSM

Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

5.9 – 5.10 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal framework of the SA Police Service and mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

6. WHILST EMPLOYED BY THE ENTERPRISE

6.1 Yes, the accused committed the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition whilst employed by the enterprise. The work and functions of each person employed by the enterprise or associated with the enterprise, which is executed to advance the objective of the enterprise can be summarized as follows:

Accused 16 as Section Commander provided the team with resources, thereby creating an environment in which the members could work and advance the objective of the enterprise.

Accused 4 ensured that all the participants are briefed and updated as to the latest information relating to the movements of the suspects. He also ensured that the "mbombayi's" are taken along for the operation. He entered the premises of 4 Oribi road, entered the house through the sliding door together with Accused 3 and 13, proceeded in the passage that leads to the bedrooms where Accused 4 spoke to a child in Zulu and told him to vacate the house for his safety, and went to the bedroom that the child pointed as the place where they were hiding.

Accused 3 kicked the door to open it without success when Accused 4 stepped forward and kicked it open. Accused 3 and 13 entered the bedroom and saw that the doors of the cupboards were half closed. A male with an orange shirt came out and both Accused 3 and 13 fired shots at him. As they were focused on this deceased, they heard gunshots on their right as Accused 4 fired shots at the second suspect who also came out of the cupboards.

Accused 6, 8, 10, 11, 12 and 15 took positions outside the house to prevent possible escapes from the house.

6.2 Accused 4 managed the tracking, tracing and ultimate shooting of the deceased Mzameni Ntuli and ankosinathi Mthembu.He also briefed the other members on the information at his disposal at Mandini before the team set off to number 4 Oribi road Mandini in search of their suspects.

6.3 dealt with at 6.1 above.

6.4 Yes it is alleged that each member of the enterprise formed a common purpose and associated themselves with the tracing, tracking and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

6.5.1 It is not clear when the common purpose was formed.

6.5.2 The parties who took part in the execution of the conduct are:-

Accused 4 Paul Mostert
Accused 5 Eric Nel
Accused 8 Phumelela Makhanya
Accused 15 Anton Lockem
Accused 16 Eugene van Tonder
Accused 1 Johan Booysen
Accused 9 Cornelius Olivier

6.5.3 The terms or nature of the conduct agreed upon was the tracking, locating and shooting of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu.

6.5.4 the organisational structure is the same as the one outlined on Page 4 of this submission.

6.5.5 the operational structure of the enterprise is a matter of evidence.

6.5.6 the hierarchical structure of the enterprise has been outlined on page 4 of this submission.

6.5.7 the same as in paragraph 6.1 above.

G.S.M

6.5.8 the affairs, operations and activities of the enterprise have been outlined in detail when the incidents were dealt with from Incident 1, which forms Counts 35 – 38, the killing of Thabo Msimango on 24 May 2008 until Incident 23, which forms Counts 94 – 98, the killing of Qinisani Philangenkosi Gwala on 4 September 2011.

6.6 – 6.7 Yes and No, it is alleged in the main argument that the enterprise was a legal entity, the Serious Violent Crime section based at Cato Manor functioning under Durban Organised Crime Unit which is part of the provincial structure of the Directorate for Priority Crimes Investigations (DPCI) which is part of the South African Police Service, a legal entity established by legislation, the SA Police Act 68 of 1995.

6.8 – 6.9 Yes, the State argues in the alternative that members of the Serious Violent Crime section acted loosely as individuals outside the legal mandate of the legal entity and associated themselves in fact.

7. WHILST ASSOCIATED WITH THE ENTERPRISE

7.1 Yes it is alleged that Accused 3 committed the crime of possession of firearms and ammunition jointly with the other accused whist employed or associated with the enterprise.

7.2 The enterprise remains the same in respect of all the offences committed, the only difference is the members who participated in the activities of the enterprise, these are the members who were on duty and were available on 18 September 2008 when the deceased was tracked at number 4 Oribi road Mandini.

7.2.2 The association was by means of conduct that is destined to achieve the same results. These include the tracing of Mzamani Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu together, at 4 Oribi road Mandini.

7.2.3 Accused 3 associated himself with the enterprise when he performed functions and executed tasks which advanced the objectives of the enterprise.

7.2.4 Accused 3 kept a close and loyal and friendly relationship with Accused 9, Captain Olivier and General Booysen to the exclusion of his Unit Commander. This trust relationship originated from the time when they were working together within the environment of the Serious Violent Crime section before it was incorporated into Organised Crime.

7.3 Yes, the same names as listed in 6.3 above.

7.4 Yes.

7.5 Same as in 6.5 above.

7.6 Yes and No, the enterprise as it is argued is the Serious Violent Crime section of Cato Manor which operated as part of the Durban Organised Crime Unit of the SA Police Service. Whereas the SA Police Service is a legal entity, it cannot be said that SVC section of the Durban Organised Crime is a legal entity on its own. It exists under the auspices of the SA Police Service and the SVC section of Cato Manor was operating under the veil or cover of the SA Police Service.

7.7 Same as 7.6 above.

7.8 Same as 7.6 above
7.9 Same as 7.6 above.

8.CONDUCTING THE AFFAIRS OF THE ENTERPRISE

8.1 The affairs of the enterprise that Accused 3 is alleged to have taken part in or participated in through a pattern of racketeering activities include the

- murder of Mzameni Ntuli that was committed on 18 September 2008.
- murder of Nkosinathi Mthembu that was committed on the same day.
- The unlawful possession of firearms committed on the same day.
- The unlawful possession of ammunition committed on the same day.
- The defeating the ends of justice committed on the same day.

G IM

The other activities that Accused 3 participated in include the predicate offences that are listed on Page 25 of this submission:

Counts 13 – 18 the killings of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu
Counts 20 – 24 the killing of Bongane Mkhize
Counts 25 – 30 the killing of Sibongiseni Ndimande
Counts 58 – 61 the killing of Lindokuhle Nzuzo
Counts 62 – 65 the killing of Prince Thabethe

8.2- 8.4 The extent of participation of Accused 3 in these activities have been outlined in the Incidents:

Counts 13 – 18 dealt with in Incident 6
Counts 20 – 24 dealt with in Incident 10
Counts 25 – 30 dealt with in Incident 13
Counts 58 – 61 dealt with in Incident 14
Counts 62 – 65 dealt with in Incident 16

8.5 – 8.6 Yes members of the Stanger Taxi Association paid Cato Manor members after the killing of Magojela and Tembe. Sanele Zondi and Bongizwe Mhlongo raised an amount of R750 000, 00 and went to pay Cato Manor police in particular Booysen for this killing. It is inferred that they were paid for this killing too. This killing was also used to get monetary rewards and certificates within the SAPS.

8.7 – 8.8 Yes same as 6.3 above.

COUNTS 15 – 18
UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF A FIREARM
UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF AMMUNITION
ACCUSED 4: PAUL MOSTERT

Although the accused separated Count 15, 16, and 17 from Count 18 in their request, the State deals with all the Counts 15 to 18 at the same time all the offences were committed at the same time by the same accused persons, the ammunition being inside the firearms concerned, it does not make sense really to separate them as if they are in fact separate conduct of separate accused persons.

1.2 It is the State's case that the:

- 9mm Parabellum Calibre LEW Model Z88 pistol with serial number obliterated with one (1) magazine and six (6) rounds,

- 9mm Parabellum Calibre CZ Model 75 with serial number G2921 with a magazine and 13 rounds which were allegedly found at the scene of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi's shooting incident at 4 Oribi road, Mandini on 18 September 2008 were brought by the accused to the scene so that they could justify their unlawful shooting of the deceased. The State relies on circumstantial evidence and similar fact evidence to found a conviction on the unlawful possession of the firearm and ammunition. The following objective facts will, be proved:

- The deceased Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu were suspected of involvement in the killing of Supt Choncho on 27 August 2008 whilst travelling on the R74 road in a convoy, transporting acuused persons from Kranskop police station to KwaDukuza court g for VIP Protection.

- Both deceased were members of the KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association who were suspected to have hatched and funded the plan to kill Supt Choncho as he was allegedly victimising members of their taxi association.

- Inspector Mazibuko (Witness 33) arrived at the scene of Mzameni Ntuli and Nkosinathi Mthembu's shooting at 16h50 and only got to the scene or got inside the house at 17h10.

- Similar fact evidence relating to other incidents in which Accused 4 and other Cato Manor police brought firearms to the scene will also be relied upon, such as

    - the scene of Prince Thabede's death at KwaMashu township on 26 November 2009 when Accused 4 went into the house carrying his official R5 rifle, leaving Nqaba Mduli with other police members in the Quantum, only to return immediately, asking

Mdluli where his "mbombayi' or "spoek" is, and this was the firearm that was brought to be planted on the scene.

- the scene of Khanyisani Biyela's shooting at Melmorth on 23 November 2008 where Captain Chris Mangena, witness 212 found that the firearm found next to the deceased arm as depicted on page 27 of his report (pattern 5) was clean, or clear of blood spatter on a bloodied scene, attracting the unavoidable conclusion that it was placed on the scene after the shooting.

- The scene of Sibusiso Tembe's shooting on the N3 highway at Howick on 16 September 2008 where Jacob Steyl, witness 213 found that the AK47 cartridge cases found inside the vehicle were on top of the blood without any blood spatter on a bloodied scene.

1.4.1 The date of the act is 18 September 2008

1.4.2 The time of the act is around 16h30

1.4.3 The place of the act is on the 4 Oribi road Mandini.

1.5 No the State does not rely on an omission.

1.6 The firearm concerned are:-

- a 9mm Parabellum Calibre LEW Model Z88 pistol with serial number obliterated with a magazine and six(6) cartridges and

- a 9mm Parbellum Calibre CZ Model 75 pistol with serial number G2921 with a magazyn and thirteen (13) cartridges.

2. AD PATTERN OF RACKETEERING ACTIVITY

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF FIREARM AND AMMUNITION

2.1 Yes, It is the State case that the unlawful possession of the firearm and ammunition formed part of the racketeering activity as defined by section 1 of Act 121 of 1998.

GSM

2.2 the modus operandi which was consistently used by the accused involved the placing of a firearm next to the body of the deceased immediately after the shooting to create the impression that the deceased was having a firearm thereby posing some danger to the Cato Manor police so that their shooting of the deceased is made justifiable in terms of section 49(2) of Act 51 of 1977, when in fact they brought that unlicensed firearm with so that it is planted at the scene. At most of the scenes, they prevented other police units from getting closer to the scene until they had doctored the scene by planting a firearm next to the deceased.

2.2.1 the precise date and time the accused formed the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition and the rest of the murders is unknown to the State, safe to state that immediately after Superintendent Choncho was killed on 27 August 2008, the Cato Mano police made it their business to track and trace anyone that they suspected of having taken a part in the killing of Sup Choncho irrespective of the amount of evidence that they had against the person concerned, to the extent of revenging the death of Sup Choncho. The Cato Manor police decided to take sides in taxi violence that was going on between the Stanger Taxi Association and KwaMaphumulo Taxi Association, which was being investigated by Choncho. Members of the Stanger Taxi Association filled them with information of the involvement of KwaMaphumulo members in the killing of Choncho and they hunted them down in disregard of the law. It is the State case that the idea to procure these unlicensed firearms and use them at the scenes of shooting where KwaMaphumulo Taxi members are shot, was hatched.

2.2.2 the place where the plan was hatched is unknown to the State.

2.2.3 the full terms of the plan is a matter of evidence, safe to indicate that whenever the Cato Manor police travelled to the places where they were conducting raids, they would as part of their planning make sure that they bring the "mbombayi" or "spoek" which is a term that they used, in particular, Accused 4 when they were going to plant it at the scene.

2.2.4 Yes, it is the State case that more than one person was involved in the plan to commit the offence of unlawful possession of firearm and ammunition:
